PEP BAND'S TOUR CALLED VALUABLE TO AROUSE SPIRIT

Band Presented Both Academic and Social Aspects of College Life

PLAYS MANY TIMES

Bands' Daily Schedule Was Filled With Many Assemblies and Concerts

By Bill Ames

So many inquiries have come to me regarding the recent Pep Band trip that I feel inclined to write a few words which might be of general interest to the student body.

The consensus, as far as the band is concerned, seems to be that the trip was profitable in many ways. This is unquestionable from the viewpoint of building up a spirit in southern Idaho desirable to the interests of the university. Due to the fact that no university organization had been in south eastern Idaho for several years, high school students in that section were given somewhat of a chance to forget their state university at Moscow. The presence of the band in this section of the state helped to renew the ties.

As a concert tour, the trip was beyond a doubt successful, but far more good was probably done in high school assemblies where both the academic and social aspects of college life were presented. The academic side was well taken care of by Dr. J. W. Barton who very ably explained to the students why they should support state institutions. The average assembly lasted from 30 to 50 minutes, a sufficient time to present a program which should leave an indelible imprint on the minds of future students.

Kept 'em Busy

Each day was a busy one for the band. This can easily be illustrated by listing the high schools in which assemblies or concerts were played. They are as follows: Grangeville, Weiser, Payette, Nampa, Boise, Mountain Home, Glenns Ferry, Gooding, Jerome, Burley, Rupert, Blackfoot, Shelley, Rexburg, Sugar City, Rigby, Malad, Pocatello, American Falls, Idaho Falls, Twin Falls, Kimberley, and Buhl.

I have never been on tour with the band when I was quite as satisfied in my own mind that everything possible was done to advertise the university in the most favorable light possible. I wish to publicly compliment every member of the band on the wonderful attitude taken throughout the entire trip and especially to Dr. Barton, the faculty advisor; whose presence was of inestimable value to the university and band.

By Twist of Fate Exum and Letter Make Connections

Nearly four years ago Glenn Exum, '34, parted from his friend, Joe West, with whom he had been working in the Tetons during the summer. Joe was headed for Illinois; Glenn for Buhl.

"Drop me a line this fall," said Glenn. "I'll be at the Buhl hotel until January. You'll find me there."

Glenn didn't hear from Joe that fall. In fact he didn't hear from him at any time during his next three years at college.

Stops at Buhl

Last week the Pep Band pulled into Buhl one evening after a hard day on the road. After entering the hotel, the usual question was asked by every member in the band: "Is there any mail for me?"

"There's a letter here for Glenn Exum," said the man at the desk. Having heard those words before on the trip, members of the band thought nothing of it.

The opening words of the letter were: "The last address you gave me was 'Buhl hotel', so I thought I'd try to reach you there."

"That beats me," said Glenn. "I haven't been in that hotel for over three years and this letter gets here the same day I do. Rare coincidence, eh? Rare coincidence."

UNIVEVRSITY GROUP PRESENTS RECITAL

A costume recital was presented by a group of university students, at the Methodist Episcopal church in Lewiston, Wednesday night. Those taking part were: Martha Jean Rehberg, Patricia Kennard, Kathryn Kennard, Marybelle Fulton, Alice Bell, and Harriet Norris. Annie Snow acted as accompanist. Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the music department, and Miss Isabel Clark piano instructor, went to Lewiston with the group.

Paris Martin Is Found Eligible By Board of Arbitration; Perry Culp's Removal Causes Argonaut Shakeup

Polls Open Thursday at 9 a. m.; U. S. Party Changes List

Political activity on the campus will reach a climax next Thursday when election polls are opened in the Ad building at 9 a. m. Voting will continue until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Paris Martin, Unfiled Students' candidate for ASUI president will be opposed by Dave Kendrick, Campus party. Election returns will be available by 9 or 9:30 the same evening.

The voting time was extended two hours last fall by a vote in an ASUI assembly which changed the rules governing elections in the constitution. Members of the election committee, appointed last October by Bob Newhouse, ASUI president, are: Wilbur Hogue, chairman, Vincent Bevis, Margaret Moulton, Allen Severn, and Jane Archbold.

Leaders Quiet

Political leaders have been particularly quiet about the prospective outcome of the coming election, there being little speculation as to the alleged strength of either party. However, judging from enthusiasm shown over class elections last month, a great deal of campaigning is to be done within the next week by both parties.

Several changes have been made in the United Students' ticket since the nomination assembly, Tuesday, April 17. They include Bill Simon, in place of Fred Sanger for senior man and Harriet Hitchcock in place of Katherine Nicholson for maid of honor.

Paul Kerr, Campus party, and Hugh McGuire, United Students' party, were approved by the executive board last Tuesday as candidates for yell king.

ENGINEERS TO STAGE NOVEL ASSEMBLY

Program Features Unique Effects and Uneathis Hidden Talent

The Associated Engineers will stage an assembly Tuesday, May 1, at 11 o'clock. All departments of the engineering school will be represented.

The purpose of the assembly is to give the students a general idea of some of the features which will be exhibited at the Engineers show. Specialty numbers will be played by the Beta orchestra, and trio composed of Albert Blair, Jack Emahiser, and Charles Thompson will sing some engineer numbers.

The first rehearsal uncovered considerable hidden dramatic talent, which when combined with the engineers' ability to improvise should provide a full hour of entertainment providing something different and unusual," said Ed Paulsen, chairman of the assembly, when interviewed last evening.

The electrical engineers have a wire entanglement laid in the auditorium, which will produce 230,000 volts on the stage or threeaboots. This will cause billions of electrons to float around during the assembly.

Chemists Perform
Dr. Carl von Ende's chemists will perform some violent chemical reactions, and it is hoped that when the atmosphere clears up that the auditorium will still be intact.

The ag engineers have made special arrangements to have their anvil chorus assist the orchestra in the presentation of "Il Travittor."

Exhibits for the Engineers' show will be given by all branches of the College of Engineering, School of Forestry, chemistry, physics, and geology departments. All have planned to make this show one of the best produced on the Idaho campus.

One of the special features of the chemistry department is the art of glass blowing. Lois Keyser, graduate of the chemistry department, will give exhibitions of glass blowing. This exhibit attracted much attention in the show of 1932, and is one of the few to be repeated this year.

Kappa Phi will meet next Monday at 4 o'clock in Ad 206 to elect officers.

International Relations club meeting today at 4 o'clock in Ad 310A. Important.

Engineers' Assembly on May 1. Annual Show, Saturday, May 5.

RECEIVES COVETED POSITION

Annie Snow, a senior in the music department, has just received an appointment as music instructor in the public schools at Grace, Idaho, one of the most coveted positions in the West. Prof. Carleton Cummings is especially pleased with this appointment because it is the first time that a university music graduate has received a position in a south Idaho school. Grace also has the reputation of paying very good salaries. Miss Snow is a charter member of the Vandaleers and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

BOTANY STUDENTS TAKE ANNUAL TRIP

Thirty-one Members of Class Go on Field Trip to the Selway Forest

The systematic botany class consisting of 31 students, nine majors, and four faculty members, left early last Friday morning on the annual three-day field trip. Dr. Floyd W. Gall, head of the botany department, was chief of the party with R. A. Dietter, Vada Allen, and Elbert Long as assistants.

Two large trucks and two cars furnished the means of transportation to the "Three Devils" camp in the Selway national forest on the Clearwater river, about twenty-five miles southeast of Kootenai. Make Various Stops Various stops were made along the way for the purpose of gathering and identifying specimens. Because of an unusually early spring, the flowers were very numerous and diversified, and a large number of specimens were picked before camp was reached. Tents and bedding were obtained from the forest service, and camp was pitched at sundown Friday evening.

Anderson May Oppose Elbridge as Managing Editor

Several important political questions which have been the subject of discussion for some time were ironed out at the last executive board meeting, Tuesday night. On recommendation of Richard Stanton, editor, the board approved the appointment of Harold Boyd as managing editor of The Argonaut to finish out the year 1933-34 in the place of Perry Culp, Jr., who had been declared ineligible by the academic council because of scholastic deficiency. The name of Harold Boyd will appear on the ballot when he is voted upon at the next ASUI election. The election next Thursday will make a special election unnecessary. Ordinarily, a special election would have to be called for the students to ratify the board's appointment.

May Run
Al Anderson, who was formerly approved by the board as the United Students' candidate for managing editor of The Argonaut for the school year 1934-35, but who had been declared ineligible on account of scholastic deficiency, was re-voted upon as the result of the fact that his probation status was discovered to be erroneous. His approval was voted down because of constitutional technicalities, but it has been learned from reliable sources that a reconsideration by the board is probable, since there was error in the recording of his grades.

As a representative from the board of arbitration, Bob Newhouse, head of the executive board, reported that nothing in the constitution prohibited Paris Martin's candidacy for ASUI president. Martin will oppose David Kendrick for that position.

In view of the fact that a precedent has been established the last two years for placing only two names on the ballot for yell king, it was favorably voted upon to place on the ballot the names of Paul Kerr and Hugh McGuire for that position.

TO GIVE EXHIBIT OF ART WORKS

Pieces of New Fountain Made By Joice and Steinger Shown

An exhibit of Public Works administration paintings and sculptures will be on display in the women's gym for the next few days. Most important in the exhibit will be the pieces for the new fountain which is to be built in front of the Ad building. These comprise two baby seals and a sea horse. The former are made by Donald Joice and the latter by Herbert Steinger. Also a model of the state seal, made by Nellie Best, to be used on the memorial steps may be seen.

Besides the sculptures there will be many paintings made by the art students. Those who will have their works exhibited are: Olaf Moller, George Dennis, George Schroeder, Frances Westfall, Helen Hughes, Cecil Smith, Fred Remington, Margaret Scott, and Eugene Ferrine.

MANY VACCINATED ON IDAHO CAMPUS

Measles and Smallpox Are Carefully Checked; Halverson Names Dangers

According to Prof. H. L. Halverson of the bacteriology department, 600 students have been vaccinated for small pox. Prof. Halverson expressed a desire for all students to take advantage of the opportunity the university is offering. He reports that the small pox and measles have apparently been checked, there being but four small pox cases and three measles cases with no new cases reported.

"The discontinuance of the saliva of one person from being carried to others will prevent 90 percent of our communicable diseases," Professor Halverson stated. Lists Unhealthy Instances
A number of specific instances for the communication of diseases were outlined, such as drinking water from vertical jet drinking fountains where the individual comes in contact with the enamel, washing the teeth and then spitting in the basin, washing in still water instead of flowing water. Here Professor Halverson particularly stressed the necessity of washing in rapid flowing water and suggested that basins be cleaned with chlorox or lysol before being put into use.

A number of diseases were listed in which contact infection plays a dominant role, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, influenza, common cold, cerebro spinal meningitis, whooping cough, and mumps.

ALUMNUS GIVEN SPECIAL HONOR

Smith Miller, University Graduate, Achieves Distinction at Harvard Business School

Because of distinction in his mid-year grades at the Harvard business school, Smith Miller, a popular alumni who graduated last year, is one of four men who were given special positions with Roger Babson, a statistician.

Nominally, Miller is working for Poor's Publishing company, which brings out four investment guides, utilities, banks, industries, and railroads. The company also publishes a condensed desk volume containing all four of the standard classifications.

Helps Babson
Miller is working for Babson at Babson park, about twenty miles from Cambridge, helping to prepare copy for the July edition of the desk volumes. The Harvard men drive out to the park three times a week to do this work. After final examinations, Miller will have a full time position there.

Smith Miller is also working for Marc Law's travel agency. Law conducts a unique type of travel bureau by which people are able to save a great deal of money. Smith arranges itineraries which save people money and at the same time permit them to go practically as independent travellers.

STUDENTS INVITED TO CHURCH DINNER

Lutheran students of the university are having a dinner at Our Saviour's Lutheran church, Sixth and Jefferson streets, Monday, April 30, at six o'clock. All Lutheran students are cordially invited to come. After the dinner there will be entertainment and a short business meeting.

The following officers were elected at the last meeting for the coming year: Benny Benson, president; Almeda Carlson, vice president; Marie Hesby, secretary, and Paul Anderson, treasurer.

Cabaret and Prom End Juniors' Week

Novel Decorations For Prom Will Add To Formal Affair; Cabaret Tickets Sold Out

The climax of the annual Junior week will be reached Saturday night with the annual Junior Cabaret, which will take place in the Blue Bucket Inn, starting at 8:30 p. m. Ticket sales for the Cabaret have been very good and there are only a few tickets available, says Chuck Warner, chairman of the Cabaret.

CLUB TO START SALE OF BOOKS

While the early bird may get the copy of "Anthony Adverse" for 50 cents, for the slower ones will be left perhaps a copy of Cather for a mere 20 cents. The English club bookshelf is selling the books it has been renting during the year. Most of them will sell for 20 cents, but there will be some up to half a dollar.

Among these books are "Bird of Dawn" by John Masefield, "Anthony Adverse" by Hervey and Allen, "Adam" by Lewisohn, "The Burning Bush" by Sigrid Undset, not to speak of an assortment of romances, detective, and mystery stories, and tales of high adventure. The books will be for sale at the table in the Administration building hall where they have always been for rent. At those hours however, when the shelf is not open, they may be procured in Dr. G. M. Miller's office.

Novelties Are New
Hats, serpentine, and noise makers were received for the cabaret yesterday by Chairman Warner. The novelties for the dance will be of a new type, having been received by John W. Graham only last week from the manufacturers in the East. Enough of all of the favors have been purchased for everyone. Students who anticipate attending the Cabaret are urged by the chairman to make their table reservations early, because of the demand that has been prevalent since reservations were made open at the Bucket Thursday morning. Tickets and reservations may be made at the Blue Bucket Inn today and Saturday.

SERVICE HONORARY PLEDGES WOMEN

Cardinal Key, Women's Honorary, Chooses 14 at Junior Assembly

Fourteen prominent upperclasswomen were tapped by Cardinal Key, women's service honorary, at the Junior assembly last night in the auditorium. The girls chosen form the first pledge group of the new honorary, which was founded on the Idaho campus last January with 12 charter members.

The first wearers of the cardinal ribbons are: Carol Campbell, Marion Dresser, Marjorie Druding, Sue Evans, Lella Gabbey, Margaret Illingsworth, Nellie Irwin, Janet Kinney, Helen Latimore, Virginia Merrick, Martha Jean Rehberg, Rosanne Roark, Elizabeth Stickey, and Frances Wimer.

Take S. B. Women
The women were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, activities, and service to the university.

The members of Cardinal Key are glad, according to Margaret Moulton, president, to have the opportunity to give recognition to women who have a long and outstanding record at the Southern Branch and who have had no other chance to be recognized on this campus. Women chosen from the Southern Branch are Margaret Illingsworth and Sue Evans.

Cardinal Key will pledge twice each year. Eight of the 12 charter members of the organization will graduate this spring.

IDAHO MAN LOSES EYE IN ACCIDENT

Maurice Erickson, '34, Chi Alpha Pi, had his right eye removed during an operation at a Spokane hospital last Monday. Erickson and a companion, Herman Davis, were squirrel hunting a week ago last Wednesday when the accident necessitating the operation occurred. The gun they were using proved defective, allowing a piece of the copper cartridge case to fly back striking him in the eye. He was immediately rushed to the infirmary for treatment.

As the eye was causing much pain, he was taken to Spokane Sunday for further treatment. After careful examination the piece of copper was located, but the doctors fearing future complications, decided to remove the whole eyeball. The operation was performed Monday.

Erickson is now at his home in Spokane.

SMITH QUALIFIES ON SQUAD

A cleat cut on the calf of his right leg qualified Earl Smith, fleet 190-pound quarterback, as the first candidate for this spring's arnica squad. The injury was received last night in a scrimmage. Several stitches were necessary to close the cut which will probably keep Smith on crutches for two weeks.

EASTERN SCHOOLS ACCEPT STUDENTS

Ten Idaho students have been admitted by prominent medical schools in the east and middle west. Half of the number have been accepted by Northwestern university. One of these, Virginia Peck, Moscow, is a graduate student and the others, David McCusky, Buhl; Ferrell Elmore, Rupert; George Moore, Kellogg; and Dick Woodward, Payette, have junior standing this year.

Two of the medical students are going to George Washington university at St. Louis. They are Jack Williams, Malad, a senior, and Bob Mangum, Nampa, who is also a senior.

The remaining three students will attend Rush Medical school at Chicago. Among them is Abdul-Hassan Sarsani, a junior, from Tazirib, Persia. The others are Carl Fischer, Coeur d'Alene, a junior and Bill Wood, Coeur d'Alene, a senior.

LOST!!!
A pair of gold rimmed glasses in a black case were lost somewhere on the campus. The name, Donald Tracy, was on the cleaning pad. Will the finder call 2114 or leave them at the S. A. E. house,

While We're Conscious

Last Friday's issue of the Argonaut carried two very interesting letters to the editor in the "Grins and Gripes" column—one explaining Paris Martin's stand in joining the ranks of the United Students in the race for ASUI president; the other, a dissertation from the chairman of the Y. M. C. A.—pardon me, the Campus party, telling what it has done and what it will do.

Letters of the latter type are prevalent about this time of year and nearly as meaningless now as they will be about two months after school has started next year. Campaign promises are just so many worthless words, kept if convenient, but usually ignored. As a matter of course, though, they must be written; and for the same reason we must print them in the medium of expression open to every Idaho student.

One particular statement in the letter signed "The Campus Party" amused us extremely. On second thought, it raised our ire considerably. That statement read: "(Through our party) . . . systems of meritorious advancement in publications and managerships can be more fully developed."

The Argonaut has been run decidedly non-partisan this year. We have our meritorious advancement system which will bear the closest scrutiny of any skeptical political leader or inquisitive executive boarder. Men and women are placed in responsible positions on the Argonaut because of ability and integrity and not because of their political affiliations. Advancing persons on the staff is our business and not that of any political organ. It won't do any party any good to add a plank such as that quoted above to its platform.

As long as we're conscious we'll handle our own staff organization and advancements, and when the time comes that a political party tells us how to do those things, there will either be no Argonaut or no political leaders.

Japanese Goodwill Delegate Invites Students To Conference

Proudly bearing a letter containing his credentials sent from the president of Meiji university in Tokyo to President M. G. Neale, Namiji, Itabashi, sophomore at Meiji, paused on his nation-wide tour of good will to tell his news of the first America-Japanese student good will conference at Tokyo, July 19 to 26. With the Atlantic coast as his final destination on his tour of America, Itabashi resumed his journey on the eve of his arrival here to make Missoula, Mont., his next stopping place.

Two weeks ago Itabashi landed in San Francisco with three other good will delegates from his university in Japan. The three left on definite routes which each would pursue in broadcasting the message through the universities and colleges of the United States. Itabashi is delegation chairman of the conference. The tour will last until July 3.

Dr. J. G. Eldridge, describing the young foreigner as speaking "beautiful English," accepted the pamphlets which he offered for distribution and which are now in the modern language office, where students interested in the conference may obtain them. Total cost of the conference trip includes a fare of from $196 to $465, according to the traveling class, and a registration fee of $15 for the five courses offered. Expenses for the housing, meals, and transportation of the American delegates in Japan during the conference and for the trip through Japan and Manchukuo will be paid by the Japan Student English association.

"The world condition at present reveals that the nations of the earth, who should aim at promoting eternal peace and true friendship, are all inclined to take selfish action, forgetting humanity," reads the pamphlet brought by the young messenger of good will.

Campus Clips

By BOYD

Spurs is a national sophomore women's honorary service organization and was organized as such at Montana State college in 1920. Since that time it has grown until it has 14 chapters at the leading universities and colleges of the West. The organization has as its prime objective the assisting in any student activity which furthers the interests of the students of the school in which the particular chapter is located.

In The Washington Daily for April 24 we find the following item:

Threatening withdrawal from their national organization because of excessive dues and group restriction, members of Spurs, national women's service honorary, authorized consideration of a "strictly local" constitution at a special meeting yesterday.

"Every Spur member wants to start a new local organization especially fitted to this campus," said Helen Nichols, Spur president. "We do not get benefit from half of the money we pay into the national. We pay all our money to them and have nothing left to run on. We are always in debt. Lower dues to a local chapter would allow us to pay our bills."

A committee of five was appointed by the president to outline the new local constitution and to investigate the national organization set up before going ahead on the new one.

"In addition to the expense of dues we are restricted to one-year membership. We want to make it a two-year organization, eliminate the girl from every house membership requirement, and set a definite activity record as a goal for membership."

"Membership for the proposed local organization will also be restricted to 15 or 20 pledges," she said. "By changing it to a two-year group, the present members intend to make their club a 'training ground' for Mortar Board and Totem club aspirants. Their pledges also will be chosen for service to Washington. Hard times and a lack of ready money are making it hard on all groups to function. Although the Washington group seems to find other faults with the Spurs' set up than just that they ask too many dollars from the chapters, this writer thinks that the organization is a worthy one and that every effort should be made to hold it 100 per cent intact until we get back on the road to that far off something referred to as "prosperity."

BOTANY STUDENTS

Saturday the party was divided into three groups, each individual group going to different localities, thereby bringing back a more varied collection of wild flowers. These flowers were classified, and studied by the aid of the campfire and gas lights that evening. Sunday morning a quiz was given over a picked group from some 200 species collected. Camp broke up at 10 o'clock and the party arrived at Moscow at 6 o'clock that evening.

SENIOR PLAYERS GET SWEATERS

Oliver Davis and George Hoggan of the class of '34, have been awarded a major sport "T" sweater by vote of the "T" club for their work and loyalty to the football squad during the three years they have been out for the team. Hoggan and Davis are the first two men to receive this award under the new constitutional provision permitting an award to be given for three years but have not had enough game participation to win a letter.

The sweaters, which were ordered yesterday, are a high grade red coat type with a regulation white "T" on the front. The sweaters are similar to those issued ordinarily to seniors except that they will not have the white service stripes on the sleeve.

Prom and Cabaret Tonight and Sat.

Nuts to you, and you, and you. Never has a Junior class passed around so generous a dish and never has a dish been so ravenously accepted. The first helping consisted of the serenade for those "steepy time gals" last Tuesday night. Rain threatened to spoil the evening, but held off long enough to allow the third year class to cover the campus before the sun got too high in the heavens the next morning. The parade was next on Wednesday and little need be said of it more than that it was well attended as was the mixer that evening at the Blue Bucket. Everyone enjoyed the assembly last night and it is surprising the number of people who will really admit that they are insane. More for beauty and dignity will be the Junior Prom Friday night, but the nuts will regain their original status for the Cabaret, their last chance during the week to feel rolie and make merry.

Prom Set For Friday Night

The main event of Junior week, namely, the Junior Prom will take place Friday night at the Blue Bucket. Decorations will be on the idea of the "Cocanut Grove." A false ceiling studded with stars will lend an outdoor atmosphere to the hall. Patrons and patronesses for the affair will be: Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Neale, Miss Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Day, Dean and Mrs. J. W. Finch, Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain, and Dr. F. C. Church.

Cabaret To Be New and Different

The Junior Cabaret scheduled Saturday night at the Blue Bucket will bring to a close another memorial Junior week. It is to be different in all respects from those of past years. The decorations will consist of those used at the Prom and in addition a variety of gayly colored balloons will hang from the ceilings of both the upstairs and downstairs rooms. Hats, horns, and other favors of the very newest design will be given out shortly after intermission. Patrons and patronesses will be: Dean Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. DuSault, Lieutenant and Mrs. John Sheehy, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Heckman, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain. The Blue Bucket orchestra will provide the music for the dancers upstairs and Chuck McConnell's band will play for those on the lower floor of the inn.

Mrs. Vivianne McAlexander, St. Maries, a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, is visiting at the chapter house this week. Mrs. McAlexander formerly Vivianne Beardmore, was active in music circles while on the campus, and is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Bruce Yergen, Gamma Rho chapter of Delta Tau Delta of the University of Oregon, at Eugene, is visiting at the Idaho chapter house this week.

Mrs. William Rusch, Spokane, and province president of Pi Beta Phi sorority, was a guest of the chapter Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Name Traditional With Idaho Show For Seven Years

Combining the name of the ancient Greek goddess of the dance with the better known one for clog dancing was the brilliant idea that resulted in naming the seven year old tradition of an annual dancing entertainment "Taps and Terpsichore," according to Miss Jeanette Wirt, head of the physical education department.

"When plans were made in 1928 for the first of these," Miss Wirt explained, "W.A.A. thrust about frantically for a name. Anything like 'dance recital' would suggest that only the art side of the rhythmic work would be presented, and those with jazz spirit and little appreciation of the classical, who would get a kick out of the comedy and clogging numbers, would steer clear. More scratching of heads and wild mumbblings of possible names brought up such contributions as 'High Jinx' and musical comedy names, but again, would those who really loved fine music and its interpretations in dance form realize that such an event held in store a treat for them?"

"Since the student population liked these 'shows' from the first, was another good reason for nicknaming the show 'Taps and Terps' making it much easier to say and spell. The name has such appeal that a professional dancing team on big time vaudeville asked if they might use it as the name of their act, but the Idaho chapter of Women's Athletic association is still jealously guarding it as their own best description of the show, to be staged this year on May 4th," Miss Wirt concluded.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR CONVENTION

Kappa Phi Holds Meeting to Nominate Officers and Plan Future Work

Kappa Phi, national Methodist women's organization, held a meeting last Monday to present nominations for new officers and to discuss plans for the Delta Kora convention which will be held in Moscow, June 18 to 22.

Delta Kora includes Kappa Phi chapters at the University of California, Berkeley; University of Washington, Seattle; University of Wyoming, Laramie; College of Puget Sound, Tacoma; and a chapter just installed at the San Jose Teacher's college. Each chapter is planning to send delegates. Ethlyn O'Neal is Kora president.

The nominating committee submitted the following report: William Mitchell, president; Helen Martin, vice president; Mildred Carson, recording secretary; Judith Crites, corresponding secretary; Mary Jane Pace, treasurer; Alice Bell, historian; and Alene Riley, chaplain. The election will be held next Monday.

Edna Scott, president of the local chapter, briefly described the convention program which has been planned. The delegates will stay at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, and most of the meetings will be held there. A picnic, either a beach party at Lewiston or a trip to Lake Chatcolet, and a formal banquet are included in the program. At each breakfast, lunch, and dinner a different chapter will

SPECIAL FEATURES ADDED TO SCHOOL

Summer Term Will Have Three Week Camp Music Program

Three summer schools in one will be held here during the six weeks between June 12 and July 20, reports Dean J. F. Messenger, summer session director.

The 1934 summer term, the twenty-second in the university's history, will feature specialized work in education and public school music. Six distinguished visiting faculty members, nationally recognized in their respective fields, will supplement the resident teaching staff. Music Section New

Entirely new in Idaho will be work in band and orchestra conducting, combined with a three-week summer camp program for high school musicians. Dates for the summer camp are June 18 to July 6. High school students who are admitted will play in a demonstration band and orchestra, and in addition will attend music classes of their own grade. Enrollment for the summer camp may tax the university's dormitory facilities to capacity.

A two-week short course for county superintendents, inaugurated as a summer school feature in 1931, will be given June 18 to June 29. This unique course last year attracted 35 of the 44 county superintendents in the state.

The university bulletin for the summer session has been printed and is now available at the registrar's office to those who are interested in attending the short term.

BASEBALL FANS NOTICE

Vandals Open Conference Season In Clash With W. S. C. Here This Afternoon

New Men In Idaho Lineup Show Promise; Speirs Will Start

The Idaho Vandals start the conference baseball this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when they clash with big Buck Bailey's Cougar outfit on MacLean field. Both clubs report highly successful pre-conference seasons and are itching for action.

Rich Fox's home run-hitting crew led by Bill Katslometes (it's pronounced Cat-sill-meets) will be up against a pitching staff well tempered with conference experience. W. S. C. has five veterans lettermen on the mound this year, led by Irvine, the chucker who practically handcuffed the Vandal batters in the games he pitched last year. He will probably start against Idaho today.

Speirs Will Start
 Nell "Ace" Speirs will assume mound duties for the Vandal nine and attempt to take up his work where he left off in the final game last year with W. S. C. in which he pitched air-tight ball to win Idaho's only victory over the Cougars, 7 to 2.

Newcomers to the Vandal squad who will probably start today's game are: Bob Leute, Pocatello, second base; Wally Geraghty, Spokane, shortstop; Barney "Barrymore" Anderson, Lewiston, third base; and Bill Katslometes, Pocatello, left field. Veterans on the lineup include Clarence McNeely, catcher, Les Albee, first base; Cy Geraghty, Paul Anderson, and Bill Kleiner, fielders.

McKay Gone
 Bailey has a veteran lineup over in the Pullman camp, with every position filled with lettermen except the catching post, left vacant by McKay, who joined a pro league this season. They beat Idaho five out of six last year, but Fox says his 1934 outfit is the best he's ever had, and he has something that's been missing in Idaho teams for a long time—hitting power. Some of the boys are getting so they aren't satisfied unless they pound out at least one home run every game, and their combined efforts have resulted in a new high for pre-season circuit clouts.

Katslometes is the boy the Pullman pitchers are going to have to ward off. He's one swell felder and has a nice throwing arm but you forget all that when he gets up to bat. If he doesn't slam out a home run you know it's a three-bagger, and if it isn't a three-bagger, it's a walk—for pitchers are wary of giving the Galloping Greek a chance to hit. Every game he has been improving and should be in fine shape for tomorrow.

Tomorrow the teams play a return game over at Pullman. Lefty Naslund will chuck for Moscow. Naslund is the only southpaw on the team except Paul Anderson, and is a sophomore. Last year he showed fine promise as a pitcher on the frosh squad. Wes Shurtliff will probably take over third base. Shurtliff is a veteran on the Idaho squad, having been on the team for two years. He hails from Pocatello.

DIVERS TO HOLD FOURTH FROLIC
 The fourth annual Hell Divers' carnival will be held next Monday and Tuesday evenings starting at 7:30 o'clock at the university pool. Last year's carnival was a big success, and the Hell Divers believe that this year's will be the best carnival they have ever presented.

A new feature this year is the exhibition of water formations. These include star formations, underwater formations, and chain divers. The university's best swimmers will demonstrate the technique and form of many standard swimming strokes. New and daring dives, water polo, and both individual and crew racing will also form part of the entertainment, while water clowns will furnish the amusement.

The Hell Divers' motto for the carnival is: "If it can be done in the water, it will be done at the carnival."

Pitches Today

FRANCES DUSAULT, the "I" club queen, who will pitch the first ball in the conference opener with W. S. C. today at 3 o'clock. Nel's Fowles, past president of the lettermen's club, will be at the catcher's post to receive the sizzling horsehide, and Orville Schmitz, president, will officiate at the umpire's position.

IDAHO TRACK MEN LEAVE FOR MEET

Coach Otto Anderson Takes Strong Team to Compete Against Whitman

This afternoon at 1:15, twenty-one members of the Vandal track and field squad leave for Walla Walla to compete with Whitman's cinder men on Saturday afternoon in their first non-conference dual meet of the season. Such an early spring has placed the squad weeks ahead of last year's track men and with some of the best material ever produced at Idaho on the squad, Coach Otto Anderson believes that this year's team will be the strongest he has ever had at the University of Idaho. "I am very much pleased with the showing of the team," said Anderson. "Time trials run off last week showed that the squad has developed into a strong scoring team that has strong entries in every event."

Whitman Strong
 The Missionaries have one of the strongest teams they have had for several years, being especially strong in the sprints, hurdles, two mile run and high jump. The of their men have been running the century in ten seconds and another has been jumping over six feet consistently.

With captain Jim Kalbus setting the pace the Vandal tracksters should not have a great deal of trouble in taking the meet. Kalbus has been running the hundred in 10 seconds while Livingston will out several seconds from the two minute mark in the half and Luvaas will run the 440 below 50. Squance, being one of the best hurdlers in the northwest should take the timber events while Berg and McCue will make good showings in the weights.

Idaho Well Represented
 Those making the trip are: Kalbus, 100, 220, relay; Ward, 100, 220; Felton, 440, relay; Luvaas, 440, relay; Livingston, 880, relay; Brown, 880, relay; Ridings, 880; Arnett, 440; Bowler, mile; Klingler, mile; Pearson, 2 mile; Parker, 2 mile; Squance, hurdles; McCue, shot put, discuss; Berg, shot put, discuss; Moser, discuss; LeGore, high jump, broadjump; Newhouse, pole vault; Rich, pole vault; Wise, javelin; Crowe, javelin.

VARSIETY GOLF NOTICE

The varsity golf team will play 18 holes qualifying round Saturday, April 28, at 9 o'clock. All men interested in golf are urged to try out for the qualifying round. Contestants are to turn in their cards to Bill Lewis, Kappa Sigma house, not later than Saturday night. Following the qualifying round, two matches will be played next week to determine the final places on the team.

Idaho Players Compete for Prizes Offered by Moscow Businessmen

Idaho baseball players will be "on their toes" in this afternoon's conference opener with Buck Bailey's Cougars for 11 valuable prizes that Moscow merchants are donating to the players who make the various "first" and "best" records.

This is the first stunt of the kind that has been put on for the Vandal outfit in many years, and reports from the dressing room in the Memorial gym indicate that

From Hats to Haircuts
 Hats, haircuts, ties, belts—even a subscription to the local daily are included in the donations of the Moscow businessmen.

The complete list of prizes and how they will be won follows:

NEW MEMBERS TO BE HONORED

In honor of the twelve new men who have been awarded minor sports sweaters for winning matches in intercollegiate competition, the minor "I" club will meet Monday night at the S.A.E. house. The men who have won the awards have represented the university in boxing, fencing, and wrestling.

The new style minor "I" sweater, red with a red "I" on a white background, will be ordered by a majority of the winners although the boxers have asked for the old style white coat sweater. The sweaters will arrive in about two weeks.

Wrestlers who have won the award are: Earl Eggers, Post Falls; Ronald Wilson, Burley; Earl Leatham, Rawlins, Wyo.; Paul Berg, Idaho Falls; and Jack Barbee, Shoshone.

Fencers winning the award are: Bob Harris, Puummer; Raymond Weston, Spokane; Hugo Kraemer, Albany, New York; and Frank Bevington, Boise.

Boxing awards will be given to: Louis August, Spokane; Louis Denton, Kimberley; and Morrey Fickes, Boise.

UNIVERSITY HOLDS ANNUAL FESTIVAL

The University of Nevada recently held its twenty-first celebration in honor of the university's most generous benefactors, the famous Mackay family. The day had many attractive features. A women was chosen to be Mackay day queen by Bing Crosby, who picked her photograph from the nine submitted to him. In the morning they worked from 8 o'clock until 11 o'clock. They then had a tug of war, a baseball game, and in the evening they had a dance. They also had carried on a beard contest, which terminated on that day, and prizes were awarded before the best beards.

FOOTBALL TAKES SPOTLIGHT MAY 4

Calland Busy Lining Up Squad for Annual Tilt With Alums

Getting set for the annual tilt with the "Has Beens" on May 4 is the task assigned to Coach Leo Calland's '34 football squad this week and next. This week's final scrimmage took place last night. Culminating a month of practice on fundamentals and passing, last night's scrimmage saw the Red team, which Coach Calland plans to use against the alums, pitted against the White squad.

Five yearlings have won places on the Red club, Clarence Devlin and Ross Sundberg having copped the quarter and fullback assignments, Earl Ritzhelmer an end post, John Cooper a guard position, and Hall filling in the middle of the line at center. Veterans who will be facing their former teammates on May 4 are Norm

Iverson, end, Harold Klumb, and Bob Moser, tackles, Chick Wilson, guard, and Russ Honsowetz and Paul Berg at the two halfback positions.

FROSH SHOW STUFF ARE BEST IN YEARS

The number of yearlings facing the Alums is almost unprecedented at Idaho, as in former years a lack of good frosh material has been the rule rather than the exception. Cooper, under-slung linesman, is one of the surprise finds of the spring practice, reports Coach Calland. He tips the scales at 190 pounds in spite of his only average height and is being developed into the submerging type of linesman, who starts low and comes up, and is giving every promise of developing into an excellent guard.

Devlin, successor to the fleet-footed Willis Smith in the signal-calling post, is showing up well, and Sundberg, thundering Swede from Idaho Falls, is pounding the line to good advantage in scrimmages so far. Ritzhelmer, stout-legged wingman, is looking good at the end of the line, and Hall is doing nice work at the pivot position.

ALUMS GET BREAKS; USE PRO-GRID RULES

The squad, headed by "Will of the Wisp" Smith and John Norby, and including Orville Schmitz, Aels Fowles, Harry Jacoby, Lee, Tyrrell, Laverne Randall, Doug Cordon, Russ Garst, Oliver Davis, George Hoggan, and Max Eiden, will play under the national professional football rules, which allow the ball-packer to keep running if he slips to one knee, and allow passes from any place behind the line. That, coupled with the general high calibre of the Alums should go far toward making the annual fracas a tiff of the first water.

Next week's spring football schedule calls for practice on fundamentals and passing with an occasional scrimmage in preparation for the big game next Friday.

CLUB SHELF BOOKS GO ON SALE TODAY

The English club announces the sale of the books on the club shelf which is being closed for the semester. All students who have books out are asked to return them between 10 and 11 a. m. Wednesday at the club table.

The sale starts immediately and there will be many good books available. The new books such as "Anthony Adverse" by Allen, "The Bird of Dawning" by Masefield, and "Four Days Wander" by Milne will sell at a higher price while all others will cost but 20 cents.

Some of the books to be sold are "The Limestone Tree" by Hergesheimer, "Shadows on the Rock" by Cather, "The Burning Bush" by Undset, and many others.

TRIES FOR COMPACTNESS
 Stanford does its best to be compact. All the professors have homes on the campus. A private elementary school has been built for the children of the professors on the campus.

If a professor wants to build a home on the campus, he can borrow money without interest from the university and does not have to repay it for 20 years.

H. S. TRACK MEN COMPETE HERE

Lewiston Enters Only Full Team; Troy Athlete Chief Attraction

High school track athletes from 14 high schools will compete tomorrow on MacLean field in the annual North Central district track meet. Preliminary heats in the sprints and hurdles will be held starting at 10 a. m., and the finals will start at 2 p. m.

Winners of the first three places in each event will qualify for the North Idaho district track meet to be held here May 5. They will be competing against corresponding winners in the Panhandle meet which is also scheduled for Saturday at Kellogg.

High schools entering teams in the meet here Saturday are: Bovill, Deary, Potlatch, Moscow, Troy, Lewiston, Lapwal, Genesee, Guldacs, Orofino, Grangeville, Kooskia, Kamiah, and Elk River. Each team may enter two men in each event.

The main attraction of the meet will be the exploits of Troys' lanky star, Johnson, who is a one-man track team if there ever was one. Last year in the North Central district meet, Johnson won first place in the javelin, discus, shotput, and high jump events, and a week later in the North Idaho district meet he took first in all three weight events again and tied for second in the high jump.

Reports from Troy say that Johnson has already broken, in practice, the Idaho state record in the discus with a heave of 136 feet, a mark only a foot short of the record of the varsity tossers this year.

GOLFERS TO PLAY QUALIFYING ROUND

The Idaho golf team has started to get in shape for the coming season. At a meeting of the squad last Monday the golfers decided that each person desiring to compete must play 18 holes of medal play tomorrow. This medal play will qualify the men for the match play which will be held a week from tomorrow, May 5. The match tournament will settle the rank of the players for the season. Those who fail to make a place on the team but who make a good score will be added to the team as reserves.

Bill Lewis, Curt Mann, and Alex Morgan, last year lettermen, will be the mainstays on the 1934 team. Lewis is expected to be the leading man again this year as he was last. No definite schedule has been drawn up as yet, but the team will likely have at least two matches with W. S. C. and possibly some with other outside teams. The unusual weather has given the boys a chance to get started much earlier this year than ever before. All men who are interested are urged to turn out by Leo Calland for the medal tournament.

Boy Athlete Has Versatile Ability In Track Events

Donald Johnson, 17-year-old Troy high school senior, who competes here tomorrow afternoon in the North Central district track meet, is a handy man with the weights. He came down from his village the other day for a little trout on MacLean field, and forgetting to bring his own 12 pound shot, he glommed onto Ap Berg's favorite sixteen pounder. By way of a little exercise, he started slinging the iron ball around the lot, making an average heave of 41 feet and some odd inches for the afternoon, one put going as far as 41 feet and 9 inches.

Donald, commonly called the "one man track team," took first place in the shotput, javelin, discuss, and high jump events at the North Central district meet last year, and first in the shotput, javelin, and discus events in the North Idaho meet as well, having to be content with a tie for second place in the high jump. Measuring 6 feet inches in height, and weighing in at 185 pounds, the "weight-throwin' kid" also plays center on the Troy high school basketball squad.

RAIN HALTS GAME
 Tuesday's baseball game with Whitman was rained out. The Vandals were apparently on their way to a victory by a sizeable margin over their last opponents of the pre-conference season. Whitman had scored two runs and Idaho seven when the rain started to make mud pie of the ball diamond. The game was called off at the end of the fourth inning.
