

Vandals Put Up Game Fight But Lose In Last Quarter

Fighting Idaho Team Plays Cougars Even for Three Periods But W. S. C. Reserve Strength Proves Fatal

Displaying spirited counter drives against the more powerful W. S. C. team, the Idaho Vandals fought the Cougars to a standstill for three thrilling quarters in Saturday's annual classic. The Vandals, advancing toward the goal near the end of the half were halted on the four-yard line by the Cougars and were later unable to cope with the greater reserves power which showed W. S. C. to finally shove over one touchdown and later break loose for a 70-yard touchdown which cost the Vandals, who fought valiantly to the last minute, a 12 to 0 loss.

It was anybody's game most of the way, for the rain and mud that covered the field restricted the play to straight football. Three set kicks were attempted, and many passes were tossed by both teams, but only one was completed. It was a costly one of the Cougars, for it placed the ball in possession of the Vandals, deeper in scoring territory than the ball had been at any time during the entire first half. The half ended before the ball could be pushed over, or the score might have been different.

Both teams took turns opening holes in their opponent's lines through which fleet-footed backs dashed. Willis Smith for Idaho, and Davis and Moses for Washington State contributed the largest share of spectacular runs, but there were other stars on both sides whose work was just as effective. LaVerne Randall and his punting got Idaho out of holes consistently. Big Theodoratus, the Grecian Cougar, kept the Vandals in the line. To Mel Sackett goes the credit for completing the only pass of the day.

The hard play was marred by frequent penalties that were costly to both teams. Clipping, carrying a penalty of 25 yards, was called on both sides. Idaho had a total of 15 yards in penalties, and W. S. C. had 10. The first quarter was played deep in Idaho territory, where the Cougars' punting advantage put the Vandals on the defense. The Idaho line stiffened on every drive and the ball didn't get within the 20 marker until just before the end of the period, when a touch-back on a pass over the goal line gave Idaho the ball on her own 20-yard line.

A blocked punt two plays later gave the Cougars another chance to score, but line plays and two passes failed to produce the necessary yardage, and Idaho took the ball again in a short punt.

The second period was all Idaho's with Randall playing the leading part. Randall kicking gradually worked the ball down the field, and the Idaho line stopped every W. S. C. offensive dead. The Cougar counted only one first down for the entire quarter.

Idaho's big chance came just before the half ended, when a clipping penalty on W. S. C. and a short kick gave Idaho the ball on her own 46-yard line. Willis Smith went to work and netted 23 yards in two plays, tossed a pass to Sackett which put the ball on the 8-yard line, and made four more on the next smash. Nothing but the timer's gun could stop the Vandals from scoring, and the timer's gun did just that. That drive ended Idaho's scoring threat of the day. It also served notice on the Cougars just what to expect, namely the W. S. C. players themselves know how near they came to being on the short end of the score at the half.

The third quarter was played largely in Idaho territory. Idaho held for downs to end the first Idaho offensive. Two plays failed to gain and Idaho was forced to punt.

Here occurred one of the outstanding performances of the game. LaVerne Randall, dropping back from his end position, and standing behind his own goal, took the soggy mud-covered ball and kicked it into the wind for a distance of 65 yards. The ball was caught on the fly by the Cougar safety, or would doubtless have rolled many yards farther.

Idaho rolled up three first downs, reached the Cougar 21-yard line, when the ball was lost on downs, and was started on another drive when the game ended.

The rain that varied from a drizzle to a full downpour did not spoil the excitement for the big crowd of homecoming fans and Idaho students who attended the game in a body. The spectators knew they were witnessing a classic between old rivals, and let the teams know it by their lusty cheering.

OUTSTANDING MEN PLAN TO ADDRESS ADVERTISING CLUB

Local Group Elects Officers and Completes Plans for Coming Year

Outstanding advertising men, chosen and sent to Moscow by the Spokane Advertising club to speak to the University Advertising club, will be the main features of this year's programs. The local club met this afternoon to elect officers and complete plans for the coming year.

The purpose of the club is to promote interest in advertising and is open to university students interested in that subject. No other qualifications are necessary. Meetings are held only when speakers are obtained.

Scholarship Award. The Spokane Advertising club assists the local organization, and this year will send down about eight or nine interesting speakers to talk here. The Spokane club is also planning on awarding a scholarship of $100 to the outstanding student interested in advertising. This offer is open to anyone on the campus.

Last year the club listened to such speakers as the advertising managers of the Crescent and John W. Graham's stores in Spokane. At the end of their talks they were interviewed and questioned by interested students. This same policy will be followed during the coming year.

This afternoon's meeting plans for the coming year were to be made and new officers to be elected also.

"LADIES OF JURY" TO BE PRESENTED IN SPOKANE FRIDAY

Little Theatre Club Is to Sponsor Presentation at Auditorium

"Ladies of the Jury," the entertaining comedy which was so successfully presented on the campus October 28 and 29, will be presented in Spokane Friday night. The play will be shown at the Auditorium theater, under the auspices of the Spokane Little theatre club.

Both of the productions which the university players have presented in Spokane in the past two years, have been extremely successful and have aroused much favorable comment. Last year they appeared in "Death Takes a Holiday" and the previous year in "Bill of Divorcement," both of which were well received here and in Spokane.

The cast includes between 20 and 25 characters, the most important roles being those of Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane, played by Rosamond Tenney, and of Mr. J. J. Pressley, foreman of the jury, played by Winfred Janssen. The twelve members of the jury hold sway throughout the last two acts, and the comic character roles furnish a good deal of entertainment and many laughs.

ALUMNUS BECOMES NATIONALLY KNOWN IN MINING FIELDS

J. O. Elton, Former Football Star Receives Engineer's Institute Award

Conspicuous honors recently were conferred upon the man who holds the unique distinction of having played football for both the University of Idaho and Washington State college.

The honors, however, pertain not to his gridiron days but to his subsequent achievements in the field of mining and metallurgy. J. O. Elton, nationally known as a graduate of the University of Idaho, has received for 1932 the James Douglas medal of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

The institute board of award conferred the medal on Mr. Elton for his work "in the treatment of smelter fumes in the production of electrolytic zinc for the development of successful methods of preferential flotation of lead-zinc silver ores and oxidized lead-zinc silver ores, and or improvement in lead mining."

Mr. Elton is manager of the International Smelting company with headquarters at Salt Lake City. In addition to being either president, manager, or vice president of three other companies, he is director in a large number of properties controlled by the Anaconda Copper company, with which he was formerly associated.

He studied engineering at Washington State college three years, worked as a miner for six years, and then completed his college work at the University of Idaho. During his college career he was intensely interested in football, re played on the Washington State team in 1889, 1900, and 1901, captaining the 1900 team. Likewise, in 1908, he made the University of Idaho team.

UNIVERSITY PLANS READING COURSE FOR STATE WOMEN

Faculty Committee Selects Books for Members of Honorary

At the request of the State Federation of Women's clubs the University of Idaho has worked out a reading course for its members. While the course is primarily for club members who wish to do the supervised reading required for membership in Epsilon Sigma Omicron, women's national honorary education society, explains Miss Bernice McCoy, chairman of the university committee which planned the course, the larger purpose is to furnish to the women of the federated clubs of the state an opportunity to do worthwhile reading under expert guidance.

Miss McCoy is director of the university department on non-resident instruction.

Cushman Chooses Fiction. The initial course covered seven books in the fiction field selected by John H. Cushman, professor of English, and 14 non-fiction books, dealing with timely phases of international and domestic economic problems, selected by Dr. Erwin Graue, associate professor of economics. To assist club members in this project, Miss M. Belle Sweet, university librarian, has written a brief sketch about each author and his book.

This new reading course is to be administered by the university non-resident instruction department. Club members will send their reviews to this division for submission to members of the university faculty.

Group Houses Are Robbed Saturday

Beta, Phi Delta, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Chi Suffer. Four fraternity houses were robbed last Saturday and Sunday of $90 being. The thieves robbed the Beta house 3:30 and 5 o'clock in the morning and the Sigma Nu, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi houses. Members of the houses were up late studying and are reasonably sure that no one came in the houses before 3 o'clock.

The only personal property taken was a fountain pen and an overcoat. The officials have been notified; no clues as to the identity of the guilty persons have as yet been found. The sheriff's force has been on the campus and is making a special investigation.

The Sigma Chi house lost $25, the Beta $10, Sigma Nus $10, and the Phi Deltas $15 dollars and an overcoat.

OFFICERS LACKING BURGLARY CLUES

No Developments Monday in Vault Blowing at Davids'; Loss is Insured

Officers Monday had uncovered no additional clues or leads which might help unravel the burglary of Davids' department store some time Friday night or early Saturday morning when the office vault was blown with nitro-glycerine.

The burglars took the previous day's cash receipts, totaling $478, two fur coats, a small hand trunk and possibly other merchandise. The burglary was discovered Saturday morning by an employee coming to work. It was the first work of safe crackers in Moscow for many years.

The officers have only the tools the safe crackers left in the store's office—a small sledge hammer, a brace and bit, a pinch bar, quantity of soft laundry soap, a small dry cell battery, wire, an old coat and the eye dropped used to insert the explosive liquid into the drill holes.

The loss was fully covered by insurance, the firm asserted Monday, and an adjuster, I. B. Murray of Spokane, is now here to check up on the loss.

It is the unanimous opinion of officers that the work was by professional yeggs.

Political Parties Shown By Colors

McDaniels Explains Method of Voting in Nicaragua. "I'll vote the green ticket this year," said one native of Nicaragua to another, and so Keith McDaniels told the American Society of Civil Engineers at a meeting last week in the Engineering annex.

McDaniels, who spent some time in Nicaragua with the United States Marines, told of the elections in that country. He said that due to the illiteracy of the natives it was necessary for each political party to have a color. The principal parties were the red and green. The natives cannot read nor write so they vote entirely by color. After the native has voted his hand is dipped in merichrome to signify that he has voted once. McDaniels also told of the engineering projects in that country. He is a freshman in the College of Engineering.

Prof. Jesse Buhanan gave a short talk on the "Relation of the Testing Laboratory to the Highway," which was followed by a talk by Snake river projects by Wilbur Hogue.

The next meeting of the A. S. C. E. will be held in the Engineering annex December 1.

Barton States Colors May Be Deciding Factor Saturday

If on Saturday afternoon the Washington State Cougars will wear their crimson jerseys, pants and shoes that they wore in the Rose Bowl game two years ago, the Vandals will give them all the football they care to handle in one day, according to Dr. J. W. Barton, head of the Department of Psychology.
"Red is an exciting color," said Dr. Barton, and a team which faces that color is pitched to a high degree of nervous energy. If that energy is directed in the right channels, Idaho should have little trouble in making things interesting for the Cougars."

SHREDDED WHEAT

Dr. Barton also stated that yellow is an exciting color. The combination of both red and yellow is the best which can be found for attracting and retaining interest. Certain oil companies have found this true and are employing it in decorating their service stations.
For a team which depends upon deception for gaining ground, Dr. Barton recommends the dull green blues, and browns. White is good color for a team which plans on an aerial attack. The receivers stand out plainly and are easily picked out by the passer. This is one of the factors which explains the failure of passes on a muddy day. The uniforms are covered with black mud and do not present a good target for the passer.

The faculty of the University of Chicago voted to abolish compulsory gym.

STUDENTS' CUT WINTER'S FUEL

Forestry students at the University of Idaho wouldn't make a fuel dealer rich if his living depended on selling them coal. They believe in burning Idaho wood.
Eight men students who batch, and several who are married, recently solved their winter fuel problem in a most ingenious and satisfactory manner. From Potlatch Forests, Inc., they obtained permission to cut wood on company land near Bovill, 35 miles east of Moscow.
The owner of a truck and a gasoline drag saw outfit also figured in their scheme. Using his drag saw the students cut up many cords of fine seasoned wood from tall tamarack snags a short distance from the highway. The truck owner has delivered enough wood to Moscow to last all the students in the enterprise until June.

Big Mixer Thursday Night Starts Armistice Holiday

Social events for this week end will be limited as the holiday will take many from the campus.

The most opportune time has been set aside for the Spur Mixer on Thursday. Being an open night and the only dance on the campus for that night, will help account for its success. ## HOME ECONOMICS CONFERENCE HELD BY JANE HINKLEY

Moscow Teachers and Students Enjoy Round Table with Agent

Miss Jane S. Hinkley, federal agent of Home Economics education for the Pacific region, spent the past week in Moscow. She represents the Federal Board for Vocational Education. Miss Hinkley conducted a conference for northern Idaho vocational teachers in Moscow, Friday and Saturday, and general home economics teachers of northern Idaho were invited as well as the vocational teachers.

The program of the conference centered around teaching of related arts and home project methods of teaching. The conference group chose as a specific goal for this year: The Improvement of Related Subjects, and renewed emphasis on home projects.

LARGE TURN OUT WEDNESDAY NIGHT FOR HELL DIVERS

New Students Display Ex-ceptional Ability in Water This Year

Many swimmers turned out to match their skill in the various water events which are required for membership in the Hell Divers club, with two-thirds of the aspirants men. Due to the great number of new students who displayed exceptional ability in the water, the competition for membership was a great deal keener than has been the case in past years.

The membership of the club is limited to 30 members which means that only the most potential swimmers can be considered for entrance into the organization, although there will be opportunities during the school year for enthusiasts in water sports to participate in some of the activities of the club.

"We are very pleased with the large number of students who turned out," said Clayne Robison, president of the club, "as it shows that student interest in swimming and lifesaving work is increasing among the students in the university."

Events Made.

Some of the events which made up part of the examination which is to serve as the basis for the choosing of new members included competition races for men in the crawl, back stroke, and breast stroke, and for women races for form and speed in the crawl, breast stroke, back stroke and side stroke. The diving events for both men and women were: plain front dive, jack-knife, back dive and swan. Some optional dives were also performed besides these, including: gainers, half twists, pikes and once and a half.

Due to the large numbers of students who turned out, a list of those chosen for membership to the club will not be published until next week.

In the event that there are students interested in swimming and life-saving who were unable to attend the try-outs Wednesday night applications may be made to Clayne Robison at the Phi Gamma Delta house, as there may be another opportunity in the near future for such students to try out.

Last year the entire varsity swimming team was composed of members of the Hell Divers club, and from the number of members who have returned to school, and the excellent material which has turned out thus far there are possibilities of developing a greater team of skilled tankmen to represent Idaho this year than ever before.

BETAS ELIMINATE TEKES LAST NIGHT

Intra-Mural Baseball Finals Will Be Played Next Week

The Betas came from behind in the second inning and played shut out ball to defeat the Tekes by a 14 to 8 score in intramural baseball last night. This gives the Betas another chance to show their worth when they meet the Fijis Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The winners of this game will play in the finals against the Kappa Sigs or Delta Chis. Vance and Newhouse formed the battery for the winners and Livingston, Fisher and Siple for the Tekes.

The schedule for the coming week will be as follows: Kappa Sigs vs Delta Chi Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. The winners of this game will meet the winners of the Fij-Beta game in the finals of the A league. Sigma Nu vs Phi Delt in the 11th game of the B league at 8 o'clock. The Lindley hall men will play the winners of game 11 at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, and the winners of this game will in turn meet the S. A. E.s at 7 o'clock Thursday evening. The managers of the B league teams will please get in touch with Ed Lacy for a later schedule.

The cross country run will start between the halves of the Frosh-Gonzaga game November 12. Those who expect to be eligible are requested to turn in their trials by 5:30 Friday evening to Norman Roberts.

PHI BETA KAPPA TAKES MEMBERS

Louella de Gero and Virginia Gascoigne, Spokane; and Charles A. Dauglass, Camano, Washington, are the three students who have been accepted for membership of the Idaho chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary.

Membership to Phi Beta Kappa is based on scholarship, personality, character and leadership. Members are chosen from students who are working for B. S. and A. B. degrees, graduates, and a few non college people of exceptional accomplishments.

Dr. J. A. Kostalek is president

YEARLINGS DEFEAT ELLENSBERG 6 TO 0 LAST SATURDAY

Frosh Whip Teachers the First Time in History of the University

Displaying a spirited attack in an eventful game on MacLean field Saturday morning, the Idaho freshmen defeated Ellensburg normal 6 to 0 for the first time in history. Both teams handled the ball with precision considering the wet, slippery gridiron.

The Babes, out to win one of their most important games, made a fierce drive down the field in the opening minutes of the first quarter only to be stopped within ten yards of the goal. Again in the second quarter the frosh gave the teachers a scare when they advanced the ball to the 6-yard line before being stopped.

Outplay Visitors.

Idaho clearly outplayed the visitors the entire game, nevertheless, the Ellensburg line held the frosh on four or five occasions when it was possible for the yearlings to score. Making use of a nearly perfect passing attack the freshmen scored in the third quarter on a pass to Honsowitz, who raced across for the only score of the game. The try for point failed.

Coach Anderson has perfected a passing combination that gave the Ellensburg team plenty to worry about. More passes were completed in Saturday's game than in any other this season, despite the fact that the game was played on a wet, sloppy, sea of mud. The entire freshman team played a good game. Ward, fullback; Peterson, guard; Spaugy, half; Braham, end; and Moore at tackle showed particularly well.

Meet Gonzaga Saturday.

The frosh play again next Saturday when they meet the Gonzaga freshmen on MacLean field. The rivalry which exists between the Idaho varsity and Gonzaga adds to the interest of this coming game between the freshmen of the two schools.

SPORT SHOP

SIGNING-OFF—The prize for the smartest crack of the current season goes to an unidentified Idaho lad who came back at a W. S. C. grad's fervent and alcoholic plea to "Sit down, stupid. You guys could not beat us if you had the 12 apostles out there with Christ at quarterback." ... May have been sacrilegious and a trifle blasphemous but late in the third quarter it looked like both teams were in dire need of a miracle or so ... I make a motion that Idaho play W. S. C. earlier in the season henceforth. Seems like the boys don't realize how mean and tough they can be until they get within smelling distance of Butch Meeker. The mascot friends, not the former W. S. C. quarter back.

BOB MOSER AFTER the game.—"By so and so, we'll beat those such-and-such-yes yet." OK, Bob, you'll get another crack at 'em next fall and right in your own back yard. Decent of the boys to come over here next year; yessir, right white of 'em. Did you scribe make the headlines, or did he? You should see the Washington State Evergreen. A little publicity never hurt nobody but, honest fellows, I ain't all the things you said I am Big mistake and we're all sorry. Well I am, even if the rest of you guys ain't Understand one of Pullman's bright boys has offered a bounty of three cents for my ears or five cents for torso without ears. It's all very flattering. Went to the game disguised as by frantic bounty seekers. Had a little a ravishing blond to avoid detection trouble with my voice and a couple of asphalt Arabs from the state college—a lady ain't safe there, even with 8000 people in the same grandstand.

VANDAL ROOTERS SHOW PLENTY PEP

Riotous Group Adds Flame to Fire of Student Spirit.

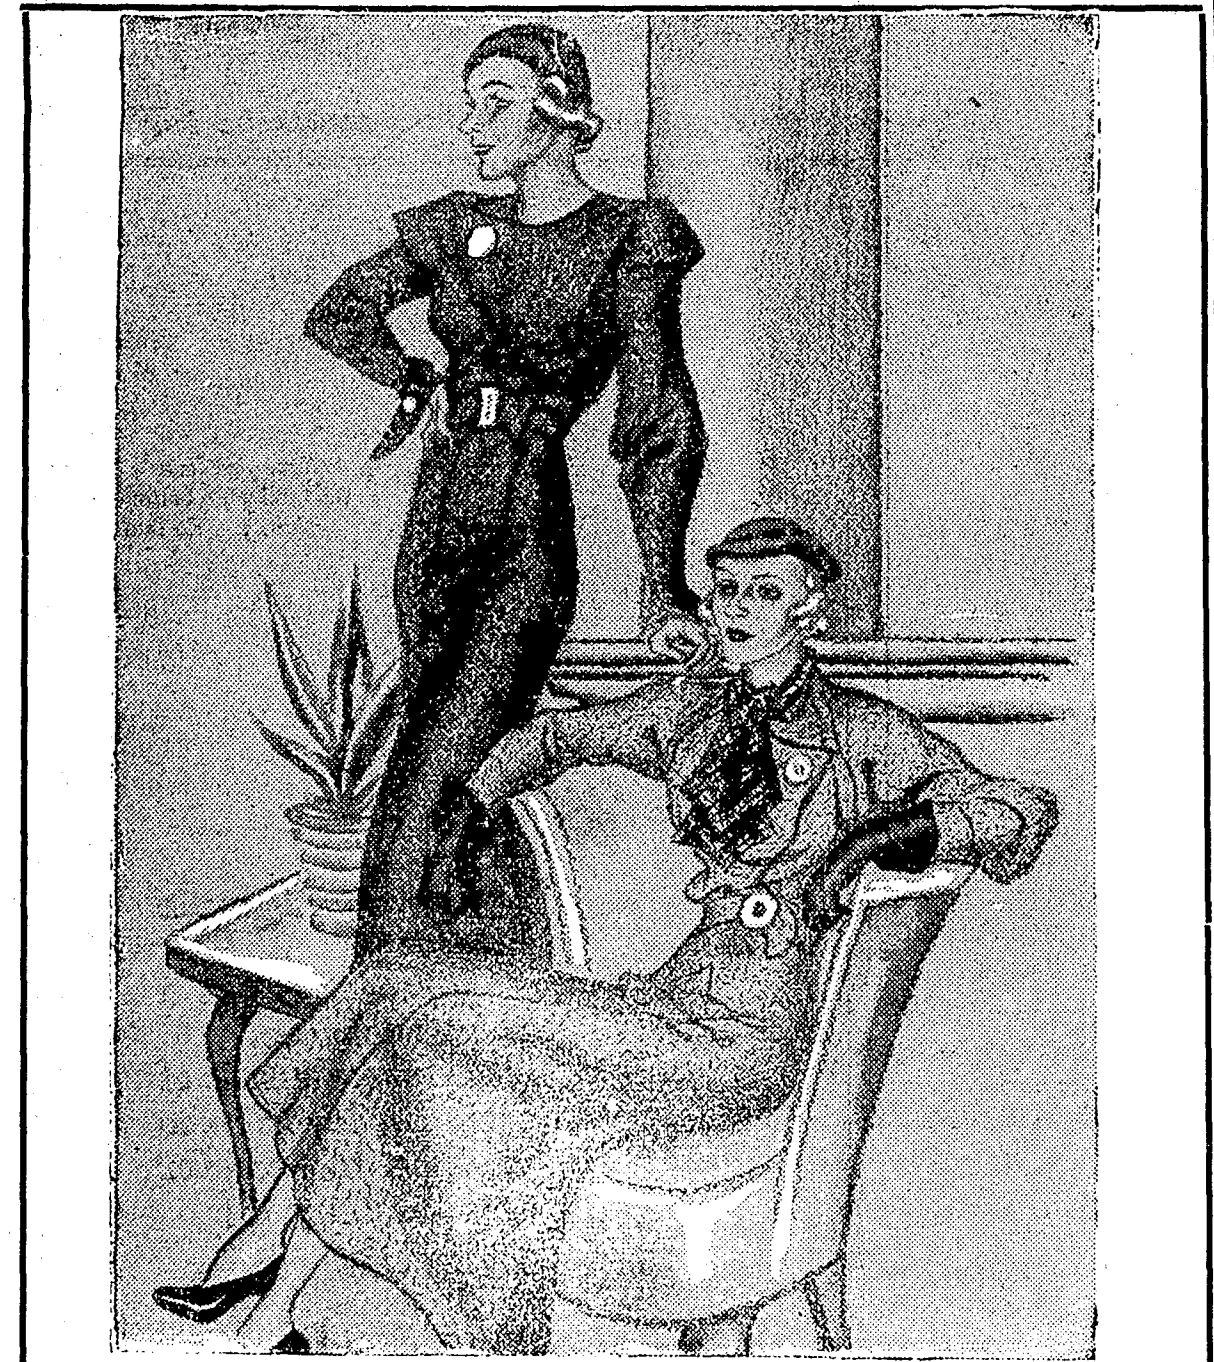

A small, but enthusiastic group of Vandal rooters participated in an impromptu rally and torch parade late Friday night. The Pep band was called out to augment the yelling and singing, and though the crowd was small, it put a final "will to win" spirit in the Idaho ranks which made Saturday's game by far the best in years.

Dean Permeal J. French gave women students permission to remain out until 12:30 p. m. and this may have been a contributing cause to the pitiable turnout which collected at the Blue Bucket after the dance. The itinerary of the parade included many of the girls' group houses, but most of them were singularly vacant except for an apologetic house mother.

The faithful few stopped at various points on the campus and with songs and yells raised a challenge to the Cougar which left no doubt in anyone's mind why Idaho was going to Pullman Saturday.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE FALL OF TICONDEROGA
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by F. C. Yohn...inspired by that horror-filled dawn when the bloodthirsty savages fell on Ethan Allan's gallant "Green Mountain Boys" of Fort Ticonderoga fame. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
