

MAY FETE IS MAIN EVENT OF CAMPUS DAY THURSDAY

Program is Arranged by Miss Wirt and Miss Locke

The May Fete, outstanding event of campus day, May 12, will be staged at 2 o'clock in the oval opposite the 1 bench.

The program will begin with the procession of senior women. Next will be the entrance of the May queen with her attendants. Coronation of the queen will take place after her entrance.

Dance Numbers Are Good.
Dance numbers, with the exception of "Southern Belles," will consist of high lights from the natural dances given in Tans and Terspichore, the dance program put on by the women's physical education department three weeks ago.

Following the dance program pledging of new members of Mortar Board and Silver Lance will take place. The event will end with the recessional for the queen and attendants.

The program has been arranged by Miss Janette Wirt and Miss Mabel Locke of the women's physical education department and by Mortar Board. Paul R. Ihrig, head of the art department, is designing the stage for the dance numbers and the background for the queen's throne.

ENGINEERS' SHOW PRESENTS LARGE DISPLAY TO MANY

Over Three Thousand Attend Annual Exhibit Saturday

The biggest display ever held at Idaho climaxed the Engineer's show which was held here last week. More than three thousand people attended the show, and a large part of the delegation came from Spokane and surrounding communities.

The show was officially opened at the Blue Bucket inn last Saturday, at which there were more than 225 guests. Jack Izatt, president of the Associated Engineers, presided. Addresses were given by several prominent faculty members of both Idaho and Washington State college. Dean Ivan C. Crawford spoke concerning the history of engineering; Dean Allen W. S. C. said a few words praising the show; Mr. C. H. Dreiser, Spokane engineer, spoke on the need of engineering; and Dean J. W. Finch addressed the assemblage on the training carried on in the school of mines. More than 50 Spokane delegates were present.

The purpose of the show, according to Jack Izatt, was threefold. First, it is somewhat of a vocational institute for the high school student as well as being of instructive value to the general public; second, it gives the graduate an opportunity to see the latest developments in their particular fields; and lastly, it serves the need for the student's practical experience.

Of special interest was the display put on by the Civil Engineers, as well as the new cars, gliders, miniature Hoover dam, and the miniature forest fire fighting equipment which were demonstrated. The public found the mystery electrical house especially thrilling, while many interesting facts were learned concerning the chemistry and physics laboratories which were explained in detail.

The tradition of the biennial engineer's show was instigated at Idaho in 1924. Disorganized displays had been given previous to that time, but when I. C. Crawford took over the reins of the engineering school he organized the engineers into one body. He advised and helped them but the show started as primarily a student function and has remained on that basis.

Concerning the show, Dean Crawford made the following statement: "I feel that, considering all phases, the show was the most successful of the four that have been held here; it was better done and more informative than on previous occasions. The attendance from Spokane and Washington State colleges was the largest ever before. It was undoubtedly the best in every respect that we have staged here."

ARTISTS TO GIVE BRILLIANT EXHIBIT

Displays in Science Hall and U. Hut Ready for May 12, 13, 14

One of the most outstanding of the art and architecture exhibits ever held here will be on exhibit May 12, 13, 14. The displays which will be shown in Science 310 and the U-Hut will have futuristic settings.

The general chairman for the art and architecture days is Ralf Decker and the other committees are: finance, Lloyd Stalker; publicity, Jedd Jones; banquet, Basil Miles; architecture sidepays, Dean Eichelberger; art exhibits, Ora Spoor.

The architecture exhibit will include student work from all classes. Freshman work is exercise in elements, lettering, drafting, rendering, and use of color. Exedras analytiques, water towers, and small houses are included in the design work of the sophomore class. Plans of houses, of camps, and of a library compose the junior work. Senior designs are mainly construction drawings. One of the most interesting features of this group are presentation drawings of houses with entire construction drawing from which an ordinary contractor could construct a house.

The instructors of the art and architecture department are Miss Mary Kirkwood, Mr. M. Melzian and Mr. Ihrig will exhibit examples of modern art and architecture.

STANTON G. HALE WILL SWIM WITH HELENE MADISON

Idaho Man to Give Exhibition in Pullman Friday

Stanton G. Hale, Boise, has been invited by the athletic department of Washington State college to give several exhibitions of swimming and diving at Pullman when Helene Madison, world's champion woman swimmer, gives an exhibition in Pullman Friday, May 13. Miss Madison will represent the United States in the Olympics at Los Angeles this summer. She is the holder of many world's records ranging from the 100-yard dash to the 1000-yard swim. At the present time Miss Madison is specializing in the 200, 400 and 800 yard swims which she will swim in the Pullman pool next Friday.

Miss Mary Lou Petty, Spokane, has been invited to compete with Miss Madison at Pullman. Miss Petty is an accomplished swimmer from Spokane and holds several city titles.

Hale will give exhibitions of diving, life saving, and he will swim the 50 and 100 yard dashes. The Idaho swimmer will perform between the swims of the woman champion, and his diving will close the show. Plans are being made to take the entire exhibition to Spokane next week.

Miss Madison is making the tour as part of her training for the northwest for the past month and will continue until the start of the Olympic games in July.

'MURAL TRACK MEET SET FOR THURSDAY

Spring Sports Will Reach Climax of Activity This Week-End

Intramural athletic activity will reach a climax this week with three sports on the docket. Track on Campus day, golf on Saturday, and the tennis tourney entering into the second round of play will keep hundreds of aspirants busy.

In B league, Phi Delta Theta defeated Lindley hall Sigma Nu defeated S. A. Sigma Chi defeated L. D. S. and A. T. O. defeated Ridenbaugh hall. Chi Alpha Pi drew a bye.

Held on Campus Day.
The annual intramural track and field meet, a major sport, will be held on campus day at 2:30 p. m., immediately following the May Fete. Entry blanks have been filed with the intramural manager, and drawings for the various heats in each event is underway. Only members of this year's varsity track team, lettermen, and last year's numeral winners will be ineligible for competition. As there is no freshman track squad this year, first year men who have been training all spring will be eligible. One man may enter one track and two field events, or two field events, or two track and one field event, and the half-mile four-man relay.

Last year, Phi Gamma Delta came out far in the lead with 53 and 1-3 points. Kappa Sig and Lindley hall followed in second and third places with 29 and 24 points respectively. Each team will be awarded in the intramural standing the number of points won in the track meet, in addition to the points given the winners, runners-up, etc.

Saturday morning, May 14, is the date set for the intramural golf tournament, which is to be played in the Moscow links. Group houses may enter as many men as they desire. The four low scores in each will be added to determine the final low rating and winner. Flights will be off at five minute intervals starting at 8:30 o'clock.

ENGINEERS HEAR GREGORY SPEAK

Former Prominent Idahoan Talks to Student Group.

VARSITY TEAMS WILL PLAY AGAIN

Third Spring Football Game Scheduled for Thursday Morning

As the closing shot in the spring football schedule, the Blues and Whites will again fight it out on MacLean field Thursday morning. The two teams will be composed of the same men who put up a terrific battle last Saturday afternoon.

The game which is slated to get under way at 10 o'clock will probably bring to a decision the argument which has not yet been settled. After fighting it out last week the teams were not able to come to a decision when both teams scored a touchdown and then converted the try for point. The guards have proven to be stronger defensively than offensively by past performances. Willis Smith and George Wilson have reeled off several long runs but the new rule of calling the ball dead when any part of the body besides the feet or hands touches the ground, has proven to be a great handicap to both.

Straight football of smashing the opposing lines has been the chief offensive weapons so far, but it is expected that more open football will be exhibited in the next affair Thursday. Passes paved the way for the Whites touchdown in the last game and the same weapon provided the Blue score.

The new variation of the old shift has been watched by the fans in the past games with much interest. Although the style of game used by Idaho in the last grid season will be practically the same the new shift will provide some variation.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS ORCHESTRA

University Symphony was Directed by Carl Claus in Concert Wednesday

A large and appreciative audience greeted the University Symphony Orchestra, directed by Carl Claus, in its concert, Wednesday evening in the auditorium. York Kildea, violinist, was the soloist.

Prof. Carleton Cummings said, "I believe the concert fully justified the contention that Idaho has one of the finest university symphony orchestras in the United States. Also, it proved itself worthy of the emphasis and energy that is being put into the organization."

The concert opened with Wagner's Prelude to "Die Meistersinger" of Nuremberg. Other selections were: "L'Arlésienne" suite No. 8 by Bizet; Bruch's "Concerto in G Minor," played by York Kildea; "Invitation to the Waltz" by Weber. The last number, "1812 Overture," by Tschalkowsky, was the most powerful number of the entire group and brought the performance to a fitting close.

MOSCOW THEATRES HAVE SCHEDULED UNUSUAL PLAYS

Mr. Kenworthy Will Show Some of Best Performances This Month

The theaters in Moscow have a very unusual list of plays for the rest of the college year. Many times near the end of the year, a theater man will consider it unnecessary to have exceptional plays, but Mr. Kenworthy has scheduled many of the best plays that he has had this year.

Every production that will appear has its important and unusual features, but of course some are better known than others.

May 11 and 12, Kay Frances will play in "Man Wanted," and on May 13 and 14, James Cagney and Loretta Young will appear in "Taxi." The hero of this show is rightly termed a "fighting fool." He fights his way into a lot of trouble and out again. Loretta Young is the sweetheart who wants peace. "Taxi" is one of the outstanding pictures to appear. Another very interesting show is "The Trial of Vivian Ware." In this picture Joan Bennett again stars. It will be in Moscow on May 15.

On May 16 and 17, "This is the Night" with Lily Damita and Charles Ruggles. This will be followed by Joan Blondell in "The Famous Ferguson Case." Immediately following another picture that is sure to prove to be very good is "Young and Evie." At the title suggests this is a story of the youth of America, and stars Spencer Tracy and Doris Kenyon. The story concerns a boy who is considered the worst boy in town. He really isn't such a bad boy after all, as it is learned later.

Two other very interesting pictures are "Night Court" and "Man About Town." The first of these two is a dramatic story of the big city. Walter Huston is the star of this picture, along with Phillips Holmes and Anita Page. Warner Baxter takes the lead in "Man About Town."

The Vandal theater also has a very good schedule. The first big picture "Tarzan the Ape Man," will appear May 12, 13 and 14. Johnny Weismuller, world's champion swimmer, has the title role. The story is based on Edgar Rice Burroughs' hair raising jungle tale. It is sure to be as thrilling as the story.

Edna Ferber's "So Big" comes to the screen on May 19, 20 and 21, starring Barbara Stanwyck. Everyone knows the story of "So Big" and all will enjoy the screen version of it. The next picture is a hilarious comedy with the incomparable team, Wheeler and Woolsey. Then, comes Joan Crawford in another of the season's best, "Letty Lynton."

ENGINEERS GIVE BANQUET SATURDAY

Dean Crawford Gives Welcoming Address to Groups

Members of the associated engineers and their guests enjoyed a very entertaining banquet last Saturday night. The program began with a musical number by the Vaudeletes. Dean Crawford gave the welcoming address and introduced the guests of the evening who were: H. V. Carpenter, O. L. Waller, R. D. Sloan, L. J. Smith, M. K. Snyder, H. E. Phelps, G. E. Thornton, H. H. Langdon, A. E. Duckert, F. W. Candee, L. K. Armstrong, H. C. Bender, C. S. Frederickson, Lester R. Gamble, R. S. March, Arthur Peterson, C. P. Robbins, E. E. Saunders, E. G. Taber, Henry L. Vincent, all from Spokane.

After the introduction of the visitors, John Izatt, master of ceremonies, explained the purpose of the various officers of the associated engineers. Following another number by the Vaudeletes, Dean Finch, of the school of mines gave a brief resume of the new developments in mining. Prof. Hubert, acting dean of the school of forestry, introduced the members of the forestry department and gave a talk on forestry. The banquet closed with the singing of Idaho.

The Old Army Game

Today and tomorrow mark a climax in all the early hours of drill and last sleep of the university "rookies." With suits pressed, leather polished and brass shined (maybe) the boys will go marching by the inspector while the band plays and the sun shines. And then for a little rest from military tactics!

Already, with the ceasing of early morning drill (more generally referred to as "midnight drill"), dust has begun to collect on alarm clocks and spiders have started to weave their intricate webs around those infernal bells. The only regret of the rookies is that military will not cease altogether. Two more drill periods will be held after the inspection. Still, after tomorrow, there will be a let up in the "old army game" of marching around in some semblance of order, with rifles draped on shoulders.

Today and tomorrow are days that the boys in khaki have been looking for. Or maybe the days to follow are the ones that have been so keenly anticipated.

Capital Punishment for Another Crime

Notice is hereby given that anyone caught stealing flowers in this territory shall be shot on sight without benefit of shooting squad or trial. That, it seems, is one of the pleasant new customs which has originated and is now practiced but a few short miles from here. Last Saturday night a student at Washington State College was shot and seriously wounded while picking pansies or whatever it was that a certain man had growing in his garden. After having acquired a bouquet, the student turned to leave the premises, but suddenly, without warning, so it is reported, was shot by the owner of the garden who had been lying in wait for just such an occasion. In a way the hunter can hardly be blamed for desiring to protect his flowers. As a matter of fact, even college students can understand that a garden may be considered a very valuable and prized possession. But one thing that college students cannot understand is why the law need be taken into the owners hands. If this man had been tipped off to the approaching raid, why was it impossible for him to obtain the protection of the police. Even if he had been justified in his desire to act as if he were living in the days of the vigilantes, where was the gentleman's sense of fair play that would have at least made him give warning of the approaching execution. It is, of course, possible to figure out a defense for him. It is plain that he was insane. Only an insane man would fire a shot gun at anyone standing but twenty five yards away. With the lack of spread of shot at such a distance such a shot would be about as effective as that of a high powered rifle. We suggest that hereafter the gentleman use the latter. The reason is purely economical. A rifle bullet will cost less than a shot gun shell.

But to get back to stealing flowers. It is known that such practices do take place. It is equally agreed that such practices are not commendable, and that they should certainly be punished by a fitting compensation. Nevertheless, it is hoped that in the future the measures taken for protection may be of a nature more fitting to our day and age. It is quite possible, even, that the police, a warning, or a show of force would be sufficient to sink through the comprehending apparatus of most college students. It is urgently requested, on behalf of these above mentioned students, that several of the suggested means be used before proceeding to the actual shooting.

As far as the students are concerned, a number of them are beginning to realize that requests for flowers are quite as effective as stealing, and it is certainly realized that all raids hereafter found absolutely essential for the satisfaction of innate desires must be planned with sufficient care to prevent their staging in an insane man's garden. In other words, if you are doing the raiding, don't. And if you are being raided, please don't shoot. Even such animals as dumb as college students will respond to kindness.

STUDENTS MANAGE MOSCOW FOR WEEK

125 High School Students Visited University Departments Last Week

One hundred and twenty-five local high school boys visited the different departments of the university last week as a part of their Boys' week activity.

Boys' week was sponsored by the high school, the local commercial club and the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. Believing that the best way to teach boys about the community in which they live and to help them to become better citizens is to allow them to participate in the affairs of the community, the business men of the city and the city officials turned the town over to them for the past week. "This provided an excellent vocational guidance program to," said Dr. E. E. Hubert, a member of the Boys' week committee.

Boys were allowed to fill out blanks, telling what particular line of work or vocation they were in-signed to certain individuals engaged in that respective profession who gave them some practical experience in relation to it.

The survey showed that of the 125 boys definitely interested in the university, 20 were interested in law, 20 in engineering, 19 in agriculture, 17 in forestry, 20 in physical education, 7 in music, 4 in chemistry, 3 in military, 2 each in mining and architecture and one in psychology. The committee in charge arranged for appointments for each of these boys with the heads of the various departments and they reported, some separately and others in groups, to be shown through the department and to be told something about the profession.

Among other preferences listed were various businesses as real estate, pharmacy, advertising, hardware, mechanics, carpenter, bakery, etc. Thirty boys wanted to be policemen, 4 undertakers, 1 scout executive, 2 English teachers. 3 bankers, 14 doctors, and 7 sheriffs. These boys were likewise assigned to business in the particular field in which each was interested.

CALLAND APPEALS TO SPORTSMANSHIP

Says Leo Calland concerning the observing of tennis court play rules:

"We realize the facilities for tennis are inadequate for the student body. Therefore, it is necessary that all tennis players using the courts observe carefully the rules that are posted. We appeal to your sense of sportsmanship to give everyone a chance to play and also help the varsity and intramural matches along."

Approximately 1300 people went through the better home furnished by students of interior decoration and art structure of the university department of home economics, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Each caller received a specially prepared pamphlet giving all details concerning the house, its preparation and cost room by room, and the list of contributors toward its success. A guest book was kept for visitors to sign, but as a great many neglected to do so in the rush of the visits some 1100 were registered.

The house was completely furnished on $800.00, which included an electric range and an ice chest. Furnishings were loaned by the different firms and floor paint was donated by the Ward Paint company. The house was obtained through the courtesy of Rolston S. Butterfield, and is now for rent at $30.00.

OREGON CAPTURES DUAL TRACK MEET FROM IDAHO TEAM

Lemp Sets New Idaho Record in High Hurdles

After putting up a great battle in the track events, an outstanding weakness in the Vandal team in the field events enabled the University of Oregon track team to win over Idaho 23 to 47 on MacLean field Saturday afternoon. The meet was interesting from the start to finish with the events run off in record time. Many good times and marks and close races kept the crowd interested throughout.

Although no conference records were broken, Lemp raced over the high hurdles to win an exciting finish over Allen of Oregon. With one hurdle to go Lemp had only a slight lead over Squance with Allen third. On the last barrier, Squance tripped and stumbled finishing in third place but was disqualified for knocking over too many hurdles. The last Oregon man to finish was also eliminated by the same route giving only two places in the event. Lemp's time of 15 seconds flat set a new Idaho record for the high barriers. He broke his previous low time of 15.2.

Sig Jossis ran a nice race to take the century with a few yards to spare over the Oregon racers, but was hard pushed by his team mate Kalbus, who finished in second place. The order was reversed in the furlong event, however, when the two Oregon runners ran in the exceptionally fine time of 21.3 to top the first two places. Thomas set a steady pace in the early part of the mile and continued in front to win easily in 4 minutes 27.7 seconds. An exciting finish marked his next event, the 880, when he was passed on the home stretch by Dolloff of Oregon after Thomas had set the pace throughout the race.

The two mile event turned out to be a walkaway for the two Idaho entrants who had no trouble finishing in one-two positions. Siple set the pace from the start and was closely followed by Galway as both literally ran the Oregon entrant into the ground. A "gentleman's finish" ended the race with both men taking it easy. Pete Jensen provided Idaho with its only first place in the field events when he won the shot put with a heave of 44 feet 10 1/4 inches.

Interesting Meet.
That the meet was one of the most interesting in recent years was borne out by the way in which the crowd showed its approval of the performances. Time after time the crowd responded to the outstanding performances giving great honors to the winners of various events regardless of the school which they represented. Coach Anderson's team turned in many excellent acts and the fans realized the handicap under which he has been working and the many obstacles he has overcome by working all the harder.

VANDAL TANKMEN WIN FROM W. S. C.

The Vandal swimming team evened the count with the Washington State tankmen last Saturday morning by winning the return meet, 32 to 27. With the score at 27 all and the relay the only remaining event, Robison, swimming anchor man for Idaho, nosed out the last W. S. C. man by inches to win the meet. The score was an exact reversal of the count at the first meet at Pullman two weeks ago, the Cougar tankmen winning the relay at that time.

Although W. S. C. took four out of seven firsts, Idaho placed two men in every event except the dives. Every event was closely contested, and some fast times were turned in. The 50-yard breast stroke was the closest, with all three participants finishing inches apart. The 220-yard dash was as close as any, with Hubbard, W. S. C., sprinting on the last lap to nose out Robison of Idaho.

Large Crowd Attends.
A large crowd of university and visiting high school athletes witnessed the events. The meet concludes the varsity swimming program for the year.

Summary
50-yard dash—Ross, W first; Hale, I second; B. Blair, I third. Time, 22.7.

50-yard back stroke—J. Blair, I first; Collins, W second; Robison, I third. Time, 35 flat.

BLUES AND WHITES BATTLE TO FIERCE 7-7 TIE FRIDAY

In a game featured by the playing of George Wilson and Willis Smith, opposing quarterbacks, the Blues and Whites, two teams picked from Leo Calland's spring football squad, battled to a fierce 7-7 tie Friday afternoon. The game which was to give the players a taste of real battle, called out the best in the men on both teams.

Receiving the kick-off, the Blues led by Smith, started a drive which the Whites barely stopped on their own 2-yard line. The Whites then punted out of danger and the game was played on even terms until the last of the second quarter, when Herbig, White tackle, blocked a Blue punt, which was recovered by Brailsford on the 8-yard line. Tyrrell in two plays plunged over for the first score of the game. He also converted.

The second half opened with the Whites starting a determined drive which carried them to the Blue 28-yard line. The Blues then took possession of the ball and neither team was able to gain consistently, except for occasional runs by Smith, Wilson, Tyrrell and Cordon. Late in the game, Smith tossed a twenty-yard pass to Schmitz, end, who galloped the remaining 20 yards for a touchdown. Smith tied the score with his conversion of the try for point. From then on the Whites tried everything but could not score.

For the Blues, Smith and Cordon starred in the backfield, while Hall, Schmitz and Wagner looked good in the line. Tyrrell and Wilson were the backfield luminaries for the Whites, while Herbig and Randall stood out in the line. The next game between these two teams is scheduled for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

WASHINGTON WINS FOUR FROM IDAHO
Vandals Lose First Game 18 to 2 and Second 5 to 1.

The University of Washington Huskies made it four straight over Idaho by winning both games of the two game series played in Seattle Friday and Saturday. The first game turned out to be a walkaway for Washington when the Vandal chuckers to their liking and ran up a total of 13 runs to 2 for Idaho. Five errors by the Vandal nine contributed to the scoring spree of the Washington team.

The second game turned out to be a much more interesting affair. The Huskies found Spiers and Jacobs for five runs while Idaho was able to collect only one counter. The team played Oregon State yesterday with another game scheduled for this afternoon. From Corvallis the squad will travel to Eugene for a two game series with Oregon finishing the trip. The team will arrive home Friday night.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!
