GRUDGE FIGHTS WILL FEATURE CARD HERE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Ardie Driskill Meets Morrey Fickes in Main Event Wednesday Nite

CARD TO BE THRILLER

Louies To Fight in Semi-Final; Heavyweight Frosh Gridders Are Re-Matched

Grudge fights and genuine slug-fests will feature the boxing card next Wednesday night in the Memorial gym, that will bring out the best array of talent that has appeared in the Idaho ring since boxing was inaugurated here.

Coach Louie August officially spiked all rumors that the fights were going to be "put up" affairs. "They're the best boxers we've got," he said last night, "and every one is going to be out to win the mythical school championship in his class. Every fight will go to a decision."

Fickes vs. Driskill

The main event will match Morrey Fickes, 160-pound Vandal slugger, against Ardie Driskill of the Moscow Athletic club. Fickes is preparing for a trip to Sacramento for the Pacific Coast intercollegiate tourney. Driskill has been seen in many fights here, and the battle is bound to be a "natural."

In the first bout of the double main event, Louie Denton, 149 pounds, will meet Louie August, 139 pounds. There's been a dispute for some time just which of these experienced sluggers would have the edge in a real three-rounder, so they are going to settle the issue in earnest. Both of these boys are planning to attend the coast tourney next month.

Chuck Carlson and Karl Fickes, two spirited 130-pounders with reputations for putting up good scraps, meet in the other semi-final bout.

To Settle Grudge

At 160 pounds, Wendell Dayton and Marion Horton will be slinging mitts in a real grudge fight. These boys have been out to settle with each other for several years, and Horton's win in a bout between them last year added to the controversy.

Glen Richardson and Jim Blattner will meet in another grudge fight at 145 pounds. Neither is a member of the Vandal boxing squad, but they got in a mix-up several days ago, and asked for permission to battle it out with gloves and let the crowd give the decision.

Frosh Gridders Clash Again

For heavy slugging, Ross Sundberg and Earl Ritzhelm, heavyweight frosh football stars, should carry away the honors. In the intramural tournament before Christmas, these maulers knocked each other all over the ring and onto the canvas for three wild rounds.

Gene Northrup and Lynn Moore meet at 140 pounds in another slugfest. The former is credited with a knockout in the first W.S.C. match here a few weeks ago.

Other bouts will be between Virb Grove and Ken Baldwin of 128 pounds; Cecil Greathouse and Mike DePaolo at 128 pounds; Louie Pasquin and Bob Ames at 145 pounds; and Russ Honsowetz and Morton Brigham at 175 pounds.

"Turn out and support the Idaho boxers, and give yourselves a real treat," urges Coach August.

The card will be held in the Memorial gymnasium, starting at 7:30 p. m. Admission for students will be 10 cents; for townspeople, 25 cents.

DEAN CRAWFORD TALKS AT DINNER

Dean Ivan C. Crawford of the College of Engineering spoke on the problems of a state engineer before members of the Idaho Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at a dinner held at the Blue Bucket Inn at 6:00 o'clock last evening. A most interesting program followed the dinner. George Giles was toastmaster.

Dean Crawford pointed out some of the difficulties with which he has contended in his work as state engineer of the CWA work. He expressed the necessity for the engineer to have a broad education in legal and financial matters as well as actual understanding of engineering projects.

Following Dean Crawford's talk, a film was shown describing the uses of metals in the manufacture of the automobile. Prof. Henry P. Gauss, Prof. Barton C. Cruikshank, and 24 mechanical engineering students were present. Plans were also discussed concerning the engineering show to be held in April.

They'll Be Here Monday

Meet Bob Miller and Ron Gemmell, Duck forwards who meet the W. S. C. Cougars at Pullman tonight and tomorrow. They'll be over here next Monday and Tuesday with the rest of Coach Bill Reinhart's Oregonians to engage the Vandals. Miller is a six foot two inch letterman who alternates with "Spook" Robertson. Gemmell is a speedy transfer from Eastern Oregon Normal and takes turns with Bill Berg at the other forward post.

ENGLISH EXAMS WILL BE GIVEN

All New Students Must Take Test; Psychology Quiz Also Given

Students who entered the university at the beginning of the second semester from the high schools and those who entered with advance standing which does not include English 1 or its equivalent, are required to take the uniform English test, said Ella Oleson, registrar, today.

Also all new students are required to take the psychological test except those entering with advance standing.

Old Students

These examinations will be held Saturday, February 17, in room 316 of the Ad building. English tests will be given at 9:00 a. m. and the psychological tests at 10:30 a. m. In addition to new students, certain students who missed the test during their first semester have been notified to appear for the psychological test.

Arrangements for physical examinations to be given new students will be announced at a later date.

FORENSIC TEAM MEETS NEVADA

Event Will Take Place Monday Evening After Basketball Game

One of the major intercollegiate debates will be held here Monday, February 19 with the University of Nevada. The debate will take place at 8:45 o'clock Monday evening in Ad. 201, after the basketball game which takes place that evening also.

Cecil Greathouse and William Wetherall constitute the Idaho team. Greathouse is a junior and a beginning law student. Wetherall is also a junior and is in the College of Letters and Science.

The question for debate will be: Resolved: The powers of the president should be substantially increased.

Judges for the contest are: Mr. George Tanner of the L. D. S. Institute, Father Cody, and Abe Goff, prosecuting attorney.

TWELVE WOMEN PLEDGE W. A. A.

Twelve women were made eligible for membership in W. A. A. at the close of the basketball season last semester. Pledging will take place at the meeting of the organization at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the women's gymnasium. To be eligible for pledging, each woman must have acquired 100 points in sports according to the W. A. A. point system.

The women who will be pledged Tuesday are: Frieda Bethman, Marabelle Edmunds, Mary Ferguson, Dorothy Goode, Martha High, Dorothy Hohnhorst, Maurine Kinghorn, Ruth Stewart, Pamela Persons, Elizabeth Coates, Elcaur Hoyt, and Myrna Creswell.

"OUR KINGDOM FOR A QUEEN" SAYS "T" CLUB

Lettermen's Group Will Select Another Representative Idahoan

EIDEN IS CHAIRMAN

Add New Qualification For Ranking of 1934 Campus Beauty

Who will be the third "T" club queen? That is the question that is foremost in the minds of the members of the club since their last meeting. The club selects a queen every year and presents the woman student they have chosen at some function during the spring. The queen will be selected on the following points: leadership, appearance, scholarship, activities, service to the university, character, and personality. Class will add no distinction to the selection of the queen by the men.

Eiden is Chairman

According to Max Eiden, in charge of the selection committee, the queen will be presented at an "T" club function near the middle of March. The club has no definite plans for the presentation at the present time, but are working on some sort of a gathering for the presentation. The queen will be presented by Orville Schmitz, president of the club.

The club selected Betty Miriam for their queen in 1932, and she was presented to the group at the "T" club ball held that year at the Blue Bucket Inn. Louise Morley was chosen queen last year and she was presented to the student body at the Mortar Board and Junior Business and Professional club's style show held in the Memorial gymnasium. Miss Miriam is now working in a Moscow store and Miss Morley is teaching music in a southern Idaho school.

Add New Point

The men last year chose the queen on practically the same points that the queen this year will be chosen upon. An additional point, service to the university, has been added to the requirements of the queen this year.

The club is planning some sort of an all college event that is said by them to be new and different for some time in March. The club will not reveal the nature of the entertainment.

MEMORIAL GYM SCENE OF FIRE

Was More Smoke Than Fire, However, Reporter Discovers

"And it might have been a good fire, too!" was the comment of two Argonaut reporters whose noses for news led them to trace down the source of a small of smoke in the Memorial gymnasium late last night.

At 10 o'clock, just as the last members of the staff were leaving the office after wading through the copy for today's issue of the Argonaut, two of them caught a faint odor of smoke and, their instincts for news gathering getting the best of them, started out to run down the conflagration, keeping in mind the old saying, "Where there is smoke there must be fire."

A cruise through the halls and offices on the first floor of the building brought no results and the search was carried to the shower rooms.

Smoke Hangs Heavy

"Aha," they cried, "the plot thickens!" Perhaps they should have said smoke, however, for that was most certainly the case. A heavy cloud of blue smoke was noticeable beyond the shower room and the two excited news writers covered the distance to the other end of the building in a little less than no time at all.

"Well I'll be..."

"Can you tie that?"

Near a box of cast-off sweat socks and torn jerseys lay one lowly sock on the floor smoldering brightly. A few expert stampings extinguished the burning bit of cloth and the journalists began an investigation of the fire. Evidence was marked that the smoldering sock had been so permanent as the ones used by the reporters. It was also evident that some careless smoker had started the fire with a burning match, carelessly thrown into the box of refuse.

With this article might go a warning to the intramural players to stop smoking in the gymnasium. That fire might easily have been serious.

SAME PRICE GIVEN TO NEW STUDENTS

New students and old students who have returned to school may get their pictures taken for the Gem of the Mountains at the same rate that was made to the student body last fall.

They will have only until Tuesday of next week to have their pictures taken and the proofs returned to the studios. They will pay their dollar at the studios instead of getting tickets. Old students who hold tickets and have not yet had their pictures taken, are urged to take advantage of this opportunity before their tickets are worthless.

DESMET CLUB MEET

Breakfast will be the chief business at the Desmet club meeting after 10 o'clock mass, Sunday morning. All students are invited to attend the breakfast which will be served in the parish hall.

BUTTERFIELDS WIN SECOND TOURNAY

D. P. Ellis and Cecil Hagen Are Second With 69 Match Points

With a total of 77 match points, Mr. and Mrs. Rolston Butterfield won first prize for the second consecutive time in the north-south division of Section I in the duplicate contract bridge tournament which was held last Wednesday at the Blue Bucket Inn. Placing second in this same division were D. P. Ellis and Cecil Hagen with 67 match points.

FROSH TO BATTLE KITTENS ON FRIDAY

Play Three Games in Four Days; Fuller Suffers Injury

Three games in four days confront the Idaho freshman basketball team as they encounter the heaviest part of their schedule this week. Friday and Saturday the Vandals play their third and fourth games of a six-games series with the Washington State frosh, and Monday afternoon they play the Coeur d'Alene Junion college quintet.

Friday evening at 7:30 the frosh play the W. S. C. outfit in the Memorial gymnasium here and Saturday they meet them again at 6:30 at Pullman. This pair of games will probably be the deciding factor in showing the superiority of one team. Their two previous games were split, each team winning on its home court. The Friday game is the only one in Moscow this week end and will give Idaho fans a chance to view the candidates for the 1935 Vandals. Admittance will be on ASUI tickets.

The Idaho frosh will be seriously handicapped this week by the loss of Fuller, their lanky center, who suffered an injury to his ankle. Larsen will replace him at the pivot position and either Fry or Tracy will fill in Larsen's position at forward. Fuller's loss will be doubly oppressive if Benningson the tall Cougar center, starts getting the tip off. The rest of the probable line up for the W. S. C. Kittens is Kasch and Dahlyk, forwards, and Hooper and Grahek, guards.

Monday afternoon at 4:00, the frosh meet the Junior college, Telford, the Coeur d'Alene high school coach who established a record of games won in northern Idaho, is their coach and he has developed a good ball team. The first team composed of McCall, center, Gartan, and Wilson, forwards, and Boothe and Dinger, guards, have had a good record throughout the year, one of their victories being over the Gonzaga outfit.

Columbia university granted a Ph.D. to the author of a manuscript on "The Duties of a School Janitor."

ENGLISH CLUB ANNOUNCES PLAN

List of Eligible Students For Membership Soon to Be Published

The English club committees are making tentative arrangements for a meeting with Carl Sandburg, famous American poet. A definite date has not yet been set, nor has the type of meeting been decided upon. It may take the form of a luncheon as was held two years ago when the Abbey Players came to the campus, or of the usual evening meeting.

Freshmen making "A's" in the freshmen composition course are eligible to membership in the English club. A list of these people will be published in the Argonaut soon, as well as those other people who have become eligible because of outstanding work in the dramatics and publications departments.

FORMER STUDENT VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Carrol F. Zapp, nee Helen Blackinger, visited on the campus Monday night and Tuesday morning. As an employee of the government, Mr. Zapp has been visiting cities and towns in the northern part of the state. Mrs. Zapp was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Idaho.

"DER WACHTS AM RHEIN" IS KEPT

Scabbard and Blade Pledges Pace Before Administration Building

It began to look as if America was preparing for a "seething-revolt" like the ones taking place in Europe because of the military aspect given the campus Thursday morning, when, upon nearing the administration building, soldiers in full dress could be perceived marching back and forth in front of the pitched army tents.

The appearance of their faces was much more grim than would be expected of pledges going through the preliminaries of being initiated into Scabbard and Blade, military honorary. However, that was the case and all day long six pledges, Herman Wagner, Kermit Hove, Robert Moser, Farris Kall, John Crowe, and Gerald Fogie, relieved each other in standing guard over the Administration building. Each time a Scabbard and Blade member would pass the sentinels he would question them concerning general army information. Formal initiation of the six pledges will be held Monday.

MURAL TENNIS STARTS MONDAY

First Matches Scheduled For Monday at 4 p. m. Between Lindley and Phi Deltis

Intramural tennis for 1934 will start immediately with the opening match set for Monday at 4 o'clock between the Lindley hall and the Phi Delta Theta teams. Due to the early spring sunshine the intramural managers have decided to hold the tennis series as the fifth event of the intramural program, if the good weather continues.

Last year the Sigma Chi's won the university championship by defeating the Betas in the finals. Tennis is usually the last event on the intramural program, but this year the managers are attempting to complete the sport early, as it is sometimes left unfinished.

The rules will be the same that were used last year. There will be two leagues, using double elimination. Each group house is to qualify at least two men. One doubles match and two singles match, the best two out of three matches to win. Any one competing in a varsity tennis match will be ineligible and all other men out for the varsity tennis team must choose between intramural and intercollegiate tennis. The point system will be the same that was used in intramural horseshoes.

The first match will be played Wednesday, February 21, at 4 p. m., between Lindley hall and the Phi Deltis. The second, third, and fourth games will be played on Thursday, February 23, at 2 and 3 o'clock respectively. Court 2 will be reserved for all intramural tennis matches.

ENGINEERS PLAN SPOKANE MEET

American Institute of Electrical Engineers Will Be Represented By Ten Seniors

Ten seniors from the College of Engineering will attend a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Spokane, Friday evening. It is not as yet known just which seniors will make the trip.

The speaker for the evening will be Mr. H. M. Libby, technician for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company of Seattle, Washington. His subject will be "Resonant Phenomena on Power Transmission Lines." Mr. Libby will supplement his lecture by means of demonstrations with a model transmission line and oscillator and with lantern slides.

Acting Dean J. H. Johnson and Prof. R. H. Hull will accompany the students to the meeting, which will take place in the Elizabethan room of the Davenport hotel.

These meetings are held monthly by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and this meeting happens to be of particular interest to graduating seniors in the department of electrical engineering.

Theta Sigma meeting Tuesday noon at the Blue Bucket.

With Other Editors

With public office-holders, screen stars, and radio favorites, college football coaches lead precarious existences. In one respect their calling is even more hazardous, for their success or failure depends not only on their own efforts but on the devotion and athletic virtuosity of a score or more of young men.

A series of minor mishaps, culminating in the disastrous defeat of the Dartmouth team at Chicago last fall, has led to the resignation of Jackson Cannall, for five years' head coach at Hanover. No Dartmouth men questioned Cannall's character or his good influence on the boys under him. Few impugn his ability as a football strategist or tactician. But the failure of his last two teams to gain their share of victories has shaken the confidence of alumni and undergraduates.

Football success moves in waves in most colleges. Even the long series of triumphs at Notre Dame has been interrupted this year. Princeton has entered a new cycle of superiority. The explanation appears to be that a college, either by careful design or by mere good fortune, gains a good coach and an abundance of good players and a procession of victories begins. After a few flush years, indifference arises. The alumni have become sated, the undergraduates bored, and the team finally loses the key to success. Then, of course, the cycle begins again with agitation for "a new deal." Cannell seems to be the casual of an athletic cycle, as Mr. Hoover was an economic one.

Now is the Time to Live

The great opportunity for fame and glory will henceforward be in public service. Business has been debunked. Wealth has been cursed. The depression has done both, and out of it is growing a new social consciousness that seems the doom of rugged individualism and the beginning of real social existence. Just as the business man ruled the individualistic order he epitomized, so will the man in public service be the leader of the new social order; for politics is the only instrument of social action.

The present offers an exciting challenge to this younger generation. To live at a time like this one is a privilege, but to be young at a time like this is a privilege a hundred times greater. Our generation has before it boundless opportunity. The old frontier disappeared with the end of the nineteenth century, but today we press outward the new frontier of social change. And our generation is the first to arrive; it is a generation of destiny.—The Lawrentian.

After the struggle is over, students of this generation will know how to face the new ordeal, and that is more than a good many experienced business men can say.—The Daily Nebraskan.

The business of running the world, straightening it out, is far too fascinating for university men and women to continue Siwash college pranks. Our democracy will never survive if college men and women do not learn to govern themselves and lead others.—The Daily Illini

The Kenworthy... Having stolen pictures from practically every star in Hollywood, W. C. Fields and Allison Skipworth are now trying to steal a picture from each other. Backstage

"It is, in some ways, the hardest thing we've ever done," Fred C. Blanchard, director, says of the next production of the University players, "Trelawney of the Wells." "The characters must be played with a flourish and a manner very difficult to the actors of this generation."

The play was written during the Civil war—the same period of Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women." Finero wrote a number of successful plays, but none have enjoyed the popularity and numerous revivals of "Trelawney of the Wells."

John Drew headed an "all-star cast" which tortured the country in a revival of the play several years ago. Raphael Gibbs will play the great actor's role—Sig-William Gower.

Murder of the king's English and vulgar chewing gum all very well, but the America motion picture is still about three years ahead of the British productions. "The Private Life of Henry VIII" was an amusing, fairly accurate, highly entertaining London made film—though it lacked the fineness (we insist on the word), the remarkable and unusual photography, the attention to detail of, say, "Cavalcade."

Charles Laughton, of course, is excellent. While his table manners are most talked of, his best scene was the one after he has wrestled to prove his manliness to his Katherine Howard—and he receives the plaudits of his apple polishing, courtiers with all the sheepish duckings and pleased smirks of a football player.

"Design for Living," written by Noel Coward as a vehicle for himself and the Lunts, is decidedly different in tone as a movie than it is as a play.

"Don't miss it, and don't be shocked," for Miriam Hopkins, Fredric March, and Gary Cooper make a sparkling and amusing light, farce out of what is, as merely read lines, a slightly dingy, earthly play.

TWO MORE IN WHO'S WHO

Two more names of faculty professors have been added the role of famous men and women in "Who's Who in America." The professors are Dean E. J. Iddings of the College of Agriculture and Prof. A. C. Lemon, professor in the psychology department.

Women Beginning To Select Dates For Annual Skip

"He almost broke his neck to speak to me," marveled one co-ed. "And Jim ran clear around the car to open the door!" commented another.

"I just can't understand it," put in a third. But it's really all very simple. The Spinster Skip is scheduled for next Thursday, and the wily men under discussion are merely trying to wangle invitations.

For once the women have the upper hand. Remembering the way to a man's heart, they can let it be known that they have reserved a table and ordered dinner at the Moscow hotel, and take anyone from President Neale down.

Some may consider it a good idea to look around for a snappy dresser, remembering how many times they have been ditched for some clothes horse. But if they are really bright bunnies, they will take that most desirable of men, He-Who-Will-Ask-You-Back.

NOTICE

On behalf of the CAMPUS PARTY and all students who have in any manner supported the ideals of that organization, I wish to state that the Campus party was in no way connected with the anonymous letter which was circulated around the campus last Monday night. The Campus party has never engaged in "mud slinging" and shall not do so in the future. It is quite evident that this letter, appearing at such an inopportune time, helped to defeat the Campus party in the recent class elections. This defeat, however, has in no way tended to destroy the fundamental ideal of the Campus party... equal representation for all members of the ASUI.

Signed: Oliver Davis, Chairman, Campus Party Caucus

The other night some rascal on a southern campus stole some undergarments from the clothesline of the Gamma Phi house. The law must take its course—he was immediately arrested and arranged before the judge, but was as quickly released as arrested, pleading that it was his first slip.

"If It's New, We're the First to Have It"

What do College Leaders HAVE IN COMMON?

AN OUTSTANDING characteristic of the men who lead in the classroom, on the campus, and in the social life of school is their vitality. They have the abundant energy that comes with good health.

Your health and well-being can be slowed down by common constipation. Yet this prevalent ailment can be corrected usually by eating a delicious cereal.

Two tablespoonfuls daily of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will help promote regular habits. ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk," vitamin B and iron. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating-clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include Kellogg's Corn Flakes, PEP, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—real coffee.—97% caffeine free.

House Dances and Engineer's Ball Are on Social Calendar

The annual Associated Engineer's informal dance, the Kappa Alpha Theta Gypsy dance, and the Kappa Kappa Gamma upperclassmen formal dinner dance, all of which are to be held on Saturday, will compose the social activities of the campus for the coming week end. A glance at the social calendar for the coming week ends reveals many fraternity and sorority initiation dances vying for prominence. Cupid seems to have been doing his work a little early this year, judging from the weddings that have taken place on the campus already.

Kappa Sigs Entertain At Dance Exchange

Kappa Sigma entertained Kappa Alpha Theta at an exchange dinner dance Wednesday evening. The guests were: Eileen Richmond, Marjorie Talbot, Helen Winkler, Irene Parrott, Orene Hardman, Mary Hartley, Helen Brown, June Elmers, Ruth Counter, Betty Winkler, and Mrs. Gertrude Pecar.

Among the attractive social functions of the year was the formal dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Butterfield at the Moscow hotel Wednesday night for Delta Gamma upperclassmen. After the dinner bridge was played at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard David. Guests were: Mrs. Tom Chestnut, Margaret Moulton, Florence Simpson, Julia Hoover, Abigail Davis, Josephine Breckinridge, Jean Ricker, Lella Gabbey, Marjorie Wurster, Eileen O'Dea, Mr. and Mrs. Howard David, and Mrs. E. ANNOUNCE WEDDING AT DINNER PARTY

Announcement of the marriage of Willa St. Clair, Idaho Falls, and Leland Cannon, Mountain Home, was made at an informal birthday dinner Wednesday given by members of Kappa Kappa Gamma in honor of their housemother, Mrs. Lenore Scott. The marriage, which was announced by Janet Kinney, took place in Colfax Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Cannon, a sophomore, is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and a Spur. Mr. Cannon is a senior and member of Phi Delta Theta. The couple will make their home in Moscow, and Mr. Cannon will continue his studies. Following the announcement, members of Kappa Kappa Gamma were entertained at an exchange dance at the Phi Delta Theta house.

PLAN PROJECTS FOR SEMESTER

Plans and projects for the remainder of the semester were outlined at the first meeting of Cardinal Key, recently installed upperclass women's service honorary, at the Delta Gamma house Tuesday afternoon. One project that will be carried out by the organization will be to establish a closer relationship between women's organized groups. A committee composed of Nina Varian, Frances Hanley, and Mary Axtell was appointed to work on the plan.

No definite time was appointed for regular meetings of the group and informal ones will be called when necessary. One luncheon meeting will be held at the Blue Bucket each month.

GRAD MARRIES

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Rice to Ernest W. Poe, at Pomeroy, Wash., recently, was received in Moscow yesterday. Mrs. Poe has been a teacher in the Pomeroy public schools for the last four years. Mr. Poe is a graduate of the University of Idaho and the Moscow high school. The couple will make their home in Pomeroy where the groom is in the contracting business.

TOWN WOMEN'S GROUP INITIATES

Daleth Teth Gimel Honors Twenty-Two New Members With Dinner Dance

Daleth Teth Gimel, town women's organization, initiated 22 pledges at formal initiation ceremonies held in the club room at the women's gymnasium, Saturday afternoon. In the evening a formal banquet and initiation dance was held at the Blue Bucket in honor of the new members.

Ruth Humphreys, president of D. T. G., conducted the initiation, which was the largest in the history of this chapter, assisted by members of the cabinet. The following girls were initiated: Vivian Larsen, Agnes O'Hara, Carol Jean Samm, Kathleen Samm, Gertrude Gehrke, Evelyn Boyd, Margaret Jackson, Melvine Magee, Zelta Dahl, Jewel Bennett, Fern Erickson, Aime LaCerte, Mary Stevens, May Sturdevant, Elva Anderson, Rose Hall, Ida Allen, and Vera Allen.

The theme for the banquet centered around the development of Daleth Teth Gimel and its plans for expansion. The program was entitled "A New Deal for D. T. G." Toasts carrying out the theme were: "Code Makers," Ruth Humphreys; "Down Town Girls," Dean Permeal J. French; "Deciding to Grow," Mrs. C. W. Hickman; "Dividing Toward Greatness," Mary Axtell; "Developing Together," Ruby Genger, president of the chapter at W. S. C.; "Discovering the Girls," Grace Fenton; and the initiates' toast, "Departing Toward Grace," Maxine Goddell.

Mrs. C. W. Hickman, a patroness of the organization, read a letter to the group from Josephine Keane, a former Idaho student, who founded Daleth Teth Gimel.

The dance programs and the decorations were in lavender and gold, D. T. G. colors. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hickman, Professor and Mrs. G. L. Luke, Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Vircan, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Axtell, and Mr. and Mrs. Abs. Gott were the patrons and patronesses.

CAMPBELL IS NEW W. A. A. PRESIDENT

New officers were selected at the general meeting of the Women's Athletic Association Tuesday, 5:00 p. m.

Carol Campbell was chosen as the new president to succeed Ruth Kehrer for the second semester. Janet Kinney, vice-president; Helen Winkler, secretary and historical; Mae Pugh, recording secretary; and Rosanne Roark, treasurer.

The importance of supporting rifle competition was stressed at the meeting, and more seniors are urged to turn out. There have been about 60 women turning out for rifle practices.

Ducks Point For More Wins; Vandals Plan To Stop Them

Idaho Men Have Tough Assignment Against Oregon Next Week

Washington did it; can Oregon? That's the question that applies to the two games Monday and Tuesday nights between the Ducks and the Vandals. Washington took Rich Fox's boys four straight and now the Ducks, after taking two straight last week at Eugene, have their chance to do the same. Will they do it? "Yes," says Webfoot supporters, and here are their reasons. First, the fact that they've beaten Idaho twice, and

By BILL MCCREA

Starting tonight, the next week is to be a crowded one for the sports department at the Vandal fort. Tonight the Idaho frosh play the W. S. C. frosh here, and tomorrow night the same two teams play the preliminary for the W. S. C.-Oregon game. Monday afternoon the freshmen meet the Coeur d'Alene Junior college team here at four o'clock. Monday and Tuesday nights are the Vandal-Oregon Webfoot games. Wednesday is the boxing card, and Friday the Vandals meet the House of David basketball team in what promises to be the best feature game of the season. In addition, intramural basketball will continue and intramural tennis will be started. Daily practice for these events plus spring football and track workouts will keep Idaho athletes in action all over the campus.

second, the ability that Olinger, Robertson, W. Jones, B. Jones and Berg, Duck first-stringer, have exhibited in hawking the ball around the different conference lots.

"DARK HORSE" FIVE

Starting out early in the conference as the "dark horse" of the Northwest, Bill Reinhardt's basket- eers have steadily climbed, splitting a series here and winning two straight there, until they occupy a safe third place with four victories and six defeats, the only serious mar on their record being the loss of four straight from the Huskies, conference leaders. But in this the Webfoots have company, Idaho having also taken the rap four times in a row from Hec Edmundson's club.

The two Jones, Willis and Bud, transfers to Oregon from Southern Oregon Normal school, have been big factors in the Webfoot change from cellar position last year to third place this season, with possibilities for a tie with OSC for runners-up honors. Willard Jones stretches up to six feet four inches in height and does all the pivot work for the Ducks; crowding such veterans as Idaho's Grenier, closely though only a sophomore. The other Jones, Bud by name, is rapidly making a record for himself at guard, lacking only three inches in height of measuring up to his basketball brother who, incidentally, is no relation.

OLINGER HEADS OREGON SQUAD THIS SEASON

"Gib" Olinger, captain of the Webfoot squad this year, is the other first-string guard on Reinhardt's club. Olinger's team is consistent, a strong defensive man, and always a dangerous offensive threat, being one of the high scorers down Oregon way. Two years of conference play have seasoned Olinger until he is one of the most adept team handlers on the coast, according to northern division dope-buckets.

Bill Berg, one year veteran, guard transformed into a forward this season, while not starting in a scoring role, is one of the best ball-hawks in conference play, corresponding in his style to Lenchitsky of OSC and Warner of Idaho. Jack Robertson, who fills the other forward berth, is the biggest scoring threat on the Webfoot club as well as being a two year veteran at his post.

FOXMEN HAVE BEEN MADE OVER

At Idaho, Vandal supporters are equally sure that Oregon will not be able to follow the example set by Washington early in the season. They argue that since the early season defeats by Washington, the Foxmen have become an entirely different outfit, that with the advent of Fisher to the Idaho squad the gap so apparent in those tilts has been well filled. They say that Idaho's sophomores have benefited greatly in conference games already played and prove it by their split series with Oregon State and their two wins over W. S. C. They maintain the new scoring combination featuring Howard Grenier, towering Vandal center, that was uncorked in last Tuesday's game with OSC, will be powerful enough to head off the Webfoots next week and advance the theory that Idaho has met Oregon twice and will be prepared for them when they meet on the home floor.

Will the Ducks take Idaho four straight? Next week's games will tell the tale.

FORMER STUDENT GETS PROMOTION

Everett Sanders, Rathdrum, who graduated from the University of Idaho in 1930, has been promoted to the position of principal in the Glens Ferry high school. Immediately after his graduation he secured a teaching position in the English department of this high school and remained in that capacity for three years. While in school he was on the varsity debate team and a member of Delta Sigma Rho. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

BEAVER HOPES ALL BLASTED BY IDAHO

Vandal Hoopsters Defeat O. S. C. in Second Game

The Vandals did it again. For the second consecutive year Coach Fox's Idaho basketball team upset the Oregon State Beavers after being defeated in the opening game of the series. Both times the Vandal wins were serious setbacks to the title-seeking Oregonians, but this year the defeat was even more severe as it blasted Oregon State's last chance of winning the conference title.

After taking a 40 to 14 drubbing for the third loss in three games, the Vandals put on one of the exhibitions which earned them the title of "Giant-Killers" last year. The 34 to 22 upset amazed the northwest and served notice that the Vandals are still a team to be feared.

Vandals Suddenly Click Using the same attack which failed in the first game, the Vandals suddenly began to click in the second clash, and led by Norm Iverson and Howard Grenier, outmaneuvered and out-passed the coast champions to hand them a decisive defeat. Iverson was promoted to the first string to fill the place of Harold Klumb who had been off form in the previous games. Acting as key man in the passing attack, and gathering a total of nine points, Iverson's smooth game was one of the big factors in Idaho's win.

Howard Grenier, who was also outstanding in the Oregon series, gathered high point honors by looping 11 points. His scoring spree placed him in second position in the conference scoring race.

HOLD TOURNAMENT FOR CHESS FIENDS

Chess players will find an opportunity to try their skill at an international chess tournament soon to take place. Foreign students as well as American students, who wish to enter, are requested to give their names to Mr. Brar at 1017 Deakin avenue. This tournament is sponsored by the Cosmopolitan club and is under the management of Sarmukh S. Brar. The representative of the winning nation will be awarded with a prize.

Free lessons in chess playing will be given to those interested. All entries should be in before the end of this month. There is no entry fee.

The almost identical series between Idaho and Oregon State in the last two years is an amazing basketball coincidence. Last year the Vandals dropped the first 46 to 26 and came back, led by Grenier, to win the second 30 to 26. This year the Vandals lost the first 40 to 14, and led by Grenier and Iverson, came back to win 34 to 22. The similarity in scores makes the incident even more unusual.

The early start of intramural tennis with the intention to complete it very soon if the weather permits is an idea which deserves honorable mention. In past years tennis has been the last event on the intramural program and quite often has been left unfinished when school closed. This year the entire intramural program has been unusually efficiently and speedily run off, due to the supervision of Leo Calland, and Ap Berg, university intramural manager.

After absorbing a good deal of ridicule for cutting paper dolls, Coach Leo Calland has at last justified himself and his actions to the rest of the coaching staff. The apparently useless clipping of pictures by the head man proved to be the basis for a framed collection of former football players, grouped according to the year they played. Coach Calland has completed three of these interesting layouts and these graphic records of each football season now adorn the wall of the athletic room.

Inside dope from the athletic department has it that Coach Calland is about to be sued for one milkshake by Wendell Dayton, full-back. Some time ago Dayton bet Mr. Calland that Ritzheimer, frosh football man, weighed nearer 190 lbs than 180. On the scale the weight was found to be 184 1/2 lbs. It happened that Ritzheimer had been boxing all afternoon and had worked off several pounds, but as Leo was unaware of this, he is now Mr. Dayton's debtor.

On looking through the records we also find that Coach Otto Anderson is also on the debtor list for milkshakes to Dayton and to Russ Honsowetz. It seems that Mr. Anderson promised each of his frosh football men one of said drinks for each intercepted pass in the Cheney Normal football game. Dayton and Honsowetz obliged, but Mr. Anderson has evidently forgotten his use of such a powerful incentive.

Destined for Pivot Honors

How this big Vandal center, Howard Grenier, loves to demoralize the Oregon State Beavers, just when their hopes are soaring for a division championship. He duplicated his last year's feat Tuesday night at Corvallis by leading his teammates in a sensational win. Second in the individual scoring race with 85 points, nothing short of a broken leg can keep Grenier from carrying away all-northern division honors this year.

SENIOR ENGINEERS TRAVEL AND LEARN

Nine seniors of mechanical engineering accompanied by Prof. Henry F. Gauss motored to Spokane where they inspected the various engineering projects about the city. They visited the city water works, the Washington Water Power company's plant, and then the Union Iron works where they left their patterns to be cast for thesis projects.

GRENIER NOW IN SECOND POSITION

Galer Still in Top Place; Ed Lewis' Record Still Stands

Howard Grenier, veteran Idaho center, climbed back on the conference scoring bandwagon this week and used the four games in Oregon territory for a ladder. Grenier, Idaho's "Big Train" of basketball, came up from eighth place in last week's standing to runners-up honors under Bob Galer, Husky sharpshooter. The tall Vandal pivotman has 85 points to the good while Galer still holds forth as the bandmaster with 128 points, notwithstanding that the Huskies have been marking time all week.

Hal Lee, Galer's teammate on the Washington club, has 80 points marked up for him and Huntley McPhee, Washington State scorer, who last week was up in No. 3 position slumped to seventh place in the standings while the Cougars remained idle.

Klumb Holds Sixth Place

Howard Klumb has remained at sixth place with 70 points in all. In order for Galer to break the record set by Ed Lewis, Oregon State's brilliant center last year, the Husky sharpshooter must average 12 points per game in each of the four remaining Husky tilts. Lewis set up a mark of 173 points for the boys to shoot at, besting by one point the record set by Idaho's Harold Stowell and tied by Huntley Gordon of W. S. C.

Lindley hall remained undefeated last night by winning from Phi Gamma Delta, 24 to 17. Gordon, Lindley hall, took scoring honors with eight points. Boop and Beeman tied for scoring honors for the losers with six points each.

In the second game, Delta Tau Delta won from Ridenbaugh hall, 26 to 16. The Deltas led all the way, and were threatened only in the third quarter. Davis carried off scoring honors with 10 points. Laddie and Jensen were high for the losers.

Willis Smith refereed both games. In the opening game of the Wednesday night intramural games, the Betas trounced the Chi Alpha PIs by the overwhelming score of 23 to 3. The Chi Alphas were held scoreless during the first half and were held to only one field goal and one free throw in the second half. The Betas made many substitutions which did not hinder their scoring ability. The Betas made 10 field goals and 3 out of 11 free throws. Jump, right forward for the Betas, was high point man, netting seven while Lint of the Chi Alphas made the only field goal. Lee Tyrrell officiated the game.

Lambdas take Independents The second game between the Independents and the Lambdas this was more closely played, the score being 18 to 17 in favor of the Lambda Chis. Both teams played smoothly and were able to connect with a few of their shots at the hoop. Mallory, left forward for the Lambda Chis, took the honors for high points with seven. Miller, was high point man for the Independents with four. Lee Tyrrell officiated the game.

O. started out by two quick shots immediately after the tip-off and held the lead throughout the rest of the game. The half ended with a score of 15 to 9 in favor of the A. T. O.'s. Ralph Utt officiated the game.

the abc of pipe tobacco

The best tobacco for pipes comes from Kentucky... and it's called "White Burley"

WE use White Burley in making Granger Rough Cut. It comes from the Blue Grass region of Kentucky—ripe, mild leaf tobacco that just about tops them all for fragrance and flavor. From the right place on the stalk we select the kind that's best for pipes. Then we make it into Granger by Wellman's Method and cut it up into big shaggy flakes. White Burley tobacco—made the way old man Wellman taught us how to make it—that's Granger.

"Cut rough to smoke cool" is the way pipe smokers describe Granger—try it
