

BLUES AND WHITES PLAY LAST GAME OF SPRING SEASON

Teams Were Evenly Matched, Battled to 12 to 12 Score

The Blues and Whites, two teams composed of members of the varsity football squad, battled to a 12 to 12 score in the last game of the spring practice.

The Whites scored the first touchdown on a pass from Tyrrell to Jacoby, which netted a gain of 45 yards including pass and run.

The second quarter was fairly even, both teams being frequently held for downs.

There was no scoring in the second half, although both teams threatened several times.

This game failed to give either the Blues or Whites the claim to championship for the practice season.

The Whites and Blues together defeated the "Hasbeens" 13 to 12 a few weeks ago.

Table with columns for BLUES and WHITES, listing names and scores for various players.

The Cosmopolitan club will give a banquet Wednesday evening at the Christian church.

SENIOR ASSEMBLY HAS RADIO IDEA

Italian GIN Broadcasts Program of 1932 Class

Station GIN, Breath of the Nation broadcast the Senior assembly Wednesday at 10 a. m. The broadcasting was done by the senior class.

All kinds of queer sounds were heard over the radio, but the listeners were not alarmed as it was McCannel trying his skill as the Masked Marvel in the crackling program.

The fifth division was an Idaho Memory program. The "Song of the Bayou" was played by the senior orchestra.

Madame Patowsky, impersonated by Helen Kurdy in "Mary, Mary Quite Contrary," and "I Walked Home from the Buggy Ride."

Dr. Barton Takes Fifty Students to Orofino on Trip

Nearly 50 students of the abnormal psychology class will accompany Dr. J. W. Barton, professor of psychology, to Orofino Friday morning for clinic work in the state sanatorium for the mentally unfit.

Inmates of the institution will be brought before the class and questioned with such questions as: How did you come to be here? Do you believe that anyone bears a particular grudge against you?

Cars left Moscow at 6:30 a. m. Friday, and will return Friday evening. The clinic will be in session three hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon.

"We wish to give the members of the class a practical demonstration of how such clinic work is conducted and to give them actual practice in determining types of insanity," explained Dr. Barton.

"A trumpet called the students to meet on the green in front of the Administration building at 10 o'clock in the morning in the years before 1915, when clean-up day took the place of Campus day."

Stewart and Miller Return Recently from Boise

The 1932 Gem of the Mountains will arrive in Moscow May 21 and will be distributed the following Monday, announced Paul Miller, associate editor of the book.

Stewart and Miller worked at the Spym-sork, Fredging company in Boise where they went to supervise the final arrangement of the book.

"I'm afraid there was really much more interest in the campus than there is now," Dean French declared.

"In place of the beautiful dancing which we now have, the afternoon was given entirely to music. First the military band gave a concert. Then a chorus sang from the Ridenbaugh balcony and the whole crowd sang Idaho songs."

YEAR BOOKS WILL ARRIVE IN MOSCOW SATURDAY MAY 21

Stewart and Miller Return Recently from Boise

The 1932 Gem of the Mountains will arrive in Moscow May 21 and will be distributed the following Monday, announced Paul Miller, associate editor of the book.

Stewart and Miller worked at the Spym-sork, Fredging company in Boise where they went to supervise the final arrangement of the book.

Miller said he was surprised at the interest the alumni members in south Idaho took in the activities on the campus.

Every year, about this time, the editor and associate editor make the trip to Boise to do the proof-reading and indexing.

The Gem of 1932, which was planned by Melvin Stewart, editor, will be quite exceptional this year, said Miller.

The Chosen

"Many are called, but few are chosen". What about those who are not? Was it necessarily because they were lacking? And why were some taken in preference to others?

These questions are bound to arise after Campus Day with its pledging to Mortar Board and Silver Lance. For each person thrilled by the possession of a pledge ribbon, there are one or two disappointed at being left out. The recognition accorded those who are pledged is not to be depreciated, for their achievements are fine. Nevertheless, there are those who have contributed much to campus affairs who were left out when the honors were passed around.

To these who were not chosen, there is left the satisfaction of knowing they have had a constructive influence. Although not sharing the limelight, they may know that what they have done for Idaho will not be entirely overlooked. The glare of publicity may not shine upon them, but their good work will not go entirely unrecognized. Each may know that he was deserving and the fact that he was not chosen cannot in any way lessen his right to the honor.

Are We Bored?

Are we bored with May Fetes? Are they out of style, at Idaho? Just what is the trouble? This last one has shown a lack of interest on the part of the women students. According to Miss Jannette Wirt, who had charge of the affair, there were scarcely enough girls turning out to wind the May pole.

The May Fete has been a part of Campus day celebrations for years. Dancing, music and flowers seem to be part of the May picture. Has Idaho outgrown it? Is this just another of those so-called "traditions" which have served their day of usefulness? It is no longer anything more than a means of keeping the crowd in anticipation until the pledging of new members to honoraries?

The lack of participation in this year's fete is an indication of some sort. Formerly those enrolled in physical education classes were required to perform or lose their credits. Believing that such coercion was not in keeping with the spirit of the day, Miss Wirt called for volunteers this year. The response was negligible.

It would seem that the May Fete is a thing of the past or fast becoming one. Why? Are we too blasé or have we become tired of the same dances in variations of costume? If the present form of entertainment is out, there should be a substitute. What shall it be?

The Seer

by Betty Brown

This being the "commencing" time of year, the Seer presents for your approval, ladies and gentlemen—"Post Graduate Portraits"—a disclosure of the future activities of some of our bright and shining lights.

Horace was Big Guy. He hogged all the offices he could get, and had his picture in the annual 25 times. He slapped people on the back, and said, "Hi, fellows!" with gusto to all the nobodies who had a vote. He swore he would be president some day. Yes, he was elected yesterday—president of the Parent-Teachers' association of Paris, Idaho.

Prilla was the innocent, sophisticated type. She had a chest-full of fraternity pins, and always put on the right one for the right boy. She loved dancing and bridge and lots of things. But mostly she loved. She believed in birth-control even if it was radical. She got married in order to have someone to support her between love affairs. Yes, she has a nurse for the baby, but only because the infant is going on 2, and is beginning to suspect the chauffeur.

Frank was a good boy. He talked about purity in Y. M. C. A. meetings, and you never suspected he had a girl waiting for him in the car outside. Sometimes he actually hadn't. He always exhorted the fellows to treat every girl as a sister—even if she offered strenuous objections. He was going to be a missionary in China, and do some good in the world. Oh, you'll find him out in the lobby, I guess. Yes, politics is a great game.

Stanley always studied a lot. He believed in absorbing culture in college. He never went to football games, and he thought girls were silly. They might be the necessary evil for other men, but to Stanley they were only evil. Oh no, Stanley couldn't come tonight. He had to be home minding the children while his wife went out culture-hunting, to a lecture on "Adonais."

Leona couldn't help it—she was born with horn-rimmed glasses on. She was an intellectual. She believed in free love, but couldn't find anybody that was willing to test her theories. She didn't believe in marriage, but that didn't cause any argument, either. After awhile, she was a Radical, but most people just abbreviated it to Radish. Yes, she teaches in the Second District A. & M. school and coaches girls' basketball.

Jerry was the football captain. He was that kind of a boy. He endorsed sweaters for all the leading sweater manufacturers. He failed in all the snap courses, and he never took any other kind. He got a diploma, though, all tied with silver and gold ribbons. Oh, yes, he got a job—selling pink pajamas from house to house. It was easy, with his training.

HOWARD WRITES ON ENGLISH LAW

Law Journal Has Many Articles By Students

The outstanding event of the year for the college of law is the publication of Prof. E. Pendleton Howard's book on "Criminal Justice in England," says Dean William E. Masterson. This book has become well known and has been excellently received in United States and England, he explained.

"During the past two years there has been an increase of 100 per cent in the attendance in the law college. Students are taking active part in writing for the Law Journal, a publication which was brought out last year for the first time.

The following students have had articles published in the Journal: George W. Beardmore, William G. Ennis, Edward G. Cross, William S. Hawkins, Kermit Jeppesen, Harold W. Coffin, Jack McQuade, W. S. Dolan.

Ten seniors are candidates for the law degree this year. During the year various lawyers from the state have given lectures on the practice of law, which has been very beneficial to the students, and has added prestige to the school throughout the country.

PORTLAND PASTOR CHOSEN TO SPEAK

Rev. H. L. Bowman Will Speak at 37th Commencement

Selection of the Rev. Harold L. Bowman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Portland, Oregon, as commencement speaker for the thirty-seventh commencement of the University of Idaho, Monday, June 6, has been announced by President M. G. Neale of the university. The subject of his address will be "Contemporary Pioneering."

Rev. Bowman is a graduate of Coe College, Iowa, and McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago. From 1910 to 1913 he was instructor in English at American university, Beirut, Syria, prior to being ordained to the Presbyterian ministry. He was pastor of the Woodlawn Park church, Chicago, from 1917 to 1920, and has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Portland, since 1920. He is a trustee of San Francisco Theological seminary and of Albany college.

The baccalaureate sermon to the 1932 graduating class, which will be the largest in the history of the university, will be delivered by Dr. William O. Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State university, Sunday morning, June 5.

The first anniversary of the death of Knute Rockne was recognized by the entire student body of Oregon university at a solemn requiem mass.

Several hundred chipped flint artifacts have been given to the University of North Carolina as the beginning of an archeological collection.

ON THE SPOT

To everybody in Who's Who and the ATO Bros. also—there we were at the May Fete yesterday watching the Mortar Boards and Silver Lances wind the maypole, when all of a sudden those "all tired out over the Story Book Ball" boys loped in and nearly broke up the show with the tired looks they gave us—no foolin', them decorations is swell boys—more power to you and we hope the crazy room looks like any good padded cell at Orofino—also had a hunch that the French girls in the Feet must have been the femmes de guerre—we read about those dames in a history book once—some phl felt passed a pin—wonder if that's how he got the date to the Saturday night dance—notice Chester Kerr is getting that wild look in his eye, and if you'd ask him why, he'd ask you another time to pay your bill at the ropst—it's poison to the pocketbook to hang around the nest now—better pull down the curtains puh—the P's this is complaining about the bow-legs at the ho, no house—hear the Three Deltas are planning their sunrise dance at three A. M. these days—but then, what could be nicer than sunrise on dear old Paradise Creek? Tarzan of them Apes gave us that terrible jittery, bibbery feeling—bet those Hale at the show wondered if he could duck Norell like that and get away with it—the Kappas are dropping out of school from complete boredom—don't blame you gals—Condon must be trying to lose weight—everytime he eats an ice cream cone it's on the run—if he runs fast enough the calories won't count maybe—and another thing, of there's any guys around Moscow who's particular about the tulip swiping, we ask you to be fair enough to shoot three loads of salt before adding that dash of buckshot—a bargain's a bargain—now folks—and doesn't count for red, white and blue tulips either—don't blow up the ship until you see the whites of the eyes—keeps a girl busy during these days trying to keep up on what's been going on around here this year—and there seems to be plenty of "you can't print that" kind of stuff—ask the Wildcat Walker if you want it in good English—well fun's fun but a girl can't laugh all the time—said the blonde who preferred gentlemen—and the profs are making up those finals right now—no we're not cynical, merely matter of fact—goo-bye and we'll be seen' you in the lechur room, but don't you dare peek.

Thirty-five young Chinese, some of them college students, have volunteered to take aviation training to help in the Sino-Japanese struggle. Boston university has gone completely modern by offering a course in depression problems. We could conduct a few graduate courses in the subject ourself.

TWENTY-TWO GIRLS PLEDGED TO SPUR

National Service Honorary For Sophomore Women

Twenty-two girls were pledged to Spur national service honorary for Sophomore women, Thursday morning as the opening event of Campus representatives of the group pledged at 7 o'clock in the morning with the announcement that they had been chosen. Formal pledging was held at 7 o'clock at Hays hall, followed by a breakfast at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Each year two girls are picked from every sorority house, girl's dormitory, and two from the town group. They are chosen for this honor on a basis of scholarship, character, personality, service and activities, and are considered campus representatives of the group from which they are chosen.

FOUR PLAYS CLOSE YEARS DRAMATICS

One Act Plays Tonight Will Run From Farce to Comedy

Four one act plays ranging from farce to high comedy, and melodrama, will comprise the final dramatic production of the year to be given tonight at the university auditorium. Admission for adults is 25 cents, for students ASU tickets. The first play "When the Horns Blow" a comedy written by Ethel Van der Veer. It is a fantastic one act play in which the principal character is a young artist who in his dreams conceives of all the women he might marry, but finally marries for love. The cast is: Keith Talley, Fern Paulsen, Anne Walker, Nona Rudge, Venna Andrasen, Marian Dresser, and Elizabeth Gamble.

The second play "Her Country" is a world war story in which a girl sacrifices all for her country, and is willing to give up her lover. However she wanted to help her country, and still maintain her lover. The characters are: Robert Herick, Alberta Berg, and Bob Vincent. Story of Three Friends "The Three Friends" by George H. Tankner, is a story of three thieves who are working together to steal a beautiful necklace. Each is trying to get possession of the necklace. Each is trying to get possession of the necklace. Each is trying to get possession of the necklace. The characters are Franklin Bovey, Clayton Spear, and Earl Bopp.

As a further step toward reducing the unemployment in the state, the University of California received bids last week on a new $600,000 clinic to be built adjacent to the University hospital at the medical school in San Francisco.

Less than two-fifths of the 1931, graduating class at the University of Oregon were students who had entered the university four years before.

"Made-to-measure" service for business

Whether the business is small or large—the corner grocery or the refrigerator factory—requirements for telephone service vary. So, to meet special conditions, Bell System men custom-fit the service to the subscriber. They worked out a telephone conference plan for a large manufacturer. Every Friday, at specified times, each district manager calls the home office, where telephone facilities are so arranged that the chief sales executives are on the line simultaneously. Problems are discussed, decisions given. In minutes, the executives cover the country. This plan lowered selling costs, raised efficiency, helped the user to increase profits 31% in a year's time. By making the telephone more useful, Bell System men contribute to the success of many industries.

The May Fete, principal feature of Campus Day, began yesterday with the procession of senior women into the oval opposite the "I" club bench, Virginia Belle Evans, queen of the May, followed with the maid of honor, Marthelene Tanner, and the page, Roberta Roberts. Coronation of the queen took place immediately after her entrance.

The dance program consisted mostly of the more popular numbers given in Taps and Terschore. The receding horizons of the history of America formed the thread of continuity between the various types of dances presented. "Southern Belles" was a new feature planned especially for the occasion. The entire program was arranged by Miss Mabel Locke and Miss Janette Wirt of the physical education department for university women. Paul Ithig, head of the art department, designed the stage and the queen's throne.

Following the program the new members of Mortar Board, Silver Lance, and Idaho Spurs for the coming year were announced. The annual intramural track and field meet was held immediately after the selection. An all-college mixer was held at the Memorial gymnasium in the evening.

SPANISH PLAZZA ENHANCES DELTA TAU DELTA FORMAL

Carrying the dancers away to sunny Spain land of music and lighter the Delta Tau Deltas have transformed their chapter house into a Spanish casa. One section of the floor has been cut off and built into a piazza with walls around. Inside are easy chairs, sofas, and tables. Near the walls are high pillars which extend to the ceiling. Places for the patrons have been covered with boxes with stars cut out to give the effect of being out in the open. The orchestra will be hidden behind a decorated screen. The programs are in black leather with a nude silhouette.

Patrons and patronesses will be: Dr. and Mrs. Bienenda, Dean and Mrs. E. J. Iddings, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Kostalek, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Janssen, and Dr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson.

TRI DELTA INFORMAL IS SATURDAY MORNING

Delta Delta Delta members will give their annual sunrise informal dance beginning at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, and lasting until 8 o'clock when breakfast will be served. Individual tables are being placed on the second floor balcony behind the house where the breakfast is to be given.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dean and Mrs. Ralph H. Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Banks, William Moore.

GAMMA PHI BETA GIVES SPRING FORMAL

The Gamma Phi Betas are entertaining at a formal dinner dance tonight at the Moscow hotel. Tables will be decorated in various kinds of flowers of pastel hues. Following the dinner the dance will be held at the chapter house. The programs are black and white with a picture of a house on the front.

Patrons and patronesses will be: Mrs. W. J. McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. Max Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. John Sheehy, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Truit, and Miss Katherine Jensen.

PICNICS TO BE POPULAR SUNDAY

A number of group picnics are being given this Sunday. Members of Sigma Alpha Psi will motor to the White Cross Mine Sunday. Patrons and patronesses will be: Capt. and Mrs. Harry Henkle, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davidson, and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Chamberlain. Beta Theta Pi will also entertain with a picnic Sunday. Executive board members of the ASTI have a picnic scheduled the same day. Alpha Zeta will have a picnic Saturday afternoon.

HASHER'S BALL IS HILARIOUS SUCCESS

The annual Hasher's Ball given at the Blue Bucket inn Wednesday night was a great success from all standpoints. The men were attired in cords, and the women in sport outfits. The programs had the cleverly caricatured figures of a man and woman attempting a "coc" over a small table.

SIGMA DELTA PI ENTERTAINS MONDAY

Sigma Delta Pi, national honorary for students enrolled in Spanish, entertained at Hav's Hall Monday evening. Mrs. Margaret Sargent, professor of French and Spanish, gave an illustrated lecture to the group on Japan. By the use of slides and graphs thrown on the walls she portrayed some very unusual and interesting glimpses of this country. A number of guests were present. Refreshments were served.

WATER CARNIVAL OPENS WITH CARD GAME IN WATER

Carl Yanik Makes Very Realistic Devil

"The Devil took a Holiday" at the annual Hell Divers' water carnival at the swimming pool Monday and Tuesday evenings before large crowds. Carl Yanik made a very realistic devil dressed from head to toes in a red suit with accompanying horns, a tall, and appropriate makeup. The devil was master of ceremonies, announcing each event through a megaphone. Red lighting effects and spot lights made it a colorful scene.

The carnival opened with a card game in the water played with a great deal of ace-trumping and suggestions from the "wife." One of the highlights of the program was a water ballet put on by the fellows in the club. Narcissa, the heroine, had a tragic role. She fell in love with a hunter, only to find he was mortal and she must give him up. Despondent, she tried to drown herself, but was rescued by three water nymphs. Then Pan came, wooing her with ardent music on his reed pipes. At first, Narcissa spurned him; but when her heart softened towards him, he in turn would have nothing to do with her. Having lost out all the way around, Narcissa tragically leapt into the water to end the ballet.

Bob Adams was the hunter; Pat Callahan, Pan; Clayne Robison, Bob Blair, and Herb Freece, water nymphs; Bill Hall, a bull frog; Bob Beasley, Dusk; and Clive Johnson and Bill Bourosa were flowers, companions to Narcissa. Dainty gauze costumes heightened the effect. The diving exhibition was especially enjoyed by the spectators. Stan Hale and Lorna McCain did a number of difficult dives which were imitated by Mary Axtell, Grace Nichols, Bob Adams, and Pat Callahan, dressed in old-fashioned bathing suits and armed with water-wings, inner tubes, and umbrellas. Stunt diving, consisting of head stands, cart-wheels and other gymnastic feats, were put on by Lorna McCain, Grace Nichols, Clayne Robison and Stan Hale. Life saving approaches, breaks, and holds, carries, and artificial respiration were demonstrated by Ruth Steele, Kate Thoms, Mary Axtell, Bill Hall, and Clayne Robison. Stan Hale explained each move as it was executed in the water and on the shore.

Various Kinds of Races.

Racing of various kinds made up an important part of the program. The most exciting race was probably the night-shirt and candle relay race. Garbed in a night-shirt and cap, each swimmer carried a lighted candle in his mouth the length of the pool. The second swimmer had to don the wet night shirt and cap and swim back again still carrying the candle. Those taking part in this relay were Junior Jones, Pat Callahan, Clive Johnson, and Bill Hall.

FOLLIES IN PLACE OF STUNT FEST

The Men's Follies, which are to be given this year in place of the annual song and stunt fest, will be presented the evening of May 18, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium, and nounced Ambrose Adams, who is in charge of the performance. Each men's group will prepare a 20-minute stunt. They may have as many men as they wish in the stunt, but they are limited financially to $5. Tryouts for these stunts will be held Monday afternoon and evening in the auditorium. Then, the four best stunts will be given at the final performance Wednesday evening. The judges of the stunts will be Dr. J. W. Barton, Dr. Fredric C. Church, and Prof. Harold A. Vogel. They will judge on originality, cleverness, and presentation. The prize will be a silver loving cup. For the follies, each class will also present a song. The prize will be $25 for the class with the winning song.

FORMER FOOTBALL PLAYERS TO MEET W.S.C. AT LEWISTON

"Red" Jacoby is Director-in-Chief of "Hasbeen" Club

When the Idaho "Hasbeens," former University of Idaho football players, meet the Washington State college "Hasbeens," in Lewiston next Saturday, as the feature event of the Cherry Blossom festival there will be only 11 ex-Vandals in uniform, but there will be a lot on the sidelines pulling for the "Silver and Gold."

"Red" Jacoby, famous quarterback of former years, now assistant varsity coach, is director-in-chief of the Idaho club. He will do the quarterbacking for the Vandal half of the cherry blossom football festivities. Jacoby has mastered one full lineup and it shows a lot of power from various Idaho clubs from 1926 down to the past season. Some of the boys will want to fight over again some old battles with Cougar eleven but for many it will be a revival of activity which ended with a 9 to 8 score last year in favor of Washington State.

The Vandals will be somewhat short on reserves but Jacoby insists the lineup looks pretty fair and can be counted upon to cause Washington State's "Hasbeens" plenty of trouble.

Idaho's Lineup.

The Idaho line will average about 190 pounds from end to end. Along the forward wall will be some of the best linemen that have been produced in Moscow in recent years.

The Idaho lineup, with one or two minor changes, will be the same that faced the varsity two weeks ago in a game which ended 13 to 12 in favor of the men who will represent Idaho on the gridiron next fall. Lyle Drury, Moscow, who starred on the 1923 freshman team and later at St. Louis university under "Matty" Matthews, former Idaho coach, has been shifted from tackle to end. His old position will be filled by Dan Lopez, Meridian, who reported since the varsity game. Lopez was a guard on the 1930 team.

The probable starting lineup for Idaho:

LOPEZ, '32, Left Tackle
SPROAT, '32, Left Guard
BEATTY, '25, Center
CRAVENS, '32, Right Guard
BESSLER, '32, Right Tackle
SPAUGY, '32, Right End
THOMAS, '25, Right Halfback
JACOBY, '27, Quarterback
OWINGS, '26, Fullback

PHI GAMMA DELTA WINS THIRD TRACK AND FIELD MEET

Phi Delta Theta Comes Second with 27 1/2 Points

Phi Gamma Delta win its third successive intramural track and field meet by one point on Campus day. The meet was one of the most exciting and hard-fought meets ever held on MacLean field. Phi Gamma Delta scored a total of 28 1/2 points, Phi Delta Theta came second with 27 1/2 points; Kappa Sigma took third place with 19 points, and Lambda Chi Alpha was a close fourth with 18 points.

The Phi's gained their points by first places in the 50 yard dash, 120 yard low hurdles, and broad jump. They also tied for first place in the pole vault, took second in the 100 yard dash and the relay, tied for second in the high jump, and took fourth in the 80 yard high hurdles. The Phi Deltas garnered their points from a first place in the relay, a first and a third in the 100 yard dash, a first and second in the 220 yard dash, a second in the 440 yard dash, two men tying for third place in the 120 yard low hurdles, one man tying for third in the pole vault.

Weather Was Ideal.

The weather was ideal with just enough breeze to cool off the struggling athletes. The outstanding performance of the day was turned in when Bob Felton ran the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat. The large crowd of students witnessing the meet seemed especially excited over the relay race which was won by a very close margin by Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta taking second.

TRACK TEAM GOES TO MISSOULA FOR BIG DUAL MEET

Our Men Are Out to Make Up for Last Weeks Score

The Vandal track team leaves for Missoula this week-end for a dual meet with the University of Montana, Saturday. The men are out to make up for the 83 to 47 score suffered at the hands of Oregon last week.

"It ought to be a very close meet," predicted Otto Anderson, track coach. "The relay will probably be the deciding factor."

The Idaho men have a decided edge on the Montana squad in track events, but they are weak in field events. Pete Jensen provided Idaho with its only first place in the field events in the Oregon meet last Saturday when he won the shot put with a heave of 44 feet 10 1/4 inches.

Improve High Jump.

"While not seeming to get anything in the field events, Saturday with the University of Oregon," said Mr. Anderson. "I was pleased with the fact that Nelson and Wilson in the pole vault and high jump did better by several inches than they have ever done before. If they can do as well against Montana, they should be winners."

The men who will represent Idaho against Montana are:

100-yard dash—Jossis, Kalbus and Hanford.
220-yard dash—Kalbus and Hanford.
440-yard run—Jossis and Pope.

SPAUGY RECEIVES OFFER IN EAST

He Closes Football Career at Idaho Saturday.

Arthur Spaugy, Nampa, Idaho football captain last season, has received an offer from the Boston Braves, a professional team playing in the National Football league, to join them next fall. He has not decided whether he will accept.

Spaugy will close his football career under Idaho colors Saturday in Lewiston when a team of "Hasbeens," Idaho graduates and varsity ineligibles, meets a similar team from the Washington State college as a feature of the annual Lewiston Cherry Blossom Festival.

As a varsity player, Spaugy played three seasons at center on the Vandal team and last fall received prominent mention on several all-coast and all-northwest mythical elevens. On the "Hasbeen" team, Spaugy will play at right end where his height makes receiving end of passes. He is also ceiling en dof passes. He is also one of the best defensive linemen produced at Idaho in recent years.

DO YOU INHALE?

Here goes the last "sacred cow" in cigarette advertising!

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES

"IT'S TOASTED"

INHALING has long been an "untouchable"... a subject taboo in the tobacco trade... a "sacred cow"! Why?... Because in every tobacco leaf—even the finest, the mildest—nature hides certain impurities which, when not removed, are unkind to delicate membranes!

And since, knowingly or unknowingly, we all inhale some part of the smoke from our cigarette—Lucky Strike developed that great scientific process which removes certain impurities.

Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.
