A Cry For "Elbow Room"

As information to Idaho students who are not acquainted with studentbody activities and as a reminder to those who are, The Argonaut loudly points out the fact that we have only one office designed to accommodate those activities. The door of Room 202, Memorial gymnasium, bears a glass plate which announces: "Associated Students, Argonaut, Blue Bucket, Gem of the Mountains." The printing on that door clearly explains the point which we are driving at.

In 1928 the gymnasium was built at a cost of half a million dollars. It was thought there would be plenty of room available there for most everybody who desired an office. However, after the athletic and military departments comfortably arranged themselves in three-fourths of the building space, little room was left for activities of which we speak.

For many years The Argonaut editorial office was the Moscow Daily Star-Mirror office downtown. After the gym was built the office downtown continued to be the editorial room for The Argonaut reportorial staff for the simple reason that the editors felt they could not put out a newspaper in a room which was crowded with every other studentbody activity.

Before the present university post office was installed in the "U" hut, plans were being formulated to turn it into a student union building which would house the graduate manager, the executive board, and include private and individual rooms for each of the three studentbody publications.

Continually hoping that something could be done about the dreadful situation, we have used that public room in the gym as our office all of this year. It has not been too uncomfortable, but the condition certainly is not becoming to a university the size of this which has as many and as diversified activities as we have. Attempts were made at different times throughout the year to secure another office, to trade with some department, or even to build a partition in some university building in order to make the work of issuing student publications more comfortable and more convenient. Nothing could be done.

Now, four coaches have two large offices on the main floor. Below us four or five rooms along the hall are occupied by the military department. The fifth is the coaches dressing room. In contrast with that commodious arrangement, three publications, the executive board, and the studentbody president humbly occupy Room 202.

The situation becomes even more abominable when one views with envy the studentbody publications offices at Oregon State college, University of Washington, University of Oregon, or any other that he might choose at will. Something will have to be done here sooner or later if we are in a veiled competitive field with some of the best student publications in the United States.

Let's Agree On One Thing

Amid the heat of the ASUI election next Thursday, when party strife and differences will reach a climax, students on both sides of the political fence will have a chance to agree on an important point by casting their votes for a proposed amendment to the constitution. It concerns the awards that are given by the ASUI to winners of the minor sports "I."

In a recent issue of The Argonaut, the need for a higher class sweater for our minor sports athletes was pointed out. Proper action has since been taken, and now it is up to the students to decide whether or not they want to present the winners of the minor "I" with awards that are suitable for the amount of work and time they devote in earning the honor. The Argonaut advocates voting next Thursday favorable to the proposed amendment. Use your vote to help "dress up" our minor sports letterwinners.

A Statement On Student Politics

The following is a partisan statement on student politics. It represents an answer from the United Students party to a statement of the Campus party carried in the Argonaut in a recent issue. It is not, however, a refutation of that or any other statement of that party. The viewpoints of the two groups are so far apart that comparison of aims or purposes would be futile.

As usual on the Idaho campus, there are two so-called political groups. One of them, the Campus party, began a year ago with ideas that one must admit were worthwhile and commendable. That party was able to convince the student body that it should have a chance to put them into effect. Through one year that organization has been in a position to carry out its proposals of a year ago. But, as though drunk with power, that group has now turned to the matter of elections purely for the election's sake. Their every effort is toward the selfish aggrandizement of this or that group. The Campus party has become more of a political machine, with less to commend it, than any other organization ever seen on this campus.

The United Students party, it is true, is in every respect a political party in set-up and appearance. Yet, it is submitted, it at least has the virtue of representing the legitimate object for political parties on this campus should exist, rather than sailing under false colors by hiding personal and group greed under a plea that they will reform the campus and out Roosevelt Roosevelt. The United Students party has put forward no platforms based upon wild ideas about running things which, as a matter of fact, do not belong to the students to run. The party realizes that the primary function of student officers is to represent the university with honesty and dignity. The chief endeavor of the executive board should be to further the interests of the university by providing an efficient and harmonious cooperation in all events. Despite the cries of other political groups, any student who considers the matter knows that the power of student officers is limited by much larger considerations. What the student body spends, where its representatives go, what improvements in buildings and other university affairs are made depend upon the officials of the university. Every chance to further the interests of the university in every department is taken by those university officials. To talk big, to cry about reforms which the students will make is as important and as effective as any group of poodles barking at a Mack truck would be.

In other words, the objects of student government can be best served by a willingness to run the things which come before them with harmony and dispatch. The United Students party has been picked this year with such a purpose in mind. Its candidate for student body president is unhampered by political connections. He owes no allegiance to this or any other party, but he is supported because he can work with the other candidates on the ticket to make the efforts of student body officers more in line with the only useful purpose for which student officers can exist.

Without the fanfare, without the bogus letters, without the buttons, the United Students party offers a program a little more sane and reasonable, a little nearer the level upon which student political affairs should be placed, than has been offered for a good many years.

After all, it isn't terribly serious—this matter of who gets what, but there is a time and a place for everything. This, may we suggest, is the time for less yapping about refers (which turn out to be for selfish purposes.) It is also the time for a capable, honest administration which will put political affairs in the place to which they rightfully belong in relation to the rest of the university.

Mason-Dixon Gal Intrigued by Our Wild and Woolly West

Isn't there somewhere in this university a student who would like to correspond with a 19-year-old brunette in Virginia? If so, here is his grand opportunity, for a letter addressed "To Whom It May Concern, Moscow, Idaho," expresses her desire to learn about the wild and woolly West. The only other writing on the envelope was the entreaty to "please make delivery."

After confessing that she has never been farther than the Mississippi river, she continues as follows: "I am a third year student at Randolph-Macon Women's college, Lynchburg, Virginia. I am five feet one inch tall, have dark brown hair, blue eyes. I am majoring in chemistry and minoring in physics. That's just enough about me, What about you (??) Please write and tell me all about yourself and your part of the country. For I am very interested in the West. Sincerely Lila Kilby, Box 223, R.M.W.C., Lynchburg, Virginia."

And by the way, anyone who plans to answer this enterprising maiden might be interested in knowing that an analysis of her handwriting shows her most outstanding qualities to be simplicity, perseverance, diplomacy, generosity, and tenderness.

Hawk-Eye On Duty

Looked over the top of the dark glasses at Junior Week and saw Dick Burke trying to be a drummer. Bobby Leute throwing dead fish at the actors in the assembly. Bob Setters on the campus and on the Bucket floor. Culp looking like big business in his "drunken" pastry cook (Stude baker to you). Hopp, Budge, and Elden having a meeting. Morris and Goss cradled in the arms of justice. Elinor Jacobs being tripped up at the Cabaret. Bill Willis having trouble maintaining his equilibrium. Breen and Riley promising to assist in campus love affair. Felton and Nicholson on the crossroads. Jack O'Neil moping the D. G. front porch. Margaret Goode and Winnie Galaway looking bored at the cabaret. Jack Brett bared on the campus for a short visit. Don Harris in session with the district attorney. Spokane Catherine's down for the Cabaret. Hope to see you publicity hounds again some time.

At the Kenworthy—Lionel Barrymore, master of make-up, has a new type of characterization in "Carolina," the production with Janet Gaynor, Robert Young, Henrietta Crossman, Richard Cromwell, Mona Barrie, and Stepin Fetchit. As "Uncle Bob" Connelly, Barrymore portrays an old southern gentleman, the hero of a lost cause, who, grieving for the sweetheart of his youth, lives only in the past. No other actor in Hollywood is as adept with make-up as Barrymore. He looked like a frail little fellow in "The Copperhead," and like a giant in "The Jest." His dominating "Jeff Kean" in "Washington Masquerade" and his timid, ailing "Kringelein" in "Grand Hotel" make it difficult for one to believe that the same man played them. The role of "Uncle Bob" in "Carolina" will add a brand new characterization to Barrymore's long list.

SKETCHES GIVEN HONOR MENTION

Fredericka Smith, junior in home economics, was notified this week that she had won honorable mention in a national dress design contest sponsored by Marshall Field & Company of Chicago.

Approximately 6500 sketches were entered in the contest by home economics students representing 254 colleges and universities. Several prominent fashion authorities who judged the sketches were intrigued with the original way in which Miss Smith trimmed a white sports dress. Twenty or more winning designs will be made up by the company and sold to the trade this spring.

Miss Smith, whose home is in Seattle, worked out the details of her entry in a design class under the direction of Miss Marion Featherstone, instructor in home economics.

Cabaret Finishes Rare Junior Week

Junior Week is once again a thing of the past, with a lovely prom and a lively cabaret now mere notations in some collegiate diary. But with the closing of Junior week, there is much to look forward to in the Miami Triad dance to be held Saturday at the Bucket. That same night will be the Theta and S. A. E. formal. Friday night the frosh class will give their annual mixer—so it looks like there will be no "let-up" in social activities until the closing of school.

Tropical Motif Used at Prom

The Blue Bucket dance floor was changed into a "cocoanut grove," with a sky ceiling studded with stars, banks of flowers, and colored lights to give an outdoor atmosphere. The tropical motif was further carried out in the programs, which were of silver with a black cocoanut tree in relief on the cover. Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Neale, Dean Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Day, Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford, Dean and Mrs. J. W. Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain, and Dr. F. C. Church.

Cabaret Closes Full Junior Week

A most successful Junior week was brought to a close by the Junior Cabaret held Saturday night at the Blue Bucket. Both the upstairs and downstairs rooms of the Bucket were used and decorated with a variety of colored balloons

In addition to the decorations used for the prom. Favors of all kinds were presented shortly after the "floor show", which was an added attraction. Music was provided by the Blue Bucket orchestra and Charles McConnell's band. Patrons and patronesses were: Dean Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bover, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. DuSault, Lieut. and Mrs. John Sheehy, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hickman, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain.

Pi Phi Give Joint Luncheon

The Pi Beta Phi garden was an attractive setting for the joint founders' Day luncheon of the Idaho and W.S.C. chapters. A large number of W.S.C. members and alumnae were guests of the Idaho chapter for the Saturday afternoon. After the luncheon, Mrs. R. M. O'Day, vice-president of the Spokane Alumnae club gave a short talk on the Pi Beta Phi convention to be held this year. Singing and a stunt by the Idaho chapter concluded the meeting.

Guests at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Sunday afternoon were: Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Campbell and family, Rosalia, Wash.; and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hersey, Lenore.

Alpha Chi Omega honored its initiates at a formal banquet Tuesday. Miss Ellen Rlerson acted as toastmistress with Ruth Kehrer, Betty Jean Fisher, Marjorie L'Herrison, and Barbara Mockler giving responses. The initiates are: Barbara Mockler, Boise, and Helen Blackaby, Homedale.

Harriet Wallace, Boise; and Mildred Kelley, Walla Walla, were weekend guests at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Margaret Barton, Spokane; Mary LeGore, Coeur d'Alene; and Frances McMonigle, Boise, were weekend guests at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Catherine O'Neil, Coeur d'Alene, and Helen Porter, Boise, were weekend guests of Delta Gamma.

A breakfast was given in honor of the Delta Gamma seniors by the members of the chapter. At the breakfast each senior was presented with a crested ring. Guests were Catherine O'Brien, and Mrs. William Guernsey, Spokane.

Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta were: Mrs. E. L. Stickney, Mrs. Edward Falk, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bower, St. Maries.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Newman, John Breckenridge, Curtis Eaton, Twin Falls; Helyn Newman, Merle Fisher, and John McKibbin, Moscow, were dinner guests of Phi Delta Theta Sunday.

PLEDGE WOMEN IN JOURNALISM

Christine Orchard, Elva Anderson, and Mary K. Riley Chosen by Theta Sigma

Three women, Christine Orchard, Elva Anderson, and Mary Katherine Riley, were pledged Monday noon at a luncheon of Theta Sigma, local Journalism honorary, held at the Blue Bucket Inn. Miss Orchard and Miss Anderson are both sophomores, and Miss Riley is a first semester junior. All are majoring in Journalism, and have been members of The Argonaut staff for two years.

Mary Axtell was elected by the honorary as editor of the annual Theta Sigma Argonaut which is scheduled this year to be published on Friday May 11. Only members and pledges will be in charge of the production of this edition. Miss Axtell and Frances Hanley, managing editor, will be in charge of the following which have been announced: Fern Paulsen, copy desk editor; Jean Kingsbury, society; Marjorie Druding, sports editor; Marjorie Wurster, columns and features; and Virginia Merrick, exchange.

Sock Eye On Duty

(With Apologies to Hawkeye)

The old eye's been paster back stage these days—and what an eyeful—Liz Nail in a cellophane costume—Marion Dresser out in her night clothes—Conner and Hersey as connecting-rods making the wheels go round—Lib Thompson regaling herself with stereoptical views—a gang of girls shaking their fists at an empty pipe organ balcony—Mary Axtell coyly having a row with the boy friend—Some fem yelling, "Boom! Kill the White Men"—wonder who done her wrong—Dole and Viv Wilson engaging in hair pulling and audible face slapping—Preuss out-inebriating Koch—a recently pledged Cardinal Keyer shaking a mean hip—about sixty girls in the whole show—guess we'll have to go see what it's all about Friday night—Taps and Terps.

WOMEN WIN BY ONE POINT

In a recent rifle match the women's team, having a fifty point handicap, won from the boy's rifle team by one point. This was the first time in three years that the girls have won.

The competing teams were composed of the first ten high on each team and the match was shot from prone position.

Rumors exist that the winners will be given a dinner by the losers.

SURPRISE GIVEN BY ENGAGEMENT

Julia Hoover Announces Engagement to Wilder Deal, Former Student

Delta Gammas and their guests were surprised Sunday morning at their Senior breakfast when Julia Hoover announced her engagement to Wilder Deal. During the breakfast Miss Hoover made the traditional run around the table meeting her mother, Mrs. T. A. Hoover, who placed the ring on her finger. Tiny baskets of flowers on which were cards bearing the names "Pat and Judy" were then presented to each guest.

Miss Hoover who is well known on the campus is a senior in the home economics department. Mr. Deal who is now in Portland, Oregon, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Scabbard and Blade.

The date for the wedding has not been set.

Students at the Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Indian, have fired the opening gun in a campaign for the privilege of playing tennis on Sunday.

4th YEAR CLASS PLANS ASSEMBLY

Ames Announces Tentative Plans For Class Affair Scheduled For Late in May

Not to be outdone by any class on the campus, the seniors will present an assembly "what is an assembly" some time during the latter part of May, according to Bill Ames, chairman of the senior assembly committee.

Although the exact nature of the presentation is not quite definite, Ames has appointed a special committee to write a skit for the occasion. He stated, however, that there will be a large stage orchestra which will be organized at a later date. Several new and tricky arrangements have been ordered which will not only feature the orchestra itself but soloists and ensembles.

"The idea of a senior assembly has been dead for quite some time and the class of 1934 is going to see to it that this idea is resurrected in an admirable fashion. We've got plenty of good material to make this assembly a thing to be remembered," concluded Ames.

PATRICIA KENNARD PRESENTS RECITAL

Patricia Kennard, graduate student of the music department with the class of '34, will present her graduate concert recital tonight in the university auditorium at 8 o'clock.

- The program she will play follows:
  - Aria in E..... Porpora
  - Praeludium and Allegro..... Pagnani Kreisler
  - Concerto No. 4 in D minor..... Vieuxtemps
  - Adagio Religioso Finale..... Marziale
  - Romanza Andaluza..... Sarasate
  - Evening..... Yost
  - Canzonetta..... d'Ambrosio
  - Rodine, (on a theme by Beethoven)..... Kreisler
  - Gipsy Dance..... Nachez

PLANS COMPLETED FOR JITNEY DANCE

Further plans were made for the Spur Jitney dance to be held May 8 at a meeting of the committee Friday afternoon at the Kappa house. Dorothy Dole, chairman of the dance, stated that tickets would go on sale Tuesday, May 1, and that, as in the first dance of open are: Gamma Phi, Theta, Pi Phi, Kappa, women will invite the Phi, and Alpha Chi. Dancing will be from 9 o'clock to 11, and as it is an open night preceding Campus occasion, and each will represent a different country. Those to be ed.

Vandals Take First Meet of Season From Whitman

Final Count Is 87 to 44; Sprint Finishes Furnish Thrills; Ward is High Point Man

Thoroughly proving their superiority in both track and field events, the Idaho Vandals almost doubled the score on the Whitman Missionaries by walking off with their first dual track meet of the 1934 season, 87 to 44, last Saturday at Walla Walla. Although the Whitman track was slow, perfect weather conditions greeted the Idaho tracksters, and some fair times resulted.

Whitman's cinder luminaries took but three firsts and tied for another during the afternoon. Schneller, the Missionary speed merchant, won the hundred in the closest finish seen in Walla Walla in years, all four runners finishing neck and neck, with big "Swede" Ward of Idaho losing by a bare six inches. Carpenter, Missionary hurdler, who heretofore has always defeated Squance, Idaho timber-topper, managed only a second in both hurdle events.

Ward high scorer
 Ward was high point man of the meet with 12 points by virtue of first places in the broad jump, a tie for first in the 220-yard dash, and a second place in the 100-yard dash. He was closely followed by Squance, who made 10 points in the hurdle events.

The summaries:
 100-yard dash—Schneller first, Ward second, Kalbus third; time, 10 flat.

Shot put—Berg first, McCure second, Nelson third; distance, 45 feet 10 inches.

Discus throw—McCue first, Baker second, Nelson third; distance, 134 feet 9 1/2 inches.

220-yard dash—Graham and Ward tied for first, Kalbus third; time, :22.2.

Broad jump—Ward first, McCully second, LeGore third; distance, 21 feet 6 3/4 inches.

Two-mile run—Tugam first, Pearson second, Parker third; time, 10:26.2.

Javelin throw—Wise first, Nelson second, Billingsley third; distance, 164 feet 10 inches.

220-yard low hurdles—Squance first, Carpenter second, Smith third; time, :25.2.

880-yard run—Brown first, Ridings second, Barnett third; time, 2 minutes 4 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—Squance first, Carpenter second, Smith third; time, :25.2.

VANDALS LEAVE FOR COAST TRIP

Fox's Boys Entrain Tonight at 6:45; Will Play Six Games in Seven Days

Coach Rich Fox's Vandal baseball players leave tonight to play six conference games on the Pacific coast. Their first game will be with the University of Oregon Ducks. Fifteen men will make the trip. This trip will take the Vandals through six crucial conference contests, two games each with Oregon, Oregon State, and Washington. Wednesday and Thursday they take on Oregon at Eugene. Friday and Saturday they play Oregon State at Corvallis, resting at Portland over Sunday. Then Monday and Tuesday they will be in Seattle fighting it out with the University of Washington.

Idaho players will be seen on coast diamonds for the first time in two years, and all the "barber shop unshavens" figure the Vandals have the strongest club since 1927.

TEACHERS WILL RUN WITH H. S. ATHLETES

The Vandal track team will meet its second opponent of the year next Saturday when the Cheney Normal track and field squad invade the Idaho camp. This meet is the last before conference season gets under way with the Vandals meeting Washington State at Pullman on May 12.

Ward, Kalbus, and Squance, who all proved heavy point winners in the meet with Whitman, are again expected to bring in their share of scoring. Jack LeGore, who won the high jump at Whitman by going 5 feet 8 inches, is expected to near the 6 foot mark which he has been attaining in practice.

The meet will be run off during the afternoon at the same time as the North Idaho District high school meet. Events will be run alternately, so a full afternoon of fast action is expected by Leo Calland and Otto Anderson, who will be in charge of the two meets.

Sixty-one men have applied for the position of football coach at Carnoll college to fill the position recently vacated by Glenn Thistlewaite.

SCHEDULE PICSKIN TILT FOR FRIDAY

Varsity "Has Beens" Will Meet "Will Bes" in 1934 Game

Idaho's first 1934 football game will give spectators a view of professional football rules as the varsity "Has Beens" meet the university "Will Bes" next Friday afternoon at a feature on the program of the North Idaho Vocational conference. Varsity and past varsity stars have been working out for several weeks in preparation for the battle and Coach Leo Calland expects that the two squads will be evenly matched. The "Has Beens" who have been coached by Red Jacoby, will play under professional rules while the coming varsity team will play only as permitted by national collegiate rules. Under professional rules a passer need not be five yards behind the line of scrimmage and a runner is not down when his knee hits the ground unless he is stopped by the opposing team.

Last Glimpse of Norby, Smith
 Fans will get their last glimpse of "Phantom" Willie Smith, "Big John" Norby, and other Vandal stars as they say good-bye for the last time on a Vandal gridiron. The future team members are expected to have their work out for them as they face the star-dotted lineup of the "Has Beens."

Rain or No Rain, 'Barrymore' Gets Chic Panama Hat Amid Scandalous Rumors

Barney "Barrymore" Anderson, scintillating third-sacker on Rich Fox's Vandal nine, is the proud possessor of a white Panama straw hat, complete with black ribbon and jaunty tilt to the brim—the ultra ultra in styles of what chic young third-basemen are wearing this season.

The reason behind all the flash of style?—It's that three-base clout that Barney lammed out in the first inning of Idaho's rained-out game with W.S.C. last Friday. Generous Moscow merchants, desiring to create some interest in the conference opener and give the Idaho boys something a little extra to work for, contributed prizes for the first home run, first hit, first put-out, etc. Barney, lead-off man in the Vandal lineup, promptly set out to collect a few of those prizes, and pounded the ball hard into center field.

Scandalous Rumor Circulates
 The blow might have been good for only two bases and half-soles at Spillman's Shoe shop if the Cougar fielder hadn't been so slow, or it might have been good for a homer and a haircut at Gossett's barber shop if Barney hadn't been so slow. A rumor is making the rounds that Barney had his eye on that Panama hat donated by the J. C. Penny company, and timed the whole play accordingly. At any rate, Barney pulled up at third base, having won, not only the straw hat, but a bottle of Rexall shaving lotion from the Owl Drug store for the first hit, and was soon to win a pair of Monito white socks from Creighton's for the first score.

Rain Balled Things Up
 When Umpire Dutch Altman called the contest "no game" in the fifth inning because of a sudden downpour of rain, the question arose whether or not to give the prizes for the "no game" performances. The Moscow merchants decided that it would be best to give the rest of the Idaho boys a chance at the prizes in a full nine-inning game, so the prizes will be at stake when Idaho plays W.S.C. here May 15.

But the Panama hat?... It just seemed too cruel to shut Barney out from all material gain for his fine performance at the plate in that first inning, so he was given the choice of any straw hat in J. C. Penny's store for his achievement, and another lesser prize will be put up for the batter collecting the first three-bagger in the next game.

So, vive la Barni! Panama hats might not be in style just yet, but they're always in style with good third basemen.

for baseball and track, of what will probably be the Vandal football machine next year, will be chosen by Coach Leo Calland to play on the "Will Be's" lineup. Full lineups for both teams will be announced in next Friday's Argonaut. Admission will be free.

"ONE-MAN TEAMS" STAR IN DISTRICTS

Lewiston and Wallace Win North Central and Panhandle Meets

Wallace and Lewiston won first places in the annual north Idaho sub-district track meets last Saturday at Kellogg and Moscow respectively. Naslund of Coeur d'Alene, was high point man in the Kellogg meet with 18 points garnered by firsts in the high hurdles and broad jump, seconds in the low hurdles and the high jump, and a tie for second in the pole vault. Don Johnson, the one-man track team from Troy, collected the entire 22 points scored by his team. The "iron man" took firsts in the discus, high jump, shot put, and javelin contests, and won a third in the broad jump.

Johnson bettered the existing state record in the shot put by one foot as he heaved the 12-pound shot 48 feet and 4 inches. The mark is just one foot farther than that set by Ritzheimer of Coeur d'Alene at the state meet two years ago, but will not stand as a state record, because it was not made in a state meet.

Naslund Stars
 Hugo Naslund, Coeur d'Alene's star, is a brother of Glen "Lefty" Naslund, varsity pitcher and basketball man. "Lefty's" brother is four-sport man and has been outstanding in each, achieving most of his fame on the basketball court and baseball diamond. He is a senior, and, like Johnson, is expected to join Idaho athletic ranks next year.

The winners of first, second, and third places in the two meets will compete in the North Idaho district meet on the university track here next Saturday. Winners at this meet will later compete in the state meet at Boise.

FORESTERS TO PLAY BALL
 At a meeting of the Associated Foresters held at Morrill hall last Friday night it was decided to organize a baseball team and a challenge from the Troy CCC camp was accepted. Fred Ahrenholtz was appointed manager and reports that his proteges are quickly rounding into a real ball club.

Plans for the annual barbecue were discussed and a committee appointed to complete plans for the annual event, which is to be held in the near future.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder... the cigarette that tastes better.

RAIN PUTS END TO OPENING CONTEST

Cougars Leading, 5 to 4, When the Downpour Came Friday

Idaho's opening conference series with W. S. C. was rained out last weekend. The first game scheduled for Moscow went four and-a-half innings plus two outs, but a sudden downpour of rain while Idaho was at bat in the last of the fifth caused Umpire "Dutch" Altman to call the contest off and declare it "no game." A wet field at Pullman on Saturday resulted in the cancellation of the return engagement also.

The Vandals were trailing 5 to 4, when the game was called. Idaho had a tying run on second.

Three Homers

The game was a slugfest as long as it lasted. Idaho batters nicked the Cougars star port-sider, Irving for two home runs and a three-bagger. Arbelbide pounded out one for Speirs' offerings for the Cougar's longest hit, scoring two men ahead of himself with a home run.

Idaho got the first four-bagger in the initial stanza when Kleiner, right fielder, hit a circuit clout to score Anderson, third sacker, ahead of him. Anderson got on with a triple. W. Geraghty, second base, clouted another homer to start Idaho's half of the second and Irving promptly left the box for the Cougars. Idaho got three more hits and a run off Houston, who followed as W.S.C. twirler.

Big Rally
 The visitors made their opening score in the second when Herrold, first base, singled and Fielder Ben-
