"This is a public events assembly," said Dean T. S. Kerr, chairman of the public events committee, "and should not be confused with the student body assemblies. Mr. Hapgood has not stated his topic but, I imagine that will be easily decided after he arrives."

Former Editor.
Mr. Hapgood was editor of Collier's magazine before the World War and was later editor of Harper's magazine. He has also written for Chicago, Milwaukee, and New York newspapers during his career as a political writer.

For many years Mr. Hapgood has been actively interested in the Columbia Conserve company, established by his father and operated by the family for a number of years. Under the Hapgood family the company went on the profit sharing basis, allowing the employees to have a voice in the operation of the business. Mr. Hapgood has written many articles on the experiment and is considered an authority on the plan in the United States.

Political Informant.
The political situation in the United States is at the fingertips of Mr. Hapgood, having been intimate with all of the presidents from Roosevelt to Roosevelt. During 1919 he was the minister to Denmark.

The former minister is a graduate of the Harvard Law school, but spent very little time in the practice of law. He has written several books and biographical sketches of prominent men in the United States.

Famous Hapgood lectures are: "Facism, Communism, and Freedom," "Changes We Must Have to be Safe," "The President and His Cabinet," "My Experiences with Russia," "Education that Fits Today," "Next Steps in Washington," "International Hotspots," "War Clouds Over Europe," and "Russia Recognized—Now What?"

Sir Herbert Ames To Speak Here On Three-Day Stay

Sir Herbert Ames, "First World Treasurer," for seven years the financial director of the League of Nations, will be brought here March 12 through the cooperation of the International Relations club and the Carnegie foundation for a three-day speaking engagement of class talks, banquets, and special lectures, according to a letter received yesterday by Dr. J. "The Great Reconciliation and Its Aftermath," "The role of the Little Entente in present day European politics," and "The German demands for revision of the Treaty of Versailles," will be his lecture topics. A special assembly will enable every one to hear him.

"Sir Herbert speaks with authority on the work of the League of Nations and associated topics," reads a report of his life sent to Dean Eldridge by the national International Relations club secretary. "He has visited and lectured in all the Canadian colleges, and in more than one hundred American educational institutions." Will Speak at Assembly

Arriving in Moscow Monday morning, March 12, he will deliver a lecture to the International Relations club in the afternoon. Tuesday at 11 a. m. he will speak at a special assembly. This position he filled from 1919 to 1926, living for six years at Geneva, the seat of the League.

During the past five years he has three times visited Geneva, keeping up to date on all League activities. The summer of 1932 he spent in Germany, Poland, and Geneva, studying especially the situation in Central Europe.

NEW RUSH RULES ARE NOW IN EFFECT

Cards Will be Distributed to Group Houses Soon

Final arrangements for the new fraternity rushing rules were made at a meeting of the Interfraternity council held at 9:30 last night at the L. D. S. Institute. A committee which has been working on date cards reported that the cards would soon be ready for distribution among the group houses.

In the future there will be no fraternity house guests during the rushing period, according to a resolution passed by the council some time ago. Rushes will live in the halls during this time. This resolution was passed for the purpose of eliminating the unfair advantages which a house enjoys in rushing among its own house guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bergh of Boise. She has been living with her mother in Moscow for the last two years while attending school. She has been prominent in class activities and dramatics, playing many leading parts in ASUI productions during the past three years. She is a junior in the School of Education and a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

MAKE CHANGE IN TONIGHT'S PLAYS

Substitute "Speaking to Father" for "Jumpin' the Broom"

George Ade's "Speaking to Father" will be substituted tonight in the program of one-acts for "Jumpin' the Broom," because of the illness of one of the student actors.

The curtain will be promptly at 8:30 p. m. Students are admitted on their activity tickets, and a general admission price of 25 cents will be charged the public.

"Speaking to Father," is a modern comedy with a business office setting, the action centering around Septimus Pickering, the Pickle King, and Edward W. Swingle, a young college graduate in love with Pickering's daughter. Earl Bopp is the student director of the farce. Septimus Pickering is played by Mark Felt, and Edward Swingle by Harold Fisher. Alma Laudler is cast as Luella Pickering, "Tillie Jeppson as Caroline Pickering, and Howard Russell as Professor Bliss.

Evelyn Cross' original play, "The Winner" with a college setting, includes in its cast Bill Cherrington, Murva James, Dorothy Requa, and Frank Bevington.

"Bread," a play that depicts the farm problem, is directed by Jean Ricker. The students taking part are: Barbara Walker, Harvard Luke, Murva James, Eugene Ryan, Dorothy Requa, and Hallie Hansen. The other play on this program of one-acts is "Marthe," a character study of an old woman. Willa St. Clair, Mary O'Neill, Rosalind Essick, Dorothy Dole, Bill Cherrington, and Aldrich Bowler are cast in the play. Coama Amstutz is the student director.

Nine New Men Will Enter "I" Club Sunday

Nine new members will be initiated into the "I" club at 11:30 Sunday morning when the club holds its initiation at the Kappa Sigma chapter house. The new men received their letters for participation in football last season.

All of the initiates are requested to be on time by Nels Fowles, president of the lettermen's group.

Talbot Jennings' Play Scores Hit in New York Opening

Talbot Jennings, who is a graduate of the University of Idaho, has again achieved success in his latest play "This Side Idolatry." The play has been favorably commented upon in London, where it was produced by Gilbert Miller. Leslie Howard, a well known stage and screen star, took the part of Shakespeare in London, and will again have this lead when it is produced in New York.

The title of this play was taken from Ben Johnson's tribute to Shakespeare, in which he said he loved Shakespeare this side of Idolatry. Both George Miller and Leslie Howard had to come to the United States for engagements, so the properties and stage settings were shipped here for production in New York.

Jennings enlisted during the World War and was an officer in the flying corps. After the signing of the Armistice he returned to the university and was graduated two years later. He was undoubtedly the "star" man of his time in the English department.

During his undergraduate days he was ASUI president, president of the English club, and the founder of the English club of the Blue Bucket magazine. He secured a fellowship at Harvard for one year and there obtained his masters degree. He returned to Idaho and was an instructor in the English department for two years.

He went East and studied under George Pierce Baker at Yale and gained a fellowship. His second year at Yale he received an increased fellowship, longer than had been held there before. He was instructor in dramatics and English at Miami university for a few years under former President A. H. Upham. He then went to New York to write plays, a number of which have been given here at Idaho. His greatest effort, however, has been in connection with his last hit "This Side Idolatry." Mr. and Mrs. Jennings have just returned to New York.

Boquets For The Keys

Congratulations should be extended to Blue Key for the work they have done at the University of Idaho this year. The upperclassmen's organization was one of two organizations responsible for the excellent Homecoming that took place here last fall.

The largest and probably the most outstanding piece of work that the organization has done is the formation of Cardinal Key, a sister group to Blue Key. The qualifications for the women's group resemble greatly that of Blue Key.

The university has been in need of such an organization for many years. The work that has fallen on Blue Key in the past years has been welcomed, but often times the job was meant for women. There has never been a women's organization on the campus that Blue Key felt like turning to for assistance. Spur has its various duties to perform and would not be able to handle additional tasks efficiently. Mortar Board is an organization for senior women and like Silver Lance is not a service organization.

With the installation and initiation of Cardinal Key tomorrow evening a new service organization will be founded on the Idaho campus. The group of women is not just another organization, but it is a group of women from several branches of the university interested in the development and betterment of their future alma mater. The question that is predominate, to those interested in campus affairs, is what will be the first move of the new group?

At the present time Blue Key has several projects in mind that will mature before the close of school and will prove beneficial to the student body. We hope that the new organization will promote similar projects for the campus.

Congratulations should be extended to the first members of Cardinal Key, who are the outstanding women on the campus, for being selected as the charter members of such an outstanding national organization. The pledge that the women will take on the evening of their initiation and installation will be emblematic of good citizenship and service to the university.

We hope that future Cardinal Key groups will select the leaders of campus activities as is representative in the present men's service group.

Let The Argonaut congratulate you Margaret Moulton, Frances Hanley, Frances Wheeler, Nina Varian, Marjorie Wurster, Ivy McPherson, Mae Belle Donaldson, Ethlyn O'Neal, Ruth Humphreys, Mary Axtell, Esther Hunt, and Frances DuSault.

Watching The Newspapers

It has been a year of momentous happenings, both domestically and internationally. This country is reaching the climax of its long battle to return to normal economic times. The world is at the crossroads between disarmament and possible open war.

Often the indictment is raised against the college student that he loses all touch with the world's vital happenings in his little campus seclusion. Now is the time for university students to watch the newspapers and disprove the charge. History is in the making, and a well-kept scrapbook would be invaluable in the future. But if time doesn't permit the keeping of a scrapbook, at least the news could be stored in the mind.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR TEACHES IN EAST

According to a story appearing in The Wallace Miner on January 11, Virgil R. D. Kirkham, who will be remembered by many Idahoans as a geologist on the staff of the School of Mines here, is now vice president of the Michigan Pacific Oil and Gas company. He was recently elected president of the Oil and Gas Producers' Association of Michigan at the annual meeting held in Mount Pleasant.

Mr. Kirkham was widely known and highly esteemed in the mining fraternity of Idaho. He is the author of a number of reports on the geology of various sections of Idaho.

In a recent issue of the U. of N. Sagebrush (Nevada) appeared a picture of their 1903 football team. There wasn't a beard in the whole squad! Sagebrush was evidently all right where it belonged, but that was not on the chins of the Wolf aggregation of 30 years ago.

Miners Select Name for New Publication

"The Idaho Miner," is the name of the new School of Mines technical student publication. The miners have not published a magazine for several years and the new publication will be ready for distribution about April 1.

The selection of the name was the result of a contest that has been in progress since January 5. Judges in the contest were A. W. Fahrwald, D. C. Livingston, and Dr. A. L. Anderson, all of the School of Mines.

Kroll Wins Prize
Egon Kroll was the winner of the contest. He will be awarded a ticket to the Muckers' Ball to be held in the Blue Bucket Inn, February 3.

Robert Austin is the editor of the new publication and Egon Kroll will head the business staff. Other staff appointments have not been made, but will be announced soon.

"The need for such a publication in the School of Mines," said Editor Austin, "has been observed by the students and faculty for a number of years. We are going to publish a magazine that will be of interest to the laymen as well as the miners. Copy for the first issue has already started coming in and the advertising is practically all sold," Austin concluded.

The contract for the printing of the magazine has not been awarded.

Campus Clips

By BOYD

After going "round 'round" for a long time it seems that the higher educational trouble in Oregon has finally been straightened. Three moves were made by the state board of education last Monday which proved satisfactory to both Oregon State college and the University of Oregon and brought to a close at least for the present the difficulty which aroused officials and residents of the state so much last month.

The first move was to abandon all investigation of Wayne L. Morse, dean of the law school at the university, who struck the spark which brought about the resignation of Roscoe C. Nelson, former president of the board, and who demanded in a fiery speech the removal of Chancellor W. J. Kerr of Oregon State and the university.

The second thing which the board did was to designate "acting presidents" for the Eugene and Corvallis campuses who will relieve Chancellor Kerr of many of the administrative duties which encumbered him in handling the common problems of both schools. The two appointees are C. V. Boyer, dean of the College of Arts and Letters of the university, named to head that institution and George W. Peavy, dean of forestry at the state college, to take the same position there.

The third move was to elect Wil-lard Marks of Albany as president of the state board of education, the position formerly held by Nelson, and Charles A. Brand of Roseburg, as vice president.

The acting presidents will discontinue some of their present duties and will receive only a slight increase in salary for their work as institutional administrators. At present no salary change will be made, according to The Oregon Emerald.

A. W. S. TO BRING LYCEUM TALENT

Proceeds Will Be Placed In Loan Fund For Women

"I believe that the Associated Women Students have worked out something which will not only greatly interest the students here, but also prove of real benefit to them," said Frances DuSault, president of A. W. S., Thursday. "At our cabinet meeting Tuesday afternoon in Miss French's office, it was decided to appoint a lyceum committee to work with the faculty committee on plans for entertainment for next fall. The committee will discuss important figures in the dramatic and music worlds, and the artist whom they feel would be the most popular on the Idaho campus will be chosen and invited to come here. We believe that the ticket sale to students and townspeople should not only cover the costs of obtaining the entertainer, but should also contribute quite a bit toward the A. W. S. loan fund for university women."

Delta Gamma entertained Dean Permeal J. French at dinner Tuesday evening.

SOPHS LEADING IN VOLLEY BALL

Second Year Players Defeat Seniors and Juniors to Gain Lead in Tournament

The volleyball tournament being held this week, so far shows the sophomores at the top. They defeated the seniors last Friday night, and the once invincible juniors Tuesday night.

The juniors defeated the freshmen Monday night, and again the freshmen were took by the senior team Wednesday night. The seniors had a hard time taking two games out of three away from the new group. At the end of the first game the score was 15-13 in favor of the seniors. The next game the freshmen edged out the older team 15-12, however, the seniors won their next game easily with a score of 15-7.

The tournament ends January 22 and 23 with the sophomores playing the freshmen, and the juniors playing the seniors. The sophomores are picked to win their game, as have the juniors the edge over the seniors. If the sophomores take their game, it will put them over the top in the tournament and give each member on the team 125 points. On the sophomore team are: Betty Mix, Gertrude Olesen, Ruth Evans, Dorothy Preuss, Helen Winkler, Jane Post, and Hilda Froisness, substitute.

Only the Center Leaves are used in LUCKIES

For these are the Mildest and fully ripened for perfect smoking

We buy only the center leaves for Luckies. Not the top leaves for they are under-developed. Not the bottom leaves for they are inferior in quality. Only the center leaves for these are truly mild and fully ripe. And that's the fine tobacco we use—to make Luckies so round, so firm, so fully packed—free from loose ends that spill out. That's why Luckies are always mild, always truly mild. And remember, "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

FROSH GAME WILL BE PLAYED HERE

Tussle Was Slated for Pullman; First Whistle at 7:30 Tonight

The opening game of the freshman basketball season, with W. S. C. originally scheduled for Pullman, will be played at the Memorial gymnasium in Moscow tonight. The game will start at 7:30 and admittance will be free. Daily scrimmages against the varsity squad and several practice games with Moscow high school have worked Coach Glenn Jacoby's Idaho freshman basketball squad into excellent form for the opening game with the always strong night.

The Vandal yearling squad, cut sometime ago to 15 players, looks to be one of the strongest frosh aggregations in recent years at Idaho. The freshmen, unlike the varsity, are not lacking in height. Half of the men on the freshman squad are over the six foot mark. The "big five" composed of Paul Fuller, Peck; Bert Larsen, Twin Falls; Ronald Martin, St. Maries; Woody Hall, Moscow; and Lawrence Kearns, Post Falls, will probably compose the starting lineup, although Joe Gauss, Moscow; Wilfrid Fry, Prosser, Washington; Donald Tracy, Moscow; and Drummond Hoggan; Burley, are likely to get in their share of the play.

The remainder of the men on the freshman 1934 squad are: Winthrop Draper, Richfield; Hulbard Meacham, Lapwai; Robert Jensen, Moscow; Wynne Hill, Moscow; and Ed Myers, Deer Lake, Washington. Six games have been scheduled with the Washington State freshmen. Other games with Lewiston Normal may be arranged. The present schedule:

- January 19 at Moscow (7:30)
February 10 at Moscow (7:30)
February 16 at Moscow (7:30)
February 17 at Pullman (8:30)
February 23 at Moscow (8:30)
February 24 at Pullman (8:30)

GEM NOTICE

All students are urged to make appointments and have their pictures taken for the Gem of the Mountains immediately, if they have not already done so. There are still over 100 students who have failed to do this, and have only two weeks left, if they wish their pictures in the year book. All pictures must be taken and the proofs returned to the studios by the end of the semester. After that time, no more individual pictures will be accepted for the class sections.

Traditional Foes Grind Axes For Spirited Battle At W.S. C.

The opening shot in the private four-game basketball feud between the old Inland Empire rivals, Washington State college and the University of Idaho, will be fired Saturday night when the Cougars and Vandals clash on W. S. C.'s floor. The Cougars play a return engagement at Moscow February 3, Idaho and Washington State tied for third place in the northern division last season, winning and losing eight games each. The Vandals, however, won three out of four games from their traditional foes.

While Coach Rich Fox's sophomore Vandal combination is considerably below the Cougars in the present conference standings as a result of having dropped four straight games to the University of Washington, the present situation is not unlike the set-up on the eve of the first Cougar-Vandal game a year ago. Idaho lost the first four games on her slate last winter but came back to upset the high-flying Cougars, 40 to 39, in their first meeting at Moscow, and took two of the remaining three W. S. C. games.

FISHER TAKES UNIFORM FOR FIRST TIME

Merle Fisher, sophomore from Sequim, Washington, who has been ineligible, was yesterday placed on the eligible list and may win a post on the starting lineup Saturday night. He has been seeing much first string action this week, playing with Grenier, Klumb, Naslund, and W. Geraghty.

This year's Vandal five, with unseasoned sophomores in key positions, face a tough evening's work at Pullman Saturday. Their chances of defeating Washington State will be better later in the season, when with more experience gained in actual games, their teamwork, passing, and general ball-handling should be greatly improved. The final W. S. C.-Idaho games are set for March 2 and 3.

Coach Fox has been putting the team thru routine drill this week in an effort to smooth out the passing attack of his sophomore team. Howard Grenier, and Harold Klumb, the beef of the team, remain the only men who have positions clinched on the starting lineup. The entire squad has been receiving the same work this week as Coach Fox still sees little difference in the majority of the squad.

FOX DISAPPOINTED IN SQUAD WORK

Coach Rich Fox has been somewhat disappointed in the work of part of his squad and is waiting for each man to prove his right before he is given a definite place on the varsity first string. The men probably to see a majority of action are: Grenier, Klumb, Naslund, and W. Geraghty.

The Washington State lineup will probably be the same one which gave the "University of Washington" two tough battles. Kenny Willis, trick long-shot artist, will be at one guard position with Captain Scott at the other defensive post. Bob Houston, the W. S. C. 6 ft. 7 inch "stratosphere kid," will hold the center position and will provide some tough tip-off competition for Howard Grenier.

Roland Johnson, veteran forward, and McPhee, will probably start at the forward posts. Holstein, McNeil, and Driver are the substitutes most likely to see action during the game.

Coach Jack Friel's men are at present tied for third in the conference position and will have to win from Idaho if they are to have any chance in the conference race. Washington State has been considered the dark horse of the conference, but will be definitely out of the race if they fail to take the measure of the Vandals. The Idaho men, on the other hand, must win this game and several more consecutive ones, if they are to be considered as contenders even for second place.

The game will start at 7:30 in the Washington State college gymnasium. General admission will be 40 cents. A special student price of 25 cents may be made for Idaho students who desire to see the game.

POLITICS TO SOLVE SLUMP

The disastrous slump of the Kansas university football team, which tied Notre Dame, then lost three games in a row, was taken before the special session of the legislature recently. A bill was introduced which would appropriate $100,000 for the purpose of employing competent athletes.

HUSKIES HOLD TOP POSITION

Oregon Goes to Corvallis; Idaho Travels to Pullman

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Washington 6 0 .100, Oregon 2 1 .667, Oregon State 1 2 .333, Washington State 2 4 .333, Idaho 0 4 .000

This Week's Schedule

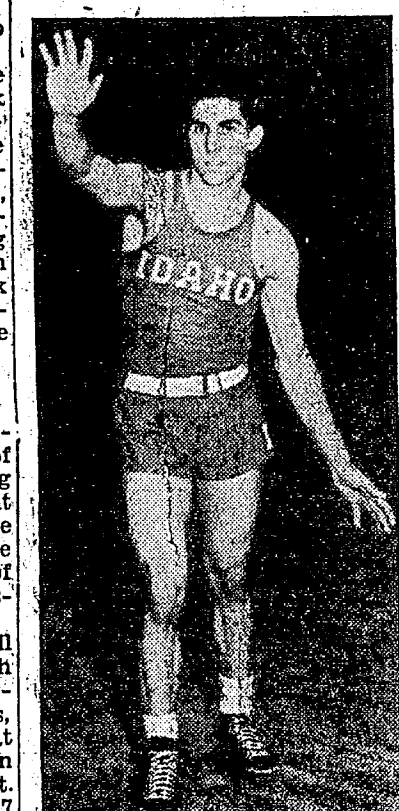

Friday—Oregon vs. Oregon State, Corvallis.

Saturday—Washington State vs. Idaho at Pullman.

The Washington Huskies, with nearly half the season behind them in the coast conference in basketball, commands the ranks. The Oregon Webfeet are at present the chief contenders of the Washington aggregation; they are in second place with two wins and one reverse. The Webfeet who were in the cellar last year have started out this year by defeating W. S. C. and last year's champions, O. S. C.

Idaho though in the cellar at present, will have a chance to register her first win tomorrow night at Pullman. Oregon and O. S. C. will meet tonight at Corvallis. If O. S. C. wins she will be in undisputed third place, not tied for third with W. S. C. as at present. The Idaho game at Pullman is a toss up; both teams are evenly matched and the ancient rivalry will make prediction impossible.

"Utility Man"

IF COACH RICH FOX has a "utility man" on his Vandal basketball squad this year, this rugged transfer from the Southern Branch is he. Bill Katsilometes is his name, and if your tongue gets the jitters when you try to tell your friend who's going into the game tomorrow night, it shouldn't. It's just plain Cat-sill-meats. There isn't a position on the team where he hasn't been utilized at some time

IDAHO EXPECTED AT W. S. C. GAME

Entertainment Will Be Given By Respective Yell King And Dukes

"Be at the Idaho-W. S. C. basketball game Saturday night at Pullman. The team needs your support." This is the appeal given yesterday to Idaho students by Lloyd Riutcel, yell king.

"The yell king and dukes will be there raring to do their stuff, but we want the student body there also, in order that we may give our basketball team some real organized yelling," continued Riutcel. The usual admission price, 40 cents for students will prevail at the game. Since there is to be no send-off for the team, the students will have to do their rooting at the game. There will be stunts and entertainment at the half of the game provided by the yell kings of both schools and the Washington State band. The game is scheduled to start at 7:30.

TWO MINOR SPORTS MEETS ARE SLATED

Two minor sport meets between the Washington State Cougars and the Idaho Vandal teams have been scheduled as the opening events on the 1934 minor sport calendar. Swimming, wrestling, and fencing will be the events in which competition will be held. The first meet will be held in Moscow on February 4 in the afternoon at the Memorial gymnasium, and the second in Pullman on March 3. Plans are also being formulated for a triathlon meet in Seattle on March 10 in the same events. Idaho, Washington State, and the University of Washington will all enter men if plans become definite. First and second place winners in the Idaho-W. S. C. matches will be selected as the entries from this section in the Seattle meet.

The first half of the conference basketball race finds Howard Grenier, potential all-coast center, and Harold Klumb, sophomore forward, tied for 5th place on the conference scoring ladder. The two Vandal mainstays have a total of 29 points apiece, garnering 11 field goals and 7 free throws respectively in the four games played so far.
