IDAHO-GONZAGA
GAME, 1:30 Thurs.

VOLUME XXXV

MOSCOW, IDAHO, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1933

Urge Large Turnout For Last Grid Tilt

Tickets Will Be on Sale at Administration Building
Today and Tomorrow

"Everyone who can possibly make it up to Spokane to the game Thursday should do so. We want to give our team a lot of enthusiastic backing and it will take a lot of cheering at the game to show our support." This statement was made yesterday by Lloyd Klutzel, yell king.

He further urged that all students buy their tickets here before leaving so that all Idaho students will be sitting in the same section at the game.

Tickets for the game will be put on sale this afternoon and Wednesday morning, according to information given out yesterday by George E. Horton, graduate manager of the ASUI. They will be on sale in the Administration building for 75 cents to those having ASUI tickets. The student body tickets must be presented both when the tickets are purchased and also when they are presented at the gate before the game.

Students are getting their tickets at greatly reduced prices as the regular price for admission is $1.65. The game will begin at 1:30 p. m. Thursday Idaho students will all sit in section F in the stadium.

"Be sure and wear your T caps to the game," said the yell king. "We want to give a display of pep that will make people recognize and respect the old Idaho spirit." For the benefit of those who cannot attend the game, it will be broadcast over station KHQ in Spokane.

LAWYERS STAGING BIG LEGAL BATTLE

Accident Case Would Make
Greatest Lawyers Turn
Green With Envy

It was only an automobile accident when it began but a legal procedure is resulting that would turn the greatest lawyers in the country green with envy.

This accident happened some time ago at the corner of Blake and College avenue. John Farquhar failed to stop at the intersection and Warren Russell was driving too fast. Their cars collided, one hitting Miss Eulene Martin as she was crossing the street. No apparent damage resulted and after recovering from the shock, Miss Martin calmly walked from the scene of the accident.

It is reported, however that a young lawyer met Miss Martin and on closer examination it was found that she was suffering from concussion of the brain, a wrenched back, a sprained ankle, several broken ribs, and terrific shock. Consequently she is suing John Farquhar and Warren Russell for $50,500.25. The defendants were certain of a quick trial and acquittal until faced with the legal facts of the case—this is what has taken place:

Ask For Bill of Particulars

The plaintiff, Miss Martin, filed a complaint suing the two defendants, Farquhar and Russell. However the defendants answered that the facts of the case weren't sufficient and asked for a bill of particulars. Then the plaintiff denied that the facts weren't clear enough. Suddenly the plaintiff changed her mind, withdrew the denial and filed her own particulars.

The defendants then demurred with gusto. The plaintiff filed an answer to the complaint and Monday afternoon they argued the demurer. Prof. Berton Hopkins, the court, took it under advisement and if he overrules, it will be necessary for the defendant to answer. It is expected that this mock trial, which the members of the law school are trying, will take place sometime after Thanksgiving.

NOTICE

The University library will remain closed all of Thanksgiving day but will be open from 7:45 a. m. until 12 and 1:30 p. m. until 5 p. m. on Friday and Saturday of this week. It will not be open in the evenings, however. Customary hours will be kept next Sunday.

Exhibit of Art and Architecture Will Be Displayed Here

An exhibit of contemporary architecture of various universities will be shown in the art and architecture department on Wednesday evening. This exhibit is the first of four or five exhibits, the last of which will show the design for the Paris exhibit. The subjects of the exhibit are: Nurses Home, Tin Chateau d'eau, Small Furniture Factory, and a Walled Garden. Schools exhibiting are John Huntington Polytechnic Inst., Carnegie Institute of Technology, New York University, University of Illinois, and Armour Institute.

Students from thirty states and from three distant lands, Japan, China, and Hawaii, have registered in the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri. There are two students from Japan and China, and one from Hawaii.

BAND WILL WORK DURING "VACATION"

Ames Outlines Full Program; Not to Make
Southern Trip Now

Wednesday afternoon the Idaho Pep band will leave Moscow for a full "vacation" in Spokane, according to Bill Ames, leader of the group. Besides playing for general ballyhoo Thursday before the Gonzaga-Idaho game and at the game, a number of the members of the organization will play for a series of dances in Spokane.

Wednesday a orchestra made up of members of the band will play at Lareda's dance hall and Thursday night the same orchestra will vie for the honors with Mann Brothers orchestra at the Garden in Spokane. "Both dances will be college affairs," said Ames, "and you won't make a mistake in dropping in on either one or both."

No Southern Trip
"The band has decided against pressing the matter of a southern Idaho tour at this time," said Ames last night. "The primary aim of the tour was to contact the high school students, but it was felt that this would be easier to accomplish in the annual spring trip."

The ASUI was to have backed the band in this enterprise, but as the fund for musical functions is limited the band voted to postpone the trip until the treasury was in better shape to handle such a tour. The matter was placed before the executive board at its last meeting.

HOLIDAYS START WEDNESDAY NITE

Deduct 10 Points for Failure to Attend Last Class

Thanksgiving vacation will begin after the last classes on Wednesday and will last until 8 a. m., Monday according to information released from the office of the registrar recently.

Ten points will be deducted from the grade of students who fail to attend their last class on Wednesday before vacation or those who cut their first class after vacation ends. This rule is based according to Ella Olesen, registrar, on rule 32 of the University Admission Requirements and Regulations.

This rule specifies that: "Students who absent themselves from classes immediately before or after vacation (exclusive of single holiday shall have their final grade reduced ten points in each course in which the absence was incurred. Absence before and after vacations, date from the last class the student attended prior to the vacation, to the first class attended after vacation." This rule will be followed implicitly," said Miss Olesen.

STUDENTS WILL NOT FIGHT

Pledging themselves to go to jail rather than fight in the event of war, 200 Columbia university students, in addition to a score of faculty members, recently were on record for pacifism.

JOURNALISM GROUP ENTERTAINS FORTY

Women members of the Argonaut staff were guests of Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary at a breakfast at the Blue Bucket Sunday morning. About 40 members and guests were present. Entertainment consisted of two numbers by the violin trio composed of Bill Ames, Dick Edwards, and Wendell Olson; and a number by the vocal trio composed of Harold Boyd, Wendell Olson, and Orville Westburg. Guests of honor were Mrs. Edith Abbott Coleman, member of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism honorary for women, Mrs. Elmer F. Beth, member of Coronto, also a national journalism honorary, and Norma Longels, president of the group last year.

URGE ALL JUNIORS TO ATTEND MIXER

Better Acquaintance is the Motif of Third Year
Class Members

"We hope that every one of the 241 junior men and the 118 junior women will forego all other interests tonight at 8:30 and go to the Blue Bucket Inn for what promises to be something new in the way of a class mixer," said Paul Rust, junior class president, Monday.

"The nature of our entertainment, entitled 'Under a Window', and the identity of the performers we are keeping as a surprise, but we will disclose the fact that it will be the work of juniors and will link with our 'better acquainted' motif for a strictly class mixer," Rust commented last night.

There will not be an advanced ticket sale as was stated in Friday's Argonaut, but the expenses will be defrayed by paid admissions of 25 cents for men and 10 cents for women to be taken at the door. A junior representative was appointed in each house to arouse enthusiasm among the juniors in that group.

"Our advertising for the mixer is being entrusted to these junior representatives, and with their cooperation we feel that the largest possible number of juniors will attend the mixer tonight and make it distinctly a junior affair."

Dance at 8:30
Dancing will start at 8:30 p. m. promptly and continue until 10:30 p. m., with all the dances being tags. The special dance committee has worked out a scheme for trading dances which will create the desired atmosphere of getting acquainted with as many new juniors as possible.

"Our desire to get the juniors acquainted for their outstanding social affair of the year, Junior week next spring, should suffice to make it clear that we don't expect any other students at the mixer other than the senior women who are invited to attend in order to even up the number of men and women. Should this statement fail to accomplish the desired result, however, we have more forceful means on which to depend," Rust concluded.

Fifteen Gonzaga Seniors to Play Against Vandals

Fifteen seniors will be among the Gonzaga Bulldogs who will attempt to repeat Gonzaga's last year win over Idaho here Thanksgiving day. And among those seniors is the entire Gonzaga first string forward wall, except the center.

The line regulars—all two year lettermen—who will write finis to their careers Turkey day are: James Van Sistine and Howard Hurd, ends; Captain Bob Bellinger and William Van Sistine, tackles; Krank Barker, Philip Poth, and William Maher guards.

Frankie Carroll, halfback, will be the only serious backfield loss. Others concluding their years of play against Idaho Thursday are: William Healy, fullback; Donald Hendrickson, halfback; John Smith, guard; William Cullen, end; Emerson Morgan, quarterback; Edwin Chambers, end; Edward Tenoski, guard.

STUDENT RESCUED FROM HIGH PERCH

Hugh Calton had a choice seat at a recent Penn football game. So choice that a dozen policemen, a fire truck, a seventy-five-foot ladder, and a company of firemen had to help him out.

Unable to buy a ticket, he saw the game from the rim of the outside wall of the stadium. When the game was over, he found it harder to leave the seat than it had been to get it. He called for help. Policemen ordered him down but Calton's legs were too weak. A hook and ladder company rescued him and he was booked on charges of trespassing.

ANNOUNCE RATES OF RAILROADS AND BUSSES TO GAME

Not Enough Students for a
Special Thanksgiving
Day Train

ROUND TRIP FARE $2.55

Northern Pacific, Great Northern, and Union Pacific Give Schedules

No special train will be run to Spokane for the Thanksgiving holidays and the Idaho-Gonzaga game, according to information given to the Argonaut Monday afternoon by local station agents. Regular round trip fares will be charged on the tickets which will be good for 25 days following their issuance.

"The principle reason for having no special train is that Thanksgiving is a four day vacation and the train officials demand a guarantee of a full train both coming and going," said Rollin Hunter, chairman of the Blue Key committee. "So many students will be returning to the campus during the remainder of the week after the game and not enough would be returning at any one time to warrant the running of a train."

Rates on
All trains and busses leaving Moscow will have rates of $2.55 for the round trip this week end. Local schedules of trains and busses to Spokane follow:

Northern Pacific
Leave Moscow—9:45 a. m. and 4:55 p. m.
Arrive Spokane—1 p. m. and 8:15 p. m.

Great Northern
Leave Moscow—8:40 a. m. and 9:40 p. m.

Union Pacific
Leave Moscow—8 a. m., 12:55 p. m., and 7:55 p. m.
Arrive Spokane—11 a. m., 3 p. m., and 11 p. m.

IDAHO RIFLE TEAM TO BEGIN PRACTICE

Ten Men of Last Year's Squad Will Be Firing
Again This Season

The University of Idaho rifle team will begin training under the able direction of Captain W. A. Hale, December 5, for what promises to be a very successful year.

"We won 36 out of 37 matches last year," said Alex Morgan, manager, "and with ten men of that squad back this year, we ought to make a good showing."

Interest in this sport has been rapidly growing at the university. Two years ago a chapter of the National Rifle association was established here, and it is now one of the foremost chapters in the United States. Many have been pleased by the improvements made in the rifle pits at the gymnasium.

Reduced Arms Appropriations
All the competing teams will be affected by a national reduction in arms appropriations. Members of the Idaho team believe that this will make competition more keen this year. The squads will have to be smaller and will necessarily confine their numbers to the more skilled and experienced marksmen. Very few new recruits can be used, particularly at this university, unless they show unusual marksmanship. Rifle team men back from the squad last year are: Robert Aimes, Robert Moser, Donald Griffith, Vernon Nelson, John Crowe, Victor Baumgarten, Donald Ridings, Louis Ensign, Ed Turner, and Alex Morgan.

FINCH DISCUSSES J. P. MORGAN CO.

Dean Tells Business Honorary
Workings of Large Company

First hand information on the firm of J. P. Morgan was given by Dean J. W. Finch of the School of Mines when he spoke at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi, business honorary, Sunday morning at the Blue Bucket. Dean Finch was an associate of the J. P. Morgan company at one time, and represented the firm on trips to South Africa and to the Orient. In his talk, he explained how the company works and what its connections are.

Other faculty members in attendance at the meeting were: Dean R. H. Farmer, Dr. Erwin Graue, Mr. W. J. Wilde, and Mr. E. E. Davison.
The next meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi will be this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Ad. 211.

NINE MEN TAKEN INTO MINING GROUP

The Idaho chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national mining fraternity, initiated nine new members at a meeting Thursday. Those initiated were: Roy J. Quinstrom, Trail, E. C. Henry J. Giesler, Rupert; Wray Featherstone, Wallace; Robert B. Austin, Spokane, Wn.; Robert Humphreys, Moscow; Darrell R. Larsen, Rexburg; Veral F. Hammerand, Harlan, Iowa; Carl Hayes, Gem; William Kleiner, Moscow. Plans were also discussed at the meeting for a joint session with the Pullman chapter to receive the Idaho State Inspector of Mines on or about December 8.

ANNOUNCE EDITOR FOR COED PAPER

Frances Hanley Will Head
Women's Publication
December 12

Frances Hanley, senior in journalism has been appointed editor of the Coed Argonaut which will be published December 12. This issue of the Argonaut is published every year, and all work on it is done by women. The first Coed Argonaut appeared about fifteen years ago, and was originally for the purpose of promoting activities for women on the Idaho campus. It contained mainly women's news, and that type is still featured in it.

Since the first Coed Argonaut, the women on the campus have taken over one edition of the paper each year and done the work without the aid of men. The editor is appointed by the editor of the Argonaut, and she chooses her staff from women in journalism and those working on the regular Argonaut staff. Her staff will be announced next week.

The women editors for the last four years have been Mary Murphy, Elizabeth Taylor Dick, Elsie Lafferty Olmstead, and Marjorie Druding. Miss Hanley is president of Theta Sigma, journalism honorary for women and is cotrans editor on the regular staff of the Argonaut. She has also acted on publicity committees for campus events.

LOCAL BRIDGERS PLAN TOURNEY

Lieutenant Sheehy and Louis
Boas Sponsor Card Contest For Faculty Members and Townspople

In order that the townspeople might take part in a contract bridge tournament, Lieut. J. W. Sheehy, and Louis A. Boas, editor of The Star-Mirror, are sponsoring a bridge tournament for faculty members and townspeople to be held at the Blue Bucket Inn December 7, 12, and 14. The Mitchell Movement system is to be the type of contract played and the contest will be ruled by the Official United States Contract Duplicate Bridge rules, said Lieutenant Sheehy Monday. Scoring for the tournament will be by the Match Point system.

Lieut. Sheehy announced that the contest will be limited to 22 couples, divided into three groups, from 1 to 10, from 11 to 16, and from 17 to 22. Prizes are to be awarded to the first two highest and to the winner of each division. An entrance fee of one dollar will be charged each couple entering the contest, he said.

CLUB DISCUSSES ATHLETIC PSYCH

Ragsdale Says Problems Involve
Transfer of Training And Development of Ideals

The Allport Psychology club held its regular meeting last night at College hall, at which time officers were elected for the coming year. They are: George Burroughs, president; Alfred Stearns, secretary; and Grace Morley, treasurer. There were 53 members and 60 guests present.

Following the business meeting, Professor C. E. Ragsdale of the psychology department gave an address on the relationship between athletics and psychology. This relationship is not found in devising tricks for winning games, but in procedures used by coaches and athletes by examining the principles of human conduct upon which they are based," he said. "I am content to leave it to them to make such practical use of my investigations as they see fit."

"The most important problems arising in connection with the results of athletics are those of transfer of training and the development of ideals," he said. Then he pointed out that this transfer and these ideals depend upon the methods used in teaching athletics, the personality of the coach, and the ability of the athlete to

Cosmopolitan Club
Attends Meeting
At Pullman

Twenty-one members of the Cosmopolitan club of Moscow went to Pullman Friday evening to attend an exchange meeting held in the Presbyterian church. They were accompanied by Dean J. G. Eldridge, Dr. Henrietta J. Tromanbauer, Dr. A. C. Lemon, and Mrs. J. P. Wedin. During the evening they were entertained by a short musical program.

These meetings are held annually. The officers from Pullman and Moscow have one meeting a year, and the club from Pullman will come to Moscow for a spring picnic. Dean Eldridge, Fred Fulton, and Mrs. Wedin are the advisors of the Cosmopolitan club.

GRADUATE WRITES SCRIBNER ARTICLE

Is Son of Former University
President; Was Argonaut
Editor

An article in the November issue of Scribner's magazine, "War on the Brain Trust," by Ernest K. Lindley, B. A. '20, tells of the origin of the so-called "brain trust," an organization of university professors, prodigies, and presidents of big firms. These men are helping to carry out and design the plans for the new administration. War on the "brain trust," according to Mr. Lindley, is one of the expressions of the conflict between the old regime and the new.

"Probably never before in its history has the federal government found important roles for so many men of fertile minds and broad social point of view," he says. "These men are a menace to the special interests which are struggling to maintain their power in a period of revolutionary change."

Was Rhodes Scholar

Mr. Lindley, a Rhodes scholar, was editor of the Argonaut in '17 and '18 and played varsity basketball the same years. His father, a former president of the university, is now in Lawrence, Kansas. At present Mr. Lindley is on the political staff of The New York Herald-Tribune. He is the author of "The Roosevelt Revolution."

"I" CLUB GIVES BIG SEND-OFF

Thirty-four Bidden to Rousing
Party For Tradition
Violators

As a warming send-off, an appetizer for a Thanksgiving dinner, or something to be thankful for, any way they like to take it, the "I" club has prepared a party for 34 errant members of the student body who have been found guilty of green cap and cords tradition violations. The party will be held Wednesday noon at 12:45 at the usual gathering place in front of the Ad building.

The lucky ones invited are: Frank Gibson, Bob Krumpes, Fran Buchanan, Paul Fuller, Art Sliker, Bob McFadden, Bert Larsen, Ed Myers, Vos Darby, Bill Baker, James Black, Ralph Spaugy, John Owens, Bob King, Wilfred Fry, Arthur Pecka, Wallace Hallstrom, Reino Oja, Alessio Caparaso, Bell Kenney, Ernie Smith, Rodney Kagen, Harold Kaeser, Abe Lincoln, Jack Jensen, Tom Vandyke, Clyde Koonits, Gerald Honsovet, Frank Randall, John Bromet, Robert Smith, Earnest Oberlig, and Howard Russell.

Generalize upon his experience. These are not inherent, but may be a means for developing such ideals."

Athletics No War Substitute
Contrary to the belief of many people, Professor Ragsdale stated, "Our examination of facts does not bear out the assumption that athletic contests may be substituted for war." He further adds that athletics make good soldiers.

He is a firm believer that the attempts of a team to outguess its opponents are based on the principles of suggestion and muscle training. He also said that many games are lost because of illusions. "Coaches must be made to understand that valuable results can

Entire Campus to Cast Ballots for the Lucky
Women

For the first time in the history of the University of Idaho, the Gem of the Mountains is sponsoring a beauty contest to select four Idaho women for a beauty section in the annual ASUI election. Each women's group will have nominated two candidates from their groups by tonight and the names will be turned in to Clayne Robison, editor.

The list of candidates will be announced in next Tuesday's Argonaut, and voting will take place during that week. The voting will not be by a regular ASUI election, but ballots will be distributed to every group on the campus, and arrangements will be made in order that every student registered in the university will vote.

Cast Three Votes
Everybody will cast three votes, in order of their first, second, and third choices from the entire list of nominations. The four women receiving the highest number of votes will be selected for the beauty section of the Gem. The names of these four will be kept Clayne Robison secret and not announced until the Gem comes off the press in the Spring.

There has been no beauty section in the Gem of the Mountains since the 1927 edition, and the selections were made then by a committee. For the past two years, the I club has chosen a beauty queen, but both of these selections have been made on the basis of personality, activities, and scholarship as well as beauty. This is the first time that co-eds have

IDAHO-GONZAGA ARE IN SAME BOAT

Vandals and Bulldogs Have Both Had Share of Tough Luck

By John Reddy,
Sports Editor, Gonzaga University
(Special to the Argonaut)

Mike Pecarovich of Gonzaga and Leo Calland of Idaho, pretty much in the same boat all year in regards to tough luck showings, will be doing their best to stage plank walking expeditions for each other when the rival gridiron gladiators come to grips in the Gonzaga stadium, Thanksgiving day.

Leo will be inserting slippery Willis Smith into the game and muttering, "this should fix that Jonah," whereas Mike will in all probability be giving the boys the eye, meaning, "toss a pass in there you." So all in all it will be an unneighborly afternoon with Mr. Pecarovich trying to "douse" Mr. Calland and vice versa.

And what a tough luck string those two "outfits" have rolled up. Both of them were looking toward the best season in years and both got rewarded with just about the worst. Gonzaga never fully recovered from that first game that was supposed to bring the first installment of seasonal win laurels but brought rather a tough Washington club, a torrential downpour, and a nice healthy start on an epidemic of injuries. Gonzaga managed to push those factors into the background and to gain an even break in the statistics with the Phenomena, but the Huskies captured the only points that day and they totaled 13.

Bowed to Oregon

Still groggy from that dose of grief Gonzaga met one of the best elevens of the country, in Oregon, and tired and patched again bowed by a two score margin, 14-0. Undaunted the Zags were in Multnomah stadium the following week end and more tired and more patched were still good enough to get a scoreless draw with Oregon State's Iron Immortals, who in turn managed to beat Fordham and to snap Southern California's winning march. The other ones dropped by the Blue were equally tough. Montana topped off a season of precedent breaking by coming from behind in the last half to write in more misery on the Gonzaga record when they averaged a 68-13 drubbing of the previous year with a 13-7 win. Washington State did the same sort of thing, topping Gonzaga 16-0.

A little mathematics with that assembled grief reveals that using

What the Governor Said to the Press

It has been dinner table conversation for a couple of days now, and it's probably all settled, but we are still just slightly confused about this thing called law and order by the remarks that the governor of California made to the press. The occasion, of course, was the recent lynching at San Jose where everyone got out his old rope and went off to hang the kidnapers' bodies to the old pine tree. After it was all over the Governor said, in effect, that it was a nice party. Everyone had a good time breaking the laws. We ought to hold those things oftener. And so, we're confused. In fact, we are completely befuddled.

The impression that we had at first was that the good people, not only of California, but of the entire country were quite irate because a young man had been kidnapped and murdered. Even without laws against such things, that would make people at least irked. But, basically, the justification for people's wrath was because a law had been broken. It was a good law. It should not have been broken, and the sovereign state of California had provided that anyone who broke it should be hanged by the neck until quite dead. Not only that, but in this case, the machinery of justice was already functioning at high speed to put that penalty into effect.

Then came the mob. With battering rams and shouts, urged on by passion, with reason on a vacation, the still good folks of San Jose decided to take the law into their own hands—and they did it most effectively. That, too, probably could well be excused on the basis of mob psychology or some other catch all. The fact that these very people who were so up in arms because some one else murdered a man and broke a law took upon themselves the onus of breaking the laws right and left and themselves murdered two men, is, of course, a mere nothing. That hardly enters into our confusion.

The thing which goes the farthest in bringing about our state of wonderment is the attitude of the public officials in regard to the matter both before and after lynching. Here we have been struggling along under the impression that the primary test of good citizenship was whether or not we could abide by the laws of the land as dictated by our duly elected representatives. We knew, of course, that laws were broken, but we thought that the objective of good government was to enforce the laws, to live within them—at least the good ones. But now, we have the Governor of a great state informing us that the example set by the people of San Jose in taking the law into their own hands—particularly where the machinery of justice was legally bringing about the desired results—was a fine thing, a great example.

We wouldn't have the Governor engage in the mock goodness of many public officials and appear to be outraged by what had happened—after it had happened. But we would have had the governor do something besides overlooking the fact that proper precautions were not taken to give the prisoners the protection which is due every man, guilty or not, under the constitution and laws of our government.

Can it be that the officials of California did not read the daily press which carried in its reports the fact that a vigilante committee was being formed? Did they not read when that committee said they would act? Surely, they knew what was coming; and yet the arm of the law was carefully timed to arrive by boat and motor, after the lynching had taken place.

Is it any wonder that some confusion arises? Public officials sworn to uphold the law, condone the breaking of it. On that principle there is nothing justifiable about the arrest of any criminal for any criminal act. —P. T. M.

Don'ts For A College Education

Don't make any better than a C average. There's no need, and to do it is wasted energy and inefficiency. Collegians are always cautioned against inefficiency.

Don't take any hard courses. Take all snaps and don't study over 10 minutes a day. If you do, you'll make a high average and get to be a Phi Beta Kappa, maybe. If possible don't study at all. Take professors out to dinner and get your grade that way.

Don't neglect your social education. Don't miss digs or deacons dances, for at these you may meet the only girl. If you meet one with money and a car, don't fail to take advantage of the opportunity. Start going steady.

Don't miss football games. Be the rawest of all rah-rah boys.

Don't fail to pledge a fraternity and live at the house. The professors won't educate you, but the boys will.

Don't lose too much sleep. If your social life requires that stay out late, make it up in class. The instructors won't mind, unless you snore.

Don't go out for athletics. It's too much hard work. Of course, if you are all-American material and the school will support you, that's different.

Don't fail to get into politics. Be the student body president if you can.

If you follow the above don'ts, it is guaranteed that you'll have the same chance at getting a position when you graduate as anyone else, and you will have had a much more enjoyable time at college. Naturally, there's an easier way still. To be a real success, pick your parents. Have them with lots of money and then spend all you can get your hands on. You'll have nothing to worry about for if you'll remember, all things come to he who has, and if it doesn't he who has can get.—Daily Trojan.

The boiling pots of sentiment

for the perpetuation of academic freedom and a defense against an unjustified attack upon the university ran over at the University of Oregon recently with a general shakeup of the state board of education and a clarifying of the position of a number of individuals connected with the university and Oregon State college in the smoldering conflict which has been in the offing for some time.

The climax of the whole matter comes in the resignation of Roscoe C. Nelson, president of the state board of education. A general synopsis of the affairs leading up to the president's resignation is as follows, quoting from an article in The Oregon Emerald for November 8:

"This latest development (the resignation of Nelson) was regarded as nearly the closing chapter in the brief history of one of the most tumultuous uprisings in the history of higher education in Oregon. Last Thursday Nelson in addresses on this campus and in Corvallis attacked the portions of the university student body which were antagonistic to the chancellor, and dubbed as carping, critical censoriousness the attitude of the Emerald and other publications. He said a small coterie, characterized as 'catlines,' had formed a cabal to make life miserable for the chancellor. At Corvallis he assured the student body of his affection and interest in the Oregon State college.

"A storm of protest from the university followed, of which the high point was a speech delivered by Dean Wayne L. Morse, dean of the Oregon School of Law, at an alumni luncheon a week ago, attacked by a 'plot that is so rotten it stinks to high heaven.' Tackling Nelson's stand and charging that Chancellor Kerr was selling out Monday the university faculty unanimously endorsed the sentiments of Morse and in a resolution demanded the resignation of Nelson. A student resolution signed by approximately 1250 undergraduates backed the faculty in this action, deploring the fact that Nelson's speech had tended to widen the breach between the university and the state college."

IDAHO-GONZAGA GAME

even it as a basis for comparison, this year's game still stacks up evenly. Gonzaga made a better showing against Oregon and Washington than the Vandals could manage but the red clad crew did their bit against W. S. C. and Montana, and more effectively than could the Spokane team.

Bulldogs Reappear

The Gonzagans will have all the factors that enabled them to make such a fine showing in the face of difficulties and some that if they had had before might have averted the difficulties. The line will still be protected at the flanks by Hurd and Jim Van Sistine, an iron-man pair. Bob Bellingor, Gonzaga captain and great tackle whose loss so greatly weakened that forward wall in mid-season contests will be in perfect shape. And finally Pierce Murphy, the pivot-man absent since the Husky game will be ready for service though it is likely that pepper box Jim Parks will start.

It's in the backfield however that the key to the game will lie and check why. Reason number one is Laffayette "Little Sam" McNeese whose flying feet once carried him over the cinders in a 9.9 century. The stocky Los Angeles boy had them doing the same sort of flying when he got his chance against Columbia and it netted Gonzaga two touchdowns and their second win. Against the Cliffdwellers McNeese, who, incidentally wears Krauses old number 50, got the scores, the first on the second play after the ball came into Gonzaga's possession, when he romped through the Columbia defense so speedily that no defenders could pick him up, enabling him to snag a long toss from Carroll for a score. His second scoring jaunt came when he took a reverse and fled wide around the end running away from everyone for the six points.

But there are other factors that aren't labeled surprise. There are Will Key and John Kearns, the punters both back in harness after serious injuries, and "Chugg" Justice who looked so good against Oregon State, and "The" Peterson who should find himself after a series of position shifts. Having shaken injuries if this Blue backfield can now get underway it should produce an offense capable of winning this gall game if, of course, the Gonzagans show the same sort of defensive strength evinced before this year.

Having now, for the only time during the present campaign achieved full strength the dapper Gonzaga coach hopes to get the same sort of mental reaction, the kind that was showing in the Columbia game, and if he can collect these ifs perhaps he'll have a win though he's dubious. Idaho carries the odds and should win but Gonzaga will stage a tough, and probably their most interesting battle of the year.

Grins and Gripes To The Editor

"Hotfoot" Gripes On Crowded Floor

I wish that I lived in Pullman and had some capital. Since I don't and I haven't, I would like to pass this little suggestion along to some enterprising Pullmanite who I hope will get a chance to read this item. The gripe is that we are all getting a little tired of the regular Saturday night struggle on the floor of the Blue Buckets with the ever increasing influx of W. S. C. "hotfoots."

I realize that their money is just as hard as ours, that they get just as much pleasure out of dancing on a good floor to good music as we do, and that we all enjoy the contacts which are made socially with the boys and girls from across the line. However, it is the physical contacts which make it just a little hard on us.

Continually I have heard Washington State students cry about the fact that they have no place to go in Pullman which compares to our Blue Buckets as a place to dance. They do not enjoy having to make the trip over here and rush back in time to get their dates in on time. We would enjoy having them come over were it not for the small floor and crowded condition which always results.

Here's the idea, Pullman. Build your students a place to enjoy themselves on week ends such as the one of which we are so proud, but have such a hard time trying to enjoy, and we will gladly exchange the W. S. C. students' dollars for our bruised shins and broken toes.

The same old greetings and salutations:

Well, this is the day when we get down to business and talk turkey.

At last the reason for the camping of the Kappa frosh has come to light. It seems as how the upperclassmen were tired of not getting any dates, so they proceeded to do something about it. And so, it seems that the frosh are back in circulation again.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Apache Dance Features Week-end

The Tau Kappa Epsilon Apache dance Friday night was the main social event of last week end. Sigma Alpha Epsilon held an informal dance at the chapter house Friday night and Saturday night Kappa Alpha Theta had a "Scavenger Party."

T. K. E. Holds Original Affair

Down a chute into a pit of darkness, through black corridors, up and down stairs, and then through a manhole—that was the way the guests of Tau Kappa Epsilon got into the Sewers of Paris at the Apache dance which was held Friday night at the chapter house. The decorations of the dance room carefully carried out the sewer idea. The room was entirely surrounded by painted stone walling. All the windows were covered with the exception of two which were grided to look like the openings of the sewer. Tables of different card games, and a bar were the other attractions besides the dancing. The programs were gray with modernistic sketch of a man and a woman doing an Apache dance. The printing on the inside was all done in French. Dances were exchanged in a cat-a-catch-can manner, with no arrangement. Patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Hugo Johnson, Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Henkle, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Livingston. Music was furnished by the Three Musketeers. The guest list included: Jane Merrick, Marie Bertram, Judith Crites, Clarabelle Turner, Katherine Schustenthelm, Elvera Nelson, Alice Kelly, Dorothy Armstrong, Dorothy Rosevear, Phyllis Temby, Betty Dahl, Marian Graham, Geraldine McCarty, Jessie Kenney, Katherine Smith, Georgina Howarth, Evelyn Jones, Laura McGrath, Carol Adams, Eileen Kennedy, Alice Morris, Dorothy Yturri, Phyllis Wright, Helen Keimholz, Roberta Matthews, Maurina Aldecoa, Helen, Creaser, Pauline Matthews, Margaret Greene, Mildred Elliot, Douglas Cordon, Cyril Geraghty, Melvine Magee, Eva Oberg, Cella Moss, Kathryn Logan, Evelyn James, Ethel Hansen, Fern Erickson, Paul Jones, Marvin Jones, James Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zornes, and Clare Hunt. John Gabriel, Richard Green, and Hal Roach, were guests from guests from Washington State college.

Thetas Have Novel Dance

A novel idea for entertainment was carried out in the "Scavenger Party" given at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Saturday night. The members of the party were divided into groups of three couples, and each group was given a list of nonsensical articles which they were to beg, borrow, or steal, and return with to the chapter house within two hours after the hunt started. The lists asked for such articles as fur-lined bath tubs, live files, etc. The group obtaining the most articles specified on their list was awarded a prize. After the hunt refreshments were served, and from 10:30 to 11:30 the members and their escorts enjoyed dancing. Mrs. Gertrude Pecar was the hostess, and Benny Lutz played for the dance. The guests were: Betty Robb, Paris Martin, John Theriault, Joe Gauss, Frank Stevens, Paul Berg, Darrell Larsen, Paul Wright, Elmo Higginson, Bob Moser, Bill Kennedy, Carroll Livingston, George Swisher, John Crowe, Parris Kail, Douglas Guy, Russell Garst, Ronald Martin, Bob Skinklov, Bill Brallsford, Bob Brallsford, Ferd Koch, Harold Ellingson, Eugene Ryan, William David, Mark Felt, Dick Woodward, Kenneth Esmay, Harold Kaeser, Jean Nickolson, and Wesley Nock.

Miss Betty Robb, Seattle, district president of Kappa Alpha Theta, was a week end guest of the chapter house. Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5, the chapter honored Miss Robb at a tea at which Pan-Hellenic representatives, and alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained. Friday evening the members of the sorority gave a formal dinner. The guests were: Miss Betty Robb, Seattle; Mrs. Edward Poulton, Mrs. Dorothy Pierce, and Mrs. Jean Anderson, Moscow.

Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Cynthia Daly, Edith Slatter, and Ruth Ferney, were dinner guests of Alpha Tau Omega Sunday.

Alva LeSourd and Florence Harrison, Seattle, were week end guests of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Kenneth Bush, Spokane, province chief of Alpha Tau Omega, was a week end guest at the chapter house.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained at an informal dance on Friday at their chapter house. Patrons and patronesses were: Captain and Mrs. Hale, Mr. A. E. Whitehead, and Miss Pauline Lemar. The guest list included: Homer Harrison, Fullman, Paul Selby, and Mr. and Mrs. John Black of Moscow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blanchard and Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Cooper were Sunday dinner guests of Delta Gamma.

Sunday dinner guests of Delta Chi were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oberg, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Gee, Miss Ruth Manning, and Walter Wallstra, Wendel.

Miss Frieda Bethmann, Pardee, was a week end guest at Hays hall.

Jean Weyland and Margaret Marcus of Kellogg were week end guests of Delta Gamma.

Mr. D. A. Anderson, Pocatello, was a house guest Friday of Alpha Phi.

Sigma Nu entertained at a buffet supper Sunday evening at the chapter house. Guests were: Dean and Mrs. Messenger, Mrs. Elizabeth Given, Barbara Lipps, Fern Paulsen, Lois Davies, Marion Graham, Gail Friend, Pamela Persons, Louise Wilson, Marjorie Talbot, Mary K. Riley, Rebecca Flack, Leila Gabbey, Gretchen Woodcock, Inez Equals, Fredericka Smith, Jane Thomas, Jean Ricker, Helen Brown, Helen Neely, and Helen Wilson.

Miss Lena Shoup and Miss Permeal French entertained the housewifery of the various group houses at dinner Monday evening. Guests were: Mrs. R. L. Campbell, Mrs. Stella Keys, Mrs. M. G. Reid, Mrs. Elizabeth Given, Mrs. Harrison Devereaux, Mrs. Gertrude Pecar, Mrs. Lenore Scott, Mrs. W. A. Ritchie, Mrs. Harry J. Smith, and Mrs. Jennie R. Cairns.

Kappa Kappa Gamma gave an informal tea Friday in honor of Mrs. Lenore Scott. The house mothers and two representatives from each house were invited. The color scheme of yellow was carried out in flowers and tapers. Mrs. Scott wore a crasage of roses and violets.

Week end guests of Beta Theta Pi, were: George Lemich, Oille Boni, Walter Reinling, Richard Chlars, Dean Utt, Robert Dudley, Robert Moore, Mr. Edmond Alko, Mr. Thomas Jones, Sven Moe, Charles Simons, Earnest Homuth, Kellogg, and Judge C. A. Batzle, Wallace.

Chi Alpha Pi entertained the following girls from Hays hall at a dance exchange on Thursday: Carolyn Carnahan, Elvera Nelson, Helen Blackaby, Dorothy Rosever, Doris McDermott, Dorothy Reque, Margaret Oranhood, Harriet Norris, Darleen Peach, Alma Almqvist, Jeanette Wines, and Ethel Azucenaga.

Week end guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma were Sally Gibson, Betty Summers, Fullman, and Noila White, Lewiston.

KAPPA PHIS HOLD MEETING SATURDAY

Home and foreign missions was the topic of the Kappa Phi meeting held Saturday afternoon, at the Methodist church. The annual intercession service, which is held at Thanksgiving time in honor of Kappa Phi girls who are in active Christian work, was also celebrated in connection with the meeting.

"Building Bridges" was the study subject. Mildred Carson, the leader, took the girls across an imaginary bridge representing the church. One side was devoted to home missions and the other to foreign. Glimpses into the different types of work of each showed how many bridges have been built and how many remain to be built.

Edna Scott, Kappa Phi president, conducted the intercession service, assisted by Mrs. J. Hugo Johnson, Alice Bell, Helen Martin, Judith Crites, Alene Riley, Rosella Smith, Dorothy Good, Helen Helen Keimholz, and Ellen Hulme.

Faculty guests of Hays hall on Wednesday were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Iddings, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. von Ende, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. DuSault, and Mrs. Margaret L. Sergeant.

Mr. Howard Heath, Kellogg, was a week end guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Glenn Gage was a week end guest of Chi Alpha Pi.

NO BEER FOR WOMEN

A city ordinance has been passed to prevent women from entering pool halls in Boise where beer is sold. The law was presented by City Attorney Clarence Ward because pool hall proprietors complained women "lined up at the bar for beer and interfere with business."

TO GIVE PRE-MED ENTRANCE EXAMS

According to an announcement by Dr. J. A. Kostalek, dean of the College of Letters and Science, a medical aptitude test for all students who will apply for entrance to the medical school in 1934, will be given December 6, at 2 p. m. The test which is given annually will cover thoroughly all phases of pre-medical education. Dean Kostalek said that 15 students will take the examination.

These medical aptitude tests are given all over the United States and are the same everywhere in order to have a standard by which pre-medical students may be judged.

ENGINEERS GET HIGH GRADES

Five freshmen of the College of Engineering received grades above 5.2 for the nine weeks. They are: Sherman Kelly, Twin Falls, 5.58; Charles Garison, Nyssa, Oregon—5.44; Henry Wellner, Twin Falls—5.44; Addison Beeman, Gooding—5.36; Harold Sparks, Caldwell—5.27.

something "appropriate," becoming, and comfortable. A cute trick to play on your friends is to say, "I hear the senior ball is to be a sport dance this year" and watch the turmoil. The color scheme of the moment is turkey brown and cranberry red.

Dinner guests at the Kappa Sigma house Sunday were George Turner, Jack McKibbin, and Perry Neely, all of Moscow.

Mrs. Kenneth Bush, Spokane, was a dinner guest of Kappa Alpha Theta Saturday evening.

Helen Neely was a dinner guest Sunday of Alpha Phi.

Gonzaga Tussle Winds Up Grid Season

SPORT SHOP
By BILL McCREA

With their 1933 conference season finished, the Vandals have been working as usual to sharpen their attack and strengthen their defense in preparation for the always dangerous Gonzaga team. Last year the Vandals dropped a 20 to 7 decision after leading 7 to 6 until the fourth quarter. The Gonzaga aerial attack netted the Bulldogs a pair of touchdowns in the last canto.

The Gonzaga outfit has played a schedule this year that would have done credit to any team on the Pacific coast. Oregon State, Oregon, Washington State, and Montana have all had tough battles from the Bulldogs. In addition they have met the U. of San Francisco, Columbia, and the Seattle West Side Athletic club. The last two teams mentioned were the only two to lose to the Zags, but Oregon State was held to a scoreless tie and all of the games have been battles.

Gonzaga's remarkably strong defense and surprisingly weak offense is probably due largely to their tough schedule. Meeting the strongest teams in the northwest week after week, they have had time to perfect only their defense. Since the Columbia game a week ago Sunday—in which they showed the most power and balanced offense they have shown—the Bulldogs have been stressing their attack and will undoubtedly be at their peak for the game with the Vandals.

Thursday's game will mark the end of the college football careers of a large number of the men on both teams. Willis Smith, John Norby, Nels Fowles, Orville Schmitz, Harry Jacoby, LaVerne Randall, Doug Cordon, Russ Garst, Oliver Davis, and George Hoggan will be playing their last time for Idaho. Gonzaga regulars playing their last game are: J. Van Sistine, E. Van Sistine, Barker, Poth, Maher, Hurd, Carroll, and Bellingier.

Moscow clearly showed their superiority over the Kellogg challengers in the North Idaho championship game, thus leaving themselves the undisputed leaders in North Idaho. In the southern part of the state, Filer and Nampa have come through undefeated seasons. Nampa has won every game by a decisive margin and climaxed their season by beating the previously undefeated Caldwell team, 20 to 0. A post season game between Nampa and Moscow would be an interesting clash that would do much toward deciding the state champion.

Speaking of post season games, many Idaho followers are convinced that the Vandals have a far better team than the season's scores seem to indicate and would like to see Idaho run up against some team from another section of the country. The winner of the Rocky Mountain conference, Denver university, would make an interesting opponent for the Vandals to defeat. Other optimistic dreamers would like to see the Vandals meet some mid-western team such as Illinois.

With Stanford definitely chosen as the West's representative in the Rose Bowl clash, speculation now centers around their choice of an opponent. Army, Princeton, and Duke, in the East have so far come through tough schedules without a loss or a tie. Each of these teams meet a tough opponent this week and the leading survivor of these battles will probably get the bid to come west. Nebraska, should it defeat Oregon State, will also be in the undefeated, untied class for the season and is one of the strongest teams in the mid-west. Little consideration seems to be given them, but their game with Oregon State will draw nationwide attention.

The Thanksgiving day schedule: Idaho vs. Gonzaga; Oregon State vs. Nebraska; W. S. C. vs. U. C. L. A.; Oregon vs. St. Mary's. The winners? Idaho, Oregon State, Oregon, and Washington State. But don't be too surprised if the Cougars should take an unexpected beating.

All Gem pictures must be taken by Christmas this year. Make your appointments now! Avoid that last minute rush.

Eight Vandals Raring to Go After Bulldogs in Last Game

Determined to wind up the season with the dope showing an "even Stephen" checkup, the Idaho Vandals are pointing to subdue Gonzaga's doughty Bulldogs in their annual grid clash at Spokane Thanksgiving day. With four defeats and three wins chalked up so far, a victory at the expense of Mike Pecarovich's men will wipe the slate clean.

So far the Vandals have taken the measures of Montana, Whitman, and the College of Idaho, been beaten decisively by Washington and Oregon, and only narrowly by Washington State and California.

No Rest For Frosh
Under the tutelage of Coach Leo Calland, Vandal headmaster, the squad has been working hard on ways and means of stopping the Bulldog offense which, after failing to appear earlier in the season, functioned so flashily against Columbia a week ago. Signal practice and pass defense has shared the spotlight along with scrimmages against a team composed of half the Vandal coaching staff, reserve varsity men, and Devlin, Ritzheimel, Cooper, and Sundberg, freshmen. In Saturday morning's scrimmage Willis Smith upheld the honors for the varsity, breaking through the team working Gonzaga plays repeatedly, using wide runs and tackle smashes for the most part.

Weather conditions will control a large degree the backfield which Coach Calland will send into the game at Gonzaga stadium Thursday. If the now threatening skies clear away to provide a dry fast turf, it is likely that "Wee Willie" Smith will start against the Gonzaga gridsters, but if the game is played on a wet field, his quarterbacking teammate, Earl Smith, will launch his 191 pounds of line-smashing weight into the van of the Idaho attack.

Mud or Not, Willie Will Shine
Not even a foot of mud would keep "Wee Willie" out of the game entirely, for it will be the last gridiron appearance of the spring-steel speedster from the capitol city. Climaxing three years of brilliant ball-packing, the "Little Giant" will be winding up his grid career against Gonzaga. Along with Doug Cordon, John Norby, Orville Schmitz, Nels Fowles, and Harry Jacoby, varsity teammates for the last three years, the fleet-footed Idaho quarterback can be counted on to bring the stands to their feet as he has time after time in the past. In the event that the Bulldogs threaten the Vandal goal line the deadly tackling of Jolting John Norby, Idaho All-Coast candidate, may be counted on to halt the touchdown drives as he did in the game against California two weeks ago.

The following players, accompanied by Coaches Calland and Jacoby, Trainer Ralph Hutchinson, and Manager Phil Fikkan, will leave at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening to establish headquarters in the Deseret hotel in Spokane; ends the following: Rich, Garst, Schmitz, Fowles; tackles—McInerney, Klumb, McCue, Moore; guards—Nutting, Wilson, A. Berg; Hoggan; centers—Moser, Swann; fullbacks—Cordon, Ward; halfbacks—Jacoby, Norby, P. Berg, Honsowetz; quarters—W. Smith, E. Smith, Inman, Geraghty.

CARLSON K. O.s W. S. C. BOXER

Morey Fickes Get Bum Decision at W. S. C. Homecoming Fight Card

Chuck Carlson, 130-pound Vandal mitt-slinger, won a technical knockout over Lonnie Mullins, Cougar fighter, in the second round of their bout on the W. S. C. Homecoming fight card at Pullman last Friday.

Morey Fickes, the other Idaho boxer to appear on the card, lost a decision to Ed Cavanaugh at 150 pounds, but the Washington State fans booed the decision longer and louder than they cheered any of the fights on the whole card. Fickes had the Cougar boxer on the ropes much of the time, and did everything but land a K. O. punch. What the judges based their decision on was a mystery to everybody who saw the fight, and the crowd voiced its disapproval in no uncertain way.

Another boxing card is being planned for Idaho fans soon after Thanksgiving vacation.

Take your orange picture permits to Sterner's or Hutchinson's and have your Gem picture taken now. Avoid that last minute rush.

WILLIS SMITH, JOHN NORBY, and DOUG CORDON—a backfield combination that has been an important factor in bringing the Vandals through one of their most successful years in some time. They'll be playing the last game of their college grid careers Thursday afternoon at Spokane. They all say that they have a powerful hankering to avenge last year's 20 to 7 defeat at the hands of Mike Pecarovich's Bulldogs.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

B. League Champions, Lindley Hall

Sigma Nu, last night trounced Delta Tau Delta, 23 to 5, and for the second consecutive year, won the championship of A league, and will go into the finals tomorrow endeavoring to win its second university championship. A one-sided game, as is indicated by the score, saw the Sigma Nu batters garnering 32 hits off three Delta pitchers.

After smashing out a nine-run lead in the first inning, the Sigma Nu coasted along scoring almost at will. Caruso, center fielder for the winners, was the outstanding hitter of the evening, collecting four two-base hits in five times at bat. The Sigma Nu chucked up five runs in the third and again in the sixth inning, and were

HOOPSTERS POINT TOWARD CONTEST

Basketball practice has been progressing rapidly during the last week. Rich Fox, basketball mentor, has been whipping his men into fair shape for the Whitman game at Walla Walla the middle of December. "We are stressing the defensive part of the game along with the fundamentals at this time," said Fox. "Our offense is looking good and if our defense comes up to the same standard, we will have a team that will be hard to beat."

The football season ends with the Thanksgiving game with Gonzaga, so all the men on the football squad who expect to turn out for the varsity should report in the Memorial Gymnasium at 3:15 next Monday.

All freshmen who expect to turn out for basketball should report at the gym Monday, Dec. 3, at 7:30. Bring your own equipment.

Gonzaga Squad Studies Besides Toss the Pigskin

Gonzaga football squad members give their attention to other things besides pigskinning, a check of first quarter grades reveals. Mike Pecarovich's footballers rate considerably higher scholastically than the remainder of the Gonzaga student body—having a 1.81 grade average—between a B and C rating, as compared to the 1.50, and closer to C, position of non-gridironers.

Why

You say Chesterfields are not like other cigarettes

CIGARETTES are made of tobacco, wrapped in paper, and they may look alike; but that doesn't mean that they are alike.

Chesterfield Cigarettes are not like other cigarettes. The tobacco is not like the tobacco used in other cigarettes. It is mild, ripe—not harsh, or strong.

Then again, Chesterfields taste better. They are seasoned in the right way with the right kind of Turkish Tobacco. There is nothing flat or tasteless about them.

You're telling me "They Satisfy"!
