DISCUSSES POLITICS Will Address American Govern- ment and Money and Bank- ing Classes Tomorrow

Sir Herbert Ames, "first world treasurer," speaking on "The Great Reconciliation and Its Aftermath" at an assembly at 11 o'clock in the auditorium this morning will continue the series of three lectures to be completed on his three-day visit here with the topic, "The Role of the Little Entente in Present Day European Politics" in the L. D. S. Chapel at 4:15 this afternoon.

A talk on the "Problem of the Polish Corridor" to be delivered at his farewell banquet Wednesday evening at 6:15 p. m. will complete the series. Sir Herbert is a guest speaker sent by the Carnegie foundation under the sponsorship of the national and local international relations clubs.

The relations between France and Germany from the signing of the peace treaties to the present time was explained by Sir Herbert Ames, who will speak to two classes tomorrow, he will discuss the reason for Canada's freedom from bank failures before Dean R. H. Farmer's money and banking class and the reasons for Germany's withdrawal from the league before Dean T. S. Kerr's American government class.

Sell Tickets
Tickets for the banquet may be obtained at 50 cents each at Hodgins or the Blue Bucket or from Virginia Merrick, Karl Hobson, Jean Clough, or Dean J. G. Eldridge.

Bill Ames' string trio will play in the short musical program to supplement toasts by Virginia Merrick, toastmistress, Karl Hobson, president, and Dean Eldridge, club sponsor.

Arriving in Moscow yesterday afternoon, the league treasurer was welcomed by a reception tea gathering of members of the International Relations club, delegates from the high school club, and special guests. His experience as first financial director of the League of Nations secretariat were described by him on the sun porch of the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

"Although the difficulties of establishing a budget on the scanty funds that could be extracted from the nations were great, I have never spent a more interesting seven years in my life," he declared.

PECULIAR NAMES REVEALED

The latest University of California student directory reveals the names of students who probably have a very hard time in getting coupons big enough to hold their names in registering. These students have the terrifying monikers of Morvith Joyce St. Clair McQueen-Williams, '31, and Mohammed Monir El Zalaki, '34. They possess the longest names out of some 16,000 persons connected with the university. Their closest rivals are named Konstantinovich Arseny Hrenoff, and Olypiada Michailovna Osetinsky.

Trelawny of the Wells Scores Hit Both Nights

By Nina Varian
"Trelawny of the Wells," presented by the university players under the direction of Fred C. Blanchard last Friday and Saturday nights caused a great deal of varied comment among the students and townspeople, with those who particularly interest themselves in stage and theater lavishly in their praise and enthusiasm.

Trelawny from almost every angle, is the most difficult production ever given here, and in view of that fact, its production was distinctly one of the most successful. Mr. Blanchard, working under great handicaps with the scenery and costumes, had also the problems attendant on a type of vehicle foreign to actors and audience alike.

Under his direction it was a delightful and entertaining play. Careful and elaborate costuming and effective sets lent a great deal to the charm of the play and were entirely in keeping with the type of acting. The gestures, attitudes, and speech of the actors, in the same style as the lines and business of a 75-year-old play, formed a consistent and interesting whole that created with remarkable accuracy the atmosphere of the the-

FATHOMETER CAN MEASURE DEPTHS

The University of Washington oceanographic department has developed a new instrument that measures the depth of the sea very accurately, called the fathometer. It is attached to the bottom of the ship which wants to record the depths that it passes over. The device measures the length of time a sound travels to the bottom of the sea and back by means of a metal plate struck 18 times a minute by an electrically driven hammer. A microphone catches the sound and automatically records the depth noted.

IDAHO RIFLE TEAM CHAMPION OF CORP

Vernon Nelson Holds Range
Record with 390
Points

The undefeated University of Idaho rifle team added the championship of the 9th corps area to its impressive list of laurels this year, according to word received from the 9th corps area headquarters at San Francisco, March 9.

The undefeated marksman nosed out the University of Washington by one point to win their first victory over Washington since competitive rifle marksmanship was introduced. Idaho scored 3753 points out of a possible 4000. Oregon was third with 3738, Washington State fourth with 3722, and U. C. L. A. fifth with 3705 points. The five high teams from the 9th corps area, comprising the western states, will shoot in the national intercollegiate matches this spring.

Idaho's rifle team, under the instruction of Captain W. A. Hale, has won 25 straight matches this year, after winning 35 out of 36 last season. Vernon Nelson, Troy senior on the squad, holds the Idaho range record with 390 out of 400 points.

The Idaho team is composed of: Vernon Nelson, Gene Huteball, Lewis Enslin, Bob Burnett, Bob Moser, John Crowe, Don Ridings, Bob Ames, Ralph Morgan, and Branch Walker.

MILLER SERVICES ARE IMPRESSIVE

Held in University Auditorium
Friday; Foresters Are Palbearers

With the university auditorium, the focus of college life, serving as a chapel for a day, funeral services were held for Dean Francis Garner Miller Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The auditorium stage was banked high with flowers, many prepared with a forestry background.

An impressive procession escorted the casket into the auditorium, while senior R. O. T. C. officers in uniform stood at attention along the aisle. The honorary pallbearers, headed by Dr. M. G. Neale, and marshalled by General E. R. Christian, consisted of the university deans, including: Ivan C. Crawford, John W. Finch, James F. Mesenger, J. Glover Eldridge, Thomas S. Kerr, E. J. Iddings, Ralph H. Farmer, and William E. Master-son.

POMONA STUDENTS SEE SMALL BOOK

Pomona college students were afforded the opportunity of seeing the smallest book in the world recently, through the courtesy of a Claremont bookstore. The volume consists of forty-six quatrains from the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam. Its demensions measure three-thirtyeighths of an inch by six-sixteenths.

BULLETIN
Classes have been suspended at the Southern Branch until buildings damaged by the earthquake that rocked northern Utah and southern Idaho yesterday morning can be checked to see if they are safe for occupancy. The branch gymnasium was probably damaged the most, and may be condemned.

served as active pallbearers. They were: Aubrey Arthurs, Rudolph Benson, Charles R. Crawford, William S. Gaffney, George Lloyd Hayes, James Wilbur Jay, J. Hugo Kraemer, Bryce Ledford, Maurice W. March, John J. McNair, Robert Ople, John W. Parker, Clarence Stilwell, and William L. Towns. Playing tribute to Dean Miller, Dr. C. D. Wells said that "though the man is gone, his work will always live on." Reading an obituary of the forester, Doctor Wells followed the life of the dean from his birth in Lanark, Ill., June 2, 1866, to the taking up of his final task as dean of the forestry school here.

Many out of town friends of the Millers and alumni from all sections of the Inland Empire were present at the services.

BLUE BUCKET TO HAVE NOVEL IDEA

Will Feature Pep Band Exclusively; Writers Are Contributors

"The special Pep Band issue of the Blue Bucket will be out the first of next week prior to the Pep Band show," says Art Hagen, editor. "It's going to be a good one."

This issue will feature the Pep band and its members, and comes just before the Pep Band show and the band's state-wide tour. Among the band features will be humorous pictures of band members, sidelights of the history and organization of the band, and short anecdotes on the present members of the band.

"The cover, also featuring the Pep band, is even better than the last one," says Editor Hagen, "and is done by the same artist in Spokane."

SERVICE GROUPS WILL SELL TICKETS FOR TOURNAMENT

Blue Key and Cardinal Key
Will Conduct Sales
Campaign

TICKETS ARE 75 CENTS
Chamber of Commerce Assists in Sales to Townsmen Over
Week End

Representatives of Blue Key men's service organization, with the help of Cardinal Key, women's service organization, will undertake the sale of the high school basketball tournament tickets in the different group houses on the campus. Season tickets are 75 cents. This includes ten games. Four games will be held Thursday and Friday, and two Saturday. Students not living in group houses may get their tickets from a table in the hall of the Administration building, starting Thursday morning. The sale of the tickets is under the direction of David Kendrick, chairman of the Blue Key committee handling the campus sales.

Meet Townmen
Different members of Blue Key met with a chamber of commerce committee composed of: Clyde Hunter, R. B. Ward, Mark Moore, Lee Gregory. Each member is covering a different section of town. Blue Key is doing everything possible to take care of the visitors. They will meet the various teams that come and will give them necessary information and direct them to the houses where they are to stay.

Advices Blue Key
During a luncheon held at the Blue Bucket Inn at noon March 12, "Cap" Horton, graduate manager and faculty advisor, instructed Blue Key in some of the things they might do to cooperate. "I wish to congratulate the entire group," Cap Horton stated, "on their work this year, with the excellent cooperation of the university." "The Homecoming project was one of the best ever undertaken by a service organization on this campus," the graduate manager concluded.

OH THE BIG PARTY, SHOUT ALL JUNIORS

Party at S. A. E. House Tonight Will Start at 8:15.

Everything is in readiness at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter house for the Junior party which will take place there tonight. Juniors will gather at the house at 8:15 p. m. for the first all-class party to be given at Idaho for some years.

Robert Moser, chairman of the party committee, reports that the ticket sale has been good and those members of the class who have not obtained their tickets may do so at the party.

Late Permissions
Women attending the party will have late permission. The party will be over at 10:30 p. m. The party will be a "no date" affair and all men and women are urged to attend the function to show their support for a "grand and glorious Junior week."

Committee appointments for Junior week will be made in the Argonaut Friday according to Earl Bopp, president of the class. The theme of the week will be decided after committees have been appointed, Bopp declared.

Entertainment at the party will consist of dancing and bridge.

LOST—Baritone music for the Pep Band show. Please return to Dick Edwards at Beta house, or call 2376.

Dock Hogue has written another delightful short story for this issue, and several anonymous articles of high merit have been turned in, showing that increased interest is being aroused in the publication. Comments on current campus and national events by Paris Martin will also be a feature of this issue.

Southern branch students have made a real contribution this time in the form of several articles and illustrations for a section devoted to the Southern branch.

It is possible that a supply of these Buckets will be taken with the Pep band on their South Idaho tour to be used as souvenirs of the Pep Band show. "This issue would make a fine memory book of the band's appearance, and would also aid in advertising the university," was Editor Hagen's comment.

Fifty-Five Gems Remain Unsold at Lowered Price

There are still 55 copies of the Gem of the Mountains left which have not been reserved. Those who wish to order one of these copies may do so by signing on the list on the bulletin board in the Ad building or seeing James Kalbus or Frank Bevington. The price is now $4.25 and it may be transferred to the student's general deposit. All orders should be made promptly while there are still some year books left.

CRIMINAL BEETLE SOUGHT IN OREGON

Entomologists at the Oregon Agricultural experiment station are looking for Bruchus brachialis and hoping they will not find him. He is a small, dark complexioned foreigner with an even darker record. Officials let him slip past them into New Jersey in the summer of 1931. Bruchus brachialis has six legs and two feelers and looks quite a bit like many other beetles. The entomologist, when he does not want to be too technical, designates him as the hairy-vech bruchid. His home for many years has been in south and central Europe and part of Asia Minor.

RECITAL DISPLAYS STUDENT TALENT

Pupils of Clark, Little, Fredrickson, Claus and Cummings Presented

An excellently chosen student recital was presented by the music department Sunday, March 11 in the university auditorium. Pupils of Miss Isabel Clark, Miss Mqriam Little, Miss Dorothy Fredericksen, Prof. Carl Claus, and Prof. Carleton Cummings highly complimented their teachers by their renditions.

The opening number, a highlight of the program, was "Theme and Variations" by Paderewski played by Delsa Crowley '37. "Little Bsy Blue" by Joyce and "Morning by Oley Speaks were sung by Bertha Wilburn accompanied by Rosella Rosecranz. Jessie Keeney, cellist, played "Slumbersong" by Schumann. She was accompanied by Gertrude Gehrke. Jude's "The Mighty Deep" was sung by Jenkin Palmer. Marie Schneider played "Prelude" and "Etude" both from Chopin. "The Last Rose of Summer" (Martha) by Flotow and "If Thou Didst Love Me" by L. Denza were sung by Dorothy Brown. She was accompanied by Lillian Sorenson.

Present Violinist
An outstanding number of the program was a violin solo by Arnold Westerlund. Accompanied by Rosella Rosecranz, he played "Aria in E" by Nicolo Porpora. Helen Klenholz sang two songs, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters" by Cadman and "Apuana" by Vene. The concluding number of the recital was "Variations Serieuses" by Mendelssohn and played by Harriet Norris.

The hope has been expressed by Carleton Cummings that in the future more students will be able to attend the recitals. In many institutions, attending vesper services is very fashionable. Recitals such as given Sunday are very worthwhile and people are missing wonderful opportunities to enjoy splendid music, Mr. Cummings said.

PROGRESS MARKS SHOW REHEARSALS

Ames Is Enthusiastic; Show
Is Scheduled for March
22 and 23

"The work on the 1934 Pep Band show to be presented March 22 and 23 in the University auditorium is progressing with rapidity and smoothness," said Bill Ames, Pep band leader yesterday. "Everyone is doing all he can to make the show a success and it is my hope and belief that this performance will be very worthwhile."

One of the outstanding features of the show and a thing that is new to Pep Band shows on this campus is the double piano duet in which four pianists play selected arrangements on two pianos. The performers in this act are: Morrey O'Donnell, Richard Stanton, Bob Campbell, and Lloyd Whitlock.

Present String Quartet
In the second part of the same act a special medley of Russian numbers has been arranged for a string quartet composed of Raymond Vaught, Wendell Olsen, Dick Edwards, and Bill Ames.

Another of Bob Campbell's arrangements, entitled "Wistful and Blue," is being rehearsed. By special arrangement with the publishers, the march "Franklin D. Roosevelt," composed by William H. Woodin, former secretary of the treasury, will be presented in the last act.

WANT TO OUST ECON COURSE

A group of graduating seniors at the University of California majoring in economics, recently declared their intention of starting a campaign to do away with an economic course that was required before they could graduate. The name of the course was economics 140, a "pipe" course labeled statistics.

"Many of us do well in our other work," said a committee of four anonymous students, "but not being mathematically inclined, are not able to give anything or get anything from the statistics course."

Threats of issuing a petition demanding that economics 140 be made optional rather than compulsory were made by the committee of four who were the ringleaders of the mutiny. They refused to disclose their identity, fearful of the wrath of the statistics department.

Mrs. Margaret S. Crumly, Boise, who is head of the nursery FERA work in the state, was a house guest of Delta Delta Delta during the past week.

Evans Returns From National Kappa Delta Pi Convention

"In the past every business depression has been followed by a subsequent educational expansion." This statement was made at the convention of the Educational Society, Kappa Delta Pi, by Dr. C. Bagley, well known psychology writer. Idaho was represented at this convention by Carl Evans, senior in the School of Education. It was a bi-annual convention met in conjunction with the department of superintendents of the National Educational association. Out of the 10,000 that attended the convention, one hundred of them were delegates from the Kappa Delta Pi society.

Discuss Problems
Besides the discussion of the chapter's activities and problems several speeches were given by well-known authorities in the educational world. Dr. Mary E. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke college in Vermont, gave a lecture on "Internationalism, Its Present and Future." Speeches were also given by Dr. T. C. McCracken, Dean of the School of Education at the University of Ohio, Dr. R. J. Walters, University of Denver, Dr. Alfred L. Hall-Quest, University of New York, and Dr. Florence B. Stratemeyer from the Teachers' college at Columbia university.

Not A Cry For Help--- Cooperation

Next Saturday night a new type of entertainment will make its debut to the students of the University of Idaho—a combination of sports, music, and dancing—which is sponsored by the "I" club.

The lettermen are fast gaining the reputation as a service organization to the university. It was partly through their efforts that the "Repeat 1903" theme was enforced and carried out last fall during Homecoming. They are the men that really made the failure of raising a beard hazardous.

Now the club has undertaken the task of staging a new type of entertainment for university students. A Sports Carnival and Sports Dance, absolutely new, and presented at a time when the campus will be hosts to many high school students—when would be a better time to stage a carnival? The carnival will not only enlighten high school students, but it will bring sports to the eyes of university students who never enter the gymnasium only when some particular event is taking place.

The carnival and dance will not only provide entertainment for the prep school boys and girls, but it will instill in their minds a bit of advertising that will be taken home to parents, who really tell Johnny and Mary where they will get their higher education. The well impressed high school student is worth more than thousands of catalogs and bulletins that the university may send out in the course of a year.

The lettermen are undertaking a tremendous task in presenting the carnival, but one important item that they cannot control is support and cooperation by members of the student body. These high school boys many of them, will be visiting the university for the first time, and it is up to the students to see that they are at home and that they are shown a good time. First impressions are lasting!

It will be admitted by the majority of students that the lettermen are undertaking a real task, and the best method of displaying appreciation is cooperation. The "I" club cannot do it all!

The University of Washington Daily has entered right in to the mayoralty race in Seattle with a straw ballot printed in a recent issue of the newspaper. In case you haven't been following the papers the race is between two gentlemen of the Puget Sound city who are stirring up quite a bit of excitement over the coming elections of that city. The two candidates are John F. Dore the present incumbent, and Charles E. Smith. The students of the university were asked by means of the ballot to express their views on whether they wanted Mayor Dore and lower taxes or Smith and a general city house cleaning.

While speaking of the Washington institution we might mention the fact that according to a recent issue of the Daily, Max Miller, the author of "I Cover the Waterfront" and an ex-Daily editor returned to the campus for a short stay last Saturday.

He has written three books that have become best-sellers within the last two years and has been employed in Hollywood writing scenarios. While in Seattle he spoke at the annual founders day banquet of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and before a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary.

A point system is being used at Whitman college to limit the number of activities in which a student may participate. The purposes of the plan are to limit the burden upon the individual student and to distribute the honors and responsibilities of the college community as widely as possible. Administration and interpretation of the point system is placed in the hands of the registrar.

At the Kenworthy—The appearance together in a picture of Joan Crawford and Clark Gable is an unmistakable sign of screen entertainment above the ordinary run. The popular pair are again seen opposite each other in "Dancing Lady" now playing at the Kenworthy. Miss Crawford starts out as a cheap burlesque chorine and ultimately ends up with her name in bright lights on Broadway, and has a part which gives her every opportunity for dancing and singing. Gable is the musical comedy director who at first considers the pushing Miss Crawford as the biggest of all his chorines, but is eventually brought to realize that there is more to the girl than a striking figure and particularly adept dancing legs. In the cast are Franchot Tone, May Robson, Winnie Lightner, and Fred Astaire.

At the Vandal—The story of "The Thundering Herd" now playing at the Vandal, is the romance between Randolph Scott, stage coach driver in the heart of the buffalo country, and Judith Allen, step-daughter of Noah Beery, chief of a band of buffalo-hide thieves. Scott is wounded while attempting to steal Judith away from her home, and is taken to the camp of his friends, Raymond Hutton and Harry Carey, famous buffalo hunters. In the meantime Judith, escaping from the bandits' camp is caught in a buffalo stampede and is rescued by Scott. The couple save the old buffalo hunters from the Indians, and the two old cronies relent and give their blessings on the forthcoming wedding which they had formerly opposed because of their hatred for Beery.

What, No More Newspapers But Short Wave Fasciniles

With in the next 10 years, the old habit of propping your morning newspaper up in front of you to read while you are eating your breakfast will be antique. Acting Dean J. H. Johnson of the College of Engineering has gone so far as to predict that in the future there will be no such thing as an early morning newspaper. In its place, however, you will find hanging out of your radio in some manner a nicely written account of all the up to the minute news. This will be done with a curious little gadget put in your loud speaker. This gadget will cost around $25.

Radio Papers
To begin with the RCA company is making an interesting series of experiments on short waves between American cities, destined to have a wide future influence on American life. The possibility of sending manuscripts, messages, sketches, diagrams, music, etc., by facsimile opens attractive possibilities for the public.

But above all this direct move-into commercial facsimile fore-shadows the coming of facsimile broadcasts of public matter direct to homes, using existing broadcast receivers and the present broadcast channels and transmitters which now stand idle from 1 to 6 a. m.

News at Night
In other words during the night, broadcasting stations and your radio receiving set will be recording world news and other prominent events to be delivered to you the minute your alarm clock goes off in the morning.

It is predicted that when this is put to use it will do away with the controversy between the radio and the press because of the radio stealing the news from the press organizations. The reason for predicting this is that it will take the cooperation of both the newspapers, press associations, and the radio and will bring in revenue and income for all three. It will also open up new channels for the journalist, broadcaster, and other men connected with the industries.

"I" Club Show

High School Boys Guests
All high school athletes will be guests of the club at the carnival and dance. The club will make it a point to see that the visitors are well entertained during the evening.

Ticket sales have been good according to Nels Fowles, chairman of the ticket committee. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the "I" club or from some member of the group houses. The tickets are selling fast and if the demand keeps up at the present high rate, they will be sold out before Saturday.

The climaxing event of the carnival will be the presentation of the "I" queen at 11:15 p. m., just before the close of the carnival. The men met Sunday morning and selected the queen, but her identity will be kept secret until the night of the carnival.

"All committees are working hard," said Orville Schmitz, president of the club, Thursday evening, "and the entire club is confident that the carnival will present an evening of entertainment that will be new and interesting to students, townspeople, and guests."

Grins and Gripes

To the Editor

So Now It's Attention Lawyers!

The days of youth are the ones in which high ideals and straight forwardness should prevail. College days are not excepted.

Such, we sorrowfully notice, is not the case with you. This is adequately illustrated by your communication to the AGS published in the last issue of the Argonaut. This communication shows that you are rapidly developing into a mob of SHYSTERS.

You are to be congratulated, however, upon your foresight and SHYSTER methods in having published, to avoid another beating, the false report last year; but why, after having falsified once, continue to do so. Why not wait until you have finished college to evade the truth. Then you can receive remuneration for your efforts by defrauding the public of its hard-earned money.

The fact of the matter is this; you are attempting to destroy a tradition of long standing (The AG-LAWYER basketball game) because you lack that intestinal fortitude commonly known as "guts." Your efforts to date have resulted in creating only a slightly odorous situation, but, if carried too far, you should realize that those who may follow in your footsteps will find it about as easy to extract sunbeams from cucumbers as to live down this lack of manhood.

As we stated in our previous communication to the Argonaut, the students of the university, with the exception of the lawyers, are eagerly anticipating the thorough drubbing of the lawyers by the AGS.

Five thousand New England high school students recognized and identified the name of Al Capone, and 45 per cent of the group failed to recognize Charles Evans Hughes as Chief Justice of the United States, according to a survey conducted by a committee of representatives of the New England Association of School superintendents and of Boston university. Capone was the only one in a list of "thirty leaders of the current times" which every student was able to identify.

Vandal Boxers and Wrestlers Win High Pacific Coast Honors Over Weekend

Nampa and Pocatello Open State Basketball Tourney

Rexburg, Moscow, Salmon City, Culdesac, Bonners Ferry, Paul, Nampa, and Pocatello Are Teams Entered for Championship

Nampa and Pocatello high schools will open the 1934 state basketball tournament in the first game at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. All arrangements for the tournament have been completed and Coach Leo B. Calland, directing the tourney, expects the affair to run smoothly and as scheduled.

The tournament is a single elimination affair, and has been scheduled to run over three days, March 15, 16, and 17. No team will play more than once each day. Thursday four first round games will be played; Friday the championship and consolation semi-finals will be played off; and Saturday night the consolation round and Idaho state championships will be settled.

Ten Games
 There will be ten games in all, four on the first two afternoons, and two each night of the tourney. Reserved seat tickets for the entire tournament are $2.00. Single admissions, unreserved, good for two games any afternoon or evening, will be 40 cents for townpeople and 25 cents for students.

Student tickets for the whole tourney will be 75 cents each. The schedule for the opening day:

Nampa vs. Pocatello, 3:00
 Paul vs. Bonners Ferry, 4:00
 Culdesac vs. Salmon City, 7:30
 Madison high vs. Moscow, 8:30
 Friday afternoon the losers of the Thursday afternoon games will play at 3 o'clock, and at 4 o'clock the losers of the Thursday night games will meet. At 7:30 Friday night the winners of the Thursday afternoon games will play, and at 8:30 the winners of the Thursday night games tangle.

The teams will be quartered at campus fraternity houses. The teams will be divided among the fraternity houses as follows: Nampa, Phi Gamma Delta, and Phi Delta Theta; Salmon City, Kappa Sigma and Delta Chi; Pocatello, Chi Alpha Pi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Bonners Ferry, Sigma Chi and Delta Tau Delta; Madison high, Rexburg, Alpha Tau Omega and Tau Kappa Epsilon; Paul and Culdesac teams will be divided among Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, and Lambda Chi Alpha.

PAUL, IDAHO TEAM MAY BE DARKHORSE

Is Small Town, But Squad Comes from Behind to Beat Burley.

Interest of state tournament fans in Moscow is now focused on the team from Paul, Idaho, the tourney entrant from the South Central basketball district. A town of 350 people, Paul is located five miles north of Burley where the district tournament was played.

Paul is a class "B" team and with Culdesac will enter the tourney against six class "A" teams. The class "A" tournament was won by Burley for that district which is one of the largest in the state and includes Twin Falls.

Paul, coached by A. V. Corliss, has a high school of 106 students, but in spite of its size the school is now being looked upon as the potential "dark horse" of the tournament. During the regular season the Paul team won 9 out of 13 games from both "A" and "B" opponents. In the sub-district tourney, they won four straight games and in the "B" tourney won five straight to undisputedly win the "B" title of the district. In the playoff with Burley, whom they had defeated once before, Paul won, 25 to 24.

The team has been gradually improving all season according to reports from that section, and defeated each team much worse the second time they played them in the tournaments.

VANDAL TRACKMEN UNLIMBER AT W S C

Vandal trackmen got their first taste of competition last Saturday when a few of them went to Pullman and worked out with the Cougars in the W. S. C. field house. Outstanding performances were turned in by Bob Newhouse, who cleared 12 feet in the pole vault by a big margin to take Idaho's only first place, and Ap Berg, premier Vandal shot putter, who set a new unofficial Idaho record with a toss of 47 feet, 3 inches. This mark surpasses the one he set in the Montana meet last year by over 14 inches.

Coach Otto Anderson expressed himself as being well pleased with the showing of his charges in their first informal meet.

Skiles, Leatham Are Mat Champs

Win Bouts in Triangular Minor Sports Tourney at Seattle

Northern division wrestling honors were garnered by two Vandal matmen in the minor sports carnival held at the University of Washington, March 10, between Washington, W. S. C., and Idaho. Stan Skiles took the honors in the 135-pound class, and Earl Leatham won a decision over Smith of Washington State.

Two more Idaho wrestlers, Kermit Woodward and Ronald Wilson, were defeated in the final round Saturday night after winning their semi-finals in the afternoon. Paul Berg and Jack Barbee were eliminated in their first round matches. With only six men on the squad Idaho gathered 18 points, while W. S. C. and Washington, each with eight men on the squad, made 19 and 30 points apiece; Washington won the event.

In the swimming division the Vandals took three fourth places. Bob Herman placed fourth in the backstrokes, Alec Morgan fourth in the dives, and Bill Wood in the 50-yard free style. Jack Medina, sensational university of Washington swimming star, came through to an easy first in this event. Medina recently broke the world record set by Buster Crabbe for the 1500-meter race.

Idaho fencers competing in the three-way sport carnival failed to place.

ernoon for the latter is a handicap that will be tough to overcome.

Coach Fox is starting his practice sessions off every afternoon with a chalk-talk on the fundamentals of the national pastime. He welcomes visitors who would like to pick up for their own information some of the finer points of the game.

NOTICE!!
 There will be no classes in Sophomore and Freshman physical education beginning Wednesday morning. No equipment will be issued from the supply room.

RICH SMILES AS OLD SOL DOES HIS STUFF

Gets Boys Outside Earliest Yet; Third Base Is Big Problem

"If this is the big bad month of March, give me more of it!" quoth the optimistic Rich Fox yesterday afternoon as he hustled his thirty odd horsehide chasers over the dry diamond and turf of MacLean field.

Accustomed to seefing mud and slush adorning his ball orchard until late into April, the Idaho head man announced with a grin, that this season he has his boys out earlier than any year since he's been here.

Lots of Pepper
 And how the boys were hustling! They were displaying more pepper than a cayenne salesman. The outfielders were pulling down some nice long ones; chuckers were feeding 'em up to hitters at the plate; and infielders were flipping the pill around sacks with mid-season smoothness if not speed—gotta be careful of those arms. Senior manager Clement March even had his recruits joining in on the activity before and after practice, smoothing out the rough spots in the infield.

In spite of the rosy weather, Coach Fox has something to worry about, and it's a real worry. The big problem right now is that third base post. If he can solve that, the Idaho mentor thinks he has the prospects for as successful a season as the Vandals have enjoyed for some time. Sadie Sather left a real hole in the left corner of the diamond, and the prospects on hand to fill his place will need a lot of grooming to complete a smooth infield combination.

Likely Soph Chickers
 Barney Anderson, Henry Ziminski, and Les Holmes, all new-comers to the Idaho roster, worked out at third base last night, and one of these men may get the call for the first nine.

The other place that is causing Rich a gray hair or two is the mound. With only one letterman back from last year to do the heavy chugging, some new pitchers will have to be developed, but Fox has already found at least two who are almost sure to solve his problem. They are Jerry Brubaker, hurler from last season's frosh nine, and Glen Naslund, a portside who is fresh from a forward post on the varsity basketball team.

Heading the list of catchers is Mac McNealy, two-year veteran who led his teammates in hitting last year as well as being a top-notch receiver. Chick Wilson and Joe Wheeler, husky football linemen, are the other aspirants.

Right now it looks as if the other three infield positions will be pretty well taken care of with Les Albee holding down the initial sack, Bobby Leute, a transfer from the Southern branch at second, and Wally Geraghty, another sophomore basketballer out for some more athletic activity, at short stop.

Fielders at the present time are: Cy Geraghty, a two-year veteran, Bill Katsilometes, another Southern branch transfer, and Paul Anderson and Bill Kleiner, one-year vets. Classes from 4 to 5 every aft-cause at the Intercollegiate tournament held in Sacramento last Thursday and Friday. August reached the championship bout in the 135-pound class, but lost to Bud Taylor, veteran W. S. C. fighter. The California Aggies won the team championship by taking three weight division titles and scoring 26 points.

To win the title, Denton surpassed a field of 10 of the best 145-pounders in Pacific Coast college circles. On Thursday night he defeated Leslie Lantz of California Aggies. The next night he out-slugged the lanky Durwood Burkett of U. C. L. A. to reach the finals, and an hour later won the welterweight title by out-pointing Bill Flynn, San Francisco university boxer.

August Reaches Finals
 August won a runner-up medal with wins over Mark Mullin of U.

C. L. A. and Richard Westdahl of the University of California, but lost on a technical knockout to Taylor of W. S. C. The referee stopped the fight between the first and second rounds when August's seconds forgot to work on him after a knockdown as the round ended.

Flight fans were turned away from the doors of the big municipal auditorium in Sacramento where the bouts were held. Coast papers described the bouts as the "fastest, fiercest, and finest ever presented here in the history of the college tournament." The success of the tourney from the standpoint of the fans was due to the spirit with which the boxers went into the slugfests, according to the California sports writers. The Idaho fighters had a lot to do with this. To quote one:

Fans Liked Denton's Style
 "There was no best bout of the meet, but the two scraps put on by Smiling Louie Denton of Idaho were among the outstanding exhibitions...Denton's partner from Idaho, Louie August, also helped the show along by winning a wild affair from Dick Westdahl of California. The Bear boxer was plenty good; but August was just too good. Westdahl spent the night in the hospital with a slight concussion."

Taylor and Denton were the only title-winners from the Northwest. Included on Washington State's 8-man team were Ed Cavanaugh and Bert Johnson, who have met Denton on several occasions during the past year but had to fight in the 155-pound class in the intercollegiate matches.

The drawing card of the tourney was Lammie Theodoratos, 240-pound W. S. C. football player, who won the title last year by knocking out the national champion, but lost this year to the leftjabbing of Jim Castle, California heavyweight. These two will meet in a boxing card at Pullman March 23, when California sends a team to engage the Cougar boxers.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Delta Chis Play T. M. A. in Intramural Finals

The final game for the intramural championship between Delta Chi and Tau Mem Alept, winners of their respective leagues, will be an added attraction on the program of the state high school basketball tournament, according to tentative plans of Ap Berg, intramural manager.

Delta Chi won the right to represent B league last night by trouncing Kappa Sigma 34 to 14. Kilne led the scoring with 12 points.

Sunday afternoon, T. M. A. eliminated the Deltas from the running in A league, and kept up their hard playing to win the league championship from Ridenbaugh hall last night in a close game, 20 to 18. Johnson and Jensen led the scoring for the winners with six points each.

The sale of exclusive broadcast rights for all games played in the Memorial stadium this season, will net the Associated Students of the University of California 10,000 dollars, which will be turned over to the A.S.U.C. general fund.

And the early days of Harvard students brought their own cutlery to the dining hall, and the custom was to stick the knife and fork under the table, to hang until the next meal.

Beer and football must not mix, is the opinion of University of Minnesota officials who refused to sanction radio broadcasts of Minnesota football games. If sponsored by brewery concerns.
