The Golden Fleece

We read with interest and skepticism an AP article in Tuesday's Spokesman-Review which stated that Maurice (Clipper) Smith, Santa Clara football coach, had "turned down a chance to take over similar duties at the University of Idaho." The article continues: "Smith received a telegram from Idaho authorities inquiring if he would be interested in taking over the coaching job..."

The article makes interesting reading for Idaho's "new coach conscious" followers, but with the exception of a thumbnail sketch of Clipper's record, there was not a grain of truth in the whole article.

In the first place, the committee in charge of selecting a new coach sent no telegram to Mr. Smith; in the second place, the committee has sent no telegrams to any prospective coach; in the third place, the Santa Clara "football circles" heard all these wild rumors concerning the committee's action fully 24 hours before the committee convened for the first time; and in the fourth place, when the time comes to offer somebody the position, the offer will not come from the committee, but from the president and the board of regents.

Obviously, there's an Ethiopian in the timber stack somewhere. There's either some outright prevarication or unfortunate misunderstanding. The best guess we can make off-hand is that some of our alumni friends were trying to sound out Mr. Smith on his views with regard to the Idaho coaching post "just in case," and the newshawks seized on the point to make out a story that the Clipper had been offered the job.

There are probably other better explanations, but whatever they are, it is unfortunate that such idle gossip gets as far as the AP wires. It turns the popular and innocent indoor sport of guessing about who will be our next coach into rank professionalism. Such articles certainly add nothing to the prestige of the Idaho coaching post. What 'cha say let's let the committee that was named for that function pick the coach they want and offer him the job?

SIMILES
As inert as the Interfraternity council.
As lethargic as the Interfraternity council.
As stagnant as the Interfraternity council.
As pottering as the Interfraternity council.
As torpid as the Interfraternity council.
Chorus:
The Interfraternity council is as inert as Blue Key "honorary"; Blue Key "honorary" is as inert as the Interfraternity council. (Repeat for other four verses, substituting lethargic, stagnant, etc.)

Students who were mildly agog a month or so ago to see the staid columns of the Portland "Oregonian" break out with unaccountable new make-up, news stories, and pictures in un-heard-of places will be astonished all over again some time in the next two or three months when the worthy "Spokesman-Review" is slated to undergo a similar transformation.

It's all part of a deep plot on the part of these newspapers to eliminate inefficiency in their respective publications and earn a little more money for their publishers. Guy T. Viskniski is the chief expert in the over-hauling job. He makes a business of putting ailing newspapers on their feet, and charges a neat $10,000 for a three-month's job like the "Oregonian" project.

If the Co-ed's over-hauling of The Argonaut next week proves as successful as our man Visky's operations are reported to be, we'll be willing to cloister ourselves with our books until after final exams and let fairer members of the fourth estate assume responsibility for the publication of your student paper.

New Matinee Dance Idea To Be Tried Saturday, Jan. 19

A new idea in campus dances will be inaugurated Saturday afternoon, January 19. A matinee dance will be held at the Blue Bucket Inn from 4:15 to 5:30 o'clock. Chuck Collins' three-piece band will play.

It is planned by those in charge that the dances will become a regular thing and will be held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. Admission for the affair will be only 15 cents a couple. Prizes will be given for the best dancers and other features are planned which, according to all indications, should make the dance a popular afternoon's entertainment.

Official sanction for the plan was recently given by Permeal J. French, dean of women, and Dr. F. C. Church, of the faculty committee.

Gem Plans Ready; Staff Work Begins

Several Changes In Yearbook, Class Pictures Will Be Larger

All the plans for the "Gem of the Mountains" are complete and the actual work can now begin, according to Robert Herrick, editor. Ralph York, representative of the publishing company at Boise, was here this week and held a number of conferences with Herrick and Cecil Greathouse, business manager in which entire book was examined in detail. The budget was checked during these conferences.

There will be a number of changes in the layout of the picture panels. The pictures in the class sections will be larger than before and the shape of the panels will be entirely different. There will be double identification of the pictures in the Junior and Senior sections.

Less Than Half
Approximately 700 pictures have been taken already. This is about 45 per cent of the student body. Students are urged to have their pictures taken as soon as possible as the time is getting short. The first batch of material must get out to the publishers by February 1. Work on the panels will begin this weekend.

So far, about 65 per cent of the Gems have been sold. The staff expects to sell at least 1700, considering the large enrollment. On Thursday and Friday afternoons next week there will be a table in the main hall of the Ad building, where students who have not signed up for their book can do so.

The permission to allow the students to sign to pay for their books from their general deposit is a special offer from Frank Stanton, bursar, which should be taken advantage of, according to the business manager. This privilege means that they need spend no more money during the year, but the $4 for their Gem will be deducted from the checks returned to them in the summer.

Last year over 100 students had to go without Gems because they forgot to sign up for them and there were not enough extra copies to go around when the books were delivered. If the students will sign up now there will be no such difficulty this year.

Work On Pep Band Show To Get Underway Soon

Campbell will Appoint Program Committee; To Be Held Last Week in March

In order to select numbers for the Pep Band show in March, Leader Bob Campbell will soon appoint a program committee. With Campbell, this body chosen from members of the band, will take the lead in carrying out plans for a successful show.

Usually held the last week in March, the annual program lasts about an hour and a half. Extensive work will be done, according to Campbell, to obtain diversified entertainment as interesting as in past years.

Building University's Forest Laboratory

THE CONCRETE MIXER AND THE MASON'S trowel are the usual tools when construction of most college laboratories is begun, but with the forestry "lab" of the University of Idaho it's the cross-cut saw, the axe, and the handhook. Civilian conservation corps workers from Camp S-260, just north of Troy, are shown turning out a lot of firewood as a "byproduct" of a road building job they are doing on the university's 228 square mile forestry tract.

BURSAR'S NOTICE

Registration for the second semester is now under way and students are urged to complete their registration as soon as possible. Immediately upon the receipt of your fee statement from the Bursar's office, you should complete your registration by the payment of the fees shown thereon. You may do this in any one of three ways: call in person at the office; send a check with the statement through the U. S. mail; or drop the correct amount, check or cash, with your statement through the cashier's door.

To those who do not call in person, ASUI tickets will be distributed after February 4. The last day for payment of your fees is January 31, so pay at once and avoid the payment of a late registration fee.

Frank Stanton, Bursar

Co-ed Argonaut Staff Selected

Women Journalists to Publish Tuesday's Paper; Open to All

At a meeting of the staff editors for the co-ed Argonaut to be published next Tuesday, staffs for the different sections of the paper were selected. Those women who have been working on the regular Argonaut staff and whose names do not appear on staffs for the co-ed Argonaut are on the reporting staff and will find their assignments in the book in the Ad building by 3 p. m. Saturday. If assignments for stories are not placed by Saturday, they will be added over the week-end.

Any girl who is interested in working on the co-ed Argonaut, whether or not she has worked on the regular Argonaut, may notify Marjorie Wurster at the Delta Gamma house.

There will be a meeting at the Blue Bucket Saturday morning at 11 o'clock for co-ed staff members chosen to make out assignment book, and at the same time Staff editors will call a meeting of staff members. The staff editors are as follows:

Staff Members

The staffs selected are as follows: Women's staff: Dorothy Walton, Helen P. Wilson, Amber Wolfe, Virginia McDonald, Betty Hatfield, Nina May Jewell; society staff: Margaret Illingsworth, Maxine Berger, Fern Leighton, Betty Groves; sports staff: Miriam McFall, Sarah Jane Baker, Eleanor Echehnach, Rachel Platt, Margaret Rosebaugh, Virginia Healy.

DEAN CRAWFORD GOES TO NEW YORK

Dean Ivan C. Crawford, head of the college of engineering, left Thursday for New York City to attend the annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Dean Crawford was recently elected a director of the society representing the states of Idaho, Washington, Montana, and Oregon and British Columbia and Alberta, Canada.

The convention starts January 14 and ends January 19. Attention will be given to engineering schools and engineering curricula.

On the return trip, Dean Crawford will stop over at Washington, D. C., for a two-day visit at the headquarters of public works. He will return to Moscow on or about January 24.

Houses To Sign Up For Group Buying

Each Deposits Small Sum to Cover Initial Costs

Agreements to join the Idaho Fraternity Cooperative will be handed out for the signatures of group houses which have definitely decided to join the pool buying system at a meeting in Ad. 207 next Tuesday night. Results of investigations by the cooperative committees will be presented to the house presidents and financial advisors attending the meeting, according to John Aram, general committee chairman.

As soon as an adequate number have entered the pool, Aram stated, actual buying operations will begin. A small sum, probably about $10 will be deposited by each house on signing the agreement to raise funds for making the first purchases.

Apply for Manager

"Applications for the buying manager of the cooperative will soon be open," Aram said yesterday. "Applications may be filed with anyone on the general committee, preferably Keith McDoniels or myself."

What the pool set-up will hinge on, Aram explained, is the buying manager. Acting as the key man, this manager should be a graduate of a university—a master of accounting principles—with some previous experience in buying. Whether the selected manager should put up a bond before taking over his position will be decided by the cooperative's board of directors, Aram said.

Not Large Salary

"The manager's salary would not be too large at first," he explained. "The man should have enough interest, however, in the system to build it up. As that is done, his own salary will increase accordingly."

Investigation committees, working during Christmas vacation, found, through statistics bureaus, instances where the pool system has worked before, according to Aram. Other "holiday" work included the inspection of Idaho's corporation laws to be used in forming the Fraternity Cooperative and the determination of what is needed to put the proposed system on a sound financial basis.

"Influential men were interviewed on the merits of the cooperative," Aram said. "All of them expressed the sincere opinion that the proposed system could be successfully carried out."

NEXT BLUE BUCKET OUT IN FEBRUARY

The next issue of the Blue Bucket will be published sometime during the first week in February.

Nothing special has been planned in respect to the contents of the issue except that it will be a general and collegiate number, and will contain approximately 40 pictures.

"We expect the next issue to be on a par with the other issues of this year, or even better," said Dock Hogue, editor of the magazine.

Two Students Hurt When Skidding Car Overtakes Into Ditch

Kathryn Kendall a University of Idaho student from Spokane, received a fractured shoulder blade in an automobile accident while returning to Moscow last Sunday.

The accident occurred five miles north of Colfax, when a car driven by William Teed, a junior in the university, skidded and turned into the ditch. Teed said that he was trying to pass a car when there was a truck approaching. When he put on the brakes to drop back into line, the car went into the ditch.

Teed is in the hospital, in Colfax, suffering with a double fracture of the pelvis. He will be in a cast for about three months. Sunday he will be moved to his home in Coeur d'Alene in an ambulance.

Mary O'Neil and Melvin Lafrenz, the other passengers, were uninjured.

Explorer To Tell Of Jungle Customs

George A. Felch, Famous Traveller and Lecturer to Address Assembly

George Albert Felch, world-famous traveler, prospector, and lecturer, will be presented by the public events committee in their first all-university assembly of the new year. The assembly will take place in the auditorium Tuesday, January 15, at 11 a. m.

The subject of Mr. Felch's presentation will be the Amazon jungle and the Andes mountains of

George A. Felch

South America. He will give a pictorial account of his experiences as a lone gold prospector in some of the remote sections of Columbia and Ecuador.

One of the most interesting features of Mr. Felch's lecture is his animated account of the Jivaro Indians. These strange jungle savages are vicious fighters and head hunters, and are especially treacherous because their appearance is so misleading to one not acquainted with their type, which might be termed effeminate.

Mr. Felch will exhibit and demonstrate the use of some of the Indians' strange weapons. Among these is a blow gun about three times the length of a man, from which the savages shoot poisoned arrows at their enemies.

Junior College Squad To Debate In Spokane

A Junior college debate squad of 16 students will represent the University of Idaho at the Junior college debate tournament at Whitworth college, in Spokane, Saturday. There will be two people on a team to debate four times on both the negative and affirmative sides of the question which is, resolved: that the international shipment of arms and munitions should be prohibited.

Virginia McDonald, Lorraine Hulett, Robert Mason, Ray Randall, Mary Mitchell, Gwendolyn Harrigan, Mary Curtis, Frances Murtha, Louis Racine, Lewis Gaby, Lewis Orland, Clyde Koontz, William Reese, Dorothy Rosevear, Elizabeth Coates, and Kent McQueen are the students chosen for the trip.

Other schools that will have teams in Spokane are Lewiston normal, Cheney normal, Yakima Junior college, Whitworth college, Washington State, Whitman, Gonzaga, University of Montana, Spokane Junior college, Coeur d'Alene Junior college.

Executive Board Plans Revisions Of Amendments

Theta Sigma and Press Clubs Petition For Change of Awards

Journalism Plaque Given

Amendment of Minor Sports Awards For Swimming To Be Revised

The revision of two more amendments was discussed at the executive board meeting Tuesday night. Both amendments are to be read at the next assembly for the consideration of the student body. Theta Sigma, women's honorary journalistic organization, and the Press club, a similar organization for men, have petitioned for a revision of the amendment concerning the award of Argonaut pins.

The petition asks that the time be extended to five semesters of work on the editorial staff for eligibility to a pin. The three semesters work on the business staff will remain the same. Recommendations for the award of the pins must be made by the editor and business manager of The Argonaut.

Harder Work
The purpose of this revision is to make the pins harder to obtain, consequently increasing their value and significance.

In addition to the revision of this amendment, Theta Sigma and Press club wish to have a plaque made, to be known as the Theta Sigma-Idaho Press Club award. On it will be engraved the name of the outstanding underclassman and woman on The Argonaut staff each year.

Recommendations for these people will be made by the editor, managing editor, news editor, one member from Theta Sigma, and one member from Press club.

Minor Sports Awards

The second amendment considered for revision concerns the minor sports awards made for swimming. As the amendment stands now it reads: "To any member who shall win a first place or six points in a dual conference meet (or its equivalent), the relay counting two points per man, if relay team wins, or shall place in a triangular meet, shall be awarded a minor sports I."

The revised reading will be: "To any member who shall place in two dual conference meets or shall place in a triangular conference meet or win one first place or six points in a dual conference meet (or its equivalent), the relay counting two points per man, if relay team wins, shall be awarded a minor sports I."

The change in the awards is desired for three reasons: first, to put swimming awards on a fair basis as compared with other minor sports; second, swimming is one of the most difficult minor sports and each man on the team must train for at least three months prior to a conference meet; third, to promote swimming as a minor sport.

The majority of the dual meets are with such schools as Washington State and the University of Washington, which makes competition so keen as to discourage Idaho swimmers.

Both amendments will be voted on two weeks from the time they are read in the assembly.

The executive board appointed the committee for the joint executive board dance with W. S. C. since it is Idaho's turn to give the dance this year. Mary Hartley, chairman, Bill Armstrong, and Frances Wimer comprise the committee. Betty Booth was appointed on the calendar committee.

Modern Sherlock Holmes Will Give Lectures Here

A chemist of national prominence whose hobby of scientific crime detection threatens to overshadow his professional fame has been scheduled for an illustrated Sherlock Holmes lecture at the University of Idaho on January 26.

This science-employing detective, whose true stories are said to be more enthralling than the fanciful mystery tales of fiction, is Dr. J. H. Mathews, head of the chemistry department at the University of Wisconsin. His appearance here is sponsored by the Washington-Idaho border section of the American Chemical society.

Dr. Mathews' lectures, open to the faculty, student body, and general public, will be held in the Science hall auditorium, room 110, at 2 o'clock, January 26.

What! No Spice?

Journalistically minded co-eds will banish all men from the editorial offices of The Argonaut next Monday and will try their hands at editing Tuesday's issue of the campus newspaper. Unwillingly, but gracefully, we turn our sacred editorial pen, our halcyon desk and chair, and our ink and brayer over to the women for their annual edition, The Co-ed Argonaut.

Women, authorities have pointed out with ominous portent, are rapidly assuming and holding places in the social structure which until a short time ago were conceded to be man's estate. The legislative bodies of our states and the nation itself, big business, institutions of higher education, and even newspapers are surrendering responsible positions of authority to women. Public opinion has accepted woman and her ability to handle jobs before thought to belong only to men. Exercising its prerogative—the ballot—the mass has many times placed women in men's positions. A woman sheriff caught Dillinger—remember? Her male jailer let him get away—yes, we remember.

Now, since we are definitely on the subject of women, perhaps it might not be amiss to investigate—perhaps we can learn from whence comes this strength to rise above a lowly station: to arrogate the position and powers of the "stronger" sex and challenge it upon its own battle ground.

Science is a wonderful thing—that we are all willing to concede. Science has brought to us every comfort and luxury which we enjoy. A Century of Progress, the world exposition, was dedicated to science and its part in making civilization what it is today. Superstition, "black magic," fairy tales—all have been dispelled, wholly or in part, by science.

Until recently the common ingredients in the makeup of the average girl were expressed in a simple nursery rhyme, taught us by an adoring but misguided parent, and going something like this: "What are little girls made of? What are little girls made of? Sugar and spice, and all things nice—that's what little girls are made of."

All our delusions are shattered, however, with a statement issued recently from the department of chemistry at Albany Medical college. Translated into common, everyday language, the composition of the average girl is something like this:

1. Chlorine enough to sanitize five swimming pools.
2. Oxygen enough to fill 1,400 cubic feet of space.
3. 30 teaspoonfuls of salt, enough to season 25 chickens.
4. 10 gallons of water.
5. Five gallons of lime—enough to whitewash a chicken coop.
6. 31 pounds of carbon.
7. Magnesium enough for 10 flashlight photographs.
8. Enough gluten to make five pounds of glue.
9. Glycerine enough for the bursting charge of a heavy navy shell.
10. Fat enough for 10 bars of soap. (This amount varies greatly.)
11. Enough iron to make a six-penny nail.
12. Sulphur enough to rid a dog of fleas.
13. And believe it or not, boys, only one quarter of a pound of sugar.

Perhaps the spice that is lacking in this scientific-ly compiled list will be supplied by the women when they take over the reins of The Argonaut next issue. Not too spicy, girls! We'll see you Friday.

HAWKEYE

ON DUTY

With the semester exams coming up in a couple of weeks, we notice that there is a decided lack of dirt for our snoops to work in. Also, you must remember that the Co-ed edition is coming out next week and everyone knows that a woman can dig up the dirt in great quantities and without much thought to ethics, etc. Anyway, here are a few little things that our snoops have uncovered since Monday.

Have you noticed how treadbare the upholstery is getting in BILL TUSON'S car... JOE KOLL, looking for the "discipline" headquarters... WORTH CLARK JOHN DALY and WINTON GREY engaging in a profitable game while convalescing in the infirmary and all visitors were invited to join in the game... KATHERINE KENDALL and ESTHER-FLYN sleeping in pajamas of "ANN ARBOR JOHN" and BOB KRUMMES respectively... BILL MARTIN coming out of hibernation and JOAN SANFORD seems to be the lucky gal... EARL BOPP all full of new year resolutions and taking studies seriously... BILL MCCREA mourning over the fact that he doesn't rate the Jitney dance... WALLY GERAGHTY trying to get into the SLATTER league again... MARY KATHERINE RILEY and ED METZGAR together again... JULIE PAULINE DAVIS making a three-point landing in front of the Fiji house... Seymour wanting to serenade but unable to find anyone to carry the melody.

Next week, we may have a little surprise for you. We understand that there is a married couple on the campus that has not as yet announced their marriage. And also, that they are living at their respective houses. We will set our best snoops to work and if luck is with them we will give you the dope next time.

Grins and Gripes

TO THE EDITOR

Under this head will be published communications upon any subject of general interest to the readers of The Argonaut. The articles should be brief—not more than 500 words—must be free from personalities and must be signed by the writer. No names or initials will be published unless otherwise requested by the writer. This paper is not responsible for any opinions which may be advocated by contributors to this department, but merely serves as a medium through which readers may express their views. The editor reserves the right to cut out parts of or eliminate any letters which he feels are not pertinent or in their printing would not be to the best interests of the student body.

He Hopes Otto Anderson Is't "Let Out," And To That, "Ditto," Say We

Sir: Now that our representatives are in session discussing the coaching "new deal" perhaps the rest of us also have certain duties which we have to consider. Do our representatives know how we feel? If there is any doubt, then it is our obligation to inform them what our feelings are. After all, whether you are an alumnus, member of the faculty, or an undergraduate, your voice is present. Now to come to the immediate task which has called forth this epistle. There is one opinion that is so general and complete, on the campus that it never fails to come up with every discussion of the athletic situation. The surprising part is that this topic always ends with the same conclusion. Yet, I wonder if our representatives have overlooked it. Permit me to present it to you.

One of the most outstanding characters on the faculty is that of Associate Professor Otto K. Anderson. The students, faculty, alumni, and townspeople as well, are all for him. His teams are noted for the fact that they fight for him to the last ditch. He has accomplished excellent results with the material at hand. A season or two ago he even had to show his freshmen how to put on a football suit. His track teams have been better every year, although many men have been lost to other schools because there were no jobs to offer. Any man that has been coached by Otto will do anything for him. Not only is he an excellent coach but a real character builder. Not ever in the time I have been in Moscow has there been a word against him invariably every sideline coach, athlete, and manager says, "I hope they don't let out Otto Anderson."

We all realize that we can't tell our new director of athletics to take this man or let that man go, but the facts should be presented to him. I believe we all feel the same about Otto Anderson. Let's hear your opinion. Really it will be a blot on our record if this man is allowed to slip away.

Twenty-eight Varsity Letters To Be Awarded

Nutting, A. Berg, P. Berg, Smith, Moser, and Geraghty to Receive "I" Blankets

Twenty-eight Idaho varsity football men are being recommended to the student executive board to receive letter awards.

Two of the awards are named in a special petition from the football squad to go to Walter Mitchell and Ralph Villers, who, though they have not played the necessary time in games, have been with the squad a number of years and are graduating seniors. Seventeen men have been recommended for freshman numeral awards.

Varsity letter recommendations are: Ends—Norman Iverson, Frank Guillian, George Rich, Leon Green and Clarence Anderson; tackles—Robert McCue, Howard Hesse, Robert Moser, and Harold Klumb; guards—Richard Nutting, John Cooper, Charles Wilson, and Alfred Berg; centers—Jack Barbee

A reporter for a metropolitan daily asked a number of persons on the street, "What is the biggest buy for a nickel?" Two-thirds promptly replied, "A telephone call."

Americans throughout the country evidently agree with this judgment of value received from the telephone. For each day they hold more than 57,000,000 conversations over Bell System wires.

Year after year Bell System planning extends the telephone's reach—increases its speed—makes it more convenient, more valuable to everybody.

SOCIETY

PRE-EXAMINATION activities are beginning this weekend with three widely different dances being planned, a formal, a costume ball, and a Jitney dance. The formal will be given by the upperclassmen of Phi Delta Theta; the costume ball will be the annual Mardi Gras of Lambda Chi Alpha; and the Jitney dance is the annual dance given at different sorority houses and sponsored by the Spurs. At the Jitney dance the women will invite the men, and, incidentally, bear the expense.

Lambda Chi plan Mardi Gras Dance
The annual Mardi Gras dance of Lambda Chi Alpha will be held Saturday at the chapter house. Chuck Collins' orchestra will furnish the music. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Luke, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wayne Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore.

Phi Delt Upperclassmen Will Hold Formal Dance
The upperclassmen of Phi Delta Theta will entertain at a formal dinner dance Friday at the chapter house. Music will be furnished by Robert Dudley's orchestra from Spokane. Patrons and patronesses will be Dean Permeal J. French, Gen. and Mrs. E. R. Christian, and Dean and Mrs. Pendleton J. Howard.

Spurs Sponsor Jitney Dance
The four seasons will be the decoration motif at the different houses for the Spur Jitney dance to be held Friday. The houses chosen for the dance are Delta Gamma, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Phi, and Alpha Chi Omega. The Delta Gamma house will represent fall, Alpha Chi Omega, winter; Delta Delta Delta, summer, and Alpha Phi, spring. Robert Whitaker, Neva Sartwell, Chuck Collins, and Richard Paris will play for the dance at the different houses. The house mothers at each house will be the patronesses.

Kappa Sigma entertained Gamma Phi Beta at a dinner exchange Wednesday. The following guests were present: Miss Harrison Devrient; Mary Kay Riley, Miriam McFall, Martha Jean Rehberg, Marian Graham, Mary Lou Jordan, Betty Horton, Katherine Schuettenhelm, Dora Baird, Lois Davies, and Pamela Peters.

Beta Theta Pi announces the pledging of Lavelle Thompson, Portland.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained Lambda Chi Alpha at a dance exchange Thursday.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained Sigma Nu at a dinner exchange Thursday.

Beta Theta Pi announces the initiation of Paul Raymond Kerr, Wilder, and Lloyd Clifford McPhail, Mullan.

RUTH HALLER IS PLEDGED TO SPURS

Ruth Haller was pledged to Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary, during the monthly luncheon held at the Blue Bucket Tuesday.

She was chosen to take the place of Vivian Reed, who did not return to school after the Christmas vacation. Miss Haller represents Delta Gamma sorority.

First Of Spur Dances Will Be Held Friday

Seasons of Year Will be Motifs At Four Sorority Houses

The first of a series of Jitney dances sponsored by the Spurs, sophomore women's service organization, will be held Friday night from 9 to 1:30.

A novel idea will be carried out in the decoration of the four group houses to represent the four major seasons. The Delta Gamma house will represent autumn; Alpha Chi, winter; Alpha Phi, spring; and the Tri Delt house, summer.

The tickets are 25 cents a couple and may be secured from the Spurs in the various group houses and halls.

Winter Is Theme Of Photo Contest

Winner of Amateur Exhibit To Receive Silver Loving Cup

The main feature of the Second Amateur Photographic exhibit to be held in Moscow in May, is to be the prize of a silver loving cup to the best photographic interpretation of "Winter." By this is meant a photograph signifying winter, such as a photograph of a pair of skis, frost on trees, snow, etc. The general requirements for the entire exhibit are as follows:

The exhibit is open to all except professionals. Exhibits from last year will not be accepted. Prizes, honors, and honorable mentions, in addition to those on the best interpretation of "Winter," will be given in the following classes: landscapes, flowers, children's portraits, still lifes, animals, and contract prints.

The last day of entry will be April 19. M. W. Melzian, department of art and architecture, will receive entries, and will furnish additional information as to entrance requirements.

Hawaiian Holds Hollywood Hula Harebrained Hoey

There are many different kinds of hula dances—one for just about every song—but the way the movies show it is just plain hoey. So says Erich Korte, freshman in the school of forestry, who has lived in Hawaii for the past 14 years.

"The other day when I saw a movie of the dance I just wanted to stand up and yell," he smiled. "And we certainly used to get a kick out of hearing the way radio singers on the mainland used to pronounce the Hawaiian words to 'My Little Grass Shack in Hawaii.' All the so-called Hawaiian music you hear came after the advent of missionaries. Even the ukulele is not a native instrument, but came from Portugal. And I've been told the name means literally 'jumping flea.'"

Native of Germany
Korte came to Idaho at the recommendation of a forestry professor of his brother's down in Louisiana. He was born in Germany, but has lived on the islands ever since his father obtained a position there immediately following the World War. He spoke German until he began to attend an English school. He learned English there, but does not speak Hawaiian fluently.

"The Hawaiian language is dying out," he explained, "just as the original race is. English is the chief language of the islands, and on plantations one generally uses a sort of pidgin English that is a composite of Portuguese, Japanese, Spanish, Philippine, Hawaiian, and English."

Lots of Races
The size of these plantations can be judged by Korte's remark that "on our last trip there were only about 25 white people and over a thousand laborers. It's the 'Melting Pot of the Pacific,'" he continued. "I've seen nearly every race on earth. There is very little racial prejudice."

Natives of Hawaii go barefoot until they are at least through junior high school. Shoes are not even worn for basketball or football. Imagine making a 60-yard kick in your bare feet! Tennis is the most popular sport among the English, every plantation having at least two or three courts that can be illuminated for night games.

Describes Volcanos
"I can't think of anything prettier than the mass of red lava that slowly moves down a hillside during the eruption of a volcano," Korte said, evidently unaware that he was contradicting all popular ideas. "It moves slowly, and if you get on the side where the wind blows the terrific heat away, you can come within several feet of the flow. The inside of a volcano not in action is just a big hole with a black mass of lava on the bottom and steam coming out of cracks in the sides."

Among his accomplishments Korte counts the ability to eat with chopsticks, which he insists is perfectly easy. Ask him to describe native feasts to you sometime. Not the least unusual feature of these affairs is the fact that it is not considered particularly impolite to bring a basket or suitcase to be filled with food and taken home!

Lots of Quakes
More Hawaiian buildings are made of cement than brick, because of earthquakes. These occur frequently, there being a period of about a week in 1930 when there were approximately two hundred a day!

"The chief difference between this and Hawaii is the climate," Korte thinks. "At home the temperature is between 75 and 80 degrees all the year round. And it is the queerest place you can think of for rain. The sea coast in some places has only three inches a year, but just back of the mountains the rainfall averages 500 inches, making it one of the wettest spots in the world. 'Am I ever going back? I'll say, even if I have to hitch-hike across the ocean. It's the 'Paradise of the Pacific'—and a pretty good place to be."

Among those attending the convention from the University of Idaho are: Dean E. J. Iddings, college of agriculture; President M. G. Neale; Harold A. Vogel, land planning consultant; Dr. Lelf Verner, head of the department of horticulture; Dr. Claude Wakeland, head of the department of entomology; Dr. C. W. Hungerford, head of the department of plant pathology; and Miss Marion Hepworth, state home demonstration leader.

Many Topics
Dean Iddings will address the convention with the subject: "Recent agricultural trends and some of the problems." Vogel's topic will be "The land use planning program in Idaho." Dr. Verner will talk on "Apple production problems—east and west." Dr. Wake-land's subject will be "Some factors influencing control of the codling moth." Dr. Hungerford's subject will be "The disease factor in fruit growing."

Problems of finance will be taken up the first day. The second day will be given over to marketing and the third day will be given to production. Officers for this year are: Clyde I. Rush, Mesa, president; J. H. Seaver, Twin Falls, vice-president; A. E. Gipson, Caldwell, treasurer; and W. H. Wicks, Boise, secretary.

The auxiliary of the association will hold a two-day convolve in conjunction with the convention. Miss Hepworth, Moscow, will address the auxiliary with the subject, "Idaho fruits in daily meals."

Robert Ames, a senior in the horticulture department, is in Boise arranging Idaho's exhibit for the convention. It will consist principally of apples and other fruits.

Herman "Pete" Jensen, 32, is working as an investigator of relief applications for the relief board of Clearwater county with headquarters at Orofino. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and the "I" club.

YOICKS!
and other expressions of awed amaze. For the first time in Idaho history a basketball game is to be broadcast. Saturday night's tiff with the Cougars is to be transmitted over KGA, Spokane, with Harry Lantry, veteran sports announcer, at the mike. Associated Oil, patron of the broadcasts from Seattle early in the week, assumes the uncle role once more tomorrow night. A temporary set-up is being constructed in the balcony of the gym for the announcers, with a closed booth job hovering in the offing, provided the broadcasts are continued.

SPLITTING
The series with Washington is no mean feat, says yours truly! For the first time since 1926 an Idaho basketball club won a game at Seattle, and that's something. Starting the season with a win on last year's conference champions is nothing to call forth agitation of the proboscis either. Watch some of the other northern division clubs stub their toes on the Husky doormat later on. The Seattle club may not be the outfit that it was last year, with Hal Lee, Jackie Hanover, and Joey Weber off the court for Hec Edmundson, but the Sharpshooting Bobby Galer is still holding forth at Washington, though under the faithful shadowing of Wally Geraghty, he got almost nowhere in the first game against Idaho. Incidentally, while Galer established a new scoring record last season with 176 points, he still didn't equal the one for field goals set up by Harold Stowell, former Idaho flash, in 1929. Stowell made a record of 75 field goals, which has never been equaled in these parts.

DEADEYE
Dick, hero of the "pulp," had nothing on Hal Klumb. In the two conference games at Seattle, Klumb stepped up to the foul circle 11 times and 11 times the ball swished through for a point. In addition to that, the big boy hadn't missed a foul shot in either of two non-conference games just preceding the division openers. Last year, with 33 points made on foul shots, Klumb was third on the conference scoring on that basis.
With only two games by the way, he has one third of that record made already.

SEATTLE
sports commentators are pondering over the (to them) deplorable fact that four of the main springs in the Vandal outfit are good old Washingtonians. Hal Klumb starred on the Olympia high school club; Merle Fisher came up from Sequim; Wally Geraghty gyrated down from Spokane; and Norm Iverson inished down to Idaho from snowy Snoqualmie.
From what we hear, the Huskies plan to establish Booster clubs in those respective villages at once.

BEAT W. S. C.
is again the cry that echoes around the halls and houses of Idaho. The Cougars have just returned from a not too successful road trip over in the Oregon country, playing four games and dropping four, two apiece to Oregon and Oregon State. That might call forth statements that we'll handle them easily, but the old adage about embryonic chickens still holds. The Cougars will be out to pull into the win column, and with a center like the towering Bob Houston, can give us plenty of trouble. Last year Houston impressed one with nothing but his size, but according to Rich Fox, the Cougar center has improved practically a thousand per cent since last year. Rich says he's never seen a ball player improve so much in a year's time.

"First Washington Tilt Best I've Seen," Says Vandal Coach

With a perceptible added zest and spirit the Idaho basketball team went to work Wednesday afternoon soon after returning from Seattle where they split a two-game series with the Washington Huskies. Rough edges on the Vandal offense which showed up in the games Monday and Tuesday nights are being smoothed up in preparation for the game here next Saturday night with Washington State college.

"The game Monday night was one of the best that I have ever seen played in the northern division," commented Rich Fox, Vandal mentor, Thursday morning. "One of the Seattle sports writers agreed with me in this when he declared that it was the best game in point of basketball technique that he has witnessed in the past eight years."
"In Tuesday's game we made four glaring errors and the Huskies capitalized on each of them for baskets. These eight points they got were more than enough to give them the game."

Fast, Then Cautious.
Fox said that Monday's game was a fast one with both teams fighting hard for points and speed. When they met again Tuesday night each seemed to slow up and try a more cautious style, realizing that it would be hard fought and that errors one way or the other might cost them the game.

"I won't make any predictions regarding the outcome of the W. S. C. game Saturday night," said the coach when the subject was broached. "It is apparent that we have two major obstacles to overcome if we are to emerge from that game on the long end of the score. The first is Bob Houston, the Cougar center, who, because of his height, should be able to control the tip-off and, second, the fact that Washington State is notoriously good on long shots."

Control Will Decide
Fox pointed out that a victory for Idaho would depend largely on whether or not these long-shot artists could be held down, and whether Idaho could control the ball enough to outscore their opponents.
"Houston is a good center," Fox declared. "I have seen him play this year and I will say that he has improved over last year more than any player I have ever watched over a like period of time. Oregon and Oregon State both have men tall enough to take care of him fairly well, while Idaho must make up in a speedy offense and good work off the backboard what it lacks in attitude."
Fox pointed out that the boys on his squad are ready to put up a fight to the last gun and he anticipates a fast moving game which should be exciting and interesting. The game starts at 7:30 p. m. and will be played in Memorial gymnasium.

Idaho's 30-Year Feud With W.S.C. Will Continue This Saturday

Look Out, Cougars!

NO, OUR BOY, HAROLD KLUMB is not demonstrating to his Idaho following the stance and form he used in sinking 11 out of 11 free throws in the Washington series at Seattle. This time he's tossing the casaba to Norm—or is it to Wally or "Fish"—with a special two-handed "shovel" pass. He is adept at countless other tricks of the maple court game as the W. S. C. Cougars will find out to their sorrow tomorrow night.

The Oregonians are on the loose. Results of northern division play during the first week show the hoopmen of Bill Reinhart and Slat Gill, those two ardent Oregon backers, definitely on the up and up, but both for the same reason. An at least temporarily Washington State club obligingly dropped two games apiece to the Oregonians, resulting in a definite bullish tendency on the Webfoot and Orange markets. At Seattle, Idaho and Washington split a double-header to give each club a .500 rating. Washington State, under-dogs on the Oregon trip, trails with three zero in a row. Saturday will find the Cougars visiting in Moscow, in an effort to pull out of the cellar. Another Saturday evening date is scheduled at Corvallis with Oregon State playing the host to a murderous flock of Webfoots, if ducks with hayhem in mind can be imagined.

NOTICE
All men interested in varsity or freshman swimming teams report to the university pool at 4:45 p. m. today.

Vandals Open Home Conference Season Tomorrow Night

A basketball rivalry of nearly 30 years standing will be continued Saturday evening when the Idaho Vandals meet the Washington State Cougars in the first of their 4-game series on the 1935 schedule. After their splendid showing against the Washington Huskies this week, the Vandals are rated

Steve McNeil, veteran W. S. C. guard, who is in the hospital at Corvallis, Ore., with a serious leg infection, will be lost to the team probably the rest of the season, according to Coach Jack Friel, who arrived home Thursday with his basketball team from the disastrous road trip to Oregon. There is no chance of McNeil being able to play for a month, Friel said, and by that time it is doubtful if he can hit his stride. If he progresses favorably, McNeil will be in the hospital only a week, it was reported.

to top off the W.S.C. quintet, whose road trip to Oregon proved disastrous. It must be remembered though that the Cougars have a fast, clever team. In their first two games in the Oregon invasion, they rolled up big half time leads and it was only the superb playing of Oregon, rated as the 1935 champs, that pulled the fat out of the fire.

Last year each team won two games, Idaho taking the first two by scores of 34-28 and 33-27, while Washington State won the last two 44-26 and 42-37. The year before Idaho won three of the four.

FAST BREAKS GET BULK OF ATTENTION
Coach Rich Fox has been drilling his team in fast breaks and taking advantage of the breaks this last week. With big 6-foot 6-inch Bob Houston in the pivot position for the Cougars, the Vandals will be in a tough position to get the tip-off and it will only be through fast breaks and ball rustling that the Idaho team will be able to score.

KLUMB O HOLD FORTH AT CENTER POST
No definite lineup has been issued as yet. The dynamic Geraghty and Harold "Free Throw" Klumb will probably be in their guard and center positions, while Iverson and Martin or Larson will

Vandals Defeated In Second Game

Idaho Drops Tilt to Washington Huskies, 24 to 30

Coach Rich Fox's Vandalsmen dropped the second game of their Washington series to the Huskies in a fast and furious scrap Tuesday night by a 24 to 30 score. Except for one time the Huskies held the lead all the way. Idaho won the first game 37 to 30. Coach Hec Edmundson kept his first string Washington team in the entire game, except for the removal of Captain Bobby (Goose) Galer, left forward, eight minutes from the end because of a sore ankle, in his effort to win the game. Ed Loverich, a sophomore, replaced Galer.

Huskies Lead
Washington was in front nearly all the way. The score was tied twice in the first half at 2-2 and 8-8, and Idaho went ahead once 11 to 10, on Kimb's free throw and Larson's basket, but from then on Washington held the lead. After Larson's basket, Ralph Bishop of Yakima, a forward, and Chuck Wagner, guard, tallied two baskets to put Washington in front, and the score at the half was 14 to 11.

Washington ran its lead to 28 to 19 in the second half. A dying Idaho rally, on baskets by Wally Geraghty and Snedeker and another free throw by Klumb failed to catch the Washington outfit.

Geraghty, Idaho's pint-sized guard, and Klumb were again the big guns. Geraghty looped in two baskets and a free throw for five of his team's 11 points in the first half and added two more baskets in the second half for a total of nine points, to lead his team. He also held Galer, Washington's high-scoring forward to eight points on four baskets.

Klumb again kept up his sensational free throwing. In the

Jones, Oregon, Heads Conference Scorers; Geraghty Is Third

Once more the northern division scoring honors are on.

Tall Willie Jones, center on the Oregon squad, heads the list with 32 points in two games played. Following after Willie is "Missionary" Lyman, Oregon State, with 29 tallies in two games.

Bob Houston, Cougar center, and Ralph Rogers, another W. S. C. man, have 23 and 20 points respectively, but have the added advantage of four games played.

Idaho breaks into the scoring with Wally Geraghty being tied for third with Abe Liebowitz of Oregon, the tally being 19 all in two games played. Hal Klumb comes fourth along with Bishop and Wagner of Washington, all three lads having 15 tallies. Again two Washington State men show a larger total of points, Snedeker and Johnson, each having 17, but with the four game angle playing a large part in the proceedings.

Did you ever notice..in a roomful of people..the difference between one cigarette and another..and wonder why Chesterfields have such a pleasing aroma

Many things have to do with the aroma of a cigarette... the kind of tobaccos they are made of... the way the tobaccos are blended... the quality of the cigarette paper.

IT takes good things to make good things.

Someone said that to get the right aroma in a cigarette, you must have the right quantity of Turkish tobacco—and that's right.

But it is also true that you get a pleasing aroma from the home-grown tobaccos... tobaccos filled with Southern Sunshine, sweet and ripe.

When these tobaccos are all blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way, balanced one against the other, you get a flavor and fragrance that's different from other cigarettes.
