

Students Apply For CWA Jobs

438 Students Storm Dean T. S. Kerr's Office to File Applications; Work Starts This Week

Four hundred and thirty-eight university men had filed applications for work under the civil works program in the office of Dean T. S. Kerr when the office closed yesterday afternoon. Dean Kerr was appointed chairman of a committee to consider and approve applications by President M. G. Neale, Monday.

"The committee is hopeful that everyone will be given an opportunity to work," said the dean. "The amount of work available for each student depends upon several factors—among them being his class schedule of hours, whether or not he is here during the holidays, and the condition of his finances."

A number of students started work yesterday afternoon and all the available university equipment is being put into use so that as many as possible can begin work this week.

Requests Tools

President Neale requisitioned the Idaho headquarters of the CWA which is operating in Boise under the direction of Governor C. Ben Ross for a large number of tools to be sent to the university immediately.

Included on the requisition were 200 round point shovels, 32 picks, 48 wheelbarrows, 16 grubhoes, and about 100 other implements.

The rate of pay for student workmen will be 55 cents an hour and no one will be allowed more than 30 hours a week of work. According to the stipulations of the civil works administration, all work will end by February 15, 1934. The maximum employment amounts to $12,375.

Projects on Campus

The work to be done has been mapped out by R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds. All of the projects are on the university campus, principally on the university farm, in the forestry nursery, and the arboretum. The program embraces various drainage projects, construction and repair of fences and fence lines, widening and grading of roads, cleaning up and improving arboretum and nursery and cutting fence posts.

MINING HONORARY HEARS INSPECTOR

Management, Capital, and Ore Body are Career Requisites

Knowledge of government, economics and world affairs is essential to mining students who would succeed in their profession, W. H. Simons, state mines inspector, told members of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary mining, metallurgical, and geological fraternity, here Saturday.

Mr. Simons was guest of honor at a banquet given in his honor by the Idaho chapter at the Hotel Moscow. Donald Carnes, president of the group, introduced Dean John W. Finch who in turn introduced Mr. Simons. Twelve of fifteen members of the W. S. C. chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon were present. Mr. Simons spoke informally, and stressed the fact that successful mining men must be economists and businessmen as well as engineers.

Mining Requisites

Management, capital, and an ore body are the requisites of a successful mining enterprise, he said. Management is the most important of the three factors, with method of financing second. Ore in sight, commonly considered the all important consideration, he placed third.

"Stringent provision of the federal securities act have cost the mining industry of Idaho approximately $5,000,000 this year, Mr. Simons said, explaining one of the non-engineering problems now facing the industry. Congress passed the bill intended to stop fraudulent stock promotions, but in doing so killed the goose that lays the golden egg in legitimate promotions as well.

Before the bill was passed, Idaho averaged approximately $5,000,000 in new mining capital a year through the sale of stock. This source of new capital has practically dried up as a result of the securities act. Of forty new mining corporations formed in Idaho since the act was passed, only four are qualified to finance themselves, Mr. Simons explained. Until some of the handicapping provisions to legitimate promotion in the bill are modified, mining in the state will continue in the doldrums, he said.

Art Class Works On Novel Designs For Xmas Cards

Shades of Santa Claus! What's all the noise about? Is someone putting a new wing on the old building? That's what you think, but after all it's only the art structure class under Miss Marion Featherstone in the home economics department.

When a class of thirty future home-makers start printing block-prints it sounds like a whole crew of carpenters. For the last two weeks the freshman art class has been working on Christmas cards. Using original designs, the girls have drawn and planned clever cards. The designs are cut out of linoleum and printed with red, black, yellow, or blue ink on various colored and finished papers.

STANTON AWARDS ARGONAUT BADGES

Ten Students Receive Pins at Blue Bucket Dessert Meeting

Ten Argonaut pins were awarded at the Argonaut staff party at the Blue Bucket Inn Wednesday night. The staff assembled at the Bucket for desserts at 6:30 p. m. Forty-three attended the meeting.

Robert Thurston, a sophomore in journalism, was complimented by Perry Culp, managing editor, of the Argonaut, for the best work of any of the reporters on the staff for the first nine weeks. Short talks were made by Hugh Eldridge and Frances Hanley, staff editors.

Will Have More

"We will have more of these gatherings," said Richard Stanton, editor. "Later in the year we will provide more entertainment and plan a larger program," he said. Stanton awarded the Argonaut pins to the following people: John Farquhar, Marjorie Wurster, Marjorie Druding, Frances Hanley, Jean Kingsbury, Fern Paulsen, Hugh Eldridge, Perry Culp, and Maurice Russell.

Argonaut pins are awarded to those staff members who have worked three successive successful semesters on the paper. The pins are designed to represent the Argonaut copy box in the hall of the Administration building with a small "A" with a superimposed "A." A vote was taken by those present to hold the dessert meetings more often. The next evening meeting will be held in February.

SHEEHYS LEAD BRIDGE TOURNEY

22 Teams Compete in Card Competition at Bucket

BULLETIN
In the final round of the faculty-townpeople bridge tournament last night, Louis Boas and John Montgomery won first place, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hulbert, and Mr. and Mrs. William Boyer followed in second and third places.

With a very slight lead over the other teams in the faculty-townpeople bridge tournament being run off this week at the Blue Bucket Inn, Lieut. and Mrs. John W. Sheehy went into the third and final round of play last night.

The first two rounds of the tournament were played Monday and Tuesday nights of this week with 22 teams competing. Both nights the play started at 8 o'clock.

SPONSOR WEEKLY BRIDGE TOURNEYS

A series of weekly bridge tournaments open to townspeople and students and sponsored by Bob Woods, manager of the Blue Bucket and Lieut. John W. Sheehy will begin Wednesday, January 3.

The tournaments will be held every Wednesday night throughout the winter. They will begin at 8 p. m. with not less than three tables in play or more than nine. No entries can be made in advance, those coming first are the ones entered in the tournament for that night.

The Mitchell movement and the Howell system and other variations are to be used in the tournament. The players will be charged 35 cents and prizes will be given at every meeting.

CWA TO EMPLOY NEEDY CRAFTSMEN

Theodore J. Pritchard Appointed Head of Idaho Committee

The government has announced the setting aside of funds under the civil works administration to employ the services of 2,500 needy artists and craftsmen throughout the United States. Artists will be employed to do mural decorations, works of sculpture, or easel paintings for public buildings.

Regional commissions have been set up, and state chairmen appointed for each state. Idaho is in the region composed of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Montana with headquarters in Portland, Oregon. Burt Brown Barker, vice president of the University of Oregon, has been appointed regional chairman. Theodore J. Pritchard, head of the department of art and architecture, has been appointed to act as head of the committee for Idaho. A committee will be selected to gather the necessary data as to buildings to be decorated and artists to be employed. The work will be of a temporary nature, lasting through the next two months with a possible extension of time in case of worthy projects.

"This is the first official recognition of artists and craftsmen that the United States as a government has made in the C. W. A. set-up, and it should prove an opportunity to the State at large to begin projects in the beautification of their public buildings," said T. J. Pritchard, head of the art department.

Sue Beasley, 29, formerly of Idaho Falls and Charles Armitjo of Banning, California, were married recently. The couple will reside in Banning.

Mrs. R. D. Russell Gives Colorful Recital At Presbyterian Church

By Jay Glover Eldridge
Last Sunday evening at the new social hall of the Presbyterian church, Lois Russell (Mrs. R. D.), 28, delighted a large audience in a recital of sacred and secular songs of great variety. She was ably assisted throughout by Miss Lucille Ramstedt, 27, as accompanist at the piano, and by a violin trio, consisting of Messrs. Ames, Edwards, and Olsen, which rendered an effective accompaniment to some of the vocal numbers, and played a beautiful arrangement of the old Irish melody, "Londonderry Air," as a separate number.

Although Mrs. Russell had assisted in the men's chorus revue at the university auditorium in the afternoon by a brilliant rendition of the "Street Song," she sang through a program of seventeen songs in perfect voice and with apparent ease. While most of her songs were in English, some were excellently rendered in Italian, French, and German. They ranged all the way from the Handel aria, "Come unto Me" from the oratorio "Messiah," through lyric and dramatic numbers to the captivating children's piece, "Five Eyes," about three black eyes.

Among the favorites with Mrs. Russell's highly sympathetic audience may be mentioned further: Gluck's melodious "O Savior, Hear Me," with violin obligato by William Ames; the ever lovely "Cradle Song," by Brahms, accompanied by the three violins; Brake's "Bless This House" which is such a favorite with John McCormack; and the highly dramatic "Erlkoenig" by Schubert, whose sobbing close Mrs. Russell brought out most effectively. When, after the concluding number, "Waltzerlied" by Stolz, with violin trio accompaniment, the audience demanded by their applause still another song, Mrs. Russell sang the popular "Trees."

While the group of three widely posers, and the two groups of different songs by Russian composed lyrics not here mentioned in detail were much appreciated by her hearers, it may be said that Mrs. Russell excelled most in the operatic numbers from "Aida" and "La Boheme." In fact, aside from her purity of tone quality, her outstanding characteristic is her dramatic ability, as evidenced in these arias and the "Erlkoenig."

The university and the community may well look forward with pleasure to Mrs. Russell's next appearance.

ASUI ACTORS GIVE COLORFUL DRAMA OF RUSSIA TONIGHT

Curtain Rises on Tolstoy's 'The Living Corpse' at 8:20 p. m.

BLANCHARD HAS LEAD

Suicide Attempts and Complicated Triangles Make Production Very Exciting

By Nina Varian
Repeated attempts at suicide, colorful, emotional gypsy people, a deserted wife, dramatic court scenes all are to be found in Tolstoy's "The Living Corpse," to be presented in the university auditorium tonight and tomorrow night. Students are admitted on their ASUI tickets, and are reserved at Hodgins' drug store.

Takes Crack at Russian Divorce

Fedya, the truant husband, who becomes "the living corpse" because his existence makes life unbearable for others, is played by Fred C. Blanchard. Ethlyn O'Neil plays the role of Lisa the middle class wife, who thinks she must love her husband no matter what she has done. Masha, the gypsy girl, who means all the freedom and beauty and romance in the world to Fedya, is played by Albert Bergh. Clayne Robinson plays Victor, Lisa's old straight-laced, faithful lover. From these criss-crossed triangles emerges the moving, dramatic tragedy that Tolstoy wrote chiefly to show the cruelty and error of Russia's strict divorce laws.

An octet from the Vandaleers trained by Prof. Carleton Cummings, sings Russian folk songs, the orchestra is under the direction of Prof. Carl Claus, and a string trio composed of Sam Stone, Dick Edwards, and Ted Volgtlander, play in a colorful scene from "The Living Corpse." The costumes were designed by Miss Marjorie Featherstone and Dorothy Ward, and the sets were designed by Prof. Theodore Pritchard.

BLUE BUCKET ON SALE NEXT WEEK

Magazine Will Have State-wide Circulation; Many Features

Wednesday, December 20, the Christmas edition of the Blue Bucket will come off the press in a new, bigger, and better style. This Bucket will have a state-wide circulation, and will be sold on news stands throughout the state. The cover of this issue will carry a news stand price of 15 cents, but the Bucket will be sold to students on the campus for the regular dime price. Intercollegiate Knights will sell the magazine in group houses, and other places will be selected to reach those not affiliated.

"This issue of the Blue Bucket is going to be a well-rounded humor publication with lots of short stories, humor, cartoons, poetry, and features," says Art Hagen, editor. "It should make good reading material for those wishing to break the monotony of the long ride on the special, and with our new system of circulation, you'll probably find the 'folks' reading it when you get home."

Stories Featured

As special features of this issue, there will be another short story by Dock Hogue, and Keith Armstrong, is bursting into print with a Christmas story. This issue will initiate a page contributed by the students at the Southern Branch at Pocatello. "An editor has been appointed on the Southern campus, and this feature should tend to bring about a closer relationship between the two universities, as the magazine will have a wide circulation at the Branch also," said Hagen.

The style section by Jean Kingsbury will again be featured and the alumni page will give the magazine an added appeal. A snappy Christmas cover, drawn by Lang Armstrong of the Spokane American Engraving company tends toward the unusual, and will lend much to the attractiveness of this issue of the Blue Bucket.

The Blue Bucket was revived this year under the sponsorship of the Press club whose members had faith in a publication of this type and believed that it should not be discontinued. The December number is the second issue of the Bucket this year, and according to Editor Hagen, "A great deal of new talent has been discovered and interest is rapidly increasing in the Bucket in this short time. With continued support, the Bucket should soon be back on its feet."

Exhibit Drawings Of Art Institute In Science Hall

An exhibit of architectural drawings from the traveling exhibition of the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design is now on display in the third floor hall of the Science building. The drawings are done by members of clubs and university students in all parts of the United States. The contributors, for this exhibit are six university students.

The exhibit is composed of four different types of architectural drawings. They are: "A Municipal Market," "A Small County Court House," "Hypostyle Hall of an Egyptian Temple," and "A Semi-Circle Portico."

Three drawings of the market, six drawings of the court house, one of the Egyptian temple, and one of the portico.

HONORARY PLANS CHARITY PROJECT

Mortar Board Will Give Money to Service Club for Civic Work

Mortar Board's activity of the moment is its Christmas charity project. This year a different procedure is being adopted toward this end. The money that was earned by the chrysanthemum sale, which the members of Mortar Board conducted during Homecoming, is to be turned over to some service club in the community, to be used as is seen fit. This will make any soliciting unnecessary.

A party for girls not affiliated with any group on the campus is being planned for next month. The members of Mortar Board will sponsor the Spinster Skip on Washington's birthday. Later in the spring, Mortar Board will arrange a Fashion show. It has not been decided whether this will be in form of a tea as it was year before last, or as a simple show as it was last year.

Becomes More Active

This year Mortar Board will take a more active part in Campus day activities. Other affairs—coming under Mortar Board are Natheer table, and Mortar Board serenade. The officers and members of Mortar Board this year are: Maybelle Donaldson, president; Frances DuSaut, vice-president; Margaret Moulton, secretary; Mary Axel, treasurer; Ruth Kehr, historian; Ivy McPherson, and Frances Wheeler.

PLANS MADE FOR PULLMAN ROAD

Plans for road improvement between Moscow and Pullman will result in a new paved highway between these rival college towns. This report with a few details was given out by Prof. H. E. Phelps of the engineering department of Washington State college.

An appropriation of $125,000 from the federal works administration was made last fall for this state project. This Washington state highway department, which has charge of the direction and supervision of this work, has employed 20 men from Pullman to start work at the rock crusher. This employment of Pullman men needing work is an effort to further the program of CWA which is being forwarded throughout the state.

Early this spring construction is scheduled to begin. The surveys are now complete and right of way has already been acquired; distinctive features will be straightness, freedom from snow interference and new reinforced foundation.

Moscow officials are awaiting word from the CWA concerning the appropriation of funds for the Idaho end of the project. The road will be relocated and will connect with the west end of Third street.

This new road will serve to strengthen the feeling of friendship between two of the closest college rivals on the Pacific Coast.

South Idaho Special To Leave Thursday

Ten Car Train To Carry Homeward Bound Students; Rates Effective On Northern Trains

"All aboard for the Christmas holiday special," the conductor will cry next Thursday night at the Union Pacific station and a 10-car train will get under way for south Idaho. The train will leave at 5:30 p. m. Special rates are in effect on this train as well as on other trains and busses carrying students home for the holidays.

The south Idaho train will arrive in Boise at 11:40 o'clock Friday morning and in Pocatello at 6 o'clock that night. Union Pacific officials announce that the train is equipped with one dining car, two tourist sleepers, one baggage car, and six day coaches. All round trip fares are one-half more than the one way fare, they say.

The south Idaho train schedule is as follows:

Going
Lv. Moscow 5:30 p. m. Thursday
Ar. Weiser 9:25 a. m. Friday
Ar. Nampa 11:05 a. m. Friday
Ar. Boise 11:40 a. m. Friday
Ar. Glenns Ferry 1:45 p. m. Friday
Ar. Gooding 2:50 p. m. Friday
Ar. Minidoka 4:25 p. m. Friday
Ar. Pocatello 6 p. m. Friday

Returning
Lv. Pocatello 1:15 p. m. Jan. 2
Lv. Minidoka 2:25 p. m. Jan. 2
Lv. Gooding 3:42 n. m. Jan. 2
Lv. Glenns Ferry 4:35 p. m. Jan. 2
Lv. Boise 6:45 p. m. Jan. 2
Lv. Nampa 7:20 p. m. Jan. 2
Lv. Weiser 9:15 p. m. Jan. 2
Ar. Moscow 12:15 p. m. Jan. 3

Students going to Spokane and points north will leave on the Northern Pacific at 5:20 p. m. Thursday. Busses going both north and south leave from the Moscow hotel with rates about the same as those on the train. A $2.55 round trip rate is in effect on the Spokane train and the busses to that city. The round trip fare to Kellogg is $5.13 on the Northern Pacific.

Fares on the south Idaho special are graduated into three classes: the straight coach fare, the intermediate fare which gives the passenger freedom of the train, and the first class or tourist sleeper fare.

This year the number of tickets was limited to 150. The Blue Bucket, where the dance is to be held this year can not accommodate more comfortably. This is the first time that the ball has ever been held at the Bucket. The dance is to be held there, so the price might be reduced from $2 to $1, which is the lowest it has ever been.

This afternoon Allen Severn will bring the programs for the dance around to the various group houses. He will exchange these programs for the tickets to the dance.

The decorations for the dance are a big secret, but they plan to be unique and different. The theme being followed out is modernistic in its idea. Oliver Davis with the cooperation of his committee of architecture students say that the decorations are going to be the best of any Senior ball that has ever been given on the campus.

Chuck Hill, general chairman of the Senior Ball this year, declared yesterday, "we set out to make the Senior Ball an event long to be remembered and we have striven to do this in carrying out the plans for the ball. I am satisfied that it will satisfy all anticipations."

FORENSIC TEAM LEAVES TODAY

Will Participate in Tournament With Washington State and Whitman College

The men's debate team left today for Walla Walla, where it will participate in the tournament with Washington State college and Whitman college. The members making the trip are: Earl Hobson, William Wetherall, John Farquhar, and Earl Carlson. They will be accompanied by Mr. A. E. Whitehead, debate coach and head of the public speaking department. The question to be debated is: "Resolved: The powers of the president should be increased as a settled policy."

Hobson is a senior from Sedan, Kansas, and this will be his last year on the debate squad. Wetherall, a junior from St. Maries, Carlson, from Pocatello, and Farquhar, from Spokane, each still have a year for debating.

The other members of the team who are not making this trip, will debate later in the year.

IDAHO GRADUATE WITH BOISE R. F. C.

Word has been received that Stanton Hale, '32, is with the Boise branch of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and that Gerald Dolan has a political position at Springfield, Illinois. He graduated from the College of Law with the class of '32.

W. D. Mark, '29, who has been connected with the mines at Wallace for some time, has just left for Peru where he will be geologist for Cerode Pasco Cappare corporation.

We've Got to Take It

Vacation will start Thursday at 5 p. m. and will end January 4 at 8 a. m. Nothing the students acting separately or as a body or petitioners might do or the Argonaut might do to change it can possibly be effective. The dates are set and they stand solid as the Rock of Gibraltar.

Our vacation periods are set by the university's calendar committee and submitted to the Board of Education for approval. We have certain definite number of days at which time we must be in school and our vacation periods are fixed in view of that.

It was rumored that a petition might be effected which would pray that we continue going to school all next week and not return until Monday, January 7. There's no use; the process of submitting our cause to the calendar committee and it in turn wiring the Board of Regents would take time and never meet with either's approval.

It seems foolish to the students that our vacation was not prolonged two more days. Students are of this opinion: "Why come back for only two days, then lay off for two." But it's that way and we've got to take it.

After all, we are here for an education; we didn't come just for vacations. It is agreed that little is done the first two days after a vacation period. Isn't it better that we return Thursday then be ready to settle down by Monday rather than return Monday and not recover until Wednesday?

Why Be Shot In The Back

It is interesting to compare various attitudes which daily are heard in regard to peace and war. While in this country Maxim Litvinoff, persistent spokesman for the Soviet Union's standing proposal of total disarmament for all nations declared: "It would be hard to find anyone today still holding the belief that the World War was the last war. Preparations for a new war, or rather for new wars, are in full swing and are carried on quite openly. . . ."

"It is not now a question whether all countries will accept the Soviet, American, French or British method of disarmament and control. . . . Let the (Disarmament) conference put two simple questions to its members: Will they agree to any serious reduction of armaments and will they submit to any control? . . . Such an answer would be of decisive importance and would sound the death knell of the Conference and therefore perhaps Geneva will endeavor to avoid it."

From the standpoint of peace in the future, that statement is rather discouraging. Basically it gives indication of the fact that peace by disarmament is somewhat idealistic.

On the other side of the question, from the standpoint of recent announcements, we have the various addresses made by Miss Jeannette Rankin. In her plea for disarmament, her belittling of defenses, and her applause of the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact she seems to say in effect that peace can be had for the asking. All that is necessary is to take a piece of paper, a treaty, back it up by public opinion against war, and war is out.

Such a viewpoint is probably commendable—not because it is workable, but because it displays such a faith in man. To have such faith it is necessary to assume that the fickle nature of man will not respond to tons of propaganda, the stirring music of thousands of bands, the inane but effective oratory of speaker after speaker.

Because public opinion is so extremely unreliable, it would seem that the opinion of M. Litvinoff is somewhat more satisfactory. Unless there is complete disarmament by all nations, it is better to recognize the existence of preparations for new conflicts and to be sufficiently prepared—no matter how ineffectively (according to some announcements which rely primarily on wise-cracks for proof)—to meet any situation which arises, than waste months getting to the scene of action.

If the real causes of war—the economic and the social ones—can be altered and remedied, and some system more satisfactory than the League of Nations or the World Court can be discovered for settling disputes which do arise, then it will be time to talk about peace pacts and outlawry of war pacts and disarmament. To get rid of arms before then is somewhat analogous, particularly at a time like this, to running the fire engine into the river just after it is noticed that the town is on fire.

Grins and Gripes To The Editor

Al Marineau
Objects
Sir:

I have just finished reading an editorial from the Star-Mirror of Moscow—quite a feat of endurance.
It is entitled, "Let's Keep Tradition Straight." It should have been entitled, "Let's Give Al Marineau a Kick in the Pants."

In general, the theme song was good, but in particular I take exception to this:
"The writer . . . does not like to see the Pep band, its history and its present importance in interscholastic relations distorted for the monetary gain or prestige of an individual, regardless of his past contributions to his own Alma Mater."

That is the "kick in the pants,"
for twice during the fall season, radio announcers, without my knowledge or consent, have credited me with being the "originator" of the Idaho Pep band. Between halves at the recent Idaho-Gonzaga football game, the announcer made that error. I went at once to the announcer's booth and asked that the statement be corrected, but was told to "forget it."

Since I left Idaho nearly 10 years ago, I have never once represented myself as the originator of the Pep band, an organization that made its first appearance in 1920 under the capable leadership of Lynn Hersey, a fraternity brother of mine. At that time, it was known as the Kappa Sigma band, and the players were all members of that fraternity. Later, it became an all-university institution.
I was a member of the band in 1922 and its leader in 1923 and 1924. During these two years as leader, I went with the band on several successful trips to Spokane. Newspapers there were more than generous with publicity, and that, perhaps, accounts for the mistaken idea that I originated the band.

Since leaving Idaho I have taken opportunity to give the University of Idaho publicity in the East and Middle West. Many times I have sung, "Here We Have Idaho" over national radio hookups, and in dozens of the larger theaters, including the Palace in New York.

Radio fans who listen in on my current broadcasts from the Silver Grill of the Spokane hotel, going sing "Here We Have Idaho" as frequently as any song in our library.

I quite agree with the editorial writer of the Star-Mirror that we should "keep traditions straight," but I also want the present students at the university and the old grads to get this straight: I have never misrepresented my connections with the Pep band, nor have I ever intentionally tried to cash in on the splendid reputation the band has gained throughout

Senior Ball and House Dances Fill Week-end Social Calendar

This week end promises to be a busy one. The Senior Ball is being held Saturday night at the Blue Bucket. The Delta Chi Pirate dance, and the Phi Gamma Delta informal dance will be held Friday night. Hays hall will also give an informal dance on Friday.

Fijis Dance Tonight

Phi Gamma Delta will hold an informal dance at their chapter house Friday night. The motif for decoration will not be disclosed before the dance. Patrons and patronesses are: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sheehy, Mr. and Mrs. E. Poulton, and Mr. J. A. Beckwith.

Delta Chi's Turn Pirate

The Delta Chi house is being transformed into a Pirate Ship for the annual Pirate dance, which is to be held on Friday night. Patrons and patronesses for the dance are: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Litter Spence, and Mrs. William Pittman.

Entertain at Birthday Party

Miss Permeal French and Miss Lena Shoup entertained at a birthday dinner on Wednesday evening in honor of the girls living in Hays hall, and the men working there, whose birthdays occurred in the month of December. The guests were: Jeanette Wines, Edith Horton, Ruth Stewart, Frances Palne, Mary Hemacher, Ellen Frazier, Maybelle Lockwood, Dorothea High, Sue Evans, Dora Yturri, Murva James, Richard Burke, Eugene Ryan, George Matson, Kenneth King.

Tau Kappa Epsilon entertained the following women from Hays hall at an exchange dinner-dance on Thursday evening. Guests were: Alice Kelly, Alvera Nelson, Katherine Smith, Dora Yturri, Dorothy Rosevear, Helen Blackabay, Jeanette Wines, Alma Almquist, Alice Peterson, Helen Creaser, and Eleanor Herres.

One of the features of the week

Ruth Regan, Lewiston, was a house guest the last week of Delta Delta Delta.

Alpha Phi entertained Sigma Alpha Epsilon at a dance exchange Wednesday.

Miss Permeal French was a guest of Ridenbaugh hall at dinner on Tuesday.

Miss Permeal French entertained at luncheon Tuesday in honor of Miss Jeannette Rankin. Guests were: Miss Lena Shoup, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Kerr, and Janet Kinney.

Phi Delta Theta entertained Alpha Chi Omega Thursday evening at an exchange dance.

Mrs. W. J. Rusch, Spokane, province president of Phi Beta Phi, is a guest at the chapter house.

Dwight Hoffman was a Wednesday evening dinner guest of Kappa Sigma.

Ethel Mae Belmore of Glens Ferry, who is attending school at Lewiston, was a week end guest at Hays hall.

Pi Beta Phi entertained Mrs. W. J. Rusch, Spokane, province president of the sorority, at a Pan-Hellenic tea Thursday afternoon from 4 until 5 o'clock.

Lambda Chi Alpha announces the initiation of William Teed, Coeur d'Alene, and Edgar Wood, Wallace.

SEND DELEGATE TO W. A. A. CONVENTION

At a general meeting of the Women's Athletic Association Tuesday in the women's gymnasium, it was decided to send a representative to only the national conventions which are held every three years. In former years, W. A. A. has sent two representatives to the sectional conventions held each year and also to the national convention every three years.

Ruth Kehler, president of W. A. A., was sent to Austin, Texas, last year to the national convention. She met many representatives from all over the United States who contributed their methods of sponsoring sports to the convention.

The money saved by this decision will be used to furnish a room on the campus for the use of the women's athletic association.

The club also voted to continue rifle club this year. Leut. J. W. Sheehy will be the instructor and a squad of seven women from each class will be chosen. Interclass competition will replace the telegraphic meets of former years. Jean Clough was chosen rifle manager.

KAPPAS ENTERTAIN FIELD SECRETARY

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Miss Helen Snyder, field secretary for their sorority, the forepart of the week. Tuesday night, an informal fireside at which only the active members of the chapter were present, was given in her honor.

A reception for her was given Wednesday night from 8 to 10. The house was decorated with flowers. In the receiving line were Dean Fermeal J. French, Helen Snyder, Mrs. Lenore Scott, Nina Varlan, and Jane Archbold. Miss Lena Shoup, Mrs. John Finch, Mrs. Harvey Smith, and Mrs. H. H. Orland presided at the table. Those who were invited were the Kappa Kappa Gamma alums, the deans of the colleges and their wives, the house mothers and one representative from each girls' group, and two representatives from each men's group.

A luncheon Thursday attended only by alums and active members of the chapter formed the conclusion of Miss Snyder's visit, and she left Thursday evening.

ABOLISH W. S. C. TRADITION

Traditional separate cheering sections for men and women, and the wearing of the rooster cap were abolished for the coming basketball season through the action of the student board of control at Washington State college.

PHAN ALPHA LAMBDA TEA

Alpha Lambda Delta, underclasswomen's honorary organization, has postponed its tea for freshman women, which was to have been given Wednesday evening, because of conflicting engagements on the campus. It will probably take place Sunday evening instead.

All freshmen women with grade averages of five point or above for the nine weeks will be invited.

SORORITY HONORS PROVINCE OFFICER

Mrs. W. J. Rusch, Spokane, Phi Beta Phi alumna from W. S. C., and president of this province of the sorority, was a guest at the Phi Beta Phi this week. Mrs. Rusch succeeded Mrs. Helen Madden Russell as province president last year. Mrs. Rusch, who is on a tour of all chapters in the province, came Wednesday from Pullman and left last night for her home in Spokane.

The chapter entertained here with a fireside Wednesday night, and she was the guest of honor at a Pan-Hellenic tea Thursday afternoon. She met with the alumnae advisory board for luncheon and discussion at the Moscow hotel Thursday noon, and Thursday night was honored with an informal dinner at the chapter house. Miss Marian Featherstone was a guest.

Virginia Evans is teaching at Lava Hot Springs.

FROSH BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTS

Five Men Over Six Feet to Form Nucleus of Babes' Squad

"Frosh basketball practice is progressing in the usual early season manner," said Red Jacoby, frosh basketball mentor. "They will practice until the Christmas holidays, stressing fundamentals and offense. The main object of their practice now is to get them out of the bad habits acquired in high school."

Cut Squad to 15

Prospects look better this year than they have for some time. The "big five," Hall, Fuller, Martin, Larsen, and Kearns, are looking particularly good to Coach Jacoby. All of these men are over six feet and should overcome Idaho's handicap of size in their next years of play. Hall and Larsen are two former all-state men. The rest of the frosh squad consists of Hill, Gauss, Hoggan, Meacham, Adkins, Jensen, Fry, Tracy, Myers, and Praper. Gwilliams, another big man, hurt his ankle at the start of the season but will be out later.

No definite schedule has been arranged as yet. A game with Moscow high school will probably be played before the holidays. The frosh will scrimmage the varsity Saturday afternoon.

Horseshoes, the third event on the intramural program, started Monday and has progressed to the semi-finals. The tourney is being run on a double elimination basis exactly like that of the baseball tournament. Every group has a team of two men, each of whom plays a singles match against a man of the opposing team. Should the singles matches be split, the teams must play off the tie with a doubles match.

The players for each group are: Lambert and Killman for Sigma Nu; Schmitz, Inman and Miller for Phi Gamma Delta; Stanton and Mann for Phi Delta Theta; Ladd and Silverberg for Lindley Hall; Bevis and Albie for Tau Mem Aleph; Riuteck and Cummock for Kappa Sigma; Wodruft and Jensen for Ridenbaugh hall; Holland and Lee for L. D. S.; Palmer and Williams for Delta Tau Delta; D. Vincent and Jarlett for Alpha Tau Omega; Franklin and Rich for Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Olivatt and Brown for Delta Chi; Eldridge and Ensign for Beta Theta Pi; Lint and Sachs for Chi Alpha Pi; Fisher and Walker for Sigma Chi; O. Blettner and Smith for the Independents; Featherstone and Fisher for Lambda Chi Alpha; Merchant and Smlset for Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Phi Delta Theta and Beta Theta Pi, the two finalists of last year meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock and Sigma Chi meets Delta Chi Saturday at 2 o'clock the winner of the first game will meet Lindley Hall and Sunday morning the winner of this game plays the winner of the Sigma Chi-Delta Chi game.

At 4:45 p. m. today Sigma Nu meets Lambda Chi Alpha and L. D. S. and A. T. O. play in the second court. Saturday at 2 o'clock T. M. A. will play the winner of Sigma Nu-Lambda Chi game and the winner of this game will play the winner of the L. D. S.-A.T.O. game Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Immediately following the semi-finals on Sunday morning the two survivors will meet for the championship of the university. Last year's winner was Phi Delta Theta.

NOTICE

The names of those students who received 10 point cut for absence from their last class before Thanksgiving vacation or their first class after the vacation and have not made arrangements with their deans to have the cuts erased will be posted in each university building today, according to Ella Oleson, registrar.

These students must get their cuts withdrawn by their deans before December 21, or have them recorded against their grades.

Intramural Boxing Card Scheduled For Monday

"Monday evening's fight card looks to be one of the best slug fests that Idaho students have had an opportunity to see," was Coach Louie August's statement on the intramural tangle next week. In the main event Morrey Pickes, 150-pound Idaho mainstay, will pound out three fast rounds with Bender Luce, Moscow Athletic club fighter, in what bids fair to be a vertible boxing classic.

Pickes, upholder of Vandal honors against the local threat, has turned out to be one of the best boxers the Pacific coast has seen despite the fact that he has only had three months' experience in the ring. Pickes lists among his accomplishments the kayoing of "Cyclone" Henke, W. S. C. leather-tossler, and the holding of Bert Johnson and Eddie Cavanaugh, both of W. S. C., to close decisions, the lengthier ring service of the Cougar men being all that threw the judges their way.

Luce, idol of Moscow fight fans, has had a lot of experience in the ring and is in fact one of the best fighters ever turned out by the Moscow A. C., according to Coach August. August has watched the Luce boy go and reports that the local boxer can sling plenty of leather as well as being able to take it abundantly.

In the semi-finals Ross Sundberg, Phi Delta Theta, faces Jim Moore, Delta Chi, at 200 pounds, for what should be one of the highlights of the evening. Last Monday Sundberg got a technical K. O. over Earl Ritzhelmer, tucking the Ritz away with a pair of mighty pokes to the jaw that sent him to his knees. Moore decloned Bob McCue last Monday with a nice exhibition of boxing skill, both fighters being leary on stopping any knockout drops.

Fast Intramurals
Douglas Smith Chi Alpha Pi, weighs in at 175 pounds to box Orville Schmitz, Phi Gamma Delta. Following this is another 175 pound go which may easily steal the show, featuring Jack Nichols, Sigma Chi, and Roy Hanford, Lindley Hall. These boys put on a whale of a show in the first intramural card last week, fighting different opponents, and should be fighting from the bell on when they meet Monday. Both boys are strong and aggressive and both love to get in and mix it up.

In the 160-pound division Lefty Inman, Phi Gamma Delta, meets Johnny Crowe, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Inman won a technical K. O. over his man last week but should have tougher sledding against Crowe. The winner of this bout will be the intramural champion in the class.

Stan Skiles, S. A. E., meets Eddie Spencer, Kappa Sigma, at 147 pounds for the final in that division. Skiles, Rocky Mountain A. A. U. champion, is reported to pack a lot of dynamite in his mitts but by the showing Spencer made last week, should have difficulty in winning the match.

Two matches are slated for the 135-pound class with the winner in each bout to tangle for the championship. Chuck Sorenson, Sigma Chi, meets Phil Miller, Independent, in the first go, and Johnny Tibbals, Phi Gamma Delta, is matched with Jerry Staudacher, Delta Chi, in the second.

The card will be opened by a pair of fast preliminaries. Floyd Claypool, TMA, vs. Ted Cromble, A.T.O. are matched at 118 pounds in the fly weight division, and Bill Pauley, Phi Delta Theta, meets Ed Turner, Beta Theta Pi, at 128 pounds.

The card is scheduled to start at 7:30 in the Memorial gymnasium. A charge of 25 cents to students and 40 cents to townspeople will be made, and the fights will be worth all that and more, assured Coach August.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

A recent meeting of the Washington-Idaho border section of the American Chemical society was held in Moscow. Prof. W. H. Cone of the chemistry department and D. W. Bollin of the Idaho Agricultural Experiment station both addressed the meeting on subjects that they are investigating. Professor Cone spoke on "The Passivity of Iron" and Mr. Bollin talked on "The Determination of Manganese in Plants and the Manganese Content of Some Pasture Grasses."

The following officers for the year were elected:

Edwin C. Vahn, chairman of the Idaho School of Forestry; O. Turinsky, secretary-treasurer, of the Idaho chemistry department; and Harry L. Cole, councillor, of the Washington State college chemistry department.

HONORARY HOLDS ANNUAL FIRESIDE

Last Sunday evening Phi Upsilon Omicron, the home economics honorary, held its annual fireside for home economic freshmen at the Alpha Phi house. Starting at 6:30 the girls were served a supper. Frances Dusault, past president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, poured.

MATMEN STAGE INITIAL BOUTS

First Appearance of Squad Since Wrestling Became Minor Sport

A three-match exhibition was staged at the Elks' club by the wrestling squad accompanied by Stan Skiles. This is the first time the squad has appeared since wrestling became a minor sport. Homer Peterson, and E. Melike, both 160 pounds, fought to a draw. Earl Eggers and Earl Hozenboam in the 145-pound class, were also too evenly matched for either to get a decision. Earl Latham, 180 pounds, won the only decision when he threw Ronald Wilson, 180, in five minutes.

Skiles states that several new men have turned out for the squad and that they are showing up well.

VANDAL HOOPMEN DEFEAT WHITMAN

Idaho Wins Season's Opener By A Score of 50 to 33 at Walla Walla

BULLETIN

The Idaho Vandals won their second game from the Whitman college Missionaries Thursday night, 45 to 31, according to word received here by wire from Walla Walla.

A 50 to 33 victory over the Whitman hoopsters was Coach Fox's opening gun as the 1933 Vandal basketball squad met its first opponent preparatory to the conference battles. Led by Grenier and Herman, the Foxmen had little trouble in defeating the more-practiced Missionary outfit. A second tilt between the same teams was played last night.

The Vandal men who made the trip with Coach Fox were: Grenier, Warner, Shurtliff, Cy Geraghty, Naslund, W. Geraghty, Iverson, Herman, and Parks. Coach Fox has not definitely chosen his squad for the season and will not do so until they are ready to leave for the Christmas season barnstorming tour of south Idaho.

Schedule Light Games
Eight games with southern Idaho teams have been scheduled for the trip. On December 21 they will meet Boise Junior college in Boise; the following two evenings they will play the Twin Falls all-star aggregation in that city; on December 26 and 27 the southern branch of the university will furnish the opposition; Ricks college at Rexburg will be their hosts on December 28; the next day they make a long jump to meet Montana Mines at Butte and on December 30 will meet the University of Montana in Missoula.

On January 3, the night before school opens, the Whitman squad will come to Moscow for their third game with the Vandals.

The conference season for the Vandals opens on January 5 and 6 when they will meet the University of Washington Huskies in Seattle. The following week end the first conference home games will be played in Moscow. Coach Fox believes that this year's team will be near the top of the conference throughout the season. Although an unusually large number of small men are on the Idaho squad this year, the fast-breaking offense of the Vandals will not be

COACH AUGUST EXPLAINS CHARGE

In response to griping among the students about paying 25 cents to see the intramural boxing finals, Coach Louie August made this statement: "Boxing is strictly a self-supporting activity," said August. "We put all the money we get out of bouts into the ASUI fund and get whatever is approved for us. We borrowed some money from the ASUI last year to get started, but since that time have paid it back with plenty to spare. We have to have admission charges to cover the cost of putting on the cards, and when you consider such costs as lights on the gym floor, at three bucks an hour, and the expense of printing, and judges, you see where an admission is needed. Add to that a couple sets of $22.50 boxing gloves ruined by intramural amateurs and it's clear yet. Boxing is a minor sport in all the schools of the coast and the students willingly pay to take in the cards."

handicapped. Some trouble, however, is expected by Fox in building a defense, which will stop the ringer teams of the rest of the conference.

GIVE BOOKS TO LIBRARY

Six new books have been placed upon the shelves of the engineering library. The titles of them are: Washington Merry Go-Round, The Case of Sergeant Grelcha, You Can't Print That, The Sea Devil's Fo'c'sle, The Imperial Castle, and Stallin. These books were presented by the new pledges of Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary fraternity, as has been the custom for the last few years.

CHOOSE TEN MEN FOR RIFLE SQUAD

Thirty freshmen aspirants to the rifle squad started firing in an elimination tournament Thursday. Due to the small amount of ammunition allotted to the military department this year, only ten freshmen will be chosen for the squad.

The first rifle match this term will be held the week following vacation, with veteran members of the squad taking part.
