WIN CLOSE MATCH WITH IDAHO TEAM

Bruce Rhodes and Granville Fletcher Carried Affirmative

TWO TO ONE VOTING

Cecil Greathouse and William Wetherall Represent Idaho in Debate Here Last Night

By a two to one decision, the varsity debate team from the University of Nevada won the intercollegiate debate here last night from the Idaho debaters.

The team, composed of Bruce Rhodes and Granville Fletcher, debated on the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That the powers of the president should be substantially increased as a settled policy."

Defend NRA

The debaters for the affirmative built their case around a defense of the NRA and the policies of President Franklin Roosevelt. Mr. Rhodes insisted that if a government is to exist, it must take on new functions in economic life as well as the political. He stated that the president is the necessary leader in controlling these new functions.

Mr. Greathouse and Mr. Wetherall pointed out the dangers of a bureaucracy, such as has developed under the NRA, and defended the democratic form of government.

Judges for the debate were Mr. George Taylor of the L. D. S. Institute, Father E. R. Cody, and Abe Goff, prosecuting attorney.

ARROGANT ARGONAUTS

If your basketball playing resembles in any degree the ragged and hasty manner in which you turn out your illiterate sheet every Tuesday and Friday to the profound disgust of the higher minds on the campus, you will most sincerely wish that your contemptuous challenge to the honorable members of the GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS staff to engage them in an affray on the maple court of the Memorial gymnasium had never been made. It is too late to back out now, however, so be prepared to defend yourselves against the clever and terrific onslaughts of the GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS basketball team on the evening of February 28.

Offers Opportunity for New Writers; Next Issue to Feature Band

"I am convinced that there is plenty of talent for writing of any sort among the students on the campus," said Arthur Hagen, editor of the Blue Bucket. "The Blue Bucket offers an excellent medium for the expression of this talent. It is but necessary for students who wish to see their literary effort in print to drop their contributions in the contribution box in the Ad building. The last day for the submission of all copy is February 28th," announced Art Hagen, editor of the Blue Bucket. "As the staff is not yet selected for this year, this is an opportunity for freshmen and sophomores to become regular staff members. There will be at least two and perhaps three more issues of the Bucket this year," he said.

The Pep band will be the main feature in the next issue. Along with the history and activities of the band there will be numerous humorous cuts of the graduating members.

Besides these features a fashion page of the latest spring styles in women's wear with campus coeds a model will also be featured.

Contributions from some of the best campus writers such as Jean Kingsbury, Raphael Gibbs, Dock Hogue, and others will be added features.

PLANS FOR PARTY MADE BY JUNIORS

Announced by Bopp; Is First in History of the Third Year Class

Starting off the second semester with a great deal of enthusiasm, the Junior class will hold a class party March 13 at one of the group houses. Earl Bopp, president of the class, said that the class was the first to attempt a party for class members only.

The party will be for members of the class and was originated to get all members of the class together for the formulation of classer better and closer friendship. President Bopp appointed the following committee to make arrangements for the affair: Bob Moser, chairman; Carol Campbell, Esther Hunt, and Culton Gale.

The party will start at 8 p. m. and end at 11 p. m. All Junior women will be granted late permission. "I think that the Junior class has more pep and class spirit than any other class on the campus," said President Bopp, "and we are going to start off the semester with a bang and climax our activities with a big Junior week."

The committee will meet with President Bopp in the near future and make plans for the all-class get-together.

Electrical Engineers Have Spokane Trip to Hear Speech by Noted Coast Technician

Eight electrical engineering students of the College of Engineering, accompanied by acting Dean J. H. Johnson and Prof. R. H. Hull, attended a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Spokane Friday.

The speaker for the meeting was T. M. Libby, technical man for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, Seattle, Wash., who talked on "Resonant Phenomena on Power Transmission Lines." Mr. Libby supplemented his lecture by means of demonstrations with a model transmission line and oscilloscope and with lantern slides.

Students attending the meeting were: Lloyd Larsen, Wayne Smith, Vernon Nelson, Lloyd Reed, Delbert Ward, Ray Davis, Burton Hanson, and Jack Morgan.

Many Out For Fresh Team; Shot Put and Polevault Strongest Events

"Track practice is coming along as well as can be expected," reports Track Coach Anderson. The varsity squad has narrowed down to around fifteen men with about twenty-five men still turning out for the frosh squad. The sprint men, hurdlers, and the milers have been working out outside during the past few days, but the polevaulters and shot-putters are still using Lewis Court for training quarters.

"The shot-put will probably be our strongest event," commented Anderson, "although the polevaulters are not looking bad." "Ap" Berg, veteran lineman, has been

Dance from 2 to 5 o'clock at Blue Bucket; Programs on Sale

Moscow hardware stores are having a run on padlocks and bolts as the campus "smoothies" are preparing to hide their clothing and protect themselves before 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon when they hope to be able to meet the "one and only" and attend that dance of dances, the Spinster Skip. Ever since this ladies' choice affair became a tradition on the Idaho campus it has always been a good man who kept his date at the appointed hour after battling and outmaneuvering the disappointed boys who did not receive one of the coveted invitations.

For about two weeks now the men of the campus have been unusually attentive to the requests and comforts of the fair members of the opposite sex and next Thursday the climax of this period of tension is scheduled. Rumor has it that most of the bids to the dance are out, but to whom and from whom is for the most part a deep and dark secret, that is, if the boys care about getting there in one piece and presentably attired.

At Blue Bucket According to information given the Argonaut last night, the dance will be at the Blue Bucket Inn from 2 until 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, sponsored, of course, by Mortar Board. The Blue Bucket orchestra will furnish the music.

A special feature number has been arranged for the intermission of the dance. Bud Wilson, a Washington State student, will play a group of vibraphone solos. Wilson has won himself quite a reputation on the W. S. C. campus as a vibraphonist and Idaho students are looking forward to this opportunity.

CARL CLAU IS NEW CHORUS DIRECTOR

First Rehearsal of Second Semester Is Called for Monday Night

The first rehearsal of the ASUI Male chorus for the second semester has been called for Monday night, February 26, at 7:30 in the women's gym by Carl Claus, newly elected director of the group. Professor Claus, director of the university orchestra and instructor in violin, was elected to the position of leader for the group at a meeting of the group a week ago and the announcement of his acceptance of the post is made at this time.

The group was organized at the beginning of the year and progressed rapidly under the direction of Orville Westberg until he was forced to leave school when offered a position with a firm in Chicago. One concert was given just before Christmas vacation and the other appearances of the group are scheduled before school closes this spring.

Members of the organization are optimistic concerning the plans of the chorus and everyone is urged to turn out for the first practice next Monday.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND PLAYS FOR GAME

The Genesee School band of 31 players ranging in age from 10 to 18 helped entertain the crowd at the Idaho-Oregon basketball game last night.

This unusual organization is composed of players out of grades in the Genesee schools from the sixth grade to seniors in high school. The band is directed by Raymond Harris who did graduate work in education at the university two years ago. When Mr. Harris organized the band a year ago there were only 11 experienced players.

Squance, veteran hurdler, is working out hard every night, and should do some nice work on the cinder path this season.

Bob Newhouse, out for the polevault, is using the bamboo and cross pole to good advantage and should improve when the stage is shifted outdoors. Of the frosh squad, Jack Nichols is working hard on the polevault, and Orton,

FAMOUS CELLIST

Michael Arenstein Holds Recital in Auditorium Next Week

Michael Arenstein, concert cellist, is to be presented in a public recital here March 1, at 8:15 p. m., in the university auditorium. The concert is under the auspices of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity for women.

Mr. Arenstein is principal cellist of the Portland Symphony orchestra. His early training was under the eminent Glasunov at the St. Petersburg Imperial conservatory in Russia, where he also did ensemble work with the great master Leopold Auer. Among his contemporaries at the conservatory were: Heifetz, Seidel, Milstein, and Prokofieff. Later he toured Europe both as a soloist and as an ensemble player. Mr. Arenstein came to Portland from Cleveland, where he was a member of the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, and also active in musical circles.

S. A. I. Sponsor Sigma Alpha Iota is undertaking the presentation of this artist concert with the idea of bringing at least one recital of equal excellence to Moscow each year from now on. It is hoped by members of S. A. I. that enough interest can be aroused through these concerts to bring about the re-establishment of something like the artists' course which was in existence here before.

Admission to the recital will be 40 cents for university students and townspeople. Tickets will be available from any member of Sigma Alpha Iota, and at Hodgins' Drug store. There are no reserved seats.

Modern Music The program which Mr. Arenstein has planned will include both old and modern compositions. Among them will be the Haydn Concerto, in which he appeared as soloist with the Portland symphony this past December.

Mr. Arenstein will be remembered for his appearance here last spring with the Portland Symphony string quartet. At that time he also played a group of solos.

ENGINEERS PLAN ANNUAL AFFAIR

Preliminary Preparations Are Being Made For Bi-Annual Show

Preliminary preparations for Engineer's week and show are well advanced among the various technical groups on the campus. The Engineer's show is an event which occurs in alternate years on the Idaho campus and Washington State college. Each show tries to bring in new ideas and innovations, along with a demonstration of the fundamental equipment as used by the different departments.

It is expected that Engineer's week will be held during the middle part of May and with such an early start a creditable performance should be provided. Skits, demonstrations and entertainment are also being organized for the assembly which usually takes place on the Wednesday of that week.

"It is hoped that all engineers will begin a period of active thinking in regard to their week because the committee in charge expects to utilize all available man and brain power to make this year's show a success," said J. Hugo Johnson, acting dean of the College of Engineering.

"I am very well satisfied with the performances of both the varsity and frosh trackmen," added Coach Anderson.

Twenty-seven thousand yards of adhesive tape and 600 yards of gauze have been purchased by Louisiana State university for use on its athletes during the coming year.

CWA NOTICE

Men who are interested in work under the new CWA program will report at the university auditorium at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Those who have been certified for work under the original CWA program and new students who have made applications for work will be eligible. Members of the men's CWA committee will be on hand to explain details of the new program. Dean Kerr, chairman of the committee, asks that all men be prompt. Students who have classes during this hour should arrange with their instructors to be excused.

MINES STUDENT DIES SUDDENLY

Don Cranston Is Victim of Embolism; Death Comes As Shock to Students

Death from a heart attack unexpectedly came to Donald Cranston, 21-year-old university student, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He died at the university infirmary where he had been for a week recovering from acute rheumatism and a weak heart. Cranston was apparently improving nicely and had just finished eating a hearty lunch when a sudden relapse set in. Dr. J. H. Einhouse was immediately summoned and at 3 o'clock pronounced the boy dead giving embolism as the cause of death.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cranston of Sandpoint, his parents, were immediately notified and Mr. Cranston left at once for Moscow. Besides his father and mother, the boy is survived by a sister. He is a junior in the School of Mines and was specializing in geology. He came to the university in 1931 after being graduated from the Sandpoint high school. At the present time he was living at 702 Taylor avenue.

Yell King Asks Students to Come Prepared for Lots of Yelling

"Idaho has a chance of taking third place in the conference this year and the game to-night with Oregon will tell the tale," said Lloyd Riutcel, yell king, last night.

There will not be a rally before the game and in order to make up for this students had better come to the game prepared to yell, stated Riutcel.

The yell leader pointed out that if Idaho wins tonight, although they lost their first decision to the Beavers, and Oregon games Idaho will be gone and W. S. C. lose the rest third on the northern division roster.

Sit on One Side

The students will sit in the balconies as they have in the past and are asked to sit on one side of the gym as much as possible so that the cheering may be worked from that one position.

"Idaho has a very credible team going out to meet Oregon as evidenced by the scrap they put up during the second half of the game last night. In order to help them win this game we have all the pep and enthusiasm the school has to offer. Everybody come out and do your part in helping the team take third place in the conference," urged Riutcel.

HAND OUT BLANKS TO GET ACTIVITIES

The activity blanks for juniors and seniors to fill out for the Gem of the Mountains have been distributed to the various group houses and halls. Town students and those not affiliated with any groups may get their blanks at the studios, and return them to the studios when they are filled out.

Juniors and seniors are urged to fill the blanks out immediately, so they will be collected in a few days. This is their only opportunity to get their activities in the Gem.

Program Provides $2500 A Month To Idaho Students

Project Will Continue Until June Giving Work to 116 Men and 51 Women; Probably Pay from 30 to 35 Cents

A long distance call from President M. G. Neale of the University of Idaho late Monday afternoon carried the information that a new CWA allotment had been granted to the University of Idaho. This allotment becomes effective at once and represents approximately Boise where he was called to attend a meeting of the committee appointed to work out a program for continuing CWA activity in the state educational institutions of Idaho.

The new CWA allotment is somewhat different from the original program recently completed at the university. The basic allotment provides for a maximum of $15 a month per student on 10% of the regular enrollment on October 15, 1933. For Idaho this amounts to an allotment of 167 students since the October 15 enrollment of regular college students was 1672. The allotment is to be divided between men and women on the same basis as the division in enrollment. Thus the university allotment will amount to 116 men and 51 girls.

Common Rate.

The national civil works administration has advised in a form letter covering this new project, that the rate of pay is to be such as is commonly paid by the institution for work of the type being done. While the definite scale of pay has not been announced it will probably be 30 to 35 cents an hour. The civil works administration specifies that a student cannot work over 8 hours any day or over 30 hours any week.

The same committees which handled employment under the original CWA allotment will continue to supervise the new project. For the men this committee is composed of Dean T. S. Kerr, chairman, Dr. E. E. Hubert, and Prof. J. E. Buchanan. The women's committee is composed of Miss M. Belle Sweet, librarian, chairman, Miss Katherine Jensen, and Miss Ellen Reinson. These committees have announced their program for allotting work under this new project.

While no definite announcement has been made concerning the duration of this new project, it is considered likely that it will continue until the end of the university year.

To Aid Students The purpose of the new CWA allotment is to provide for the education of students who are unable to attend school because of economic conditions.

A study of international relations should prove not only interesting, but helpful in leading to fruitful activity, and developing," Miettunen declared. "The main news sources consisting of conversation, lectures, newspapers, and magazines are often biased and inadequate," he explained, citing the current case of the Russo-Japanese situation as an example of the need of adequate background to any situation of international consequence. "All our conclusions in these affairs should be tentative," he said.

Need All Sciences A sufficient knowledge of psychology to enable us to understand the reasons for our prejudices, the need for acting upon our beliefs, and general concepts, and conclusions formed from a variety of sources, were emphasized as necessary requirements to the successful study of international affairs by Miettunen.

"What we need in studying international relations is the attitude of the scientist, who sees all knowledge with an unprejudiced, critical mind," declared Allen Miettunen at Friday's meeting of the International Relations club. Those decided upon as delegates to the Northwest International Relations conference at Tacoma March 16 and 17 were: Dr. J. G. Eldridge, faculty sponsor of the club, Karl Hobson, president, Virginia Merrick, Jean Clough, Fred Fisher, and Marvin Jones.

CADET OFFICERS WILL ENTERTAIN Will Entertain W. S. C. Chapter at Dance in Delta Chi House

Commands and drills will be discarded by the Idaho chapter of Scabbard and Blade Friday night when they entertain the Pullman chapter of that organization at a dance at the Delta Chi chapter house.

The dance will be the first of its kind within the organization. Lloyd Riutcel is chairman of the dance committee and any alumni members of the chapter may obtain tickets from him.

Patrons and patronesses for the cadet officers' frolic will be General and Mrs. E. R. Chrisman, Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Henkle, Capt. and Mrs. H. A. Hale, Lieut. and Mrs. John Sheehy, and Sgt. and Mrs. F. Barnum, from Moscow, and members of the Washington State college military department.

Tom Armour's Blue Devils will furnish the music for the dance.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICE

Saturday, February 24 is the last day for the removal of incompletes by examination or otherwise. Removable deficiencies not made up before that date automatically become failures unless the student has previously filed in the registrar's office a permit for extension of time signed by his dean and the instructor concerned.

Featherweights Scrap Karl Fickes and Chuck Carlson, at 130 pounds, are two of the fiercest of the smaller fighters on the varsity squad. Both have had much experience and are conceded to be about an even match.

A special event at 160 pounds between Wendell Dayton and Marlon Horton promises to be one of the most interesting "grudge" matches of the evening. Dayton and Horton have been boxing opponents since they were freshmen in high school and each is anxious to "get" the other in their second match in college circles.

Preliminary to these four bouts will be six well-matched contests (Continued on Page Two)

Nice Work, Student Body

Though the team went down hard last night in a closely fought contest in which a great number of fouls were called on both squads, the student body won a game that it has been fighting for a long time.

Even though many decisions were questionable, as they are any place, with any teams playing, and with any striped shirters officiating, they were taken quietly by the spectators.

Only an occasional boo was heard here and there. Those large organized groans were not in existence. It's fun to boo, but better if we don't. Let's hope the Bronx cheers and the boos are as few tonight.

A New Man at the Helm

When Orville Westburg left school at the semester, the Men's chorus found itself without a leader. Westburg, student director, had just begun the making of a fine organization destined to become very popular on the campus and throughout the state. Originating last spring as a special section of the Pep band show, the group continued its existence growing in popularity after its program presented just before Christmas this year.

Recently Prof. Carl Claus was named leader of this new chorus group. The professional leadership at the helm now should advance the chorus to a high place in Idaho music circles. The group, feeling that no student possessed the ability to take over the job left open by Mr. Westburg, chose Professor Claus to fill the position. His personality and leadership ability should start the chorus up the grade again.

Faculty Holds Many Degrees

If one person were to earn all the academic degrees held by members of the university faculty, he would have to spend something like 1200 years of his life attending college.

And if this knowledge-hungry person were to lay his 416 sheepskins end to end, they would form an unbroken line extending from the Administration building to the campus steps. Furthermore, if this person were to have in a lump sum all the money he had spent in pursuit of his higher education, he wouldn't spend any time worrying about the depression.

Attached to the names of Idaho faculty members are the following degrees listed in the university catalog: bachelor's, 228; master's, 132; doctorate, 39; and professional, 17. The doctorate degrees include: Ph. D., Sc. D., D. Sc., LL.D., and S.J.D. Next come master of arts, master of this and that science, and a few odd ones such as master of music, incidentally the highest granted in music. Professional degrees include miscellaneous titles as civil engineer, bachelor of laws, and doctor of medicine.

Time Expended Long

Each bachelor's degree represents at least four years of study, or a total of 912 man or woman years in residence. The master's degrees add 132 more years, assuming each degree was earned after only one year of advanced work. Assuming further that the doctorate and professional degrees each represent two years of work, the total study time is increased by 112 years. The grand total of 1156 years is low, because many faculty members have done advanced work for which they have not yet received degrees.

Doctorate degrees held by members of the faculty were granted by the following institutions: Columbia, Wisconsin, 4; Harvard, Iowa, 3; Chicago, Iowa State, Cornell, Yale, California, Heidelberg (Germany), 2; Peabody, Colgate, California Tech, McGill, Illinois, University of London (England), Massachusetts Agricultural college, Ohio State, University of Goettingen (Germany), Santa Clara, Michigan, University of Washington, 1.

Many Institutions Represented

Many other institutions have one or more graduates on the Idaho faculty, including the following: Universities—Idaho, Minnesota, Oregon, New Hampshire, Arkansas, Nebraska, Indiana, Montana, Colorado, Texas, Kansas, Utah, Missouri, Ohio, Purdue, Syracuse, Brigham Young, DePauw, Drake, Northwestern, Stanford, Southern California, Brown, Union, Pacific, Upper Iowa, Louisville, University of the State of New York, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Birmingham (England).

Colleges—William and Mary, Morningside, Reedcliffe, California, Christian, Coe, Hope, Oregon State, William Jewell, Texas A. and M., Oberlin, Wesleyan of West Virginia, Kansas State, Colorado Agricultural, Utah State, Washington State, Whitman, Drury, Kalamazoo, Midland, College of Idaho, Gooding, Walla Walla college and Reed.

Other institutions—U. S. Military academy, New England conservatory of music, Bush conservatory of music, Belgian conservatory of music, South Dakota school of Mines, New Mexico School of Mines, Montana School of Mines, Deaconess hospital, Good Samaritan hospital, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, and Army music school, (Trondhjen, Norway).

Prof. Stoeppelwerth at Concordia college, Indiana, is planning the production of four moving pictures, one of which will show a day at the college.

AT THE KENWORTHY... Answering an age-old question women have been asking themselves for years, "Design for Living," now playing at the Kenworthy, shows Miriam Hopkins as the young modern miss who can't decide between two men played by Fredric Arch and Gary Cooper. The three join forces. Miss Hopkins becomes the boys' severest critic, gets a producer to put on one of March's plays and gets Cooper an art reputation. As it eventually must, the situation gets out of control—and it isn't until Edward Everett Horton comes into the scene as a villainous comedian that the boys put up a united front before their joint enemy to win back Miss Hopkins' love.

AT THE VANDAL... Never in the history of the screen has a cast of the magnitude of "Dinner at Eight" been presented to the film public. The picture opens at the Vandal Wednesday. Each star has a big scene with the various subplots woven into one grand smash climax. The story concerns a dinner at which a varied group of people are invited, and the individual adventures which befall each between the time of the invitation and the event. Comprising the cast are Marie Dressler, John Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lionel Barrymore, Lee Tracy, Edmund Lowe, Billie Burke, Madge Evans, Jean Hersholt, Karen Morley, Louise Closser Hale, and May Robson.

lotment, as explained in a communication from the federal authorities, is to make it possible for students to stay in school who otherwise might be compelled to drop out, and to make it possible for some others to enroll for the last part of the year. Federal regulations provide that not over 75% of the new allotment can go to old students, which leaves 25% available to students enrolling the second semester.

Allotments similar to the ones granted the University of Idaho, all based on October 15 enrollment, have been granted to other state institutions in Idaho. The committee working out the schedule for Idaho institutions was Dr. M. G. Neale; J. W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction; and Asher B. Wilson, representing the state board of education.

between the more outstanding members of Coach August's squad. Most of these bouts are between the two best men in each weight division. A re-match of Earl Ritzheimer and Ross Sundberg, heavyweight footballists, is to be the opening bout and promises to provide plenty of fireworks for the opening of the evening. The two are the heaviest men on the squad and possess plenty of dynamite behind their punches. The two met in intramural match and provided much excitement with their even fighting until Sundberg unexpectedly slipped over a punch which put Ritzheimer to sleep on the canvas.

Slug It Out

Another of the preliminary bouts which promises much excitement is between Gene Northrup, 140 pounds, and Lynn Moore, 133 pounds. Both men are favorites with university fans for their slugging tactics and should provide a fierce battle. "Each man will probably pick himself off the mat more than once," says Coach August. "These two men will probably provide a big thrill for the spectators."

Russ Honsowetz, varsity half-back, makes his first appearance in the ring in the second bout of the evening when he takes on Morton Brigham. Both weigh 175 pounds.

Louie Paskin, at 145 pounds, and Bob Ames, also at 145 pounds, will provide the entertainment in the third match of the evening. Both men have fought before university crowds before.

Ken Baldwin, 129 pounds, versus Viri Grove, 125 pounds, and Cecil Greathouse, 124 pounds, versus Mike DePaldo, 122 pounds, will provide preliminaries between the lightest of the university boxers. These men are all evenly matched and are out to get their first wins in front of a university crowd.

10 Cents Admission

"The price has been made nominal, only 10 cents; the men are well-matched; and everything points to the most successful smoker of the season," says Coach Louie August. "Here is a chance for the student body not only to see a real fight card, but to support the boxing department and show the varsity men that their work is being appreciated."

Admission will be 25 cents for townspeople and instructors and 10 cents for students.

FROSH WIN AND LOSE TO KITTENS

Vandal Babes Defeat Kittens Friday, but Drop Game Saturday

By BILL PAULEY

For the second time this year the Idaho frosh divided a double header with the W. S. C. frosh. Friday evening the Idaho babes defeated the Cougar outfit 27 to 22 at Moscow, and Saturday evening W. S. C. defeated Idaho 43 to 20 at Pullman.

Friday the Idaho frosh started out with a bang. W. S. C. made the first basket but Larsen sootied it up and Martin added another to put them in the lead. From there on it was clear sailing, W. S. C. never coming closer than four points. The half ended 13 to 9 in Idaho's favor.

Kasch, the tricky W. S. C. forward, was high point man with 11 counters. Martin and Larsen tied for high point honors for Idaho, each having eight to his credit.

W. S. C. Turns Tables

Saturday night the result was just the opposite. The W. S. C. frosh, inspired by the varsity's win over Oregon, started putting the ball through the little hoop. With five minutes of the first half over, the score was 6 to 1 in favor of the Cougar Kittens. Larsen sank two baskets in quick succession and another by Tracy and Martin plus two foul shots by Martin saw the score tied at 13 all. The half ended 16 to 16.

Starting off the second semester pitition of the first five minutes. Led by Kasch, who made 16 tallies the second half, the W. S. C. frosh left the Idaho Babes way behind.

Society and Women's News

Week-end Social Features Are Varied and Colorful

The campus was the scene of a large variety of dances this week end. The Kappa Kappa Gamma upperclassmen held a formal, the Kappa Alpha Theta house was turned into a colorful Gypsy camp, and the guests at the Associated Engineers' ball spent the evening trying to work the slide rules which composed the programs. Washington's birthday will be a campus holiday, and that afternoon the girls will get their 'innings' at the Spinster Skip which Mortar Board is sponsoring.

Engineers' Dance Held at Bucket

The annual Associated Engineers' dance was held Saturday night at the Blue Bucket. Spring was the motif for the decorations. There were crepe paper hangings of bright colors and different colored spot lights. A large slide rule was suspended over the top of the orchestra pit and moved to indicate the dances. Programs were in the form of slide rules and worked in the same manner to find the dances. Patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. von Ende, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan. The Blue Bucket orchestra furnished the music for the dance.

Theta's Turn Gypsy For Annual Dance

The Kappa Alpha Theta house was a panorama of color Saturday night when it was the scene of the Theta Gypsy dance. The bright multi-colored costumes of the dances, the house itself, which was transformed into a typical Gypsy camp, made this affair one of the most unique of the social season. Two rooms were used for dancing, one of which was decorated to represent the inside of a Gypsy wagon, and the other, an outdoor scene in a Gypsy camp. Guitars, accordions, brightly colored lanterns, and Indian blankets greatly enlivened the effect. Clever black paper programs cut to represent a Gypsy girl and decorated with bright red oil cloth skirts, were in perfect keeping with the other decorations. Chuck Collins' orchestra played for the dance, and the patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Chamberlain, and Mrs. Gertrude Pecar. Special guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Gale Mix, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poulton, Jeanette Reese, Moscow; and Helene Haller, St. Maries. The guest list included: Max Hollingsworth, Robert Baker, Allen Dunbar, Robert Spence, Joseph Strong, Richard Sturgil, Harold Ellingson, Robert Skindlov, Lloyd Riutcel, Max Eldon, Frank Stevens, Ronald Hersey, William McCrear, Darrell Larsen, Robert Moser, Paul Ward, John Powell, Richard Axtell, Jack Nichols, John Crowe, Whitey Munyon, Douglas Guy, Willard Westing, Kenneth Hensley, Wayland Tonnung, William Brallsford, Douglas Cordon, Keith Evans, Mark Felt, Harold Kaeser, Frederic Cromwell, and Ferd Koch.

Kappa Upperclassmen Hold Formal

Dancing between each course was the novel arrangement for the Kappa Kappa Gamma upperclassmen's formal dinner dance, which was held at the chapter house Saturday. Four courses were served at the dinner, with cocktail, and demi-tasse served in the living room. The table was lighted with candles, and held a centerpiece of daffodils. The dancing rooms were decorated with daffodils and pussy willows. Small silver programs were tied with a black cord. The music was furnished by Bert Wood's orchestra. Patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lattig, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Platt, and Mrs. Lenore Scott. Guests included: Earl Bullock, Gene Kiley, Jedd Jones, Robert Herrick, Richard Finklen, Robert Felton, James Black, Charles Warner, Sandy McDonald, Orville Schmitz, and Carl Hobson.

The table was decorated with candles and a centerpiece of roses; each initiate was presented with a corsage which matched her dress. Mrs. Jesse Buchanan was toast mistress, and Bonita Low, Helen Latimore, and Katherine Bjornsted gave the collegiate toasts. Alumnae guests included Mrs. Jesse Buchanan and Mrs. V. A. Cherrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Curtis, Moscow, with two small children; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Pearce, and Norine Pearce, Spokane, were dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sunday.

Ducks Win Heart-Breaker In Final Seconds, 33 To 30

Vandals Fight Up Hill Most of Way to Tie Score, But Lose as Berg and Rourke Connect

The Oregon Webfeet made it three straight over the Vandals in the Memorial gym last night as they nosed out Idaho, 33 to 30, in one of the wildest and roughest games seen here in many seasons.

Roland Rourke, reserve guard, was the hero of the fray for the invaders as he went into the game replacing Robertson, who was forced out on personal fouls in the last two minutes, and caged the field goal that put the game on ice with 15 seconds to go.

Tie Score, then Slip

The game was a heart-breaker for the Vandals to lose after their hard, up-hill climb for half the game to cut down the Webfeet's 22 to 9 lead that they held shortly before the first half ended. With less than three minutes to go, Naslund tied the score at 30 with two free throws, but in their desperate attempts to break the tie in the remaining time, the Vandals slipped up long enough to allow a free throw by Berg, Duck forward, and the decisive field goal from under the basket by Rourke as the game ended.

Idaho jumped into an early lead with a free throw by Naslund, a short by Grenier, and a follow-in by Iverson. Oregon gained a 8 to 5 lead shortly after as Olinger, Robertson, Bud Jones, and Gemmell peppered the basket in quick succession from all angles, and they were never headed again.

Vandals Check Toward End

The Webfeet had luck with their shots, and run up a 10-point lead by the middle of the first half, but Grenier, Klumb, and Wally Geraghty connected toward the end to leave a halfway score of 22 to 14.

Grenier out-smarted Willie Jones, Oregon center, to score a field goal on the opening tip-off of the second half in the prettiest play of the game. Warner added a free throw, and Geraghty sank a long one from the side to cut the lead down five points. Oregon sank three field goals in quick order to regain her 9-point lead, but except for a steal by Robertson in the closing minutes of the game, the Webfeet failed to make another field goal until the last 15 seconds.

Play Rough and Fast

Idaho gradually narrowed the margin, and Geraghty put the Vandals definitely in the running with about five minutes to go when he caged a sensational two-handed flip from far out on the side of the court.

The whole game was played at a terrific pace, and the officials were kept busy calling fouls. Time was called on several occasions to give first aid to players on both sides who got banged up in wild scrambles for the ball. Robertson, Bud Jones, and Olinger left the game with four personal fouls. Warner was Idaho's representative on the retired list.

The towering centers on both teams dominated the scoring, with Willie Jones caging 12 points to Grenier's nine. The Idaho center consistently got the tipoff from his opponent.

VARSITY TENNIS PROSPECTS GOOD

Three Returning Lettermen to Form Nucleus for 1934 Team

Three returning lettermen, Ray Sowder, Henry Rust, and Paul Rust, will form a nucleus for the 1934 varsity tennis team. Dick Axtell, Bill Hudson, and Bob Denton, who were on the frosh squad last year, are also making a strong bid for a varsity berth. Hugh Eldridge, Vincent Marcus, and Bill Merchants are showing up well. From this material the five members of the varsity team will be selected. Each match consists of five singles matches and two doubles matches. "With this material and the excellent tennis weather, the Idaho tennis team will be in tip top shape when the season opens," said Ray Sowder, captain.

Captain Sowder wishes that all who desire to turn out for varsity and freshman tennis would get in touch with him immediately.

Bing Crosby went out for football at Gonzaga.

Bill's Bruisers

Two of Coach Bill Reinhart's rugged Ducks who helped nose out the Vandals here last night in a 33 to 30 thriller. "Spook" Robertson, left, is a two-year veteran forward. Bud Jones, right, is a transfer who broke into the regular lineup at guard this season. Both boys left the game last night via the personal foul route.

GRIDDERS PRACTICE ON FUNDAMENTALS

Field Is Under Repair and Hampers Bigger and Better Practices

Though lack of field space has been hampering spring football practice, practice has been coming along well for so early in the spring, reports Coach Leo Calland. Most of the time so far has been spent in working up plays to be used in conference games next fall, and in toughening the boys in for more strenuous work later on.

Work on fundamentals of the game begin tonight with blocking, tackling, and passing all receiving their share of the attention. Recruits from last fall's frosh club will be getting most of the drill along these lines, but all men turning out will get their share in order to put them in shape.

Thirty men are turning out regularly now with Klumb, Iverson, and Geraghty, all varsity lettermen, scheduled to appear after basketball season. From the freshman basketball squad will come Hall, center, and Gwilliams, tawling end.

PRACTICE GAMES COMING UP

Of last year's frosh who are out this spring, Ritzhelmer, end, Spaugy, center, and Devlin, quarterback, are all showing up well, as is also Ross Sundberg, whose berth has not been decided yet. He played in the line and backfield last fall. Two newcomers who are looking especially good are Joe Wheeler and Paul Wise, transfers from Chafey Junior college in California. Wheeler is a center and Wise alternates at either quarter or inside half. Russ Honsowetz is being groomed for

CONDUCTS SCHOOL

Ralph Carlson, northwest field representative of the American Cross, is here on his annual visit and is conducting a school in lifesaving instruction which began last night and will continue for three days. Instruction will be given in the Memorial gymnasium tonight at 8:30; Wednesday evening at 7:30; and Thursday morning at 9:00. Anyone who is interested in lifesaving instruction is invited to the school.

YEARLINGS PILE UP 81-28 SCORE

Display Fast Form to Swamp Coeur d'Alene Junior College; Larsen, Hall Star

The Idaho frosh showed a complete change of form from their "cold" evening against the Cougar Kittens last Saturday at Pullman, as they rolled over the Coeur d'Alene Junior college outfit here yesterday afternoon by the record score of 81 to 28.

The yearlings started right in from the beginning to make up for their poor showing at Pullman, and dazed the Lake city boys with fast floor work and "can't miss 'em" shooting. Bert Larsen and Woodie Hall led the scoring onslaught with 22 points each. Don Tracy and Ron Martin came in for a good share of the honors with 14 and 11 points respectively. Cresto and Kerns with four each and Fuller with two completed the yearlings' scoring.

McCall led the losers in scoring with 13 points, followed by Boothe with seven. Gorton with six and Wilson with two completed the J. C.'s scoring.

The count at the half was 41 to 10.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The intramural basketball schedule has been changed by the interference of the Idaho-Oregon games and an open night on Wednesday. The schedule for this week is as follows: February 22, at 7:30 p. m., Phi Delta Theta versus Kappa Sigma; at 8:30 p. m., L. D. S. versus Sigma Nu, and at 9:30 p. m., A. T. O. versus T. K. E. Coach Bill Reinhart Has Potent Ideas On How Basketball Can Be Improved

"Over-officiating is the bane of basketball," declares William J. "Bill" Reinhart, University of Oregon casaba mentor. "Under present conditions the referee is by far the most important man on the floor, and it is as hard on him as it is bad for the game." Coach Reinhart yesterday explained in detail many changes in the present game which, might bring about a faster, fairer, and more interesting game of basketball.

Chief of Reinhart's suggestions to improve the present game was the elimination of all free throws except those given for an intentional foul or one committed upon a shooting player. Early this year a test game between Oregon and Willamette universities was played under this ruling. Ordinary personal fouls were checked up against each offender as usual, but instead of giving the fouled player a shot his team was given the ball out of bounds.

Speeds Up Game

It was found that the game was speeded up so much under this rule that three 15 minute periods were played instead of the usual two 20 minute halves. A crowd of 3000 witnessed this game and voiced hearty approval of the new style of play.

Coach Reinhart pointed out that the varied vagaries of different officials determine the style of play and, often, the winner in each game. Interpretations of the "steps" and "body contact" rules are different with each official and every team usually finds difficulty in adapting itself to the officiating of the referees at different universities. Reinhart spoke of the vast advantage of giving an out of bounds ball to a team 20 or more times in one game because its opponents have been accustomed to playing with a referee who interprets the "steps" rule more laxly.

Officials All-powerful

"At present," according to Coach

Reinhart, "the official is given so much discretionary power that his rulings at a crucial moment may easily determine which team is to win. Two or three quick fouls on a valuable player may make him valueless and destroy the coordination of the team. An improvement to this state of affairs would be much welcomed by the officials as well as the coaches and spectators."

Another interesting suggestion of "Bill's" was a plan for rotating the center jumping duty among all the players in definite order. Such a plan, which would be followed much like a baseball batting order, would eliminate the undue stress placed on height at present. Teams, at present, often carry an inferior player simply because of his height and this is naturally detrimental to good basketball. Reinhart added that this rule would also give an opportunity for clever substituting in order to control the tip-off at crucial moments.

Make Hoop Bigger

The often-made suggestion of eliminating the tipoff by providing for each team to start the play from out-of-bounds after alternate baskets, was criticized by Reinhart in that it destroys one of basketball's best offensive movements; the tipoff play.

"Another more radical, but no less interesting, possibility for a change," observed Reinhart, "is to increase the size and height of the basket. Such a procedure would facilitate scoring from long range without making short shots any easier, thus drawing the defense out and opening up the game in such a manner as to make it more interesting to spectators."

"Basketball is a comparatively new game," says Reinhart, "and any improvements which we could add should be made for the best interests of the game. The lack of agreement among coaches makes such a change immensely difficult and doubtful of accomplishment. Such an experiment in this conference could have no ill effects and might lead the way for an era of more interesting basketball."
