

Vandal Defense Ready For Invasion of Hec's Huskies

Washington Outfit Minus Services Of Captain Fuller, Injured In W. S. C. Game

An under rated Idaho quintet turned the tables on the conference-leading Beavers at Corvallis Tuesday night in the last of a four game series, by trouncing them 30 to 26. It was the first victory the Vandals have chalked up over the Orangemen in three years, and they made the most of it, outplaying the losers in every department. The setback knocked Coach "Slats" Gill's hoopers out of first place in the northern division title race. Basketball followers will know a lot more about how Hec Edmundson's Husky outfit is going to click without the high-scoring Captain Fuller after the Washington-W. S. C. series tonight and tomorrow night at Pullman.

But just to give an idea of how the Huskies will look when they pair off with the Vandals in the Memorial gymnasium next Monday night, here's a thumbnail sketch of the probable starters.

When Johnny Fuller, captain, high-scoring, all-Coast, two-year veteran, and what have you, Husky cage star ended his college maple court career last Saturday night in the second W. S. C. game by crashing into a basket and breaking an ankle and dislocating a knee, he left a big problem for Hec to solve. Right now, the answer seems to be found in the firm of Antoncich & Antoncich. (Big Pete) will get the call for Fuller's center post, but his brother Mark is on hand if anything happens.

It did happen in the Washington-Idaho series at Seattle early in the season—not to Pete but to the Vandal defense. This 6 foot, 5 1/2 inch tower personally escorted the ball through the hoop for a total of 11 points in one game and 18 in another. "If he goes again like he did over there, it will be too bad," asserts Coach Rich Fox. The Vandals will be laying for this threat.

You can never tell just what sort of lineup Edmundson is going to spring on you from night to night but the probable starting forwards for the series next week will be Jack Hanover and Joe Weber. Both of these boys are experienced lettermen, and have been big factors in Husky scoring power.

At one guard will be another veteran, Hal Lee, who is termed one of the best dribblers and shots on the coast. Next to the Antoncich pair, Lee is the rangiest man on the squad, boasting six feet 3 inches.

In the fifth position will be Bob Heaman, an eye-balling tall and the best long shot on the squad. They say he needs a bathtub to dump his short shots in, so Hec chooses him to boom away at his opponents baskets from outside the foul circle.

As a unit, the Husky quintet will be the tallest bunch that has been seen on the home court this year, but fans are not expecting this ranginess to handicap the Vandals much, as Pete Wicks is the only regular on the Idaho squad who scales under the six foot mark. Speed and quick breaking is what teams opposing the Washington outfit are up against. Edmundson's style calls for out-scoring the opponents, and letting the defense take care of itself. It's been pretty successful, too, as the string of five straight division titles indicates.

The Vandals can handle this guarding job in fine shape if they play like they did in the last Oregon State game. They set some kind of a record when they kept the Beavers from looping a single goal from the field for 18 consecutive minutes in the first half.

It has been six long years since Idaho has taken a game from the Huskies. 1927 was the date when Darwin tossed a free throw in the final seconds to win 24 to 23. It's been a long time to wait for another victory, but this time dopsters give the Vandals an even chance.

Barring some setbacks in the series at Pullman tonight, the Idaho series will pretty definitely settle where the Seattle bunch will be in the final calculation of conference standings.

HIGHEST SCORE MADE BY TEAM

The Idaho men's rifle team made a score of 3681 last week, which is the highest score ever fired on this range. The ten men on this team and their individual scores were: Ridings 379; Griffith 375; Nelson 371; Huttelball 369; Baumgartner 369; Crowe 366; Hennings 364; Walker 364; Moser 362; and Pinkinson 362. These scores were made out of a possible 400 points and shooting took place in four positions. Don Ridings, who made the highest score, shot a perfect score of 100 in both prone and sitting positions.

The men's rifle team has not lost a single match out of the 15 shot so far. Matches with the University of Minnesota, Johns Hopkins University, Creighton University, DePauw University and Washington University are scheduled for next week.

The R. O. T. C. match which has been going on for several weeks in the Ninth Corps area will be completed next week. Military students from all the western states are competing in this match.

MEN'S HONORARY SETS TENTATIVE DATE FOR DANCE

Blue Key Will Sponsor All-College Dance After Basketball Game

Blue Key, men's national service organization, made plans at their last meeting to sponsor an all-college dance to be held in the Memorial gymnasium on the tentative date of March 3, after the last home basketball game. The bi-monthly meeting was held after luncheon at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

Action was also taken by Blue Key to sponsor a movement for the revival of daylight assemblies which have been abandoned during the past year. A committee was appointed to take up the matter with President M. G. Neale and he proposal has any effect Blue Key will sponsor an assembly soon. Would Create Fund.

The purpose of the proposed dance is to create a fund so that Blue Key can send out one or two Idaho men in the spring encouraging high school students throughout the state to consider the University of Idaho as a place of future attendance. Blue Key believes some effective work could be done by a personal tour of the Idaho schools.

Walt Gillespie, was elected president for this semester, succeeding Winfred Janssen. Claude Marcus succeeds Jack Mitchell as vice president. Other officers elected were Clayne Robison, secretary; Richard Stanton, treasurer; and Winfred Janssen, sergeant-at-arms.

IDAHO PREMIER IS PUBLISHED

"Paragraph for Lunch" Presented Here Last Year Is Accepted

Row, Peterson and company theatrical publishers, recently put in to print the witty farce of George Milton Savage, "A Paragraph for Lunch" which was produced for the first time on this campus very successfully under the direction of Prof. Frank Blanchard for the first time. Mr. Savage, who is connected with the English department of the University of Washington, has written and produced several other successful shows, all as light in comedy and character as this one. The publishers of "A Paragraph for Lunch" are noted for their number of clever plays which are especially adapted to schools and colleges.

"A Paragraph for Lunch," as it was produced here, is well remembered. The cast included Harry Robb, Grace Eldridge, Elinor Johnson, Howard Alnow, John Milner, Raphael Gibbs, John Thomas, Lucille Moore, Casady Taylor, and Marthalene Tanner. Mr. and Mrs. Savage, with a party of friends from Seattle, were here for both performances, and Mr. Savage immediately made himself popular with the audience by his clever response to their insistent calls for the author after the Saturday night show.

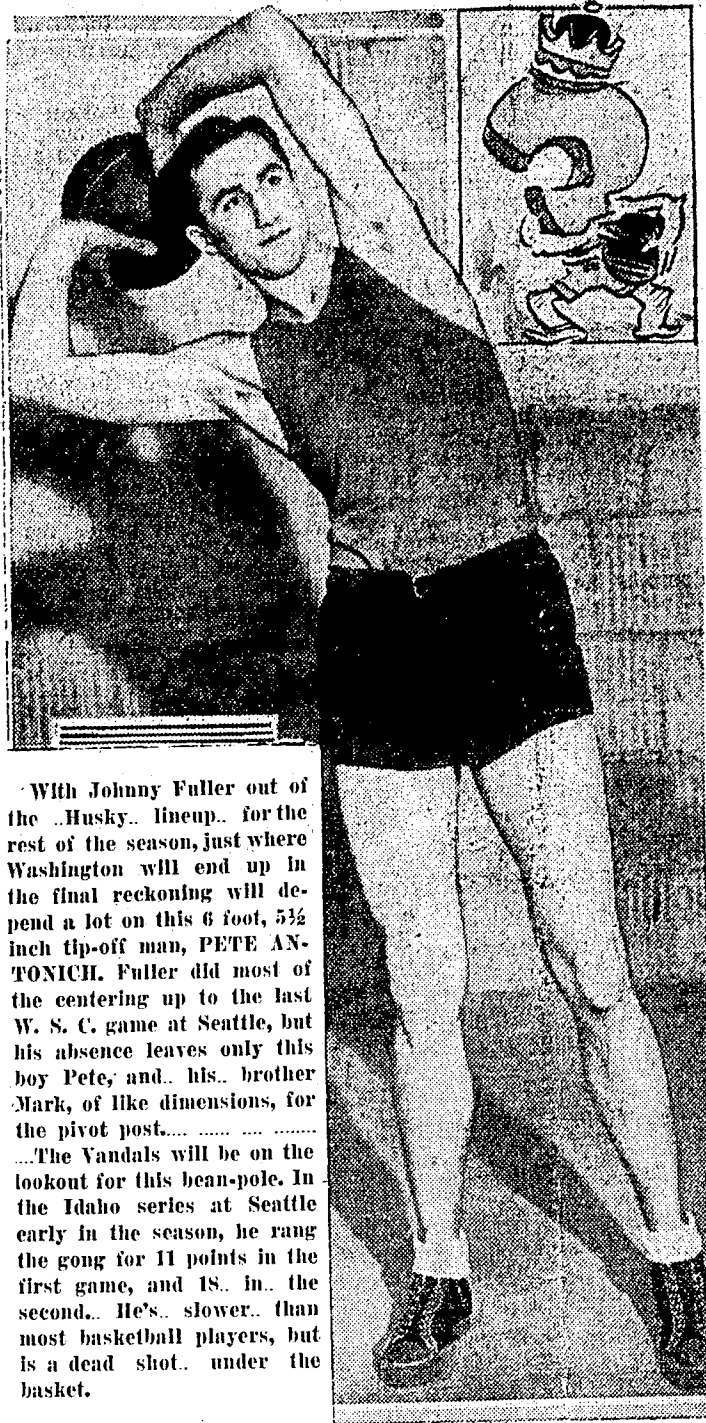

Mr. Savage has incorporated in the final copy of the play most of the business used by the university cast and many cuts and changes made by Professor Blanchard. It is printed with an acknowledgment to the Idaho director and players, with the Idaho players presented as the original cast and reproductions of the set used on this stage.

STUDENT'S ARTICLE ASTONISHES TURKS

Story of Power Fight Reaches to Distant Country

Ten thousand miles away in the land of harems and fezzes and tobacco farms Turkish citizens slipping thick coffee in tiny cups repeating an article on Seattle's Diablo dam written by Terfit Filkret, a University of Washington graduate student in aeronautics. Published in The Anadolu, popular national newspaper, the story of how Seattle climaxed its fight for municipal waterpower by erection of the magnificent dam amazed citizens of the budding republic, according to a letter received recently by Dean Richard G. Tyler of technology.

QUESTION MARK

SHOOTING STAR BARRETT AIMING FOR SORORITY

(from Oregon Emerald)
By HAZLE CORRIGAN

The only trouble with (Sweet Affon) Barrett, shooting star of the Vandals, his teammates tell me, is that he is in love with a Gamma Phi. Yes, and you know he hasn't been shooting so well lately. He has no denials to make. (Heza) or (Grinnin') Barrett he is also known, likes Mickey Mouse, lives in Pocatello, and is afraid of Oregon. Turning to the serious for a moment, he chose Ed Lewis as the outstanding player in the conference.

"What do I like best about basketball? Oh, I like the halves best. I'll take that back. I like the complimentary tickets—which we trade for haircuts best.

"The most interesting thing I know, I guess, is that Idaho has won three conference games in succession from Oregon. Of course, we can't come up to you for records," he said, talking a sly dig at Oregon's (clean) slate.

But you must meet the team. The (Touche-head) Wicks, the miniature forward, and does his tongue run wild! Lucy—he has no question—hasn't yet answered my question, "What do you think is the most interesting thing about the captain?" He's the captain, it seems.

"I" CLUB OFFICERS WILL BE SELECTED

First Meeting of the Club for the New Semester Will Be Sunday

Election of officers will be the business that the "I" club will transact when they meet at the Kappa Sigma house next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

This is the first meeting of the club for the new semester and all members are urged to be present. Refreshments will be served. A punishment is in store for those who fail to attend this meeting.

Officers of the club last semester were Russ Hall, vice president; Alvin Jacobson, vice president; Willis Smith, secretary-treasurer; James Kalbus, sergeant-at-arms.

SLANG EXPRESSIONS

Ten of the most popular slang expressions of Eaylor university were gathered from the students and sent to Fun and Wagnalls last week. Here is a survey of the slang used in American colleges and universities. Among the ten submitted were: Nertz, O'Kay, Scram, You're Telling Me, Hotcha, and Don't Be Silly.

IDAHO'S SWIMMERS WILL MEET W. S. C.

The first intercollegiate swimming meet of the year will take place in the university pool with a team from Washington State college March 11. Swimming is a minor sport at Idaho and a minor sports letter is awarded men earning a place on the team.

The team has started working out each night in the pool, beginning at 5 o'clock. Ralph Hutchinson is coach of the team, and Max Elden is manager.

Losses Members.
The squad is suffering from loss of members by graduation last year. Stanton Hale, diver and sprint swimmer, is a great loss to the team. Robert Adams is another member of the team that has left school. Members of last year's team reporting for workouts are Clayne Robison, Jack Blair, Dave Sweeney and Pat Callahan. All are lettermen from last year.

At present, the team is weak in the diving, back stroke, and breast stroke events. Anyone is eligible to try out for the team and Manager Elden urges all men interested in swimming to come to the pool Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

"W. S. C. is said to have a very strong team this year," said Elden. "Last year Idaho won one meet and W. S. C. won one. I think that if we can get enough men interested here we should take both meets. If everything goes as planned we will probably schedule meets with other schools."

Argonaut Bridge Tournament Play-Off Semi-Final Soon

Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon eliminated their opponents in the Argonaut Contract Bridge Tournament this week. Another high-light in the tournament this week was the addition of $3.50 worth of merchandise to the prize by Bob Woods, proprietor of the Blue Bucket inn.

The playing has been marked by many close scores although the campus experts all concede that the bidding of hands has been very erratic and in most cases hands are undervalued. The playing has been running along very nicely with one exception. On Tuesday night a miss dealt put the officials in an embarrassing quandry. The error was not discovered until the hand had been played at both tables. The difficulty was finally solved by cancelling the hand and playing 15 hands instead of 16. Such difficulties furnish the many kibitzers much amusement, at the expense of the sponsors of the tournament.

The group houses and their representatives are: Gamma Phi Beta Alberta Bergh and Mary Keating; Delta Gamma, Betty Merriam and Anne Walker; Hays Hall Bernice Day Malouy and Elaine Cash; Delta Tau Delta, Wif Janssen and Howard Langley; Phi Delta Theta, Horton Herman and Bill Willis; Kappa Sigma, Harry McCoy and Fred Sanger; Phi Gamma Delta Smith Miller and Howard Johns; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Marthalene Tanner and Nina Varia. The teams playing last night were Sigma Chi, Nat Congdon and Kenneth O'Leary; Ridenbaugh hall, John T. Farquhar and Fred Drager; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Paul Jones and Milo Axelson; Phi Beta Phi, Virginia Quigley and Dorothy Williams.

Comparative bidding for the three nights follows:

Tuesday
Gamma Phi Beta held the north and south hands at table number one. Seated at the same table was the Delta Tau Delta Team. Delta Gamma held the East and West positions at table two and Hays hall was at the north and south positions.

Alpha Tau Omega*.....4660
Beta Theta Pi.....1020
Delta Tau Delta.....1700
Delta Delta Delta.....2560
Delta Chi*.....2080
Delta Gamma*.....2300
Gamma Phi Beta*.....2810
Hays Hall.....1870
Phi Gamma Delta*.....1930
Phi Delta Theta*.....2640
Kappa Kappa Gamma.....1930
Kappa Sigma.....1890
Sigma Chi*.....3080
Pi Beta Phi.....1970
Sigma Alpha Epsilon*.....1970
Ridenbaugh Hall.....2540

* Teams still in the Tournament.

Gamma Phi Beta 2810, Delta Gamma 2300, Hays Hall 1870, and Delta Tau Delta 1700.

The hands were as follows: Hays Hall bid four spades and went down four. Delta Tau Delta bid three clubs and went down one on the same hand.

Gamma Phi bid one spade and made one. Hays hall bid five clubs, were doubled and went down three on the same hand.

Hays hall bid four diamonds and made five. Gamma Phi on the same hand bid five hearts, were doubled, and went down one. Delta Gamma bid three no trump and made six and the Deltas on the same hand bid three diamonds and made three on the same hand.

Delta Gamma bid three clubs and went down one. Gamma Phi bid four diamonds and made four. Hays hall bid two hearts and made three. Gamma Phi took the bid for three diamonds and made it. Hays hall then bid four hearts and went down one.

Gamma Phi bid four spades and made five. They then bid four spades and made five again.

This completed the eight hands of the first round of the play and the north and south of each table changed places. The scores at the close of the first eight hands were: Hays Hall 590, Delta Gamma 1310, Delta Tau Delta 500 and Gamma Phi Beta 1790.

Delta Tau Delta bid two diamonds and made three. Delta Gamma bid three spades and made three spades on the same hand.

Deltas bid one heart and made two and the Delta Gammas bid two hearts and went down one.

Delta Tau Delta bid two hearts and made three. Delta Gammas bid four hearts and made five, using the same hand. Delta Tau Delta contracted for two spades and made three. The Delta Gammas bid two spades and made five.

Hays hall bid four spades, doubled and made four. The Delta Gammas contracted for four clubs and made four. Hays hall then bid three no trump and made four no trump.

Delta Gamma bid three no trump and made five on the same hand.

The last hand saw Hays hall bid four spades, doubled, and go down two. Gamma Phi contracted four spades, doubled, and went down one on the same hand.

This completed the second night of the tournament.

Thursday
Sigma Chi played against Ridenbaugh and Phi Beta Phi was opposed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon in Thursday nights playing of the tournament.

Sigma Chi bid 2 diamonds and made it. Phi Phi bids 1 club and goes down 1. Ridenbaugh bids 2 spades, down 1. Sigma Chi bids 4 hearts, down 3.

Ridenbaugh bid 3 clubs and made 3. Sigma Chi bids 2 no trump and goes down 2. S. A. E. bids 3 no trump and down 1. Pi Phi 2 no trump made 4.

Sigma Chi bid 3 clubs and made 3. S. A. E. bid 3 hearts and down 1. S. A. E. 2 no trump and down 2. Sigma Chi bids 2 diamonds and made 3.

S. A. E. bid 3 diamonds and a grand slam is the result. Pi Phi bids 3 no trump and makes a big slam. Pi Phi bids 3 spades and makes a grand slam. Ridenbaugh bids 4 spades and makes a little slam.

Sigma Chi bids 4 spades and goes down 1. Ridenbaugh bids 4 spades and made 4. S. A. E. bids 3 hearts and goes down 2. Sigma Chi bids 4 clubs and makes 4.

S. A. E. bids 3 no trump and makes 3. Pi Phi bids 3 spades and went down 1. Pi Phi bid 5 diamonds and made 5.

Scores: Sigma Chi 3080, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 1970, Pi Beta Phi 1790 and Ridenbaugh 2540.

Relations Club To Hear Miller Speak on Russia

Paul Miller, university student, who spent last summer in Russia and other parts of Europe on a National Student Federation of America tour, will speak before an International Relations club meeting Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 201 Ad. building.

The subject of Miller's talk will be "Impressions of Soviet Russia" with particular emphasis being placed on the political and social life of the Russian people.

Virginia Merric, president of the club, will preside.

Tournament Prize List Increases

The first prize of $10 in gold for the winners of the Argonaut Contract Bridge Tournament was added to Thursday when Bob Woods, proprietor of the Blue Bucket inn added $3.50 worth of merchandise to the gold prize.

Mr. Woods has added a $2 box of candy and a carton of cigarettes. The box of candy will be awarded the winner of the tournament in addition to the $10 and the carton of cigarettes will go to the team winning second place.

The $10 has been made up of the entry fees paid by the competing groups.

The prizes will be placed on display at the Blue Bucket Inn Saturday afternoon.

Wednesday
Wednesday night the Phi Deltas held the east and west positions with Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Gamma Delta and Kappa Sigma were matched in the north and south positions.

The Phi Deltas bid three hearts and made a grand slam. Kappas bid two hearts and made 5. Deltas then bid 3 no trump and made 5. The Kappas contracted 4 hearts and went down 1.

NEW CONTESTANTS RECEIVE THE MOST VOTES THIS WEEK

Date for Announcing Campus King Sets for February 22

By Marthalene Tanner

Not so many votes were cast this week for the Campus King contest, but several men who have not been entered before, received votes by these ballots.

It was intended that there would be printed in this issue a write up of what the men entered in the contest think about it. But after the writer had called only two leading contestants it was revealed that what they thought of the contest would not go well in print. We can say, however, that on the whole their attitude is the same as that of our late past president, "I do not choose to run" and moreover, "It's a frame-up and I'm taking an awful beating here at the house." No doubt they would like to let the whole thing drop. But we must go on to victory—or 'til Wednesday.

Wes Nock Ahead.

This week, our good friends, Wes Nock, Delta Tau Delta, received the greatest number of votes. He may win by a nose because you remember he was holding second place at the last counting. Jim Farquhar and Lee Parkin-son also received some more votes this week. Several fraternities were represented in these ballots.

Ray Quinstrom, Pat Callahan, Kenneth Combs, and Harry Miller also received votes.

This is probably all the writer will have to say about the Campus King contest, so hold your breath, 'til Wednesday, and meet the King at the Spinstar Skip.

STUDENT OPINION

Articles up to 250 words in length written by students will be accepted for publication in this column, if signed. No anonymous or falsely signed articles will be printed. Initials will be substituted for names on request.

An article appeared in the Tuesday issue of the Argonaut under the bold type heading (Dean Investigates). The one sentence content of the article read thus: "Dean Straub of the University of Oregon is conducting a contest among the women on the campus to see which one can write the shortest and most complete code of ethics for Oregon women."
The above statement would lead the careful and interested reader to conclude that the staff member responsible for such an insertion is still awaiting the inception of the 1932-33 academic year. More significant, however, is the criticism he has brought to our publication through his ignorance or willful disrespect.

John Straub, emeritus dean of men, on the University of Oregon campus silently closed his books and passed from this life in September, 1932. Dean Straub began his activities with the University of Oregon in 1878, just six years after it had been established by the state legislature October 19, 1872. During his 53 years with the university, he served in the capacity of dean of the college of literature, science, and arts from 1899 to 1920 at which time he became dean of men. The latter position he held until his retirement in 1925.

On the passing of Dean Straub, the University of Oregon suffered the loss of one who had been influential in its history and development and one long to be remembered by Oregonians.

ENGLISH STUDENTS TO HEAR PROGRAM BY RADIO ARTISTS

Harry Lantry of KHQ, Caterpillar Pioneers Are to Entertain Club

Harry Lantry of KHQ and his Caterpillar Pioneers will furnish the program for the English club meeting on February 23. Mr. Lantry is one of the oldest and most successful announcers on the west coast. He is a University of Iowa man who practiced law for some time, but who is giving all his efforts now to the direction of the KHQ station and to actual broadcasting several hours each day. He is known to be a booster of Idaho athletic events and a very good friend to the university.

Caterpillar Pioneers is a group of people coming from Post Falls who give the program on the Caterpillar Tractor time each morning at 7 o'clock. The majority of them belong to the family of Martin Luther Eggers, who is a native of North Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. Eggers have taught their whole family the old play-party, fiddle, and ballad tunes of the southern Appalachian mountains. As part of the program for the English club they will play much of the early folk stuff which has been handed down in their own family.

The membership committee of the English club expects to soon post a list of the new club members for this semester. These will be made up primarily from students attaining a grade of (A) in freshman English, and from those successful in debate, journalism, and dramatics. The committee will also post a list of first semester students who are still in school and are eligible to membership provided they pay the year's dues. New students, however, will have to pay only 50 cents.

UNIVERSITY OF CHEMISTS
University chemists will save millions of dollars for the pulp and paper industries of Washington and the nation, according to an article in the current issue of the Industrial Bulletin.
Kenneth A. Kobe, chemistry instructor, Frank H. Conrad, teaching fellow, and Einar Jackson are given credit in the story for invention of a process dealing with the evaporation of sulfite waste liquor from paper mills.

NO INFORMAL REPORT
Faculty members at the University of Montana who served as chaperones at fraternity and sorority parties will no longer be required to make formal reports at the end of the evening. The plan will not eliminate chaperones, but give them more time to enjoy themselves.

UNIVERSITY HEATING PLANT SUPPLIES WATER AND STEAM

By Elva Anderson

The university heating unit consumed the greatest amount of coal of the season on February 9, according to S. C. Bates, superintendent. Approximately 42½ tons were used on that day. For the last two or three weeks, the coldest of winter, the plant has used an average of from 30 to 40 tons a day in comparison with 25 or 26 tons used in the same length of time during the month of September and October. After the first four months the amount of coal used has gradually increased until it has reached 40 tons a day.

The increase in temperatures is not, however, proportionate to this increase in consumption rate, declared Bates. Building interiors do not require proportionate heat production in the fall and late winter for two reasons. First, the students have become well accustomed to the cold at the time of later winter months. Second, the buildings become more weather-proof. Both the swelling of the walls from exposure to dampness and the heavy covering of snow help to seal the buildings and insulate them against the cold.

"If we had no clocks here we could tell the time pretty well by the varying temperature indicated by the meter. For a short time before and after each class session, the temperature is lowered considerably because of the opening of doors by students going in and out of buildings. The temperature decrease is especially noticeable when the northwest wind blows directly through the opened doors of the Science hall and Morrill hall."

Temperature regulators, recently placed in each building on the campus, have noticeably decreased the amount of fuel consumed, said Bates. Since these regulators have removed the necessity for constant opening and closing of windows, the temperature of the rooms has been kept constant with little waste of heat he said.

Although the plant has six boilers, it generally uses only two at one time. Boilers must be cleaned every month when in use. "The ash from the chokers makes from 20 to 30 wheelbarrow loads," Bates declared. "The ashes are used for roads and parking places. A new grade of coal called Rivendale, obtained from Seattle, has reduced the percentage of ash from 18 to 8 per cent."

The plant supplies 45 buildings on the campus with hot water and steam. The main pipes and branch of the system reach shops, greenhouses, halls, and group houses, as well as main buildings.

"When I first took charge of the heating plant in 1910," said Bates, "there were only five buildings to heat. These were the old gym, two mining buildings, the Administration building and Morrill hall. Two small boilers under the Administration building and one in Morrill hall supplied the heat. The heating plant used at present started running in 1927."

PROFESSOR LATTIG TALKS TO AG CLUB NOTED SUBJECT

Tells of Progress Made in Idaho School Systems in Recent Years

Prof. H. E. Lattig, head of the agricultural education department of the university, gave the Ag club talk Wednesday night. His subject was, "The Land Grant Colleges of the United States."

Professor Lattig told how this type of college was peculiar to the United States alone, and of the work of Morrill, a Vermont storekeeper, who first presented in congress the bill for the establishment of these colleges; how it was vetoed by President Buchanan, and later signed by Lincoln in 1862.

Tells of Idaho Progress.
He told of the other acts which provide funds of these colleges, and of the development of the schools. Some personal observations of the progress made at Idaho were also cited by Mr. Lattig from his experiences as a student here beginning in 1911.

A short business meeting was held and ice cream was served as a refreshment.

Different Types of Dances On Calendar For Week-end

The social program for the weekend will be most varied with a feature dance, an initiation dance, a formal dinner-dance, and an informal dance, all of which take place at group houses. Kappa Alpha Theta will entertain with a feature dance Saturday, and the chapter house will be transformed into a medieval castle for the occasion. Delta Delta Delta will honor its initiates at an initiation dance, which will also take place on Saturday evening. Another interesting affair for Saturday is the Beta Theta Pi informal dance. On Friday evening Sigma Tau, engineering honorary will give a formal dinner-dance.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained Delta Chi at an exchange dance Wednesday.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained members of Chi Alpha Pi at an exchange dance Wednesday night.

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta will be hostesses at an informal dance at the chapter house Saturday evening. Decorations will be carried out in the castle idea, the house being transferred into a medieval castle. The programs will have a cobweb design upon black and gold suede. Patrons and patronesses will be Mrs. Gertrude Pecar, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Ax-tell, Dean and Mrs. E. J. Iddings, Dean and Mrs. Masterson and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barton.

Beta Theta Pi will give a winter informal at the chapter house on Saturday evening. Patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyer, and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gauss. Decorations will be kept a secret until the evening of the dance.

Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, will hold its annual formal dinner-dance at the Blue Bucket Inn. A three-piece Blue Bucket band will furnish the music.

Many Students Display Interest In Tournament

"She should have played her ace of spades," said one kibitzer at the Argonaut contract bridge tournament Thursday night.

"No she played it right because that would tell her partner that she was out of that suit, and still had the deuce in her hand," said another kibitzer.

That has been the topic of conversation at the tournament since it started last Monday night in the main room of the Blue Bucket Inn.

One gentleman chewed his finger nails "a way down" while he was kibitzing. Another lady wrung her hands in despair when a sister did not play the game the way she should have.

Then there were many tense moments—a pin hitting the floor would have sounded like a cannon being fired. Some of the loyal supporters of the different groups drew up a chair at one corner of the table and remained there the entire evening, just watching their brother or sister play the hand. Sometimes a smile would appear on the hand was looked upon and at other times a look of despair clouded over the countenance.

When the hands were completed and the boards were being passed from one table to the other the kibitzers and the players entered into technical conversations, but as soon as the board was laid down on the table—all was quiet on the bridge front.

Besides the several hundred students that visited the tournament there were several professors, and townspeople and each night there were housemothers there watching every card as it was placed on the board of play.

No signals between the players have been detected so far in the tournament. But it has been seen plainly in several instances that some complimentary conversations have gone on in the minds of the players and then again some of the thoughts on the part of the individuals have not been so complimentary.

Up to this time there has not been a single partner murdered or even scratched. Maybe this killing your bridge partner is just a myth.

NON-CAMPUS GIRLS ARE PARTY GUESTS

Eighty Women Living Off Campus Entertained By Mortar Board

About 80 university women, not affiliated with campus organizations, were entertained by members of Mortar Board last evening from 8 until 10 o'clock at a fiesta at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. The affair was an informal one. The house presidents or a senior in each women's house was invited to assist Mortar Board members in receiving and entertaining the guests. They included Catherine O'Neil, Dorothy Lindsey, Nina Varian, Dorothy Green, Harriet Wallace, Frances McMonigle, and Frances Wheeler. Mortar Board advisors, Miss Permeal J. French, Mrs. Ada Burke David, Mrs. Vaughn Prater Latting, and Miss Dorothy Fredrickson, were also present.

Play Given

Interesting entertainment was provided for the evening's diversion. A one-act play, "The Line of No Resistance" by Percival L. Wilde was presented by Robert Herrick, Virginia Harris, and Ruth Gillespie. Jessie Hutchinson gave a solo dance, "The Gypsy." Bill Ames gave two violin solos, "The Indian Call" and "Geraldine." Anderson and Louise Lyle contributed piano selections throughout the evening. The guests were served hot chocolate and wafers at the close of the entertainment. Ellen Jack was in charge of the entertainment, assisted by Elsa Eisinger, Teresa Connaughton, Louise Morley, and Marthalene Tanner.

SHAKESPEARE PLAY IS NEXT ON CHART OF ASUI PROGRAMS

"Much Ado About Nothing" Will Be Staged Early in March

"Much Ado About Nothing," the Shakespearean comedy to be presented here March 10 and 11 under the direction of Fred C. Blizard, will be one of the most unusual shows given on the campus for several seasons. A Shakespearean play has not been presented in Moscow since a very successful production in 1927, and the type of play is new to both the audience and the cast.

The costumes, which are being designed and made by Miss Marianne Featherstone, with the assistance of her class in historic costume and design, will be of the early Renaissance period. The variety of color, the sweeping skirts, and the high head-dress of the women will make the stage a true study in grace and color. Prof. T. J. Pritchard, who has designed most of the sets for production of previous seasons is now working on a unit-set for this play.

Light in Spirit

Much Ado is a comedy as light in spirit as those of any modern author. It abounds in sparkling wit and humor, in repartee and in wise cracks. The language of Shakespeare is neither stilted nor difficult to understand, a common idea which frightens many people away from his shows. Instead, it is spontaneous and pleasant, and the sparkling and fiery comeback of Beatrice and Benedick need no explanation. They are familiar characters, and their brilliant word parleys are packed with brilliant truths. It is a thoroughly enjoyable comedy, quick and light in spirit, intriguing in plot, and refreshing in its characters.

Ruth Evans, Gertrude Evans, Gertrude Oleson, and Eileen Kennedy. The new pledges will take an examination on the constitution February 21 at 4 p. m.

More Points Necessary
The new point system was put into effect by a vote of 40 to 17. It will now be necessary to have 1000 points to earn an "I" sweater instead of 800 as it has been in other years.
A total of 1800 will be necessary to earn an "I" blanket. This will not effect junior and senior women. The addition of over a new major sport, and golf, a minor sport, make it possible to earn more points than was possible in former years.

The purpose of the point system is to divide campus activities of women as much as possible. It was initiated primarily as a protective measure for all women students to prevent excessive work. Cards, on which each woman is to list her activities, points, and average will be distributed to the group houses Friday. These cards will be collected and returned to Dean French's office next Tuesday by the group representatives on the A. W. S. cabinet.

CAMPUS WOMEN'S DEBATE TO START

Delta Sigma Rho Sponsors Annual Word Contest and Awards Cup

The first round of women's intramural debate, under the sponsorship of Delta Sigma Rho, will start February 28, with all the teams competing immediately after dinner on that night. The question to be debated this year is: "Resolved, that student government should control all activities." The drawings for the first round and the judges are: Daleth Teth Gimel vs Kappa Alpha Theta, judge, Dr. C. J. Brosnan; Alpha Chi Omega vs Delta Gamma, judge, Dr. F. W. Church; Hays Hall vs Alpha Phi, judge, Theodore Sherman; Pi Beta Phi vs Gamma Phi Beta, judge, Howard E. Pakenham; and Delta Delta Delta vs Kappa Kappa Gamma, judge, A. E. Whitehead.

Affirmative Hostesses.
All affirmative teams will be hostesses to the negative teams and the judges at dinner, which will be followed by the debates. Affirmative teams are to get in touch with the judge for their cards. Any failure to debate will be considered a forfeiture on the part of the team not debating. If neither team debates both will be disqualified. Drawings for the next round will be announced at the completion of the first round.
Last year Delta Gamma gained permanent possession of the cup offered by Delta Sigma Rho, by virtue of their winning it three times. A new cup will be awarded to the winner this year.

DEBATERS DISCUSS UNIVERSITY SYSTEM

Men's Intramural Debate Will Get Under Way Next Thursday

Competition in men's intramural debate will get under way next Thursday night after dinner with the question being: Resolved, that the present American university system tends to discourage rather than encourage student initiative. Pairings for the first round have been made and these debates must be held on Thursday. Failure to have a team ready on that night will be considered a forfeiture on the part of the failing team or teams. The only possible chance for a postponement must come through the special permission of Ralph Olmstead, who is in charge of the pairings and procedure. Judges for these first debates will be announced in Tuesday's Argonaut.

WOMEN'S CABINET ESTABLISHES POINT GOVERNING SYSTEM

At the February meeting of the Associated Women Students' cabinet, which was held last Tuesday afternoon in Dean Permeal J. French's office, the point system governing activities of women students was discussed, and it will be put into practice again this semester.

There are three groups of activities in the point system classed as A, B, and C. From group A a woman may select only one activity. If she has one in A, she may have only one in B, but if she has none in A, she may have two in B. A woman may choose whatever she wishes from group C, but her total number of points may not exceed 15 for upperclassmen and 10 for underclassmen.
The scholarship average for all women carrying activities must not be lower than 4.00.

First Victory Vandals Have Had Over Orangemen in Three Years; Grenier Is Nominee for All Coast Honors

Grenier Stars.
A great Idaho defensive and the inspired playing of big Howard Grenier were the features of the game. After the Beavers had counted two goals in the opening minutes they failed to score from the field in the remaining 18 minutes of the half. Only scattered field goals gave them a 7 to 15 minority at the half-time gun.

It was a big night for the Vandal center, Grenier, who out-jumped, outscored and outplayed the Staters' nominee for all-coast honors, Captain Ed Lewis. Grenier tossed five field goals and four free throws for a total of 14 points.

Vandals Hold Lead.
The Foxmen led all the way with the exception of four minutes in the middle of the final period, when some bad passes gave the Orangemen some gift baskets. Davis, O. S. C. substitute, put his team in front, 20 to 19, with ten minutes to go.

With the score 23 to 21 a short time later, Lewis fouled Grenier, who sank the free throw to put Idaho one point behind. It was the fourth foul called on the lanky Beaver center, and he was replaced by Hill. Ed Lacy sank a long one from mid-floor to put Idaho ahead, 24 to 23, and they were never overtaken.

It was a whirl-wind finish that followed. Grenier stretched the Vandals' lead to three points with a swift basket, but O'Connell put the Orangemen back in the game a moment later by stealing the ball and dribbling the length of the floor for a basket.

Grenier came back with another basket, and Vic Warner finished the Idaho scoring by duplicating O'Connell's stunt, making the score 30 to 25. Lacy fouled O'Connell, who made one good out of two, but the gun ended the game seconds later.

SERVICE THERE, CHUCK

The Huskies may not win the northern division basketball title this year, but they'll still have the champion chicle chewer in their midst—none other than Hec Edmundson, Washington's famous gum-consuming mentor. He is shown here as he will doubtless look several times in the next five days. The gum-supplier on the right is Chuck Wilson, student manager. Both of these gentlemen will be on the sidelines when the Huskies tangle with Rich Fox's Vandal crew Monday and Tuesday nights in the Memorial gymnasium.

LEWIS STILL HOLDS HIGH POINT HONORS

Barret Leads Vandals in Scoring With Total of 72

The Argonaut's special statistician, Mr. E. E. Anderson of the local Tick Shop, comes through again with an up-to-date tabulation of the northern division scoring.

Lanky Ed Lewis of the O. S. C. Beavers is 54 points ahead of his nearest rivals, with a total of 143 points scored in 13 games. Fuller, Washington and O'Connell, O. S. C. divide second place honors with 89 points each. Barret is still the Vandals' representative with 72 points scored in 10 games, which lands him in sixth place.

Ed Hurley, Vandal guard, holds the conference foul lead with a total of 33 personals being called on him in 11 games. Lewis is close behind with 31 fouls, while Bob Cross, Washington State guard, rates as the cleanest player with only 3 bad marks.

Returning lettermen are:

TRACK WORKOUTS DRAW THIRTY-FIVE

Anderson Predicts Good

Seven lettermen and 28 new aspirants for track honors turned out at Coach Otto K. Anderson's first call for trackmen. A glance at the list of returning trackmen shows that the Vandal squad is apt to be weak in the weight events, as no experienced men are on the roster.

Other promising men whom Anderson expects to show up well this season are:

Bob Felton, sprints; Jim Webster, sprints; Howard Arnett, quarter mile; Byron Hernan, quarter mile; Harold Pierson, two miles; Ap Berg and Bob Moser, weights; and Paul Berg, jumps.

John Thomas, captain of this year's squad and an 880-yd. and mile runner; Carrol Livingston, a 440 and 880 man; Bill Sqaunce, hurdler; Jim Kaibus, sprinter; Ronald Wilson, high jumper; Ernest Nelson, pole vaulter; and Holden Bowler, an 880 and mile man.

Lewis & Wicks "Who? Me?" Artists; Grenier Turns Tables at O. S. C.

HAR! HAR! It would appear that the highly-touted Mr. Ed Lewis, who is four-fifths of the potency of the Oregon State Beavers if only one-fifth of the personnel, got ketches at his little "Who? Me?" game Saturday night over at the Beaver ranch. Mr. Lewis is a very first class center beyond all question of a doubt. But he is also a very smart basketball player, and his long years of experience on the maple court have taught him a good many tricks.

Besides being a rangy center, a trick shot at the basket and a fine defensive player, to say nothing of being the keystone of the whole Beaver attack, Mr. Lewis is one of the very best "Who? Me?" experts in Pacific coast basketball. There is only one other gent who is in his class at all, and opinion is divided as to whether Mr. Lewis or our own little Mr. Alenson Heath. Wicks is the better man at the little game of "Who? Me?" There is no doubt but what Alenson is a slicker at the game, but if a box score and a percentage were taken and kept over a period of time, it is believed by numerous citizens along Liament Lane that the statistics would show that Alenson has been ketches at the game more times than Mr. Lewis is perhaps a bit more subtle and artistic in his methods.

on four personals? Remember the bewildered look in Grenier's eye each time the referee called a foul on him at center? Mr. Grenier according to reliable reports was not fouling Mr. Lewis on those jumps. There was something wrong, Mr. Grenier knew, but he wasn't exactly sure just what it was. He was in the role of a guy what was happening to an accident and didn't know what to do about it. Anyway, the total soon mounted to four personals, and Mr. Grenier drew his bath water early those nights. And as he departed for the shower room it was readily apparent that Mr. Grenier was certain there was something rotten in Denmark, but his nostrils couldn't detect from which direction the smell was coming.

As further evidence that Mr. Lewis was more adept at the game called "Who? Me?" than was Mr. Grenier, Mr. Lewis was reported to have stated in plain words after the games that many of the fouls called on poor old Howard were actually his (Lewis') fault.

The game "Who? Me?", in case you are not familiar with it, is played right along with its parent game, basketball. The idea is like this. When the referee is looking elsewhere, you step on your opponent's toes or shove him gently but firmly out of your way or maybe demonstrate to him beyond all reasonable doubt that you have one of the sharpest elbows he has ever seen, etc. If this fails to arouse his ire you try something else. The secret is to keep at it until you arouse his fighting spirit. When you have gotten his goat to a sufficient degree, he turns and attempts to swat you back. About this time the referee is supposed to look over in your direction. In fact if he is a perfect referee he will look just in time to see your opponent take a swing at your north ear. The referee then blows his whistle and declares a foul on your opponent for such rude tactics. The opponent naturally squawks and recites in general:

Why don't you watch that guy? (Meaning you, of course.) He's been digging me in the ribs all night!

If it then that you put on your most pained expression and with a "forgive him, Father, he knows not what he does" attitude, you say,

However, since that time, somebody must have given Mr. Grenier a book of instructions about the game called "Who? Me?", for it isn't "poor old Howard" anymore. In the second game at Corvallis, the one in which the scrapping Vandals took the farmers apart to see how many bushels they were to the acre, poor old Howard made Mr. Lewis look like a broken down thrashing machine. He not only got the hipshot regularly and held the Beaver center to three baskets while he was making 14 points, himself, but he proved conclusively that Mr. Lewis could never again play "Who? Me?" with him. Navs! It was Mr. Lewis and not Mr. Grenier who got first crack at the hot bath water that evening. The "Who? Me-ing" seems to have been done by Grenier who had but two personals against him all evening while Lewis was getting four.

In case there is a feeling that we are accusing Mr. Lewis unjustly, we refer you not only to his own statement, quoted above, but also to the remarks of the KOAC radio announcer upon the occasion of Lewis' banishment from the game Saturday night at Corvallis. As the referee blew his whistle for Lewis' fourth breach of basketball etiquette, the announcer remarked over the air waves that this was the fourth time Mr. Milligan, the referee, had caught Mr. Lewis, the center, using his arm on Mr. Grenier, the other center, when jumping for the ball on the toss up.

But Mr. Lewis has no reason to get all swell-headed because of this publicity, for after all he is not the only first class "Who? Me?" player in this league. "Idaho's own" Alenson is not so dusty his own self. True, he gets ketches occasionally, but the look of pain in his eye and the pose of true Christian martyrdom he can strike on such occasions is every bit as good as Mr. Lewis'. In a contest to see which one could bring most tears to the eyes of the spectators, we'd back our Mr. Wicks every time.

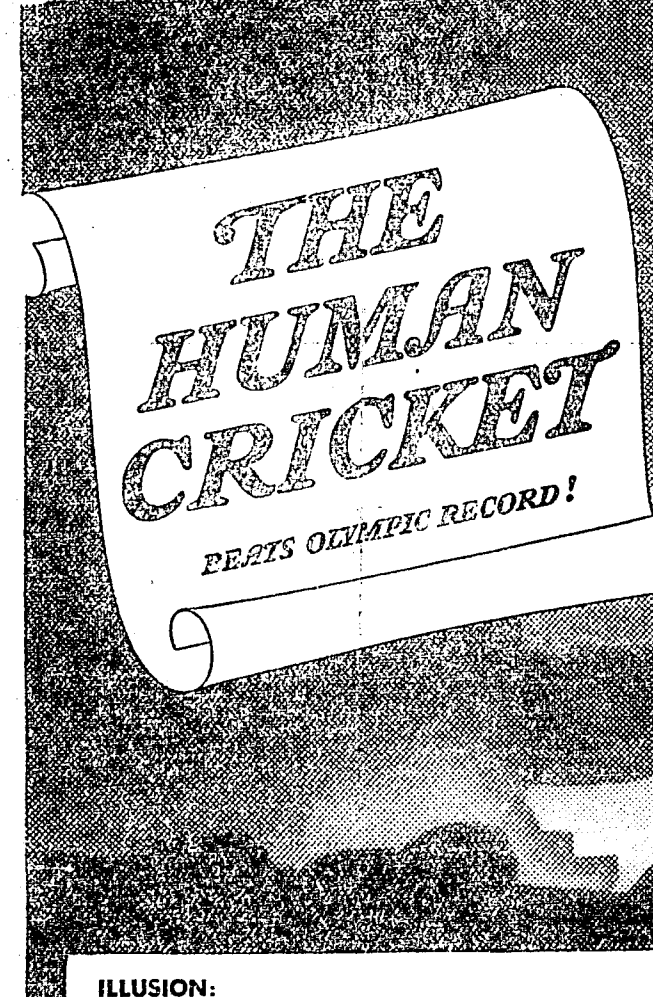

He must have been in especially rare form the second night at Eugene, according to the box score in the paper next morning. The statistics column showed that Alenson was charged with only one personal foul, while he shot four free throws as a result of being fouled by opponents. That's a very fine average.

"Who? Me?"
This is a fine game and it can be played with great success under some referees. Other referees are prone to watch for just such attempts by certain players to inject this little game into the larger game, but the proper phrase to use even in front of the more watchful referees is still "Who? Me?". If he is looking right at you when you push a guy over on his nose, and he blows his whistle and calls the foul on you, you should still show him by your facial expression that you are hurt by his suspicious attitude, and you say,

"Who? Me?"

As we started out to say, Mr. Lewis got ketches in the second Idaho-Oregon State game at Corvallis Saturday night. Mr. Lewis' pet method is to jump center in such a way that it looks for all the world like his opponent on the jump is fouling him, when most of the time he is fouling his opponent. Do you recall the Oregon State games here last month when big Howard Grenier went out

UPHOLD REPUTATION
The literal meaning of "horse sense" is being determined by Dr. L. P. Gardner, instructor in psychology at Cornell university. Forty-five horses are going to school in order to exhibit their intelligence and uphold the reputation of fellow equines the world over. They are given a series of tests which disclose memory, observation and color sense.

ILLUSION:
Josie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladder! A phenomenal leap for a woman... or a man!

EXPLANATION:
Josie didn't jump... she was sprung! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Josie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED
...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Magic has its place...but not in cigarette advertising.

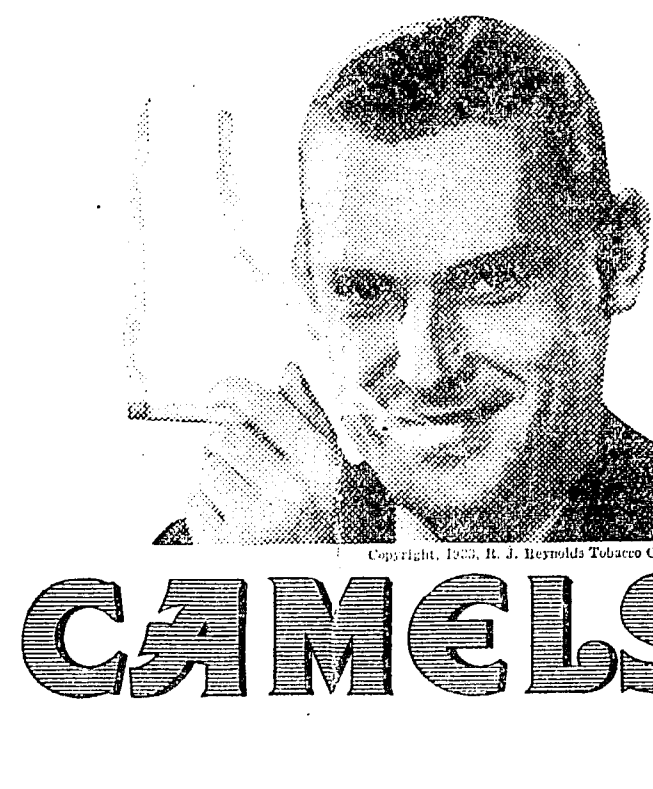

Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."

EXPLANATION: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobacco used.

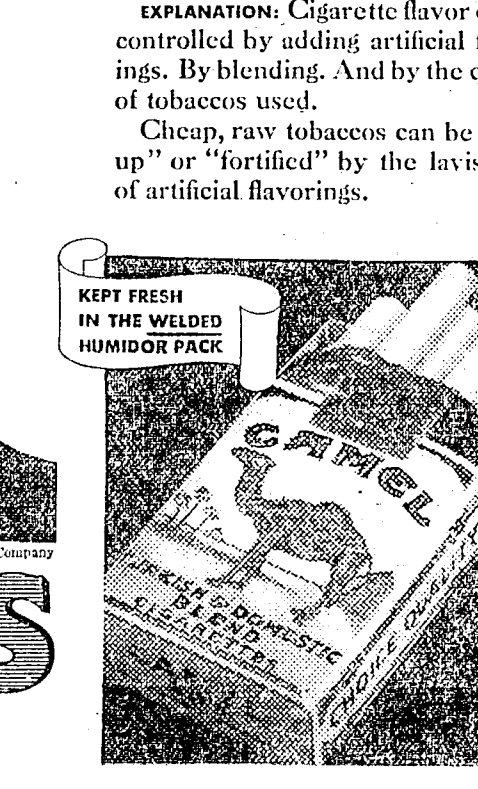

Cheap, raw tobaccos can be "built up" or "fortified" by the lavish use of artificial flavorings.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.

The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos...blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

CAMELS

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.

And Camels taste cooler because the welded Humidor Pack of three-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane keeps them fresh.
