

NATIONAL ARTIST TO PICK BEAUTY CONTEST WINNER

Closeness of Voting Necessitates New Method in Choosing

PLAN NEW SECTION

All Year Book Work Organized; Gem Progresses With Regular Staff Meeting

Eight Idaho coeds out of the 20 who were entered in the Gem beauty contest received so nearly the same number of votes, that it has been decided to submit the pictures of the eight to some nationally known artist to choose the winning four. The name of the artist will be announced later. He will choose four out of the group, on the basis of beauty alone eliminating the elements of personality and popularity which cannot help being present in a student vote. These four women will have their pictures in the beauty section of the Gem of the Mountains.

In order to keep the identity of even the high eight a secret, all 20 of the entrants will have their pictures taken and nobody but the editor will know which pictures are to be sent away. The artist's four choices will not be divulged until the books are distributed to the students in the spring. The pictures will be taken in formal dress.

New Section

A special section is being added to the Gem to recognize all students who have worked on the year book for three years. Their pictures will be put on this page and each will be presented with a complimentary copy of the annual in recognition of their work.

Intensive work has started on the Gem. All staffs have been organized and work has been assigned to the staff members. Regular staff meetings will be held every week to discuss the work and any problems that may come up in connection with the different departments. The time of the meetings will be announced in the Bulletin Board of the Argonaut.

"I" Club Starts Party Plans for Hatless Frosh

The "I" club will start listing the freshmen who are not wearing hats Monday. There are many of the lads who believe that they are on a holiday until St. Patrick's day as far as headgear is concerned.

"We are giving the frosh ample warning," said Nels Fowles, president of the lettermen's organization, "and after Monday the parties will resume in front of the Administration building as usual."

The "I" club will meet at Lindley hall Sunday morning at 11 o'clock for a business discussion.

Have your Gem picture taken now! All proofs must be returned to the studios by the end of the semester.

Dean John W. Finch Writes New Book on Ore Deposits

Dr. John W. Finch, dean of the Idaho School of Mines, in conjunction with five other well-known geologists and metallurgists of the United States, has just completed editing a book, "Ore Deposits of the Western States," published by the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

The book is the first to be written on the subject and is the first published in 20 years on the theory of ore deposits. Two score or more famous geologists and engineers contribute to its 13 chapters, only two of which are not technical. The aim of the book has been to present a general manual of ore deposits.

Honors Lindgren

Dean Finch says in his preface to the book: "The general purpose of this volume has been to give a present day interpretation of the ore deposits of the region of the Rocky mountains and the Western states, one of the great mineral storehouses of the world."

The book was published by the Institute in honor of Waldemar Lindgren, the greatest writer on geology and metallurgy in the United States, and it includes a chapter written by him. The committee which edited the book was composed of Dean Finch, University of Idaho, chairman; Alan M. Ericman, Yale; B. S. Butler, Uni-

Riutcel Urges Students to Keep Up Their Spirit

This fall, during the football season, the Idaho fight spirit was revived as it has never before. The students got behind the team and gave them all the support they had, they turned out nearly 100 per cent for the pep rallies, they fought for the team and they fought the game with the team. Consequently our football team played better ball than it has for many years.

Idaho never says die. Now that we are in the midst of the basketball season let's show the team that we can't die. Let's give them everything we've got. Don't let the spirit that we worked so hard to get this fall go back into the same old rut again.

STUDENTS PUBLISH IDAHO ENGINEER

Magazine Includes Many Different Types of Articles

New features, interesting articles, and many other items make up the Idaho Engineer, professional journal of the Associated Engineers of the university. The publication was distributed to the students Wednesday.

Some of the articles in the journal are as follows: "The Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works," by Dean Ivan C. Crawford; "Modern Lubricating Oil Refining," by Donald E. Payne, patent attorney for Standard Oil company; "The Patent Engineer," by Greek Wells; and "Historical Sketch of Northwest Scientific Association," by O. W. Freeman, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Contains Many Features

The magazine also contains many features that are typical of the College of Engineering and the University of Idaho campus. Some of these are: "Research Activities," "Faculty Glimpses," "From the Dean's office," "Campus News," "Alumni Notes," and "Loose Screws," humor feature.

"We have what we believe to be one of the best publications produced in the College of Engineering," said Ferd Koch, editor. "I think the Idaho Engineer, this year, is a very credible publication," said J. H. Johnson, acting dean, "and should furnish food for thought for the graduating engineers. I especially recommend Dean Crawford's article on the type of work he is doing."

The staff for this issue includes Ferd Koch, editor; Edwin Paulson, managing editor; Ray Weston, business manager; George Brunzell, circulation manager; Lloyd Reed, Charles Thompson, and Branch Walker, associate editors; Albert Blair, alumni news; Joe Pimentel, campus news; and Larry Frisch, humor.

Rally Committee Is Approved By Executive Board; Nine Members

The rally committee proposed in came a reality last Tuesday night the list submitted to it by Student duties of the committee will be the cutting all rallies, pep assemblies, parades, game entertainments, and stunts, working in conjunction with the yell leaders.

Appointed by Newhouse
The committee as appointed by Newhouse and approved by the board consists of nine student representatives of different organizations on the campus through which the work of the committee can be more easily executed. Perry Culp represents the Argonaut; Marjorie Wurster, Cardinal Key; Hugh Eldridge, Blue Key; Chet Rodell, Intercollegiate Knights; Ruth Kehrer, Mortar Board; Carroll Livingston, "I" club; Lois Davies, Spurs; Lloyd Riutcel, yell king; and Jerome Brubaker, students at large.

When commenting upon the committee and the Argonaut's position in campaigning for it, President Newhouse observed: "Whenever the suggestions are such that they are obviously constructive and not merely moaning with the idea of breaking into print, the Ex-board is glad to show its appreciation by acting upon them."

Can Operate Now

Although the rally committees chief functions will be carried out during the football season, and its work more obviously effective, it nevertheless can operate to advantage during the present season of sport since its work is primarily fostering student spirit and support.

The committee plans to hold its first meeting the first part of next week and lay plans for the basketball season.

ASUI ASSEMBLY TO OFFER HILARITY

Rosbach Promises that Students Will Come Out of Post-Xmas Slump

The ASUI assembly Tuesday at 1 a. m. is going to be one of the most enthusiastic and hilarious meetings ever staged here for the purpose of banishing the annual post-Christmas gloom which descends upon the student body about this time of the year," said Frank Rosbach, ASUI assembly chairman.

Make Awards

Among attractions at the assembly will be the presentation of awards for the past football season by Coach Leo Calland. Talented members of the student body are preparing some novel attractions to be presented, according to Rosbach.

"Many a student has perhaps found studies a little trying after the entertaining days of the past vacation," said the assembly chairman, "but the committee guarantees that this assembly will banish for good this feeling. After considering for some time the needs of the students we have found that the greatest present need is a little cheering up and if the assembly Tuesday doesn't do it, nothing can."

MOSCOW WOMEN MAKE CLOTHES

Bedding and Supplies Will Be Sent To St. Maries District

Clothes and bedding are being made for relief in the flooded St. Maries district as a project in the CWA work for Moscow women. This work is being carried on in the charity store on Third and Washington streets. Mrs. G. P. Mix is in charge of this project and has six women working under her. The clothes and bedding will be shipped to St. Maries next week.

Governor C. Ben Ross has appropriated $75,000 for CWA work for women in the state. This allows work for 30 women in and around Moscow receiving 55 cents for skilled labor and 30 cents an hour for unskilled. The work will continue until February 15, and is carried on by the 30 working hours a week maximum that is allotted to all CWA work.

Donations of old clothes or bedding from various group houses will be appreciated, according to Mrs. Mix. Donations of money will be used for quilt lining and old clothes too worn for wear will be used as patches for quilts.

Other CWA work being carried on by women includes nursing and cleaning. Five nurses are now employed, one in the school, one in the country, and three in town as charity nurses.

ONE-ACT PLAYS TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEKEND

"The Winner," an Original Work of Evelyn Cross, Senior, Leads Group

STAGED JANUARY 19

"Bread," "Marthe," and "Jumplin' the Broom" Are Other Plays for Friday's Program

The annual presentation by the dramatics department of a program of one-act plays will be given next Friday night, January 19. The curtain will be at 8:20; students will be admitted free, a general admission price of 25 cents being charged all others.

Fred C. Blanchard, head of the dramatics department, will supervise the production, although the plays are cast from his classes, and are coached by students.

An original play, "The Winner" will be of greatest interest to the audience. The author, Evelyn Cross, is a senior in the English department and has done outstanding work in composition and creative writing classes. A group of one-acts, written by Idaho students, was presented last spring.

"The Winner" is a play with a college background. The cast includes Dorothy Requa, Murva James, Barbara Walker, Jean Ricker, and Barbara Walker.

The cast of "Bread," a play on the farm problem, includes Eugene Ryan, Dorothy Requa, Murva James, Harold Luke, Hallie Hansen, and Barbara Walker. Jean Ricker is directing the play.

Colna Amstutz directs "Marthe," a character study of an old woman. Dorothy Dole, Bill Cherrington, Mary O'Neill, Rosalind Essick.

ALL-COLLEGE CAST TO PRESENT OPERA

Forty Will Take Part in "The Gondoliers" for Spring Presentation

Tryouts for 17 solo parts in "The Gondoliers," a light opera to be presented at the university next Spring, will be held this afternoon in Music hall from 4 to 5:30 p. m. Tryouts for the other members of the cast will be held at a later date. The opera carries a cast of 40 singers.

Any student in the university is eligible for a part in the opera providing they are competent. "We wish it understood," said Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the music department, "that anyone who qualifies for a part in the opera may participate. The opera is not for the students of the department alone."

Date Not Set

The exact date for the opera has not been set, but it will be presented in the university auditorium early this coming spring. The singers in the opera will be fully costumed. The scenery for the opera will be constructed to conform with the theme of the musical presentation.

Professor Cummings will direct the opera. Rehearsals are to start immediately.

IDAHO'S LAMBS WIN AT CONTEST

Blue Ribbon Won by University At Ogden Show

For the second consecutive year the carload of fat lambs from the University of Idaho animal husbandry department, have been awarded the blue ribbon at the Ogden Livestock show at Ogden, Utah. This is the second year that the university has entered this show and both times their animals have been awarded a first prize in this division of the show. The prize-winning lambs were purebred Southdowns, bred and raised on the university farm. Mr. Stan Brown, shepherd, and Professor Hickman, head of the department, were at the show.

The consistent winnings of the animals from the university flocks this year and previous years is proof of the high caliber of livestock produced here. The Pacific International and the Ogden Livestock show are the two largest shows that have been entered this year. An outstanding record has been made in both shows.

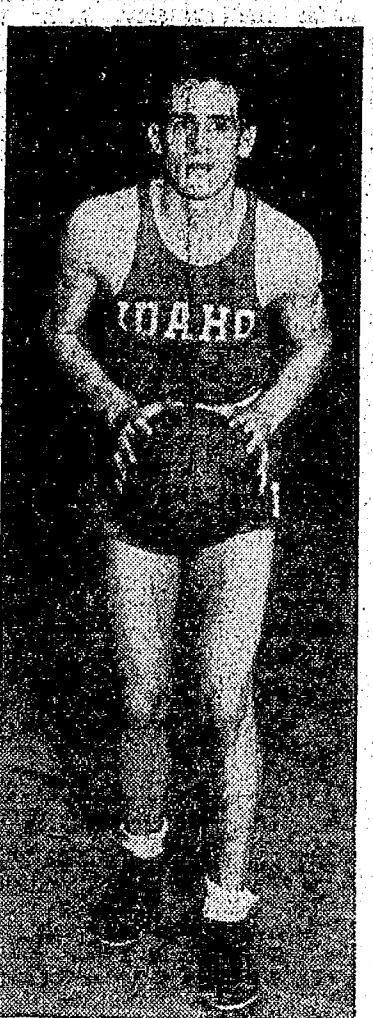

LOST: Pair gray men's gloves. Return to Argonaut.

Dinner guests of Beta Theta Pi Saturday were: Mary Sullivan, Spokane; Sibyl Sibley, Alwen Edwards, and Homestead Kennel, Kellogg.

All women desiring work under the CWA for the coming week should file their applications with Miss M. Belle Sweet, chairman of the women's CWA committee, by Saturday evening.

CHENOWETHS HAVE TRIPLE WEDDING

Ceremony Is Simple; Was Surprise to Many Friends

Surprising to their many friends on the campus and in Moscow was the triple wedding that took place at the home of Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Chenoweth at 4 p. m. Tuesday when their three daughters were married. Dr. C. M. Drury performed the ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives.

The three couples were: Mary Elizabeth Ann Chenoweth and James Thomas Potter, Rachel Chenoweth and William H. Gauss, and Edith Chenoweth and Ronald Wilson.

The three brides entered the room on the arms of their father, who escorted them to an improvised altar where he gave them away to the bridegrooms. The brides and bridegrooms formed a semicircle and joined hands while Dr. Drury read the ceremony.

Serve Wedding Supper

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the brides. The young couples plan to make their homes in Moscow for the present time.

All of the brides received their education in Moscow. They graduated from the Moscow high school and after their graduation attended the university. Mrs. Potter graduated from the university in 1933 and at the present is studying for a master's degree. Mrs. Wilson graduated with the class of 1932. Mrs. Gauss is a freshman.

Potter is a former art editor of the Blue Bucket and designed many covers for that publication. He is a member of the Attic and Maya clubs and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is a major in architecture.

Wilson is a member of the "I" club, Lambda Chi Alpha, and is a fellow in the department of psychology.

Gauss is a member of Beta Theta Pi and a major in the College of Engineering.

MUSIC CONCERT IS SET FOR JANUARY 21

Music lovers will welcome the announcement of the annual first semester concert by the university symphony orchestra, Carl Claus, conductor. This concert will be held on Sunday afternoon, January 21, at 4 p. m.; in the auditorium.

Patricia Kennard, violinist and concertmistress of the orchestra, will appear as soloist. She will play the first movement of the Concerto in A Major by Mozart for violin and orchestra.

This concert always attracts a large audience and the program, which will be printed in a later Argonaut will be interesting. The concert is open to the student body and public.

CARDINAL KEY IS TO BE INSTALLED

Jan. 20 Is Date; Blue Key Will Initiate Eight Pledges

Cardinal Key, the newly founded sister organization of Blue Key, men's service honorary, will be installed by Blue Key at a formal banquet scheduled for January 20. Immediately after the banquet a formal dance will be held. Necessary materials which are needed for the installation of the women's honorary have already arrived according to Richard Stanton, president of Blue Key.

Charter members of Cardinal Key who were selected by the members of Blue Key are: Margaret Moulton, president; Frances Hanley, vice-president; Frances Wheeler, secretary; Nina Varian, treasurer; Marjorie Wurster, sergeant-at-arms; Frances DuSault, Ruth Humphreys, Mae Belle Donaldson, Ivy McPherson, Esther Hunt, Mary Axtell, and Ethlyn O'Neal.

Elected on merit:

In keeping with the principles of Blue Key the women chosen upon the same qualifications as the brother organization. Activities scholarship, and personality were the basis upon which the selections were made. From now on, however the selections for Cardinal Key will be made entirely by the women members alone, but the choice will still depend upon these same qualities.

The joint formal dance will be held for the dual purpose of honoring both the installation of Cardinal Key and the initiation of the new members of Blue Key. Their initiation will be held on the afternoon preceding the banquet and dance.

Eight men were tapped by Blue Key last fall and on January 20 they will become full-fledged members of the service club. Hugh Eldridge, Robert Herrick, Victor Warner, Harold Boyd, William Ames, Dave Kendrick, Perry Culp, Douglas Cordon, and Dave Kendrick were the men selected.

These men were chosen on the newly inaugurated point system which makes it necessary for a prospect to have a maximum number of points in his favor before he is eligible to be voted upon.

PEP BAND CHOOSES TEN ALTERNATES FOR ORGANIZATION

Purpose Is to Have Trained Substitutes Ready to Fill In

TO WORK ON SHOW

Realizing the need of substitutes for members of the Pep band, 10 men were chosen last night as alternates. The men were chosen generally from those who had tried out for positions in the band at the first semester tryouts. Their abilities being known to most of the men in the band, there was no need for another tryout.

The alternates chosen are: Jack Snodgrass and Jack Holt, clarinets; Rodney Bellamy and William Armstrong, trumpets; James McFarland, trombone; Robert Thompson, Albert Blair, and Theodore Volghtlander, horns; Clyde Chaffins, bass horn; and Winston Goss, drums.

Not Members

"The recipients of these positions as alternates are not promised membership in the band," said Bill Ames, leader, after the meeting last night. "We do not want it misunderstood that these men are now members, although many of them will undoubtedly be future members."

"The purpose is to have trained substitutes ready to fill in whenever a member finds it impossible to appear with the band. We plan to have them practice with us a few times to enable them to fill in whenever called upon without any difficulty."

The band will soon start working on its annual show which will probably be given about the third week in March. The date is set especially early this year to afford plenty of time to make arrangements for the spring trip which the band plans to take. If the proper bookings and arrangements can be made, the show with a reduced cast will be taken throughout southern Idaho on a goodwill tour.

BURTON L. FRENCH TO LECTURE HERE

At a joint meeting of the International Relations club and the Cosmopolitan club of the university and the International Relations club of the Moscow high school Saturday night, Burton L. French, congressman from Idaho, will speak on the subject, "Some Danger Spots to Watch for Peace."

According to members of the clubs, everyone is invited to attend the meeting at the L. D. S. Institute.

The meeting starts at 9 p. m. instead of at the usual time of 8 p. m. in order that students may attend the Washington-Idaho basketball game. It is planned to have other forms of entertainment.

Mrs. Baggley, an Idaho grad, will repeat her lecture at the Methodist church tonight at 8.

On The New Rally Committee

At the Tuesday meeting, the Executive board complied with the requests of the Argonaut and appointed a rally committee. All credit due the board, and unless we are looking at it from the wrong side; that will be a move never to be regretted. From now on we can expect well organized rallies, interesting pep assemblies, "big-time" entertainment between the halves at games—particularly football games—rallies that are different—fireworks, torches, music, and a formidable array of spirited speakers.

The question has arisen since the suggestion was first brought to light just what the committee was for and exactly what its duties were. That is quite well explained in the preceding paragraph. In brief, its functions are to plan, organize, and execute all rallies, pep assemblies, and game entertainment.

Now that we have the committee ready to begin work, we can't let down and depend entirely upon it to provide all the spirit. We should be doubly inspired to back it in all endeavors to promote bigger and better pep gatherings. If we don't, there is a possibility that the whole thing will be given up as a bad job—especially is that sort of thing probable since the principle activities of the committee will be during the football season. But, THINGS CAN BE DONE DURING THE BASKETBALL SEASON.

We have it now. Let's all pledge to do our part. The Argonaut believes it was a constructive suggestion and a progressive move. Help us prove it.

If We Were Asked To Comment

If we were to comment on a subject which is probably none of our business, we would make certain observations on the Civil Works program as now being carried out on the university campus.

We would ignore the question of whether or not the system is a dole, whether or not we will care for paying for it when the time comes, because, being thankful for its bounty at the present, we are content to refrain from looking a gift horse in the mouth.

We would view with surprise some of the projects which are being worked on because some of them seem to be of an expensive nature considering the methods which have to be used to complete them, and considering the ultimate value of them after they are completed.

But we would express high approval of many things which are being done, because they will be of lasting benefit and value to the university.

We would nominate for fame the committee which has had charge of the arrangements and execution of the program, because, pressed for time, they have laid out many meritorious projects, have chosen men most deserving with a minimum of errors.

We would note with appreciation that the opportunity to add a few dollars to the pocketbook has undeniably made it possible to meet necessary expenses to continue the process of attending school, to eliminate uncertainties. It would be remarked that in a great many cases these funds are being received, in all seriousness, with the utmost appreciation because they were badly needed.

However, nominated for oblivion, and viewed with distaste and alarm would be those individuals who are working on CWA projects, not because they needed the money, but because they could pull a fast one and add just so much velvet to their spending accounts. We would remark that there now are many such individuals who are doing just that. We would designate those people as chislers, because they are depriving many, more needy by far than themselves, of work which in all fairness they should have. We would suggest as members of this class fraternity who are thus engaged, because there are many things which they could do to reduce expenses. And finally, we would urge those who must chisel to reduce their activities to the minimum, to play fair insofar as they are capable. We would conclude by saying that though this program is not an unmixed blessing, it is a blessing.

Grins and Gripes To The Editor

To the Editor and Managing Editor of The Argonaut

Dear Sirs: After reading the excellent paper which your staff issued today (Jan. 9) I cannot refrain from expressing a few thoughts that I have been tempted before to write.

Bouquets are, in too many instances, bestowed after the recipient can no longer see or smell. We find it easy to give vent to "gripes" when things go wrong, but we are smugly silent when no plausible cause for "gripes" exists.

Let me, however, be unconventional enough to declare now, while you and your staff can hear and feel, that I think the Argonaut this year is an unusually well edited college newspaper. Your issue of today (Jan. 9) is particularly newsworthy, but most of your issues have been free of dull "lifted" material. The typographical make-up is attractive, though not static.

The headline writing, the copy reading, and the proofreading, particularly, are now reaching a standard that few college papers, comparable with the Argonaut, can boast.

Under your leadership, the Argonaut has so far done none of the ridiculous "stunts" that some student papers periodically engage in, but has apparently tried sincerely to be a good newspaper.

The facts that your staff operates smoothly, that your paper is distributed early on publication days, and that almost no editing blunders have occurred are all to your credit. I hope that the Argonaut this year is laying a foundation, in staff and in policy, upon which future editors may continue to build soundly and wisely. Accept my sincere compliments!

Campus Clips

By BOYD

Washington State has its troubles with its student special. According to a recent issue of the Evergreen it seems that somebody stole the Cougar electric drum sign off the back of the Union Pacific coast special while the train was spotted in the station in Pullman awaiting the time of departure for the coast. The sign was made specially by the Union Pacific for use on the students' special.

Dewayne Kreager, editor of the W. S. C. paper, had this to say about that particular act and student body specials in general:

"W. L. (Bill) Smith, Union Pacific traveling passenger agent, who was in charge of the special, has been darn nice about the theft, but he states that if it has served its purpose for those who 'borrowed' it, that he would appreciate having it returned. No questions will be asked."

"After all, that sign looks much better on the back of the train and has little or no value at all as a study lamp, or a room decoration. Somebody ought to give the Union Pacific a belated Christmas present and leave it on the station platform one of these dark nights where it can be found in the morning."

"Speaking of student specials with all due respect to the railroads who have been so considerate in making them available to students, even with reduced rates, we are firmly convinced that perhaps they are not quite the 'crowning social event' that they are cracked up to be. There are much better places to spend the night before returning to Monday's zero hour classes than on a train be it ever so fine."

"Specialists" might be a good name for that disease which makes it so hard to drag oneself to classes that next morning. Idaho students will thank the administration and "Bill" Smith now for arranging our train times so that we had a half day in which to recover somewhat from the wear and tear, or should we say, "rip and tear," of traveling up from the south.

Kicks were plenty and varied before vacation about the necessity of being back for classes on Thursday. You were ready to "hit the ball" by the next Monday though, weren't you—or weren't you?

ONE-ACT PLAY

Aldrich Bowler and Willa St. Clair compose the cast.

"Jumpin' the Broom" is a North Carolina folk play, directed by Erma Lewis. Alma Lauder, Mark Feit, Harold Fisher, Tillie Jepperson and Erma Lewis are cast in this production.

Ike Kingston, New Orleans investment broker, after many golf-less months, tried out some practice shots. He missed the ball, wrapped the driver around his neck, and dislocated his wrist.

Only senior women are allowed the privilege of using lipstick at Connecticut college.

A Chance of Error?

We wish to take exception to a remark in an editorial in the December 15 issue of the Argonaut in commenting on Al Marineau. In this editorial you refer to the appearance of Al Marineau with the Pep band this year as "invitation-al or otherwise." Bill Ames present leader says that the only appearance that Marineau has made with the band this year has been at his invitation, so that is that.

In the same editorial you print a column from an editorial in the Star-Mirror written by Louis Boas entitled "Let's Keep Traditions Straight." The complaint of Mr. Boas was this: "The writer does not like to see the Pep band, its history and its present importance in interscholastic relations distorted—for the monetary gains or prestige of an individual regardless of his past contributions to his own Alma Mater." In a reply to this Marineau referred to that particular editorial as a "kick in the pants." The inference made by Mr. Boas is obvious although wholly unjustified.

Marineau clearly indicated who was the founder of the Pep band in an interview with an Argonaut reporter in the issue for October 10. "In 1921," he said, "eight musically inclined Kappa Sigis organized a dance band under the leadership of Lynn Hersey. After playing for dances the boys started playing at football games. That same year the first Pep band show was held. After the Pep band show it was a short step to organize the Pep band as a regular student activity."

The inference of Mr. Boas is certainly refuted by this public statement of Marineau. There are grave doubts in my mind whether Mr. Boas was justified in his attitude for suspecting Marineau after he publicly gave credit where credit was due.

TRY REVOLUTIONIZING IDEA

Forty of the most brilliant high school and prep school students entering Temple university from Philadelphia and vicinity this year have been put in an experimental group, relieved of most of the regular college student routine.

No definite course of study will have to be taken by the group; no credits earned; no marks given; class attendance will not be compulsory. The students are to be left entirely to their own initiative, bound only by an honor pledge to co-operate with the university in making the plan a success.

The first two years will be devoted to study of world problems and how to solve them. The last two years will be devoted to specialization in the field of the students choice.

NO SMOKING TRADITIONAL

"No Smoking" has remained one of the basic traditions of the undergraduates at Purdue, since the Indiana school was a mere shadow of its present self. Students have given it near perfect execution, university officials never once having to exert any measure to prosecute violators.

HAS NEW RUSHING RULES

Women's rushing at the University of Nevada consists of a two-hour session twice within a six-day period by each house, the various houses following an official schedule. This is followed by a three-day period of "silence." A rule that sorority women must refrain from all contacts with high school girls is to be enforced rigidly this year by the university.

GIVEN COURSE IN CHARM

Purdue women are now given an opportunity to take a course in "charm" where they learn such important things as how to hold a cigarette gracefully and how to avoid spilling cocktails on their best gowns.

Exams Cut Social Calendar; Three Dances This Week-end

This time every year there is a noticeable drop in social events on the University of Idaho campus. However, this is probably due to the fact that students are getting ready for the dreaded finals and social activities are the farthest thing from their over worked and worried minds. After the semester exams campus activities will again be in full sway until spring vacation when there is another short lull. Then the main whirl of events will start again with group houses and halls giving their annual formal and spring informals. Beta Theta Pi will hold their winter informal this week end. Also Ridenbaugh hall and the annual Tin Can dance given by Alpha Tau Omega is scheduled for this week end. Gamma Phi Betas will give their annual upperclassmen's informal dinner dance next week end.

Tin Can Dance Set For Saturday

Alpha Tau Omega will hold its annual Tin Can dance Saturday evening at the chapter house. The fraternity will be decorated with tin cans and novel signs. The programs will be pepper and tobacco cans with the dance program inside. The patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Milzian, Dean and Mrs. F. H. Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Janssen, and Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Henkle.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained members of L. D. S. Institute at an exchange dance Wednesday evening.

Beta's To Give Winter Informal

Red, green, and blue will be the colors used as the theme in the three dancing rooms at the Beta Theta Pi winter informal Saturday night.

day night. The color scheme will be carried out with lights, crepe paper, and crests. Patrons and patronesses are Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Axtell, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyer.

Service Groups Meet Jointly

Blue Key, upperclassmen's service honorary and Cardinal Key, upperclasswomen's service honorary, recently organized on this campus, will hold a joint formal banquet and dance, January 20. Formal installation ceremonies for the Cardinal Key chapter are to be held at the banquet. Blue Key pledges will be initiated Saturday afternoon before the banquet.

Delta Delta Delta entertained Tau Kappa Epsilon at an exchange dinner Wednesday.

Sigma Chi were hosts to members of Delta Delta Delta at an exchange dance Thursday.

Sigma Chi entertained Alpha Phi at an exchange dance Tuesday evening.

Delta Chi announces the pledging of Donald Holmes, Peck.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained Gamma Phi Beta at an exchange dance on Wednesday.

Thursday evening the Delta Gammas entertained the Alpha Tau Omegas at a dance exchange.

Dinner guests Monday night at the Kappa Alpha Theta house were: Mrs. James Oud, Orofino; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Poulton, Moscow; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Krummis, Mumper, Nebraska.

SELECT TEAMS FOR VOLLEYBALL

Chosen by Locke; Will Play First Game Friday Night in the Women's Gymnasium

The first-string volleyball teams were picked Thursday night by Miss Mabel Locke, coach; Esther Hunt, volleyball manager; and the class managers: Marie Rosenau, senior; June Elmers, junior; Gertrude Oleson, sophomore; and Julia Wade, freshman.

The senior team is as follows: Marie Rosenau, Ruth Kehrer, Marie Schlueter, Marie DeWinter, Georgia Anderson; Verla Jergenson, and Marion Swanson, substitute. The junior team: Mae Pugh, Ellen Frazier, Carol Campbell, Maurine Kingborn, Esther Hunt, Anna Sweeley, and June Elmers, substitute.

The sophomore team: Betty Mix, Ruth Evans, Helen Winkler, Dorothy Freuss, Jane Post, Gertrude Oleson, and Hilda Frolness, substitute. The freshmen team: Leona Peterson, Dorothy Hohnhorst, Anna Brendy, Dortha High, Edith Slatler, Ida Allen, and Margaret Lawyer, substitute.

The first game is to be played Friday night between the sophomores and the seniors. The second teams will have their schedule posted on the bulletin board in the administration building.

Virginia Peck was a dinner guest of Alpha Phi, Tuesday.

PLAN SPUR TEA AT LUNCHEON MEETING

The Spurs met at the Blue Bucket for a luncheon Tuesday noon, January 9. After the luncheon a short business meeting was held. There was discussion about the tea the Spurs plan to give for the freshmen girls some time soon. This tea is for the purpose of giving the new girls a more intimate knowledge of the organization, as well as furthering the acquaintance between the two groups. The date has not been definitely set as yet, but the event will probably take place during the next two weeks.

The next Spur meeting will be next Tuesday at the Delta Gamma house.

INTRODUCE NEW IDEA

The attempt to create a spirit of friendliness and informality at dances and other social functions at the University of Michigan has manifested itself at the Grill Room of the Michigan League, all-campus women's organization, with the inception of "Stunt Night."

The object of this new device is to get talented students and others on the campus of Michigan to appear on the floor and render any sort of entertainment which they are capable of. Soon it is expected by members of the League that there will be presented several dance numbers, in addition to song features.

University of Wisconsin students have access to 14 libraries.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFER OPEN TO MUSICIANS

A scholarship in double bass, for a class of six students will be effective in the music department during the second semester.

Preference will be given to freshmen, and sophomores wishing to play in the university orchestra, and who plan to attend school next year. Anyone interested should communicate immediately with Miss Miriam Little, instructor in the department, or Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the department.

No more carmen-tipped stubs will be seen on the Syracuse campus as women are prohibited the right of smoking.

Vandals--Huskies Both "On the Spot"

SPORT SHOP

By BILL McCREA

Idaho fans will get their first sight of conference basketball tonight—and, according to the dope, it's slated to be some battle. Washington, eager to win its sixth conference gonfalon, in seven years, is anxious to get off to an undefeated start. Coach Hec Edmundson was decidedly not satisfied with the showing of his team last week. The result of his dissatisfaction was a big shakeup, the results of which no one knows.

Captain Hal Lee, Weber, and Galer are the only men on the Husky squad who are at all sure of starting the games over here. Hanover, who showed some smooth ball playing last year, has evidently not hit his stride yet this season. Dick Cook and Ralph Bishop are two likely men who saw action in the first two games and may draw regular berths.

Captain Lee can always be counted on to give the fans a treat with a little of his fancy dribbling and smooth, unique shots. He is a favorite with the fans for his clever work but his showiness does not in the least detract from his value. He is one of the most dangerous offensive men in the conference. His defense work is also good, and if he has to, he can turn in a credible job at center.

Coach Rich Fox has been working steadily this week with his Vandals and he also has been doing an extensive bit of lineup changing. As a result, no one will know for sure just which five Vandals will be found in the starting lineup for either game of the series: Howard Grenier and Harold Klumb are the only two men on the squad who seem to have starting positions cinched.

Idaho's two biggest men—Grenier and Klumb—are also the leading scorers. Grenier, who won pre-conference scoring honors, is now trailing Klumb by one point in the conference scoring race. These two big fellows will prove themselves the mainstays of the Vandal squad throughout the season, as each are real scoring threats, and Klumb, in particular, is an excellent defensive man.

Idaho has a "sophomore" team this year. Naslund, Wally Geraghty, Iverson, Klumb, Honsowetz, Owen, and Hudson are all likely sophomore prospects who will see action during their coming two years under Coach Fox. Besides these men, Vic Warner, Horton Herman, and Bob Leite are men who will have another year of varsity play. In addition there are a large number of men from this year's frosh squad, who are larger and perhaps better than the Coach Fox's average recruits from the yearlings. All in all, future casaba prospects look rosier than they have for some time.

Tonight's game will give the students a chance to see their team in action, and may clear up some of the wonderment as to just who and how good the Vandals are this year. The team realizes that the games of this week end are likely to prove quite a factor in determining their final conference standing, and consequently, we'll now see a team which will either win or give a better team a battle that they'll not forget for some time.

John Norby seems to be getting a little of the recognition and publicity which has somehow been missing during his football career. L. H. Gregory in the Portland Oregonian devoted a good half column in Thursday's "Oregonian" to John's great play in the East-West game.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICE

The Argonaut has been asked by the registrar to warn students that January 25 is the last day for filing registration material in the office of the registrar. Students should see their deans and file their registration blanks as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush.

Speed Artists to Strut Stuff

Potential Heart-Failure Is in Store for Fans; Iverson May Start

The Vandals or the Huskies. You can take your pick just which outfit will be more "on the spot" as the two-game series starts tonight in the Memorial gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

Idaho, facing the necessity of winning at least one of the scuffles to keep from being all but counted out of the northern division race, and Washington, facing a revenge-bent team that last season handed them the worst wallop they had taken for several years when they came over the mountains after the Vandals had been badly outclassed in the opening of hostilities at Seattle—either way you look at it, it spells potential heart-failure for the fans.

TWO DRAW SHOWERS EARLY IN OPENING HOSTILITIES

There's never any love lost between Vandal and Husky eagles, even if the Washington coach, "Hec" Edmundson, is a University of Idaho product. A player from each team started the ball rolling this year in the first series at Seattle with pugilistic aspirations with the result that both boys drew their bath water early that night. There are indications that the energies of both outfits will be directed solely toward getting baskets tonight, however, and that means they use of getting them will be something to watch.

Ralph Cairney, ace maple court star at Washington a couple of years ago, dropped in on one of Hec's practices just before the first Idaho game, and came out with the assertion that his old boss had the "fastest" team he'd ever seen in the Husky pavilion.

THERE'LL BE NO DILLY-DALIXIN' AROUND

All of which was supposed to indicate that the Huskies would probably roll over Rich Fox's boys in impressive style. Came time for the Vandals too, and the Vandals too, with a little speed of their own. They matched the famed Husky offense, basket for basket, and the final result was 24 field goals apiece for the series. Only the inability to convert free throws threw the honors to the Huskies.

So it will be speed again tonight and tomorrow. There's none of the set offense plays in the style of either of these teams. It's get the ball and tear down the floor for a basket with both outfits, and both have the type of players to lead this kind of attack.

The Geraghty brothers, Cy and Wally, are Idaho's chief speed merchants, and although they both have been working in the same position, Rich Fox promises both will get a chance to display their wares tonight. Wally drew much favorable comment on his elusiveness in the Seattle series from coast sport writers, and the way Cy has been burning the floor up in practice sessions during the past week is something to talk about.

IDAHO "BIG BOYS" HAVE CINCH ON STARTING

A new face may appear in the opening lineup for Idaho tonight. Coach Fox hasn't decided for sure just who will start, but indicated that the 180-pound Norm Iverson, a sophomore, will be with the likely starters. Norm hurt an ankle on the Christmas barnstorming tour, and so didn't make the first trip to Seattle, but it's better now, and his steadiness and point-getting ability Fox figures are too valuable to leave on the bench very long.

Veteran Howard Grenier and transfer Harold Klumb, the Vandal big boys, are about the only two on the squad who have a first-string position cinched. They led the scoring for the Vandals at Seattle, and when it comes to wading in for the close-ups and grabbing them off the backboard, they'll be hard to equal in the conference this season.

THEY'VE GOT TO STOP GALER AND LEE

Lefty Naslund, another sophomore, and trick shot artist, is the other probable starter, although Fox said last night that at least 10 men will probably get in the game before the final gun. Both coaches have been putting their charges through stiff workouts since their first meeting a week ago, with special emphasis on polishing up their offensive game, which was somewhat ragged in both teams at Seattle. Idaho's chief defensive assignment will be to stop crafty Bob Galer, who looped six field goals and five free throws to account for 17 points, more than half of his team's total, in last Saturday's game. Captain Hal Lee is another scoring threat who likes to astonish the boys by his zig-zag dribbling the length of the floor, which all too often for the welfare of his opponents ends up in a basket.

THIS STRETCHED OUT eager 'is Harold Lee, veteran captain of the Washington Huskies, who invade the Vandal basketball camp for a two-game series starting at 7:30 tonight. His delight is in treating the crowd to a tricky zig-zag dribble down the floor. He gets away with it most of the time, too, and is the real mainstay of Hec Edmundson's attack.

Washington Squad Due For Big Shake-Up by Coach "Hec"

Huskies Are Still Big; First Place Standing Is at Stake

Clearing a margin of six points apiece on the two games with the Idaho Vandals at Seattle last week, Coach "Hec" Edmundson's Washington Huskies will be working hard to keep their position on top of the conference pile when they meet the Vandals for a return engagement here tonight and Saturday night. After a none too impressive record, meeting non-conference outfits, the Huskies came through with a pair of wins to head the conference, winning by scores of 35 to 29 and 31 to 25.

Remembering the awful pasting the big boys from Seattle got last year when they called over for a visit, Idaho maple court sages are predicting a close go this week end. The Huskies, minus the services of big Pete Antoncich who rang in the basket that split the Moscow series last year, will be a

RAFTERS MAY GET DUSTED

Weber generally gets the other guard position, but the other two positions are undecided yet. Merin and Bishop have been starting at center, neither one being able to keep Howard Grenier's scoring down, and Hec will decide between Hanover and Cook for the other position.

George Horton, graduate manager, was eyeing the steel rafters speculatively yesterday afternoon, wondering just how they might be as a place for the overflow crowd that is likely to pour into the gym tonight. The Washington games drew capacity crowds last year, and with attendance records showing general improvement, a wise hint is to grab an early seat.

much lighter and shorter outfit than that which played here last season. Being a fast outfit the Huskies present a style of play in many respects like to that of Vandals. The tall men in the Husky squad are headed by the veteran Hal Lee, captain of the team and all-coast guard last year. Lee, one of the cleverest dribblers on the coast, is the mainstay of the Seattle club, and may be put in at center, where he has had some success.

Hec Shakes 'em Up

Due to a general shake up through the week at Washington, the only men sure of places on the starting lineup for the Huskies are Lee, Galer, and Weber, with Cook and Bishop the most likely men to fill in the vacant posts. Lee, Galer, and Cook are all lettermen, while Weber and Bishop have yet to win their first "W." Galer, while not impressive in height, is one of the best forwards in the conference, being able to snag the basket with amazing consistency, while Cook, one of the best last year's reserves, is showing better than ever this season.

Weber has been the club spark-plug for the last two years and barely measures up to six feet. Bishop is another man who just measures up to a half dozen feet and plays a brilliant game at forward.

Remember Pasting Remembering the 47 to 35 beating at the hands of the Vandals last year, Hec Edmundson's men will be eager to add to their percentage column at the expense of the Vandals, but if one can judge by past years' performances, will be hard put to do it. Last year the Idaho delegates were awed by the immensity of the vast Husky kenel at Seattle and allowed themselves to be taken unawares, only to come back with a bang on the

WASHINGTON HOLDS CONFERENCE LEAD

Cougars Drop Second Place; Oregon and O. S. C. Tie for Third

Conference Standings

|                  |       |
|------------------|-------|
| Washington       | W. L. |
| Washington       | 2 0   |
| Washington State | 2 2   |
| Oregon           | 1 1   |
| Oregon State     | 1 1   |
| Idaho            | 0 2   |

The first week of the conference race finds the University of Washington Huskies in first place, with a comfortable lead over the second place Washington State team. Last year's champions, Oregon State, find themselves tied for third with the University of Oregon Webfoots. Idaho, with two losses to the Huskies chalked up against her, finds herself in the cellar.

This week end will see the Vandals endeavoring to get out of the cellar as they meet Washington in a two game series here Friday and Saturday nights. The only other conference game will be in Eugene, where the two Oregon schools meet for their first battle of the season. Should Idaho win both games from Washington she still will find herself in a three-way tie for second place.

W. S. C. Loses Second

Regardless of the outcome of the Oregon game, Washington State will lose her second place position. If Washington beats Idaho the Huskies will remain in first place with one of the Oregon teams following with two wins and one loss. If Idaho wins both games the Oregon winner will be at the head of the conference with all the team except the loser of that game in a tie for second place.

Next Monday and Tuesday will find the Washington Huskies in Pullman for two tilts with the Cougars. Should the Huskies win their two games, or even one, with Idaho, they will be in a very favorable position to continue on the march to a conference pennant. Should Idaho lose both games they will find themselves probably definitely out of a chance to wind up in first place. This week end will mark the close of the first third of the conference games, leaving 25 for future play.

MATMEN HAVE THREE MATCHES

Three wrestling matches have been scheduled for the coming semester, the first intercollegiate matches which this year's team has scheduled. The Washington State Cougar matmen will be taken on twice, at dates not definitely set. One match will be held in Pullman and one in Moscow.

Later a match with the University of Washington wrestlers will be held here in Moscow. The Husky matmen will also wrestle in Pullman and the outstanding winning man from each of the three schools will go to Portland next spring to compete for the Northwest championship.

"All men who are interested in wrestling should turn out next week," said Captain Stan Skiles, "We are in need of men for the lightweight divisions particularly." The team meets every night at four o'clock in the wrestling room on the third floor of the Memorial gymnasium.
