HAROLD BACHMAN TO INSTRUCT AT SUMMER SESSION

Summer School Camp Gives Opportunity to Home Students

FAMOUS BANDMASTER

Instruction Offered Also in His- tory, Art, Botany, Zoology and Others

Instruction in band and orchestra conducting under the famous Harold Bachman, and summer camp program of intensive training for talented high school musicians will be highlights of the 1934 summer session at the University of Idaho, June 18 to July 6. The summer school camp idea has two purposes: first, to give Mr. Bachman a demonstration group of high school musicians; and second, to provide talented youngsters an opportunity for intensive summer study in their own state. They will have a complete course of instruction in all branches of music, not unlike the university music courses, only of a junior grade. Harold Bachman occupies a position as expert adviser for school bands with the Educational Music Bureau of Chicago.

The county superintendents of the state for the past two years have had two week sessions during summer school and will again have one this year from June 18 to July 29. Dr. George Selke, president of St. Cloud Minnesota Teacher's college, will be the special lecturer for this session. He is prominent for his work on rural supervision. He will give two lectures each forenoon. In the afternoon John Condie, Idaho state superintendent, will hold conferences with the various county superintendents. Some additional addresses will be given by members of the Idaho faculty.

Among other outside instructors are: Dr. T. C. Holy, Ohio State university who has a national reputation for the construction of school buildings; Helen Gumlick, University of Denver, who will teach elementary supervision; Dean J. W. Harris who has been an instructor here during previous sessions; and Howard Goding, New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

UNITED STUDENTS FORM NEW PARTY

Will Succeed Defunct Alpha Party; "Cuts" Are Taboo

Though the lines on the political front have been more than ordinarily quiet for the past few months, things are now booming again as the newly organized "United Students" party prepares to remove the Campus party from the foremost position it has held during the last two elections.

The United Students party boasts an organization of 16 men's and women's group houses on the campus grouped together for a common cause.

The U. S. party was formed recently when eight of the women's groups, who formed a solid bloc last fall drawing away from both the Campus party and the defunct Alpha party, united with eight men's groups cherishing the same political ideals.

RAPHAEL GIBBS IS CLUB EDITOR

Press Club Chooses New and Ap- propriate Titles for Its Officers

Both the officers of the Press club and their titles for the second semester underwent a change at a meeting of the group held at the Blue Bucket Inn Tuesday evening 6 o'clock. Raphael Gibbs, a senior in Journalism, was elected by a unanimous ballot as editor of the club. Gibbs has been active on the campus and in the club and has been closely identified with dramatics and publications since entering the university.

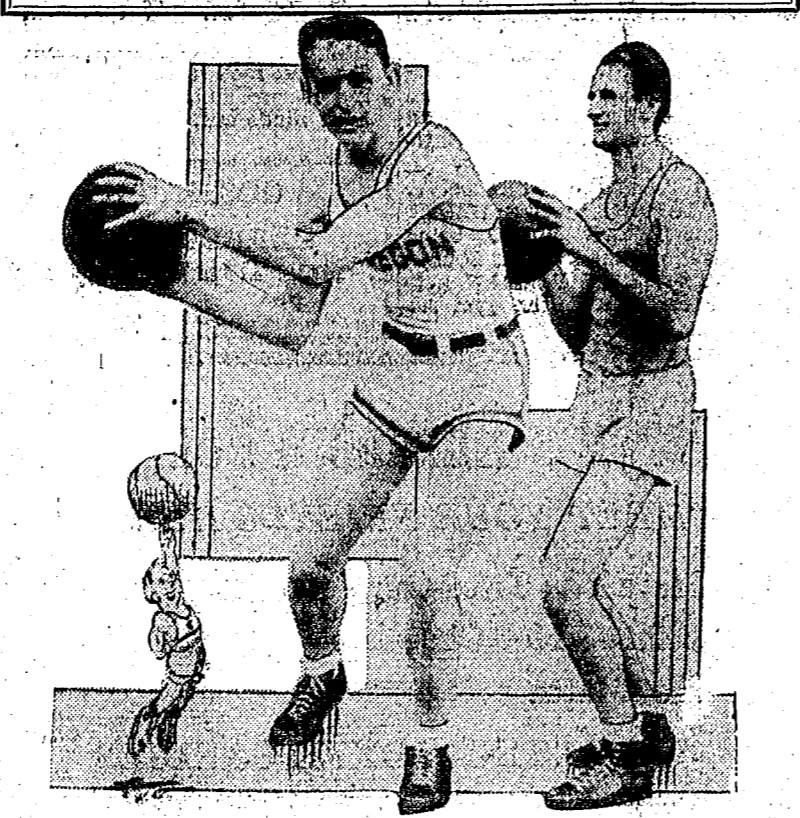

Other officers elected at the Tuesday meeting are: John Cusano, managing editor; Pery Culp, business manager; and Harold Boyd, news editor. After the election of officers the remainder of the meeting time was taken up with the discussion of various projects which the club is planning to foster during the second half of the school year. Just what these plans are was not divulged by the editors.

The Duck on the right is Willie Jones, six-foot four-inch import from Ashland Normal, who has stepped into a first-string post at center this year, and making good in a big way. He's tenth in the conference scoring column with 45 points.

It will be held at the Blue Bucket Inn on March 7. Moving pictures taken on the campus in 1914 were shown after the business meeting.

PORTLAND BISHOP ASSEMBLY SPEAKER

Titus Lowe Talks Tuesday on International Affairs

A crowded assembly hall greeted Bishop Titus Lowe of the Methodist Episcopal church, who came from Portland, Ore., and spoke Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock as a feature of the public events committee's series of student assemblies. His talk was concerned principally with world affairs and the part that the student is to play in the business of later years.

Bishop Lowe was introduced very cleverly by Dean J. F. Messenger of the School of Education. Other dignitaries of the church present at the assembly were: Dr. William S. Bovard of Chicago, Dr. Mark A. Dawber of Philadelphia, and Dr. Paul H. Ashby of Walla Walla.

Formal Concert Part Of Pep Band Show Announced

The formal concert part of the Pep Band show has been decided upon according to Bill Ames, director. The show will be given March 22 and 23 this year. The formal concert will comprise the first part of the show as has been the custom in the past. In this part of the program the band will endeavor to present classical and semi-classical numbers of a type that are well known to popular taste.

TEAM IS GIVEN GOOD SEND-OFF

Late Notification of Rally Does Not Hinder Large and Enthusiastic Turnout

Two-hundred students led by yell leaders and the Pep band paraded through the campus and down to the train to give members of the basketball team and Coach Rich Fox a rousing send-off last night. The team left at 7:20 p. m. over the Union Pacific system to play a four game series with Oregon schools.

It was particularly gratifying to the rally committee to see such a large turnout because the students had had such a short notice of the rally. Most of them were notified at the dinner table.

The sentiment of the team as expressed by Howard Grenier and Coach Fox gave the loyal students reason to believe that the Oregon schools would not have easy contests. "I have never coached a team with a better attitude than the boys have at the present. You can be assured that the club will give a creditable account of themselves," Coach Fox said.

"We're going to the coast to win games," shouted big Howard Grenier, prospective all-coast forward, as the train slowly left the station.

ENGINEERS INCREASE ENROLLMENT SHOWS

An increase of 15 per cent in enrollment for the second semester is shown in the College of Engineering.

"This is indeed a decided increase and judging from the interest shown in the school it is surpassing the standards of other institutions," said J. Hugo Johnson, acting dean.

Many improvements have been made in the department of electrical engineering this year, some of which are the installing of radio and telephone laboratories, and putting in equipment donated by the Interstate Telephone company.

ENGINEERS-DANCE ON FEBRUARY 17

Blue Bucket Inn Is Scene of Frolic; Will Feature Novelties

Preparations are being completed for the annual Engineer's dance to be held February 17, at the Blue Bucket Inn. This year entertainment will hold a featured place at the dance, with novelty numbers and intermission numbers between dances. The Blue Bucket band will furnish the music.

"As it is characteristic of the times, the Engineers also have their new deal and are all behind their latest program of putting on this unusual dance," according to Ferd Koch, chairman of the dance committee. "A committee has been appointed to decorate the Blue Bucket in such a way as to make even the most refined couples feel at home. Come to the dance, the slide rule will do the rest. Buy your tickets early as there are only 100 to be sold," Koch urges.

Those selling tickets are: Ed Paulson, Phi Gamma Delta; Frank Peavey, Phi Delta Theta; Elmo Higginson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Ferd Koch, Sigma Nu; Al Bachelor, Delta Chi; Art Dahl, Alpha Tau Omega; Bill Simon, Sigma Chi; Lloyd Reed, Delta Tau Delta; Lowell Harris, Ridenbaugh; Fred Quist, Kappa Sigma; Keith McDaniels, Senior Hall; Joe Gillan, Lindley hall and Beta Theta Pi; and Charles Wamstad, Chi Alpha Pi.

"The Rock Crusher" was distributed to the students Thursday afternoon. The publication is sponsored by the American Society of Civil Engineers.

This issue contains all the news of the civil engineers for the past semester. Besides this it has contributions and feature stories from several students of this department. There are also some articles of the several teachers of the College of Engineering, and feature commenting Dean Ivan C. Crawford, who is working for the government.

The staff for this issue included: Harold Hafferson, Frank Peavey, Charles Thompson, and Kenneth Nollie.

Idaho Yearbook Sale Reaches Record Goal

1934 Gem Features the Inclusion of Names of All Student in the University

"The sale of the Gem of the Mountains has reached a new high peak and is nearing the 1000 mark, which is a new record goal. We want a yearbook in the hands of every student in the university," said Clayne Robison, editor of the Gem. The sales campaign for the 1934 Gem has been the most successful ever held, and there is still a week left for the students to take advantage of the $4 offer which is good only until February 15. This price is a reduction of 75 cents from last year's, but after February 15, it will be raised to $4.25.

VANDALEERS READY TO GIVE CONCERT

Varied Program to Start Sunday at 4 O'clock in Auditorium

"The Vandaleers have prepared a program of unusual interest, and feel that they are ready for their mid-year concert, to be given in the university auditorium, Sunday afternoon at 4:00," said Carleton Cummings, director, after the rehearsal last night.

The program will include numbers of a distinct and pleasing variety. The first group embrace the emotions of the great Russian masses as sung in the magnificent cathedrals during the reign of the Czar. The scene for the next group by the Vandaleers changes from the Russian cathedral with the solemn pleading of the liturgy to the arena in Spain, where the rollicking strains of the gay Spanish people are heard in appraisal of their supreme delight in bull-fighting.

Negro Spirituals
The last group by the mixed chorus of 19 voices will portray still another great race, that of the negro. The two spirituals that have been chosen are highly descriptive of the different moods of the colored folk. The program will be closed by a beautifully melodic composition by Sir Arthur Sullivan, "The Long Day Closes." This tuneful number not only possesses an appeal all of its own, but also a fitting night-cap for the afternoon's concert.

"On this program will be heard some of the finest soloists on the campus," commented Prof. Cummings. Both vocal and instrumental solos will be offered. The soloists in the order of their appearance are: Elburn Pierce, Alice Bell, Paul Rust, Raymond Vaught, Annie Snow, and Wayne Hampton.

The complete program is as follows:

- "Bless the Lord, O My Soul"..... Mikail M. Ippolito-Ivanof
- "Light Celestial" P. Tschalkowsky
- "O God, Hear My Prayer"..... A. Gretchaninof
- Vandaleers
- "The Evening Star" from Tannhauser..... R. Wagner
- Trumpet solo, Elburn Pierce
- "Im Herbst"..... Franz
- Contralto solo, Alice Bell
- "We Brave Matadors," from La Traviata..... Verdi

"I" Club Meet at the Fiji House Sunday morning at 10:30. Election of officers and final reading of new constitution.

Blue Bucket Editorial staff meeting today at 4 p. m. in Ad. 201. Important.

Gem Section Editors meet in office Tuesday at 4 p. m. Very important.

ASU Male chorus meet at the Blue Bucket at 1 p. m. Saturday. Be there.

Hold Gems for Old Students
Due to the fact that such a large number of old students have returned and so many new students are registered, it will take some time for them to have their pictures taken. A short campaign of a week or 10 days will be made to allow them to make appointments with the studios and get the pictures taken. This will give an opportunity to all those old students still holding tickets to have their photos made. If they make their appointments with the studios right away, it is very probable that they will all get their pictures in the Gem.

Students may still transfer the cost of the Gem to their general deposits, either by seeing the Knights or Spurs in their groups or by signing on the list which is on the bulletin board in the Ad building hall. They may sign over the entire $4 or in case they have already paid half, the remaining $2.

DEBATERS DISCUSS PLANS AT MEETING

Thetas and Phi Deltas Won Intramural Cups Last Year

The preparation for the annual intramural debate has begun Wednesday afternoon, representatives from each of the groups on the campus met in Ad. 211 with John Farquhar, debate manager, to discuss plans and to decide upon the questions. The questions used in varsity debate will be used as well in the intramural contest. It was decided. The question for the men will be—Resolved: the powers of the president should be substantially increased as a settled policy. The women will debate on: Resolved—Hitler is benefiting Germany.

There will be two debaters from each group on the campus, the only restriction being that they be not varsity debaters. The fact that a particular group was not represented at the meeting Wednesday does not exclude this group from the debate. If the team representing a group is not prepared to debate the night that it is scheduled, it automatically forfeits the debate to the other team.

Draw for Sides

The teams will draw for sides. According to practice in past years, the affirmative sides will entertain the negative teams, and the judges, at dinner, and the debates will be held at the different houses of the affirmative teams.

The teams will have about a week and a half to prepare their arguments. The schedule for debates this year has not yet been determined upon, but will be announced in next Tuesday's Argonaut.

The purpose of this intramural debate is to foster forensics on the campus, with an eye to uncovering possible varsity debate material.

The winning team will receive a silver cup. Last year Kappa Alpha Theta, represented by Carol Campbell and Elizabeth Stickney, won the women's intramural debate on the question—Resolved: Student government should control all student activities. Phi Delta Theta, represented by J. Morris O'Donnell and Robert Reese, won, debating on the question—Resolved: The Japanese invasion of Manchuria was justified both economically and politically.

Hawk-Eye On Duty

at the cinema--

AT THE KENWORTHY—Richard Arlen has just completed another featured role in "Hell and High Water," coming to the Kenworthy Friday and Saturday. The picture, written by the author of "I Cover the Waterfront," tells the dramatic story of Cap'n Jericho, the cocksure commander of a "one man navy" and Sally Drigg (Judith Allen) whose waterfront existence has sought her to hate all men. The two are thrown together, but, knowing too much about life already, they are too selfish to care about love. However, quarrels and fights turn them into each other's arms, and their drab waterfront is changed into a veritable seventh heaven.

Some idea of the cultural and economic life of a small Mid-West town in the early 1900's is graphically reflected in "One Sunday Afternoon" showing Sunday at the Kenworthy, with Gary Cooper, Fay Wray, and Nell Hamilton. The film revolves around a small town dentist who has spent a life-time after 20 years, the clinging vine yearning for a former sweetheart who married another. However, beauty reappears in the town where Gary is a successful dentist. What happens then, and how through her return Gary is made to realize the fine qualities of his own pretty wife, gives a splendid finish to the picture.

Lettermen Lay Down Law

Sir:

"No house dance shall be given, during any intercollegiate athletic contest in which Idaho teams are participating at home."

To those who have read the By-laws of the ASUI the above excerpt is not unfamiliar, but to those who have been unaware of its existence—take care.

There have been the many infractions of ASUI rules that have been passed off because there has not been enough push to enforce the rules, but from this time any offenders will be subject to correction and punishment by the "I" club. It not only is poor business to dishonor our code but is very disrespectful and uncourteous to the visiting team, and certainly shows a lack of loyalty to the Idaho players and to school spirit.—Let's not have any more dinner dances on the night of a basketball game.

The "I" club wishes to thank the student body for their cooperation in refraining from booing at the game Saturday night. They also want to thank Lloyd Rutzel and Hugh Maguire for their splendid work in keeping the booing down.

The editor of the Argonaut is to be congratulated upon his loyalty to his school, loyalty to his team, and his good judgement. The letter printed in the Argonaut Tuesday, and written by two campus "hot shot" politicians (?) was the best selling point for the suppression of booing that could have been used. It did more good than a dozen lectures.

"Why Not Boo?"

Sir:

Well, why not boo? A boo at its worst doesn't make nearly as much noise as an organized yell, or the spontaneous yells of the crowd at a close fought game.

If people must yell and boo why not combine the two and make a yell that contains a few boos, then everyone would be happy.

For my part I wish that the people could enjoy a game in silence. But since they must express their feelings, why do a few of the people try to limit the yells to just the kind that they approve of.

Few will deny that the yelling is spontaneous, well why limit it to shouts of approval and be docked for voicing disapproval? As we said before, it isn't because of the quantity of noise, so an organized boo should be just as legal as a rah.

When the king finally decides to see his favorite for himself, he really falls in love with her and she with him. "I" Club to the Dictionary

Sir:

So some stuttering, stammering, sophisticated scholars, shielded by "smiles and smirks," speak soft, soothing, soprano spite at the Spartan spirit of our soviet shock-troops under whose sovereignty students are surviving?

In their senior year, two suppressed students simulate the simple slogan of snorting sophism whenever the leather sphere "swishes" to sugar the salary of the opposing coach. Sardonically satisfying, somewhat sardonically, with "schnapps," a screaming spasm signifying "senior-orty" of scholastic standing, sagaciously comes from the surrogates. Simultaneously, they overstep the steadfast, stringent standards set forth by the stubborn, strolling members of that august body, the "I" club.

Seeking super-excitement as an outlet for their pent-up emotions, these sanguinary sports from a sedan-chair are staunchly stalemated. Staggering, the stalwart, sebacious, sluggish lawers stupidly shatter morale by shouting the shibboleth of amateur sports. The singular Boo, a sibilant for the sleek, striped-shirted officials, has spelled disaster for the boos-ers by its boomerang action, which smacks the said sedentary boos-ers on the schnozzle.

Solons, hear ye! In all solemnity, solicit a shallop, don a sombrero, gather your sonorous boos, and sail for the horizon. Solloquize with soy beans, spinach, and sorghum until the sound of the specific boos either causes spiritual relief or helps fill a sarcophagus.

Sincerely,
Robert W. Vance

Rush Parties and Sophomore Mixer Enliven Social Program

The social program for this week was greatly enlivened by the sophomore mixer held Wednesday evening at the Blue Bucket inn. It put the social life back in its place on the campus for this semester. Junior and senior women were invited in addition to the sophomores. The Blue Bucket band furnished the music. Also, adding to the social calendar is the mid-year rushing which began Monday with a round of parties—including dinners, luncheons, and firesides for the new women on the campus. There are a larger number of new women students this semester than usual and rushing is playing an important part in the program for the week.

Valentine Motif Used at Party

The Valentine motif at the rush dinner Delta Gamma held Thursday night were carried through out the party. Table decorations included red and white flowers and tapers. Place cards were also in red and white. A tap dance was given by Helen Wilson for the program.

Rush Dinner Given at Kappa House

Early spring was the theme of the Kappa Kappa Gamma rush dinner given Monday. The flowers for the centerpiece were yellow daffodils and white and yellow roses were in the living room. Place cards were two tones of blue carrying out the Kappa colors. A trio composed of Marian LaRue, Julie Davis and Jane Baker sang during dinner.

Student Returns For Second Semester

John Rantschler, Metalene Falls, Wn., has returned to the campus for the second semester. He will be a junior, and is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon. He was on the campus last year.

Fireside Given By Gamma Phi Beta

Red and white dominated the decoration scheme at the Gamma Phi Beta rush fireside Wednesday night. The table from which a buffet supper was served held a large centerpiece of red and white flowers, and red candles. The program consisted of a reading by Pamela Persons, tap dancing by Jo Betty Wicks, and a stunt.

Alpha Phi Entertain At Rush Dinner

Valentine decorations of red and white were the motif for the Alpha Phi rush dinner Tuesday night. A large center piece of red carnations and white roses, and red candles were the table decorations. Place cards were white and red hearts. A program followed the dinner with numbers from a trio made up of

SIXTY-SIX WOMEN START SHOOTING

Sixty-six women turned out for the first three days of rifle practice, which began this week. The group is composed of three seniors, 10 juniors, eight sophomores, and 45 freshmen. There is room for several more seniors on the squad, according to Lieut. John W. Sheehy, instructor.

During the first three days of practice, the women received instruction by Lieut. Sheehy, assisted by Jean Clough, in safety rules, sighting and aiming, and the prone position. Actual shooting will begin next week, and around February 20 to 25 a squad of six will be chosen from each class.

The competition this year will be inter-collegiate as it assures the presence of all squads at a shooting match.

GOOD TASTE—YOU CAN'T MISS IT

Luckies' finer smoother taste comes from the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. We use only the center leaves for they are the mildest, most tender leaves. And every Lucky is so round, so firm, so fully packed.

NOT the top leaves—they're underdeveloped—they are harsh!

Vandals Invade Oregon With Eyes On Second Place Goal

Three Victories Out of Four Would Give Idaho Tie for Second Place In Division

With second place in the northern division standing as their objective, the Idaho Vandals hit the road last night for four games with the University of Oregon and Oregon State college over the week end. The Vandals are now in third position after a strenuous climb from the bottom.

A clean sweep of the Webfoot and Beaver series, an almost impossible assignment, would give Coach Rich Fox's onrushing crew undisputed possession of second place.

Three victories out of four will place Idaho in a tie for the coveted runner-up position, provided two of the wins are from the Oregon State Beavers, present second rung occupants. The Beavers will be battling hard to catch up with Washington in the percentage column after having defeated the Huskies twice at Corvallis.

MAYBE THEY CAN DO IT
Three victories during the Oregon invasion are not entirely a conjecture in the belief of those who have watched the almost phenomenal improvement in the Vandal machine in the last two weeks. True to advanced predictions, a green Vandal team started slowly but gathered momentum as it gained confidence.

Following four defeats by the Washington Huskies at the outset, Idaho divided a series with Oregon State at Moscow and trimmed Washington State twice in a row. The Vandals' offensive reached a high peak in smoothness and precision in the last game against Washington State. If the fast-breaking, lightning passing game of the Idaho quintet improves as much in the last half of the season as it did during the first eight games, the Idaho Vandals will be one of the toughest clubs in the division to stop from now on.

WON THREE OUT OF FOUR LAST YEAR
Idaho meets the Oregon Webfoot for the first time this year at Eugene Friday and Saturday. Oregon boasts a much stronger team than that which bowed to Idaho in three out of four games last season.

Coach Rich Fox moves his Vandal raiders to Corvallis Monday to play a return engagement with the Champion Oregon Staters, whom Idaho must beat twice to gain second place. The Vandals and Beavers divided the two games series at Corvallis a year ago.

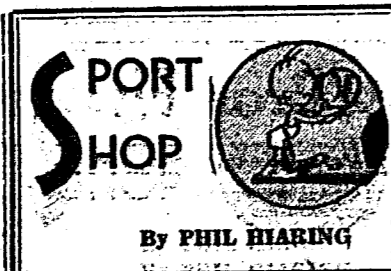

The following players accompan-

the Oregon campus together, transferred from the same normal school together, but they're no relation to each other whatsoever. Sounds like a couple of disconnected Siamese twins, doesn't it?

Coach Otto Anderson has got the blues. Why? Well, it's like this. Every spring since all these wheat hills were little mole hills, I guess, Otto has been spending half his time on the way to and from the Ad building worrying about whether the boys are eligible for track. This spring track season once more rolls around and Otto spends all his time getting ready for his annual dashes to find out whether Joe Palooka or somebody else made his grades in something or other. Now his time is wasted. They're all eligible, ever last flunking one. Now Otto issues equipment with tears in his eyes, no more mad bursts up the hill, no more impassioned, fervent pleas with the boys to hit the study table harder, no more, no more, oh Gosh Otto, it's sure tough!

Speaking of melancholy people, Coach Leo Calland's spring football heroes are feeling sort of low, too. Imagine it: nice weather, cool green grass to play on, brand new footballs to play around with... everything looking swell for spring football practice. And then along came Mr. Weatherman disguised in a cute, little wagon with brown trimmings and he went round and round and round the field, and wherever he went he left brown snow, nice big gobs of it. And now the boys are blue because they haven't all got colds in their noses. At any rate they do say it makes the grass grow.

NOTICE
All men interested in turning out for the varsity swimming pool today at 4 p. m. All team are requested to report at men on the campus are eligible to try for a place on the squad. Two meets—one with Washington and one with W. S. C. are on the spring swimming meet schedule.

Bill Reinhart's Webfoots versus Rich Fox's Vandals. That's the program for tonight and tomorrow night at Eugene and it looks like a full ticket. If the Ducks get the Indian sign on the Gem State lads it's goodbye second place for Idaho, and then again if Klumb and Grenier and all the lads start open season on Ducks, it's way down in the basement for Oregon. Yes, my frans, it looks like two of the most beautiful donneybrooks ever held in the fair state of Oregon.

"I'm going to be just like a cucumber, COOL," said Coach Fox about the Oregon games. "I'm going to sit on the bench and take it." I've got a hunch that what Mr. Fox might have meant was just what he said, take a flock of wins. With a vastly improved club since the split series with Oregon State on the home floor, it's my guess that Idaho comes home next week, tired and weary, and wornout, but with three out of four games chalked up for them. That's my guess and I gotta be shown.

Coach Bill Reinhart's two boys, Willie and Bud Jones, upon whose broad shoulders rests a large part of the responsibility for wins or losses in the Webfoot camp, are fraternity brothers, pals around led Coach Fox and student manager Bentley Galligan on the Oregon trip: Howard Grenier, center; Wallace Geraghty, Cyril Geraghty, Norman Iverson, and Merle Fisher, guards; and Glen Naslund, Harold Klumb, Victor Warner, Horton Herman, and William Katsimietas, forwards, and trainer Ralph Hutchinson.

TRACK MEN START ANNUAL WORK OUTS

Have Freshman Team for First Time in Three Seasons

"We're not doing a great deal yet," reports Otto Anderson, track coach. "We've been out three days and are spending most of the time getting limbered up and preparing for more strenuous work later." Asked about varsity material Coach Anderson said that Bob McCue, giant weight-tosser from California, would be a great help in those divisions, and that little really could be said as yet about actual track prospects.

"One of the big things this season is that we're having a freshman track team for the first time in three years," added Anderson. "For a change, all the boys are eligible this season, which is one reason, and then we have a bigger frosh turnout than we have had for some years." There will be at least two good men in every class, according to Anderson, and prospects as nearly as can be foretold this early, are decidedly better.

Frosh Milers Good
The 880 yard run and mile events are especially strong on the frosh squad, reports the track mentor, as there is a man in each event who has won the state high school meet twice. Adkins is looking good in the 880, and Orton of Mountain Home has copped the honors in the mile twice. Two other men looking good in the mile are Campbell, who finished second in the state meet and Randall.

In the sprints, Beaman, Laing, and Kurdy are out, in the 440 yard run Ebert, who took second in the state meet last year, is showing up well. Richardson is also out for the 440.

Frosh Hurdlers
Hurdlers on this year's frosh club will probably be Tigert, Richardson, and Larson, who will be out after the basketball season. In the weights Ritzheimer is looking good, and in the high jump Fuller and Martin are expected to turn out after basketball is over. Pole vaulters are relatively scarce, Jack Nichols being the only man out in this event so far.

Coach Anderson reports that more men are turning out every day and that there will probably be additional men in every event before the week is over.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

In the opening game of the intramural basketball season, Lindley hall defeated the Phi Deltas by a score of 24 to 12. In the first half Lindley hooped the first basket and the Phi Deltas followed with one in the next few minutes. The rest of the half was evenly played and the half ended with a score of 10 to 7 in favor of Lindley. In the second half Lindley spurred out to the lead and held this lead until the final gun. Taft of Lindley was high point man with nine points and Cannon was high point man for the Phi Deltas with 4 points.

The second game between Ridenbaugh hall and L. D. S. resulted in a 25 to 19 victory for Ridenbaugh. In the first half L. D. S. seemed the likely winners. L. D. S. took the lead early in the game and held it throughout the rest of the half which ended 15 to 12 for L. D. S. In the second half Ridenbaugh recovered the lead held by L. D. S. and looped them in from all over the floor. Eddington of Ridenbaugh hall was high point man of the evening netting 10 points. McKay was high point man for L. D. S. quintet.

The next intramural basketball game will be next Monday at 7:30 p. m. between the Kappa Sigs and the Fijis. At 8:30 the same night the Sigma Nus will play the Delta Tau Deltas. Lee Tyrrell refereed the games held last night.

FROSH HOOPMEN TO FACE W. S. C.

Grueling Practice Prepares Yearlings For Second Tilt With Cougar Babes

Culminating a week of grueling practice, Coach "Red" Jacoby's Frosh basketball club will face the W. S. C. yearlings for the second time this season Saturday night at Pullman. Their first encounter at Moscow found the Vandal babes holding the long end of the score, but from all indications the Washington State frosh would like nothing better than to take the measure of the Idaho lads tomorrow night.

The probable line: Larson, Martin, forwards; Fuller, center; Hall and Kerns, guard.

WRESTLING SQUAD GETS INTO SHAPE

Work among the wrestling enthusiasts is pointing toward the proposed match with W. S. C. February 24, said Captain Stan Skiles. With 30 men on the squad and 15 turning out regularly, good men in all divisions are showing up, reports Captain Skiles. Jack Barbee, heavyweight, will probably be on the card, as will also Earl Leatham and Paul Berg, in the light-heavy class. Dave Evans, 165 pounds, is coming along fast in his class and should see action. Captain Skiles has not yet definitely decided as to who will be matched with the Washington State grapplers, but states that the above men and also Callahan and Jones, 135 lbs., Earl Eggers, 145, will probably be slated for action.

How are YOUR nerves? TEST NO. 16

Place a cork upside down on top of a bottle... Back up six paces... Extend your right arm and right with your index finger... Walk rapidly toward the bottle, without wavering your arm... See if you can knock off the cork with the first flip. Most people try this test six times before they succeed. Anton Lekang (Camel smoker), National 1932 ski jumping champion, flipped the cork off the first try.
