LIBRARY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

PEP RALLY STARTS AT 6:30

President M. G. Neale will ignite the bonfire tonight at the fairgrounds. This is the first time that a university president has lighted the fire. The bonfire comes as a climax to the parade through the men's houses and down town streets. Alumni, guests and students will unite in giving songs and yells, led by the Idaho Pep band and yell leaders.

The women's tour of the men's halls and fraternity houses will initiate the homecoming pep rally tonight. All women will gather in front of Hays hall promptly at 6:30 o'clock. A line will be formed, led by Mildred Richardson, A. W. S. yell queen, and will serpentine through streets of the campus and through each of the men's houses. The Spurs will be on hand to regulate and direct the group.

The women will be joined at 7 p. m. by the men's parade which will consist of the pep band, the fire engines and trucks and cars from the various houses. The group will proceed from Hays hall along Blake avenue and Elm street to Sixth street—the pep band and engines will wait while the women's section branches off to go through the men's houses. The houses will be visited in the following order: Ridenbaugh hall, Chi Alpha Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Delta Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Lindley hall, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Nu, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega and Lambda Chi Alpha. The men will wait in their houses until after the women's parade. They will join the women at the Alpha Phi house. The whole group will go down town, and circle in front of Davids' for a few songs and cheers. It will then go to A street and along that to the field where the freshman bonfire will be.

and Professor Chenoweth will speak at the bonfire. Their talks will be followed by the usual songs and yells led by Harry Wilson, acting yell king.

The evening will be capped by an all-college mixer sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights, at the Memorial gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock.

Idaho women students never wear "I" caps with the exception of the yell queen, when she leads the rally each year. This has been observed in the past as an unwritten campus tradition.

FIRE DAMAGES DELTA CHI HOUSE

The Delta Chi house was damaged by fire which started in the basement at 3:15 Thursday afternoon. Owen Seatz and John von Bergen discovered the fire and called the fire department, which responded with two trucks. The exact cause of the fire is unknown, but it is assumed that the oil burner, which has been leaking for some time became ignited.

VANDALS READY TO MEET OREGON DUCKS SATURDAY

On the eve of the twenty-third meeting between the football teams of the Oregon Webfoot and the Idaho Vandals, all is in readiness for the battle that will climax the university's homecoming celebration. The game will be a grudge battle in more ways than one. Idaho will make another attempt at downing the remnant of that ancient "jinx" that has pursued the Vandals since their celebrated victories over the Webfoot in 1924 and '25. (Prink) Callison's Oregonians will be just as anxious to strut their stuff before Idaho fans for the first time in nine years, and prove that the 12 to 1 picking they took at the hands of the U. C. L. A. Bruins last Saturday was a mistake.

Pre-Game Forecasts.

The narrow margin that pre-game forecasts were giving in favor of Oregon was reduced to almost nothing yesterday, when it was learned that Captain Bill Morgan, all coast tackle, and Mike Mikulak, 200-pound bone-crusher fullback, were definitely out of the Webfoot line up. Captain

Morgan, playing with a bandaged hand in the U. C. L. A. game, suffered a fracture of his other wrist at the bottom of a pile-up, and will leave a real gap for Coach Callison to fill. (Big Mike) Mikulak, steam roller of the Oregon offense, who is being groomed for an all-coast berth, has failed to respond to treatments for a bad ankle that has crippled him since an early game, and will be on the bench for at least another week. During the past week, Coach Callison has devoted most of his attention to finding players to fill the positions left vacant by these stars. Alex Eagle, a 214-pound sophomore, will start in Captain Morgan's place, and Howard Bobbit, a 190-pound reserve full, will replace Mikulak. Stan Kostka, 220-pound-halfback, who has been out of the last two conference games because of a dislocated shoulder, will be available for substitute duty if the going gets too tough for Gee or Temple, halfbacks on the starting lineup. Coach Callison can also count on "Pepper" Peppinjak, the sophomore substitute who made a touchdown the first time he had his hands on the ball in a conference game. He made Oregon's only score in their Ucla game last week.

Oregon's Lineup.

With the exception of Eagle at tackle, Oregon's starting lineup will be the same as the one that met the Bruins. (Bernie) Hughes will be at center; Gardner Frye and (Dutch) Clark at guards; Nilsson and Eagle at tackles; Wisnard and Bailey at ends; Bowerman at quarter; Gee and Temple at half; and Bobbit at fullback. The Webfoot will outweight the Vandals at tackle. Otherwise the teams will be about even in weight. Coach Leo Calland put his squad through a series of tough scrimmages the first of the week. Wednesday night, the Vandal coaches planned to send their charges through dummy scrimmage, but the boys were feeling too scrappy for such tame exercise, and headgear was donned for a real work-out. Last night, practice was confined to dummy scrimmage and signal practice. With a limbering up turnout this afternoon, the Vandal spear should be tapered off to a fine edge for the Duck hunt. Although not as hard hit by the several Vandal injuries as the Webfoot in first class condition.

Desert air is wet . . . by comparison!

Making telephone equipment presents many an interesting problem to the engineers of Western Electric—manufacturer for the Bell System. A case in point is the drying of telephone cable before putting on the protective lead sheath. This step is of utmost importance, for the tiny copper wires cannot carry your voice properly unless their paper insulation is thoroughly dried. To this end, Western Electric engineers devised special drying ovens in which the air is thirty times drier than desert air!

The same ingenuity and thoroughness go into every step of making cable, telephones, switchboards and many other kinds of telephone equipment. The dependable apparatus that results is one reason why Bell System service is dependable.

VANDALS RECALL OLD OREGON JINX OF EARLIER DAYS

Has Been in Evidence in History of Idaho-Oregon Games

What Idaho student is there, so unversed in Vandal gridiron lore, who has never heard of the famed and aged "Oregon jinx," that misfortune-bearing creature that has played such a prominent part in Idaho's football classics with the Webfeet?

The eyes of local football fans still light with pleasure when they recall that famous game on MacLean field in 1924, when Coach "Matty" Matthews eleven led by the superb passing and kicking of the Vandal quarterback, "Skippy" Stivers, chased that 23-year jinx down its hole to the tune of a 13 to 0 score. During that 23-year period, Oregon did not always come out ahead. Nine times the two teams did not meet, and three games resulted in ties, but since their first encounter with the Webfeet in 1901 when the game resulted in a scoreless tie, the Vandals had not won.

Many of the "believe it or not" games of football history were played between these two schools during that time. The first game of all time was played in 1908. Although Idaho went through, around, over and under the Oregon line for a total of 347 yards, and held the Oregon team to no yards whatever from scrimmage, Oregon defeated Idaho by a score of 37 to 21. The Webfeet failed to make a single first down during the entire 70 minutes of play.

This seemingly impossible feat was accomplished by Oregon's two-man team, "Dud" Clark and Fred Moulten. Clark was described by sport-writers of that time as the premier punter of the country, and Moulten, with his stub foot and uncanny kicking ability, was largely responsible for the Oregon victory. Four times he sent the ball between the Idaho goal posts for a total of 16 points. Every time the Webfeet got possession of the ball inside the Idaho 40-yard line, through the aid of Clark's long punts, Moulten would try a set-kick, and 4 out of 7 of them were good for scores. Oregon counted two touchdowns in addition, one on a pass and one on a fumble fluke.

It was games like this, and the one in 1912 when Oregon won by the margin of a single field goal, and the three games prior to the 1924 triumph, that gave the "Oregon jinx" its fame. The Vandals richly deserved the 13 to 0 trimming they gave the Webfeet in 1924, and when they repeated the next year with a 6 to 0 win, Idaho supporters felt that the jinx had died for sure. Perhaps he did, but he left an heir behind to torment the Vandals, for since that time Idaho has not won a game from the Lemon-Yellow.

Tomorrow's game has all the earmarks of that 1925 tussle. It will be the first time in many years that an Oregon team has appeared on the Vandal gridiron. Does the old jinx have an aversion to the MacLean battleground? Not wishing the Oregon team any bad luck, about 2000 Idaho students and countless Vandal supporters fervently hope so, and are praying for a repetition of that famous jinx hunt of 1924 that ended in a 13 to 0 hole for Oregon.

MORTAR BOARD HONORS ALUMS

Mortar Board plans to hold its annual breakfast in honor of the alumnae at the Blue Bucket Inn, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Invitations have been sent to all the alumnae who plan to be in Moscow. Louise Morley is chairman of the committee making arrangements for this affair. The sale of homecoming chrysanthemums was large, according to Marthalene Tanner, chairman of the sales committee. Students and townspeople ordered over 200 last Monday and Tuesday.

HOUSES DECORATE WITH NOVEL IDEAS FOR HOMECOMING

Displays Will Be Judged Friday Evening And Saturday Morning

Group houses and halls are displaying their best efforts this year to win the silver loving cups offered each year to both men and women groups for the best homecoming decorations. Exhibitions of every type and variety are being displayed this year and an unusually fine lot of these displays can not exceed $15. Displays must be completed by 5 p. m. Friday evening and one judging will follow immediately between the hours of 5 and 6, and a second judging will be held again Saturday morning. The names of the winners will be announced between halves at the game Saturday and cups presented to the men's and women's groups at this time. Dr. Henrietta Tromanhauser, Dr. F. L. Church, and B. E. Hopkins have been selected as the judges.

The only other decorations besides those on the houses will be a huge spot lights which are to be placed on several buildings on the campus. These will be lighted on both Friday and Saturday nights.

PEP BAND MAKES TRIP TO SPOKANE

Thursday afternoon the Idaho Pep band went to Spokane to ballyhoo the Idaho-Oregon game and parade the streets in full force. The Dessert and Davenport hotels were serenaded and later in the evening the band conducted a pep rally at radio station KHQ. Lloyd Whitlock accompanied them on the trip and during the broadcast he and Morris O'Donnell added to the musical entertainment with a number of piano duets.

The band was enthusiastically received as they always are by the citizens of Spokane. Bill Ames, director of the band, is delighted with the progress which has been made this year by the new members and predicts one of the best organizations in the history of the school. The annual pep band show is already under way and an elaborate performance is being prepared. No trip has yet been arranged for the pep band but it is hoped that one to southern Idaho high schools will be made soon.

BLUE KEY ALUMNI BANQUET PLANNED

Leonard Hill '31, received a teaching fellowship in accounting at Washington State college. Galen Willis '31, is working for the Firestone Rubber company in Seattle, Wash.

Of the class of 1932 Joseph Filseth is working in Portland, Ore. as assistant cashier of the Equitable Life Assurance society; Gene Conger is bursar and professor of accounting in Bicks college, Rexburg, Idaho; Peyton Somercamp is working for the Union Oil company in Coachilla, Calif.; Helen Benson is working for the Spokane branch of the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco in Spokane, Wash.; and Charles Cheney is in Salt Lake City, Utah, working for the Salt Lake Hardware company.

WOMEN TO BUY IDAHO BANNERS

Every woman student is asked to carry a pennant bearing the Idaho colors silver and gold to the Homecoming game. The Spurs have sold pennants in the group houses today and will also sell them at the gate, the day of the game. "We have procured a large enough number of pennants to be able to sell them for 25 cents each," said Marjorie Wurster, Spur president. "This is the same type of pennant as last year's and is selling for half the price as in previous years."

The Armistice day Spur Mixer on November 10, has been posted by the calendar committee and is being planned to be one of the big all college dances of the year.

Spurs will be on duty at 6:30 o'clock Friday night to lead the women students through the men's group houses and halls.

WELCOME BACK TO IDAHO AND THE BLUE BUCKET INN— DANCE WITH THE REST OF THE CROWD SATURDAY NIGHT

SPECIAL MUSIC AND SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT—ADMISSION 35c PER PERSON

SCINTILLATING EVENTS PLANNED FOR WEEK-END

with the returning of grads, the building of homecoming decorations, and the campus taking on a new life, this week-end looms as one of the most eventful homecomings that is ever to be witnessed on the Idaho campus.

The week-end starts in earnest Friday at 7 p. m. with the girls' parade through the houses and the men's parade. These two parties of marchers will combine and proceed together to the monstrous fire that the freshmen have managed to build and preserve for the big occasion. All rally maneuvers are under the direction of yell king, Harry Wilson, with the assistance of dukes Charles Warner and Lloyd Rutzel. The pep band will lead the procession and furnish music for the rally as it has always done in the past. Pep speeches from President Mervin G. Neale, Prof. C. W. Chenoweth and Attorney Abe Goff; lusty yells, aided by the atmosphere of a crackling fire; and the general excitement; all will contribute to making this affair the most impressive sight of the year.

Big Mixer Planned

After the bonfire the mixer at the Memorial gymnasium will be the center of activity. This dance is sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights, who have secured Clair Gale's Blue Bucket band to furnish the music.

The climaxing event on the week-end program is the mighty battle on MacLean field between the fleet Idaho Vandals and the powerful Oregon Webfoots, who are coming to Idaho for the first time in many years. Pre-game information points to a hotly contested game between two teams who will meet on practically even terms. Adequate seating space has been provided to accommodate the large crowd which is expected to attend the game. The Idaho students are to sit in the bleachers on the west side of the field, while the visitors and alumni are to occupy the grandstand. All fans in the Idaho section must have rooters' caps. Three or four bands are being sent to Moscow by special trains from high schools in the northern part of the state. These bands will alternate with the Idaho pep band in furnishing music during the half. As one of the feature exhibitions all the visiting bands will be combined to form one large corps for a serenade of the grandstand. Another feature of the program at the half is the awarding of the trophies to the girls' and men's groups that have the best homecoming decorations.

To Judge Twice. "These decorations must be finished by 5 tonight," says Jack Mitchell, homecoming chairman. Mitchell announced that the decorations will be judged two times; once in the daytime and again in the evening. This also accommodates those entries which are late. Henrietta Tromanhauser, B. E. Hopkins, and Dr. F. C. Church have been chosen as judges for the contest.

Saturday evening the Greater Idaho association is sponsoring a dance as a means for the alumni, faculty and students to become better acquainted. Music is to be furnished by Morey O'Donnell's orchestra.

Conferent Games Tomorrow. At Moscow, Idaho vs Oregon At Corvallis, O. S. C. vs W. S. C. At Palo Alto, Stanford vs U. S. C. At Seattle, Washington vs Calif.

By Paul E. Jones.

Tomorrow's game between the University of Oregon and Idaho will, if it does nothing else, probably decide the northwest cripple champions. Both teams are suffering from injuries in last week's games and several of the stars of both outfits are likely to view the biggest part of the struggle from the sidelines.

Latest reports from the Webfoot stronghold say that Mike Mikulak, Oregon's great defensive fullback, will not be among those present tomorrow. Idaho fans who believe there is none better than "Beeg John" Norby, and who hoped to get a chance to compare the two will be disappointed. Bill Morgan, Oregon's 210-pound all-coast tackle, is also being left at home. Morgan has a pair of broken hands. Stan Kostka, sophomore halfback who tips 212, is scheduled to start against Idaho after a two weeks lay off.

In Vandalville, Willis Smith is the cause of most of the concern. Smith's bruise still bothers him and, while it will not keep him out of the game, it may decrease his effectiveness. As far as Leo Calland is concerned, he's much rather have "Smitty" in shape and have Messrs. Mikulak, Morgan, and Kostka, on the field, too. All the other injuries sustained in the Montana game a week ago are responding to treatment and, with the exception of Howard McInerney, sophomore tackle hurt in the Gonzaga game, Calland can start his regular lineup.

The boys on MacLean field have been sneering at the Oregon jinx. Since 1901 when the two schools first commenced their football rivalry, the Vandals have been victorious only twice. Four games have ended in ties and all the rest have been Oregon victories. Even in Idaho's palmy days as one of the leaders in coast competition the boys used to have more difficulty with Oregon than seemed natural. It was in 1908 that the Vandals, with a comfortable 21 to 0 lead at the half, saw Oregon score 27 points after the rest period and play the last 10 minutes of the game with only 10 men on the field.

But in the face of all that, the boys are "pooh poohing" the jinx. They discovered two things last Saturday that are responsible for their lack of regard for what would be superstition anywhere but on a football field. One was that Oregon is not invincible and the other was that they have a mighty sweet ball club when they want to get in and play the game. If the interference starts mowing them down like it was a week ago, Idaho has an attack that will give any body trouble. And Calland has stopped worrying about his sophomore line. While injuries have taken a big toll, Calland knows the men he has left and he knows what they can do. They did it against Whitman, U. C. L. A., Gonzaga, and Montana.

"We'll win if we can," is the attitude on the squad. "And if we can't, Oregon will have to play a great ball game to beat us."

Before it was learned that Bill Morgan, Oregon all-coast tackle, might not play in the game, Rich Fox was trying to tell "Ap" Berg, sophomore guard, who is just a little near sighted, how tough a man the fellow across the line from him was going to be. From the adjectives he was using, most of the men gathered that Mr. Morgan was not only a mean looking gent but the kind of a guy who leaves a couple of limp bodies on the field after every play. It made no impression whatsoever on "Ap."

"You're wasting your time, Fox," he said. "I couldn't see him anyway."

Did you know that approximately 70 per cent of the members of the Oregon varsity football squad received their prep training outside the state? And that of the six men from out of the state on the Idaho roster, three are from Spokane, and that this school is the nearest university?

This game is a toss up in spite of what Jimmy Phelan thinks and we'll take Idaho, if for no better reason than that Phelan thinks Oregon will win.

In the three other conference games, all of which should be close, we pick Oregon State to take W. S. C., Stanford to win from Southern California, and Washington to help California along down the slippery chute.
