

FIGHT CARD PLANNED TONITE INCLUDES MANY CHAMPIONS

Al Pechuls, Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Champion, Meets Billy Wilson, Gonzaga Football Star, in One of Main Events

By Bones Reese

Tonight at 7:30 fight fans will witness one of the biggest boxing cards ever staged by the University at Memorial Gym. Al Pechuls of W. S. C., Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champion, will meet Billy Wilson, football star from Gonzaga, in the double main event.

Pechuls knocked Wilson out in their last fight, but it is predicted he will have a hard time doing it tonight. Wilson is in the best shape of his athletic career. He has been sparring five and six rounds a day, and says he intends to remove the black mark of his last fight. Although Pechuls is much experienced and a terrific hitter, he will have to be on his toes to down Wilson again.

Ardie Driskill of Moscow, will box Harry Gillette of Potlatch, in the second bout on the main event. Gillette has lost two close decisions to Driskill but is going to try to reciprocate in their rematch. The settling of this private feud should prove interesting.

One of the closest matched fights will be between Lou August of the university and "Dynamite" Sinclair of Lewiston. In their last match Sinclair lost by a technical knockout, but he was handicapped by injury to a thumb. August, who was Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champion, is a colorful fighter and never fails to please the crowd.

Jimmy Deak of the university and Tony Face of Gonzaga, two 115 pound midgets who mix in the semi-finals, from present indications might steal the show. Deak is new in the fight game but is a willing boxer and hard hitting for his size. He won by a technical knockout over Cecil Etter of Lewiston in his first fight. Face has had twelve intercollegiate fights and two years of experience in the ring.

The second bout in the semi-finals will feature Al Penna of Spokane and Roy Petrogalla of Potlatch, runner-up in the Pacific Coast championship. These fighters have met twice before, Petrogalla winning both bouts by close decisions. Penna has been training seriously for this fight, and is considered one of Spokane's best.

In his last match with Bud Pool of W. S. C., Lynn Moore of the university showed up well. Tonight he will fight Bull Green of Lewiston. Moore is in perfect condition and intends to provide a good bout. Chuck Carlson of the university will have a stiff opponent in Bud Chatham of Gonzaga.

In his first intercollegiate fight, Wayne Schow of the university meets George Williams, Gonzaga. Schow broke two of Vic Werner's ribs last Saturday while sparring. He has a strong punch and is out to win his first match.

Two wrestling matches of three five-minute rounds each are added as a special attraction. The fighters will be under intercollegiate rules and all bouts will be three rounds to a decision.

"Briek" Driskill of Moscow, and Ike Deeter, boxing instructor at W. S. C. will referee the matches. General admission will be 40c, students will be admitted for 20c on presentation of A.S.U.I. tickets.

PEP BANDS OF SEVERAL YEARS AGO WERE TALENTED MUSICIANS

By IDAHO PRESS CLUB

Back in '23, and '24, and '25 when Al Marineau was leading the Pep Band there were several "big time" musicians in the organizations. Marineau is now playing with a large orchestra in Chicago. Charles "Appcheek" Mall was one of the sensations of the band in those days. He was the boy who would stand out in front of the band and send the shrills of the clarinet up and down the spines of the many interested listeners. He was one of the boys who accepted a ride from Boise to Nampa with some "unknown" women one night when the band was in the South, and left his instruments in the car. He had to borrow a sax to play the dance job that evening.

Cartoonist in Band

Howard Taylor was another of the boys that was in the band at that time. He is now an artist in Chicago. He gave the Idaho Post-Register a ride from Boise to Nampa with some "unknown" women one night when the band was in the South, and left his instruments in the car. He had to borrow a sax to play the dance job that evening.

Sammy Hutchins was a member of the band back in those days. He is now in the architectural department of the state of Idaho at Boise. George Benson played the "peck horn" in the band at that time. He is now an accountant for a Moscow paint firm.

Unique Pants Press Boys were boys back then too. Roland Swanson had some of the boys at the Beta Chi house (now Delta Tau Delta) pack his suitcase before a trip to Boise. When the band arrived in Boise they had very little time to dress for their initial appearance. Swanson's pants were buttonless and pressed along the seams. He is now superintendent of schools at Fernwood.

BLUE SHIRTS BEAT WHITES 19 TO 0 IN GAME SATURDAY

Honsowitz, Jacoby and Randall Make Scores in Last Three Quarters

The Blues, led by assistant coach coach Glenn "Red" Jacoby, defeated the Whites 19 to 0 Saturday afternoon in a game between two teams selected by Coach Leo Calland from the spring football squad. Jacoby stole the show by making a forty yard run for the second touchdown of the game and later heaving a perfect pass to Randall who received it over the goal for the second touchdown.

Fast Russell Honsowitz, freshman halfback for the Blues, made the last touchdown on a reverse carried out perfectly by the blockers. Jacoby was playing in place of Les Holmes who was out due to an injury.

According to Calland the teams did well for spring playing, each demonstrating a thorough knowledge of the plays. He attributes the Blue win to their better carrying out of the plays and to the leadership of Jacoby. The lineups were:

Beatty	center	Williamson
Davis	guard	Eilers
Schmitz	guard	Brailsford
Herson	tackle	Herbig
Hager	tackle	Reigel
Garst	end	Fowles
Randall	end	Elliott
Jacoby	quarter	Imman
Cordon	fullback	Ward
Spaugy	fullback	Luvass
Honsowitz	halfback	Parker

Further work in perfecting plays will be done this week. The Red team will play the Whites Wednesday afternoon, the winner to play the Blues Saturday afternoon. By the playing of these games Calland plans to pick a team to meet the "Has Beens" on Campus Day. These games will provide a more competitive spirit between teams. The complete Red team has not yet been picked as some member of the other teams may be used to fill in vacancies.

ECONOMIES SOUGHT IN FILM INDUSTRY

Economies in film distribution will be sought by the motion picture industry with the early resumption of full salary scales at studios in Hollywood, President Will H. Hays of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors association reported recently.

Screen workers who were given salary cuts ranging from 25 to 50 per cent early in March will be receiving regular pay before the stipulated tight-weeks period elapses, Hays indicated in his annual report.

HELL DIVERS PLAN STRIKING CARNIVAL

Hell Divers have appointed committees for the annual water carnival to be held May 5 and 16. General chairman is Egan Kroll, business manager, Junior Jones, program manager, Betty White, Clayne Robinson, Bill O'Neill, publicity, Geraldine Langer, costumes, Betty Bandelin, stage manager, Earl Eggers.

A novel idea has been chosen around which this year's carnival will be centered, and it promises to surpass all previous performances of this kind in quality and variety.

"The plans are more elaborate than any which have been attempted before, but the results will be spectacular and amazing. It would be advisable for everyone to save either May 15 or 16 for this major event," says Kroll.

INDIAN MOTIF SETS OFF PROM

Success of Decorations Due to Clark Neeley

According to Bert Wood, chairman of the Prom committee, "The Junior Prom was the social highlight of the year." Everyone there remarked of the success. Much credit should be given to Clark Neeley who designed and painted the silhouettes in the west end of the hall.

The yellow and white motif was used narcissus and daffodils being all around in the hall. The Indian scheme was carried out and Indian silhouettes were on the walls. The programs amplified the theme.

Music was furnished by the Blue Bucket Band. Patrons and Patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Neale, Dean Permeal J. French, Dean and Mrs. John A. Kostalek, and Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford.

DEMONSTRATION OF MILITARY TACTICS SET FOR MAY 4-5

Will Rate Local R. O. T. C. According to Regular Army Standards

A practical demonstration of all instruction received by the military department during the year will be given on the MacLean field May 4 for inspection. May 4 and 5 are the dates set for total inspection, both administrative and tactical, of the military department.

Regular army officers will rate the R. O. T. C. unit according to the degree in which it approaches the regular army standards of efficiency. The military department extends an invitation to all who are interested to view the ceremonies, which will begin at 1:15 p. m., May 4 and last the entire afternoon.

Col. Jerome G. Pillow, who is in charge of the R. O. T. C. of the Ninth Corps Area in San Francisco, will arrive May 3 to inspect the administrative side of the military department. The next day, Maj. George S. Clarke, normally in charge from Spokane, will arrive on May 4. He will judge the drills that afternoon and conduct his theoretical inspection in the regular military classrooms the next day from 10 a. m. until noon.

Other judges at the show will be Carl Greig, cattle and sheep breeder of Urunkown, Wash., beef judge, Harry Kammer, well known Poland-China breeder, of Colfax, Wash., judge of the hog fighting and showing; J. K. Ford, assistant manager of the Union Stock yards, Spokane, formerly extension dairyman of Montana State college.

Several of the W. S. C. faculty and herdsmen will also officiate as judges. These include J. C. Knott and E. V. Ellington professors of dairy husbandry; Howard Hoekendorn, head of the department of animal husbandry; Ben C. Swiers, and John Bums, beef herdsmen. Many other prominent livestock men are expected to be present. Two of Idaho's faculty members, Dean John A. Kostalek and Dr. Erwin Graue, will act as judges of the floats and displays.

The club appreciates the help that these men have given in making the show a success, said Gladhart. "Their interest and enthusiasm indicate that they consider the purpose of the show to be practical and worthwhile."

CALIFORNIA MAN WILL ADDRESS 288 SENIORS JUNE 12

Chester H. Rowell, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, has accepted the invitation to deliver the commencement address at the university's thirty-eighth commencement, Monday, June 12, announced President M. G. Neale, Mr. Rowell, who has been editor of the San Francisco daily since 1923, has had a long career as an educator, writer and lecturer. He is a former regent of the University of California and has been very active in numerous world peace movements.

With the selection of Mr. Rowell to address the 1933 commencement group all arrangements for the thirty-eighth commencement are complete. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday, June 11, by the Rev. Canon S. H. Middleton, principal of the St. Paul's Residential school, Cardston, Alberta, Canada. University alumni are planning a program for the Saturday preceding the commencement exercises.

The graduating class this year will be the second largest in the history of the university.

FORMER STUDENT WILL JUDGE STOCK AT FARMER SHOW

R. E. Everly Had Charge of First Little International Show at University

R. E. Everly, present manager of the Carnation Milk farm at Carnation, Wash., who had charge of the first Little International Livestock show to be held at the university, will act as one of the judges at the show here Saturday.

The livestock show, patterned after the Chicago International exhibition, is sponsored annually by the Agriculture club. Beginning at 7 a. m., the show will be an all-day affair. The parade through Main street and the campus will begin at 1:30. Stock judging and the awarding of the 70 prizes will be held at Lewiston in the evening, beginning at 7. Several well-known men will be present to judge the show, according to Russell Gladhart, manager of the exhibit this year.

Mr. Everly graduated from the College of Agriculture in 1924, the year that the "Little International" had its beginning in his hands. Since that time he has always been a loyal supporter of the livestock shows and all other interests and activities of the Agriculture club, Gladhart says. After Mr. Everly left the university, he became district agent in northern Idaho and then western representative for Holstein in the Freisian Association of America. He will judge the fitting and showing of dairy cattle Saturday.

C. W. Robinson, western representative for the American Guernsey Cattle club from Portland, and a graduate of the University of Ohio, he has been with the Guernsey Cattle club for 15 years.

E. F. Rinehart, state extension animal husbandman for Idaho, is another of the judges, is recognized as one of the best men in his field in which he has worked since 1912. He makes a special effort to attend the show every year, acting as judge of sheep fitting and showing.

Other judges at the show will be Carl Greig, cattle and sheep breeder of Urunkown, Wash., beef judge, Harry Kammer, well known Poland-China breeder, of Colfax, Wash., judge of the hog fighting and showing; J. K. Ford, assistant manager of the Union Stock yards, Spokane, formerly extension dairyman of Montana State college.

CAMPUS POLITICS TAKE BACK SEAT FOR JUNIOR WEEK

Students Forget Coming Election; Campus Party Issues Handbills

By Paris Martin

There were enough other activities on the campus during the last few days to push politics into the background with the result that the politicians forgot their campaign. Since there was little or no political activity, the box score for the week is practically perfect. About the only indication that an election was approaching was the appearance of a small handbill put out by the Campus party proclaiming the deal and listing the candidates. Of those listed there are two names which are in some question.

"Whip" Smith is said to be ineligible, while Nina Varian is said to have withdrawn from the official campus party lists. These alleged inaccuracies have not been counted as errors, however, but have been recorded as "acts of God."

In the meantime the students on the campus have spent their time at anything besides politics, dictated in general by weather conditions. There is some indication, nevertheless, that they have been considering the candidates to some extent. It seems that a great majority have come to the conclusion that the method used by most voters in city elections is the best.

One to use. That is, they will vote for the candidate that they don't know. Such a plan seems to be more popular in local elections. There is little to give an indication of how the election will come out at this stage of the affair because this year may have an election which follows the general pattern for "new deal" elections. The Campus party is out strong for its idea of putting student government back into the hands of the students and of turning the rascals out. The Alpha party, on the other hand, is not making any new promises. They have already indicated that they are willing to stand on the record of the past year as to efficient and economical student government. Moreover, they seem to realize that there is nothing new to be said about the administration of student affairs. The election conducted here is business in the usual and ordinary way. Students want what the system is, and nothing can be done about it.

This year it seems that there will not be as many straight ticket-sitting parties as in the past. It is possible to predict only where the majorities will lie. It seems, however, that the Alpha party should draw a majority of the votes from the sitting party. Chi, Sigma, Kappa Sigma, Delta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Gamma Delta, Gamma Kappa, Phi Delta Theta, Gamma Kappa Gamma, Delta Gamma, Sigma Nu, Delta Delta Delta, Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Phi and Alpha Tau Omega.

Lindley Hall, Hays hall, Beta Theta Pi, Lambda Chi Alpha and Tau Kappa Epsilon seem to be the party side. Chi Alpha Phi, L. D. S. institute and the two students are doubtful. If any prediction were attempted it would seem that the Campus party might fare better in these groups.

Many students have expressed their interest in the candidates who would come out with definite pronouncements of what they intend to do when, and if, elected. It is suggested by many that these candidates write their speeches and then deposit them carefully in the nearest waste paper basket.

MILITARY MEN HOLD INITIATION

Eighteen Qualify for Membership in Scabbard and Blade

Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary, held initiation Sunday afternoon for eighteen new men: Ferd Koch, Hammett; Fred Gust, Spokane; Jay Christians, Kellogg; Harry Wilson, Coeur d'Alene; Owen Seatz, Winchester; Vernon Nelson, Troy; Charles Thompson, Gooding; Earl Eggers, Post Falls; Hugh Burnett, Newport, Wn.; Courtney Stephens, Boise; Keenan Mains, Boise; Lloyd Riutcel, Los Angeles; Clayne Robinson, Boise; Orville Schmitz, Lewiston; Gilbert St. Clair, Idaho Falls; Casady Taylor, Boise; George Kline, Plainfield, N. J.; Lee Tyrell, Moscow, and Roy Welpert, Spokane.

The initiation was held in the Memorial gymnasium after which the initiates paraded around the campus for a short time. Following the parade the entire organization made a trip to Moscow mountain where further initiation and revelry were held.

NEW OBSTACLE HAD FOR GERMAN HOPES

Hitter Prevents Tennis Star From Engaging in Matches

Germany's Davis cup hopes recently encountered a new obstacle in the fascist government of Adolf Hitler. A proclamation issued by the Nazi dictator banned Jewish participation in Davis cup play and as a result, the cup committee dropped its leading player and former captain, Daniel Prenn, because of his race.

The disbarment left only Baron Von Gramm to renew the campaign which twice in four years has carried Germany to the interzone finals against the United States. Her third and fourth ranking players, Hans Eicke and E. Nonney, are not considered in the same class with the Baron and Prenn.

FEATURES OF PEP BAND SHOW DISPLAY VARIED PRODUCTION

Program is Divided Into Formal Concert, Surprise Feature, Popular Program, and Band Informal

By Harold Boyd, Idaho Press Club

"Versatility will be the keynote of the Pep Band show this year," said Bill Ames, director of the band. "The program is going to be an entertaining one from every standpoint. Everyone has been working hard and the entire concert will be a finished production."

The program is divided into four sections. The first section will present the band in formal concert, the second is to be the surprise feature, the third the popular program, and the final division will feature the band in popular arrangements of songs and marches.

The opening number of the formal section is by Wallace and is entitled "Maritana." It is an effective concert number and brings out the total quality and the versatility of the men who comprise the organization.

Clayton Boyd, solo clarinetist of the band, plays "Valse Caprice" by Meyer as the second number. He is accompanied by the band. "This is the first time we have had a member of the band who was accomplished enough to handle a number as this," said Ames. "Clayton certainly shows his ability and I am well pleased with his work on the selection."

A novelty arrangement by Lake, "The Evolution of Yankee Doodle," is the concluding number of the first section. This arrangement carries the theme of the melody, through the historical progression. The first effect is that of a storm at sea, then comes the landing of the Pilgrims and an Indian dance. Colonial times are depicted in minut tempo with a progression through the waltz, syncopation, and grand opera. The final windup is the "Spirit of 1917."

The lights fade to dimness and the curtains part as the descending chords of a mighty introduction echo throughout the auditorium. What is it?—the opening of the third section of the show. With a final crash of melody, the stage blackens and a silver spot light picks up Sam Stone, first trombonist of the band, as he plays "Elegy." As the last mellow tone fades out the spot crosses the stage to the violin trio, and grand opera. The final windup is the "Spirit of 1917."

The dancing spot light swings back again to the tune of "If I Had You," played by the brass trio, Charles McConnell, John Cusano, and Sam Stone. "Swamp Ghost," an eerie melody, lures the band, Dick Edwards, and Bill Williams, who play Fritz Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois."

PEP BAND MEMBERS HAVE WIDE EXPERIENCE IN MUSIC

By John Cusano
Idaho Press Club

It has been said that it is just as hard to get on the football team as it is to get on the Pep Band. In order to make the band, musicianship and experience are the prime prerequisites. The Idaho Pep Band includes in its limited membership students of wide experience in the music field who have played in many dance orchestras and bands before they came to the Idaho campus.

Before a candidate for a position in the band is accepted, he must undergo an individual audition in the presence of the entire band. After he has passed this tryout, he is given a tentative place so that he can be tried out while playing with the rest of the band. After this is over, he is voted in or rejected.

Heading the trumpet section is Charles "Chuck" McConnell, who has played trumpet solo with the band for several years, and who is well known both on the campus and throughout the state. McConnell has had a wide experience in music. He has played with many dance orchestras and bands before they came to the Idaho campus.

GETS FINAL TESTS

A tri-motored plane to be used exclusively by President Roosevelt recently underwent final tests at Wright Field. The plane will accommodate seven persons, including two pilots and a radio operator. Radio apparatus that will enable the chief executive to communicate with anyone while on flight is a feature of the equipment.

MCKINLEY TELLS STORIES OF PEP BAND HISTORY

By the Idaho Press Club

In arranging for publicity for the Pep Band show tomorrow and Thursday nights, several old-time members of the organization were persuaded to write up some of their memoirs of past years. Among letters that were received was one from Doy McKinley of Kellogg. His letter contains so many things of interest to Idaho students concerning the organization, early performances, and present activities of past members that the greater part of it is printed here.

McKinley begins:

"I believe that credit for the organization of the Pep Band is due the Kappa Sig group. In 1919 (the year before I attended the university) it had been customary at all athletic contests to use the Cadet band. In a way this was quite satisfactory, but that was the days of the birth of jazz in a big way, and the students were 'jazz crazy.'

Lynn Hersey, a Kappa Sig and the first leader of the Pep Band, was a trumpet player, and a good one too. He and a few other Kappa Sigs decided one night during basketball season to break right in on the said game, and tear off a few real tunes. They gathered together about ten fellows among whom were Bob Eldridge, Ted Holderman bass player, Vernon Wald trumpet, Shenberger trombone, Vaughn Price trombone, 'Osty' Ostrander bass drum, Lynn Hersey trumpet and leader, and a few others whom I do not remember.

Played 12th Street

At any rate they played for the basketball game. They played such tunes as '12th Street Rag,' 'Blues My Sweetie Gave to Me,' and all the school songs. Every thing was faked. No music was used. It was every man for himself, and boy, they went to town. The student body went wild over it.

They played for a few other contests that year but in the fall of 1920 was when it really got started. Les Moe was also a member of that band, but due to his athletic prowess, was seldom heard with the Pep Band at athletic contests. In the fall of 1920, the real Pep Band was organized, not as a member of the student body, but as an independent organization. That year I was a freshman. The personnel of the band was about the same as the year before. I was admitted along with a couple other freshmen.

Take Trip South

"It was in this year that we first contemplated a trip to southern Idaho with the football team. A game had been arranged for Boise on Armistice Day between the University of Utah and Idaho. The band at this time was composed of about twelve or fifteen men, including a piano player which we carried with us for dance work. In order to finance this trip, we put on dances at the university, and raised money any way we could.

"We got enough to buy our round trip tickets to Boise and back and that was all. What we were to eat on down there and pay other expenses was another problem. We received permission from the university authorities to go south a week early. We visited high schools in the southern part of the state in the day time, and then played dances at nights in such towns as we happened to be in. This was done to make more money, because without money we would have gotten awfully hungry in a week.

Visit Idaho Towns

"We visited such towns as Idaho Falls, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Caldwell, Nampa, and Boise. In each of these towns we played for dances, and fortunately for us, we had ticked houses.

"Idaho won the football game in Boise on Armistice Day and that

Junior Parade O. K. Says Gentleman Jim

Lazy greetings and salutations: It is with the greatest of sorrow that the students who have toured out to the City Park have found that because of the depression the lights in the park are turned off.

Moscow Mountain is now the scene of that favorite outdoor sport, picnicking—to the housemother, and Pieneking—to you and you.

Pictures of this year's Junior Parade may be sent home without any explanation; whereas last year, it was rather hard explaining that "X" marked the spot where the dirt was found.

Inflation has all the value of technocracy and a blind date.

GROWING TREND PROPHECY MADE

Prominent Educators Meet in Conference to Discuss Problems

The growing trend toward individualism in education and the improvement in school and college relations to bring about this end were noted in discussions by prominent educators recently at a joint conference on college admissions and guidance problems which have been emphasized largely through changes in social conditions.

The conference was held under the auspices of the committee on personal methods and on college testing of the American Council on Education, the commission on the relation of school and college of the Progressive Education Association and the Educational Records Bureau, in conjunction with the bureau's second general meeting of institutional members.

"The present discontent and agitation for reforms in education are due to a fundamental error in the assumption that the educational system should be wholly or principally conservative," said Dr. John B. Johnson, dean of the University of Minnesota, in discussing the guidance function in the secondary schools and colleges. "What the elders of greatest wisdom know to be necessary for the safety and welfare of society includes the introduction at frequent intervals of changes in institutions to adapt them to new conditions."

"I am still running a dance band of my own. I work for the Kellogg Power & Water Co., in the office during the days, and then play what dances that may come up through the week. We have the whole Coeur d'Alene district to work in in our playing. Sver Moe is playing with me, and has played ever since he got out of school. As you will recall he was a Pep Band leader while in school.

Wrote Idaho Song

"Speaking of school songs in this letter, I don't know whether you knew that Art Guerin and myself wrote the words and music to 'We're Here to Win.' I often listen to the band play it over the radio during the fall at football games, and get a real thrill out of it whenever it is played. There is a verse to this song that is never played which is very good. Some day when I feel real ambitious, I will write it out and send it down to school.

"Now when it comes to funny happenings on some of our old trips, I can think of quite a number but they wouldn't do to print, or tell in mixed company. I do remember once when we were in Boise playing before the student body of the high school we marched out on the stage playing and the whole band toned down real soft and I was to take a hot solo.

Gummed Up Works

"I hadn't blown my horn during this first number until it came to my solo. When I put the horn to my lips to put it on for the folks, some darn fool had stuck a wad of gum in my mouthpiece. The rest of the band was in on it of course, and got such a kick out of it that we broke down right in the middle of the tune.

"I haven't followed music as a profession for the last two years. My last professional job was with a band that traveled over the East two years ago playing at summer resorts. It pays good money but then it costs lots of money to travel and is not so very pleasant for your wife to have to be dragged all over the country living out of a suitcase. I must quit now. I hope you may use some of this information although it is rather disconnected. Send me a copy of this paper when it is printed. I would like to hear more about this Pep Band show," McKinley concluded.

Jean Borotra, veteran French tennis star, today predicted that France would make its sixth straight successful defense of the Davis cup this summer.

IDAHO GRADUATE IS NOTED FOR WORKS

Talbot Jennings has Written Three Outstanding Plays; Founded "Blue Bucket"

Idaho has had several notables in the field of drama, among her former students, one of whom is Talbot Jennings, a graduate of 1924. His place has been won by his writings with which the Idaho campus first became acquainted when he wrote the Idaho pageant, "The Light on the Mountains."

Jennings was president of the English club when he was here, and it was under him the "Blue Bucket" was founded.

After graduating from Idaho he was awarded a scholarship to Harvard. There he took his masters degree. Following that he came to Idaho as an instructor for two years in the English department. Studies at Yale

Through several high recommendations, he secured a fellowship at Yale for the study of writing of drama under George Pierce Baker. He did so well the first year he was appointed for a second. Under a former president of Idaho, Dr. Alfred H. Upham, he went to Miami as an instructor in playwriting and directing. Resigning from that position he set out as a free lance dramatist, and went to New York where he is now residing.

He has written four outstanding plays of which "No More Frontier" is the only one published. It was put on at Yale, in Santa Barbara, in Pasadena, and came to Provincetown in 1931. His "American Wing" has been seen at Yale and in Pasadena. "This Side of Idolatry" has been bought by the Theatre Guild and promised for the spring.

Pep Band Show Will Provide Novel Midweek Entertainment

The annual Pep Band Show will be given Wednesday and Thursday nights. Talented students are presenting a varied program which will be interesting to everyone. Last weekend all students enjoyed festivities, especially the members of the Junior Class who sponsored the mixer, prom, and cabaret.

The Blue Bucket Inn was the scene of the annual Junior Prom Friday night. The decorations were Indian silhouettes on the wall set off with colored lights. The ceiling was decorated with green crepe paper streamers. Patrons and patronesses were Gov. and Mrs. C. Ben Ross, Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Neale, Dean Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Easton Gen. and Mrs. E. R. Chrisman, Dean and Mrs. John A. Kostalek, Dean and Mrs. T. S. Kerr, and Dean and Mrs. Ivan Crawford. The programs were white with the head of an Indian chief portrayed on the cover. The Blue Bucket orchestra furnished the music.

The Junior Cabaret, the final event of Junior Week, was held Saturday night at the Blue Bucket Inn. Both floors of the Bucket were used. The decorations carried on the Indian idea with a huge Indian scene painted at one end of the hall. Lights, fans, and ceilings were covered with balloons. Bright colored awnings were on the windows, giving the effect of a garden. There was no regular intermission, but specialty numbers were given by Elvon Hampton, who sang, and by the Olson sisters, who did an Indian powwow. Morris O'Donnell's orchestra, and the Blue Bucket hand furnished the dance music. Serpentine, confetti, horns and caps were distributed and added to the gaiety. ## SWIMMING EVENTS DRAW FAIR CROWD ON MONDAY NIGHT

Cleaver Stunt Included On Women's Tank Program

The women's swimming meet Monday night at the Memorial gymnasium was attended by a fair-sized crowd. Mrs. Katy Rae Boyer had charge of the meet and Miss Jeanette Wirt and Miss Mabel Locke judged the events. The first event was a single over-arm—Vincent first; Oleson, second; Miller, third. The second event was strokes for form; backstroke—Stewart first; Bandelin, second; Side-stroke—White, first; Vincent, second; Roark, third; Crawl—Fenney first; Lawrence, second; Bandelin, third.

The next event was life-saving for form—Langer, first; Vincent, second; and Roark third.

The fifty-yard free style was entered by Lawrence, Vincent, White Miller, Langer, L'Herisson, Fenney, and Bandelin. Fenney, first; White, second; and Bandelin, third. There were six entrants in the diving events, each girls to do two dives. Lawrence, Laird, Schoonmaker, Williams, White, and Fenney were entered. Schoonmaker, first; Williams, second; and Fenney third. In the plunge for distance L'Herisson was first; Miller second; and Oleson, third.

The medley among groups was the last event. Phi Beta Phi took first; Gamma Phi Beta, second; and the town girls third. A clever stunt given by Rosanne Roark, Betty White, Gertrude Oleson, and Esther Hunt ended the swimming meet.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday. Something new in chorus work was instituted by Busby Berkeley for the chorus members of this dramatic and musical epic of backstage life. For the big number he rigged out a turn table nearly a hundred feet in diameter, which in turn was divided into three. With the aid of an ordinary gasoline double hoist, he contrives to turn the three big rings of his turn table at three different speeds in two different directions. The choruses then, placed in groups around the three rings, each have different steps, sometimes going with, sometimes against the movement of the turntables. Besides the chorus of 150, there is an all-star cast including Warner Baxter, Bebe Daniels, George Brent, Una Merkel, Ruby Keeler, Guy Kibbee, Ned Sparks, Dick Powell, Ginger Rogers, and Allen Jenkins.

THE BIG CAGE

Thursday, Friday, Saturday. To look at Clyde Beatty in his street clothes, one would never think that he is universally recognized as the foremost wild animal trainer in the world. He has assembled in a single arena a large group—43 to be exact—of lions and tigers, combining not only these two deadly natural enemies, but both sexes of each species. Men grown old in this dangerous of professions have looked on in amazement. His sole defense in the arena is a whip which he snaps to concentrate the wavering attention of the animals; a revolver loaded with "blanks" which he uses for the same purpose; and an ordinary kitchen chair. The trainer's man protection is his intellect and will, which even the most savage of animals respect.

DRESS TO FOLLOW EASTERN FASHIONS

Corduroys and Tweeds Banned For Neatlier Clothes

Indication that the "careless and unattractive dress" of the western university men will follow the eastern trend into flannel and Shetlands, was mentioned this week.

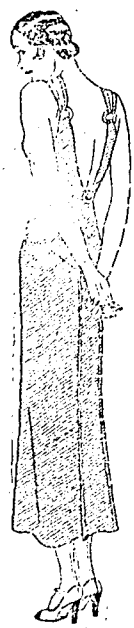

Corduroys and tweeds are banned for neater clothes at most of the eastern American and English university campuses. The change toward better clothes which some claim is coming, if an actuality, might mean something about the depression.

The CO-ED MANNEQUIN

What shall I wear to the formal Saturday night? This seems to be the reigning question, and for a good reason—spring formals are now in full sway, and who doesn't want to look her loveliest at our more pretentious social events? Evening frocks become prettier each season, but this spring they have reached their zenith. Slim and sleek, long and flowing, best describe them, and they come in all colors and all materials.

Capellets, in taffeta or organdie, are replacing the velvet wraps of former fame. And, a favorite romantic accessory to the evening mode is the enormously long sash or scarf, that may be draped around the figure in a great variety of ways; sometimes they are wound around the waist and brought over one shoulder to give the effect of a cape sleeve.

A tulle skull cap, exactly matching a blond coiffure, of which one side is covered with flowers in the same tone, is a chic first-night note.

Over 175 couples attended the Junior Cabaret at the Blue Bucket Inn last Saturday which marked the end of Junior Week.

Tables were placed upstairs and down and two orchestras, Clair Gale's and Morey O'Donnell's, provided the music. Entertainment was provided by Elvon Hampton and Florence Adams and Eleanor Olson, who performed a tap dance. The Bucket was colorfully decorated with bright balloons. Tiny hats, serpentine, and horns were distributed during the evening. The crowd was hilarious but well-behaved. Bob Woods, proprietor of the Blue Bucket Inn, stated that the cabaret was well conducted, his only loss being a few broken glasses.

VANDAL BATSMEN CHALK UP TWO VICTORIES AT LEWISTON

By Ed Meyer
Driving out 33 hits in a double header at Lewiston Saturday the Vandal Baseball team had little trouble in chalking up 14-2 and 20-14 victories over Lewiston normal. Neil Speirs' four-hit pitching in the first game was the outstanding performance of the day. Speirs retired 10 Lewiston batters via the strike out route.

The Vandals took the lead in the first game when they crossed the plate five times in the second inning and then added two in the fourth, one in the fifth and three in both the seventh and eighth frames. Lewiston's two runs, which saved them from a shutout, came in the last of the eighth when Anderson and McKean, who had both walked, scored after two were down, on Lawrence's hit.

Sather, Jacobson, McNeely, Anderson and Kline, were all heavy hitters in the opening contest—each poling out two safe hits. In the second inning, Anderson and Sather hit three baggers and Jacobson got a homer. McNeely hit a three bagger in the fifth inning.

Free Hitting Contest
A total of 34 hits were collected by the two teams in the second game. Idaho garnered 20 of the safe blows and coupled them with eight Lewiston errors to score 20 runs. The Normalites held the lead twice during the contest—once in the third inning, 9-8, and again in the sixth, 13-12. Seven runs in the seventh stanza gave the Vandals the victory margin.

Sather, first man up in the first inning, gave the Vandals a good send off by clouting a home run. Albee landed a homer in the second inning with two men on the paths.

Swanson started on the mound for the Foxmen but got into trouble and was relieved by Hurley in the fifth inning.

Whitman will play a return series here this weekend. Two weeks ago at Walla Walla the Vandals dropped three out of four games to Borleske's proteges.

IDAHO TRACK TEAM WINS DUAL MEET WITH CHENEYITES

Soft Track Keeps Times Down; Battle Nip and Tuck
The Vandal track team nosed out the Cheney Normal squad in the dual meet held at Cheney last Saturday by the score of 72-13-15 to 57-21-5. The two teams were within a few points of each other at several stages in the meet, the victor being determined in the last three or four events.

The Vandals won eight first places, while the Teachers managed six. Idaho made a fairly good showing in the 220 yds, the mile and half-mile, and the high and low hurdles. Malbus was high point man for Idaho with two firsts and a second, followed by Johnny Thomas and Bill Squance, who both bagged two firsts. Roundy, of Cheney, massed the greatest total of points for the meet by taking first in the javelin, shot-put, and discus.

FRESHMEN SCORE WIN OVER COMETS

Kirkhoven Is Star Twirler Of Initial Baseball Game
Going on two scoring sprees, one in the fourth and another in the sixth, the Idaho Frosh baseball team was able to pile up a 19 to 7 victory Saturday over the Comets, Moscow city league team. Seven runs were chased across the plate in the fourth and eight more were added in the sixth, accounting for 15 of the 19 runs.

The Comets led 7 to 1 until the yearlings came to bat in the last of the fourth frame to take the lead, 8 to 7. The losers failed to score during the last five stanzas.

Kirkhoven Does Well
Roy Kirkhoven, who relieved Brubaker on the mound for the Frosh in the fourth inning, chalked up 12 strike outs. He was nipped for three hits in the fourth, but pitched hitless ball for the remainder of the contest.

Track Soft
"The track was soft, and hard to run on," said Coach Otto Anderson, "but we are awfully usually slow time in some of the races. We expect the same conditions at Whitman this coming Saturday, because they also have a track that has not thoroughly dried out this spring.

"In a few events, the fellows showed up pretty well," continued Anderson, "but we are awfully weak in spots, and this, of course, leaves us vulnerable in divisions in which we will have no chance of placing. The fellows are working hard to improve before the W. S. C. meet so that a much better showing will be made."

Whitman Meet Next
The squad will be whittled down a little for the trip to Walla Walla according to Anderson. 25 men went to Cheney to compete in the meet, but this was greater than the usual number taken on such a trip. The meet Saturday promises to offer as much competition as Cheney Normal, if not more, so the boys will need this week of practice.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Bannon, C., first; Kalbus, I., second; Strandberg, C., third; time, :10 flat.
220-yard dash—Kalbus, I., first; Bannon, C., second; Otto C., third; time, :22.4.

IDAHO NET MEN TO MEET W. S. C.

Ladder Tourney Will Determine Five-Man Varsity Team
The Idaho varsity tennis team will engage in its first intercollegiate tennis competition, Saturday, April 29th at 2 p. m., when it meets the W. S. C. netmen on the Idaho court. Five singles and two doubles will be played during the course of play.

Men to represent Idaho will be determined by a ladder tourney to be held during the week. Candidates may challenge to two above them. Any one who desires may turn out, providing he is eligible for the Varsity tennis team.

REPORT CONDITIONS GOOD FOR FISHING

Salmon Begin Biting on Clearwater; Local Sportsmen Trek to Lewiston
With the coming of spring and good fishing conditions, faculty and student sportsmen of the campus have once more taken up the weekly trek to Lewiston for salmon fishing. Tom Armour led the ranks of early anglers by taking out a 19 pound fish.

Trout fishermen, who have made trips to the north fork of the Clearwater, report good fishing conditions should last for a week or more.

A letter received from I. L. Murphy of St. Maries, states that the bass have started biting on Chatcolet lake, and that several nice catches were reported at Rocky Point resort the past week. The road by Tekoa is in good condition, but the Harvard hill road is bad.

Salmon fishermen are again pointing toward the Erb hardware prize for the largest salmon taken out of the Clearwater each year by hook and line, which consists of a valuable fishing article. Dr. C. W. Chenoweth lost the prize last year by a margin of six ounces. He had an 18 pound salmon. Entries have to be weighed in at the Erb Hardware. Early reports on the Salmon run indicate that it is larger than in ordinary years.

Fishing in the region of the Little Potlatch near Bovill is reported good, although the fish are small. Streams in this locality will band who are all outstanding musicians with many years of training and experience.

ENGINEER RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Carl von Ende, a senior chemical engineer, has received notice that he has been awarded a scholarship in the chemical engineering department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This award is a recognition of the outstanding work which Mr. von Ende has done while a student in the College of Engineering at the university.

RATINGS REMAIN ABOUT THE SAME

Five Teams Remain Undeleted In Barnyard Golf Tourney
As the dust clears in Lewis Court and the horse shoe flingers quit for the day, the standings remain very little changed. On account of several postponements and forfeits, the schedule has been disorganized for the past week, that the tourney progress has been delayed.

Kappa Sig, Lambda Chi, Lindley, Chi Alpha Pi, and L. D. S. still are unbeaten, having as yet played no games. Lindley won from Sigma Nu and Beta set the Tekes back a notch in the only two games played last week.

Fiji and Delta Tau match was postponed as was the Kappa Sig and Lambda Chi. A. T. O. forfeited to Chi Alpha Pi and S. A. E. failed to appear for their games with Phi Delt.

Today's games include Ridenbaugh vs. Sigma Chi at 4 and T. M. A. vs. Delta Chi at 4:45.

FALLS FROM HORSE

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt tumbled from her horse "Dot" into a puddle of mud in Potomac park recently and said the Capital "might as well get used to it, as I do it regularly."

Unhurt after her fall the First Lady looked at her bespattered habit and said with a smile:
"At least I slid off very gracefully."

Credits are not required for graduation from Hamlin, oldest university in Minnesota. When students are able to pass a comprehensive examination they may receive their diplomas.

1933 GEM THEME CONNECTS STATE WITH UNIVERSITY

Finished Book Will Be On The Campus By May 20
The 1933 Gem of the Mountains, which is rapidly nearing completion, has for its theme the university and state. The industries of the state are featured in developing this theme from cover to cover.

"The theme of this All-Idaho Gem, with the state and the university," said Paul T. Miller, editor, "starts with the cover and is carried out through the rest of the book by views, division pages, subdivision pages, and borders. The small scenes, which are used on the subdivision pages, are all pictures of Idaho scenery."

Cover Unusual
The cover departs from the ordinary by having the design symbolic of the basic industries of the state upon which the economic and industrial structure depends. The art work on the cover as well as in other parts of the book is done in contrasting colors of vermilion and a dark tone, blue in the case of the cover and black on the paper. The borders and division pages are done in this cover combination.

Emphasis in the opening section is placed upon several pictures from different parts of the state portraying the rugged beauty of Idaho. Campus scenes also appear in this section. Some full-color process work will be an important addition to this group of scenic pictures. This section is enlarged and contains more photos than last year's book.

More Pictures
An entirely new proportion has been working out in the events section, giving a neater and more open looking page. More pictures of various phases of campus activity have been added.

The sports section has undergone a few minor changes in make-up, being more comprehensive and representative of sport doings. Individuals and teams heretofore not considered, have been allotted space in this Gem. The panels of this section have been laid out in a slightly different manner, considering the material.

Editor Miller left for Boise last Wednesday to supervise the assembling of the book, and to make final check on the proof.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco — Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.
