

Noisy Students Give Gridsters Lusty Send-Off

Frosh Taught Songs and Yells at Meeting Wednesday Night

Pep Band Leads Rally

Yell Leaders Enthusiastic Over Spirit Shown at Pep Meeting

University of Idaho students tried their lungs for the first time this year at two pep rallies this week. The first was Wednesday evening when more than 500 Frosh turned out for the freshman yell rally in the university auditorium. The meeting was principally for the purpose of oiling up the vocal cords of the new students and for teaching them the yells and songs. Paul Kerr, yell king stated that he was impressed with the spirit and cooperation of the freshman class. Kerr also introduced the two new yell dukes, Donald McKee and Otto Powers.

"The freshman class at the pep rally Wednesday night was the best behaved class of any that have been here for seven years. Hats off!"

Frosh Prexy Speaks

"It is my belief," says Kerr, "that the class of '38 has more potential pep and spirit than any other class that I have had experience with."

The frosh rally was opened by a short speech by Robert Mason, class president. Addressing his class for the first time he stated that it was his desire that the freshman class conduct itself in such a manner that the motto "Idaho Fights" will be upheld.

The second rally of the week was held last night at 5 o'clock and was for the purpose of giving the football team a send-off prior to the Idaho-Washington game which will be played Saturday in Seattle.

Pep Band Leads

The students were led at both rallies by the university Pep Band and escorted by the new university bus last night.

The parade began at the Gamma Phi Beta house and serpentine through the streets, stopping at the corner of Elm and Idaho streets to sing the Vandal songs and to give yells. Proceeding then to the depot, the students gave the team a number of lusty songs and yells in enthusiastic farewell.

The U. of I. Pep Band is making the trip to Seattle in the new university bus to be there with the team.

ENGLISH DEPT. HAS HIGH ENROLLMENT

Registration in the English department at the close of last week reached the unprecedented total of 1,570 students. Of this number, 678 were registered in English 1, and 50 were registered for English 2 classes, making a total freshman registration in the department of 728.

With the exception of several classes in composition for technical students and compulsory sophomore literature classes, the remaining 842 students are enrolled in purely elective courses.

Missouri U. Presidency Offer Just Rumor, Says M. G. Neale

"Interested Only in U of I," Was Education, Dean at Alma Mater

"I am not interested in any university presidency except that of the University of Idaho," said President M. G. Neale, Thursday, when asked about the reports that he was being considered for the presidency of the University of Missouri.

The newspaper reports coming out of Missouri are just rumors that always circulate when there is a vacancy in any university presidency. I have had no correspondence with any of the officials of Missouri in regard to the matter," said President Neale.

President Neale was dean of the University Pep Band Making Seattle Trip With Football Team

Twenty members of the University Pep Band left this morning for Seattle in the new university bus to attend the Idaho-Washington football game tomorrow afternoon.

The men making the trip are: Elburn Pierce, Paul Ennis, Jim Armour, Clarence Bell, Bob Seymour, Jack Gray, John Wright, Winston Goss, Harley Reckford, Frank Lutes, Fred Sanger, Bob Thompson, Morris O'Donnell, Ralph Radford, Jack Snodgrass, Bill Hudson, Jack Holt, Clayton Spar, Chuck D'Smore, and Otto Mosley.

It was decided that they should make the trip at the executive board meeting Tuesday. By traveling in the university bus, the cost will be cut down greatly, it was explained. Bob Campbell, leader of the Pep Band, stated that the band would give only one dance a week this year instead of two as they did last year and should net more than $100.

Since the Pep Band has gone to Seattle, they will not go South this year, the Vandaleers being entitled to that trip, it was further stated.

Schedule Six Issues For Blue Bucket

Dock Hogue, Editor, Explains Policies at First Staff Meet

The Idaho Blue Bucket, the university's humor magazine will be published six times this year instead of four, it was decided at the first Executive board meeting of the year. The meeting was held Tuesday at the Memorial gym.

The change in the number of issues of the humor magazine was brought about after a petition presented by Doc Hogue, editor of the Blue Bucket, had been accepted.

Three divisions of the petition were as follows:

1. Six issues of the Blue Bucket instead of four.
2. That the editor of the Blue Bucket be permitted to appoint an acting business manager and an acting circulation manager to serve until one is appointed by the Press club and the Executive board.

3. That a Blue Bucket pin be awarded to all members of the staff who in the opinion of the editor, business manager, circulation manager, and executive board are worthy of such an award. The pins are not to cost over two dollars and are to be paid for out of the funds of the ASUI.

Have Alumni News

Hogue explained that with the six issues instead of four, one third of each issue could be devoted to alumni news making it possible to sell a number of subscriptions to them. He expected that with this arrangement the Blue Bucket would pay for itself.

Hogue also brought out that appointments for business manager had not been made and that the circulation manager did not return to school so it was necessary that these appointments be made at once.

Saturday, October 6, to be "Dad's Day"

Now Seattle-Bound

THE NEW BUS left at 5 o'clock this morning laden with 20 members of the Pep Band, their leader, Bob Campbell, and what instruments were necessary to equip each man with at least on. The game, radio broadcasts, and a dance are on the bill of fare before they return Sunday.

PROFESSORS RECUPERATE

The condition of C. L. von Ende, professor of chemistry, who has been ill for several weeks, has improved in the last few days. Prof. Von Ende will not be able to resume his teaching at the university for several weeks at least.

Geoffrey Coupe, assistant in the department of English, returned from the hospital, Thursday, after an operation for appendicitis. He will return to the university next week.

Knights Pledge Fifteen New Men

Lukens and Kroll Elected as Junior Men; Plan Mixer

Fifteen new men were pledged to the Ball and Chain chapter of Intercollegiate Knights at their first meeting of the year last night at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Three of them are sophomores who will take the place of men who did not return to school and the rest are freshmen.

The men pledged and their affiliations are: Roy Gray and Lawrence Duffin, Beta Theta Pi; Jack Dyer and Mark Robinson, Kappa Sigma; Carl Esmay and Jack McKibben, Lindley Hall; Dick Hall, Sigma Nu; Bill Maclean, Alpha Tau Omega; Rex Painter, Delta Chi; James Perry, Sigma Chi; and Berry Kercheval, Delta Tau Delta.

Rodney Dean, Ridenbaugh hall; John Banks, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Lloyd Bow, Chi Alpha Pi; and Glenn Starlin, Phi Gamma Delta. Gray Dyer and McKibben take the place of men who did not return to school.

Before the pledging of the new men took place, the chapter elected two new Junior men for the coming year who will take office immediately. They are John Lukens and Herbert Kroll.

Frank Bevington, Duke of the chapter, announced the following appointments for committees: Homecoming chairman, Bill McCrea; assistant, Earl Bullock; football chairman, Kenneth Gosling; assistant Clyde Koonz; basketball, Herbert Kroll; assemblies, John Lukens; and activities and points, Mark Hegsted.

Make Plans

Plans for Homecoming activities were discussed and Duke Bevington stressed the fact that the organization should work hard this year to win the national chapter award for outstanding service again. The Idaho chapter has won the cup three times in the last four years.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICE

Compilation of names for the student directory will begin next week. Therefore all students who changed their addresses since they registered in the university should fill out a change of residence card immediately and it approved by the dean of women in the case of women students, or by Dr. E. E. Hubert, whose office is in Room 337 in Morrill hall in case of men, and file in the registrar's office. The filing of correct addresses not only is required by university regulations, but it is necessary if the student directory is to be correct, and if university authorities are to locate students in case of emergency calls.

At Illinois State Normal, when men visit the Girls' dormitory without dates, the women candidates drop their names into a punch bowl, whereupon the fellows draw and the evening is started.

ASUI Prexy Names Six Committees

Dean T. S. Kerr Retained as Faculty Advisor of Ex. Board

Dave Kendrick, ASUI president, announced at the executive board meeting held Tuesday at Memorial gymnasium that Bill Wetherill, vice president of the student body and Louis August, junior man with the highest number of votes, would serve on the discipline committee this year.

Dean T. S. Kerr will be retained as faculty advisor of the board.

The following committee appointments were accepted also at the meeting: Election committee: Norman Roberts, Hamer Budge, Mark Felt, Don Brown, Elaine Hersey, Homecoming: Paul Rust, Wilma Mitchell, Barbara Mockler, Brennan Davis, George Kline.

Assembly: John Aram, Ed Wood, Eileen O'Dea. Student affairs and relations: Keith McDaniels, Earl Hayes, Gertrude Oleson, Charlotte Kennedy, Harold Ellington. National Student Federation: Lee Senten, John Rubke, Herschell Swann, Betty Goodwin, Gretchen Woodcock. Rally: Paul Kerr, Otto Powers, Donald McKee.

Al Anderson was appointed night editor of the Argonaut.

Advance Yearbook Sales Surpass Former Records

Advance sales of the Gem of the Mountains, Idaho yearbook, made during registration week exceed sales made in any previous year according to Cecil Greathouse, business manager. Plans of the staff indicate that the "Gem" will come out during the middle of May instead of the latter part of the month.

"All appointments to the staff will be temporary," according to Robert Herriek, editor. The permanence of positions will depend entirely on the quality and willingness to work of the applicants.

No slackers will be tolerated on the staff. Of the 100 aspirants all will be given an opportunity to show their ability. Announcement of positions will be made in the Tuesday issue of The Argonaut.

Malin Assistant Editor

The majority of the first semester work, which consists mainly of preparing a layout and planning the second semester's work, will be done by the editor, the assistant editor, Maurice Malin, and the heads of the various departments. Much of this work has already been done by the editor and the assistant editor during the summer.

The actual writing and preparation of material for the printer will be done the second semester by the staff which is selected Tuesday.

Students at Montana State College merely apply to a student's dating bureau maintained for the purpose of pairing off couples.

Religious preferences of the University of Michigan students are divided among 35 creeds and denominations, according to a recent survey.

Southern Damsel Has Queer Idea of West; Writes About South

Is chivalry so dead in the breasts of our chemistry and physics students that they can no longer be moved by the appeals of a damsel in distress, even when she is a fellow scientist? Last spring when Ella Kibby, science major at Randolph-Macon Women's college, Lynchburg, Va., addressed a letter "To Whom It May Concern, Moscow, Idaho," asking some one in the "far westland" to tell her all about the wild and woolly west, not one of the five answers she received came from them. A rural mail carrier was the first to respond, and after the Argonaut published the letter, three men from the forestry and ag schools began what has since developed in to a regular correspondence.

In response to the fifth letter, Miss Kibby admitted, with some apologies, that her former idea of the West had been of country "very sparsely settled, many mountains, woods, and long deep rivers, the few inhabitants that I did imagine were of the backwoods type not particularly well-educated, that had the same customs and ideas for one generation after another."

Correcting the vague idea of the south put forward by her correspondent, Miss Kibby wrote that the South was not all organy dresses flitting over spacious lawns in front of rambling white homes situated on vast plantations infested by singing negro mammys accompanied by banjo playing."

Housing Problem Is Nearly Solved

Transform Lindley Hall to Hold Surplus of New Men Students

The housing problem at the university is gradually being solved by the authorities. The spacious attic of Lindley hall is now in the process of being transformed into sleeping and study rooms to accommodate the surplus freshman men, according to Robert F. Green, proctor of men.

It has been the practice to have two men to a room, using the room for both study and sleeping quarters. Under the new plan, three men will occupy each room and the beds will be moved to the proposed dormitory on the fourth floor. The "L" shaped attic measures 48 by 105 feet and allows for a 12 foot ceiling height. The wings on the two front corners are to be made into study rooms to accommodate at least four boys each.

Accommodate 60 More

This plan will be used only when the men are willing, of course, as there will be accommodations for about 60 men and 40 have already taken up the idea.

There are about 55 extra men now living in the crowded quarters at Lindley hall and about 30 living in various down town places, awaiting the completion of the additional living accommodations to enable them to live on the campus.

The estimated cost required for materials and extra furniture will be from $1000 to $1200 in addition to labor costs.

Women Have Room

Women in the university have had little or no trouble finding adequate housing facilities. Twenty-one are living in the College Girl's club, 80 in Forney hall, and 85 in Hays hall.

It is required that all girls having affiliations with a sorority live in their respective houses until after the fall pledging. All of the sororities are well filled but not overcrowded.

NOTICE

All students who entered the University of Idaho as undergraduates are required to take an English test if they have not transferred credit in English 1, and a psychological examination if they entered without advanced standing. Such students who did not take these examinations on September 17, have been ordered by the academic council to appear on Saturday morning, September 29, in Ad. 311, for examinations as follows: English test 9:00 a. m. Psychological exam 10:30 a. m. In case of conflicts with scheduled courses written notification from the registrar's office will serve as an excuse for absence from class if shown to the instructor concerned.

Students' Parents Be Guests Day of Vandal-Bulldog Fracas

Registration Is Necessary Before Any Tickets Can Be Issued For Dads, Says Graduate Manager; Price Is 15 Cents

The dads are invited back to school! Saturday, October 6, the day of the Gonzaga-Idaho football game on MacLean field, is set aside this year as the first annual Dad's day of the associated students. The announcement of the proposed event was made through the graduate manager's office yesterday.

Dad's of every and any member of the associated students of the university will be given seats in a special section which has been reserved for them at the game. Tickets will be given them upon the payment of a small charge of 15 cents. The seats for the dads are located on the 40-yard line, said George E. Horton, graduate manager.

"The mothers are not to be cut out either," said the graduate manager. "However, we shall have to ask that the full price of an admission to this section be paid for them. It will be $1.65."

It is important that all students get in touch with their parents as soon as possible for them to do so, Mr. Horton pointed out. When a student determines that his father will attend the game he should appear at the graduate manager's office, show his student body card, and register his parent with that office. It is important that this be done.

On the day of the game the parent may apply at the graduate manager's office or at a special booth located at the playing field for this ticket. There his name will be checked with the registration list and the ticket issued upon the payment of the 15 cent charge.

Must Register

In case of a student failing to register his parent before the game time he should appear at the special booth with his parent in order that a check may be made on the parent's eligibility and the student's membership in the ASUI. Tickets for mothers may be purchased at the booth and will be good for the same section with the fathers.

It has been suggested by students and faculty members that some prize be offered to the group or hall on the campus which reports the greatest percentage of dads present for the game. The graduate manager pointed out that such an award would have to be sanctioned at the next executive board meeting, but expressed himself as favoring such an award.

A Statement of Policy

It is necessary at the beginning of the year that the new editor of The Argonaut state his policies in editing the student organ, not so much because of any articulate request of him, but more by reason of established precedent and custom of those editors who have gone before him. However, disregarding precedent, it is expedient that the editor make known his policy if for no other reason than to protect himself and the student body from unreasonable requests and exploitation by outside or selfish interests.

The Argonaut's policy in regard to administrative matters and the administration of the university itself will always be of a constructive nature. There can never be any good coming from a "knocking" attitude toward administrative matters and logical reason is more often the cause for a particular administrative action which, if understood by the students, would explain that action to their satisfaction even though on the surface it appeared unjust. It will be the policy of The Argonaut to explain and interpret such actions for the students whenever question arises.

Student government at Idaho has always striven towards a democratic standard. Each student, freshman or senior, has a right to express his feelings and wishes in regard to the manner in which that government, or any other matter in regard to the school in which his primary interests are centered, is administered by the officers in charge. He has a right to be heard, and the pages of The Argonaut, the student paper, are free to his use. A column, "Grins and Gripes to the Editor," is maintained for student opinion. It is not open to every petty or selfish whim which a student has to air, but is there for any reasonable and intelligent discussion of conditions or campus affairs. Every letter must be signed with the full name of the writer. This is an obvious caution upon which the editor must insist.

In regard to student politics The Argonaut will maintain a strictly "hands off" policy unless conditions are such that an expression on the part of the editor seems warranted. The editorial and the news columns will favor neither one party nor the other at any time and will be employed only for the recording of the news and developments on the political horizon without bias.

The promotion of student affairs and enterprises is one of the major functions of the paper as the official organ of the student body. Notices of meetings of student organizations and groups are recorded in the "Bulletin Board" which is open to the use of any and all. Accounts of students and their activities receive primary consideration in The Argonaut's news columns. The interests of the students will be defended and championed in its editorial columns whenever the editor feels that a condition warrants an expression.

Accuracy and completeness are the prime considerations and every effort will be expended to insure it throughout the year in every department.

Parties Will Show Strength On Tuesday

A first test of the relative strengths of the two political parties on the campus will occur Tuesday at 11 a. m. when members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes meet to select the persons who will lead them through their first term.

Sophomores will meet in the auditorium, Juniors in Science 110, and the seniors in Ad. 311. The politically "wiseones" from the United

Student party would furnish no clues as to their candidates but gossip indicates that they have several strong candidates.

The following men were selected to run as nominees on the Campus ticket at a caucus held Wednesday evening: senior class, president, Art Hagen; vice president, Owen Seatz; secretary, Sue Evans; treasurer, Howard Arnett, Junior class, president, Merle Fisher; vice president, Barbara Geddes; secretary, Kenneth Goslin; and treasurer, Earl Latham. Sophomore class; president, Esther Flenner; vice president, Roy Gray; secretary, Murva James; and treasurer, Gene Ryan.

This 'n That

This bit of sense and nonsense introduces a new column to the pages of The Argonaut. Its success depends entirely on its acceptance by the readers. Just what will be the contents of this strip is not certain, but we assure you that it will be an attempt to entertain and amuse you.

We saw a popular Kappa whose last name is a four letter word meaning country road (Lane to you) shopping for sweaters at David's. Wonder if Bob is going to have a birthday. Jack O'Neill and John Morris are still arguing about which one is to buy the next pitcher. We also observed that Paul Kerr and his dukes had quite a time "entertaining" the largest Freshman classes at the frosh rally Wednesday night. Understand that two of the most beautiful of the Delta Gamma upperclassmen are staging a battle for the leading role in the forthcoming dramatic production.

Alumnus Bill Ames' letter to the editor brings to mind some of the adventures of the fiddle trio while they were still in school. For instance, Bill and Dick Edwards eating in a two-bit restaurant in Spokane last spring, after living on the fat of the land for a week. We certainly miss these popular entertainers this year. Sorry you new students couldn't have become as well acquainted with them as we were. We might add that their entertaining wasn't confined entirely to violin playing either.

Because we have discovered that the best way to leave a good taste in one's mouth is to stop in time, we'll close for now. Hope you like this little bit of enlightening information and we'll see you next week, bringing news of Seattle.

War Department Awards Medal To Kenneth Dyer

Dyer Rescued Drowning Woman From Couer d'Alene River. Last March

Second Lieutenant Kenneth R. Dyer, ex-'34, at present attached to Company 867, CCC, Cataldo, Idaho, was awarded a medal by the war department for heroism displayed in rescuing a woman from drowning in the Couer d'Alene river, near Kellogg, last March.

"A passenger automobile had plunged into the river," according to the citation, "and was carried about 125 feet down stream, where the swift current lodged it on a sand bar. A woman passenger, while attempting to reach shore, was swept further out in the stream. Lieutenant Dyer, hearing cries for help, plunged into the cold, treacherous water, and in total darkness, with only the woman's cries for help to guide him, alone and unaided effected her rescue on his third courageous attempt."

Dyer is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

BLUE KEY MEETING HELD

A Blue Key meeting in the form of a luncheon was held last Thursday noon at the Blue Bucket. Among those present were Cap Horton, graduate manager, and Mr. Jess Buchanan. AFTER "LAB"...

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

RICHARD WHITNEY, '35—Majoring in chemistry. "A Camel tastes simply swell," he says, "and what is more important, it refreshes my energy."

SPORTSWOMAN PILOT. Mrs. Cecil Kenyon, of Waban, Mass., says: "Speaking of cigarettes, Camels are the mildest cigarette I know. Morning, noon, and night I can smoke them steadily—without a touch of upset nerves."

A PLEASURE that drives away fatigue and listlessness!

"I'm specializing in chemistry, which means a large amount of 'lab' work," says Richard Whitney, '35. "It's interesting—but a tough grind. After a long, hard session, a Camel tastes simply swell—and what is more important, it refreshes my energy and I feel 'fit as a fiddle' in short order. I've smoked a lot of Camels and never yet have they ruffled my nerves."

Everyone is subject to strain—whether physical, mental, or emotional. So it's important to know that Camels do release your stored-up energy.

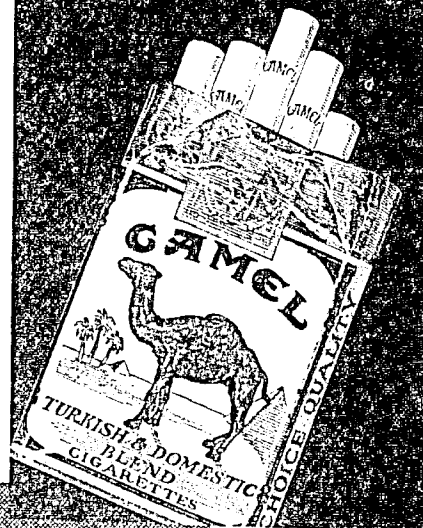

The findings of a famous scientific laboratory have confirmed Camel's "energizing effect." So begin today to enjoy Camels. Enjoy their wholesome and delightful "lift." Enjoy their mildness and rich, good taste. Enjoy them often! Camel pays millions more for finer, more expensive tobaccos, and the costlier tobaccos in Camels never jangle the nerves.

ALL TOBACCO MEN KNOW:

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

Bob McCue and Vandal Backs Will Fill Air With Passes at Seattle Saturday, Says Leo

Football Managers Work and Work and Work and Work--

"Hey you managers! Bring up those headgears," bellows Coach Leo Calland, and immediately a dozen or more men hurriedly pick up as many sky pieces as possible and start for the scrimmage line. The average fan, viewing football from the stadium, sees only the glamor and color of the game itself, coupled with the thrilling performance of individual stars who hurry across the turf. They see little of the working stiffs who come at the call of the coaches, laden with waterbuckets, headgear, extra jerseys, blankets, and all the other paraphernalia without which no football club is complete. The real value of the managers, from "A" emblazoned senior manager to the lowly frosh "chore boys," is known only to the coaches and players themselves. They play an important role in the working of any football machine and are out for every practice, two and three hours every day, in all kinds of weather.

BILL HUNT IS SENIOR MANAGER THIS FALL

Eight freshman managers are selected each year from the freshmen who turn out as candidates. The next year four men are promoted from that group to the position of sophomore managers. The following year two of these are eliminated, leaving but two junior managers, each man receiving a sweater with "Junior" written across the shoulders, their first reward for their work. In their fourth year one of these men are selected as senior manager, for which he receives an "A" sweater and is allowed to accompany the varsity on all trips.

Bill Hunt, senior manager this season, has worked hard for the four years to gain his position. His duties are numerous. He must organize the entire managerial staff, which is under him, to complete their duties quickly and effectively. He is general supervisor of all field equipment and is responsible for it. Bill makes all the trips with the varsity and takes care of the business and equipment while en route.

LOPHS UNDERSTUDY BIG SHOTS ON FIELD

Next we have the junior managers, Louis Paskin and Franklin David, whose duties are secondary to those of the senior manager. They go on all frosh trips, performing the same duties as does the senior manager on varsity trips.

The sophomore managers, Bill Boles, Joe Ayre, Morris Byrne, Leonard Gofney, and George Dean, are expected to do their share of the field work, which is considerable, and are general under studies of the junior managers.

YEARLINGS BEAR BRUNT OF HEAVY WORK

Next come the yearlings, the boys that do all the hard work, our friends, the frosh. Since we don't know the boys so well, all we can say is that the frosh "just work." But Louie Paskin, junior manager, says "Stay in there frosh, it's not bad and lots of fun," and the freshmen managers, Will Thompson, Roger Mallory, Jim Perry, Al Torelle, Mac McLeroy, and Bill Boughton, stop a minute in their cruise around the field and warmly nod a dutiful "you bet, Louie."

AUGUST IS HAPPY

Coach Louie August, boxing headman, is happy these days. He thinks about the new equipment coming up and the nice looking prospects he has to develop into champions this year the happier he gets. But his days are numbered. From all reports Louie's little brother, Joey, is getting good enough to smack his big brother down on the rosin once in awhile. But we still have to be shown, Louie.

Go Get 'em, Dick

COMING AT YOU IS Dick Nutting, two-year veteran Idaho guard, who will be in the thick of it tomorrow afternoon against the Huskies.

Thirty Gridders Primed For Opening Tilt With Huskies

Passes galore! That's what to expect tomorrow at Seattle.

Coach Leo B. Calland made no bones about the fact when interviewed shortly before entraining.

Last night with his squad of 30 players. "I only wish I had a few more ends to use when the others get tired running after McCue's heaves," stated Leo.

As long as the regulars are able to stay in the battle, the Vandals should give the Huskies plenty of trouble; but should injuries require substitutions early in the fracas the outcome looks dark. Harold Klumb, outstanding tackle and a capable backfield man too, and Elbert "Lefty" Inman, quarterback, were both left at home due to injuries received in practice this week.

Calland had planned to start both these men tomorrow. Another blow to the squad came later in the week when Gerald "Jawn" Dellinger, who was being groomed to share the quarterbacking with Cy Geraghty, received a broken ankle which will keep him out of action for the remainder of the season.

LEO'S RESERVE RANKS ARE BADLY SHATTERED

Theron Ward, Russell Honsowetz, Paul Berg, and Cy Geraghty will undoubtedly start in the backfield with Norm Iverson and Earl Ritzheimer at end, Bob McCue and Bob Moser at tackle, Chuck Wilson and Dick Nutting at guard, and either Joe Wheeler or Jack Barbee at center.

According to Glen "Red" Jacoby, assistant coach, who accompanied the team, the men will hold a practice session this afternoon. Just a few exercises and a little signal drill to shake off the "train legs."

VANDALS WILL PLAY WIDE OPEN GAME

With the Vandals playing a wide open game the fans should get a lot of thrills. Few writers give Idaho a chance of coming within two touchdowns of the Huskies, but it will not be surprising to this writer if the Vandals keep the coast boys in "hot water" all afternoon. Then again there's the angle from the Washington point of view that with the Vandals tossing passes all over the field some Husky backs are going to intercept a few for touchdowns. In any event it appears that a wide open aerial attack is Idaho's best bet, as the running offense seems to be in the doldrums at present.

The members of the squad who made the trip were as follows: Cy Geraghty, QB, Spokane; Paul Berg, RH, Idaho Falls; Ross Sundberg, FB, Idaho Falls; Ralph Spaugy, C, Moscow; Howard Hesse, RT, Poma, Calif.; Norman Iverson, LE, Snoqualmie, Wash.; Robert Mos-

Will Smith's Position Will Be Hard To Fill

Is Now With New York Giants; Calland Issues Suits on Monday

Number 24! A squirming, dashing dynamo cavorted on the gridirons of the Pacific coast the last three years carrying that number on his Idaho Jersey. With graduation last spring this mighty atom was immediately scooped up by pro ball where he will appear under the banner of the New York Giants.

When football jerseys were officially issued this week it was found that the problem of replacing "Wee Willie" Smith is more than just finding another player of equal ability but that one of equal size must be found or else number 24 will remain on the shelf this season. Or perhaps there is another reason. Should some griddler blossom forth into stardom as Smith did, it might be possible that Number 24 may make its appearance again.

Thirty-one Given Jerseys Yesterday
Jerseys were issued yesterday to 31 members of the squad. Two men—Walker Rich, right end, and Wilbur Braham, a new recruit who starred at end on the 1932 frosh and who is being groomed for tackle duty this year—received their numbers yesterday. The list is as follows:

Quarterbacks: Cyril Geraghty, 2; Walter Mitchell, 5; Gerald Dellinger, 6; Elbert Inman, 29; Clarence Devlin, 30; Halfbacks: Paul Berg, 3; Don Spaugy, 19; Leslie Holmes, 22; Russell Honsowetz, 27; Earl Smith, 31; Leon Green, 38. Fullbacks: Ross Sundberg, 4; Theron Ward, 26; Wendell Dayton, 35. Ends: Norman Iverson, 10; Earl Ritzheimer, 17; Frank Gwilliam, 18; Harvie Walker, 23. Tackles: Harold Klumb, 8; Howard Hesse, 9; Robert Moser, 12; James Moore, 16; Robert McCue, 28. Guards: Alfred Berg, 14; Charles Wilson, 15; John Cooper, 25; Carl Osterhout, 36; Richard Nutting, 32; Centers: Joe Wheeler, 33; Jack Barbee, 34.

OLD MAN INJURY IMPARTIAL IN STRIKING EIGHT YEARLINGS

That old man injury is impartial as to where he strikes is evident on McLean field these days. With Headmaster Leo Calland's charges barely bundled off to Seattle, laden with arnica, splints, and liniment, comes the glad news that Coach Otto Anderson's underlings have caught the injury fever not wisely but only too well.

Occupying the first two cots in the yearling hospital are Stewart and Stanley, likely looking linemen, who are both nursing bad knees. Next in a cheerful little corner of the ward are three beds arranged in a triangle containing Louie Rich, Jere Maupin and Dutch Prince, all three having sprained shoulders, and all three having decided to lay off the heavy stuff for a few days. Then Nelson, another line aspirant, is hobbling around from the effects of a sprained tendon in his groin. Even Coach Gets Smacked

Not content with that, Assistant Coach Russ Hall didn't think there were enough injuries on the frosh squad, so he lowered his head and ran "smack dab" into an unsuspecting frosh. We know what it did to Russ, it took ten stitches to hold his head together, and the frosh, well, when he awakens from his beauty sleep, in trundle bed number six, we can tell you more about it.

And so we leave the green-lids in blissful repose, with Coach Otto Anderson hovering over them in motherly fashion, breathing solicitous nothings, in the fond hope of restoring their health, dawgone 'em!

GREEK-LETTER MEN RECEIVE NO JOBS

A fraternity pin may offer an entree to a coed's heart, but it will close the door to Drury college students seeking jobs this fall. It was announced that college and fraternity employment will not be available to members of Greek letter organizations.

The ruling is based on the supposition that those able to afford a fraternity membership are not badly in need of campus jobs.

Thru Conference Camps with Duffin & Daly

Incredible, almost fantastic, has been the seance of this afternoon! For five long terrible hours our eyes have been glued to a mocking crystal. We have witnessed, undoubtedly, one of the greatest seances in the history of modern spiritualism.

Amplified, as all world racking events are accompanied, by undying realism, yet sprinkled with just the right amount of uncertainty, the vision of Saturday's games presented to us today held us spell-bound.

We have watched a scene wherein the famous U.C.L.A. Bruins go down in smashing defeat to the little touted and hither-to under-dog Oregon Webfoots. We have watched the Cougars from Washington State fight Bunny Oake's Grizzlies on Cougar territory, and whip them nineteen to six. We have watched our own fighting football squad tackle one of the highest rated teams on the Western Coast, the Washington Huskies, and emerge from a hard fought battle the losers by only two touchdowns.

Smashing, driving, plunging—the silver and gold gridsters of Idaho gave the country one of the most spectacular displays of football talent these writers have ever witnessed on a crystal. A picture that, to say the least, has been forecast by no coach, no sport's writer or columnist, or no pigskin wise-acre, to our knowledge, on the Pacific coast.

We have listed above the returns on three conference games. Here are the non-conference tilts. California will submerge Nevada and Col. Aggies. The Stanford-Santa Clara battle will be a close one, but Tiny Thornhill's Redskins will squeeze out a thirteen to six victory. U. S. C. will beat Pacific thirty-two to nothing.

Don't forget we are risking our reputation and the neck of our crystal on the Oregon vs. U. C. L. A. game. If U. C. L. A. wins, you and the world can laugh and we'll weep alone. However, we like to laugh, too.

Three New Women Chosen For Spurs

Frieda Bethman, Elizabeth Coats Are Representatives From Forney

Coming as a complete surprise to those so honored, the naming of three new girls for membership in the Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary, took place at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house last Wednesday noon.

Due to the use of Forney hall as a residence for girls this fall, it had been decided at a meeting of last year's active Spurs to allow two girls to represent the students residing there. It was also decided at that meeting, which took place last Saturday, to let the incoming girls decide whether or not the
