

Blame For Losing Teams Cast Directly At Idaho Students

Lack of Pride and Spirit Is Reason For Succession of Defeats--Remedy is Proposed by Dr. Barton Strikes At Heart of Situation

Some people might not think a consideration of winning football games worthwhile. Apparently there are others who go to the other extreme and claim that any institution should win far more than half its conference games. Of course it is obvious that only half the participants can be equal to or above the median line in winning successes. The other half are doomed to a place equal to or below the average.

In the last few years Idaho has had over than its share of being on the short end of the score sheet in her conference games. The questions arise as to whether or not we should give this matter any consideration and, if so, what consideration shall we give it. We have three possibilities in handling the matter: First, we could ignore the whole matter as being unimportant; second we could stand around and "howl" blaming first one and then another, without doing a single thing of a positive kind to remedy the conditions; third we could set definitely at the task of providing the means necessary to making a win at a much better than 50 per cent rate.

It is likely that the great majority of the student body membership, the alumni group, the faculty, and the people of the state at large really desire a winning football team. It even seems probable that these groups desire it strongly enough to try its accomplishment. In fact many of them have tried many means to this end. Usually these efforts have centered about changes in the coaching staff.

Many Factors. Whether or not a team will succeed in going through a season without a single defeat, or attain any other commendable standing, is too complex a matter to be controlled by the manipulation of just one of the casual conditions. Besides the efficiency of the coaching staff there are such factors as the size and the quality of the men making up the squad; the scholastic standards of the institution in regard to both entrance and continuance as a student with the right to participate in interscholastic competition; the schedule of games as to number, sequence, where played, and the officials; the spirit and support of the institution with its faculty, students, and patrons; in whose hands is lodged the actual active control of money and supplies; the facilities for training and playing, such as fields, stadium, and field equipment; amount and use of money for scouting, getting men, supporting trainers, physicians, emergency means and many other elements too numerous to even remember while sitting at the desk. Yes, I repeat, the situations of cause for success or defeat in any degree are far too numerous to be assigned to any one element.

If I could have the men and the money that I should designate, I could coach a team that would go through any season in any conference without a single defeat, and I am sure you will agree that the coach would be poor enough to satisfy any argument proposed. Yet, the coaches should be real men of knowledge and disposition suited to the tasks; such as we have at Idaho; but they are not all that go into the making of a successful team. There are far too many factors that influence the results of a football season to designate the coaches as the sole determiners.

Men and money! What power! Worlds are conquered by no other means. All that I could designate, I could coach a team that would go through any season in any conference without a single defeat, and I am sure you will agree that the coach would be poor enough to satisfy any argument proposed. Yet, the coaches should be real men of knowledge and disposition suited to the tasks; such as we have at Idaho; but they are not all that go into the making of a successful team. There are far too many factors that influence the results of a football season to designate the coaches as the sole determiners.

Get in or Out. Some who enter the rejoinder, why care anything about it anyhow, since the whole matter of interscholastic athletic competitions is so thoroughly professionalized that it is really a matter of who has the most money to buy the best men. There is some justification for this position, but still the fact remains that we are trying to maintain a team which is out of the ordinary showing the highest caliber performances. Yes, we could go out of the athletic

DEALERS BELIEVE COAL IS CHEAPER FUEL THAN WOOD

Local Heating Experts Contradict Statement That Wood Is Better

Coal is better fuel than wood, according to local wood and coal dealers, who contradict authorities on this phase. It is less expensive if evaluated from the standpoint of amount of heat output. Modern equipment for heating is not designed to burn wood so that heat is held constant. Wood at $5.0 a cord, gives three-fourths the amount of heat as coal, which sells for $10 and $12 a ton. In general, two pounds of wood give off as much heat as one pound of coal.

Several Species Good. According to general belief, wood compares favorably with coal in heating value. Tamarack, Douglas fir, and ponderosa pine, commonly known as western yellow, or bull pine, are Idaho's best fuel woods. Larch and Douglas fir burn slowly, but hold fire longer than the pine varieties, which are consumed rapidly, giving off a quicker and hotter fire. Woods containing resin or oils are proportionately better.

Standing dead trees, unless decayed, furnish better wood fuel. Green wood is from 5 to 25 per cent less valuable as fuel than dry wood, because heat is used in driving off the moisture, roughly equivalent to 1000 pounds per cord.

GEM PICTURES WILL ALL BE INFORMAL

Alpha Phi and Beta Theta Pi Next in Line to Have Photographs Taken

Alpha Phi and Beta Theta Pi are the next groups to schedule appointments with the local photographers for pictures for the Gem of the Mountains. Ivy McPherson is the representative at the Alpha Phi house and Lewis Ensign for Beta Theta Pi. All members are to arrange their appointments through these representatives. Only one week is allowed for these respective groups to complete all sittings, and it is urged that this plan be carried out in order that there will be no infringement on the group houses which will have appointments each week extending until the latter part of February. It is hoped that appointments will be made early in the week so as to avoid a last minute rush for photographs Friday and Saturday.

All Pictures Informal. All pictures this year for the Gem including both senior men and women, will be informal. This new plan is introduced with the purpose in mind of saving students the added expense of having two pictures taken, one formal and one informal, as has been the plan in previous years.

Pictures for the Gem this year will cost each student only $1.65, which means a reduction of 85 cents over that of previous years, in which two sittings were required by three-fourths of the student body. It is hoped that all group houses will co-operate with the Gem staff this year in clearing up all pictures during the week in which they are scheduled.

HAIRCUTS FEATURE FREAK CAMPUS BET

Freak bets are the popular thing around the campus at this time. Another of unique origin was the bet between Ralph Olmstead and Clarence Jain. It seems that Jain, who is a local barber, bet Olmstead 10 haircuts that President Hoover would be elected. Needless to say, Jain lost and Olmstead will have his ears moved down 10 times for nothing.

Olmstead said that he was very interested in Kenneth O'Leary's welfare. He hoped that Ken would be out of the infirmary soon, where he went as soon as the election started to go for Roosevelt.

DEPARTMENT HEADS CONFER WITH YORK ON PRINTING TOPICS

Boise Craftsman Visits Moscow to Aid in Planning 1933 Yearbook

Under the direction of Mr. Ralph York of Syms-York Printing company, Boise, progress on the 1933 Gem of the Mountains has been accomplished. Mr. York, who is in Moscow to assist in the planning of the book, had several conferences with Paul Miller, editor. Mr. York is an Idaho graduate of 1918.

"We laid out the entire book page by page, and have designated the space to be occupied by each section," said Mr. York. "Also the general style of typography has been determined. This year's book will be radically different in theme, design and make-up from those of past years. Many new ideas and features are being incorporated into the 1933 Gem that have never before been expressed. The sketches for art work have been gone over by the printers, checked and returned to the engravers so that work along that line will start immediately.

Congratulates Editor. "I congratulate Miller on the fine work that he and his staff are producing and I honestly believe, judging from the work turned in thus far, this publication will be one of the best in its class on the coast this year.

"We are planning on printing more copies this year than last as a result of the increased number who will avail themselves of the new price." At a meeting of the editorial staff department heads Tuesday night in the Gem of the Mountains office, Mr. York instructed the staff members in the mechanics of copy writing and copy fitting. His explanations were made in order to expedite handling of the copy at the printers and to assure of more prompt return of proof from the printer.

Mr. York will be in Moscow until Sunday to finish a schedule which is to be followed in preparing the copy on time. He then returns to southern Idaho.

The annual fall meeting of the Washington-Idaho border section of the American Chemical society will be held in Moscow, November 12, announced L. I. Gibertson of the Washington State college, secretary-treasurer of the section. The sessions will be held at the Blue Bucket Inn.

There will be a short program followed by the election of officers for 1933.

HE FIGHTS ON

COACH LEO CALLAND

Last football season a football coach stood in the porch of his home, tears in his eyes, while a student body cast plaudits. An Idaho team had waged a gallant fight—and lost. This year, the same coach and the same team waged an even more gallant, though less spectacular fight—and lost. But this time the coach spent the evening alone, with tears in his heart.

It was not the sorrow of failure, nor of defeat. It was the bitter agony of a man who knows his squad has played their souls away, only to go down before a power beyond their control. He could have been cynical, perhaps even a little bitter, but this year as last, he is a gentleman. He could have answered his critics with a single question, "What have you done to help?" Instead he began anew his wearying task of patching up a crippled team, shifting the strong to save the injured. He had no squad of fifty men to pick from, no line of reserves to furnish strong replacement. And there were two more games to face.

Wednesday night he boarded the train for California. But where now were the cheering crowds. How many were there to wish him success? Only a scattered few. Again he might have had tears in his eyes, but they were not those as of a year ago.

BLUNT WRITES PAPER

"The Structure of Chromosomes of Zen mays" is the title of a brief scientific paper written by Gilbert M. Blunt and printed in a recent number of Science, a periodical devoted to research activities. Mr. Blunt is a teaching fellow in the department of zoology at Washington State college.

IDAHO MEETS CALIFORNIA TOMORROW AT BERKLEY

Vandals In Last Conference Game Of Season; Are Out to Avenge Last Year's 18-0 Defeat

Idaho will end her coast conference football season against the California Golden Bears tomorrow at Berkeley. A post season game with Utah Aggies on Thanksgiving will remain on the schedule.

Although both teams have won but one conference game this year, comparative scores give California quite an edge on the dope sheet. W. S. C. is the only team both the Bears and the Vandals have played. The Cougars won 7 to 2 from California and beat Idaho 12 to 0.

"THE HAIRY APE" WILL BE SECOND DRAMATICS SHOW

Rehearsals Have Already Started on One of O'Neil's Better Productions

Rehearsals began this week for the second dramatic production of the year, "The Hairy Ape." The play will be presented December 9 and 10 and is eagerly anticipated by the faculty and students because of its stupendous scenes and situations.

The author has attracted more world wide comment upon his revolutionary plays than any contemporary dramatist, and is predicted as one of the few modern writers who will be remembered in the history of the stage. An O'Neil play is welcomed by the most critical of audiences, for it is sure to be daring and unique. "The Hairy Ape" is far from being the least notable of his massive productions. At the present Eugene O'Neil's most talked of works are "Morning Comes Electra" and "Strange Interlude."

Cast of characters is tentatively as follows: Yank, Leland Cannon; Long, Earl Bopp; Paddy, Raphael Gibbs; Mildred, Alberta Bergh; her aunt, Elinor Jacobs or Grace Eldridge. These five parts are the leading roles of the play, the entire story revolving about the brutish character of Yank. The remaining members of the cast are: Lloyd Rutzel, Frank Boyve, James Harper, Glenn Exum, Keith Armstrong, Howard Altnow, Robert Herrick, John Miller, Cassidy Taylor, Jack Blair, Harold Netzel, Bill Geaughy, Hoy Snyder and Darrell Evans. Winfred Janssen will portray "the Hairy Ape."

The play itself is broken up into a number of scenes, providing a great opportunity for stage designing and making the production a difficult one to stage. Mr. Theodore Pritchard and Eugene Perrine have been working for some time on the sets, and the show promises to be an effective one from all points of production.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY STUDENT BODY

Election May Be Considered Illegal—Not Sufficient Number Voted

At the ASUI election held yesterday, Hollis Neveaux was elected sophomore man, and Harry Wilson was elected yell king. Sam's nearest opponent, Florence Barrer received 12 votes, and Warren Russell, Branch (Wildcat) Walker, and Lloyd Rutzel each received one vote. Elden Lee and Clay McDowell each received a vote for yell king.

Only 220 votes were cast in the election today, and since it takes 20 per cent of the student body to make an election legal, the matter will have to be taken up by the election board. William Ennis, student body president, is out of town and until he returns no action can be taken.

Another election might have to be held, but it remains up to the election board's decision on the question. Members of the election board are: Philip Fikkan, chairman, Catherine O'Neil, Martha-Lene Tanner, Eugene Scott, and Walter Gillespie. Gillespie acted as chairman, because of the illness of Philip Fikkan.

CAUSES MOSS IN LAWN

Excess moisture or an acid soil will cause moss to appear in lawns. To rid the lawn of moss, it is necessary to counteract these factors, says J. R. Herman, state college instructor in landscaping gardening.

MIXER IS POSPONED

The Junior Mixer has been postponed for a short time. Many things made it inadvisable to hold the mixer as scheduled, particularly the sudden epidemic of the flu which struck the campus. According to present plans the mixer will be held soon after the mid-semester exams.

Orville Schmitz

Even if the field is bad, there are some points in the Vandal's favor. In the first game of the season, they held the undefeated U. C. L. Bruins to a lone touchdown in a dreary rain, and in two contests since have been forced to play in mud. Last week they played an almost perfect defensive game against W. S. C., and uncorked a creditable offense, in spite of the slippery field, that does not show in the final score.

California Was Defeated.

California will be smarting under the defeat they received at the hands of U. S. C. last Saturday afternoon. Many fans think that the Bears should have been on the other end of the 27-7 score, and a look at the statistics would seem to bear out this conclusion. The losers gained approximately 300 yards to the Trojans 165 and gathered six times as many first downs. To accomplish all that against the great U. S. C. machine and still come out 20 points behind was tough luck, and Coach (Navy Bill) Ingram will have his boys at the top pitch to make good in the games that remain on the California schedule.

Cy Geraghty

With a line that averages 195 pounds, the Bears are in a position to mix in plenty of power with the passing attack that worked so effectively against U. S. C. Cal's biggest man is 205 pound Captain Dick Tozer, who plays tackle. Their offensive threats in the backfield center around Castro, quarter, and Schalbach and Vallanos, halfbacks, although the latter may not play against the Vandals because of an injury received in the Trojan game.

Vandals Weren't Injured.

Idaho players came through the Cougar game with no major injuries, although Bob Moser, big sophomore tackle, hurt an old ankle strain that may keep him on the bench.

Twenty-six players, accompanied by coaches Leo Calland and Glenn Jacoby, Trainer Ralph Hutchinson and student manager Abe Pence left Wednesday evening for Berkeley. They were to arrive in time this morning for a workout in the California stadium and then attend the West Coast Army and Navy game in the afternoon.

YEAST KEEPS CIDER FROM FERMENTING

Dr. S. C. Vandecaveye of W. S. C. Gives Recipe for Clear Cider

Two or three successive inoculations of freshly pressed cider with yeast will produce unfermentable cider, says Dr. S. C. Vandecaveye of Washington State college. The principle involves the removal of all but traces of the nitrogen and phosphorus, two nutrient elements required for the fermenting organism. Thus yeast growth is stopped and the cider is unfermentable. A clear cider with its natural flavor unaltered is produced in this manner.

BULLETIN BOARD

GENERAL W. A. A. MEETING - November 15 at 5 p. m.

WESTMINISTER GUILD WILL meet Tuesday at 5:30 o'clock in the Women's gym.

SOCIOLOGY HEAD GIVES ADDRESS

University of Oregon Dean Speaks to Class

Dr. Phillip A. Parsons, head of the sociology department at the University of Oregon, addressed a group of professors and religious leaders of Moscow at a luncheon Monday noon. Dr. Parsons is president of the Pacific division of the North American conference on higher education and religion, and is making a survey of the state campuses west of the Rocky mountains, to acquaint himself with the various ways in which the religious problems are being met. Chi Alpha Pi entertained Dr. Parsons at dinner Monday evening. Dr. Parsons addressed the religious study class and the inter-church council on the "Christian Home."

Some Nicknames Fit; Others Are Acquired From Queer Sources

Why do we hear such salutations as "Skeets," "Kelly," "Doc" and "Wif" shouted across the campus? Families and friends are usually responsible for nicknames. Some are reasonable, some are appropriate, and others take the place of given names that do not fit. Richard Kenneth Stanton has been called Skeets since he was a mere youngster and doesn't even know the reason why. Harriet Leslie Wallace's father gazed into her Irish map the day she was born and sighed, "Poor little Kelly." Doc Frv's father is a doctor, and Butch Boyer is a butcher, and the boys were expected to follow in their fond parents' footsteps. Max Eileen is a plumber by trade and is better known as the "Fighting Plumber."

Wif Jansen because he and his friends didn't like the name Winfred.

Tweet St. Claire has a younger brother now called Tweet Tweet but more often Skinny. Mary Louise Bush assured her name "Tiddie" from her pet baby name. Pure Scotch blood gives James Alexander Lalidaw the moniker of Sandy. Branch Walker is known as Wildcat because he seems to be such a meek and mild little lamb. Lloyd Irish is not by majority vote of the student body.

Mickey is the name of Frances Catherine McMonigle has been known by all through school. Parvis Emmett Kall, with his mass of freckles acquired the name of Spac from a prominent Twin Falls doctor, due to the myriad of freckles. Complexion is also responsible for the names "Little Bear" and "Big Bear" for the Dyer boys, and "Mooney" and "Dusty" Kline.

ENGLISH COURSES DRAW STUDENTS

Department Shows Greatest Enrollment; Dramatics Popular.

The total enrollment in the English department is 1425; last year 1440 students were registered. The English department always leads the other departments of the university in enrollment. Of this, 666 is compulsory, and 251 is partially compulsory and partially elective. 581 are registered in elective courses.

This year more students have entered elective courses than previously. There has been a slight decrease in the size of the freshman classes. 58 students have registered in journalism courses, and 200 in dramatics and public speaking classes.

Grads Trouble Gentleman Jim

Graded greetings and salutations: Now is the time for all poor men to come to the aid of their grades, and convince the doubters that the results are "just one of those things."

They say, "Wisdom comes with age," yet others say, "There is no fool like an old fool." These housemanagers who insist on serving grapefruit must work on the theory that there is more in grapefruit than meets the eye. Angus is so Scotch that he wears glasses so that he doesn't waste any of the grapefruit juice.

A newspaper article says, "The numbers of the two parties will be very unbalanced in the new congress." Someone might look into the mental side of the idea too. We suppose that the Demos intend to apply a little "horse sense" to the government.

Another newspaper comments that the Demos have taken a hand in things, but we think that they'll need more than either the Culbertson or Lenz systems. Just when we thought that Senator Borah was a dry, notes of "One Decade Ago" related how "Abe Goff spiked the senator with due ceremony."

The special investigation of the robbing of the four houses is in charge of our old friend Angus Heakskaw of the Scotland and Chicago Stock Yards.

A college debater is a man who comes to the rescue of figures that can't lie for themselves.

Blame Students

competing business; but we don't, and I doubt that we are going to very soon. Since we are in, and since we are likely to stay in, the question is: What kind of representation shall we make? Shall we be what we seem to be—the weakest in the lot? Just frankly, how do you like such classification? Is there the likelihood that this classification will spread to other divisions of our institution, thus placing us far below the scale of our true worth? I doubt that we can safely take the "I don't care attitude." We must either do this job well, or leave it out entirely.

The men, the money?..... Where and how can we get them? Say, where is that old Idaho spirit? Is there no real red blood on this campus any more? Not too long ago, for days before the game with W. S. C. the older professors were physical wrecks trying to keep order in the halls and even classrooms so that the "all important" lectures could go on. Today, Thursday, November 10, 1932, the day preceding the "Big Battle" I took a good snooze in my office, and as far as the demonstration, about the only competition to win is concerned, I could have slept the entire night.

Yes, give us the men, our men and we shall win games a plenty, thus raising our athletic position from the cellar to a place nearer the top. Who knows to what extent such success might attract the attention of more good students, better financial support by the state legislators, a higher public regard for our academic preparation at Idaho, and a general state pride by university patrons and friends? Students, all this is within your grasp, to the extent that a successful football team is one of the determining factors. If you will but manifest in your acts and attitudes that you are proud of the fact of your attendance at, and support of your university. This spirit could be made so strong that no high school graduate could think for a minute of being a party to the cheapening of our institutions by humbling them in open competition. What we need at Idaho is a better morale, and this means more than a mere willingness to forgo; it means a positive zest for action, and, in this case, such action as will give us M. N. and other means to carry on with pride in the great success of our University and State.

It haunted clerks for generations

"The first of the month" used to be a time of feverish activity for ledger clerks. But the Bell System accounting staff—breaking away from tradition—simplified the keeping of accounts and rendering of monthly statements to customers. They applied a modern system of rotation billing to the telephone business which now spreads this work evenly throughout the month. In cooperation with manufacturers, they devised special typewriters and bookkeeping machines. Thus they did away with inefficient rush and achieved greater accuracy, speed and neatness.

This is but one example of a point of view found throughout the Bell System. Even long accepted routine is constantly studied—it's always worth looking for the more efficient way!

CHURCH NOTES

Kappa Phi Meets Around the Council Fire

Tau chapter of Kappa Phi met in the Methodist church parlors at 5 p. m. on Tuesday. A goodly number of members and pledges and one guest, Harriet Norris, were in attendance to enjoy a most interesting meeting, "Around the Council Fire," the theme of which was the work being done by the Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church among the American Indians. To create the atmosphere of Indian life and surroundings, the girls wore head bands and sat in Indian fashion around the fire place. The room was decorated to represent the out of odors and the Indian wigwam was in evidence. Music appropriate to the theme of the meeting was rendered by Ruth Johnson, Alice Bell. After the dinner consisting of "Indian Stew" from the pot the pledges entertained with a stunt representing the rescue of Captain John Smith by Pocahontas. Next Sunday is Kappa Phi Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal church. All members and pledges are urged to attend the morning service in a body.

BLISTER RUST MAY AID UNEMPLOYMENT

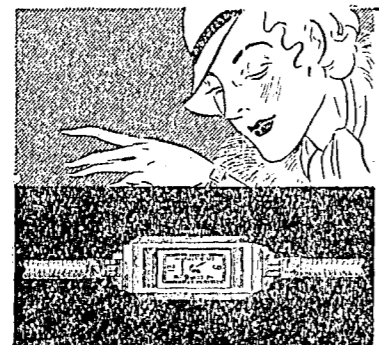

Loss of White Pine Has Become Critical According Four L Executive

Killing two birds with one stone—unemployment relief and curbing the white pine blister rust menace—is strongly advocated by the American forestry association, says a recent issue of the Four L Lumber News.

Loss of valuable white pine stands in the northwest by the blister rust infection would be a calamity of national bearing, the association points out. The organization urges federal aid in meeting the emergency and recommends that the states and communities in the white pine belt develop unemployment relief in curbing the rapid spread of the tree destroying disease.

These recommendations were made by the association following the report of its secretary, Ovid Butler, who made a thorough study of the blister rust situation in the northwest last summer. The program outlined for protection work that should be done, on a basis of an eight-year program, would provide labor for an average of 150,000 man days per season.

The blister rust situation is becoming critical in Idaho, Montana, and eastern Washington, and Oregon.

Games Tomorrow At Berkeley, Idaho vs California At Los Angeles, Oregon vs U. S. C. At Seattle, W. S. C. vs Washington At Missoula, Oregon vs Montana At Palo Alto, California Aggies vs Stanford Today At Los Angeles, St. Mary's vs UCLA

The curtain goes up on the last act tomorrow as far as Pacific Coast conference football is concerned. Two teams, Idaho and Oregon, play their final conference opponents on California gridirons.

Last season when the Idaho team entrained for Berkeley after playing W. S. C. to a standstill, it was with the idea that they might actually beat the California Bears. And they came much closer to doing it than a great many people realized. It started raining the Friday afternoon before the game.

This year the condition of the field won't matter. A wet one will make California's weight advantage count, of course, but if Idaho isn't a mud team by now it never will be one.

Speaking of suicide schedules, look at the Idaho plays next fall. The season opens on September 15 again, five days later than this year.

Journey to Oregon to meet Oregon State and the University of Oregon. On October 28 Montana played in Moscow and November 4 is open. Washington State comes to Moscow on November 11 and Idaho goes to California on the 18th.

While the team is in California, the stay-at-homes will have a chance to see all the football they want when Gale Mix's Moscow high school Bears tangle with the North Central high of Spokane this afternoon in MasLean field and the Idaho freshman play the Gonzaga Bullpups tomorrow.

It isn't the best, but I believe it's the scrappiest freshman team I've ever seen, this gang that tangles with the Gonzaga yearlings tomorrow. They haven't got weight, but opponents can't come too big for them.

Guesses: U. S. C. to defeat Oregon in a fairly close game; Washington State to beat Washington in another close one; and easy victories for O. S. C. over Montana and Stanford over the Cal Aggies.

iversity of Utah twice in their only two meetings? That Idaho has lost only one game in their seven starts in Boise. (To Oregon State in 1925).

Grenier Clicks, Vandal Center Great Threat

If you have heard queer rumblings and felt the earth shake the past few days, you might drop around at the Memorial gym some afternoon and be enlightened as to the cause.

His first experience on the basketball court was received at Hammett high school where he played for three years before he left this state for Washington where he played his senior year in one of the Tacoma high schools.

KAPPA SIGS RETAIN LEAD IN BASEBALL

Cross Country Run Starts at Half of the Freshman Game Saturday

Kappa Sigma retained its lead by shutting out Delta Chi by a 5 to 0 score. Although the Delta Chis had the bases filled twice they were not able to bring a man home.

Phi Delta Theta gained six runs to its credit in the first two innings and was able to hold a two run lead until the last of the seventh inning, when the Sigma Nus brought three runs in to win the game by a 7 to 6 score.

Members of the Pacific Coast Conference will play 28 conference football games during the football season.

"Little Giant" Rips Off Near Half Mile In Scrimmage Plays

According to statistics compiled this week Willis Smith, dynamic Vandal quarterback, has ripped off a total yardage of 627 1-2 yards on the gridirons of the coast thus far this fall. Smith has carried the ball 89 times which gives him an average of 7.1 yards per trip.

Other Idaho backfield men have clicked off the following averages: In 21 trips Lee Tyrrell, fullback, has averaged 5.1 yards; George Wilson, quarterback, has averaged 6.9 yards in 39 chances; Doug Coridon, fullback, has averaged 2.04 yards in 28 attempts; Cy Geraghty, quarterback, has averaged 5.5 yards in 21 trips; in two chances Mel Sackett, halfback, has averaged 13.5 yards; Earl Smith, fullback, has averaged 6.6 yards in four trips.

Smith takes the credit for having made the longest return of a punt and kickoff, while Wilson has the record run from scrimmage. Smith returned a punt 86 yards against Montana and a kickoff for 41 yards against Oregon. Wilson clicked off a 37-yard run from scrimmage against Whitman.

In the scoring department Smith leads his teammates with 30 points to his credit, 18 of which were scored against Whitman and 12 of them were garnered in the Montana game. Geraghty and Earl Smith with 12 points each, share the second high honors and are followed by Tyrrell with 8, Taylor with 6, Wilson with 6, and Moser with 1.

The Vandal's punting average to date for 48 boots has been 33 yards which is three yards less than their opponents who have averaged 36 yards to the punt for 49 kicks. In the passing department, Calland's men have resorted to the air on thirty-seven occasions and have completed 11 for a gain of 169 yards. Twenty have been incomplete and four intercepted. Their opponents have attempted 48 passes of which 13 have been completed. Thirty-one have been incomplete and four intercepted.

This data was compiled by Joe Barker and Ed Mayer from the graphs of the games kept by Abe Pence.

INTEREST SHOWN IN MINOR SPORTS

Students Handle Classes While Hutchinson Is in California

According to Coach Ralph Hutchinson, there has been a decided interest shown in boxing and wrestling now that football season is about over.

It is probable that a squad will go to W. S. C. in the near future for a match with the Cougar ringmen. This however, is not definite.

Work will start in earnest after football to prepare for the matches in early spring with other conference teams. Coach Hutchinson urged all those who have had some experience in either boxing or wrestling to report to classes after school in the afternoons.

IDAHO-GONZAGA FROSH TANGLE HERE

Vandal Yearlings Pull Curtains on Season Tomorrow Afternoon

That some Vandal-Bulldog rivalry and spirit will be present on MacLean field Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. when the Idaho freshmen meet the Gonzaga freshmen.

That is the last game for the Idaho frosh. They have won two games tied one and lost one, which is a good record considering that only one of these games was played on a dry field.

The Gonzaga aggregation has the edge in weight and are exceptionally fast, making the most of passing attacks that is to be feared by the best varsity teams. If the Idaho babes are fortunate enough to get their passing combination clicking that Gonzaga team will have to toss some mighty good passes to offset those that are expected from the Idaho yearlings.

Injuries on Team Coach Anderson is a little doubtful whether or not he will have his entire squad's roster to put up against the Bulldog pups; for Eller, Moore, Graham and Ward are the regulars that are just recovering either from injuries or sickness. Anderson's tentative lineup for Saturday is as follows: Sackett and Elliott, ends; Smith and Iverson, tackles; Peterson and Keel, guards; Eller, center; Honsowitz and Spaugy, halves; LeGore, fullback; Inman quarter. If Eller is unable to play Keel will replace him at center.

Good weather prevailing, a good fast game should be the result. Since no charge is being made for admission, a good crowd is expected. Students will not need their tickets.

HONOR W. S. C. TEAM

The Varsity ball given in honor of the Washington State college football team, has been scheduled for December 3. The ball is one of the four all-college dances given during the shoocl year.

HOLD SHOW AT W. S. C.

Los Angeles is still dominating the Coast conference race, with U. S. C. and U. C. L. A. tied for first place. California was moved down one notch last Saturday when U. S. C. trounced Bill Ingram's boys 27 to 7.

Oregon State remained on the rock bottom by losing to Oregon 12 to 6. Washington came up into fourth place with an upset win over Stanford, 18 to 13. Washington State clinched second place with their win over Idaho.

Do you know—Washington State has lost just one northwest game since 1928? (To Washington last year.) (Matty) Matthews has western Washington fans all steamed up over his West Seattle Athletic club team this season?

Confidence games tomorrow match Idaho with California at Berkeley, and Oregon with U. S. C. at Los Angeles. In the north, Washington and W. S. C. will fight it out in the Huskies homecoming game at Seattle and O. S. C. and Montana will decide between them who is to remain in the cellar.
