Look Out, Babe!

A great big hand to a fighting football team, the Coyotes of the College of Idaho! Last Saturday they dug in and fought with everything they had, offensively and defensively, not, mind you, just to keep the score down, but with a determination to win. They kept that "do or die" spirit through to the final gun and the Vandals were hard put to stave off some wicked thrusts through their line and a touchdown drive in the fourth quarter which was cut off at the two yard line. Score, 12 to 0 for the university.

The "wolves," having had visions of scores ranging upward from 40 points, were at it again soon after the game. Loud and long they cried for blood of a particular Calland variety, and moaned to high heaven a dirge to a dead or dying hope for winning football teams at Idaho.

The wolves have been heard and their words noted. Talk is cheap—the air is murky, but no smell of burned out brain cells is marked. We now ask the aforementioned individuals to retire quietly for the remainder of the season while we settle down to three ball games which remain on the schedule for the Vandals.

Without too strenuous activity on our own part we noticed three very good explanations for the outcome of Saturday's game on MacLean field and the failure of the Vandals to crush the Coyotes by a score of umpty-umpty to nothing: the opposition, the particularly strategic position of a rival scout, and the psychological set-up. Not the least of these was a strong and fast College eleven. The Vandals expected to meet a good team, but not one quite so good, as the Coyotes proved to be.

Perhaps some of the "wise guys" noticed in the list of officials on the program the name of Jack Friel as referee. His address was not included, but very well informed authorities tell us that he is a member of the Washington State college coaching staff. We play the Cougars at Pullman next Saturday—remember? Leo and some of his boys decided that it would be best to save any exhibition of trick stuff until next Saturday, and they tell us they have plenty of it. After all, some of these coaches have the darndest memory for fancy plays—hence the straight football served the Coyotes—we'll be seein' you Saturday, Jack.

Old man psychology played against us last Saturday, but he plans to be with us against W. S. C. It just wasn't possible for the Vandals to get all excited before the C. of I. game.

Here's a tip for Mr. "Babe" Hollingbery—you may as well send your first string in to the showers after the warm up, Babe. Idaho is in a rut—the student body won't back the team—the team won't play for the students—we don't like our coach—the coach doesn't like us—OH YEAH?—Look out, Babe! We're gonna give ya the works! Whadda ya say, gang? IDAHO FIGHTS!

Pep Band Members Find Original Way For Keeping Warm

Cold weather is no bugaboo to the members of the Pep Band, as they have several ways of keeping warm in spite of the icy wind which sent shivers up the backs of the crowd that witnessed the College of Idaho-University of Idaho game Saturday. With frosty fingers on frozen horns, it was evident that the temperature must be raised—and this they did. There is one way to thaw out the noise-makers, and that is by playing some good hot tunes, but this did not produce all the desired effect. However, there was another way. Otto Mosly, "it" having failed to arrive at the rally the night before on time. For this serious offense, Otto was warmed in another way by having administered to him one lusty rap on his posterior end by each member of the band.

SOCIETY

THE game with the College of Idaho rather overshadowed the society of this weekend. The women, however, celebrated by having their annual 'maless' dance, the Co-ed prom. The prom featured the Century of Progress, both in the decorations and the costumes which the guests wore.

Forney hall held an informal dance featuring a modernistic design of blue and gold triangles.

Forney Hall holds Informal Dance

Blue and gold metal paper triangles arranged in modernistic groups on the walls, and floor lamps with triangular patterns on the shades made up the decorations at the Forney hall informal dance held Friday. The programs were made with shell-colored covers, and blue metal paper leaves in loose-leaf style, and were tied with blue silk cords. Chuck Collins' orchestra furnished the music. Patrons and patronesses were Dean Permeal J. French, Miss Gertrude Evans, Miss Alice Kelly, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Michelson.

Coed Prom Held Saturday

The Century of Progress was the idea carried out at the Co-ed prom which was held Saturday at the women's gymnasium. Walls were decorated to give the impression of a street at the world's fair. Programs were in black and white with a modernistic design. Francis Eldridge won the prize for the best costume. The stunt prizes were won by Delta Gamma, first; Kappa Kappa Gamma, second; and College Women's club, honorable mention.

Pledges of Delta Delta Delta and Mrs. W. A. Ritchie, house mother, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Hugo Johnson Sunday evening at a buffet supper. Fansies were used as the central idea, with nut cups in yellow and a yellow center piece.

Beta Theta Pi entertained at tea Sunday from four until six at the chapt house in honor of Mrs. Clara Holmes.

Dinner guests of Alpha Chi Omega Friday were George Stoval, Boise; Helen Church, Frances Tyler, and Dorothy Beall, College of Idaho.

Alpha, Tau Omega entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Berg, Eugene Davidson, and Gordon Langford at dinner Sunday.

Annual Co-ed Prom Is Given Saturday

Stunt Cup Given to Delta Gammas; Worlds Fair Is Motif

The annual Co-ed Prom, sponsored by the home economics club, was held Saturday night in the Women's gymnasium. The Century of Progress was used as the motif for decoration, and the entire hall represented the World's Fair grounds. Candy, punch and noise-makers were sold in booths around the walls. Chuck Collins' orchestra furnished the music. During the intermission, group houses gave stunts. The cup was awarded to Delta Gamma, with Kappa Kappa Gamma winning second and the College Girl's club third. First prize for individual costumes was won by Frances Williamson and Frances Eldridge. Although Babe Hollingbery gave out information that only one man, Rodger Dougherty, was in had physical condition for the Idaho game, it must be admitted that Idaho will be in considerably better condition than the Cougars. After their game with O. S. C. two weeks ago the W. S. C. squad had to travel to California to play the St. Mary's Gaels. Any team that plays St. Mary's and comes out without at least a lot of bunged up men is exceptional. W. S. C. also had the long journey back to Pullman before they start practice for their Dad's Day game. The Vandals, fresh from two victories, should face them with a complete squad. Idaho always rises to unexpected heights against this traditional foe and their supporters who have so far been disappointed in their play should see at least one good Idaho game.

Loren Basler was proud of the performance of his ball club here Saturday. He surely had the right to be, as the Coyotes had about three-fourths of the crowd on their side by the end of the game. He has collected some fine men from Southern Idaho and welded them into a fine deceptive team. South Idaho money was plentiful here before the game, and from down south came many reports that the betting was for even money. The only reason that followers of their team were at all cautious here was because Swann, their backfield ace and major scoring threat, was not to be allowed to play. It was too bad that a player like Swann had to be held out of the game, but it was reported that an injury which had bothered him in high school competition was again brought out in their victory over the Southern Branch the week before.

JUST RUMORS—

That Dana X. Bible, who has produced consistent winning teams at Nebraska, would like to coach at Idaho. He wants a Rose Bowl chance. . . . That Idaho may play a conference opponent in Boise next year. . . . That two Moscow high stars were approached by O. S. C. . . . That "Dick" Hanley may come west. . . . That "Navy Bill" Ingram is probably through. . . . That O. S. C. believes Stanford the best team on the coast and Jimmy Phelan even admits it. . . . That "Cotton" Wharburton at one time wanted to come to Idaho.

Hoopmen Turn Out For First Session

Height and Reach To Be Lacking on Vandal Hoop Squad

Speed and aggressiveness. Around those two factors will be hinged the fortunes of the 1934 edition of the Vandal basketball team, states Coach Rich Fox, Vandal hoop director. A lack of height and reach among aspirants to the club this season will make necessary a fast, hard-fighting silver and gold quintet if the Vandals are to break into the win column consistently. A relatively small turn out of fifteen men answered Coach Rich Fox's first call for recruits last night, with four men from last year's hoop club out for positions. Transfers from other schools and four members of last year's frosh squad made up the rest of the initial squad.

Loss of Greater Depth Felt

The loss of Howard Grenier, all-coast center last year, will be deeply felt this winter, stated Coach Fox. "I intend to leave the center position open until somebody stands out there," was Fox's comment on that situation, naturally we need a good center, with all the other schools using men well over six feet, but that berth is open indefinitely. An abundance of guards and forwards turned up at last night's practice. Wally Geraghty and Merle Fisher, lettermen guards from last year, are back, together with Vic Warner, two year letterman forward, and Bill Katsilometes, reserve guard last season. Other guards new to university ball are Walt Carle, Southern branch transfer, Preston Hale, transfer from Boise Junior college, and Woodie Hall from last year's frosh club.

On '34 Club

Forwards are looking up in the persons of Bob Mullica, formerly of the Southern Branch, and Ronald Martin and Bert Larson of the 1933 yearlings. Joe Ladle and Don Snedaker, transfers from Ricks Junior college, and Frank Rogers, Gonzaga transfer, are looking for gerths on the Vandal club this year also. Norman Iverson and Harold Klumb, lettermen guards, will be out after football season. Centers so far are few. Paul Fuller, center on last year's frosh squad, and Kenny Robertson, B. J. C. transfer, are the only boys out for that position so far, but with other men eager to get the call at the pivot post, this should have plenty of competition. "We've got lots of speed," said Coach Fox after a short scrimmage last night. "If we can mold it into an aggressive team, we may go places. At least we have speed." Conference Schedule Begins Jan. 7. 16 games have been scheduled for the Vandals this season, against Washington, Washington State, Oregon, and Oregon State. A barnstorming trip will be arranged for the Christmas holidays, with conference ball starting January seventh. Eight home conference games are on the Vandal ticket, with complete schedule being as follows: Jan. 7-8 Washington at Seattle. Jan. 12 W. S. C. at Moscow. Jan. 18-19 Oregon at Moscow. Jan. 26 W. S. C. at Pullman. Feb. 2 W. S. C. at Moscow. Feb. 8-9 Oregon at Eugene. Feb. 11-12 Oregon State at Corvallis. Feb. 18-19 Washington at Moscow. Feb. 25-26 Oregon State at Moscow. March 2 W. S. C. at Pullman.

Vandal Babes Lose To Teachers 20-12

Frosh Play Heads Up Ball; Ellensberg Scores on Intercepted Pass

Playing heads-up ball all the time, the Idaho frosh lost to the Ellensburg teachers 20 to 12 Friday afternoon at Ellensburg. The Babes, scheduled to lose by two touchdowns, played the normal on even terms throughout the game. It was only after an intercepted pass in the last few minutes of play that the teachers made their second touchdown to gain a safe lead.

Frosh and Teachers Score in First Half

Both teams scored in each quarter of the first half, the normal taking a two point lead on drop kick conversions by Mike Mitchell, quarterback. Prince, charging fullback for Idaho, scored the first touchdown for the frosh, making a 30-yard drive off tackle. Jerry Maupin, flashy quarterback, who was handicapped by a leg injury, made the other Idaho counter after Ellensburg held for downs on the two-foot mark.

Trying desperately to overcome a two point lead in the middle of the last quarter, the frosh passed from their own 10-yard line. Ellensburg intercepted and Lew Burnett, sub quarter, made the teach-

Intramural Sports

Delta Tau Delta eliminated Tau Mem Alpha from the B. League baseball tourney 16-2 last night. The Delts showed a strong infield combination and had plenty of hitting power. Martin and Bowen of the winners got circuit blows. Batteries for the Delts were Styffe and Evans with Johnson, Rice, Krebb and Roberts for T. M. A.

University Drives Over Two Touchdowns in Second Half For Win

The Vandals certainly gave their running attack a working over Saturday! For sixty minutes the university eleven stuck to plain power plays, attempting only three passes. As a result thrills were cut to a minimum. In the first half four attempts to score were thwarted by the stubborn College of Idaho line, but in the second half the Vandals unleashed a little more power to drive over two touchdowns for a 12-0 final.

Plays Held Under Cover

Coach Calland kept the team under wraps throughout the contest. Klumb, McCue, Nutting, and Ap Berg, outstanding linemen saw little service and the starting backfield played practically the entire contest. The plays were undoubtedly held under cover due to the coming game with the W.S.C. Cougars. The fact that Jack Freil, W.S.C. hoop coach, refereed the game was a good reason for not divulging any tricky formations. Both tries for points were unsuccessful, Bob Moser finding that mud cleats have their disadvantage when it comes to placement kicking. Out of bounds kicks and a couple of partially blocked punts cut Thompson's booting average to 39 yards while Sundberg and Gwilliams turned in a combined punt average of 46 yards. The Vandals garnered 14 first downs while holding the Coyotes to 3.

Fumbles Prove Predominate Feature

Fumbles were a predominate feature, although the field was fairly dry. The hay which had covered the grid for the past week was removed shortly before game time. A cold wind prevailed most of the afternoon chilling the crowd of 2500 who watched the game. High, long kicks by Thompson, C. of I. quarter, proved to be an outstanding threat for the losers. The mishandling of one of these boots by Devlin in the fourth quarter gave the Bazmen their only scoring opportunity. Esson, Coyote lineman, recovered the fumble on the university 20 yard line. Thompson forwarded to Hayman placing the ball on the seven. A series of plays advanced the oval to the two yard line where the Vandals took possession on downs. Starting on their own 15 yard line shortly after the opening of the third quarter, the Vandals battered the Coyote line for consistent gains, with the drive terminating when Sundberg scored from the 12. In this 85-yard trek, Sundberg chalked up advances of 15, 12, and 9 yards before the final gain. DEVILN MAKES LONGEST RUN

Devlin out-ran the C. of I. secondary defense late in the fourth stanza when he broke through right tackle. This scoring play was for 37 yards, the longest gain via "terra firma" during the afternoon. In the first half after making crusades of 37, 52, and 33 yard lengths, the Vandals were stopped each time short of pay dirt by being held for downs. Twice the team had reached the two yard stripe and once had reached the 17. A fresh backfield composed of Geraghty, Inman, Dayton, and Holmes made a start for what looked like another drive but were

Washington State Next On Program

Cougar Dad's Day Will Be Scene of Intense Rivalry

Fresh from California's sunshine, the W. S. C. Cougars return to Pullman to start training for their annual Dad's Day tilt with the Idaho Vandals next Saturday. On their off week, the Cougars lost to the St. Mary's Gaels last Friday 13 to 6. So far this year the Cougars have run their games in cycles. They were hot against U.S.C. then lost to Gondaga, won their Homecoming game with O. S. C., and then last week lost to the Gaels. Saturday is due to be their "on" day again.

Babe Hollingbery reports only one injury, that to Rodger Dougherty, sensational sophomore fullback. The team will undoubtedly be tired from the trip and the playing of two tough games in succession, one of them against the crushing St. Mary's line. Idaho, on the other hand, should have a team in perfect condition as they had a comparatively easy game last weekend. Still Have Record Washington State will be out stopped on the Coyote 17 when the attack went wry. A fumble and two incomplete passes proving the stumbling block. In completing 5 of 15 pass attempts, the visitors had two that gained a total of 82 yards. The first, Thompson to Hoobler, 130-pound halfback, gained 40 yards, and, although the fourth period, placed the ball in Idaho territory for the first time. The second was Hayman to Thompson for a total of 42 yards placing the oval on the university 40 yard line. Four of the 15 passes were intercepted, Honsowetz snagging three of them.

again to protect their record of never having a Hollingbery coached team beaten on their home field. This tradition, so often threatened but never broken, has become one of the challenges of the Northwest. "Break the W.S.C. record" has almost become a by-word. Last year Washington and this year O. S. C. went to Pullman with high hopes of accomplishing it but neither was successful. The "Babe," himself, is reported as saying that if any team broke the record it would be the Vandals, although this year they go into the game distinctly the underdogs. The Vandals traditionally play their best ball game of the year against the Pullman boys. This year, after a poor start, the Idaho team has picked up to win their last two starts. Their early season passing attack has been abandoned being recently replaced by power plays which give the heavy Vandal line a chance to perform.
