

"End Oregon's Trail" Is Homecoming Slogan

Sun Bonnets, Shawls, Covered Wagons, Buffalo Hunters, and Gridsters Conspire To Beat Oregon "Webfoots"

"End Oregon's trail," will be the battle cry of all loyal Idaho fans beginning Tuesday, October 16, according to reports from Charles Warner, chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Sunday night representatives from each organized group on the campus met with members of the Homecoming committee selected by Blue Key, men's service honorary, to discuss and formulate plans for the Homecoming game with Oregon. Tuesday, October 16, all university women will don "the old gray bonnet" and shawl to get into the spirit of the "good old days." Men are requested to wear costumes reminiscent of the "Old Oregon Trail."

Each group house is expected to dig up a covered wagon to parade through the streets the night of the frosh bonfire, Oct. 19. Oct. 20, Homecoming day, the covered wagons will parade between halves before a committee which will award a prize for the best parade.

The only limitations placed on the decorations of the houses is a maximum expenditure of $15. Prizes will be given to the group putting on the best display, "turb" each house on the campus and every member.

Charles Warner ber to get going to make this Homecoming even more successful than the one held last year," said Warner.

"We really expect to see things well under way before the pep assembly to be held Oct. 16," said Warner. At this time the Pep Band and cheer leaders will take charge and make the enthusiasm succeed to make such a campaign a successful one; and do all in their power to show the Vandals that the student body is whole heartedly behind them."

A general meeting of all Moscow alumni was called for Thursday night at the Elks temple, starting at 7:30 o'clock. At the meeting there will be a discussion of handling registration of alumni, housing, and the buffet supper and alumni dance in Memorial gymnasium following the game.

Names Workers
Mr. Huff appointed committee workers as follows:

ADVISORS CHOSEN BY MORTAR BOARD

The Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, met last Friday noon to choose the advisors for their group and appoint committees for their Homecoming plans. They also passed on petitions asking a Mortar Board chapter of the University of Louisiana, Michigan State, and University of Maryland.

Marjorie Druding and Helen Latimore are to be in charge of the alum breakfast. Rosanne Roark and Frances Wimer will direct the sale of chrysanthemums.

The advisors have been passed upon and will be announced in the next issue of The Argonaut.

Campus Staff Called To Argo Meeting Wed.

There will be an important meeting of the campus staff of the Argonaut Wednesday at 4 p. m. in Ad. 201, announced the editor today.

The editor expressed himself as not wholly satisfied thus far with the co-operation of the members of the campus staff and indicated that attendance at the meeting would be regarded as indicative of the members' desire to work on that particular department. The list of members of the staff will be corrected after the meeting, he said. Thus far turned in will be made by Hugh Eldridge, managing editor.

Valuable criticism of the work at the meeting. Beats will be assigned by the news editor, and Elmer F. Beth, assistant professor of journalism, will give a few pointers to members of the staff on the reporting and writing of campus affairs.

Twelve Tapped By Blue Key Tuesday

Men's Upperclass Service Honorary Selects Men At Assembly

Twelve men were tapped for membership in Blue Key, national upperclassmen's service honorary, at the public events assembly auditorium Tuesday morning. Robert Herrick, president of the group, presided at the short ceremony and introduced to the students the men selected for membership.

In a short talk before the new members were introduced Herrick described the system upon which the men were elected to membership, pointing out that a point system of activities was adhered to strictly in the selection of men eligible to become members. Following is a list of the men and activities in which they have participated:

Hang On To That Pass, Barney!

AN ACTION SHOT of last Saturday's game with Gonzaga. Barney Anderson, diminutive end, has just snared a short flip from the port-sided passing of "Lefty" Anderson who wears the No. 29 jersey in the extreme right of the picture. The little fellow didn't get far after snaring the pass, however, for his teammate, Paul Berg, No. 3, couldn't quite get to Ed Justice, Gonzaga halfback, to block him out of the play in time. Other Idaho players seen in the picture are Clarence Devin, No. 30, Chick Wilson, No. 15, just picking himself off the ground after spilling a Bulldog player in the line of scrimmage, and Ross Sundberg, behind and to the left of Anderson.

NOTICE TO ALUMNI

Dr. Carl L. von Ende Dies Tuesday After Long Illness

Death Ends 26 Years Here As Head Of Idaho Chemistry Department

An illness starting last summer that grew critical three weeks ago, early Tuesday morning claimed the life of Dr. Carl Leopold von Ende, 64, for 26 years head of the Idaho chemistry department. Death came at the family residence, 604 east B street, with his wife and son at his bedside. A daughter was visiting on the coast.

Frosh Gridsters Conquer Lewiston

Yearlings Score Once In Second Quarter, Twice In Last Half

Completely dominating the game, the Idaho frosh beat the highly touted Lewiston Normal football team 19 to 0 last Friday afternoon at Lewiston. Both coaches, Anderson of the Baby Vandals and Green of the Normal, found frequent occasions for substitutions. The Idaho second team proved a match for the Normal and the strong first team played the game in varsity style.

Jerry Maupin, flashy signal caller of the frosh, was the outstanding star of the game. His accurate passes time again fell into the arms of waiting ends who seemed to have glue on their fingers. Twice Lewiston got within scoring distance but was then unable to make material dents in the stubborn Idaho line.

Lewiston Muffs Scoring Chance
In the first quarter, Lewiston recovered a fumbled punt by the frosh on the Idaho 20-yard line. Their punch folded there, however, and the first quarter ended scoreless. Early in the second canto, a pass from Maupin to Louie Rich was good for the first touchdown. The frosh then converted to make the score 7 to 0.

At the beginning of the second half, a boom through the line by Maupin, price, hefty fullback, culminated a long drive by the frosh and scored the second touchdown. After a pass was intercepted in the last quarter, another pass from Maupin to Pavkov scored the final points.

Frosh who looked especially good were Absher, end; Sitterlee, tackle; Betts, center; Ahlskog, guard; Rettig, guard; Gambol, tackle; Gannon, end; and Rich, half.

Next Saturday, the frosh go to Cheney to play Cheney Normal. Last fall the Normal won 10 to 0.

Nab Fraternity Burglars; Recover All But $23 Cash

Men Confess To Robbery Of Houses All Over Country; Most of Stolen Property Returned; Victims Jubilant

A total of $390 was returned last night to the fraternity men who were robbed here early last Monday morning—just $23 short of the amount of cash stolen. The difference of $23 will be shared equally by the losers. Confessions of G. H. Rose of Chicago and J. Eckstrum of Racine, Wis., revealed that they had looted both Pullman and Moscow campuses. Their possession of practically all of the loot was good news to the victims on both campuses.

Elections Slated For Wednesday

Utmost Care Being Taken to Prevent Unfair Balloting

For the second time this fall, students of the university will try their hand at voting for class officers. The first election held just a week ago was voided due to charges of fraud which arose following the balloting in all three classes.

To the members of the ASUI: There was a rather disgraceful exhibition put on last Tuesday by a few students who are educated in some lines beyond their intelligence. To protect the students who would like to see their officers voted on fairly, we have changed the method of voting. Details are given in this issue of The Argonaut. With your help we will try to make some such method permanent. If you have any suggestions to make after seeing how they are carried on Wednesday, we would be glad to hear them.
Sincerely Yours,
David Kendrick
President, ASUI

The election will be held tomorrow, October 10, in the main hall of the Ad building near the north entrance.

The polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. including the noon hour. The balloting will be held in the manner of an ASUI election with this exception—each class will have its own ballot from the election officers. A certified list of the members of each class will be at hand and each voter will be checked off of the list as he casts his ballot.

Election Board Appointed
Along with those nominated at the class meetings Tuesday, a few new nominees, subject to the recognition of the executive board, will be announced for the class elections Wednesday by both the Campus parties. The election will be carried out as previously announced following the plans laid down by the executive board. The voting will be supervised by an election board headed by Norman Roberts, Hamer Budge, Elaine Hersey, Don Brown, Mark Felt, Eileen O'Day, John Crowe, and Robert Strawn.

All persons interested in debate, irrespective of the class to which they belong, are requested to meet in Ad. 206 at 4 o'clock Thursday.

Alpha Kappa Psi meeting at 7:30 Thursday, at the Lambda Chi house.

"It was fortunate that Sheriff Dailey of Whitman county and myself arrived in Corvallis when we did," said Sheriff Summerfield Monday morning. "Otherwise the stolen money would have been turned over to Oregon state authorities and our chances of identifying the men and recovering for the W. S. C. and Idaho students would have been greatly lessened."

Summerfield and Dailey went to Corvallis Friday morning after word was received of the capture Thursday, and conviction of the two burglars on charges of burglarizing 10 houses at Oregon State college Tuesday night. Both were sentenced to five years in the Oregon penitentiary.

In addition to the cash stolen here were four typewriters, a watch, clothing, and other accessories. The two watch was not recovered, the two men claiming that a grip containing it was stolen from them while the two were waiting for a bus in Portland Tuesday. Early in the chase of the two by local authorities it was determined that a box of typewriters was shipped from Milton-Freewater, Ore., to Racine, Wis., the morning after the burglaries. It was said by Rose and Eckstrum when arraigned that the box contained 10 machines stolen in Moscow and Pullman. Claims at the Sheriff's office are for only four stolen here and two at Pullman. The box is being returned from the east.

A history of the operations of the two men as placed together on information from authorities in other sections of the country, and from their own confessions, indicates that they began operations with the stealing of an automobile in McKeesport, Penn., on August 20. Fraternity houses at Michigan were burglarized by the pair who then spent a week at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, parking the stolen car near the fair grounds.

Following their sojourn in Chicago they worked west, covering many schools on the way, at intervals sending money stolen to their wives in Racine and Chicago. When apprehended they had in their possession postal receipts for $2,600 sent east from various points including Pendleton, Ore., and Twin Falls. They also had $1,389 in cash which covered nearly all cash losses at Idaho, W. S. C. and Oregon State college.

Idaho and Washington state fraternity houses were burglarized Monday morning. The pair wrecked their car near Dayton, Wash., and local authorities who pulled them from a ditch noticed that they carried a number of typewriters. The two abandoned the car at Pendleton and rode into Portland on a bus that afternoon. Arriving at Corvallis at midnight Tuesday, they robbed 10 houses and fled to Medford, Ore., where they were apprehended and returned to Corvallis to face burglary charges.

Readily Confessed
When the men were faced by Summerfield and Dailey Friday they confessed to the Pullman and Moscow burglaries also and money collected from them was turned over to the Whitman and Latah county officers.

Both men claim to be college graduates, according to Summerfield who returned to Moscow Sunday evening. Clippings in Rose's possession established that he was a University of Wisconsin halfback during the seasons of 1925-26-27-28. He was given honorable mention for All-American by Rookne, Warner, and Jones at one time and was on a Big-Ten conference eleven picked by Walter Eckersall. Where Eckstrum went to school was not determined.

MILITARY NOTICE

This 'n That

We couldn't help but notice the number of political caucusses being held in various parts of the campus the last week. Incidentally, did anyone notice how unpolitical "Boss" Hogue looked while assuming the angle at the game Saturday? While on the subject, we would like to suggest the erection of a small building suitable for the meetings of campus politicians. It would keep them out from under foot.

We would like to congratulate Charles "Dick Tracy" Summerfield on his excellent work in the apprehension of the campus robbers. Mr. Summerfield was instrumental in retrieving the funds of the robbery victims and it is suggested that his name go down in the files along with Sherlock Holmes, Philo Vance, and other well-known maintainers of law and order. All joking aside, he did an excellent job and we are sure all those concerned are deeply grateful. (Especially "Cap" Horton)

Editor Boyd had quite a time talking himself out of a date at the game. Norm Iverson seemingly has gone in for brighter shades of hirsute coverings, having been seen with Helen Lawrence Saturday night. Suggest that Kay Kimball confine her diving practice to the swimming pool, although we have heard that she executes a very beautiful back dive from a day-ent.

The following is dedicated to Bob McCue.

A certain athlete said unto himself, "Lo, I will train violently and joyfully in the football games that are to be; then shall I find favor in the eyes of the co-eds and he as a Big Shot, and that housemother at the Dappa Lodge will be no more as a stranger unto me."

Then he went and did even as he had said. But the Big Game waxed hot and the coach said unto him, "Surely thou wilt not let me down in this pickle; play the game!" And his spirit grew hot within him, and he outstripped himself and made three touchdowns.

And those who played against him murmured within themselves, saying, "G! ! ? * * ?" let us lay for him and squelch him lest his team prevail against us and men shall say, "Ye are as lillies!" So they fell upon him with great wrath, and when the ref's whistle blew he was not, for the daylight had left him.

We he revived in the infirmary he was surrounded with flowers, but the co-eds were far away dancing with lounge-lizards that stalk in the darkness. Then the athlete lifted up his voice and wept, saying, "What hath it profited me, this deed that I have done? Lo, I am worse off than these softies!"

Then spake the spirit of his Alma Mater saying: "Pipe down; verily thou hast thy reward. Am I not more than that blonde you were striving for?" To which the athlete replied, "Aw, nerst!"

Moral: Do what ye do for the love of itself. The fruits of victory be sour!

With due courtesy to THE AMERICAN CAMPUS we leave you for now.

at the Kenworthy Starting Thursday of this week is the notable film achievement, "The World Moves On," Fox Film's long-awaited spectacle. It is a distinct step forward in the creation of entertainment with universal appeal, and sets unquestionably a new standard of cinema excellence. To the young players, Winfield Sheehan, the producer, has entrusted the major burden. They are the glamorous Madeleine Carroll and that very able actor, Fanchot Tone—and they carry it well.

Saturday night will be shown "Jean Lowell—Adventure Girl," camera record of the authoress' latest exploits at sea. Those who, a few years ago, were excited by Joan Lowell's book, "The Cradle of the Deep," will be anxious to see the film of her tropical adventures.

Joe College Disappears

Among the many stupendous changes taking place in the world today, is the evolving of a new type of college student. If one will open his eyes and observe he will note that he is being permitted to witness an upheaval in the development of the young generation.

The war era and its succeeding, approximate fifteen year period brought to us a swift, giddy, and thoughtless group of people. The college student is not different or worse than the rest of the population but gives you an emphasized view of the trends of the day. As usual the college men and women have done their part to impress upon us the foolishness and unsteadiness of the post-war period.

However, anyone who has been thrown with the college group for the past three years has noted a change. The "rah-rah" boy is already "old stuff." It has long been unfashionable at the better schools to engage in the unreasonable type of football rallies. The bearcat runabout and the coonskin overcoat are alike in abeyance. Cheer leaders still hold forth at the big games but mostly for the delectation of the alumni in search of their youth. Most striking and amazing of all is that the undergraduate is beginning to admire mere scholarship!

The day of the "polite moron" seems distinctly past. Time was when the impeccable frame of this personage loomed large upon the campus horizon. Mere grinds, bookcrackers, and scholars were dirt for his elegance. He trod the campus amid the jingle of many watch-chain keys, the aimless flop of the 20-inch bell bottoms, and the aroma of gin, perfume, and ignorance. But his day is definitely doomed on the campus. Somehow it has taken the depression to suggest to young men and women that one doesn't succeed in life by failing in college and that courtesy and smartness in the polite sense make the gentleman and the lady. Such is the evolution as it walks hand in hand with fate and time.—Kentucky Kernel.

War Is Swell

If General Sherman had been a steel or munitions manufacturer instead of a soldier, his famous words would probably have been, "War is swell."

The recent congressional investigation has clearly shown what many people have long suspected—that state departments and national heads are often swayed largely by, if not actually subservient to manufacturing interests which reap an enormous profit from war. The congressional committee uncovered instances where employees of the munitions interests had been railroaded into the ranks of congress and had stayed there for years working to promote the traffic in death-dealing machinery.

It was also found that companies have been selling munitions to friend and foe alike. Guns made in Allied countries during the World war were used a few weeks later to mow down Allied troops.

In view of the light which the investigation has thrown on the origins of international conflict, a new theory has been propounded which seems to strike at the root of the evil by wiping out the causes for war rather than by trying to suppress its various symptoms.

Senator Vanderberg's plan for ending war, sometimes called "universal conscription," would abolish the commercial motive by providing that "in the event of war every citizen, business, and corporation shall pay into the national treasury 95 per cent of all profits or earnings in excess of the last preceding three-year average."

The plan, strange as it may seem, has been indorsed by powerful veteran and pacifist organizations. Perhaps young men will no longer have to die in battle to make old men rich, or be slain by guns which their fathers have sold to the enemy.—Oregon Emerald

SOCIETY

FIVE pledge dances, using as their motifs everything from pastel juiced balloons to Walt Disney cartoon characters opened the social season for sure this weekend. The dances were held by Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Gamma Phi Beta, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Delta Theta.

Many Dads were entertained at dinners on Saturday, which was the first official 'Dads' day on the campus. The football game attracted many weekend visitors to the campus, also.

There will be eight dances held this coming weekend, most of them in honor of pledges.

Beta Dance Held for Pledges

Green hats, paddles, and colorful blankets were the predominant features of the Beta Theta Pi pledge dance, given Friday night at the chapter house. The attractive programs were yellow with black silhouettes. Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Clara Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Axtell, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greene. ## But You Can't See a POOR LAMP Waste Current

Drip! Drip! Drip!

If you could see electricity wasted by an inferior lamp bulb as readily as you see water wasted by a leaky faucet, you would replace the lamp at once. But you can't see it!

Thousands of people are paying for light they do not get, because of bulbs that are obsolete....worn out....or of inferior, unknown make. Often they and their families suffer eye strain as well, because of inadequate light.

The only sure way to guard your eyes and your pocketbook against this waste is to use lamps of the right size....and that have a reputation for quality.

YES good people, we lost the game. For the benefit of those who are still not quite sure about the Saturday afternoon affair, we make that statement. After the dust settled, after the air ceased to be filled with flying footballs, after the hysteria or the D.T.'s or whatever it was wore off, we found out that truth. Whether it was the flying feet of the Peterson, the rampant Irishman from Gonzaga heights who turned the trick, or whether the cards were against us, the facts still remain. We done lost the game, and I, with many a parting sigh and tear, parted with four-bits. Didn't you?

SS

BUT we ain't alone in our woe, good folks. Southern California, citadel of the mighty men of Troy, fell before the determined knocking of Babe Hollingbery's sophomore Cougars. In the midwest and east the big-wigs of football tumbled right and left, unable to cope with heretofore warm-up clubs. Notre Dame, under the regime of Elmer Layden, one time Four Horseman, took the count from Texas, the Longhorns winning by a margin of one point, 7-6. Michigan, last year's Big Ten champion, was snowed under 16-0 by Michigan State. Purdue bowed to the Rice Owls, another southwest outfit, 14-0, the Hoosiers being blanked for the first time in 49 games. Ursinus, of Collegeville, Pa., whom we never heard of before, socked mighty Penn for a 7-6 win. Cornell was outclassed by the University of Richmond, Minnesota beat Nebraska 20-0, Iowa topped Northwestern, and Ohio State larruped Indiana. Away back east Columbia, victor of the Rose Bowl tilt last season, stowed away a one touchdown margin over Yale, and down south Hunk Anderson's North Carolina State cracked under the attack by Wake Forest, 13-12. All right you grid grippers, join in the chorus, "I TOLD YOU SO!"

SS

SAY Pullman, from what we hear, you fellas ambled down South last week and won your ball game with Howard Jones' boys. Well, this is how we feel about it. We're tickled to death to see the Trojans measured for once, we're glad they were beat plenty, and most of all, as long as some one had to do it, we're darn pleased that it turned out to be you guys. We think that Babe Hollingbery and Buck Bailey and the whole lot of fighting Cougars are good Joes, really, and if you can win the conference championship this season, why hop to it. But, just this one word more, when we come over to Pullman the day before Armistice, WE'LL BE OUT TO WIN A BALL GAME! That's all, thanks for listenin'.

SS

ALL the boys were up in the press box with us Saturday except Buck Bailey, and he was down in L.A., watching the Cougars take Southern Cal. Bunny Oakes, Montana headman, was there with Cal Emery, star Grizzly backfield man. Cal and Bunny had some cute little notebooks in which they kept scribbling away. I suppose they were writing to the folks back home. Johnny Kitzmiller, University of Oregon scout, was there too, and he was all equipped with pencil and paper. Johnny was busy drawing freehand sketches of something or other, probably the beautiful sunset held his attention. Scattered among local gentlemen of the press, were C. R. Stark, sports editor of the Spokesman-Review, James Bolin, Spokane Press, and Ron Broom, headman for the Chronicle sport page.

SS

SPEAKING of Mr. Stark, Review sports editor, we think he ought to be a coach. On one occasion, when Idaho had six inches to go for a first down, speculation was rife in the press box as to the best way to get the needed inches. "Let the center fall forward on his face," suggested Mr. Stark. Not a bad idea, huh?

Vandals Drop Game To Bulldogs 24-20 In Wild Melee Saturday

Calland's Cohorts Play Ragged Ball Against Spokane Team

by Eddie Mayer

The 6500 students, dads, and fans who crowded into McLean field Saturday, witnessed one of the wildest football debacles ever staged on an Inland Empire gridiron. The 24-20 defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs came as a stunning blow to most Idaho enthusiasts who, although expecting Gonzaga to score, had not anticipated a victory for the Pecarovich proteges.

"Pass ball," not football, seemed to be the mode. Both clubs resorted to the air so often that the spectators were looking "skyward" most of the afternoon instead of down into the bowl. Nor were the aerial attacks limited to any certain locality, for instance, in the closing minutes of play, McCue was passing from eight yards behind his own goal line in a vain effort to get away a winning touchdown heave.

With this daring and ruthlessness, it is no wonder that the game was replete with thrills. Four touchdowns in the opening stanza is enough to take any football fan's breath, let alone being scored in the spectacular manner in which those four were tallied.

Blocked Punt Gives Chance to Score

A blocked punt by Norm Iverson on the third play of the game gave Idaho its first chance to score. A three-yard gain by McCue, two fumble passes, a Gonzaga offside penalty, and a drive by Theron Ward gave the Vandals a first down on Gonzaga's 32. Then Iverson snagged one of McCue's heaves and was run out of bounds on the one yard marker. Cy Geraghty went over on the next play and Bob Moser converted, giving Idaho a 7 to 0 lead.

Three plays elapsed. McCue dropped back and let fly. Ike Peterson, who was later banished from the fray by Bobby Morris for unsportsman-like conduct, gathered in the leather and dashed 55 yards for a touchdown. The Gonzagans then proceeded to miss the first of their four futile attempts to chalk up an extra point from placement.

Following the kick-off, Idaho started on its own 20 and punched over a first down in three plays to the 35-yard line. Here, the Vandals presented the Spokane boys with their second touchdown. A bad pass from center sent the ball past McCue to the seven-yard stripe where Ely, end recovered for Gonzaga. McNeese, speedy Bulldog fullback, out-ran the entire Idaho team, to circle his own left end for the score. Gonzaga 12, Idaho 7. Eight minutes to play.

Geraghty's Fumble Gives Gonzaga Break

Vaessen, Gonzaga guard, was on hand for the next break of the game. He recovered Geraghty's fumble of Key's punt, giving the Bulldogs the ball on the Vandal 25. Justice advanced a couple, a pass was incomplete, and then on a lateral, Peterson to McNeese, Gonzaga chalked up its only first down of the quarter by carrying the ball to the 2 1/2-yard line. The Idaho line knuckled down to business and pushed the Bulldogs back to the five yard line on the first two plays, but on the third Peterson tossed to Justice in the end zone running the score to 18-7.

The second quarter was entirely Idaho as the Gonzagans failed to cross into Vandal territory. Late in the opening period, Theron Ward was hitting the Gonzaga line for consistent gains and had advanced the ball to the 12-yard marker when the gun sounded. Geraghty sliced through for a first down on the seven-yard stripe on the first play of the second period. This scoring threat was thwarted when four plays netted only two minor gains and two incomplete passes.

Vandals not Through By Long Way

That closed the scoring for the day, but not the thrills for the two teams, although sapped by the torrid sun, battled bitterly right up to the final play.

The Vandals tossed 28 passes and completed 11. Four were intercepted. Gonzaga took to the air six times, completing three, and having one intercepted. Idaho rolled up 15 first downs to six for Gonzaga. The press box favored McCue, Inman, Devlin, Ward, Hansowetz, Sundberg, Barbee, and Iverson in the Vandal lineup, and Peterson, Justice, McNeese, and Olsen for the winners.

Although a dejected outfit, the Calland proteges are far from "through" for the 1934 season. Any team that boasts the air-raiding ability of the Vandals is going to be plenty dangerous, and with heavy drill on the running attack Coach Calland should be able to develop that department in the next two weeks before Oregon is entertained here October 20, Homecoming.

...and while we're talking about cigarettes

I don't suppose you were ever in a warehouse where they were storing hogsheads of tobacco. Any-way here's something interesting:

Liggett & Myers, the people who make Chesterfields, have about 4 1/2 miles of storage warehouses where they age the tobacco.

Down South where they grow tobacco folks say ...

It's no wonder so many people smoke Chesterfields. The tobaccos are mild and ripe to start with, and then they're aged the right way to make a milder, better-tasting cigarette.
