

VANDAL SLUGGERS TO MEET WHITMAN

Much Depends on Veterans of Last Season for Successful Campaign

Coach Rich Fox, baseball player, and manager, left for Walla Walla early this morning to meet the Whitman Missionaries in a four game series, playing two today and two tomorrow.

With less than a week of actual practice, and only two days of infield instruction and signals, the Vandal nine makes its stand against the Whitman squad in an unpolished condition. Coach Fox has given his men as much general fielding practice and instruction in the finer points of the game, such as stealing and special plays, as was possible in the short time that there has been for turnouts.

Has Veteran Outfield.

Much depends upon Fox's eight veterans of last season for a successful campaign against the Missionaries. Having gotten the feel of the ball and the swing of the bat in addition to the previous year's training, the lettermen will provide the mainstay of the Idaho attack. This is especially true of the outfield, which is composed altogether of veterans. Jacobson, Geraghty, Hayden and Anderson, a new man who will be relief for the other three, make up a fast and reliable outfield.

Four chuckers, all of whom were on last season's squad, made the trip to Walla Walla. Lacy and Splers, both left-handed, Hurley and Swanson comprise the pitching staff for this series of games. Swanson may also be played at second base if a substitution is necessary at that position. At the catching post Fox depends on Bill Schutte and Bud McNealy, both lettermen of last year, to fill the backstop position and to keep the pep in the squad. "Mooney" Kline, who plays third base, can trade off with these two if the going is tough.

Counts on Sather.

Coach Fox is fortunate this season in having his speedy, hard-hitting shortstop, Norman Sather, to bolster up the Vandal defense as well as do his duty with the stick, according to early-season followers. Norm hit the ball for more skyrides over the fence than any other member of the squad in past seasons. The remainder of the infield is made up of new material, with Albee at first base, Ray Maxfield at second, and Mooney Kline at third. If Albee encounters any trouble at the initial sack, Sather McNealy, who played that position last spring, will be able to substitute for him.

Jerry Talbot, manager, also made the trip with the team which left by stage at 7 o'clock this morning. After these four games with Whitman this week-end, the nine will meet the Lewiston normal aggregation at Lewiston next Saturday.

Lose Kliner.

"Considering the amount of practice the boys have had, I think that we have accomplished a lot under poor weather conditions," asserted Coach Fox. "The team was materially weakened by the loss of Kliner at second base, who broke his thumb last week, putting him out for the rest of the season. Kliner who is a sophomore, looked better than any candidate we've had in several years for this post."

"Next week we will continue to perfect our infield machine, which no doubt, will learn quite a bit from the games with Whitman. With the experience gained from these contests and the one with the teachers, the squad will be in some shape to meet W. S. C. the end of the month," concluded Fox.

TRACKMEN HOLD HANDICAP MEET

Coach Otto Anderson will give his track squad its first taste of competition tomorrow when he stages a handicap meet, entering the three or four best in each event. The meet will be held on MacLean field in the afternoon.

In this meet the better performers will be handicapped in proportion to their superiority, affording keener and more interesting competition than the regular turnouts. Some of the events are evenly enough matched as they now stand. These will be run from scratch as will be the case with Felton and Kalbus in the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

The 120 yard high hurdles race will also be so closely contested that an advantage may not be given Junior Jones and Ed Elliott over Bill Squance, last year's letterman in this event. Jones and Elliott are able to keep up with Squance for three or four hurdles but cannot match the pace set by the more experienced runner.

Handicaps Undecided

"I don't know yet just what handicaps will be made," said Anderson. "It all depends on what the fellows feel they can do when they turn out tomorrow. Some newer members of the squad are improving so rapidly that I'm in doubt as to how much advantage I should allow them."

Jack LeGore and Scram Wilson have consistently led in the high jump event, with LeGore out-leading Wilson on several occasions. Skinn Nelson is certain to receive a handicap, giving Bob Newhouse, George LeGore, and Paul Berg a chance with last season's lettermen. Jack LeGore has made a leap of 25 feet in the broad jump, which will necessitate a handicap of several inches in order to give the other men an even break.

Strong Half Milers

Johnny Thomas and Carroll Livingston are too fast for the rest of the pack to run without some disadvantage. Arnett and Klinger run a good race in the quarter mile but still need a little leeway over Thomas to make it stiff competition. Ridings, Bowler, and Skarr are strong contenders in the half mile. Thomas and Livingston will probably run on even terms in the mile jaunt.

Ap Berg will more than likely be compelled to concede John Norby a foot in the shot put according to their respective showings this week. Nutting and Redlingshafer will get still a greater advantage. The javelin and discus events have not been decided upon.

"We have been working in some of our freshman material," continued Anderson. "Since there are no regular frosh turnouts. Some very good material for next year is showing up in our practices. In a few instances the freshmen are better than the varsity."

KAPPA SIGS LEAD INTRAMURAL RACE

Phi Deltis in Second Place; Four Sports Left on Schedule

With three minor sports and one major to be run off before the intramural-athletic honors can be awarded Kappa Sigma with 353 points stands the best chance to cop the title. Holding a 95 point lead over the nearest competitor, Phi Delta Theta, who has a 263 total.

Horseshoes, tennis, track and golf will decide the title. The horseshoe pitchers will start operations next Monday and the tennis racket wielders will see action starting May 1. Track is the only major sport remaining on the schedule.

The standings—

Kappa Sigma	353
Phi Delta Theta	263
Lindley Hall	233

GRIDSTERS BEGIN SPRING PRACTICE

35 Men Trying Out for 1933 Football Team

Thirty-five aspirants for positions on the 1933 Vandal gridiron machine turned out this week when Coach Leo B. Calland opened the annual spring football session. Inclement weather almost halted the practice during the earlier part of this week but yesterday when Old Sol came out in all his glory the men buckled down to some real practice.

Fundamentals and plays have been emphasized this week and next week Coach Calland plans to start scrimmaging. Yesterday he sent the men through dummy scrimmage, explained defensive formations and stressed a number of forward pass plays. Lefty Inman, Les Holmes and Ed Elliott were called on to do the majority of the passing and Elliott was called back to punt on several occasions.

Most of the men reporting at present are from last year's frosh squad as a number of veterans from last season's varsity are reporting for either track or baseball.

Red and blue shirts will be issued Monday so that the men will be able to scrimmage during the week. Coach Calland plans to divide the squad for a practice game a week from this Saturday. A game between the "Has Beens" and the squad will be played May 10, Campus Day.

In the game with the "Has Beens" a number of the men who are turning out for track and baseball will participate with the squad. Dick Nutting, Ap and Paul Berg and John Norby are now acting in a dual role—turning out for both track and football. Nutting and Norby leave the school when reporting for track while Ap Berg tosses both the shot and discus and Paul Berg heaves the shot and discus and also does some high jumping and pole vaulting.

Coach Glen Jacoby and Art Spangy are assisting Calland in sending the men through their paces.

SPECTATORS NEED COAT OF ARMOR BEFORE ENTERING McLEAN FIELD

By Ed Mayer

A coat of armor and plenty of life insurance are two necessities if you are planning to meander on MacLean field any of these fine spring afternoons. Or should I have just said any of these afternoons. Probably the latter would be more appropriate as yesterday was the first real spring day which has greeted fair earth in this neck of the Palouse hills since Coach Leo Calland, Coach Otto Anderson, Coach Rich Fox started to contemplate turning a few football, track and baseball men, respectively, loose in the wide open space behind the gym.

Daddy Weather and all the little Weathers seem to have a personal grudge or family feud or something against Idaho's coaching corps. Every year Moscow has its Weather-coaching staff war. This spring Messrs. Calland, Anderson, and Fox though they had the Weather family bluffed as it continued with surprising regularity to push its golden chariot across the sky. Finally the field became dry enough for outdoor practice and the Messrs. Coaches decided to start thinking about moving their proteges outside. Well, they didn't get to the thinking stage for as soon as the Weather family suspected that Messrs. Coaches were going to even start thinking about moving to the great out-of-doors they got busy.

The result—rain, snow, rain and lots of clouds.

Yesterday was the first let-up since the war was declared and it was certainly a dinger. Now each evening before retiring Messrs. Coaches say a little prayer and hope that the Weather family has signed its peace treaty for 1933 and that this is not just the end of the first quarter.

Hornets Nest

To get back to that coat of armor-life insurance lead, let me explain that MacLean field was as busy as a hive of bees yesterday and will be for some time to come if the golden chariot keeps roaming across the sky each afternoon. The armor and life insurance are needed—protection against baseballs, footballs, javelins, shot puts, etc., which contaminate the ozone over MacLean field. And then too there are those gridiron man-ouths, spiked shoes, baseball bats, hurdles, and what not that stick pretty close to the ground but which also must be avoided by the innocent passer-by if he values his good health. I might also add that Johnny Thomas'

HORSESHOE GAMES START ON MONDAY

Intramural horseshoe pitching will start Monday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Coach Leo B. Calland.

Phi Gamma Delta and Kappa Sigma are scheduled to meet in the opening matches at 4 o'clock, and Phi Delta Theta and Lindley hall will meet at 4:45.

The tournament will be conducted in the usual manner—two leagues and double elimination. Each group must enter a team of at least two men who will participate in one doubles match and two singles matches. A group may enter different men in each of the three events. Winning two out of the three matches determines the winner.

Champion Gets 100 Points.

The champions of the leagues will receive 75 points and the runners-up in each league will receive 50 points. An additional 25 points will be awarded the champions. If a group fails to enter a team, 25 points will be deducted. Failure to appear for a scheduled match will deduct 10 points.
