

New Instructors In Charge of Many Classes

Readjusting Necessary to Find Funds for Larger Teaching Staff

Housing Problem Solved

Lindley Hall Attic to be Made Into Sleeping Quarters for 40 Men

Emergency action to accommodate the 30 per cent increase in enrollment at the University of Idaho was taken by the executive committee of the board of regents at a special meeting at Moscow, Friday, September 28. As the regents assembled for their special session the university registrar reported to them that 2190 students had enrolled for classwork, compared to 1681 the same date a year ago, an increase of 509, or approximately 30 per cent. Enrollment to date already has set an all-time Idaho record.

Action taken by the executive committee involved the appointment of additional instructors to handle work in divisions in which enrollment is much larger than the present teaching staff can handle; provision for additional sleeping quarters for men students; and provision of additional supplies and equipment for classrooms and laboratories in which numbers greatly exceed present facilities. Classes in which facilities are extremely shy to meet the unprecedented influx of students are chemistry, botany, English, mathematics, and engineering.

Pressing Need for Funds Because of the fact that the university has been operating this biennium on a very restricted budget it was necessary for the regents to do some readjusting to find the funds necessary for the purchase of new supplies and equipment and the employment of additional staff members.

New instructors were appointed to handle the increased enrollment in chemistry, mathematics, botany, English, and engineering. Dr. Harold P. Klug was named assistant professor of chemistry. For two years he has been research fellow in this field at the California Institute of Technology. Dr. Klug received his A. B., M. A., and Ph. D. degrees from Ohio State university and for five years was instructor and assistant professor of chemistry in Carleton college, Minnesota.

R. E. Lowney, who has taught mathematics in Michigan State college and at the University of Wisconsin, comes as instructor in the department of mathematics. He has the B. A. degree from Intermountain Union college; the M. A. degree from Michigan State; and has completed major requirements for the Ph. D. degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Vada Allen, a former instructor in botany, has been recalled to meet increased enrollment in this department. Vernon Mickelson, a graduate of Stanford and the University of Montana, has been appointed instructor in English. Mr. Mickelson has had teaching experience at Montana and has completed two years of graduate work at the University of California.

New Engineering Instructor Arthur J. Davidson, who received both his B. S. and M. S. degrees from the University of Idaho, was appointed instructor in civil engineering. Since college he has had one year's experience with the federal coast and geodetic survey.

200 Get Relief Work Under University FERA

Students Working as janitors, dishwashers, etc. for average of $15 per month

Approximately 140 men and 60 women are sharing in the $3000 fund provided for the university under the FERA. The students are getting an average of $15 a month for work on the campus.

There are 21 men working in the agricultural economics department, doing statistical research. Other jobs are for janitor, dishwashers, engineering, and farming workers. The buildings and grounds department are employing men to fix up the fences and lawns on the campus.

Dean Kerr is in charge of the committee which gives the jobs to deserving students. Only a certain percentage of the students enrolled is allowed to work on the relief payroll.

SEATTLE FANS said they never had seen such passing as this 200-pound tackle and long-distance tossing artist exhibited against the Huskies last Saturday. He's headed for all-Coast honors on the "through express."

Prominent Mining Men Entertained

American Institute of Mining and Metallurgy Hold Meeting

One of the most successful meetings ever held on the campus was sponsored by the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgy on Saturday evening at the Blue Bucket in the form of a dinner. The presence of such notable men as Dr. H. N. Evanson, president of the A. I. M. E.; S. G. Blaylock, president of the C. I. M. M.; Eugene McAuliffe, vice president of the A. I. M. E.; A. B. Parsons, secretary of the A. I. M. E.; Dr. J. W. Finch, of the United States bureau of mines; Dean A. W. Fahrenwald of the Idaho School of Mines, and Dean Francis Thompson of the Montana School of Mines made the affair one of unusual importance.

Neale Welcomes Guests Pres. M. G. Neale gave a speech of welcome to the guests. At the banquet a number of the guests were introduced and gave short talks. Entertainment was furnished by the Vandaleers under the direction of Carleton Cummings. The meeting was also marked by the first return to the campus of Dr. Finch, late Dean of the School of Mines and recently appointed director of the United States bureau of mines. These men, and many others representative of all phases of the mineral industry collaborated with the efforts of L. K. Armstrong, secretary of the Columbia section, in making this one of the finest meetings of its kind ever held on the campus, according to those who attended.

2,200 ENROLLED BY SECOND WEEK

Enrollment at the university not only set an all-time record but is building up a margin of safety. At the end of the second week college registration amounted to 2,200, reports Miss Ella Oleson, university registrar. This is an increase of 501, or approximately 30 per cent, over the 1680 registered at the same time last year. Registration to date, incomplete because graduate students still are filing, exceeds by approximately 10 per cent the highest all-year registration in the history of the university.

The largest previous enrollment was 1990 for both semesters of 1930-31. At the end of the second week this all-time high had been exceeded by 210. The record-breaking freshman class numbered 854 at the end of the second week, compared with 537 at the corresponding date a year ago.

WESTERLUND HEADS COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

The Cosmopolitan club held its first business and social meeting of the year at the L. D. S. Institute, Saturday evening. The business opened with election of officers. Helmer Westerlund was elected president; S. S. Brar, vice president; Jean Clough, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hopwood, treasurer; Erich Steinger, sergeant-at-arms.

Outgoing officers are Herbert Steinger, Mrs. Hopwood, Mrs. Nelson Brown, Erich Steinger, S. Madarang, and Mr. Khalapur. Dean Eldridge was again chosen advisor. After the business meeting games were played and refreshments served.

Five Fraternities Looted Early Monday Morning; Delts Lose Most

Five Idaho fraternity houses were robbed of approximately $600 between 3 and 3:30 o'clock Monday morning. The houses entered and robbed were Delta Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Nu, and Delta Tau Delta.

The losses ranged from a few pennies to $100 and Delta Tau Delta suffered the greatest loss, $300 being taken.

Clothes were searched and drawers and closets ransacked and left open. All rooms on the second floor were searched with the exception of one, at the Delta Tau Delta house. "Dolo," the Delt mascot dog was sleeping in this room and in the back, one of the members was asleep. The robbers entered by the front door and left it open. Footprints in the flower bed showed that they had first tried to enter by the fire escape.

Typewriters Go At the Phi Gamma Delta house $75 and three portable typewriters vanished with the robbers.

At about 3 o'clock, two or three of the members heard the front door open and close, but thinking that it was one of the members, they paid no attention. The robbery was not discovered until six o'clock.

"We lost about $80 and a gold watch," said Elton Letner, Delta Chi. "One fifty-dollar Elgin watch was taken from one desk and left on another one. Not a sound was heard."

Pep Band Loses The University of Idaho Pep Band's business manager, Frank Lutz, lost approximately $50 of the Pep Band's money to the robbers at the Sigma Nu house. The band had just returned from the football game at Seattle and Lutz had not yet had time to deposit the money in the bank. A total of $100 was taken from this house.

The sheriff's office has made no definite progress on the investigation of the case but believes that the Idaho and Pullman camps were visited by the years ago, Pullman houses were robbed, and members called the Idaho fraternities in time to stop the thieves when they arrived here.

Even though all the doors of the Sigma Chi house were locked, the robbers entered and left with $50 of the Sigma Chi money.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICES

October 4th is the final date for change of study lists without penalty of falling grade if work is below passing.

October 4th is the final date upon which students may change to another curriculum for the current semester.

Saturday, October 6th, is the final date for removal of incompletes held over from previous semesters or summer schools. Incompletes not made up before that date automatically become failures unless the student has previously filed in the Registrar's office a permit for extension of time signed by his dean and the instructor concerned.

Comedy First On Theatrical Bill

"Three Corned Moon," Promises to be Hilarious ASUI Entertainment

Gertrude Fonogony's rollicking comedy, "Three Corned Moon," will be presented in the auditorium by the university players under the direction of Fred C. Blanchard, October 26 and 27.

Through the weeks of its hilarious run, the play wrenched delighted chuckles from a Broadway, only just beginning to iron away the wrinkles of depression, the nitwitisms of the Rimplegar family being the guaranteed irresistible despite floods, famine, or faint funnybones.

Erma Lewis Gets Lead

Erma Lewis plays Mrs. Rimplegar, the mother of the dizzy Rimplegar tribe. Helen Wilson is cast as her daughter, Elizabeth, and John Daly, George Oram, and Jack James are the brothers Douglas, Kenneth, and Edward. Donald, who has leanings toward lunacy, even without benefit of the Rimplegar name, is played by Aldrich Bowler. Jean Ricker plays Kitty, and Katherine Bjornstad is Jenny. Bernell Baker provides the only whole set of wits in the entire household as Alan Steves.

Although the cast contains several names as yet unfamiliar to university theatre-goers, its members have all had experience in one-acts and "bits" in the big productions. The rehearsals for "Three Corned Moon" that have been well under way for more than a week, have proved each one's right to prominence on the university stage.

REORGANIZE CLUB INTO SERVICE UNIT

At a meeting of the athletic managers of all the sports Tuesday night officers were elected and plans were discussed for making the managers' club a unified service organization on the campus.

The club this year plans to bring about improvements in its organization and activities that will make the club a recognized campus activity. The club plans to hold another luncheon meeting Thursday noon.

October 5, at the Blue Bucket. At this meeting they plan to talk over some of their plans with George Horton, graduate manager.

When asked his opinion about the new policy of the club, Cap Horton said, "It is a mighty fine thing and a movement that has been needed for a long time."

The new officers that were elected are as follows: William Hunt, senior, football manager, president; Bill Simons, senior track manager, vice president; Carl Buel, senior, baseball manager, secretary; and Clem March, senior basketball manager, treasurer.

A committee was also appointed to draw up a constitution, for the club. The committee is composed of: Carl Buel, chairman, Ddwain Vincent, and Bill Simons.

GREATHOUSE CALLS GEM STAFF MEETING

The first meeting of the business staff of the Gem of the Mountains will be Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock according to Cecil Greathouse, business manager. Any one who is absent from this meeting without acceptable excuse will be automatically dismissed from the staff it was explained.

The complete list of business staff is as follows:

Assistant business manager, Frank Bevington; circulation manager, Wayland Tanning, assisted by Richard Paris, Berry Kercheval

THREE NEW COURSES SWELL CURRICULUM

Criminology, social pathology, and a new course in agronomy are being offered at the university this semester for the first time. Professor Voelker will instruct the first two and Professor H. W. Hulbert the latter.

Criminology, a study of the social problems concerning crime, is to be followed by a study of the modern family. Social pathology deals with social disorganization and its manifestations and causes. It is to be followed by social case work. The new course in agronomy deals with commercial grading of peas and beans. It aims to acquaint the student with the federal grades of peas and beans of them.

University Pep Band Is Royally Welcomed

Broadcast Conducted Over KOMO; Rally Held in Seattle Business District

Idaho's Pep Band further distinguished itself in Seattle last Friday and Saturday by playing there in connection with the Idaho-Washington game. The 21 members of the band, and the yell king, made the trip to Seattle in the new university bus.

Enthusiastically received there, the pep band was given a splendid opportunity to prove its ability. A half hour's broadcast was given over the Seattle station KOMO Friday evening. During its stay the band also played for a dance and entertained in the lobby of the Edmond Meany hotel. The boys gave a typical musical rally for the Idaho team in the city's business district Saturday morning. Washington fans gave the band a thunderous applause in response to its snappy music at the football game.

The Pep Band is further slated to give a rally broadcast in Spokane this week as publicity for this Saturday's Gonzaga-Idaho game.

Harold Klumb Is Elected President Of New Club

Charter Independent Organization For Athletics To Relieve Fraternities of Burden

Harold Klumb has been elected president of the new Independent Club for athletes, at 411 S. Jackson street, which has been organized to relieve the burden on the fraternity houses.

This new club which has been approved by the housing committee has as its faculty advisors, Leo Calland and Red Jacoby.

McCue Is Scribe Other officers elected were: Bob McCue, secretary and Norman Iverson, treasurer. Also living at the new club are Howard Hesse, Cecil Thorpe, Ben Palmgren, Stewart Neely, and Bill Hunt, senior, football manager.

This club was organized to provide sleeping quarters and a place to study, as all the boys have hanging jobs.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Leo Calland, and Miss Alice Kelley, the club was furnished beds by the hall, and furniture was given by the sororities, with the help of the town business women.

Fraudulent Voting Charges Void Class Election Results

Dave Kendrick, ASUI Prexy, Declares Returns Unsatisfactory; Executive Board to Rule on Disputed Balloting Tonight

Student sentiment ran rife this morning when the class election returns showed marked evidence of foul play on the part of both parties and the results of the balloting were disallowed by recommendation of David Kendrick, president of the student body.

Kendrick expressed himself as dissatisfied with the outcome of the balloting. An executive board session, regularly scheduled for Tuesday evening, will consider the matter as to whether or not a new election would be held.

At the conclusion of the voting as it was held the United Students candidates held a comfortable lead. Bob McCue, student party candidate for president of the junior class, led his opponent, Merle Fisher, campus candidate, by about 40 votes according to the count reported to The Argonaut. In the sophomore class election the ballots were not even counted due, election officials declared, to obvious "stuffing" of the ballot boxes.

"I was entirely dissatisfied with the outcome of the election and I assure the student body that measures will be taken, if it is deemed necessary to conduct another voting, that there not be a repetition of today's exhibition," said the student body president.

Counts seemed to indicate fraud on both sides of the political fence. The fact that the United Students were in the lead at the conclusion of the count should not be taken to indicate that they were the ones to blame, election officials hastened to add this morning. They expressed themselves as regretting the deplorable situation and assured The Argonaut that it was impossible to pin the blame on individuals or groups.

Returns brought in to The Argonaut showed a marked lead for the United Students in the count as far as it was made.

Appointments Made For Yearbook Staff

Members Must Prove Their Worth Before Positions Are Made Permanent

Appointments for the editorial staff of the Gem of the Mountains are temporary, depending on the work of the individual," said Bob Herrick, editor, Monday. "The staff is much larger this year than it has ever been before."

"Those who attended the meeting, but did not receive an appointment will probably be given a chance to work later in the year, as all names are being kept on file."

Heads of departments have not all been chosen, but the tentative list is as follows: Phyllis Temby was appointed secretary. The art staff is composed of Jean Dunkle, Bill Sanders, and Cromie Wilson. The administration department includes Harold Ellingson, head, and Charles Collins. Jane Baker is head of the student department, and will be assisted by Ruth Farley, Esther Flenner, Pamela Persson, and Mary Elizabeth Kostalek. Composition is made up of Ruth Evans, head, Francis Murtha, Barbara Lipps, Helen Brodrecht, Marjorie Collins, Virginia Healy, Marion Swanson, and Amber Wolfe.

Latimore Handles Organization The organization will be handled for the women by Helen Latimore, with the assistance of Marguerite Manlon, Helen Madison, Miriam McFall, Roberta McKissick, and Marie Schneider; for the men it will be handled by Wallace Rounsavell, with James Watson, Tine Davis, Sherman Bellwood, James Perry, and Chester Dinsmore.

Campus life will include Shull Arms as head of the department, Catherine Bjornstead, Eugene Freeman, Dorothy Rosevart, and Phyllis Peterson. Activities are in charge of Virginia Merrick. Lewis Ensign has charge of the publications department. Dramatics will be handled by Nina Varian; debate by Des Smith and Vivian Noyer; and the music department by Esther Hunt and Robert Seymour.

Evans Has Judging The judging department is in charge of Jerome Evans. Jane Archbold has the awards department. Military will be taken care of by Lewis Oriand and Fred Robinson. Janet Kinney will have the society with the assistance of Jo Betty Wicks, Dorothy Dole, Marabel Edmonds, and Nancy Chamberlain.

On the copy desk will be James Crawford, Edith Brown, Ray Strawn, Wendell Lawrence, Index—Joe Herndon, head, James McFarland, and Joe Paquet. Typists—Elizabeth Bodwell, Inez Equals Janet Saunders, Elizabeth Childs, Lorna Cornell, Lorraine Julett, Jean Irvin, and Allene King.

Huskies Use Everything To Break Down Idaho's Defense In Second Half, Netting 13-0 Score

Washington Subdues Stubborn Idaho Vandals After First Half Deadlock

12 pt. SC deck
It took everything Washington had to score a 13-0 victory Saturday.

Sunday morning sports editions were replete with phrases to the effect that a "stubborn" Idaho eleven was finally subdued after two scoreless periods during which the Vandals knocked at the pay door at intermittent intervals.

Coach Leo B. Calland, when interviewed yesterday was elated over the work of several of his men, but in another breath let it be known that he found several glaring weaknesses which must be remedied before Gonzaga comes to town this weekend. Leo tossed Paul Berg a bouquet when he was quoted as saying, "Berg filled John Norby's shoes in fine style, both on blocking and backing up the line."

Calland also commented on the work of Norm Iverson, Bob McCue, acting captain Bob Moser, Cy Geraghty, and Russ Honsowetz all who were called upon to play "iron men" roles. Several of them played the entire game, while the others were only out a few minutes. John Cooper, guard, and Ross Sundberg, fullback, both sophomores, were reported to have come through in fine style when called on for relief duty.

HONSOWETZ'S INTERCEPTION GIVES IDAHO FIRST BREAK

Russell Honsowetz, who snagged three Washington passes during the game, gave Idaho the first break when he intercepted Ahonen's pass in the opening minutes of play. Before Washington could get the oval back to midfield the Vandals had made three valiant attempts to score. In fact the first period was "all" Idaho and the second quarter saw the Vandals still holding an edge in the argument.

Burl Bufkin, Washington's flashy halfback, broke the deadlock in the third period when he got away for a 35-yard gain which placed the ball on Idaho's four-yard marker. On the next play Ahonen tossed him a short pass for the first touchdown. Elmer Logg, sophomore quarter, converted the kick for the extra point.

Shortly after the opening of the final session, the winners started a drive from midfield. Logg grabbed an Idaho pass on his own 45-yard stripe, and then a few minutes later took Cain's heave on the 21-yard line for an 18-yard gain. After three cracks at the line, Byron Haines, another Husky sophomore back, shook himself free and scored around his left end for the second touchdown. This time Logg failed to convert.

BARNEY SNARES ONE OF BOB'S LONG HEAVES

A sensational pass, McCue to Barney Anderson, in the closing minutes of play gave the Vandals another chance to score but an intercepted pass killed the threat. The heave to Anderson was good for a gain of 48-yards and placed the ball on the Husky 18-yard line. A penalty and two line plays advanced the oval to the 10-yard line where an incomplete pass and the interception ended the rally.

With the Vandals tossing 32 passes and the Huskies attempting 20, it is easy to see that the 18,000 fans were treated to a lot of thrills. Twice in the second period the Huskies bid for points via the place kick route, but on both occasions the kick went wide. Not one fumble was chalked up by either team.

The Vandals came out of the fray in fine shape, the only injuries reported having happened before the contest got under way. Frank Gwilliam injured an arm when he slipped during the train ride, but Calland was able to use him for relief duty. Les Holmes did not fare as well, spraining an ankle while running signals Friday afternoon. Theron "Gladstone" Ward received a slight neck injury during the game, but is ready for action again.

Trouble a Plenty For Somebody

THIS HALFBACK COMBINATION of Paul Berg and Russ Honsowetz formed the receiving end of several of big Bob McCue's bullet passes at Seattle last Saturday, and will cause Idaho's opponents in the coming games plenty of trouble.

Fox Loses Only Three Regulars From Last Year's Strong Nine

The Oregon Ducks, Champs of last year's revived northern division baseball league whom the Vandals defeated in three out of four games, may look to their laurels while the looking's good. The slugging Vandal nine which brought about an immediate and enthusiastic rebirth in baseball interest at Idaho last spring will be even stronger in 1935, according to available dope.

Only three regulars will be missing from the best club Coach Rich Fox has assembled in years, and the flock of 300 hitters returning will be augmented by a wealth of new material from freshman and Southern Branch ranks, and transfers ineligible last season. Melvin "Moon" Shepard, Kimberley, right-handed chucker from Utah who worked out with the Vandals all spring, will be ready to go next March; as will John Steward, Boise, catcher, and Jack Frye, Emmett, infielder, two ex-College of Idaho players, and Raymond "Runt" Brubaker, Payette, freshman in 1934.

Former Southern Branch stars expected to bolster Fox's 1935 club include Bob Mulica and Walt Carte, also basketball men; and Billie Black, pitcher, Leonard Leth, outfielder, and Watson Miller, catcher. Black, who got his start in the diamond sport as a youthful chucker in American Legion junior baseball, is regarded as one of the classiest mound prospects in recent seasons.

By Phil Haring
"IDAHO FIGHTS"
That terse little phrase has summed up the general spirit of Idaho athletics for a good while now, and the last gentleman to be impressed with its undoubted sincerity is none other than Jimmy Phelan, coach of the Washington Huskies. Jimmy has a good bunch of boys and he's justly proud of them, but it took those same lads of his almost three quarters to push over a touchdown against the Vandals last Saturday, with the final score coming in the fourth quarter. For the first half the followers of Phelan were too busy warding off Vandal scoring threats to do any serious ball-packing of their own, the Idahoans being in Husky territory practically all of the first half. It's our prediction that when next season rolls around the Washington Husky will be looking for more tender meat to start the ball rolling with, leaving Idaho for a little later course on the menu.

BOB McCUE
Idaho All-American for 1935! That's how the football annuals will be reading next season, say grid fans who saw the giant McCue in action at Seattle Saturday. Playing a heads up game at tackle and pulling out of the line to toss his passes all over the pasture, "Bullet Bob" impressed the Sound city fans tremendously. McCue was on the heaving end of most of the 32 Idaho passes, 10 of which netted a total of 172 yards. He it was who tossed the ball 48 yards down the field to wee Barney Anderson, camped on the Husky 18 yard stripe, to give the Vandals their last chance to score. And he's the lad who broke thru the Washington line time after time to smear plays before they started, from now on out, fans and fanettes!

Hell Divers' Prospects For 1934-35 Are Bright

Expect 25 Old Members To Return; Tryouts To Be Soon

With approximately 25 old members returning, Hell Divers, university swimming club, should have a big year.

The Hell Divers club is an organization made up of members of the American Red Cross Life Saving corps, who are students of the university, each Hell Diver holding a membership in the Senior Life Saving division. Each person trying out for Hell Divers must be a member in good standing of the Senior Life Saving corps of the A. R. C.

Pledges to the club are chosen by their ability to swim, execute life saving maneuvers, and by their showing in a short written quiz similar to that given by Red Cross examiners when senior membership was acquired. This written quiz should be a review to certificate holders. Competitive swimming also determines part of the grade. Those receiving the highest grades for the maximum points given are chosen for pledging.

Both men and women students are eligible for membership. Meetings are held one evening each week, at which time contests in swimming, diving and life-saving are held. In addition an annual Hell Divers' carnival is held annually, as is a club picnic and other activities.

BOXING SEASON IS NOW IN FULL SWING

The smack of leather and the smell of sweat and rosin reminds us that the boxing season is once again underway.

The largest boxing squad in the history of the school began working out Monday night. There are a large number of veterans and some promising new material that looks good.

Morrey Flocks, who fights at 147 pounds, is a veteran that will go a long way in intercollegiate boxing this year. Last year he fought left handed but has changed this year to right, which gives him additional "sock". He also likes to fight and is a good conscientious trainer.

Title Holders Here
Joey August and George Riddle are frosh boys who will strengthen the squad greatly. Joey fights in the featherweight class, and is the holder of the Pacific coast bantamweight title for 1932. George Riddle, another Pacific coast champion, and protege of Jim Jeffries, former world heavyweight champion, is also on the Vandal Roster. Coach Louis August has tentatively scheduled a smoker to be held October 20. This will give the fight fans a chance to see these boys in action and to observe what they will do under fire.

200 Pound Youngsters On Baby Vandal Squad

Frosh to Tangle With Husky Lewiston Normal Lads in Grid Battle

"Although it is conceded that the Lewiston Normal has the strongest football eleven in its history, the frosh will give them a battle that will prove surprising to many," said Coach Anderson of the Baby Vandals.

Last Saturday during their first scrimmage, the frosh were snappier, scrappier and generally looked better than Idaho frosh teams have for a number of years. The Normal is supposed to beat us by more than twelve points, but Coach Bob Green is going to get a surprise this Friday afternoon at Lewiston."

Linemen Heavy
With three linemen weighing over 210 pounds, Anderson is coaching the largest frosh team in the history of the university. Betts, the big pivot man, weighs 222 pounds; Sitterlie, tackle, weighs 217; and Abshire, playing left end or fullback, weighs 210. There are two others who weigh 200, and several more who weigh well up in the 190's.

The team is versatile in that it is heavy, has a big, fast backfield, has good passers and kickers in Maupin and Abshire, and some men who can snag passes. Abshire is tossing some passes that are coming close to McCue's, and Mautin is one of the headiest quarterbacks who ever called signals for an Idaho frosh team.

Those who have been outstanding are Prince, Mautin, Rich, and Welatherell as backs; and Stanco, Ahlskog, Abshire, Sitterlie, Betts, Gamble, and Cannon as linemen. It is not known just yet who will start the game against the Normal this Friday, but these men are sure to see plenty of action.

The answer supplied by one applicant was brief, but to the point: "1492, none."

SOCIETY

PLEDGES of the Greek-letter fraternities are still the main features of the social life on the campus. Many of the sororities held formal pledging, replacing the pledge bows with pledge pins; and some pledge dances are to be held soon. The first initiation of the year was held by Pi Beta Phi, who initiated two women who were pledged at the semester last year. The initiation banquet was held at the Moscow hotel Saturday evening.

Sunday dinner guests of Delta Gamma were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton, Francis Stolle, Virginia Healey, and Mary Wickes.

Dinner guests of Sigma Chi Sunday were William Bowen, Nampa, John Hansen, Yakima, Washington; Otto Powers, and Dan Stover, Moscow.

HODGSON RECEIVES ARIZONA POSITION

Charles Worth Hodgson, '34, Cottonwood, has been appointed graduate assistant in range forage studies at the University of Arizona, Tucson, according to information received by Dean E. J. Idings of the College of Agriculture. Hodgson was graduated from Idaho last June with highest honors, majoring in animal husbandry.

Hodgson was active in student affairs throughout his college course, being prominent in agricultural club activities, and an officer in the local chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity. During his senior year he represented the university as a member of the livestock judging team in the inter-collegiate judging contest at the Pacific International Livestock exposition, Portland. Last spring he was manager of the "Little International" annual campus livestock show sponsored by the agricultural club.

Mortar Board Will Direct Sale of Chrysanthemums

Alumnae Breakfasts Also Planned for Morning of Homecoming Game

The sale of chrysanthemums for the homecoming game will be under the direction of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. At a meeting September 28 the women completed plans for an alumnae breakfast for all graduate members which will be given on the morning of the game.

Officers of Mortar Board for this year are: president, Ethelyn O'Neal; vice-president, Marjorie Druding; secretary, Helen Latimore; treasurer, Frances Wimer; and reporter, Janet Kinney. Rosanne Roark and Carol Campbell are the other members of the honorary.

The faculty advisor will be chosen at a meeting next Friday.

HOME COMING PLANS MADE AT LUNCHEON

With a luncheon at the Blue Bucket, a meeting of the Cardinal Key was held last Saturday noon. No definite idea was decided upon for the customary celebration on the three days prior to Homecoming, but it is expected to be similar to the old-fashioned clothes theme carried out last year.

The idea will probably be definitely formulated later this week, after a meeting with the academic council.

Cardinal Key, in collaboration with Blue Key, is planning a welcome at the train and at the hotel for the old students when they arrive for Homecoming.

Ruf-Nex, a campus club organized at Oklahoma A. & M. held a spitting contest recently. The winner expectorated 21 feet 6 inches.

SON OF GRAD IN '92 COMES TO IDAHO

The long arm of coincidence has stretched over 42 years. The son of a man who was a member of the smallest student body at the University of Idaho is entering the university this fall as a member of the largest student body Idaho has ever had.

The father is Dr. Charles L. Kirtley of Challis, who enrolled in the fall of 1892. Dr. Kirtley was one of about 40 students; he and five others being the only ones of full-fledged college rank. Dr. Kirtley was a member of the first graduating class, 1896.

The son is Jack Carl Kirtley, who is enrolled in the junior college in a pre-medical course, preparing to follow in the footsteps of his father. Dr. Kirtley visited the campus with his son during the opening days. In contrast to the student body of 40 when his father attended, Jack Kirtley is in a 1934 college group of more than 2000 students, or 50 collegians for every one in his father's day. This year is the first time that college enrollment at Idaho has passed the 2000 mark.

According to a recent ruling passed by the students at the University of Colorado, every student crossing the bridge over the campus must stop and shake hands with every other person on the bridge.

Carnegie Institute students "cut" an average of 9.13 classes a semester a recent survey shows.

JEROME DAY HOME USED BY FACULTY

The old Jerome Day home will be used to lodge faculty members and is to be managed by the daughter, Mrs. Berniece Day Maloney.

The house will be ready next week and will have the use of the huge library which consists of about 3,000 volumes. Meals will not be served, but the downstairs will be used as a clubroom. It is Mrs. Maloney's intention that the down stairs eventually be rented for entertainments and parties.

The home was built 30 years ago and this will be the first time in 10 years that any member of the family has lived there. It has always been rented, however, to university people.

Bridge

By BUS FENE

Few bridge players realize the importance of the "Rule of 8 1/2," while still fewer apply this rule when bidding.

Unfortunately this type of player seldom or never walks home with the prize tucked under his arm. Invariably he blames it on poor luck or cards or in most cases the terrible partner he had had all evening. This is far from true, because bridge players who know this rule realize that somewhere, during the session, they failed to bid the full value of their hands and unfortunately lost a game or even a slam.

In contract bridge, the "Rule of 8 1/2," is the most essential of all. It deals with distribution of honor strength in the four average hands of an average deal. This means there are 8 1/2 honor tricks in the average hand. If, therefore, the partnership can by cross bidding, convey the information to the effect that they have above average hands and 6 to 5 1/2 honor tricks between them they can feel perfectly safe in bidding game.

If, on the other hand, they have from 6 to 7 honor tricks between them, they could feel safe in bidding a small slam, and with 7 or over, a grand slam. In all cases the hands must fit together, and this is determined during the course of bidding.

Let me caution you, if you want to become proficient at contract bridge, to acquaint yourself by all means with this rule.

A series of bridge articles will appear in the Argonaut dealing with the fundamental principals of the game.

Methodist Preference Again Is High In Religious Census

With a higher percentage of lead than ever before, the Methodist Episcopal church has maintained its usual lead in the university's annual religious census, 23% of the student body being either members or expressing a preference for it. Next in order were the Presbyterian, Latter Day Saints, Catholic, and Episcopal churches. "No preference" was indicated by only 14% of the students, which is a 5% drop from last year.

The Latter Day Saints showed the highest percentage in gain from last year, as well as the largest proportion of members, with the Catholics ranking second. More than twenty churches were mentioned in the survey.

at the cinema

at the Kenworthy—One of the strongest casts ever assembled by any picture for this year's Fox Film program started last night. It is "Servant's Entrance," with Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres.

Thursday brings the opening of "Romance in the Rain." What happened to a modern Cinderella, a little princess of the slums when she met this unsuspecting Prince Charming in the rain, is stirringly told in Universal's romantically gay comedy with Roger Pryor, Heather Angel, Victor Moore, Esther Ralston and many others in the supporting cast.

Starting Saturday at the Kenworthy is "Grand Canary" with Warner Baxter heading the strong cast and Madge Evans the leading lady. Baxter portrays the role of the eminent young doctor and scientist, the principal character in a magnificent love story and gripping drama of regeneration.

at the Vandal—Wheeler and Woolsey will be shown in "Cockeyed Cavaliers," at the Vandal for the last time tonight. They are seen in this burlesque of the knight-hood era as members of the Honorary Order of Hoboes, who travel through Europe as parasitic pedestrians more commonly known as hitch-hikers.
