

PEP BAND LEAVES FOR SOUTH IDAHO AFTER VACATION

Plan to Give Full Program in All Major Cities On Tour

FIRST STOP PAYETTE

Purpose of Trip Is to Contact Prospective University Students

Immediately following spring vacation the Idaho Pep Band will leave on their good will trip through southern Idaho.

"We have planned our trip," said Bill Ames, leader, "so that we may give a full program in the major cities of the southern part of the state and in that way give the audience an insight on the school."

The band will play their first program in Payette on April 11. From there they will go to Boise where they will play the following night. From this point they will go on throughout the southern part of the state ending up in Buhl where they will present their final concert April 20.

Present Short Assemblies

In some of the schools and towns where time is limited, the band will present short assemblies. This will give the students of the smaller communities a chance to hear the organization and to hear a few things about the school.

The complete itinerary of this trip follows: April 11, Payette; April 12, Boise; April 13, Jerome; April 14, Burley; April 16, Rexburg; April 18, Pocatello; April 19, Twin Falls; April 20, Buhl.

April 17 is still an open date and it has not yet been decided in who town the band will appear.

"The members of the band believe that this is the best way possible to advertise the University of Idaho, and you may rely upon it that the band will do everything in its power to sell the school to graduating high school students. The boys all want the trip to be a success, because for some of them it will be their last chance of representing the university," said Ames.

JENSEN NAMED EDUCATION HEAD

Accepts Idaho State Directorship For World Federation of Education Association

Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the home economics department at the university, has accepted the Idaho state directorship for the World Federation of Education associations. The main objective of this organization is to federate, in the interest of world peace and understanding, all of the national, state, and local education associations throughout the world.

In July, 1933, when on a world tour, Miss Jensen attended a meeting of the world federation at Dublin, at which representatives of 53 countries were present. Miss Jensen was greatly impressed with the scope of the association's program. As a state director Miss Jensen will contact state and local education associations in Idaho in the interest of the world federation movement.

VERDICT RELEASES FORMER STUDENTS

According to a recent Associated Press dispatch, Paul and Francis Boyd were released by a coroner's jury from having any connection with the death of Hartley C. McVicker, Boise warehouse foreman. The jury's verdict showed that McVicker was accidentally killed and that Hopper and Boyd were released from all blame.

The two boys had been enrolled in a dairy short course in the university and left school March 19 after completing the course.

CADETS ARE GIVEN MODERN OUTFIT

New uniforms are the latest addition to the university military department. The new uniforms are made of 18 ounce serge material.

The uniforms will completely replace the old Melton suits which were hurriedly made up of coarse, cheap material. The new uniforms are of much finer quality and will wear longer and will be more comfortable for the wearer. They were sent from Philadelphia.

All students enrolled in the basic military course must have the old suits turned in and the new uniforms by Saturday noon. Only the old coat and trousers should be turned in and all emblems and ornaments must be removed from the coat before the exchange is made.

HOTEL MANAGER

Miss Marlon M. White, a home economics student of '29, is manager of menus and the dining room of the Homestead hotel in Evans, Illinois.

LIVESTOCK SHOW NOW SCHEDULED

Tenth Annual Little International Will Be on April 21

On April 21 the Ag club will present its annual show, the Little International, which promises to be bigger and better than ever. The contestants have already begun to work on their animals and polish their grain. The barns have been transferred into beauty parlors where proud beasts are brushed, manueured, and pampered in general.

There will be prizes for everyone who enters—loving cups, medals, ribbons, and articles of merchandise offered by the business men of Moscow. Special awards are also offered by the herdsmen. A medal which has not been offered in previous years has been recently received from the American Jersey Cattle club for the winner of the dairy cattle fitting and showing contest. As the awards arrive they will be placed on display in the trophy case in Morrill hall where contestants may feast their eyes upon them.

Many visitors As in the past years the show will attract many visitors among whom will be the most prominent stock men of the Inland Empire and vocational students from surrounding high schools. Northwest representatives of breeders' associations make particular arrangements to be here at this annual affair. The first Little International was held in the spring of 1924 under the management of E. E. Everly who is now connected with the Carnation company. This show was an outgrowth of a practicum course in fitting and showing. Since then the Ag club has sponsored the show each year.

This year it is under the direction of Worth Hason, Committee men are working diligently to make this one more successful than ever. "An unusually large number of students are taking part this year," said Bill David, assistant manager. "The prize list is very interesting and the weather is quite favorable for fitting the animals."

UNIVERSITY BUYS FORESTRY LANDS FOR EXPERIMENT

Purchase of New 160 Acre Tract Near Troy Adds to Facilities

BEST UNIT IN NATION

Forestry School Now Has 4160 Acres For Training Station Work

A quarter section of land north of Troy, Idaho, has just been purchased by the university which will be used as a permanent forestry unit and experiment station. The 160 acres adjoins the 4000-acre section given the university recently by the Poldatch Lumber.

"The University of Idaho now has one of the best forestry units and training camps in the United States," said Dr. E. E. Hubert, acting dean of the School of Forestry. "The large amount of territory now available for our use and the great variety of trees found there make it an excellent site for experiment work."

CCC On Ground

The government permanent CCC camp located four miles northeast of Troy is on the ground just purchased by the university.

The land is described as the NW 1/4 of section 26, township 40 North, range 4, west of Boise meridian, and was purchased from Ole E. Nelson, Troy.

DR. CARL WELLS TALKS TO GROUP

Compares Communism to Christianity at Institute Meeting

An address on the similarities and contrasts of Christianity and communism was given by Dr. Carl D. Wells, director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, at the meeting of the Cosmopolitan club Saturday evening at the Christian church.

Dr. Wells pointed out that communism and Christianity are similar in that both are systems which are divided to achieve a better social order, both were started by great dynamic leaders, and both believe in their system as the best way to achieve the goal. The two systems differ in the definition of their goal and their methods of achieving it.

Promotes Class Communism believes in promoting class consciousness in order to eliminate capitalism, but Christianity depends on love as the motivating force. Communism in Russia places far more emphasis on the promotion of the economics of aspect life than on the Christian.

At present, there is a great divergence, according to Dr. Wells, between the ideals of Christianity as expressed by Jesus and the practice of the Christian church today. This divergence must be done away with if Christianity is to succeed.

Plans for a banquet and for a picnic were discussed at the meeting. Refreshments were served at the close of the business meeting.

PRESS CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN EDITORS

Editors of Northern Idaho Newspapers to Meet Here Saturday

Thirty-five editors of northern Idaho newspapers will be entertained at luncheon Saturday noon by the Idaho Press club, men's journalism honorary. The gathering will be held at the Moscow hotel.

The editors will be meeting in Moscow Saturday to talk over the new newspaper code as it affects them. The northern Idaho division of the state editorial association extends from the Canadian border south to Grangeville. The meetings will be held in the morning and afternoon and will be presided over by Louis A. Boas, editor of The Moscow Star-Mirror and president of the state editorial association.

Opportunity to Meet Editors

"The club is very glad of this opportunity to meet these Idaho editors," said Raphael Gibbs, editor of the group. "Earlier in the year we tried to promote a meeting of this kind ourselves, but ran up against an obstacle in the fact that most of the editors at that time were too busy to break away from their desks."

A short musical program will be given as well as some talks by students and editors.

Wednesday evening the Press club met at the Sigma Nu house where further plans for the Publications Ball were discussed. The dance is to be held at the Memorial gymnasium, April 21. It is to be an all-college affair, "and it is not a mixer," concluded Editor Gibbs.

VACCINE GIVEN FOR SMALL POX

Two Campus Cases Make Precautions Very Necessary Immediately

Dr. W. V. Halverson, chairman of the university committee on health and housing, has issued the following bulletin and warning to all students at the University of Idaho:

"Because of the fact that one member of the university faculty, an employee of the heating plant, and a student from one of the university group houses have developed cases of small pox, the university committee on Health and Housing recommends that every student on the campus be vaccinated. This vaccination is available at the university infirmary.

"The importance of such vaccination can be well appreciated when you realize that to develop a case of small pox would require that you be in quarantine for not less than three weeks which would entirely disrupt your semester's work. In addition there will be the inconvenience which you would cause to those with whom you have been associated.

"Many students ask just how this small pox spreads from one person to another. The answer is simple. During the first few days of the disease the individual suffers from symptoms which are very similar to a cold. During this period the virus is present in the secretions of the mouth and the nose. Drinking from the same cup or even from the ordinary type of vertical jet drinking fountain could easily transmit saliva from one person to another which would result in a case of small pox. After the individual has developed scabs the transference of these scabs from one person to another is also a ready means of spreading the disease. That is one reason why it is a common practice to even burn the books which the individual has been using.

"We hope the students will cooperate to the fullest extent in helping us to prevent any further spread of this disease."

APRIL 13-14 DATE SET FOR COMEDY

Is Second Savage Play Given; Name Not Yet Selected

Soap bubbles, wild flowers, worms and immense fortunes with just a dash of insane asylum, all contribute to the hilarity of George Milton Savage's latest comedy.

Idaho will see the first production of this "play without a name" April 13 and 14. Mr. Savage will be present at his second premiere on the campus, at the Friday night performance.

Tickets will be on sale at Hod-gins' the Monday following spring vacation. Everyone seeing the Friday night show may submit titles for the play, and the winning name, chosen by a committee headed by Mr. Savage, will be printed on the Saturday night programs. The winner will be given a cash prize of five dollars and autographed copies of Savage's two plays presented here.

Former Play Produced Fred C. Blanchard, director, also produced Savage's "A Paragraph for Lunch" two years ago. This premier performance was so good as to cause much favorable comment for Blanchard and the university productions in all the schools in this part of the country.

Fast action, surprise situations, and humorous lines makes this latest play an excellent and amusing farce. Mrs. Gates, the scheming grandmother (Marion Dresser) aided by mischievous children Millicent and Theodore (Margaret Moulton and Aldrich Bowler) contrive to keep the whole family in a furor. Jack Caston (Earl Bopp) is a broom artist and a good man with a soap bubble pipe. Phyllis Gates, (Ethlyn O'Neal) holds her salon in a deserted log mill with a Swedish washerwoman (Coala Amstutz) for her social lion, and her husband (Barney Anderson) erects immense wood bins. Gerald Barker (Bill Cherrington) has a passion for worms and a healthy disgust for money. These characters, aided by school teachers, society matrons, and guards from the insane asylum contrive an hilarious and entertaining finish to the university's dramatic season.

BLUE BUCKET SOLD IN SOUTH

Next Issue Will Feature Junior Week In April

Art Hagen, editor of the Blue Bucket, announced today that the last issue of the Blue Bucket will be taken by John Cusano to southern Idaho on the tour with the Pep band.

"Having had such a wide sale on this campus and containing a story written by a Southern branch student, it is quite possible that there will be a good sale in southern Idaho," said the editor in his announcement today.

Plans for the next issue of the Blue Bucket are being made. If possible, it will be on sale the last April, featuring the idea of Junior week. Plans to be included, also, are feature articles on the members of the dramatic department, especially those members in the graduating class.

This next issue will be the last publication of the Blue Bucket this year.

PRACTICES LAW E. T. Johnson, ex '28, who received his law degree from the Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., has just set up practice at Orofino.

Education Board And ASUI Furnish Money For New Courts North Of Memorial Gym.

The new courts fill a long felt need on the campus as the four old courts have been inadequate to handle the numbers of enthusiasts of the game who have wanted to do more playing. The news of the appropriation of funds for these four additional courts comes as a distinct surprise and a pleasing one to Idaho tennis players.

The appropriation of ASUI funds for the courts is made possible by the fact that the past football season was carried out without resorting to reserve funds. An order appropriating the money was made at an executive board meeting some time ago. The university's half of the money was appropriated at a meeting of the state board last Wednesday and Thursday in Boise.

North of Gym The new courts are to be built on the vacant lots north of the Memorial gymnasium and bordering on the west by the highway. The work will be done by university employees.

The work will be planned and done according to directions given by the Portland Cement association and will be the best in the state, according to R. W. Lind, supervisor of buildings and grounds. "The work will have to be done during the driest part of the summer," said Mr. Lind. "We will have to be sure that there will be no rains when the five inches of cement are laid."

Must Have Drains Mr. Lind said that the biggest problem in the construction of the courts will be in drainage. A six inch layer of cinders and an extensive system of tile drains will have to be laid under the concrete courts. A tall wire fence will be constructed around them. It will be necessary to excavate the ground at the east end about five feet to make the site level, Lind said. Some of this work may begin very soon. "The courts will be used for a long time and we want to construct them with that purpose in mind," he said. A flight of steps leading from the road level in front of the gymnasium to the lower level will also be constructed.

Intolerable If True

In the Grins and Gripes column on this page appears an article which will undoubtedly attract attention and cause considerable wonderment, comment and criticism.

If the facts pointed out by the student writer are true, then an expose such as this is indeed timely and a service to the students of the University of Idaho. Certainly, as the writer explained, such political gestures as those are intolerable—even on this campus of ours where the political situation for the past several years has greatly resembled that in the third grade classroom.

On the other hand, if the facts brought out in the opinion are untrue and the writer is sadly in error, then the writer owes the aggrieved party an apology as does the Argonaut for accepting unbiased opinions.

As far as the Argonaut is concerned, however, we encourage student use of that column and obviously cannot trace down every fact brought out therein. We take it for granted that the contributor knows something about what he is writing and that he will be corrected in a following letter to the editor if he is wrong.

To Clear Up A Misunderstanding

Though the Argonaut and instructors have explained the cut ruling many times, there are several hundred students and instructors who need to be cleared up on the subject.

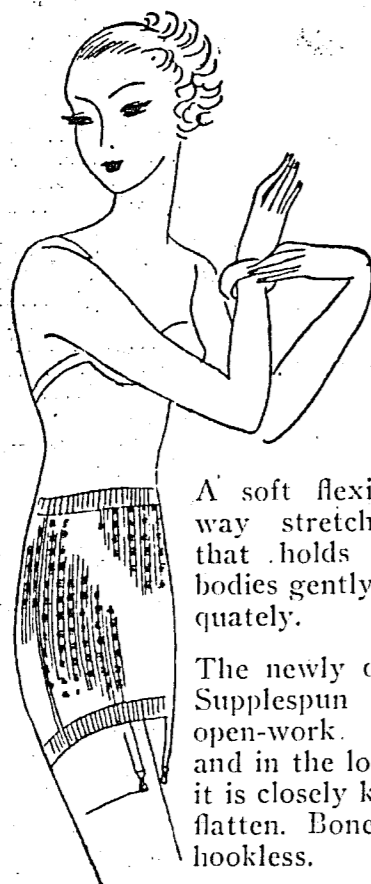

The ruling states that a 10 percent cut will be deducted from the semester grade of the student who cuts his last class before a vacation or misses his first class after vacation.

The cut does not mean that the student must attend all of his classes before vacation, but he must be in attendance at his last class on the day before vacation. In other words, if he has a 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, he must attend the class and if his first class on Monday is at 1 p. m. he must attend that class to avoid the cut.

Students may leave on Tuesday if they have no classes on Wednesday, but to avoid the cut the last class must be attended on Wednesday.

Corrupt Politics?

Politics have no longer taken on a darkened hue. Instead of "cuts," "pressure" is now the theme song. Several of us thought politics were in a bad shape when the notorious Alpha party was in power, but at that time the ASUI president failed to function as a political leader. At the present time the ASUI president, with a well organized executive board, is in a position and does stop any man from being placed in an office unless his house votes campus—by the students and for the students.

The student body has been asking for cleaner politics. If a machine such as this is able to dictate to every group on the campus there is no longer a semblance of politics. It is a weak gesture in accepting the will of a few people who are only interested in personal gain.

Of course, each group is interested in having its men in office, but there is no reason why any one man should be placed in a position to say which way that group must vote to get its men in those offices.

If the ASUI president would confine more of his time to ASUI functions and less on exerting "pressure" for the purpose of gathering a few more votes, we would all enjoy a little more student body spirit.

To the Lawyers:
We, the Ags, take this opportunity to thank you for the practice scrimmage you endeavored to give us. We think that there is no doubt in the mind of any person who witnessed the scheduled workout that the Ags are very much superior to the Lawyers in the manly pastime of casaba tossing on the maple court. This was adequately demonstrated Wednesday evening when we, the Ags, won the annual Ag-Lawyer basketball game without using a single first-string man. The reported score was 18-15. We are inclined to think that the score keepers felt sorry for the Shysters and withheld the actual score.

We also think the referee and umpire played outstanding games although they failed to convert many of their gift shots.

As stated in our communication to The Argonaut, of March 27, 1934, we wished to receive sufficient exercise from the scrimmage so that we might properly appreciate the BANQUET you are going to give in our honor.

Our wish was fulfilled in this respect and now we are eagerly anticipating enjoying the banquet.

Therefore, the question of primary importance is, when do we eat? The Ags

ATTENTION TRANSIT-PEEPERS!

Had you not been so busy during the past few weeks aligning your transits on the porch of the Gamma Phi house and your levels on the windows of Hays hall, you might have noticed in The Argonaut a series of challenges and replies which passed between the Lawyers and Ags relative to a basketball game that is an annual event between the two organizations. Having noticed these articles, even with such an intellect as you possess, you should have some faint remembrance of the fact that every year, the Electrical Engineers obey the custom of lowering themselves from their higher realm of academic endeavor by mixing with the riff-raff of the so-called Civil Engineers long enough to show—not teach—them some of the rudiments of the game of basketball as it is played.

Of course, upon considering the ignominious defeat which you suffered at our hands last year, we do not wonder at your hesitancy in making the challenge—as it is surely your place to do—for a similar contest this year. Also, we realize that, at this time of the year, you are very busy trying to fit yourselves for a CCC or even a CWA position upon graduation. However, Idaho traditions are beautiful and worthy of being sustained, and we owe it to the founders of such traditions to be condescending enough to give you a little of our time again this year; so if you will promise to very carefully clean the "brown snow" from your shoes and clothing before entering the Memorial gymnasium, we shall consider meeting you at that place for a basketball game, upon such a date as you may name immediately following spring vacation.

SPORTS ED RUSHES TO AID GOLDFISH

The boss of this column went off and left us with the page to put out, so blame everything on him, his back is broad. We think he picked a swell time to take a vacation, with copy so scarce you couldn't find it with a magnet, but he got a telegram the goldfish were pling away at home, so he rushed up to be at their bedside for the kickoff. Just the old sports writer, always on hand for the aquatic events.

HINDU VAMPIRES, MANIACS, AND FROSH BASEBALL PLAYERS HAVE MUCH IN COMMON

"Red" Jacoby thinks frosh baseball players should be put into the class of dangerous individuals along with pyromaniacs, Hindu bloodsuckers, and other forms of various and assorted menaces. It seems "Red" was conducting a little practice session last Sunday afternoon with his frosh working out against the varsity club when he became fully convinced of the great hazard of budding baseball talent. He was explaining something to one of the neophytes near the home base when another well-meaning beginner wound up to make a mighty heave towards home. "Red" turned his head just far enough to get the ball right on the noggin, and lost all interest in baseball for some time. At that, though, it coulda been worse. If he hadn't had his head turned, he'd have had a shiner to boot!

NEWTON READS ARGO AND WAXES AMBITIOUS; NICE GOING NEWT!

Turning to varsity baseball, maybe you recall the hue and cry about the scarcity of pitchers on the Vandal diamond. Well, with five men out for chucking honors now, the vacancies are fairly well filled, but what we wanted to say is that Newton, sophomore hurler, now showing up especially well in practice, never pitched a ball until this spring. Being a man that reads the papers, he heard about the lack of pitchers and became ambitious. Forthwith he reported and Coach Fox, being interested in his possibilities, encouraged him. Result—he is well on his way to a letter. Nice going, Newton. COACH BABE HOLLINGBERY IS A GENTLEMAN

To Coach Babe Hollingbery of Washington State we extend a hearty vote of thanks, in behalf of the P. E. department. Coach Hollingbery, being one of the two coaches of the annual East-West game, received three reels of the affair recently. In order that Idaho football fans might see the film, he brought it over at his own expense last Tuesday, and, using his own projector, showed all three reels for the benefit of the Idaho audience. Coming from a rival coach, that looks mighty white, Babe.

OTT'S BOYS BLOSSOM OUT IN NEW SUITS

Coach Anderson's trackmen are going to blossom out in brand new track shirts for this year's meets. Eighteen new shirts have been ordered for their benefit, and with a white winged "T" plastered all over their chests, the boys ought to be able to cover plenty of ground. Still, men have been given the "bird" before, without showing any speed either.

NEWHOUSE IS VAULTING-POLE BREAKER DE LUXE

Breaking perfectly good bamboo poles is the favorite sport with the varsity pole-vaulters this season. Starting out strong, the stratosphere men have caused three fatalities so far, and there's lots of time. But when Newhouse is tying the previous record with a jump of 12 feet 6 inches, and the other lads are doing their best to keep up with him, who cares about a few poles? There's still lots of bamboo in China.

TRACK CONDITION PREVENTS WORK

Sloppy condition of the track because of the recent rains have forced comparatively light workouts for varsity tracksters this week, and most of the squad has been using Lewis court.

Coach Otto Anderson is planning to run his sprint men against time tomorrow provided the favorable weather holds. A warm wind dried the track out fast yesterday and by tomorrow it should be in fair shape. With big "Swede" Ward and Jim Kalbus both after the monicker of Idaho "Speedster," the time trials should be interesting to watch. Ward beat Kalbus in both the 100 and 220 at Pullman last Saturday, but Kalbus is back after the battle. Beman, frosh sprinter, will be up among the boys at the finish, too.

Vandal Nine Plays Lewiston Normal In Double-Header

Have Won Last Two Games, Weather Permits Early Turnout; Dope is Favorable

Coach Rich Fox's baseball team will trek to Lewiston again tomorrow, to engage the Normal club in another double-header practice workout. The Vandals' two wins over the Teachers last Saturday have resulted in a determination to make a clean sweep of the remaining games.

Exceptionally good weather resulting in the squad's being able to turn out much earlier this season can be credited for the good showing against Lewiston last Saturday and for the stage of advancement that the club has shown. In previous years, late rainy springs have spoiled the efforts of Coach Fox to turn out a good early season club, but with sunny skies overhead, practice has progressed much faster. That, coupled with especially good material this spring, has enabled Fox to turn out an early season outfit that is really good, according to reliable dopesters. Given a little more strength in the third base position, Idaho baseball sages predict a successful season for the Foxmen.

Pitching Staff Strengthened

An apparent lack of pitching material early in the spring has been well taken care of. To the aid of Speirs, letterman chucker, have come four new men—Brubaker, Anderson, Newton, and Naslund. "Lefty" Anderson is the only junior in the group, the other three all being sophomores. "Lefty" made his letter in the field last year and rallied round this season in answer to Coach Fox's call for more pitchers. Newton, Brubaker, Anderson, and Speirs did the mound work for the Vandals last Saturday at Lewiston, and Naslund, who was not able to make the trip last week because of work, will have a chance to perform in the pitcher's box tomorrow.

Good catching material in the husky frames of Hanford, Wheeler, and Wilson, has come to the surface to help out, McNeally, two-year vet.

Actual season games begin for the Vandals at Walla Walla against the Whitman Missionaries during spring vacation, the first home games being those against the Missionaries April 23 and 24th.

AGS CARRY OFF ANNUAL HONORS

Trounce Lawyers 18-15 in Game Which Was Questionable

It is hereby solemnly attested and sworn that the Ags defeated the Lawyers in an exhibition of basketball Wednesday night by a score of 18 to 15. Said exhibition of basketball is popularly known as the annual Ag-Lawyer basketball game. This document is the formal public notice letting all parties concerned know where they get off.

Special mention should be given the timekeeper (a lawyer) who let the game go on as long as he thought there was any chance of the Lawyers winning. Honors of the evening went to the referees, Barrett and Williams.

The starting lineups were obtained but lack of space and time prevents us from listing the substitutions.

Lineup:
Lawyers (15) (18) Ags
Black G Burstad
Asher G Peterson
Rogers C McKay
Anderson F Hogaboam
Martin F Holland

A prominent Lawyer commented, "It was a most unsightly affair. They won because of, shall we say, distinctly shady practices. The game was incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial. Anyway, it was a moral victory for us." An equally prominent Ag beat his chest and said, "The score tells the tale. We won in spite of the referees and the timekeeper. Incidentally, we staged the funeral of A. Shyster—and what a rotter he was."

...here it is in a nutshell

THERE are just about three common-sense questions to ask about pipe tobacco:

"First, is it made to smoke in a pipe?"

"Is it cut in big enough flakes to smoke cool and mild?"

"Does it have a pleasing flavor that leaves you hankering for more?"

"I guess I've been smoking pipes for as many years as you've been born, and when it comes to pipe tobacco... here it is in a nutshell. Smoke Granger."
