

"I" CLUB SPONSORS ENTERTAINMENT FOR STATE TOURNAMENT

Continuous Dancing with Minor Sports Show to Be Staged

ADMISSION IS 40 CENTS

Queen Will Be Presented by Orville Schmitz as Climax of Evening

"A gymnasium full of activity" is what the "I" club has termed their Sports dance and Carnival to be staged in the Memorial gymnasium March 17. The entertainment will follow the final game of the state basketball tournament, and all high school students will be guests of the club at the entertainment.

The final game of the tournament will start early enough in the evening to give the lettermen ample time to stage their entertainment. The game will probably start at 7 p. m., which will allow the entertainment to start by 9 o'clock.

Floor Divided
The basketball floor will be divided in half—dancing taking place on the eastern end of the floor and the sports events taking place in the opposite half of the space. Chuck Collins and his band will furnish the music for the dancing.

All of the sports events will take place on the main floor of the gym with the exception of swimming and the water polo game. The water polo game will be the first exhibition of that sport at the university. Swimming and diving will precede the game in the university pool. Harry Jacoby is in charge of these events.

Boxing Events
While the dancing is taking place in one end of the floor boxing events will take place at the same time. This will be the first time that boxers have had the opportunity to place their blows to rhythmic tunes. The participants in the bouts have not been selected, but Lester Albee, in charge of the bouts, assures that they will be of the best university talent.

Paul Berg is gathering a team of bone crushers to get in action for the evening of varied entertainment. The men to take part in the wrestling bouts have not been selected, but will be announced in the next few days.

Swords to Fly
Swords will clash when the fencers get together for a few friendly stabs as a feature of the "I" club's sports carnival. Chick Wilson, who is in charge of the event, states that the bout will be interesting and informative to those who attend. Explanation of the sport will be given before the bout takes place.

Wilson will also be in charge of the tumbling for the carnival. The program for the tumblers at this event will be new. The men on the tumbling team are working out some new thrilling and dangerous stunts to be staged for the carnival on March 17.

New Entertainment
This is the first time that any such entertainment has been attempted by the "I" club, says Max Eiden, publicity chairman of the club. The club has taken this means to display minor sports to the students.

The climaxing event of the evening's entertainment sponsored by the club will be the announcement of the "I" club queen by Orville Schmitz, president of the club. The committee, headed by Holden Bowler, is working on the selection of the queen.

Tickets 40 cents
Proceeds from the Dance and Sports Carnival will be used to purchase a trophy case which the club plans to present to the university to be placed in the Memorial gymnasium. Tickets for the dance will be 40 cents a couple. Those wishing to attend the dance alone will be charged 25 cents.

"The students must not forget," said Schmitz, "that the dancing will be continuous and that there will be no intermission in the dancing for the sports events." A large placard will be placed in the gymnasium telling of the time each event will take place. June Hanford will also announce all of the events.

DEMOLAYS INSTALL OFFICERS

The E-Dah-Ho chapter of the Order of Demolay installed officers at a meeting in the Masonic temple last night. Dan Marden, freshman in the College of Engineering, is the new master counselor. Other high officers installed were Francis Laney, '35, senior counselor, and James Laing, '37, junior counselor.

A crowd of about 80 people attended the installation. After the ceremony, refreshments were served in the dining room.

To Start Annual Argonaut Bridge Tournament Monday Evening at Blue Bucket Inn

The Argonaut bridge tournament will begin Monday evening at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 as it has been announced in previous issues of The Argonaut. Harold Boyer, of the psychology department will act as tournament referee.

All entries in the contest must be in by noon this Saturday. Two members will be selected from each men's and women's group on the campus. The only stipulation is that they be regularly enrolled in the university.

The tournament is also open to such groups as Tau Mem Aleph, Daleth Teth Gimel, and independent teams. At present Mary Katherine Riley and Marjorie Druding have entered for Gamma Phi Beta and Jane Archbold and Winnifred Galloway for the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. Nearly every group house on the campus have signified their intent to enter the tournament, according to the tournament directors, Frances Hanley and Albert Anderson.

Mitchel System Used
The Mitchell match point system of scoring will be used; in this system each team playing on any one night has the chance to play against every other team. Ordinary contract scoring is used but the north and south scoring; the most points on a given hand played by all of the rest of the teams (playing that hand receives one less point than there are tables playing. These are called match points and the total of match points for one evening determines the winner of the night's play and not the number of game points made.

The entrants will be divided into two groups, one to play on Monday night and one on Thursday. They will play for two weeks and the teams having the greater number of match points will be pitted against each other the third week to determine the winner of the cup which will be awarded by The Argonaut.

MURAL DEBATES WELL UNDER WAY

Negative Teams Will Entertain Opponents and Judge

The first round of intramural debate was run off smoothly according to Bill Wetherall, chairman of intramural debate. Of all the teams debating, only one lost by default, that being the Delta Gamma. The Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi debate was postponed until Tuesday, other than that the results from all teams are listed below.

The subject of debate for the men was, Resolved: The powers of the president should be substantially increased as a settled policy. The women debated upon the subject, Resolved: That Hitler is a benefit to Germany. The results of the debates are as follows:

Men: Phi Delta Theta, aff., defeated Delta Tau Delta, neg., judged by Mr. William C. Banks; Chi Alpha Pi, neg. defeated Lambda Chi Alpha, aff., judged by Prof. William H. Pittman; Sigma Nu, aff., defeated Phi Gamma Delta, neg., judged by Dr. F. C. Church; Delta Chi, neg., defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon, aff., judged by Dean J. F. Messenger; L. D. S., neg., defeated Ridenbaugh hall, judged by Mr. John A. Beckwith. Tau Mem Aleph drew a bye.

Women: Kappa Kappa Gamma, neg., defeated Alpha Chi Omega, aff., judged by John Farquhar; Hays hall, aff., defeated Gamma Phi Beta neg., judged by Claude Marcus; Delta Delta Delta, aff., defeated Alpha Phi, neg., judged by Mr. A. E. Whitehead. Kappa Alpha Theta drew a bye.

Last night Lambda Chi defaulted to Tau Kappa Epsilon in the debate scheduled for those two groups and the Sigma Chis, debating negative, won from the Kappa Sij's. Karl Jeppesen was the judge for the argument.

"Bill Wetherall, in charge of arrangements for the debates, announced the following schedule for the men's groups for next Thursday evening. The women's schedule had not yet been arranged, he said last night.

VANDAL FROSH BEAT COLLEGE

Trounce Coeur d'Alene Junior College By 44 to 10 Count

The Idaho freshman basketball team swamped the Coeur d'Alene Junior college, Tuesday evening in the Elks' gymnasium at Coeur d'Alene. The Idaho Babes won 44 to 10. In their last game, played at Moscow, the frosh won 81 to 26.

Led by the inspired scoring of Larsen and Martin the frosh soon gained a large lead. Scoring but two foul shots in the first half, Coeur d'Alene was behind 33 to 2 as the half ended.

The second half "Red" Jacoby, frosh coach, sent in his substitutes and tried several different combinations. Larsen was high point man with 17 counters. He was closely followed by Martin who accounted for 16.

IDAHO PRESS CLUB PLANS NOVEL BALL

Six "Cubs" Pledged to Publications Group at Bucket Meet

Six "cubs" were pledged to the Idaho Press club at a meeting held at the Blue Bucket last Tuesday evening. Red and Black pledge ribbons were pinned on the following men who have been outstanding in the business and editorial ranks of campus publications: Robert Herick, Wallace; Charles Warner, Ddwain Vincent, and John Lukens, Boise; Al Anderson, Kolog; and Con Frazier, Sandpoint. Editor Raphael Gibbs conducted the pledging ceremonies.

Following the congratulations of the new members the group turned their attention to plans for an all-college dance, the Publications ball, which will be sponsored by the organization and will be given sometime early in May. Members are enthusiastic over the possibilities of such a dance and predict that, though this is the first time such an affair has been tried on the Idaho campus, it should prove to be an unqualified success.

Unusual Features Planned
Many unusual features are planned and displays of well-known need for the dance. Advertising positional advertisers are to be used in decorating the women's gymnasium which as far as can now be determined will be used for the dance.

"We feel that the women's gymnasium is the only hall on the campus which will handle the crowd and lend itself adequately to decoration," said Gibbs today. "We also want to get away from the distortion of music which is always a fault with using the gymnasium and detracts so much from what might otherwise be a good dance."

One of the most interesting and novel of the ideas which are to be incorporated in the Publications ball will be the giving away of free samples of the products of the various advertisers who aid in making the dance a success. Samples of everything from razors for

F E R A Work To Enlarge Seating Capacity

SEATING CAPACITY of the MacLean field bleachers will be increased at least 25 per cent as a result of the most recent improvement project inaugurated on the campus.

The dotted outline at the right indicates the location and extent of the new section of seats to be constructed this spring. A crew of students is shown here leveling the ground for the new footings and foundations to be installed under the present stands. In order to take this picture, the photographer was forced to crawl far out on the roof of the Memorial gymnasium.

Men Tear Hair Trying to Select "I" Club Queen

WHO? That is the question that is predominate in the minds of the "I" club committee for the selection of the "I" club queen.

The committee under the chairmanship of Holden Bowler, met several times and has the list of names boiled down to eight.

The queen will be elected by the club from candidates submitted by the club on March 11. The woman will be a member of the senior class.

The name of the queen will be revealed at the "I" club's Dance and Sport carnival to be held in the Memorial gymnasium following the final game of the state basketball tournament, March 17.

Members of the committee to select the candidates are: Robert Felton, William Sqaunce, Carroll Livingston, Douglas Gordon, and Holden Bowler, chairman.

Idaho Center and High-scorer Picked by A. P. Poll

SEATTLE — Fortified by the greatest of all northern division Pacific coast conference scorers, Bobby Gaeler, and two other unanimous choices, the Associated Press all-star northwest basketball team this season is one of the most outstanding ever selected.

The quintet is a consensus of selections by coaches, officials and sports writers who have seen all the players in action and every list sent to the "AP" for compilation included the name of Howard Grenier of Idaho and Captain Harold Lee and Gaeler of the Washington team.

NAME COMMITTEE TO AID VISITORS

High School Teams Will Be Guests of Group Houses

A committee to take care of the housing and reception of teams in the state high school basketball tournament, to be held in Moscow March 15, 16, and 17, was appointed at the Blue Key meeting held Tuesday evening at the Beta house. Teams will stay in the group houses. "Members of Blue Key hope to give the visitors as favorable an impression as possible of the University of Idaho and will do all in their power to make them feel welcome during their stay on the campus," said Rollin Hunter, president.

The committee appointed is: Allen Severn, chairman; Harold Boyd, Perry Culp, David Kendrick, and Hugh Eldridge. This committee will work in conjunction with a standing committee of the Interfraternity council. Blue Key will also sponsor the ticket sale drive for the tournament.

The possibility of working with the other service groups on the campus in a project of raising funds to send some representative student throughout the northern part of the state to visit high schools was also considered. The original plan was to send a student throughout the whole state, but as the Pep band and Leo Calland are going to tour the southern part of the state, this will not be necessary.

Membership was discussed but pledging will probably not take place until Junior week.

mate at forward, and Bill McDonald, rugged Oregon State checker, gained the fifth spot at guard by close margins. Robertson beat out George Hibbard, Oregon State forward, by two votes, while McDonald had one more than his teammates, Julius Lenchitsky and Capt. Gib Olinger of Oregon, who were tied. Washington State failed to land on the first five.

It is estimated that 13½ billion cords of wood have been used for fuel in the U. S. since 1630.

Riutcel Asks Students to Give Team Support

"Let's finish up with a bang," said Lloyd Riutcel, yell king, referring to the basketball games to be played with W. S. C. tonight and Saturday night.

These two games, winding up the basketball season, will be played at Pullman and at Moscow; tonight in Pullman, Saturday night, here. The game, tonight will not be broadcast over KWSC, so students wanting to help the team end up the season will have to go to Pullman.

"Saturday's game will tell the tale. As it is the last game of the season everyone will want to turn out to see the team put the finishing touches on a very commendable display of basketball. Students will sit in the same arrangement they have in the past," he said.

"Come out and help the team finish up as well as they started. Let's give them everything we've got," declared Riutcel.

IDAHO DEBATERS HAVE WORK AHEAD

Two Men's Teams Will Debate Gonzaga Saturday Afternoon

Idaho and Gonzaga teams will debate Saturday, at 4 o'clock, in Ad 207. Cecil Greathouse and Bill McCrae are debating for Idaho.

They will argue the affirmative side of the question resolved: that the powers of the president should be substantially increased as a settled policy. Students are urged to come as the debate promises to be interesting and worthwhile.

To Spokane Monday
Another team, consisting of William Wetherall and Karl Hobson will debate Gonzaga at Spokane on Monday, March 5. They will debate the same question but on the negative side. Father Lemieux, who is debate coach at Gonzaga university, promises a crowd of 300 people at the contest.

Tuesday, March 6, Hobson and Wetherall go on up to Kellogg. There they will have an informal debate and discussion at the noon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The subject discussed will probably be the NRA.

Perform For Y. M. C. A.
In Kellogg they will hold another discussion Tuesday evening, before a Y. M. C. A. adult study group. The subject for the evening will be the administration's monetary policy.

This is a new style of debating started this year. It is called symposium and involves the presentation of material on the both sides of questions of public interest of the day. It also allows for questions and general discussion by the audience.

On Friday, March 16, University of Washington and Idaho women will argue on commercial advertising. This again will not be in the form of the usual debate, but rather on the order of the symposium. Ethelyn O'Neal, Elizabeth Stuckney, and Mildred Peterson will undertake to defend commercial advertising. Washington is sending five women.

Any more women who are interested in turning out for varsity debate should see Mr. Whitehead, debate coach and head of the speech department, in Ad. 205.

MACLEAN STADIUM TO BE ENLARGED BY FEDERAL WORK

Field Bleachers Also to Be Strengthened by New Foundation

DR. NEALE EXPLAINS

New Construction Made Possible by Latest Federal Improvement Project

Seating facilities of the MacLean field bleachers will be both enlarged and strengthened as a result of the latest federal improvement project on the campus, reports Dr. Mervin G. Neale, president of the university.

Present bleacher seats will be rebuilt entirely, and an entire new section constructed at the southeast corner of the field. Few students realize, Dr. Neale explained, that wooden foundations and footings under the present stands have rotted to such an extent that the whole structure is in danger of collapsing under the weight of a football crowd.

Weakened Structure
"It is the university's good fortune," Dr. Neale said, "to be able to replace the weakened under-structure of the bleachers with lumber and labor provided by the federal government. We were permitted to use part of the university's CWA allotment to buy 55,000 board feet of lumber. This amount not only will be enough for the needed repair work, but will permit us to enlarge the seating capacity as well."

Federal improvement work on the campus is no longer connected with the civil works administration, Dr. Neale added. The university's latest grant from the government comes under the jurisdiction of the FEPA, federal emergency relief administration. The funds available will be used to pay for student labor on the MacLean field project, construction of the pioneer memorial, and completion of miscellaneous campus improvements started with CWA funds.

Started Saturday
Repair work on the MacLean field bleachers started Saturday, with a crew of students tearing out a section of seats. Many of the ladder-like trusses to which the seats are spiked were found buried in a foot of dirt. All excess dirt will be removed so that the foundations will be protected from future decay. In many places heavy timbers have rotted out entirely. Most of the present lumber in the stands will be replaced when the new footings are installed.

The new section to be built later this spring will extend in a curve around the southeast corner of the field, adding greatly to the appearance of that particular bit of the campus. It will be a duplicate of the present general admission section at the north or Memorial gymnasium end of the stadium. When completed, the new seats will extend from the south end of the present seats toward the arboretum, to a point approximately even with the pole to which the loud speakers were attached at football games last fall.

Work of rebuilding the bleachers is under the direction of E. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings, and grounds. Students assigned to the project are under the supervision of Foreman Rudd.

'35s PLAN UNIQUE PARTY MARCH 13

Combination Dance and Bridge Affair at S. A. E. House Will Be for Juniors Only

Something unique in the way of class parties on the Idaho campus is being planned for March 13, when the junior class members will get together at the S. A. E. house for an exclusive combination dancing and card party, according to Earl Bopp, president.

The party will be a strictly no-date affair. Gentlemen will be assessed 25 cents and women will be admitted free of charge.

In addition to dancing and bridge, special entertainment and

A Big Hand For Howard

When the special from South Idaho pulled into the station here in the fall of 1930, a tall, young man stepped off and enrolled in school. Then when basketball season rolled around, he, with a number of other aspiring freshmen athletes, was there for the first call. At the end of the first night's practice, he had clamped on to the pivot position.

"Some day," said fans that year, "there will be one of the best centers in the league. Just a little more coaching, a little more experience, and he'll win a place in the Idaho records of 'immortals.'"

How true those predictions were. Yesterday in the Associated Press reports, Howard Grenier, 6 foot 5 Vandals center from Hammett, was unanimously accorded the center position on the All-Northwest conference team—a fitting tribute to this senior after three years of outstanding playing on Vandal basketball teams. The AP selection isn't all Howard will get. Already he has been selected on several honor teams. "Hec" Edmundson, Washington hoop mentor, named him last week on his mythical team. More selections will undoubtedly include his name.

He's received a coveted honor—one hoped for by every athlete and cherished by those who are fortunate enough to get it. There is one important thing to be done for Howard—probably the most important thing. That can be done by the student body. Tomorrow night Howard will play his last game for Idaho when the Vandals meet Washington State in the last game of the season. When Howard leaves the floor let's show him we appreciate his three year's of excellent playing for Idaho, that he's won a place in the hearts of Idaho basketball followers, and that we're sorry to see him leave the floor for good.

A big hand for Howard—he deserves it!

A Chance For Everyone

A few quite personal letters have been received at the Argonaut office pointing out in words none too pleasant that the Argonaut editorial and feature page is sadly lacking in that sort of copy called "humor."

In part, one writer thought this: "It is the opinion of one who knows nothing about the science of editing a newspaper that the Argonaut would be improved by adding a dash of spice that has been lacking since 'Hawkeye' was unceremoniously quashed a year or so ago. Of course it is true that 'Hawkeye' still functions, but of necessity the spice is so well masked that very few of us can appreciate the 'cracks.'"

Humor columns are hard things to handle, and it is even harder to find good humor columnists. We have realized since the sad death of "Gentleman Jim" that another humor column was needed. Or maybe it shouldn't be a humor column—possibly a more serious column of an entirely different nature is what more of the readers want.

You can't even please some people all the time with humor columns. Some will think what you offer them is "lousy," while others will wonder why you stopped printing this one or that one because they really miss it immensely.

So what? Well, it's up to the students. We are offering everyone a chance—in fact we are asking everyone interested who would care to be a columnist—to try something for our approval. If we get some, and print what we consider to be the best one, then we are begging you to write to "Grims and Gripes" and tell us what you think.

At the Kenworthy—Three young actresses, prominent in stock companies in various parts of the country, make their initial film bow in El Brendel's new comedy, "Olson's Big Moment," starting at the Kenworthy Saturday. They are: Lenita Lane, of Pittsburgh and Washington, D. C.; Merna Pardee, Salt Lake City; and Margaret Brayton, San Francisco. Miss Lane almost landed the lead in "The Worst Woman in Paris?" and hopes still to achieve a lead in a future production. Miss Pardee, a charming blonde actress, already has a promising screen future. Miss Brayton was brought to the attention of the movie moguls thru her work in "Torch Song."

Sophisticated comedy at its best is presented in "By Candlelight," the gay tale of Vienna and Monte Carlo, coming to the Kenworthy Sunday. This sparkling screenplay features Elissa Landi, Paul Lukas, Nils Asther, and Esther Ralston in leading roles, and tells of the complications which ensue when a maid and a butler, servants of the nobility, pretend to each other that they themselves are of royal blood. The philandering habits of Count Von Rommer, employer of the butler, bring about a series of ludicrous situations which keep the servant in continual hot water, though this very fact serves to make matters easier for the trifling master.

At the Vandal—From "Maedchen in Uniform," to Miss Fane's Baby is Stolen," is the screen leap that has been achieved by Dorothy Wick. The film "Miss Fane's Baby is Stolen" starts at the Vandal Sunday. Alice Brady is co-starring with Miss Wick, while Baby LeRoy, Jack LaRue, Alan Hale, and Dorothy Burgess are featured. The story tells in staccato fashion the torture and anguish that comes to a mother when her baby has been kidnaped. Trembling with fear and terror, she enlists the aid of every known branch of the law to help bring his safe return. After an appeal to the nation's mothers, her child is found through the sacrifice and unselfishness of a poverty-stricken farmer's wife.

MUSICAL WIZARDS DIG AT CROONERS

Last year Bing Crosby was paid $200,000 for a type of musical rendering, which, according to Walter Dahroch, "is neither musical or enjoyable." Rudy Vallee himself says that his salaries for 1933 totaled about $375,000. The Boswell sisters "knocked down" a cool $6000 a week during the better part of the year. President Roosevelt, with all the worries of a CCC, NRA, CWA, and other such organizations, received a mere $75,000 for his labors. The philanthropic groups are pleading for donation. Musicians who have studied years to perfect themselves the asking aid from the CWA.

TEARS INFLUENCE CHANGE IN GROOMS

The pleas of a plumber may be strongly convincing, but the tears of a steamfitter are well-nigh irresistible, explained Miss Mary Barnett, when she applied for her second marriage license in thirty days. The first license was to marry Frank Gladych, a plumber. Three weeks later, still unmarried, she obtained a license to wed Steamfitter Douglas McGregor, explaining that her friend Doug had broken into tears while trying to tell her how much he was hurt by her plans to marry Frank.

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM CHOSEN

Only Junior and Freshmen Squads Are Complete; Others to be Selected Next Week

The women's rifle team has been chosen by Lieut. J. W. Sheehy to begin practicing for the tournament between the classes, and also to compete for W.A.A. points.

At present only the junior and freshmen teams are complete and other women will have to be chosen at the end of next week to fill out the senior and sophomore teams.

Senior women who have been chosen are: Ruth Meyers and Rose Meyers; juniors, Maurina Aldecoa, Mary Schleuter, Jean Clough, Mae Pugh, Bertha Wilburn, Anna Sweeley; freshmen: Charlotte Kennedy, Jo Betty Wicks, Leona Peterson, Orene Hardman, Rachel Nelson, Madge Miller, Rema Walters, Anna Brende, Dorothy Rosevare, Arlene Blackwell, Be Jane Fisher; sophomores: Mary Lou Iddings, Lois O'Meara, Carolyn Carnahan, Betty Dahl, Edith Miller.

Members of each team must practice twice a week. Practices may be on Tuesday, Thursday, or Friday.

The University of Nevada freshmen must be able to present Bibles on demand as well as wear their distinguishing caps.

MASCULINE MALES ANNOY OTHER SEX

At the University of California at Los Angeles, men students vexed the lovely ladies of the campus by entering into a week's siege of absolutely male activities. The event was called "Men's Week."

Long beards, cob pipes and old clothes were a feature of the period and at the end of the session prizes were awarded to those who had accomplished various feats. Male students commenting on the new venture realize that the women students did not favor the idea but they had decided that the weaker sex could live secluded for a week. Voicing their opinions, some of the co-eds stated that the idea would tend to prove the "men" on the campus more masculine than they really were. Others say that the idea was absurd and should not have been attempted.

It's O. K. to eat at night. Only be cagey. Don't burden your body with heavy foods. Kellogg's PEP is satisfying... won't interfere with sound sleep at night. PEP releases body-energy without taxing digestion. Made of nourishing wheat. Flaked. Toasted crisp. Plus enough extra bran to be mildly laxative.

PEP is ready to eat. Served in individual packages at the campus lunch or canteen. Delicious with milk or cream.

Eat PEP for breakfast too. Add sliced fruit or honey for variety. Always fresh. Always popular. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GIRLS APPLYING MAY GET WORK

Miss Sweet Urges Women Who Need Work to Apply At Once

"Girls who need work and have not yet applied should do so at once," said Miss Belle Sweet, chairman of the committee allotting CWA work to women. Thirty-two girls are already employed, and more will be given work as soon as the affidavits are signed and returned. The girls are engaged chiefly in doing office work and sewing.

They now receive thirty cents an hour in place of the former wage of fifty cents. The average amount to be earned is fifteen dollars a month. Twenty dollars is the maximum amount that may be earned in that time. Under the renewed CWA project, the number of workers has been reduced more than fifty per cent.

TWO DELEGATES GO TO TACOMA

Moscow will be the meeting place of the International Relations conference next year if the invitation drawn up by the club here and signed by the president is accepted by this year's north-west conference in Tacoma, Wash., March 16 and 17. The invitation will be presented by the delegates Idaho is sending to the convention. Final arrangements for the sending of the delegates, special conference leaders from here, and the visit of Sir Herbert Ames March 12 to 15, will be determined at the 4 o'clock meeting of the club in Ad. 310A today. Jean Clough will lead the discussion on "World Government."

Two of Idaho's delegates will contribute their leadership to the northwest conference, where her chapter, organized last year, will be represented for the first time this spring. Karl Hobson, president of the organization, will be one of the conference speakers, discussing the world economic recovery. Virginia Merrick will represent Idaho at a round table discussion on South American relations.

SEVEN SELECTED BY HELL DIVERS

Out of an extremely large number of aspirants who tried out for membership in the Hell Divers, only seven qualified for the coveted positions. Although the try-outs were held on February 20, the final selections were not announced till last night.

The following were selected from nearly 20 contenders: Donna Sheridan, Jack McKibbin, Norman Roberts, Harvey "Slug" Walker, Fred Hampf, Robert Spence, and Russ Honsowetz.

According to Mary Axtell, president of Hell Divers, the entire organization is now concentrating on a 45-minute period of entertainment to be presented by the club in conjunction with the "I" club sports carnival scheduled for March 17. This carnival is to follow the high school state basketball tournament.

WOMEN'S EDITION MANAGES CONTEST

Recently at the College of Mississippi Valley, the co-eds in editing an edition of the school paper had a contest to pick the prettiest coed, "Miss Southwestern," and the most stylish coed. From the men they picked the best all-around man, the most popular, and the best looking.

The contest was given much publicity and the competition was strong. After the popular ones had been chosen the coed edition published the winners. The story writing up the winners was very humorously and cleverly written up highly lauding the winners. Many of the students put themselves up as candidates and the contest resembled a regular political election.

AG HONORARY PICKS NINE NEW MEMBERS

OREGON STUDENTS ENJOY SHINE DAY

The students at the University of Oregon were recently treated to a novel stunt by the junior class, officiated with brush and paste as the feature of the annual Junior Shine day. Tickets cost a dime a piece and were sold by the feminine members of the class. Each ticket entitled the holder to a shine. Three main stands were situated on the campus and shiners were given by the junior men working in shifts throughout the day. The regular shoe shining stands on the campus were closed for that day in honor of the occasion. A prize of $5 in merchandise was also offered.

At the University of Berlin students are allowed a period of six weeks to analyze and select their professors.

Vandals And Cougars Clash In Final Series To Decide Who Will Occupy Cellar

Fox Figures Outcome 'Toss-up'; Dope Based on Past Tilts Equal

Idaho Won Three Out of Four Last Year; Fisher Is Back in Basketball Togs; First Game at the State College.

By Phil Haring
 Can Coach Jack Friel's Cougars split their four-game series with Rich Fox's Vandals?
 That's the question bothering sports enthusiasts of the Inland Empire as Idaho and W. S. C. tangle this week-end in the final home and home series of the season with a tie for cellar position in the conference as a likely prospect.

If the Cougars take both of the remaining games, which will be necessary to halve the series, Idaho will find herself in undisputed possession of the cellar key. But if Idaho takes both tilts, Washington State will foot the conference percentage column.

Mythical championship of the Inland Empire will also be added to the honors of the team winning both games for the reason that Gonzaga, the third school in the Empire, has been defeated by Vandal and Cougar alike.

SPLIT SERIES WILL KNIGHT TEAMS AT BOTTOM

If the Cougars take their game at Pullman and Idaho cots the one here Saturday night, as will probably be the case, the two clubs will be tied for fourth place in the conference, the position they are sharing now.

Comparing scores of games both schools have played with other clubs in the conference gets one absolutely nowhere. Washington defeated the Cougars and Vandals four straight; Washington State shared honors with O. S. C. in their games, and also managed to break even with Bill Reinharts Oregon cagers. The Cougars dropped two games to the Vandals. Idaho fared as well with Oregon State as did W. S. C., but lost all four games with the University of Oregon.

SPORTS CARNIVAL TO BE AT W. S. C.

Idaho Sending Wrestling, Fencing and Swimming Teams to Pullman

IDAHO WON THREE LAST YEAR

Washington State, enjoying a week's respite from conference battles after meeting Washington at Seattle last weekend, is determined to break even with Idaho. Last year's three defeats out of four still rankle the Cougar's temper and a split series, this year would partly heal the hurt, for in case either team loses both tilts, a comfortable position way down in the cellar is ready for them.

"I figure it's a toss-up," was Coach Rich Fox's comment on the games. "We're expecting a couple of hard ball games and we'll have to be right to win."

Idaho's club, composed to a large extent of sophomores, has been in and out all season. Four defeats by Washington were followed by two wins over Washington State college, then after playing wild ball against Oregon, Grenier and his cohorts came back to dump O. S. C.'s chances of the championship over the side in the last game of their series at Corvallis. With the two heartbreaking Oregon games spoiling Vandal hopes for second place, again the sophomores executed a "right about" to easily defeat the House of David quintet and Gonzaga last week. Fisher, out of the last two Oregon games with a bad ankle, will be back in against Jack Friel's cagers, and will probably start at guard. His steady playing which was missed in the last Oregon series will come in handy.

Grenier, Geraghty, and Klumb are assured of places on the starting lineup tonight, with either Fisher or Iverson at the other guard post. Four men, Naslund, Warner, Katsilmotes, and Herman, are all bidding for the vacant forward berth, with Warner probably having the edge.

VANDAL BUNCH WINS ROUND ONE

A bunch of boys are 'hooping' it up—in Spokane. Wednesday night a Moscow team composed of John Norby, Willis Smith, Pete Wicks, Afton Barrett, Harry Kerr, Earnest Nelson, and Glen Owen won its first round game against the Y. M. D. of Spokane in the Inland Empire basketball tournament.

The final score was 47 to 28, with 'our' boys leading all the way. 'Willie' made lots of yardage but came out on the short end of the score with no baskets or free throws to his credit. Norby and Wicks were high point men with 13 and 15 points respectively.

GRAD IS JUNIOR ENGINEER

Paul E. Werner, civil engineering graduate in '31, was recently appointed junior engineer with the United State Geological survey and will spend the summer in the vicinity of Pocatello working on a topographic survey. He had formerly been office engineer for the United States Coast and Geodetic survey in Idaho.

Greek houses of the University of Southern California are trying to work out a plan of cooperative management in fraternity and sorority houses.

Stratosphere Kid Practices Shots

Hey, wait up—no fair! Look at Bob Houston, Washington State's 215-pound "Stratosphere Kid," snapped in an idle moment. You've heard of eggs being laid, but did you ever see anybody lay a basket? No, the 12 on his jersey doesn't stand for the number of feet tall, for Houston measures only 6 feet, 7 1/2 inches or thereabouts. The little fellow is Don Lynch, Cougar basketball manager, keeping an eye on the pill lest it get lost in the clouds. It's supposed to be a deep secret that the basket was lowered a few feet. This beanpole will be seen in action here tomorrow night in the final game of the season.

Storms Prevent Spring Football Training Outside

"Spring football will be resumed Monday," announces Coach Leo Calland. Bad weather outside and lack of training facilities inside due to basketball practice, has held up practice the past week, but with the end of the basketball season plenty of floor space will be available for inside workouts.

Several more varsity men will report after basketball since Klumb, Cy Geraghty, and Iverson are busy with that sport at the present time. Frosh who will be out after basketball is over are Gwilliams, husky end, and Hall, center on last year's frosh squad.

Until weather conditions are so that outside practice can be resumed, practice will consist largely of chalk talks on the strategy for the game and in getting the boys limbered up for heavy work later on, says Calland.

CALLAND FAVORS ALL RULE CHANGES

Idaho Coach Believes Revisions Will Open Grid 'Game Up'

"I am heartily in favor of all three of the changes in rules," said Head Coach Leo Calland, Vandal grid mentor, when asked about the action of the national football rules committee which met in Atlanta recently. Three sections of the rule book were altered to open up the game, all three changes favoring the offensive play.

Nus lose to the Tau Mem Alephs by score of 12 to 11. Barker, Sigma Nu forward, and Johnson T. M. A. center tied for scoring honors with six each. Vandal officiated the game.

In the first game last Tuesday night, the Fijis defeated the Sigma Chis by a score of 31 to 18. The Sig Chis were held to two points in the first half while their opponents piled up 16 points. The Sig Chis came back in the second half and made 16 points to 15 for the Fijis. Thompson, Fiji guard, carried off the high honors with 12 points. Strachan, Fiji forward, and Berstead, Sig Chi center, tied for second place with six each. Honsowetz officiated the game.

High point honors were taken by Ladle, Ridenbaugh center, with 14 points. Squance, A. T. O. center, and Eddington, Ridenbaugh forward tied for second with nine points each.

The Delta Chis defeated the Betas in the third game Tuesday night 26 to 12. Kleinier, Delta Chi forward, was high point man with nine points. Seatz, Delta Chi guard received second honors with seven points. Willis Smith officiated the last two games.

IDAHO MEN TO FIGHT ON COAST

Idaho will send the cream of her boxing crop, Louis August and Louis Denton, to fight in the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Boxing tournament in Sacramento on March 8 and 9. The two men will leave Monday night and will join the Washington State boxers en route. Denton will be fighting at 149 pounds and August at 129 pounds.

Coach Leo Calland

Washington State is sending eight men—George Theodoratos defending heavyweight champion; Les Hildebrand, 175 pounds; Al Feculus, 165 pounds; Bert Johnson, 155 pounds; Ed Cavanaugh, well known to Idaho fans, 145 pounds; John Curry, 145 pounds; Bud Taylor, 135 pounds; and Pete Johnson at 126 pounds.

passes much more than formerly, when over the line passes were little used. As a result of this the offensive running attack can be much more diversified due to wider spreading of the defense. The abolition of the five yard penalty on a second incomplete pass will likely also open the offense.

Quick Kick Changed

"The change applying to the quick kick will affect Idaho very little if at all," was Calland's comment on that phase of the game. The change consists in allowing a player to hold the ball on a punt until another player has kicked it. With the view in mind of making a better punt, the rule was changed from last year's book requiring the player holding the ball to release it before another player came in contact with it.

"Western clubs have always used the quick kick according to the old rule and at Idaho we will continue to do so," he went on. "The only place where I saw it used according to the new rule was in the exhibitions staged by Harvard and Princeton in the Olympic games two years ago."

Radical changes involving the moving of the goal posts back to the goal line and making the side zones fifteen yards instead of six were rejected by the committee.
