

New Vandaleers Selected From Large Turnout

Crowd of 400 Listens to Students Compete For Coveted Positions

57 Singers Try Out Tues.

New Members Will Assist in Pro- ducing "Gondoleers in Spring"

New Vandaleer members were chosen this week from a group of 57 singers who tried out for the organization Tuesday evening. "This was the best tryout that I have ever attended," stated Professor Carleton Cummings, "and the audience, which was between 400 and 500 people, showed enthusiasm and interest during the program."

Reginald Lyons, senior member of the Vandaleers stated that there were more good voices than ever before, and that the competition was much keener.

Fourteen Chosen

The new members were chosen on a basis of voice, character, personality, stage appearance, and scholarship, as follows: Louise Paulsen, Margaret Quist, and Louise Tomlinson, sopranos; Agda Walden, Maxine Berger, Phyllis Rand, and Betty Mallory (alternate), altos; James Perry, Bud Smedley, and Holmes McCleavy, tenors; Jim Wright, James Burkhardt, Bill Taylor, and Eugene Harman (alternate), bass.

The new members will become regulars as soon as the present seniors drop out second semester. They will probably be used in the coming production of the light opera, "The Gondoleers," by Gilbert and Sullivan, which is to be presented by members of the university music department early in the spring.

Possible Chorus
Mr. Cummings stated that a good mixed chorus could be made up of the other singers who tried out but did not make the organization.

The new Vandaleer members will be taken into the organization, said Mr. Cummings, with the promise that they will carry on the good work that the retiring members are doing and have done, and that they will keep up the high standards this organization has already won for itself from those who are acquainted with it.

Medical Test Is Given To Students

Aptitude Test to be Held by Medical Association On December 7

The Association of American Medical Colleges aptitude test will be given on the campus December 7, and should be taken by all students who expect to apply for entrance to a medical school by the association as one of the normal requirements for admission, and this is the only time it will be given here this year.

According to word received from the committee on aptitude tests, all medical schools have agreed to consider the grades made on these tests in selecting men for the freshman class.

The test will be in charge of Dr. Stough. Students wishing to take it should make application to him immediately.

After a lapse of 42 years, Princeton and Pennsylvania will again resume football relations. The two teams have not met since 1894, and will renew their acquaintance on Franklin field on October 17, 1934.

Rudy Vallee Says Fiddlers Three Are "Going Places"

"If I am any judge of musical talent, the Fiddlers Three can be watching," was Rudy Vallee's comment after the Idaho trio appeared on Vallee's coast to coast broadcast last week. The "Fiddlers," Bill Ames and Wendell Olsen, '33 and Dick Edwards, '34, have been playing solos and accompaniments with Al Pearce and his gang over the NBC network.

The trio made its first appearance on the campus last year at serenades and concerts. They were popular entertainers at many campus events.

Egyptian Motif to be Decoration Theme At Ball December 8

"An Egyptian motif will be the theme of decorations at the Senior ball December 8," said Sheldon Whitner, chairman of the decoration committee. Exact details of the decorations will not be disclosed until a later date, but the committee revealed that desert silhouettes will predominate along the sides of the hall. Two centers of interest at the ends of the floor are being kept "undercover" at present.

Tickets will be issued two weeks in advance of the dance, and the price will be $1.25. The following men will be in charge of ticket sales: Tau Mem Aleph, Bernard Peterson; Lindley hall, Brennan Davis; S.A.E., Bill David; Lambda Chi, Leo Sention; Beta Theta Pi, Jack Gray; Alpha Tau Omega, Clyde McElrney; Phi Gamma Delta, Herman Wagner; Phi Delta Theta, Bob Felton; Sigma Chi, Harold Ellingson; Sig maNu, Bill Tunson; Delta Tau Delta, Bob Ford; Delta Chi, John Aram; Kappa Sigma, Gerald Fogle; Chi Alpha Pi, Don Ridings; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Bob Bennett; Ridenbaugh hall, Earl Hays.

Second ASUI Dance Comes Tomorrow

Admission 25 Cents a Couple With Student Body Tickets

The second of a series of ASUI dances will be held Saturday night in the women's gymnasium from 9 until 11:30. Twenty-five cents a couple will be charged along with the ASUI tickets of both men and women. Chuck Collins' orchestra will furnish the music.

"I was greatly disappointed in the last ASUI dance as we had only 112 paid admissions, but I feel that this was due to the lack of advertising," said Bill Armstrong, chairman of the ASUI dance committee. "We expect this one to be much more successful, and urge all town students to, well, as those on the campus to come."

Conduct Date Bureau
There is a dating bureau at each of the halls for the purpose of aiding all those who wish dates. Members of this committee are Maurine Kinghorn and Janet Wines, Forney Hall; and Arlene Blackwell, Peggy Myrick, and Marjorie Ponsalem, Hays.

If there is sufficient turn-out for the dance Saturday night, the ASUI will sponsor another dance December 1 for all students who remain here during vacation.

Bulletin Board

Executive board meeting, Monday night, 7:00 o'clock at the Memorial gymnasium.

Alpha Kappa Psi meeting, Delta Chi house, Monday at 7:30.

Pass Snatching Bluejay Ace

FAR FROM HIS Butte, Mont., home is Mike O'Leary, regular end on the Creighton university football club, which meets the Vandals on Thanksgiving, at Omaha. O'Leary is rated as one of the most capable performers on the Bluejay varsity and last season, as a second-year man, he won unanimous selection as a member of the All-Missouri Valley conference honor eleven.

While in high school at Butte, O'Leary won all-state honors in both football and basketball and was considered one of the greatest high school athletes ever turned out in Montana.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICE

Students who are absent from classes immediately before or after vacation shall have their final grades reduced 10 points in each course in which the absence was incurred.

Spurs And Knights Give First Stunt

Plans Made at Meeting For The Joint Assembly Tuesday

Four representatives of the Intercollegiate Knights met with the Spurs Wednesday noon at the Tri-Delt house to complete plans for the assembly program to be presented November 27 in the university auditorium.

The program will be presented under the new plan set up by the assembly committee authorized by the executive board. Each honorary is to be given two weeks for preparation of a stunt.

Create Interest
The purpose of the assemblies is to create greater interest and enable organizations to make themselves better known.

The Spurs and the Intercollegiate Knights promise plenty of original entertainment, along with snappy song and dance numbers. Plans cannot be divulged before the appointed hour, but all who want something new and different in entertainment should be on hand Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, say those in charge.

Thanksgiving Issue of Blue Bucket Will Be Out Next Week

The Thanksgiving issue of the Idaho Blue Bucket will not be distributed until Tuesday or Wednesday according to Dock Hogue, editor of the publication. The delay is due to the late arrival of certain cuts which are quite essential to this number.

Among the features of this issue is a collegiate short story by Ruth Haller, who is rapidly becoming one of the leading campus writers. Cosmer Hall, that secretive individual who will not reveal his identity, presents a gruesome medical school story for those who like their fiction strong. This number will also contain the Blue Bucket's first real experience story, a cleverly written anonymous article dealing with the experiences of a collegian in the construction game.

SOPHOMORES PLAN ANNUAL "HOLLY DAY"

According to plans made at the class meeting Tuesday, the first annual sophomore "Hollyday" will be held December 18, beginning with an assembly in the morning and ending with a dance in the evening. These will be open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Winston Goss, sophomore class president, announced the appointment of the following committees: Jim McFarland, chairman; Bert Larson, Arvon Wilson, Murva James, Mary Ferguson, Holly committee; Esther Flenner, chairman; Jo Betty Wickes, Edith Slatter, Dance committee; Roy Gray, chairman; Earl Bullock, J. T. Anderson, Bob Fisher, Jack Dyer, and Jack McKibben, New Society Section.

Student Committees Are Appointed; Will Revise Old ASUI Constitution; To Investigate New Election Plan

Proportional Representation Gives Chance of Min- ority Voice

Student leaders on the campus have discussed proportional representation to some extent during the last few years, but little if any agitation for it as a workable scheme here has developed until this year with the investigation begun by the executive board a week ago.

The system under consideration by the board's committee is that advocated by Thomas Hare, well-known political reformer. It is used in a number of cities in the United States for municipal elections and was first employed by the officials of Ashtabula, Ohio, in 1915. Other American cities which use it are Boulder, Colorado; Sacramento, California; West Hartford, Conn.; Cleveland, Ohio; Cincinnati, Mo.; and Kansas City, Mo.; Among the progressive colleges in the country which have taken this new system of voting is Columbia university. In all these places it has proved successful, according to students of political science.

The underlying principle of proportional representation is to have each voter's ballot, as far as possible for a winning candidate. The voting is done on the basis of preferences. As the ballot is marked, first choice, second choice, third choice, etc., for members of the executive board, if the total number of votes in first choices for one candidate exceed the number necessary to elect him, all the remaining ballots are voted according to second choices designated on them. If a voter casts a first choice for a candidate who is hopelessly out of the running among first choice candidates, that voter's ballot is not cancelled, but is effective through the second choices marked in, possibly bring another candidate through to win.

Consider Problem
Under consideration by the executive board are the many problems attendant with making this progressive system workable. Many questions arise in the adaptation of the system to the selection of Idaho student body officers. It will be for a governing body, the executive board, elected as a whole from the student body. The matters of who shall be president, whether he shall be included in the board election, and many others will be duly considered by the board within the next few weeks.

One of the principal arguments for proportional representation is statistical—that under it about 80 percent of the votes cast are effective, that is, help to elect candidates, while under the ward and at-large systems ordinarily only from 50 to 60 percent of the votes are cast for winning candidates and approximately 40 per cent are wasted on losing candidates. To put the matter another way, under proportional representation, four voters out of five have their ballots counted for one of the candidates for whom they have expressed a choice, while under the ward system, with a preliminary primary, only three out of five see their votes help elect a candidate.

FORESTRY SCHOOL IS SELLING TREES

The forest nursery of the School of Forestry is selling trees from three to seven feet high of various kinds of spruce, English oak, Douglas fir, and American and Japanese Arbvitae at about the cost of digging and balling the roots. The trees can be obtained at the old nursery south of MacLean field. It was originally planned to dispose of them Thursday and Friday mornings, but because of the difficulty to serve the people who came, trees may also be obtained on Saturday morning.

STUDENTS TO GIVE PLAYS IN GERMAN

"Two plays in German will be presented by the German club," said Herbert Steinger, president. No date has been set.

Officers elected at the meeting held Tuesday night were: Herbert Steinger, president; Gustav Dalke, vice president; Dorothy Sturgeon, secretary; and Eric Steinger, treasurer.

Meetings are held every Tuesday night, and all students interested are invited to attend. German is spoken part of the time, and songs in German are sung.

RALLY! RALLY! RALLY!

Sunday evening, beginning at 6:15 o'clock, a rally will be held as a send-off for the Idaho Vandals as they leave for Omaha to meet the Creighton Bluejays, according to an announcement by Paul Kerr, announcer, this morning.

"This is the last rally of the year for the football team," said Kerr. "I want every Idaho student out there ready to give the team a rousing send-off which they won't be able to forget until long after the game Thanksgiving day. Everybody out!"

Varsity Debaters Leave For Utah

Greathouse, Orland, and Whitehead to Attend Tournament

A. E. Whitehead, varsity debate coach and debaters Lewis Orland, sophomore, and Cecil Greathouse, senior, left this morning by car to represent Idaho in the debate tournament to be held in Salt Lake City November 27 to December 3. The team will stop at Nampa en route for a debate tonight on the question, Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent international shipment of arms and munitions.

The forensic tournament at Salt Lake City is the first to which university students have been invited by the Western Association. In the past only teachers have participated in the meeting. The Western Association of Teachers of Speech includes the states of Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, and California. According to Prof. Whitehead, Idaho's team will be required to compete with delegates from any of these states and will undoubtedly face a formidable array of debaters and speakers. Greathouse and Orland must be prepared to speak on either side of the question on international shipment of arms and munitions.

Speaking Contest
Both Greathouse and Orland will also enter the extemporaneous speaking contest which is being held as a part of the forensic tournament in Salt Lake City.

Contestants must be prepared to speak on anything that has appeared in the Reader's Digest and Time between October 1 and November 15. The drawings for the final selection precede the actual speaking by one hour. In order to qualify for participation in the contest the entrant must speak at least five minutes on his subject and no more than eight. Three awards will be given, a trophy for the school going to the winner of first place, and suitable prizes for second and third place winners.

On January 7 the University of California is scheduled to debate Idaho here in a regular varsity debate. California will send two representatives who will be prepared to take the affirmative on any of the following questions:

- Resolved: That a World War is eminent.
- Resolved: That medicine should be socialized in the United States.
- Resolved: That Japan deserves naval parity.
- Resolved: That we can avert Huxley's "Brave New World."

Tentative opposition for the California team will be Paris Martin and Bill Wetherall, two of Idaho's outstanding debaters, states Whitehead.

U. P. ANNOUNCES STAGE SCHEDULES

Special schedules are being offered by Union Pacific stages for the convenience of students and faculty during Thanksgiving vacation. Besides the special arrangements for students going north through Spokane, arrangements have been completed for faster connections with southern Idaho. Because of the special schedule, students will be able to arrive in Boise at 11:30 a. m. next Thursday in time for Thanksgiving dinner.

Bill Wetherall and Norm Roberts Selected as Chairmen

With committee appointments at the last meeting of the executive board Tuesday night, plans for radical revisions in the ASUI constitution and possible change in the methods of election of ASUI student body officers got under way. According to Dave Kendrick, president of the ASUI, the constitution will be brought up to date through suggestions made by students and constitutions of other schools in the Pacific Coast conference.

Bill Wetherall, vice president of the association, is chairman of the committee on constitutional revision. Other members as selected by the president and approved by the board are Hamer Budge, Keith McDaniel, and Casady Taylor. Suggestions from members of the student body as to changes which might be made to improve the present constitution are welcomed, according to the committee. All proposals will be considered and presented to the board for approval. A final draft will be presented to the student body for vote later in the year.

Proportional Representation
On a committee to investigate the practicability of proportional representation as a method of election of ASUI officers was appointed with Norman Roberts as chairman. Other members are Carl Buell, Harold Boyd, Mary Ellen Brown, and John Daly. Lawrence Chamberlain, instructor in political science, has aided in explaining the system to the board and has expressed himself as willing to cooperate with the committee in investigating the method as it might be applied at Idaho. One member of this committee will "graduate" to the constitutional revisions committee later in the year.

A tentative ASUI budget for the year 1934-35 was passed by the board at the meeting. Plans for the next ASUI dance to be held Saturday night were also discussed.

High School Paper Contest Planned

Theta Sigma Holds Luncheon Meeting; Pledging Is Discussed

Plans for the annual contest among special editions of high school papers edited by girls were discussed by Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary, at a luncheon meeting in the Blue Bucket Wednesday noon. Plans for pledging after the first semester grades are out were considered at the meeting. Norma Longeteig, the past president of Theta Sigma and working on the Moscow News-Review, was elected alumni secretary.

"We expect to have all the letters inviting the high schools to enter the contest off by December 6 so the papers can be ready for our judging sometime in March," said Marjorie Wurster, president of the organization.

Award Cups

The winner of the high school newspaper contest will be presented with a silver cup, which has been won the past two years in succession by the Moscow high school. A cup will be awarded to the winner of the mimeographed paper, also. This cup was awarded to Emmett high school last year, with Twin Falls high school receiving honorable mention. The high school which wins three times in succession will be granted permanent possession of the cup.

Points upon which the papers are judged are makeup of the pages, headlines, advertisement, sports, editorials, feature material, style of writing.

FORESTRY FACULTY TO ATTEND MEETING

Dean Richard E. McArdle and other members of the faculty of the School of Forestry will attend a meeting of the Idaho Forest Practice committee in Coeur d'Alene Monday afternoon.

The committee is a deliberative body organized to assist lumbering and forestry agencies to carry out the conservation provisions of the national lumber code. Among the official members of this committee are the state forester and dean of the School of Forestry.

Grins and Gripes

TO THE EDITOR

Sir: A group of representatives from church young people's societies discussing the problem of membership at the inter-church officers' retreat Saturday evening agreed unanimously that the evening meeting membership attendance was about two from sororities and fraternities to 50 who live in town or independent houses and halls.

A larger church membership from independent students is to be expected, first, since they compose a more numerous group. Second, independent students do not have the opportunity for social contacts that group house members have; consequently many attend church for mere social reasons.

Aside from these considerations, real reasons must exist for the striking differences between the attendance records of these groups. Among observations of the representatives were these: Big brothers and sisters of the Greek letter houses do not encourage church membership among the freshmen of their groups, but rather encourage them to do their work at periods of the day which conflict with activities of the church, and sometimes scoff at church attendance.

House meetings and entertainments are frequently held at the hour in which young people's organizations of the church meet. New Pan-Hellenic rules forbid women rushees to accept dates or rush week, while the churches of Moscow are doing their utmost to introduce university students to the varied program and opportunities the church offers them here.

The representatives cited instances in which students previously active in young people's organizations joined fraternities and were kept from further activity in the church group. Personally, I do not believe a lack of interest in church life is responsible for the lack of attendance among the Greek letter house members. I have talked to several new students who were eager for church activity, but were deterred from it by obligations to their houses.

When big brothers of the fraternities are encouraging activities among the freshmen, should they discourage participation in church young people's organizations? What other organization can fulfill the real needs of students—discussion of concrete problems which affect them vitally. A great deal of time and effort is spent in organizing these societies and in adapting their program to fit the needs of students. Is it fair for grouphouses to hold meetings which conflict with these programs? Should the freshmen be discouraged from attending that to which high school habit prompts them, those things which may help them bridge the gap between high school and college?

A restricted group of college students tends to become somewhat narrow and prejudiced in its social sphere. The rather distorted outlook of life the student thus gains hinders him when he leaves college. Outside contacts like the church help him keep a normal attitude toward life.

Why don't older house members encourage rather than discourage new members to participate in church activities? Why couldn't the inter-fraternity council as well as the inter-church council recognize this as an unfortunate situation and take steps toward its remedy?

The illustrious S. S. (congratulations on being able to find the owner of the ill-fated initials G. M. B.; they're the only ones in the directory) has said, "until aviators direct the Chicago Symphony, there is probably no reason why electrical engineers should become beauty experts or music critics."

Assuming that Pep Band members are acquainted with, and may be recognized as critics of the type of music they are presumed to play, may it be noted that two engineers were valued members of the Pep Band at its peak, namely: Chuck Thompson B. S. (C. E.) and Kenneth Kenworthy B. S. (E. E.)—an electrical engineer.

Credit must be given the epigrammatic S. S. for his ability to tell fact from fiction, although his trenchant pen ran much to the latter in his long-winded dissertation. Fact to all species of university student (engineer or musician) is more basic than fiction—let more facts be presented!

In contrast to Tuesday's article and in keeping with the editor's request for constructive criticism rather than sarcastic quibbling, a question is asked: If the passing of years denotes progress, why is the Pep Band now unable to effectively compete with the "big American, Wash. State band" as they did in the past? The Idaho Pep Band is no smaller, the W. S. C. band no larger. Why can't twenty-five pieces in 1934 outplay and outmarch one-hundred as in 1933?

Would the following clipping from the "University of Washington Daily" (sent by an Idaho student at Washington U) bear out the quoted music critic's statement that Pep Band is better than in previous years?—We quote:

"The Idaho Pep Band must have been afraid to play alone. Maybe that's why they chimed in every time the Husky band struck up." Does the University of Washington agree with this engineer that "We need a Pep Band?" G. M. B.

HAWKEYE

ON DUTY

We should have a "clean-up week" pretty soon because the dirt is flying so thick and fast that an honest fellow can't snoop his head around the corner without seeing things. Did you see: G. GASTON "LONGCOAT" WILLEY displaying lingerie to the brothers?... HAROLD "SECOND STORY" KAESAR doing his best to get into the U Hut via the apple tree... JOHNNY CHESTNUT not knowing the school in which he is enrolled... THE BETA CHAMP free-lancing again out from his home work to do a little snooping behind Morrill hall... BEATRICE JANE FISHER being a model... The Rail Roads giving special rates to anyone desirous of making a long trip after seeing their grades... HERMAN "FAT" WAGNER getting cream-eyed over one of the Kappa frosh... MARY CURTIS wrestling with "Temptation" at the Vandaleer tryouts....

No matter how hard you try, you just can't hide anything from HAWKEYE. For instance, if you would like to see a wedding and know all about it before you read about it in the papers, go to 210 South Almond next Saturday at one o'clock. While we are on the subject, did you hear anything about the wedding next June with ANITA SHERMAN and BILL ROBB as the participants?

There are seven blind students who, under the supervision of the state, are attending the University of Oregon. For their use there are approximately 600 volumes of textbooks in Braille in the university library.

Proportional Representation

On the front page of this issue of The Argonaut appears a story which in a somewhat meager way describes some of the essential points in a new system of election of officers for a group. It is known as proportional representation. That method of election is under consideration for use at Idaho by a committee recently appointed by the executive board.

We have taken it upon ourselves to investigate this system to some degree and see in it a solution to a problem which has vexed us for some time. The political party system now in vogue on the Idaho campus has been something which we could get along very well without. Under the proportional representation plan political machines cannot operate. Score one for P. R.

We advocate proportional representation because it will secure a truly representative executive board, one which will be a true sample or "cross-section" of the student body as a whole. A much greater percentage of the total number of votes cast will be effective in putting board members into office than is possible under the present system.

The plan is seemingly complex, but relatively simple, once it is placed in operation. The major obstacle which we can see to its successful adoption at Idaho is the difficulty in adequate explanation of the system to the members of the student body. The Argonaut, for this reason, will use its columns throughout the consideration of the plan in an attempt to clarify for the students the questions which are bound to arise.

Beginning with the next issue, The Argonaut will conduct a question and answer column in which all phases of the plan will be discussed. Students are invited to drop in The Argonaut box in the main hall of the Administration building any questions which they might like clarified. Some of them may be: Is the voter who casts his ballot for a defeated candidate unrepresented on the board? Is a vote for a losing candidate wasted? During the ensuing weeks we shall try to aid the students in coming to an understanding of the plan. We believe in it. Can't we help you to understand it?

Grins and Gripes Again

With this issue, a slight change in The Argonaut's policy regarding the "Grins and Gripes" column is being affected. Initials will not be printed with student comment contributions except at the request of the authors. There are several reasons for this change, which, we hope, will bring out more contributions from the hitherto seemingly opinionless student body.

Keeping the identity of writers secret should be conducive to freer expression of honest opinion. On a campus as small as ours where students either know each other well enough, or can find out by consulting the student directory, to discover the authors of the contributions, printing the initials serves no purpose toward keeping the comments anonymous. When we know who wrote the "grin or gripe," we are too prone to judge the author's right to his convictions rather than the worth of the arguments he advances. If our readers judge a contribution by its author rather than the merits of the points he makes, then the whole value of a student opinion column is lost.

Anonymity, then, will prevail with future publications of student comment. We will still insist, however, that the author's full name be signed to the contributions, but only contributed initials, pen names, or no names at all will be divulged—as the author wishes.

MRS. J. H. JOHNSON SPEAKS TO GROUP

In accordance with this year's theme of Kappa Phi, national organization of Methodist women, Mrs. Hugo Johnson, sponsor, spoke on the subject "Doors" at a dinner meeting recently. The next meeting will be a joint meeting with the Wesley Foundation on Friday evening, absence from which will be considered an unexcused absence. Pictures for the Gem will be taken at nine o'clock. Intercession services will be held in the church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, from which absence will also be noted.

NO MORE ENERGY?...
GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

TOBACCO EXPERTS ALL SAY:
 "Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

EDWARD KENT, '36—GEOLOGY STUDENT.
 Edward Kent knows the value of a full reserve of natural, vibrant energy. And that's one of the reasons why he sticks to Camels. In his own words: "It takes a lot of hard work to acquire any thorough knowledge of geology—and a lot of energy. It's tiring at times, but like most of the fellows around here, I have found that smoking a Camel cheers me up... chases away all fatigue... gives me that 'lift' in mental alertness and physical well-being which I need to be able to go on working with renewed energy."

MISS EVELYN WATTS,
 popular New York debutante: "The last Camel I smoke at night tastes just as good as the first in the morning. Camels are very mild, too. Even when I smoke a lot, they never upset my nerves."

SURVEYOR. "When I'm working hard, I find that a great way to keep up my energy is to smoke a Camel every now and again," says Prescott Halsey. "Camels seem to bring back my natural energy and chase away all feeling of tiredness."

At a meeting of intramural debaters last week, Virginia Merrick chairman of the women's division, appointed a representative for each women's group house on the campus. These representatives are to meet next Tuesday evening at the Delta Delta Delta house to arrange a schedule to be followed for the debate tourney.

Those chosen as representatives from the different houses were: Frances Wimer, Alpha Chi Omega; Helen Latimore, Alpha Phi; Dorothy Williams, Delta Delta Delta; Mary Ellen Brown, Delta Gamma; Ruth Farley, Gamma Phi Beta; Erma Lewis, Kappa Alpha Theta; Dorothy Dole, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Eleanor Stewart, Pi Beta Phi; Ethlyn O'Neal, Hays hall; and Elizabeth Coats, Forney hall.

The subject decided upon for debate is: "Resolved: That the pass and flunk system should be used at the University of Idaho." The group house winning the debate will receive a loving cup presented by the Delta Sigma Rho, debate honorary.

Volleyball Mixer Held Last Tuesday Gets Large Turnout

W. A. A. sponsored a volleyball mixer last Tuesday at the women's gymnasium from 4 to 5 o'clock. These mixers are held at the beginning of the volleyball season each year. A great deal of enthusiasm was shown by the large number of girls turning out.

The program consisted of the introduction of the winning sophomore speedball team by the speedball manager, Edith Slatter; a stunt by Louise Paulsen and Jean Stuart; a presentation of the horseshoe cup by Carol Campbell to the Alpha Phi sorority won by Neva Eisinger and Ruth Smith in the tournament; a tap dance by Fat Espe; and a pep talk on volleyball by Jane Post. Music for the entertainment was furnished by Jeannette Wines.

Alumnae Spurs Honored At Sunday Breakfast

Alumnae Emblems to be Presented at Annual Affair; Dean French Present

The Idaho chapter of the Spurs will honor their alumnae at a breakfast to be given Sunday morning at the Moscow hotel at 9 o'clock. All girls who were active members last year are to be guests of honor for the occasion. Mrs. Boyer, faculty advisor; Marjorie Wurster; national vice-president; and Miss Permeal French, Dean of Women, are also invited guests.

Each year the new Spurs honor their alumnae at some informal entertainment. At this time, the alumnae receive their miniature Spur alumnae emblems to be worn on their white sweaters.

Alpha Lambda Delta To Hold Honorary Tea

All freshmen women making a "B" average or above for the first nine weeks of school will be guests of Alpha Lambda Delta at a tea Tuesday evening at Hays hall. Alpha Lambda Delta is a national scholastic honorary with the membership consisting of women who have made an average of 5.5 or better during their freshman year.

At a meeting held last Tuesday evening, plans for initiation of new members and the honorary tea were completed. Initiation for the three new pledges, Ruth Haller, Marguerite Manion, and Helen Bue, will take place Sunday afternoon at Forney hall. Immediately after initiation, a banquet will be held at the Blue Bucket in honor of the new members.

NOTICE
The music hall annex is now open in the evening from 7 o'clock until 9:30 for the use of the music students. Practicing must cease at 9:30.

Thru Conference Camps with Duffin & Daly

A fascinating but hectic football season is drawing to a close. By next Monday the western representative will have been chosen for the Rose Bowl game. Our own team (called the Vandals, girls,) has finished its conference schedule and, after the Creighton university game at Omaha, is through for the year.

While the Vandals have met with many defeats and disappointments, they have stayed right in to the final gun fighting for Idaho. Our commitments, Vandals! It takes grit to keep playing ball for a school which helps you by slinging mud from the sidelines!

But, when the Vandals quit, we quit! A columnist without a football team is like a professor without a pupil. It won't work. We have had lots of fun writing this article. If you have enjoyed reading it, we are repaid.

Reluctantly we have stuffed the turkish towel, fish bowl, and our prized copy of Paul Bunyon into the cupboard. Perhaps the moths should have had them long ago. This being the last column, we, as all other sports writers, have prepared a summary of hits and misses since the beginning of the year.

Out of 45 games predicted, we have picked the winners in 35, been wrong on eight, and have twice battled to a draw! On the face of that, the old egotism again crops out and we invite you to compare this percentage with that of other columnists on the Pacific coast.

As much as we would like to bring the life of this column to a sane and logical conclusion, we just cannot resist one parting shot.

Rifle Teams Begin Workouts Soon

Idaho Team Has Fine Record; 1935 Prospects Look Good

Rifle practice for the Varsity and R. O. T. C. rifle teams will begin December 3 at the indoor rifle range in the basement of the Memorial gymnasium. Hours for practice will be between 2 and 5 p. m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Last year Idaho won the Corps area championship in small bore rifle shooting, and placed third in the national championship contest. With the 30 caliber army rifle, Idaho led all colleges and universities in the United States, a record of which the school is justly proud.

New Men Needed

This year, with an increased ammunition allowance, Idaho should have another record-breaking rifle team.

However, due to graduation of several of last year's team, there will be vacancies for a number of new men. All freshmen who are interested in shooting are to turn out for the team. All men who intend to turn out must do so between the dates of December 3 and December 7 after which time no new men will be accepted.

Rifles, ammunition and targets are provided without cost to students. Weekly matches are held throughout the season with the teams of leading schools of the entire United States. Re-entry matches and various intramural matches will also be held so that all men who show shooting ability will have an opportunity to compete in match firing, and acquire the proficiency necessary to win their place on the varsity team. The ASUI awards sweaters to the ten high men yearly, and last year twenty-three medals and five trophies were also won by the teams.

Intramural Sports

Tuesday night A. T. O. won the B league championship from the S. A. E. 6 to 1. Jarlett got 15 strikeouts during the contest and gave three hits and one walk. Batteries: A. T. O. Jarlett and Baldwin; S. A. E. Beatty and Greathouse.

Thursday night A. T. O., B league champions, won the university championship by defeating the A league champions, Delta Chi, 10-4. The A. T. O. team garnered seven runs in the first inning. Cook, A. T. O. was the heavy hitter of the evening getting two homers and a double in four times at bat. Batteries: A. T. O., Jarlett and Baldwin; Delta Chi, Kleiner and Seatz.

To Mr. Pauley, J. M. (since he wrote the challenge and the rest of the basketball managers (since they might have something to say about it):

We, the Football Managers, having debated among ourselves for quite a while as to whether to accept a challenge to a basketball game from a group as lowly as the Basketball Managers, have finally decided to accept. Although we will have to come into close contact with the Basketball Managers we feel that we must put them into their places.

Signed:
So may it be.

ALL OF THE FOOTBALL MANAGERS

Charging that the food put before them was "unwholesome and not fit to eat," students of St. Mary's college last week voted to continue a protest strike against dining accommodations.

Fast Lineman

BRAINS AND BRAUN rolled into one is the makeup of this Creighton lineman, Hiney, who'll be playing guard against Idaho on turkey day. Seldom do you find a football player who is both an honor student and a star performer, but Pete Marchetti is such a player. Marchetti plays regular guard and throughout his two years on the team has ranked high among honor students at the university.

Last season Marchetti won All-Missouri Valley conference honors. As a high school star he won three letters in football and four in basketball, not a bad record for a kid.

Vandals Preparing For Thanksgiving Day Clash With Creighton

Schools Met Last In 1925 and 1926; Each Has Won Once

The Idaho Vandals, rested from their California jaunt, are busy grooming themselves for a Thanksgiving day game with Creighton university. The team should be in fine physical condition for the trip. Joe Wheeler, who was knocked out in the California game, will be in shape for the game. Ross Sundberg and Clarence Devlin, Idaho's stellar sophomores, are expected to lead the Vandal attack.

Creighton is busy this week preparing for their annual clash with Drake next Saturday. A year ago they lost to Drake 6 to 0 but are doped to win their Saturday game. Last week they lost 38 to 0 to the Golden Avalanche of Marquette.

CREIGHTON LEADS MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE

For the first time in 30-odd years Creighton is coached by an alumnus, Eddie Hickey. He stands only 5 feet two inches but played quarterback for the Bluejays 10 years ago. His Creighton team has so far been undefeated in their conference, scoring victories over Oklahoma A. and M. and Ginnet to place themselves at the head of the Missouri Valley conference. Their game Saturday with Drake is their last conference obstacle to the championship.

At the start of the season the Bluejays boasted an experienced line led by Pat Holland, a sophomore all-conference center and Captain Gene Hackett. Mike O'Leary is so far the Missouri Valley fans' choice for the best end of the year, while "Biff" Quinn and Otto Bernachi, both veteran tackles, have received their share of publicity as better than ordinary linemen.

IDAHO AND CREIGHTON DIVIDED FIRST SERIES

Creighton's all-star backfield combination of last year was broken up by the graduation of Conrad Collins, the number one ball packer of the conference. In previous games Eddie Hickey has used a combination of McIver, Zuercher, McDonnell and Navolichik behind his experienced line. The so-called "Iron Duke" Navolichik playing at fullback has been the most sensational ballpacker of the conference. Don McIver, a triple threat sprinter, and Bob Zuercher, who does most of the team's passing, play at the halfback positions.

Idaho and Creighton have met only twice before in 1925 and 1926. The score of the first game was Creighton 34, Idaho 19. A year later Idaho won her revenge 12 to 0. On these teams that journeyed from the University of Idaho Southern Branch.

"Just give us the ball and we'll do the rest," said Idaho's basketball coach, Rich Fox, as he watched several of his star shots sinking baskets during a daily workout.

Two other stars of last year, Norm Iverson and Harold Klumb, have yet to turn out because they are busily engaged with football. These men are expected to be in basketball suits soon after the final gridiron contest with Creighton on Thanksgiving day.

"After chasing so many of Bob McCue's rifle passes, Iverson should be in fair shape for basketball," commented Fox.

year," he said, "but we have plenty of good shots, and we have an aggressive, scrappy outfit. A coach can put himself on the spot by excluding optimism at the start of the season, but that is the way I feel—optimistic. We may not do great things in the conference, but we should be able to turn in some good ball games."

Varsity Fencing Squad Shows Up Well This Year Says Weston

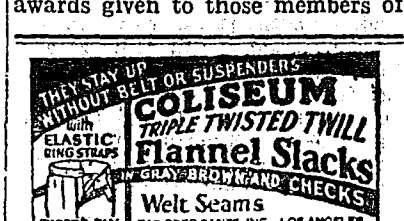

Under the direction of Ray Weston, varsity fencing coach, enthusiasts of the foil and mask have been working out every night in preparation for the first meet of the season early in December with Washington State.

Twenty men, including three of last year's lettermen, and one reserve, answered Coach Weston's call for fencers three weeks ago, and since that time several men have been showing up well, reports Weston.

Three Lettermen Back
Bob Harris, Frank Bevington, and Coach Weston are the lettermen, who make up the backbone of the squad, while Jack Felton, who failed to make a letter last year, looks good this year. One of the most promising recruits to the '35 squad is Frank Beach, a transfer from Berkeley, who, while new to the foil has had lots of experience with a saber.

Fencing is a regular minor sport, awards given to those members of the squad who have participated in two conference meets, or who have won one conference match.

A group of Berkeley students have recently formed a union to abolish all military training. This followed the action of the college making such training optional.
