

HUSKIES FALL BEFORE VANDAL ATTACK

TOURNAMENT GOES INTO SECOND (WEEK) OF PLAY

Wednesday night the Argonaut bridge tournament enters its second week. Monday and Tuesday the play was discontinued because of the Idaho-Washington basketball games. By the end of the week the entrants for the semifinals will be determined and the tournament will be wound up the following week.

Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Nu were the victorious teams of the playing Friday night. Mrs. Lenore Scott took the place of Dean Permal French as judge Friday night. Tau Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Chi Omega were eliminated last week end, leaving 11 teams in the tournament.

No new entrants have been entered in the tournament, necessitating the selecting of an opponent for the Independent team composed of Charles Scroggin and Felix Garbon.

Beta Independents
Beta Theta Pi has been selected to play the Independents Wednesday night. Although Beta Theta Pi has been eliminated from the tournament, they are the holders of the low score. This was the means devised by the Argonaut in selecting the competitor for the Independents.

Delta Chi will play Alpha Tau Omega on the second leg of the tournament Wednesday evening. Alpha Tau Omega will be remembered in the tournament as the team having sensational luck in bidding the hand the first night of play, and defeating Beta Theta Pi. Delta Chi defeated Delta Delta Delta the first night of play.

Play Thursday Night.
Thursday night Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Gamma, Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Delta Theta will play. Mrs. Lenore Scott and Mr. Harold Boyer will be the officials. Friday night, Sigma Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Nu, and Alpha Epsilon will play for opponents. Dean Permal J. French and Lieut. John Sheehy will officiate.

The prizes to be awarded the winners of the tournament are on display at the Blue Bucket Inn. The $10 gold piece is mounted on a cardboard and is to be given to the winner of the tournament. A carton of cigarettes, any of the popular brands, will be given as a second prize.

Students who are batching often prepare poorly balanced meals is the opinion of the Home Economics department offers this suggestion in preparing a well balanced meal at a low cost. For breakfast have toast and cereal (often "whole wheat" bread or cereal with milk). A thick vegetable chowder or soup, baked potatoes, creamed vegetables, or cereal mush constitute a model luncheon. For dinner serve a meat or fish dish three or four times a week. Serve a cheese or egg dish once or twice a week and baked beans or bean soup twice a week. Have potatoes and one other vegetable or fruit every day.

Suppress that delicatessen urge and watch this column for the low down on how to eat like the Ritz family for a few dollars a month. They may laugh at you now when you don the kitchen apron and assume the position over the stove, but we guarantee, after reading this column, you can learn to put such fancy wrinkles in yesterday's cabbage that they'll wish that instead of laughing, they had rated an invitation to dinner!

STUDENT JUDGES CAST TIE VOTE

Debate Between University Fresh and Lewiston High School.

A tie vote, cast by the members of the parliamentary law class, left the university freshman and the Lewiston high school debate teams in doubt as to who made the real winner of the debate staged Monday afternoon between the two.

The state high school debate question, Resolved: that at least one-half the revenue for state and local purposes should be derived from other sources than tangible property, was debated. The freshmen upheld the negative and Lewiston the affirmative.

The freshman team, coached by A. E. Whitehead, varsity debate coach, consisted of William McCrea, Harry LeClaire and Frank Bevington.

A return debate in Lewiston will be held soon.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT PROVES SUCCESS

Two Contestants Give Their Views on Campus Innovation.

The intramural bridge tournament is proving to be a big success according to Betty Merriam and Smith Miller, who are playing for the Delta Gamma and Phi Gamma Delta houses. It is promoting good spirit and sportsmanship among the participating groups and it is making way for a similar tournament to be held next year.

Those who are representing their groups are enjoying the contest. "We're getting a big kick out of playing in the tournament," stated Betty Merriam. Smith Miller hopes "the best team may win."

BLUE KEY DANCE SET FOR MARCH 3

Will Be Held After Idaho-W. S. C. Basketball Game

A Blue Key all-college dance will be held March 3 after the W. S. C.-Idaho game in the Memorial gymnasium. Blue Key is sponsoring this dance in order to raise funds with which to finance a trip throughout the state of Idaho by two Idaho students who will be selected later. Blue Key feels that a publicity campaign conducted along the line of personal talks to high schools and to students contemplating entering the university, would be beneficial and effective in inducing students to come to their own state institution.

Funds for Tour.
To this end the money derived from the dance will be used. Two outstanding men on the campus will be sent on an extended trip through the southern part of the state where they will make an effort to get in contact with as many prospective students as possible and to encourage them to come to a school within their own state. Campus life, activities, and opportunities will be described by the university men.

Blue Key is making an effort to make this dance one of the outstanding of the year and will provide unusually interesting and entertaining stunts at the intermission. A campus orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets will be moderately priced and on sale in each fraternity house by the Intercollegiate Knights.

Blue Key, national upperclassmen's service organization, is negotiating with officials to sponsor two special trains to the Washington State campus. They plan to sponsor the trains to W. S. C., one for the first Vandal-Cougar tangle, February 25, and the other for the second on March 4. Plans have not been completed, but it is hoped that arrangements can be made.

Jack Mitchell, who is in charge of arrangements states that the plan will be successful if 300 students can be persuaded to make the trip. If this is the case, a fare of 50 cents or less, round trip, could be secured.

An effort is also being made to have student ASUI tickets honored at the games.

Work for Assemblies.
Blue Key is working hard on the proposed daylight assemblies in conjunction with the ASUI. The matter must pass the censorship of the public events committee of the university and the academic council. If it receives their approval, the plan will include four major meetings, a junior assembly, senior assembly and two ASUI assemblies.

The organization is also trying to put through a plan for a joint special train at the end of the spring term to carry both Idaho and Washington State students to south Idaho. Such a train would bring a material saving to both schools and would make the trip to the southern part of the state more enjoyable and would also make it possible to obtain a 1-cent a mile rate.

Loss of Grenier Weakens Vandals
Idaho Trounces Washington Without the Aid of Big Center

Idaho trounced the Washington Huskies last night without the services of Howard Grenier, giant center, who received an arm injury in the last Oregon State game at Corvallis last week.

The accident happened when Grenier jumped and his left elbow hit Hurley in the mouth. The latter lost part of a tooth, and the resulting cut in Grenier's arm became infected in spite of careful attention.

The Idaho center will not be in the lineup tonight, and may possibly be out of the game with Washington State next Saturday.

DRIBBLER AND LONG SHOT ARTIST

HAROLD LEE, Washington's string-bean forward and guard, almost left the Husky squad Sunday, when he received word of his father's serious injury in an automobile accident. The elder Lee is better now, and this boy will be an important cog in Hec Edmundson's comeback attempt tonight. The Huskies did come back after losing their first game at Pullman last week, and Lee had a lot to do with it.

IDAHO FIVE OUTCLASSES WASHINGTON 47 TO 35

Foxmen Without Services of Stellar Center; Lacy Is Outstanding; First Win Over Hec Edmundson's Outfit Since '27

That tells the story of the inspired playing of Coach Rich Fox's Vandals last night on home court when they rushed Hec Edmundson's five times division champions off their feet in a whirlwind starter of a two-game series.

EDMUNDSON PRAISES VANDALS' PLAYING

Last Night's 47-35 Loss Worse for Huskies All Season

"Those Idaho boys played the best game of basketball that we have been up against this year," asserted the tall, bespectacled Washington coach, Hec Edmundson, after the Vandals had snowed under his Husky outfit by a 47 to 35 count last night.

Coming from such a source, that statement means a lot, and is a tribute to Coach Rich Fox and his fighting squad.

The Washington mentor declined to comment on the possible outcome of tonight's game, but pointed out that last night's defeat was the worst that his Huskies have suffered this year, and the 47 total score that his been run up against the Seattle five all season.

CHANGED TACTICS ACCOUNT FOR WIN

Vandals Express Desire to Play Two Lost Games Over Again

"We'd like to play those two games we lost over again. The result would sure be a lot different. So members of the Vandal basketball team expressed themselves yesterday morning on returning from their road trip to Oregon.

They referred especially to the first game with the Orangemen at Corvallis, which they lost 46 to 26. It wasn't the mauling they received the previous week-end from the Oregon roughnecks, or any bad luck that caused the rather severe beating, according to the Foxmen. They just couldn't get going.

Tactics Changed.
Things were different in the second game. "Men were shifted, tactics changed, and Coach Rich Fox's orders carried out to the letter," reported the players.

The result was the complete outclassing of the conference-leading Beavers. The four-point margin doesn't indicate how far the Orangemen were outplayed.

"If the boys had been (on) with their shooting," said Fox, "the score would have been much larger. There's nothing to the talk that circulated about Corvallis that the Oregon State players were (off form). They didn't have the ball enough to really play it."

Fox isn't underestimating the Beavers' strength, however. It's still Oregon State that the other teams will have to beat out for the title. And Edd Lewis is still the best center in this division," Fox concluded.

MEN SHOW MOST ACQUATIC INTEREST

Males Have More Open Hours Than Women

The men seem to have more interest in swimming than the women, according to the new semester schedule. The pool in the Memorial gymnasium will be open to men during the following periods: Monday, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9; Wednesday, 3, 4, 8, 9; Friday, 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9; Saturday, 7, 8. The pool will also be open to men from 7:30 to 8:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening. Open periods for women are Tuesday the eighth period, Wednesday the seventh period, Thursday the eighth period, and Saturday the third, fourth and sixth periods. Life guards will be present during all free periods.

STUDENT ENGINEERS STUDY SHORT WAVE

Men Hope to Build a Five McPer Short Wave Set

Arlo Sullivan, senior in the College of Engineering, and Harold McBiney are spending their spare time trying to discover the nature of the short wave in radio transmission. Last semester the men spent their spare time in the engineering laboratory building the apparatus for experimentation and this semester they are carrying on an experiment in which they will try to build a radio with a wave length of five meters.

"Very little is known at present concerning short wave lengths," Sullivan said Friday. "All radio stations now use the long wave. For example, KGA in Spokane uses wave lengths of 200 meters. In our experiment, we are trying to find out the behavior of wave lengths below 10 meters."

UNIVERSITY OPENS SCHOOL BOOK STORE

With the start of the new term at Syracuse university, a student-owned book exchange, the first ever established at the school, opened in the university book store building. The plan will be tried for one term and continued if student response justifies its adoption.

Previously the regular bookstores were only agencies for exchange of texts, although the university organization handled books for needy students through the dean of students.

CURTAIN PLANS FORMAL DANCE

The Curtain, a local dramatics honorary, is giving a party for its members Wednesday at 8:15 at Dean J. W. Finch's home.

Last week a business meeting was held and among the topics discussed was the formal dance which the members of the Curtain plan to give this spring.

Grace Eldridge stated that the prizes which the Curtain planned to offer for stunts at the Pep Band show, April 20, have been called off since the Pep Band has decided not to use any outside talent.

All-College Dance Will Be Held at Blue Bucket Tonight

A holiday dance will be held at the Blue Bucket tonight. Since Wednesday is a school holiday, tonight will be "open night" until 12 o'clock.

Tickets are not good tonight, but a reduced price of 50 cents a couple has been granted by Bob Woods, proprietor. The Blue Bucket band will furnish the music.

VARSITY DEBATERS GIVEN OPPORTUNITY

All of Idaho's varsity debaters are being given an opportunity to display their forensic abilities during this week, according to an announcement made by A. E. Whitehead, instructor in debate, Monday afternoon.

Frank Bevington, William McCrea, and Harry Le Claire debated here with the Lewiston high school team Monday afternoon. The question was: "Resolved, That at least 50 per cent of all state and local revenue should be derived from sources other than tangible property."

Monday evening Carl Hobson and Claude Marcus met the Gonzaga university debaters in Spokane on the war debt question. These two men are debating on college this afternoon in Lewiston. A debate with Lewiston normal school is being planned for sometime later in the week with Eldred Lee and Carl Wisterbury representing Idaho.

ENGINEERS PLAN DINNER MEETING

The Idaho branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will hold a dinner meeting at the Blue Bucket inn Thursday evening. The dinner is 40 cents and it will be at 6 p. m.

Charles Carsow, of the Washington Water Power company, will speak to the engineers on "The Future of the Engineering Profession." The program will be made up of several technical motion pictures dealing with automatic electrical controlling devices.

These pictures afford the students an opportunity to see the various types of apparatus studied in class in operation in the field.

Big Pete Antoncich, giant Husky center, gave Washington a two-point lead in the first five seconds of the game, but that was the last time. Idaho took the lead a few moments later when quick goals by Hurley, Lacy, and Wicks put the score at 6-2, and the Vandals were never headed again.

Fireworks Start.
Once early in the second half when the Idaho offense stalled with the score 27 to 22, the Husky sharpshooters narrowed the margin to one point.

That was the signal for the Idaho fireworks, and the next eight minutes saw the Vandals ringing in the baskets from all angles for 18 counters, while one lone field goal and some scattered free shots constituted the scoring for the Washington outfit.

Edmundson changed the Husky lineup at half minute intervals in an attempt to check the Vandal storm, but the score read 45 to 23 with four minutes left to play. At this point, the re-substituted Husky regulars staged a brief rally, which brought their count to 35. Mad scrambles for the ball followed, and fouls on both sides were frequent.

First Win Since 1927.
To top a big evening, Pete Wicks dropped the ball through the hoop after the final gun had sounded, leaving the count 47 to 35.

The Idaho victory was her first over the Washington five since 1927, and leaves the Huskies with only an outside chance of coping their sixth consecutive northern division title.

The whole Idaho team played the best brand of ball that has been seen on the home floor this year, but if an outstanding player is to be selected, the honors must go to Ed Lacy, veteran guard, who looped five field goals for a total of 10 points. His job on defense was to check the great string-bean forward, Harold Lee, and he accomplished this so effectively that the Husky star failed to garner a field goal in the second half, and boasted a total of but five points for his evening's work.

Galer, Washington guard, took scoring honors for the game, sinking four field goals and a like number of free throws for a total of 12 points.

Grenier Out; Nelson Stars.
The Foxmen played without the services of their giant center, Howard Grenier, who was injured in the second Oregon State game at Corvallis last week. Hurley, regular guard, was shifted to the center post, and Ernest Nelson, reserve guard, filled in at Hurley's job and turned in a bang-up game, scoring eight points to place second in the Idaho individual scoring totals.

The Vandals gave Edmundson's outfit a taste of their own quick-breaking style of ball, and outspeeded them most of the way. The game was hectic at times, and a total of 31 personal fouls were called by referee Jimmy Mitchell.

Three Out on Fouls.
Galer and Heaman, Washington guards, left the game in the second half, with four personals, and Hurley was Idaho's representative on the four-foul list. Troy Thompson, reserve center who replaced Hurley, continued the fighting brand of ball, and rolled in three goals in a short time in addition to recovering the ball off the backboard after nearly every shot.

The teams play here again tonight.

VANDALS UPSET DOPE BY TROUNCING O. S. C.

First Victory Vandals Have Had Over Orangemen in Three Years; Grenier Is Nominee for All Coast Honors

Grenier Stars.
A great Idaho defensive and the inspired playing of big Howard Grenier were the features of the game. After the Beavers had counted two goals in the opening minutes they failed to score from the field in the remaining 18 minutes of the half. Only scattered field goals gave them a 7 to 15 minority at the half-time gun.

It was a big night for the Vandal center, Grenier, who out-jumped, outscored and outplayed the Staters' nominee for all-Coast honors, Captain Ed Lewis. Grenier tossed five field goals and four free throws for a total of 14 points.

Vandals Hold Lead.
The Foxmen led all the way with the exception of four minutes in the middle of the final period, when some bad passes gave the Orangemen some gift baskets. Davis, O. S. C. substitute, put his team in front, 20 to 19, with ten minutes to go.

With the score 23 to 21 a short time later, Lewis fouled Grenier, who sank the free throw to put Idaho one point behind. It was the fourth foul called on the lanky Beaver center, and he was replaced by Hill. Ed Lacy sank a long one from mid-floor to put Idaho ahead, 24 to 23, and they were never overtaken.

It was a whirl-wind finish that followed. Grenier stretched the Vandals' lead to three points with a swift basket, but O'Connell put the Orangemen back in the game a moment later by stealing the ball and dribbling the length of the floor for a basket.

Grenier came back with another basket, and Vic Warner finished the Idaho scoring by duplicating O'Connell's stunt, making the score 30 to 25. Lacy fouled O'Connell, who made one good out of two, but the gun ended the game seconds later.

SERVICE THERE, CHUCK

The Huskies may not win the northern division basketball title this year, but they'll still have the champion chicle chewer in their midst—none other than Hec Edmundson, Washington's famous gum-consuming mentor. He is shown here as he will doubtless look several times in the next five days. The gum-supplier on the right is Chuck Wilson, student manager. Both of these gentlemen will be on the sidelines when the Huskies tangle with Rich Fox's Vandal crew Monday and Tuesday nights in the Memorial gymnasium.

LEWIS STILL HOLDS HIGH POINT HONORS

Barret Leads Vandals in Scoring With Total of 72

The Argonaut's special statistician, Mr. E. E. Anderson of the local Tick Shop, comes through again with an up-to-date tabulation of the northern division scoring.

Lanky Ed Lewis of the O. S. C. Beavers is 54 points ahead of his nearest rivals, with a total of 143 points scored in 13 games. Fuller, Washington and O'Connell, O. S. C. divide second place honors with 89 points each. Barret is still the Vandals' representative with 72 points scored in 10 games, which lands him in sixth place.

Ed Hurley, Vandal guard, holds the conference foul lead with a total of 33 personals being called on him in 11 games. Lewis is close behind with 31 fouls, while Bob Cross, Washington State guard, rates as the cleanest player with only 3 bad marks.

TRACK WORKOUTS DRAW THIRTY-FIVE

Anderson Predicts Good
Seven lettermen and 28 new aspirants for track honors turned out at Coach Otto K. Anderson's first call for trackmen. A glance at the list of returning trackmen shows that the Vandal squad is apt to be weak in the weight events, as no experienced men are on the roster.

Returning lettermen are:

John Thomas, captain of this year's squad and an 880-yd. and mile runner; Carrol Livingston, a 440 and 880 man; Bill Squance, hurdler; Jan Kalbus, sprinter; Ronald Wilson, high jumper; Ernest Nelson, pole vaulter; and Holden Bowler, an 880 and mile man.

Promising Men.
Other promising men whom Anderson expects to show up well this season are:
Bob Felton, sprints; Jim Webster, sprints; Howard Arnett, quarter mile; Byron Herman, quarter mile; Harold Pierson, two mile; Ap Berg and Bob Moser, weights; and Paul Berg, jumps.

SPORT SHOP

Lewis & Wicks "Who? Me?" Artists; Grenier Turns Tables at O. S. C.

HAR! HAR! It would appear that the highly-louted Mr. Ed Lewis, who is four-fifths of the potency of the Oregon State Beavers, is only one-fifth of the sonnel, got ketchd at his little "Who? Me?" game Saturday night over at the Beaver ranch. Mr. Lewis is a very first class center beyond all question of a doubt. But he is also a very smart basketball player, and his long years of experience on the maple court have taught him a good many tricks.

Besides being a rangy center, a trick shot at the basket and a fine defensive player, to say nothing of being the keystone of the whole Beaver attack, Mr. Lewis is one of the very best "Who? Me?" experts in Pacific coast basketball. There is only one other gent who is in his class at all, and opinion is divided as to whether Mr. Lewis or our own little Mr. Alensen Heath Wicks is the better man at the game of "Who? Me?" There is no doubt but what Alensen is a slicker at the game, but if a box score and a percentage were taken and kept over a period of time, it is believed by numerous citizens along Lhamment Lane that the statistics would show that Alensen has been ketchd at the game more times than Mr. Lewis is perhaps a bit more subtle and artistic in his methods.

on four persons? Remember the bewilderd look in Grenier's eye each time the referee called a foul on him at center? Mr. Grenier according to reliable reports was not fouling Mr. Lewis on those jumps. There was something wrong, Mr. Grenier knew, but he wasn't exactly sure just what it was. He was in the role of a guy what was happening to an accident and didn't know what to do about it. Anyway, the total soon mounted to four personals, and Mr. Grenier drew his bath water early those nights. And as he departed for the shower room it was readily apparent that Mr. Grenier was certain there was something rotten in Denmark, but his nostrils couldn't detect from which direction the smell was coming.

As further evidence that Mr. Lewis was more adept at the game called "Who? Me?" than was Mr. Grenier, Mr. Lewis was reported to have stated in plain words after this games that many of the fouls called on poor old Howard were actually his (Lewis') fault.

However, since that time, somebody must have given Mr. Grenier a book of instructions about the game called "Who? Me?", for it isn't "poor old Howard" anymore. In the second game at Corvallis, the one in which the scrapping Vandals took the farmers apart to see how many bushels they wore to the acre, poor old Howard made Mr. Lewis look like a broken down thrashing machine. He not only got the tipoff regularly and held the Beaver center to three baskets while he was making 14 points, himself, but he proved conclusively that Mr. Lewis could never again play "Who? Me?" with him. Naw! It was Mr. Lewis and not Mr. Grenier who got first crack at the hot bath water that evening. The "Who? Me-ing?" seems to have been done by Grenier who had but two personals against him all evening while Lewis was getting four.

The game "Who? Me?", in case you are not familiar with it, is played right along with its parent game, basketball. The idea is like this. When the referee is looking elsewhere, you step on your opponent's toes or shove him gently but firmly out of your way or maybe demonstrate to him beyond all reasonable doubt that you have one of the sharpest elbows he has ever seen, etc. If this falls to arouse his ire you try something else. The secret is to keep at it until you arouse his fighting spirit. When you have gotten his goat to a sufficient degree, he turns and attempts to swat you back. About this time the referee is supposed to look over in your direction. In fact if he is a perfect referee he will look just in time to see your opponent take a swing at your north ear. The referee then blows his whistle and declares a foul on your opponent for such rude tactics. The referee naturally squawks and recites in general:

Why don't you watch that guy? (Meaning you, of course) He's been digging me in the ribs all night!

It is then that you put on your most pained expression and with a "forgive him, Father, he knows not what he does" attitude, you say,

In case there is a feeling that we are accusing Mr. Lewis unjustly, we refer you not only to his own statement, quoted above, but also to the remarks of the KOAC radio announcer upon the occasion of Lewis' banishment from the game Saturday night at Corvallis. As the referee blew his whistle for Lewis' fourth breach of basketball etiquette, the announcer remarked over the air waves that this was the fourth time Mr. Milligan, the referee, had caught Mr. Lewis, the center, using his arm on Mr. Grenier the other center, when jumping for the ball on the toss up.

But Mr. Lewis has no reason to get all swell-headed because of this publicity, for after all he is not the only first class "Who? Me?" player in this league, "Idaho's own" Alensen is not so dusty his own self. True, he gets ketchd occasionally, but the look of pain in his eye and the pose of true Christian martyrdom he can strike on such occasions is every bit as good as Mr. Lewis'. In a contest to see which one could bring most tears to the eyes of the spectators, we'd back our Mr. Wicks every time.

He must have been in especially rare form the second night at Eugene, according to the box score in the paper next morning. The statistics column showed that Alensen was charged with only one personal foul, while he shot four free throws as a result of being fouled by opponents. That's a very fine average.

"Who? Me?"
This is a fine game and it can be played with great success under some referees. Other referees are prone to watch for just such attempts by certain players to inject this little game into the larger game, but the proper phrase to use even in front of the more watchful referees is still "Who? Me?". If he is looking right at you when you push a guy over on his noggin, and he blows his whistle and calls the foul on you, you should still show him by your facial expression that you are hurt by his suspicious attitude; and you say,

UPHOLD REPUTATION
The literal meaning of "horse sense" is being determined by Dr. L. P. Gardner, instructor in psychology at Cornell university. Forty-five horses are going to school in order to exhibit their intelligence and uphold the reputation of fellow equines the world over. They are given a series of tests which disclose memory, observation and color sense.

THE HUMAN CRICKET
SETS OLYMPIC RECORD!

ILLUSION:
Josie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladder! A phenomenal leap for a woman... or a man!

EXPLANATION:
Josie didn't jump... she was sprung! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Josie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED
...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Magic has its place...but not in cigarette advertising.
Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."
EXPLANATION: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobaccos used.
Cheap, raw tobaccos can be "built up" or "fortified" by the lavish use of artificial flavorings.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.
The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos...blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.
And Camels taste cooler because the welded Humidor Pack of triple, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane keeps them fresh.

TOURNAMENT GOES INTO SECOND WEEK OF PLAY

Wednesday night the Argonaut bridge tournament enters its second week. Monday and Tuesday the play was discontinued because of the Idaho-Washington basketball games. By the end of the week the entrants for the semifinals will be determined and the tournament will be wound up the following week.

Tau Men Alpha and Sigma Nu were the victorious teams of the playing Friday night. Mrs. Lenore Scott took the place of Dean Permeal Fremie as Judge Friday night. Tau Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Chi Omega were eliminated last weekend, leaving 11 teams in the tournament.

No new entries have been entered in the tournament, necessitating the selecting of an opponent for the Independent team composed of Charles Scroggin and Felix Garbon.

BRIDGE TOURNEY PROVES SUCCESS

Two Contestants Give Their Views on Campus Innovation.

The intramural bridge tournament is proving to be a big success according to Betty Merriam and Smith Miller, who are playing for the Delta Gamma and Phi Gamma Delta houses. It is promoting good spirit and sportsmanship among the participating groups, and it is making way for a similar tournament to be held next year.

Those who are representing their groups are enjoying the contest. "We're getting a big kick out of playing in the tournament," stated Betty Merriam. Smith Miller hopes "the best team may win."

BLUE KEY DANCE SET FOR MARCH 3

Will Be Held After Idaho-W. S. C. Basketball Game

A Blue Key all-college dance will be held March 3 after the W. S. C.-Idaho game in the Memorial gymnasium. Blue Key is sponsoring this dance in order to raise funds with which to finance a trip throughout the state of Idaho by Idaho students who will be selected later. Blue Key feels that a publicity campaign conducted along the line of personal talks to high schools and to students contemplating entering the university, would be beneficial and effective in inducing students to come to their own state institution.

Funds for Tour.
To this end the money derived from the dance will be used. Two outstanding men on the campus will be sent on an extended trip through the southern part of the state where they will make an effort to get in contact with as many prospective students as possible and to encourage them to come to a school within their own state. Campus life, activities, and opportunities will be described by the university men.

Blue Key is making an effort to make this dance one of the outstanding of the year and will provide unusually interesting and entertaining stunts at the intermission. A campus orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets will be moderately priced and on sale in each fraternity house by the Intercollegiate Knights.

Three Hundred Students Is Requirement for Securing Trip to W. S. C.

Blue Key, national upperclassmen's service organization, is negotiating with officials to sponsor two special trains to the Washington State campus. They plan to sponsor the trains to W. S. C. one for the first Vandal-Cougar tangle, February 25, and the other for the second on March 4. Plans have not been completed, but it is hoped that arrangements can be made. Jack Mitchell, who is in charge of arrangements states that the plan will be successful if 300 students can be persuaded to make the trip. If this is the case, a fare of 50 cents or less, round trip, could be secured.

An effort is also being made to have student ASUI tickets honored at the game.

Work for Assemblies.
Blue Key is working hard on the proposed daylight assemblies in conjunction with the ASUI. The matter must pass the censorship of the public events committee of the university and the academic council. If it receives their approval, the plan will include four major meetings, a junior assembly, senior assembly and two ASUI assemblies.

The organization is also trying to put through a plan for a joint special train at the end of the spring term to carry both Idaho and Washington State students to south Idaho. Such a train would bring a material saving to both schools and would make the trip to the southern part of the state more enjoyable and would also make it possible to obtain a 1-cent a mile rate.

Loss of Grenier Weakens Vandals

Idaho Trounces Washington Without the Aid of Big Center.

Idaho trounced the Washington Huskies last night without the services of Howard Grenier, giant center, who received an arm injury in the last Oregon State game at Corvallis last week.

The accident happened when Grenier and Ed Hurley, guard, were scrambling under the Beaver basket for possession of the ball. Grenier jumped and his left elbow hit Hurley in the mouth. The latter lost part of a tooth, and the resulting cut in Grenier's arm became infected in spite of careful attention.

The Idaho center will not be in the lineup tonight, and may possibly be out of the game with Washington State next Saturday.

DRIBBLER AND LONG SHOT ARTIST

HAROLD LEE, Washington's stringbean forward and guard, almost left the Husky squad Sunday, when he received word of his father's serious injury in an automobile accident. The elder Lee is better now, and this boy will be an important cog in Hec Edmundson's comeback attempt tonight. The Huskies did come back after losing their first game at Pullman last week, and Lee had a lot to do with it.

IDAHO FIVE OUTCLASSES WASHINGTON 47 TO 35

Foxmen Without Services of Stellar Center; Lacy Is Outstanding; First Win Over Hec Edmundson's Outfit Since '27

That tells the story of the inspired playing of Coach Rich Fox's Vandals last night on home court when they rushed Hec Edmundson's five times division champions off their feet in a whirlwind starter of a two-game series.

EDMUNDSON PRAISES VANDALS' PLAYING

Last Night's 47-35 Loss Worse for Huskies All Season

"Those Idaho boys played the best game of basketball that we have seen against this year," asserted the tall, bespectacled Washington coach, Hec Edmundson, after the Vandals had snowed under his Husky outfit by a 47 to 35 count last night.

Coming from such a source, that statement means a lot, and is a tribute to Coach Rich Fox and his fighting squad.

The Washington mentor declined to comment on the possible outcome of tonight's game, but pointed out that last night's defeat was the worst that his Huskies have suffered this year, and the 47 total for the Vandals was the largest score that has been run up against the Seattle five all season.

CHANGED TACTICS ACCOUNT FOR WIN

Vandals Express Desire to Play Two Lost Games Over Again

"We'd like to play those two games we lost over again. The result would sure be a lot different." So members of the Vandal basketball squad expressed themselves yesterday morning on returning from their road trip to Oregon.

They referred especially to the first game with the Orangemen at Corvallis, which they lost 46 to 26. It wasn't the mauling they received the previous week-end from the Oregon roughnecks, or any bad luck that caused the rather severe beating, according to the Foxmen. They just couldn't get going.

Things were different in the second game. "Men were shifted, tactics changed, and Coach Rich Fox's orders carried out to the letter," reported the players.

The result was the complete outclassing of the conference-leading Beavers. The four-point margin doesn't indicate how far the Orangemen were outplayed.

"If the boys had been (on) with their shooting," said Fox, "the score would have been much larger. There's nothing to the talk that circulated about Corvallis that the Oregon State players were (in) form." They didn't have the ball enough to really play it.

Fox isn't underestimating the Beaver's strength, however. It's still Oregon State that the other teams will have to beat out for the title. And Edd Lewis is still the best center in this division," Fox concluded.

MEN SHOW MOST AQUATIC INTEREST

Males Have More Open Hours Than Women

The men seem to have more interest in swimming than the women, according to the new semester's schedule. The pool in the Memorial gymnasium will be open to men during the following periods: Monday, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9; Wednesday, 3, 4, 8, 9; Friday, 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9; Saturday, 7, 8. The pool will also be open to men from 7:30 to 8:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening. Open periods for women are Tuesday the eighth period, Wednesday the seventh period, Thursday the eighth period, and Saturday the third, fourth and sixth periods. Life guards will be present during all free periods.

UNIVERSITY OPENS SCHOOL BOOK STORE

With the start of the new term at Syracuse university, a student-controlled book exchange, the first ever established at the school, opened in the university book store building. The plan will be tried for one term and continued if student response justifies its adoption.

Previously the regular bookstores were the only agencies for the exchange of texts, although the university organization handled books for needy students through the dean of students.

Mother Hubbard's Cupboard

Students who are batching often prepare poorly balanced meals to the opinion of the Home Ec students. The Home Economics department offers this suggestion in preparing a well balanced meal at a low cost. For breakfast have toast and cereal (often "whole wheat" bread cut or cereal with milk). A thick vegetable chowder or soup, baked potatoes, creamed vegetables, or cereal. For dinner serve a meat or fish dish three or four times a week. Serve a cheese or egg-dish once or twice a week and baked beans or bean soup twice a week. Have potatoes and one other vegetable or a fruit every day.

Suppress that delicatessen urge and watch this column for the low down on how to eat like the Ritz family for a few dollars a month. They may laugh at you now when you do the kitchen apron and assume the position over the stove, but we guarantee, after reading this column, you can learn to put such fancy wrinkles in yesterday's cabbage that they'll wish that instead of laughing, they had rated an invitation to dinner!

STUDENT JUDGES CAST TIE VOTE

Debate Between University Frosh and Lewiston High School.

A tie vote, cast by the members of the parliamentary law class, left the university freshman and the Lewiston high school debaters in doubt as to who was the real winner of the debate staged Monday afternoon between the two.

The state high school debate question, Resolved: That at least one-half the revenue for state and local purposes should be derived from other sources than tangible property, was debated. The freshmen upheld the negative and Lewiston the affirmative.

The freshman team, coached by A. E. Whitehead, varsity debate coach, consisted of William McCrea, Harry LeClaire and Frank Bevington.

A return debate in Lewiston will be held soon.

CURTAIN PLANS FORMAL DANCE

The Curtain, a local dramatics honorary, is giving a party for its members Wednesday at 8:15 at Dean J. W. Finch's home.

Last week a business meeting was held and among the topics discussed was the formal dance which the members of the Curtain plan to give this spring.

Grace Eldridge stated that the prizes which the Curtain planned to offer for stunts at the Pep Band show, April 20, have been called off since the Pep Band has decided not to use any outside talent.

All-College Dance Will Be Held at Blue Bucket Tonight

A holiday dance will be held at the Blue Bucket tonight. Since Wednesday is a school holiday, tonight will be "open night" until 12 o'clock.

Tickets are not good tonight, but a reduced price of 50 cents a couple has been granted by Bob Woods, proprietor. The Blue Bucket band will furnish the music.

VARSITY DEBATERS GIVEN OPPORTUNITY

All of Idaho's varsity debaters are being given an opportunity to display their forensic abilities during this week, according to an announcement made by A. E. Whitehead, instructor in debate, Monday afternoon.

Frank Bevington, William McCrea, and Harry LeClaire debated here with the Lewiston high school team Monday afternoon. The question was: "Resolved: That at least 50 per cent of all state and local revenue should be derived from sources other than tangible property."

Monday evening Carl Hobson and Claude Marcus met the Gonzaga university debaters in Spokane. A debate this afternoon in Spokane, this same topic with Whitworth plan to give this spring.

Grace Eldridge stated that the prizes which the Curtain planned to offer for stunts at the Pep Band show, April 20, have been called off since the Pep Band has decided not to use any outside talent.

ENGINEERS PLAN DINNER MEETING

The Idaho branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will hold a dinner meeting at the Blue Bucket inn Thursday evening. The dinner is 40 cents and it will be at 6 p. m.

Charles Carsow, of the Washington Water Power company, will speak to the engineers on "The Future of the Engineering Profession." The program will be made up of several technical motion pictures dealing with automatic electrical controlling devices.

STUDENT ENGINEERS STUDY SHORT WAVE

Men Hope to Build a Five Mc Per Short Wave Set

Arlo Sullivan, senior in the College of Engineering, and Harold McBirney are spending their spare time trying to discover the nature of the short wave in radio transmission. Last semester the men spent their spare time in the engineering laboratory building the apparatus for experimentation and this semester they are carrying on an experiment in which they will try to build a radio with a wave length of five meters.

"Very little is known at present concerning short wave lengths," Sullivan said Friday. "All radio stations now use the long wave. For example, KGA in Spokane uses wave lengths of 200 meters. In our experiment, we are trying to find out the behavior of wave lengths below 10 meters."

SPIRIT LAKE SCHOOLTEACHERS SEND IN CONTRACT ENTRY BLANK

Two teachers in the public schools of Spirit Lake, Ella Fanning and Clara Morris, have sent in their entry for The Argonaut Contract Bridge Tournament, now in progress at the Blue Bucket inn.

The women have won a tournament at Spirit Lake and have expressed their desire to come to Moscow and compete in The Argonaut Tournament.

The letter received by The Argonaut Thursday morning follows:

Spirit Lake, Idaho
February 15, 1933

Chairman of Bridge Tournament
The Argonaut
University of Idaho
Moscow, Idaho

Dear Sir:
Enclosed please find our entry for your bridge tournament. We have successfully won a tournament conducted at Spirit Lake, and will come to Moscow at our expense at your notification. We are regular readers of The Argonaut and staunch supporters of the U. of I. and we feel assured that our personalities and abilities will add considerable zest to your tournament. Please let us hear from you.

Yours truly,
ELLA FANNING
CLARA MORRIS

Their entry has been accepted by The Argonaut, but due to the fact that the contest is about to enter into the semi-finals The Argonaut will match them against the winners of the tournament now in progress.

The game between the two teachers will take place the week end following the finals here to be played the week of March 1.

NEW BUS SYSTEM TO BE INSTALLED THURSDAY MORNING

Starting next Thursday morning, an hourly city bus service will begin regular runs from the residential section to the campus. The bus, which leaves from the east side of Moscow, will continue through the business district arriving at the campus in time to meet all classes at the university. It will leave again for the cross-town run after each class, taking the same route back to the end of the line. The service will be managed by a university student, and a 31 passenger car will be used. The fare will be 4 cents each way. Starts at 7:30 a. m.

Runs will begin at 7:30 each morning except Sunday and continue through the day on an hourly schedule until 9:30 at night. A separate schedule for Sunday, to comply with the needs of the town, has been arranged. The bus leaves Sixth and Hayes streets, 50 minutes after the hour and follows this route: north on Hayes street to Third street; west to Monroe street; north to B street; west to Polk street; south to Third street; and west to Main street. From there it will continue south to Sixth street; west to Dean avenue; south to College avenue; west to Blake, and then south to the university driveway. The bus will make stops at the Administration building, Morrill hall, Science hall, and will also stop at all intersections along the route upon signal. It will start the return trip immediately following the hour after the classes are dismissed. Any changes occurring in schedule will be published from time to time.

SCIENTIFIC THEORIES TOO OFTEN HIDDEN

Editor Asks for Better Cooperation By Workers.

College scientists and laboratory workers were urged to make it a practice of giving out their discoveries to the public in an address before the American College Publicity Association by Walremer Kaempfert, science editor of the New York Times.

Too often, he said, important scientific discoveries and theories remain hidden for years because the newspapers never hear about them. A case in point, he said, was the publicizing of the Einstein theory in 1919, which was fifteen years after it had first been advanced.

GOVERNOR SIGNS APPROPRIATION FOR UNIVERSITY

Board of Education Assures Governor Ross of Co-operation

Governor C. Ben Ross today signed the $1,078,110 appropriation bill for the University of Idaho.
Governor Ross has been assured full support of the board of education in reducing the expenses of Idaho's higher educational institutions even below appropriations approved by the legislature.
The governor telegraphed to the six members of the board, declaring, "the tax situation has become more acute since the budget was made by my office and demands further action in reducing expenses."
W. C. Geddes of Winchester, was the only member to qualify his support to the governor's program. In answer, he declared:
"I will go the limit in all reasonable reductions, but feel strongly that 40-odd years' effort should not be destroyed."
Governor Ross made no specific recommendations as to what drastic cuts should be made under the appropriations. He pointed out that salary reductions had been made in some departments since the budget was approved. The commissioner of law enforcement, director of public welfare, and director of reclamation were reduced from $300 per month to $225, and specialists in the department of agriculture had their pay reduced from $216 to $180, Governor Ross said.

BROAD CONTRASTS ABOUND IN MUSIC OF STABAT MATER

Oratorio by Rossini Chosen for Tunefulness and Color

Rossini's (Stabat Mater) has been chosen by Carleton Cummings to be used in the chorus for its tunefulness and its colorfulness. This oratorio was written in 1832, but was not sung in public until January 7, 1842.
The Standard Concert guide summarizes and explains the parts of the oratorio:
Brief Prelude.
"The opening chorus of Stabat Mater is a brief but brilliant orchestral prelude which is arranged for solos and for chorus. This prelude is very dramatic in style, especially in its broad, melodious contrasts. This is followed by a tenor solo, a clear-cut melody free of embellishment, but brilliant and ebullient in character, considering the nature of the text, which is familiar to every concert-goer.
"The next number, one, for two sopranos, is equally familiar. It is based upon a lovely melody, first given out by the first soprano, and then by the second, after which the two voices carry the theme through measure after measure of more vocal embroidery, closing with an extremely brilliant cadenza in genuine operatic style.
"The fourth number comes nearer to the church style than any other part of the work. It is followed by a beautifully constructed number, Eia Mater, a bass recitative with chorus.
"The sixth number is a lovely quartet, Sancta Mater, full of variety full of variety in its treatment, and closing with full, broad harmony. After a short solo for soprano, the climax is reached in a brilliant soprano obligato with powerful choral accompaniment. A beautiful unaccompanied quartet in broad, plain harmony leads to the Amen which closes the work."

Nertz Campus King Says Gentleman Jim!

Slushy greetings and salutations: What with both Spring and Congress in the air, some people are beginning to dream of a little sub-bourbon home to live in. The general attitude of the Kappa Kappa Gamma candidates seems to be, "I do not choose to be run down." Astounding, Surelock, astounding.
It's about time for the Lawyer's and Ag's Basketball game.
If the opinions of the kibitzers are worth anything, a really valuable prize in the bridge tournament would be a book entitled, (How to Play Contract Bridge). Perhaps after the games with the (Huskies) their average will not be so husky.
This song, Good Times are Coming Forever makes us think (?) that Prosperity is forever coming, but never reaching the point where it gets here.
Kipling might well have said, "Prosperity is Prosperity, and Man is Man, and never the twain shall meet."
It would be much better if (Bing) Crosby's (Echo in the Valley) would stick to its home valley.
This (Who? Me?) game comes in handy about the time the Scholarship Chairman makes some pointed remarks and the Hall of Fame prize should go to the bashful babe who called up to get a date for the (Sinister) Skip, and then later informed the lucky fellow that he'd have to loan her the money so they could go. It's the woman who plays and plays—the man.

DEAN J. W. FINCH SUPERVISES WORK ON GEOLOGY BOOK

Text Is Issued in Honor of Doctor Waldemar Lindgren
Geologists from the four corners of the earth who meet in the United States next summer for the International Geological congress will profit from the work of an Idaho man, Doctor John W. Finch, dean of the Idaho school of mines.
Two years ago the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers undertook the publication of an up-to-date book on mining and geology in the western United States. This book, to be known as the "Lindgren volume," was assigned to an editorial committee of famous American geologists under the chairmanship of Doctor Finch, shortly after he became dean of the mines school at Idaho.
Ask Contributions.
Recognized authorities in different fields of geology were asked to contribute, Doctor Finch himself being responsible for a chapter on the (Red bed) copper deposits of the Colorado-Utah plateau and the Russian steppes. After some months of careful editorial work and endless correspondence among members of the editorial committee, the volume is now ready for the publishers.
The volume is being issued in honor of Dr. Waldemar Lindgren, known to the mining profession as the dean of modern mining geology. Doctor Lindgren, who has contributed more to the science of geology than probably any other living man, plans to retire soon, hence the book in his honor. He is now a member of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology faculty.

Notice Children! Your Challenge Will Be Accepted

We, the noble Civil Engineers, have been much amused at your prattle. For the same reason that the father romps with his little son, we have cast aside our dignity and do now accept your challenge to a game of basketball. We must point out, however, that we are busy men, and you, poor dear, spoiled children must wait until we have time and are in the mood to play.
We will grant you a few minutes on Friday, February 24, in case your mothers will not allow you to come to the gymnasium at 4:30 on that day, you must consider the incident closed for we cannot be bothered further. With the attention of the social world focused on the gaiety that is anticipated by Mortar Board at the annual Spinster Skip tomorrow afternoon, which will be climaxed by the disclosing and crowning of this year's Campus King, a number of initiations will occupy the remainder of the week's affairs. Tuesday night being an open night there will be a special dance at the Blue Bucket inn, with admission being 50 cents per couple.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA GIVES DANCE

The Idaho Association of Engineers at a recent meeting set March 11 as the date for their technocratic dance which they plan to make an annual affair. As it is the first dance of its kind sponsored by the engineers, the organization is making detailed arrangements to further its success.

The theme of technocracy will be followed out in the decorations. Prior to the dance many novel ideas are to be initiated to arouse interest. Large area lights will be placed on the campus with shooting stars and other extraordinary lighting effects in connection with the general theme. A miniature Chicago fair, a model of the coming Chicago fair, will be used to decorate the Memorial gymnasium, the setting for the dance. During the intermission stunts are to be given which will place the newest phenomena of the age before the public.

Tickets will be sold for ergs, a terminology used in place of the usual dollar and cents price. Engineers have charge of the sale of tickets. Art Davidson has been appointed general chairman of the dance.

ISLAND OF LOST SOULS
Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday
The picture centers around Charles Laughton in the role of a skilled scientist whose efforts to turn animals into men have driven him insane. But the South Seas Island, the center of his efforts, bears witness to his skill. It is peopled with brute men he has created from lions, leopards and dogs. And the "Panther Woman," a beautiful girl, created from a panther, is his crowning achievement. The latter, Kathleen Burke, is the Chicago girl who won that title from among 60,000 competitors in a nation-wide contest. The rest of the cast includes Bela Lugosi, Richard Arlen and Lella Hyams.

20 YEARS IN SING SING
Thursday, Friday, Saturday
The original story is by the only man with a wide enough knowledge of criminal character and sympathetic understanding to have conceived and written it, Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing, the man who has been sitting on the lid of a human can for many years past at the famous New York state prison. Paradoxical as it may seem, there are touches of humor, glowing romance and undying love in this story which deals with the pathos and the grim tragedy of life. There are sorrows that bring tears to the eyes, and touches of loyalty that renew the faith in human nature, even when considered misguided.

Alpha Phi announces the initiation of Claudia Jones, Ruth Lacy, Ruth Ferny, Jean Boomer, Elizabeth Hamilton, Louise Murphy, and Meryl Wilson. Initiation was followed by a formal banquet at the chapter house Saturday afternoon.

Delta Chi was entertained at an exchange dance at Alpha Chi Omega Thursday.

Irene Vaag was a dinner guest of Gamma Phi Beta Thursday.

Delta Chi announces the initiation of Robert Spence, John Cusano, and Chester Ball.

Dean and Mrs. I. C. Crawford, Margaret and Eleanor Echternach, and Mrs. A. Anderson of Spokane were dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sunday.

CAMPUS CONTEST TAKES NEW TURN

At Mortar Board Meeting Yesterday Final Count Was Taken

By Marty Tanner
The Campus King contest has taken a sudden turn in a direction which heretofore has been unknown to the student body. All votes cast were given a final count at a meeting of members of Mortar Board yesterday noon. The judges have qualified and disqualified and have at last reached their decision. Like all good contests there must be an element of suspense. Therefore, we are not making the final verdict known until the matinee dance on Wednesday afternoon. The Spinster's Skip will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock with the Blue Bucket band furnishing the music.

At some time before intermission the band will play "King for a Day" which will be dedicated to the "King of the Campus," if you are lucky enough to have a dance traded with the lucky girl.

Programs on Saturday for the Skip are now on sale in the group houses. Mortar Board members and Spurs are selling the programs at 40 cents per person. The programs are white with the black Mortar Board hat. Girls should be arranging for their dates now as this is the one time of the year when the men can be repaid. And it is a sorry man who is not invited to the Spinster's Skip.

Miss Permeal J. French, Mrs. Vaughn Prater Lattig, and Miss Dorothy Fredrickson, patronesses of Mortar Board will be present at the dance.

DEBATES TO START THURSDAY EVENING

Argue Advantage and Disadvantage of American University System

Final details in the program for the first round of the men's intramural debates have been worked out by Ralph Olmstead, in charge of the pairings and procedure. Thursday evening after dinner is the date set and the question is: Resolved, that the present American university system tends to discourage rather than encourage student initiative.

The teams opposing each other in the first debates and the judges for each are: Beta Theta Pi vs. Lambda Chi, judge, Dr. F. C. Church; Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Alpha, Epsilon judge, Prof. Theodore Sherman; Kappa Sigma vs. Alpha Tau Omega, judge Mr. A. E. Whitehead; Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi, judge, Prof. W. C. Banks; Lindley hall vs. Tau Mem Aleph, judge, Mr. George Cerfery; Phi Gamma Delta vs. Delta Delta Delta, judge, Prof. Ivan C. Crawford; and Chi Alpha Pi vs. Delta Chi, judge, Dean E. J. Iddings.

"Ridenbaugh hall drew a bye for the first round," said Olmstead, "and the L. D. S. institute was omitted through an oversight. They will be included in the pairings mentioned above the affirmative side of the question and will entertain its opponents and the judge of the debate at dinner on Thursday. "Failure of teams to be prepared for the event will automatically eliminate them from the meet," Olmstead said.

BOTANICAL GARDENS RECEIVE DONATION

Gifts totaling approximately $40,000 have been received by the University of California during the past 30 months for the development of its new botanical garden in Strawberry canyon, according to Professor T. H. Goodspeed, curator of the garden.

Of this sum, Professor Goodspeed states, $33,000 represents cash or donated labor, $3000 is a pledge by the Mather Arboretum committee for redwood trees planted in the garden, $1000 is the present market value of plants received by gift and $2500 is an estimate of the amount which will be realized from the sale of seeds collected by the Rock Expedition on the border of Tibet. A total of 100 people have made contributions.

ALL-STAR TEAM PLANS 'PLAYDAY'

Women's Volleyball Squad Will Entertain Saturday

The women's all-star volleyball team is holding a (playday) Saturday for the Lewiston normal school volleyball team, and their instructor Miss Mildred Wohlford. At 1 o'clock there will be a short program at the women's gym. The swimming pool in the Memorial gym will be open from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Those girls who were chosen on the all-star volleyball team are: Dorothy Preuss, Ellen Frazier, Helen Thornhill, Marian Ginder, Gertrude Olsen and Betty Mix. Alternates are: Carol Campbell, Ruth Evans, Mae Pugh, Esther Hunt, and Edris Coon.

TOWN MUSICIANS SPONSOR RECITAL

Studio Sittings Close Saturday States Robison

"Next Saturday will be the last day that sitting for Gem pictures may be arranged," announced Clayne Robison, associate editor of the 1933 Gem of the Mountains. "It is necessary that we have all the pictures at this time so that we can start work on the first class and group panels. Since both engraver's and printer's copy is being sent in every day, any delay in the completion of these panels will result in money losses to the ASU, as well as a later date of publication," concluded Robison.

This applies to everyone registered in the university who wishes to have his picture in the Gem. All persons in group houses, halls and those living in town are asked to take special notice of this announcement.

According to Pihly, it was the opinion of Cato that kissing first began between kinsmen and kinswomen, in order that the former might know whether their wives or daughters had tasted wine.

The history of this country goes back to 450 A. D. In this year, a Buddhist missionary is said to have visited Fu Sang supposed to have been America.

SCHOOL DAYS END FOR 800 STUDENTS

Majority Give No Reason For the Action.

Figures released by the registrar's office of the University of Wisconsin revealed that slightly more than 800 students dropped out of school at the end of the first semester. Of these only 100 were forced out by financial difficulties, and a smaller number by low marks. The majority dropping out of college did not give any reason for their leaving school. As the fall term registration was 900 less than that of 1931, there is a total drop of 1700 students in the school with the start of the new semester.

REVENUE SHORTAGE CAUSES REDUCTION

Abolition of swimming and drastic reductions in other spring sports at the University of Oklahoma will make the appropriations for the remainder of the year's athletic program 35 per cent less than was spent last year. The decrease in revenues will be by reductions in schedules, fewer road trips and smaller squads. This will be in line with the policy of retrenchment adopted at the winter meeting of the Big Six conference.

SPORTS PROGRAM REACHED HIGHEST PEAK LAST YEAR

Prospects Look Bright for Intramural Activities Set Record

Last year the intramural sports program was said to have reached the highest peak ever known at Idaho, and if the student enthusiasm continues this year the blue ribbon honors will be awarded for the present program.

Thirteen years ago intramural sports were inaugurated with only four sports included in the program, but now it has been expanded to include a total of nine. Last year 903 contestants took part in the competition. Of the nine events, indoor baseball drew the largest number of men, a total of 186. Basketball ranked next with 154 men and track, volleyball and swimming followed with 148, 130 and 125 respectively.

Credit to Calland.

The larger portion of the credit for the success of intramural athletics can be attributed to Coach Leo B. Calland, who has had general charge of the activity since he came to the university. "Athletics for all men students," has been Calland's aim.

In order to conduct the contests in an organized manner the group houses on the campus have been divided into (A) and (B) leagues. The leagues have their own schedules and the champions of each league for each sport compete in a play-off for the championship. A point system has been made and the group making the most points is given a loving cup.

Last season the final standings were as follows: Phi Delta 661, Kappa Sigma 495, Phi Gamma Delta 433, Lambda Chi Alpha 303, Lindley hall 296, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 261, Sigma Chi 210, Alpha Tau Omega 187, Delta Tau Delta 183, Delta Chi 109, Beta Theta Pi 45, Tau Kappa Epsilon, L. D. S. Institute, Sigma Nu, Tau Men Alpha, Ridenbaugh hall and Chi Alpha Pi 0.

This Season's Standings.

This season the standings to date are as follows: (B) league—Sigma Nu 175, Alpha Tau Omega 75, L. D. S. Institute 60, Lindley hall 25, Phi Delta 0, Chi Alpha Pi, Ridenbaugh hall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi are each in the red 25 points for having failed to enter men in the cross-country race.

(A) league—Kappa Sigma 250, Lambda Chi Alpha 75, Phi Gamma Delta 75, Tau Men Aleph 15, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta 0, Delta Chi and Beta Theta Pi have a minus 2 because of their failure to enter the cross-country event.

Cross-country and indoor baseball are the only two events which have been completed. Basketball is being played now, and volleyball, swimming, track, golf, tennis, and horse shoes will follow. In door baseball, basketball, track and swimming are considered the major sports and more points are awarded the winners in these events.

COUGAR YEARLINGS DEFEAT FRESHMEN ON PULLMAN COURT

Idaho Babes Fail to Hit Stride Against W. S. C. Freshmen

Getting away to an early lead, the W. S. C. Irish hoopers handed the Idaho yearlings a 39-26 lacing at Pullman, Saturday afternoon. The Cougar Babes held a 13-3 lead before the Idaho boys could get under way.

Toward the end of the first half the Vandals made their only attempt to over take the leaders when they ran the score up to 14-16. Led by Fix, forward, who tallied 9 points during the period, the Cougar team gradually pulled away in the second half to win by the 13-point margin.

Iverson Leads.

Davies, with 12 digits, and Fix with 13 tallies shared the scoring honors for the winners, while Iverson with 10 points led the Idaho scoring attack.

As the result of this game the Cougar frosh have two victories to their credit while the Vandal frosh have one. The two teams will meet here again this weekend.

SWIMMING TEAM MEETS WASHINGTON IN FIRST MATCH

Squad Has New Prospects for Events; Eiden Is Manager

Several new candidates for the varsity swimming team reported to the pool in the Memorial gymnasium, Monday evening at 4 o'clock. Several new men in school this semester have reported and from all prospects the squad will put a first class team in the water March 11 when they will meet Washington State college here.

The other meet with W. S. C. will be March 18. It is probable that the University of Washington will come to the university for a meet with the Idaho tankmen March 3.

Still Need Swimmers

The squad is still in need of swimmers. Many of the men swimming nightly at the pool are showing up well. Boob Setters, Bob Heaman and Herp Freese, new men on the squad are doing well in the dashes. Freese, a California boy, has had experience in California meets. Clayne Robison is rounding into top diving form.

"With the new material," said Manager Max Eiden, "I think that Idaho will have a good swimming team, but we are still handicapped by the lack of swimmers. W. S. C. has a pretty fair squad, but their frosh squad beat them in a meet Saturday."

LETTERMEN'S CLUB PLANS PUNISHMENT

"I" Men on Lookout for Violators of Campus Traditions

The "I" club made plans Sunday morning at the Kappa Sigma house for several informal parties. The parties will be held for underclassmen who have been violating campus rules the past weeks.

The club elected its officers for the new semester at its Sunday meeting. Max Eiden was elected president, Alvin Jacobson, vice president, Douglas Cordon, secretary-treasurer, and Neil Spiers, sergeant-at-arms.

The "I" men are on the lookout for all freshmen who have been smoking and hatless on the campus. The freshmen do not have to wear the green cap until March 17, but they must wear some sort of headgear until then. The smoking rule has been in "the books" for years.

The club is also planning several other events that will be of interest to the students.

COLLEGE ATHLETE SIGNS WITH GIANTS

Former Cougar Star Shortstop in Big League.

A new contract with the New York Giants has been signed by Art McLarney, Washington State's All-American baseball player of last year. McLarney, a star in both baseball and basketball, was graduated from the college last June and immediately joined the Giants. He traveled with the team during the summer and played several games at shortstop during September.

INTRAMURAL BALL DELAYED BECAUSE OF VARSITY GAMES

Nine Teams Have One Loss Chalked Up Against Their Record

Because of the Washington-Idaho conference hoop (set-to) here this week the intramural hoop teams have been given a breathing spell. As the result of the games thus far, two teams in each league have been eliminated, five in the (B) league and four in the (A) league have one loss chalked against them, and two in each league are undefeated.

Kappa Sigma and Tau Kappa Epsilon boast the clean slates in the (A) league, while Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon have yet to taste their first defeat in the (B) circuit.

Close Game.

The Beta Theta Pi-Tau Kappa Epsilon tussle last Thursday night holds the blue ribbon at present for the most hotly contested fracas. The battle went two extra periods before the Tekes edged out a victory, 25-24. Five of the 17 games which have been played thus far have been decided by two point margins. Interest in the games is running high and with the crucial games approaching, some more close battles are expected.

The teams who have one blemish on their records are as follows: (A) league—Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Chi, Delta Tau Delta and Beta Theta Pi. (B) league—Sigma Chi, Lindley hall, Chi Alpha Pi, and L. D. S. Institute. Ridenbaugh hall, Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha and Tau Men Aleph have been eliminated as each have suffered two defeats.

The games scheduled for Wednesday night may be postponed because the day is a holiday in commemoration of Washington's birthday. A definite announcement will probably be made today according to Willis Smith, intramural manager.

YOUTH SUMMONED BECAUSE OF SLAP

Her boy friend is so jealous he doesn't like her to look at a movie showing Maurice Chevalier, Miss Florence Glowacki, a co-ed, told the prosecuting attorney office in Cleveland, Ohio, recently.

This led to a dispute which caused the boy friend to slap her face in the midst of a crowd, causing her no end of embarrassment. The prosecutor issued a summons for the boy friend to find out why he is so jealous.

ANNUAL FIRE LOSS IN FARM PROPERTY

Loss from fire on farms in America amounts to over $100,000,000 in property and 2000 to 3500 lives annually, according to T. R. Horning, of department of agricultural engineering of the university. The money loss would build 50,000 barns at $2000 each. If these barns were built end to end they would form an unbroken wall 500 miles long.

To primitive man the presence of fire excited feelings of reverence and awe. It burned and it consumed; how, he did not know. Today, continues Mr. Horning, we know the "why" of fire and our great concern is to reduce its destruction. Fires may be extinguished by one of two methods, smothering and withholding the oxygen which support combustion, or by cooling the burning material down to a point where combustible gases are not given off.

The extinguishers designed to smother a fire are mostly chemical, although common earth or a blanket has put out many a fire. Sand and earth are both very good for shallow oil fires. They do not work so well on a fire in a deep vessel because they sink. Two or three pounds of common soda mixed with a bucket of sawdust will float. The soda makes the sawdust almost entirely incombustible and, if the fire on which it is thrown is very hot, the soda will give off a gas which aids in smothering the flames.

SPICY leaves of TURKISH tobacco are strung to dry and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before.

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.

Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!
