VOLUME XXXVI

THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, MOSCOW, FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1935

NUMBER 33

The Golden Fleece

As we live and try to make our 8 o'clocks on time if they didn't vote down an amendment to the ASUI by-laws. By the "they" we mean the 300 or so students who couldn't find anything better to do than go to the ASUI assembly last Tuesday a. m. Yessir! they voted down a proposal to make it five semesters instead of three that an Argonaut staff member must work before he is eligible for a pin.

The fact that far less than the required one-fifth of the student body voted on the amendment and that the poll was consequently invalid is less interesting than the over-whelming majority who voted "thumbs down" on the reform. That the amendment would have met the same fate had the entire student body voted was clearly indicated.

Our interest in the proposal was two-fold: one from the position of a member of the Argonaut staff the other as a member of the ASUI who has to shell out $28 a year for such student body activities. The first is purely a personal reason and we won't bore you with it. The second affects every student on the campus—as a group, to the extent of over $200 a year.

The pin provided for in the constitution is a little ornamental device that sets the ASUI treasury back a neat $4.25 each. At the present time, there are nearly 50 members of the Argonaut staff who are eligible to receive this award. Even a lawyer can see without much figuring that this expensive little habit that the constitution calls for sets the treasury back over $200 a year. In actual practice, however, it isn't quite as bad as all that. The graduate manager has wisely ordered a considerably cheaper pin than the constitution calls for, and several who are eligible to receive the pins left school before they arrived last spring, so the ASUI funds are spared that much.

IF YOU CAN THINK OF A BETTER USE TO WHICH THIS MONEY MIGHT BE PUT, MAY WE HUMBLY SUGGEST THAT YOU SUPPORT THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT WHEN IT COMES TO A VOTE NEXT TIME.

The executive board has granted Dean Crawford $500 for traveling expenses to get us a new coach. We knew that good coaches without jobs are hard to find these days, but we didn't realize that they'd have to go to Europe to get one.

A Foxy person is our varsity basketball coach. Nobody can accuse him of napping or not making the best of circumstances. With the W. S. C. game at Pullman on Saturday, Rich had his boys practicing all week under the same conditions that they will play under in the W. S. C. gym. He had only half of the lights in the Memorial gym turned on, and while the resultant twilight was more conducive to sleep than to shooting baskets, it was the kind of light that the boys will have to play under tomorrow night, so they'll be meeting the Cougars at their own game.

That proportional representation idea is headed for a sure and painless death if they don't hurry up and do something about it. Maybe that's the intention of the bigwigs in charge. It's beginning to look that way.

Einstein would have education "a free and living process, with no drilling of the memory, and no examinations, mainly a process of appeal to the senses in order to draw out delicate reactions." Now if he'd just included no 8 o'clock classes and no registration fees in his plan, he would have the perfect college.

The Juniors are sponsoring a dance to be held February 2 at the Blue Bucket Inn. Music will be furnished by the Bucket orchestra. There will also be entertainment. The tickets will be 80 cents a couple.

A fine of five shillings was once imposed upon anyone caught celebrating, in any manner whatever, Christmas.

Ph.D. Lectures On Scientific Sleuthing, Sat.

Dr. J. H. Mathews, Chemist, Pursues Criminology as an Avocation

Applies Method Of Vance

Has Been Responsible For Dispellling Many Deep Mysteries

Dignified university professors sometimes read trashy detective stories, but rarely does a peace-loving Ph. D. seek solace from academic cares by applying scientific methods to the actual solution of heinous crimes. Such a man, however, is Dr. J. H. Mathews, head of the chemistry department at the University of Wisconsin, who will give an illustrated lecture on his Sherlock Holmes hobby at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Science hall auditorium, Room 110. His lecture, open to students, faculty members and Moscow townspeople, will be sponsored by the Washington-Idaho Border section of the American Chemical Society, under the local direction of Dr. E. C. Jahn of the school of forestry.

Attracts Attention Dr. Mathews is one of the few scientists in the country to take up crime detection as an avocation. His unique scientific methods have been instrumental in unraveling a number of murder mysteries which otherwise would have remained unsolved. His work has attracted wide attention and he has been called upon to give lectures before public schools and meetings throughout Wisconsin. Advance reports credit his true stories as out-fictioning the imaginary tales of pulp magazines. In his talk, illustrated with 50 to 60 lantern slides, Dr. Mathews will show how certain murder cases were solved and the identity of criminals established. Saturday noon he will be entertained at a luncheon by fellow chemists in this part of the country.

Aram Elected President Of Interfrat. Council

Will Fill Unexpired Term of Fred Sanger; Will Give Formal Dance in Spring

John Aram, senior business student and representative of Delta Chi fraternity, was elected president of the Intrafraternity council at a meeting of that group last night at the L. D. S. Institute.

Aram will complete the unexpired term of Fred Sanger, who resigned last night because he is leaving school at the end of the semester.

The council voted to abandon sponsorship of all week under the same conditions that they will play under in the W. S. C. gym. He had only half of the lights in the Memorial gym turned on, and while the resultant twilight was more conducive to sleep than to shooting baskets, it was the kind of light that the boys will have to play under tomorrow night, so they'll be meeting the Cougars at their own game.

Each fraternity will submit a report of pledges that have been broken during the past semester at the next meeting of the council.

President Aram appointed a committee of Mike Morfitt, chairman, Maurice Mallin and Mark Felt to make arrangements for the annual Intrafraternity council formal to be held sometime in March.

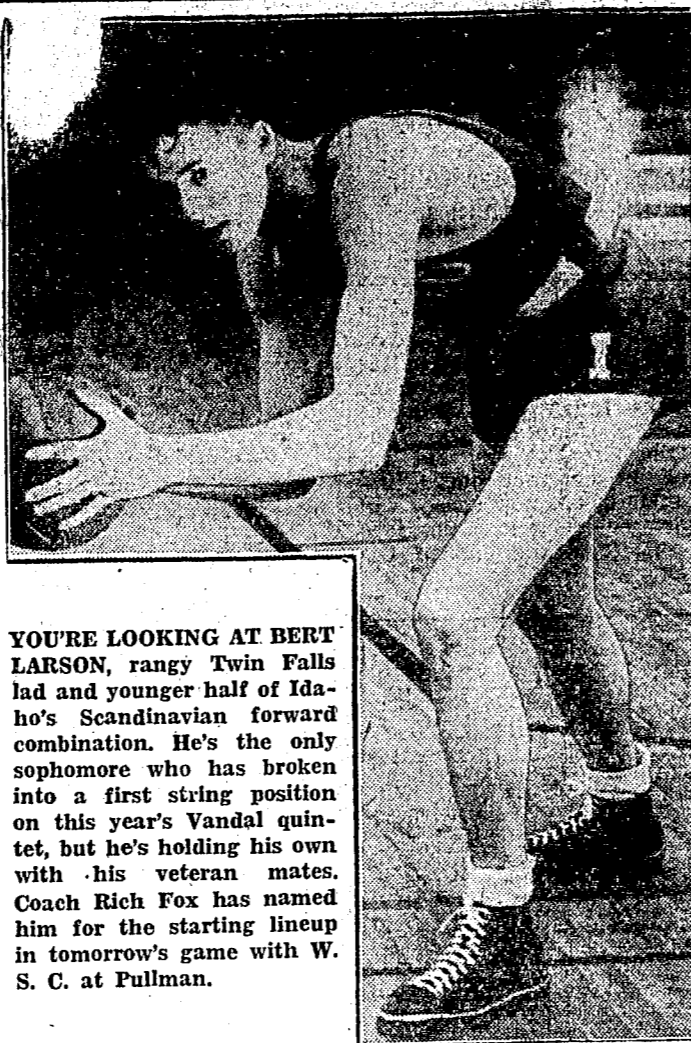

BURSAR'S NOTICE

One week only remains in which your fees may be paid without penalty for late registration.

Only those who have old accounts to settle or who wish to register on deferred payments need to call personally at the bursar's office. All others may inclose their statement with a check for the amount in an envelope and drop it through the door to the cashier's office, or send it through the regular U. S. mail.

Do not delay the payment of your fees!

Star Sophomore Starter

YOU'RE LOOKING AT BERT LARSON, rangy Twin Falls lad and younger half of Idaho's Scandinavian forward combination. He's the only sophomore who has broken into a first string position on this year's Vandal quintet, but he's holding his own with his veteran mates. Coach Rich Fox has named him for the starting lineup in tomorrow's game with W. S. C. at Pullman.

PORTLAND SYMPHONY MAY PLAY HERE

It is possible that the Portland Symphony orchestra of Portland, Oregon, may be brought to the university to play soon under the sponsorship of the associated student body, according to information given out following a meeting of the executive board last Tuesday evening. An exact date was not set nor were any definite arrangements made until actual negotiations can be consummated with the managers of the organization. The time for the appearance if such can be arranged, will be probably some time during the week of February 13 to 23, student officials said. Members of the university music faculty pronounce the Portland group as one of the finest of its kind in the country. Details on the date and the price of admission for students and townspeople will be made public when, and if, the plans are completed.

Great quantities of fish scales are used in the manufacture of artificial pearls.

All sections of Personal Hygiene quiz will be given in the auditorium Saturday noon.

All English students who have not paid their dues for the English club and wish to have their names on the English club page in the Gem must secure their membership cards immediately.

Glenn Exum, '34, is teaching music in Kellogg, Idaho, high school. He is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and was a member of the Curtain, Pep Band, ASUI male chorus, and the University Orchestra.

Argonaut Reporters! Notice!!

All Argonaut reporters who find that quizzes will interfere with their working on the paper on either Monday or Thursday afternoons of next week, should call Ddwain Vincent or Bill Ash at the A. T. O. house before Sunday. Otherwise assignments will be made for them just as usual. The news editors ask everyone's cooperation who can possibly find time to get stories for this next week's issues. "We have quizzes, too," they say, "so give us a hand."

Deadline For Gem Sales Approaches

February 21 Set as Last Day For Reduced Prices

"Students who wait until after February 21 to buy their Gems will have to pay a higher price," said Wayland Tanning, assistant business manager of the Gem.

"Within three weeks," he went on to explain, "we must have the bulk of the books sold, so that we can send a fairly accurate estimate of the number to the printers."

"The paper used in the books must be aged for a certain length of time before it is fit to use. Therefore, any delay in reporting the number wanted will cause a delay in the whole work."

So far there have been approximately 1250 sales, most of them to students signing over a part of their general deposit fees.

Students who have not yet had their pictures taken are asked to cooperate and have this work done as soon as possible, as it is delaying the work on the book and also placing a hardship upon the studios.

The pictures are not all in and the deadline is drawing close. There are more than there were at this time last year, but figuring the greater number of students, the proportion is not as large as it was in 1934.

No Change In Second Semester Rushing Rules For Women

Second semester rushing rules for women will be the same as those observed at the beginning of the year, according to the decision reached at a Pan-Hellenic meeting held at the Tri-Delta house. There will be no dates during rush week, and no competitive parties will be given.

Calland Offered Job At San Diego State College

Receives Long Distance Call From California School; Details Sent By Air Mail To Determine His Decision

Offered the position of head football coach at San Diego State college, Leo Calland announced yesterday that he is seriously considering the job. Dr. E. L. Hardy, president of the college, extended the offer to Calland by long distance telephone call Wednesday.

"Possibilities for my accepting the San Diego job are favorable," Calland declared. "Complete details on the position, which are being sent air mail, will determine my decision."

Calland would take over the reins at San Diego September, 1935, the date his contract expires at Idaho.

Would Be Head Coach "I would be employed solely as head football coach at San Diego," Calland explained, "and not as a general director of athletics as I was at Idaho."

San Diego State college in recent years has placed consistently in the upper division of the Southern California football conference. It plays non-conference games each year with the University of Arizona, the University of California at Los Angeles, and Loyola. Its athletic standing has been improving steadily according to Calland.

Located right in San Diego, the California school's present campus is only three years old. The enrollment is about 1600 students.

Although its big games are still played in the San Diego municipal stadium, plans are progressing to build a new bowl on the campus, capable of seating 40,000 people.

Argonaut Awards To Be Made Soon

Pins to be Given to Scribes Who Were Eligible Last Spring

Twenty-two active and former members of the Argonaut will receive gold pins for work done on the paper up to the close of school last spring, announced Harold Boyd, editor, today.

These awards should have been made at that time, he said, but the pins were not available and the presentation will be made now at a meeting Wednesday, February 6.

The award, under the present set-up, is made to a business or editorial staff member who has worked on the student newspaper for three consecutive semesters and is recommended by the editor. These students were selected for the award by Richard Stanton, editor of The Argonaut last year. Some of them are not in school now, but their pins will be sent them, Boyd said.

Twenty-Two Get Awards The 22 are Bertha Mae Wilburn, Hugh Maguire, John Powell, Charles Warner, Bruce Bowler, Harold Boyd, Al Anderson, Ddwain Vincent, John Cusano, John Lukens, Frances Wimer, Marion Johnson, Bill McCrea, Lella Gabbey, Phyllis Peterson, Ellen Kennedy, Mary Ellen Brown, Christine Orchard, Miriam Vertanen, Maurice Mallin, Elva Anderson, and Nina Varian.

When questioned regarding the defeat of the Argonaut award amendment at the ASUI assembly Tuesday the editor remarked that he was surprised and disappointed at the action taken.

Twenty-Four at Mid-Year "Under the present system of awards, 24 more staff members will be ready for pins at the close of the semester," he said. "When such a large number become eligible each semester the value of the award is materially decreased. The size of the staff in the last two years has grown by leaps and bounds. I think it is necessary to make progressive changes in the award system which will be in line with the growth of the paper."

A list of those eligible for pins at the close of the semester will be printed within the next two weeks, the editor said.

SINGERS ARE URGED TO REGISTER EARLY

All students interested in taking chorus 36 this coming semester, a mixed chorus for which at least 150 students will be needed, are urged to register as soon as possible, so that a time for practices may be agreed upon. Miss Pauline Paterka will direct.

"Gondoliers" To Be Shown Here Soon

Reappearance of Light Opera At Idaho to Take Place Feb. 8 and 9

Light opera will make its reappearance on the Idaho stage when Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Gondoliers" will be presented February 8 and 9 by the music department under the auspices of the ASUI.

"I feel confident that it will prove to be a very interesting evening's entertainment," commented Fred C. Blanchard, who is cooperating with the music department in undertaking the dramatic direction of "The Gondoliers." Months of hard labor and rehearsal under the tutelage of Carleton Cummings are sure to result in an evening of good music, well sung," Mr. Blanchard stated.

Not Lavish Gay, tuneful, amusing, the vehicle is well-chosen, although the production will not be a lavish one. It is felt that a large expenditure in this initial performance would not be wise until the popularity of such a show is assured. The staging itself is simply done, while there will be a piano accompaniment instead of a full orchestra.

The colorful, Venetian costumes used in the production were made last year by FERA workers. ASUI officials believe that "The Gondoliers" is well received, another light opera can be presented soon with enough financial support for a more elaborate staging.

For A Better Argonaut

At the last ASUI assembly, held Tuesday, January 21, the bare quorum which attended saw fit to defeat the amendment concerning Argonaut awards by a decisive vote. We are somewhat at a loss to explain this action inasmuch as it is our firm belief that the measure was a worthy one meritorious of the support of all students interested in the welfare and improvement of their newspaper, The Idaho Argonaut.

Looking back over the history of this plan since it was introduced to the student body shortly before Christmas vacation, we notice that a good deal of blame for its failure to find the approval of the students may rest with ourselves. When the idea was presented to the executive board for approval it received that body's unanimous sanction. At that presentation a full and complete explanation of the values and operation of the idea was made. No such explanation was ever made for Argonaut readers—an oversight to which we plead guilty and for which we promise to make amends.

The executive board has been advised by us that we wish the proposal to come before the students again at the earliest possible date. It has agreed to present the plan again. However, it will be some time before another election can be held.

We do not at this time wish to go into any detailed discussion of the plan for Argonaut awards. When the matter is brought up again is the more logical time to present our arguments. Let it suffice, then, to review the main points of the plan now.

At present the requirement for earning a gold Argonaut pin is three successive semesters of satisfactory work on the paper. We would change this requirement to five semesters. This would leave no award for underclassmen and to relieve this situation the plan is to provide a bronze plaque upon which, each year, will be engraved the names of the outstanding underclass girl and boy working on the paper—these two to be selected by a special committee.

It is obvious that a material financial saving will be affected. The number of pins given out would be greatly reduced. The greatest benefit would be, however, in the creation of an incentive among students on the staff to remain active during their junior and senior years. At present just when a student staff member begins to be of some value to the paper he fulfills the requirement for an award, his interest falls off, and we must depend on inexperienced freshmen and sophomores to complete our staffs. We hope the students will keep this in mind when they vote next time.

Yours for better Argonauts,
Ed.

Ricks College "Gift"

We read with surprise and alarm the statement in the press last night, headlined, "Read Ricks College Bill in House Today; 'Gift' to State Worth $250,000, Measure Says; Want $80,000 to Operate Junior College Next Two Years." The story comes from Boise where the legislature is in session.

The Ricks bill would authorize the state board of education to accept donation of the institution at Rexburg and would require an appropriation of $80,000 to the state board for maintenance of a junior college for two years. The institution is the property of the Latter Day Saint's church and the value of it, the bill sets forth, is $250,000. It has capacity for the education of 600 persons.

It is no secret that Ricks college at Rexburg has been a monstrous "white elephant" on the hands of the L. D. S. church for a good many years. It is obsolete as to equipment and does not draw upon a large enough area to approach paying even a reasonable return on the investment placed in it.

We must judge from the decreased appropriations for the university in late years that the state cannot afford any added expenditure for increased higher education facilities. It, apparently, cannot care for what it now has. In the interest of placing its present schools in a favorable position to train its youth to compete with graduates of other schools, now so rapidly gaining in added facilities and equipment, it must not assume this further liability.

There was also some talk recently regarding the possible increase of the facilities of the Southern Branch to encompass a full four year curriculum. We must agree with the Moscow Daily Star-Mirror which had this to say about both:

Neither promotion is based upon the theory that it is advisable that every section of Idaho be supplied with an institution of higher learning. Both are founded upon the proposition that these institutions exist, for Ricks that because of its existence and failure as a private institution it should become a state institution to fulfill the prime purpose of maintaining an existing payroll for that locality; and for the branch that because that institution is located there it should be developed as a southeastern state enterprise. . . . Idaho's youth must come first, not Pocatello, not Moscow, not Rexburg.

The University of Idaho has one of the finest forestry schools in the country. It draws students from every part of the world—and yet, its facilities are becoming so taxed due to increased enrollment that administrative officials are at a loss to know what to do next fall. The university library—built when the total enrollment of the school was two and a half times less than it is now—is pitifully inadequate. In dark basement rooms are row on row of crates containing books for which there is no room on the shelves. About one-third are easily accessible to the students.

The engineering enrollment has tripled since the building housing that division was constructed; the university hospital is far behind even the minimum requirements for capacity and equipment; the housing facilities on the campus are so inadequate that students have taken every available room in the city—yet the state would consider accepting a further liability in its educational program.

We call upon Idaho's legislators to consider their duty to the entire state and its youth rather than sectional politics and enterprise.

HAWKEYE

ON DUTY

Notice is hereby given that our regular snoops are fired. Here we are ready to write this column and our snoops have snooped again. Furthermore these snoops of ours have been snooping out ever since Christmas vacation. So therefore we would like to have applications turned to the Argonaut, care of Hawkeye, for snooping jobs this coming semester. The pay isn't high, but think of the honor, fellow students.

Just a few things we couldn't pass up: JUNIOR MONNETT having the second date of his college career. . . . NORM IVERSON con- valescing over the fact that BETTY BOOTH is leaving. . . . 'ZIPPER' MORFITT'S darts growing fast with constant application of love medicine. . . . VIRGINIA (HEALY) getting her only date for the week end jerked. . . . NOBLE PALMER catching up on his sleep in American Govt. . . . EARL BULLOCK breaking windows again. . . . LES BROWN back on the campus. . . . TOOTIE DOLLARD and BEE FISHER cutting up in the library.

We notice that some people are getting prepared for quizzes in various ways. Two of the most popular are studying and going for touring parties over in to our neighboring state. No doubt many will make the trip to Pullman Saturday night to see the Vandals trim the Cougars, but remember, be on your guard, because some of our new snoops will be trying out for snoop positions from now until the end of the semester.

Grins and Gripes

TO THE EDITOR

Under this head will be published communications upon any subject of general interest to the readers of The Argonaut. The articles should be brief—not more than 500 words—must be free from personalities and must be signed by the writer. No names or initials will be published unless otherwise requested by the writer. This paper is not responsible for any opinions which may be advocated by contributors to this department, but merely serves as a medium through which readers may express their views. The editor reserves the right to cut out parts of or eliminate any letters which he feels are not pertinent or in their printing would not be to the best interests of the student body.

Let's Stop the Smoking At Games And Give the Boys Some Air

Str: Why, with the great out-of-doors so accessible, must students make Memorial Gymnasium compare favorably with a pool hall in the quantity and quality of the smoke that pervades the atmosphere?

Saturday night during the game the air was so blue with tobacco smoke that the writer witnessed the spectacle of several people who wear glasses polishing them frantically in the belief that the old horn-rims had acquired a new winter coat of dirt.

Aside from the fact that state law prohibits smoking in university buildings, even the most rabid fan is somewhat muted, if he tries to yep through a cigarette. (Try it if you don't take my word for it.)

With the team going the way it is I think that the least the student fans can do is to support it in every detail—even down to letting the members get a breath of clean air during those brief periods commonly called time-outs.

MINERS' BALL TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 9

The annual Miner's ball will be held February 9th at the Women's gymnasium. Bill Hudson, who is in charge of the decorations and music, has something special arranged. Bill Lundstrom says that, "when your feet get too tired, you can spend the rest of the evening gazing at the latest of dance programs." "Just suppose that you have to enter the hall through a dark tunnel. Then perhaps you may be dancing in the research lab, or it will be the office, the mill, or perhaps even the bunk house—we'll see."

Tickets will sell for 75 cents per couple and will go on sale the first of next week.

for 4 GENERATIONS

CONFIDENCE

There are now several families in Idaho and Washington who have traded with Davids' for Four Generations.

When DAVIDS' Store was founded there was written into its policies an inflexible rule concerning the reliability of merchandise. It is not too much to say that our present growth is due entirely to the policy of never selling anything—however small—that we cannot fully guarantee. . . . And the most impressive phase of the success that has come to us, lies not in its magnitude but in the ever-growing satisfaction, so freely voiced by thousands of our customers, in the reliability of their purchases.

We are too proud of these letters to keep them to ourselves. It is our ambition to have you, also, feel the same confidence in us. Our hope is that there will be a Davids' Store in Moscow for another 40 years and longer.

Dear Sirs:

We think that we now hold some kind of a record with Davids'. My grandson's outfit we purchased at your store makes the fourth generation of our family who have done most all their trading at Davids'.

I expect we just have the habit of trading with you, but many years ago my folks used to think it was worth while to drive all that distance to trade every week. We kept it up and now my daughter and her husband take their babies up to Moscow to buy at Davids'.

In all these years we have always had the finest treatment in your store and we look forward to trading with you for many more years to come.

Best wishes to you all,

MRS. PAUL H. JONES.

P.S.—This is the way we feel about your store and always will.

Gentlemen:

It gives me pleasure to reply to your letter of January 2nd.

I remember very well the days when I would drive by team and buggy with my mother and father to Moscow each Saturday to trade at Davids'. As it was 11 miles and the roads were bad, we had to start very early and arrive home after dark.

From the time I was married, we have done practically all of our trading with your store. My son has been married four years and now they have two sons. These grandsons of mine have been outfitted from head to foot at your store. That makes four generations of Hordemanns.

Our wish and hope is that many more generations of our family will be trading with future generations of Davids', and that their relationship will be as pleasant as ours has been.

Sincerely,

JOHN HORDEMAN.

Military Training To Be Subject For Debate

Men Will Debate Compulsory R. O. T. C.; Women Proportional Representation

"Resolved, that compulsory military training should be abandoned at the University of Idaho" is the question which will be torn to shreds by the men participants in the intramural debates.

Representatives of all the men's houses wishing to take part met at the S. A. E. house last Monday where the details of the men's debates were decided upon. In each debate one team will be the dinner guests of their opponents. The judges, who will be members of the faculty, will also be entertained at dinner.

Women Debate P. R.
The women will debate the question "Resolved, that proportion representation is adaptable to the Idaho campus." A general meeting of representatives from each group will meet soon after the exams to arrange the details of the intramural debates for women.

Names of the debaters from each group should be sent to the debate chairman, Cecil Great-house, and Virginia Merrick, immediately.

Relations Clubs To Convene Here Early In Spring

At a recent meeting of the International Relations club, plans and arrangements were discussed for the regional conference of International Relations clubs to be held in Moscow the last of March. Approximately 200 delegates are expected to attend this convention. Committees were tentatively appointed by President Jean Clough and will be definitely confirmed after a meeting of the executive board of the club.

Erich Steiniger gave a report on the fortnightly summary of current events, which is sent to the local club by the Carnegie Endowment. A discussion of the questions raised by the Literary Digest college poll was followed by a general discussion on topics of interest to the club.

BY JUNIOR MONNETT

I would like to clear up an item published in this column last Tuesday. We quoted the Long Beach Press-Telegram in saying that Bobby King came to Idaho but was ineligible. According to Leo Calland, the one man here who should know, King came to Idaho all right. With him came French, a halfback, and Sharp, a 13.3 pole-vaulter, who won the California J. C. pole vault championship last year.

It was the same old story. These boys worked out before school started and looked like fine prospects but the jobs they needed were not forthcoming, so home they went. King returned to Glendale, where he led them through to the championship J. C. game, which they lost to Riverside.

The Moscow businessmen are certainly fine about placing athletes, but a town the size of Moscow can't do all the work. Under the coming new regime, let's hope that Idaho alumni get together and help hold such men, who really are fine ball players, here at Idaho.

Anyone watching Idaho's varsity basketball team work out might think they were practicing for a haunted house game. Rich Fox has been working his men out with about half the gym's lights turned out to prepare them for their invasion on W. S. C.'s home floor Saturday. The Cougar's home floor is notorious for its bad lighting. Every team in the conference complains that coming from the other school's brightly lighted gyms to that of the Cougars is a serious handicap to their shooting.

Jack Friel's team is certainly in a curious position at present. The Cougars have more points to their credit than any other team, leading Oregon two points with a total of 191. They are undefeated on their own floor. They have not had the most points scored against them. Oregon leads this column with 239. Three of the 10 highest conference scorers are W.S.C. men. Despite all these factors to their advantage, the Cougars are at the bottom of the conference, having lost 5 of their 7 games for an average of only .286.

Although he dropped to third in conference scoring due to his inactivity while Oregon met Washington State, Wally Geraghty still leads the conference in long shots. His 24 field goals are still the mark to shoot at. Only five points separate the leaders, Jones, Rogers, and Geraghty, while there is a drop of 12 points between Geraghty and Galer, the number four man.

Kougars Friel Good After Oregon Tussel, Says "John"

Gentle Reader:

My dear feline students. Spring has sprung. Spring is spruiging W. S. C. is spruiging a surprise on the vandal casaba tossers next Saturday night I hope not. Those playful little Kougars of Jack Friel's sure seem to friel right in the pink after taking Oregon's ducks to the cleaners Monday and Tuesday nights.

You know if a lot of you people were to go over to Pullman and pull for the team we would have a much better chance for winning. And don't forget your dear correspondent is looking for a means of transportation to our neighboring metropoliss.

And don't forget what you are supposed to do over there. Pull for dear of Idee ho. (Aw shucks, I'm killing myself. My such loud cheers what can the matter be.

Well any hoo this Chinoak has sorta raised h--- (have) with the winter sports around this here institution of learning—leaning on the fellow next to you in exams. We have track and baseball and tennis and golf and finals next week. From some of the remarks that have been directed at me, I think that I will turn out for track or at least make some.

I heard that the Idaho hoopsters have been practicing with only half the lights on in the gym so as to be ready to play in that gloomy cougar den. (I should say den we ought to win, but I won't)

I have heard a rumor around the kemps that there is going to be a big meet in mental gymnastics this next week. That's a swell way to start out the new year. It sure is hard on us athletes.

You know that Idaho has two of the leading scorers in the Northern division on her team? My friend Vul Geraghty, Thrid, and there is this handsome Iverson gent in fifth place. Didn't know that "Ivy" was up in there, did you. Oregon sorta thought that he was a kind of vine last Saturday night, but I don't think he's poison. He's a pretty good Joe.

Say, this here Gonzaga boy seemed to have a lot of Brass. (I'm very sorry I hope you people don't mind all these puns 'cause they're all I get to eat.

I wonder if I ever saw a close athletic contest. Yes, last Friday night. You know "soup to nuts" is an expression meaning from beginning to the end. Well, this is the nuts.

Sincerely,
"Honest John."

Strange as it may seem, the American navy had its origin in the army and George Washington was its admiral.

Legislature Makes Appropriation For Athletic Department

There will be towels for physical education classes again. The executive committee investigated the shortage of towels for the gym classes and found that the biennial appropriation for supplies had been exhausted and the athletic department had to wait until the legislature convened and made an appropriation for supplies for the department.

The legislature has passed a temporary appropriation for this purpose to carry the department until the regular biennial budget is drawn up and approved. The towels have been ordered and will soon be available.

Idaho Has Chance For Top Rung By Sat. Nite

How They Stand	W. L. Pct.
Washington	3 1 .750
Idaho	3 2 .600
Oregon State	3 2 .600
Oregon	3 4 .429
Wash. State	2 5 .286

This week-end Idaho will meet W. S. C. at Pullman. Coach Rich Fox seems to think this is going to be a plenty good game and so does everyone else. These W. S. C. fellows looked very much like a basketball team in that up-set game with Oregon. Washington is slated to take the Orangemen from Oregon State in their two-game series starting tonight. The Baron Mose Von Lyman, stellar guard, has been ill with the flu, but was out to practice yesterday. If the Baron plays for Oregon, the Orangemen might lose that faded yellow look to take on a bright red. It appears as if Idaho will finally break loose and hold down a position by itself after the games this week-end.

The best we can possibly do is to tie Washington for first in case she divides honors with Oregon State. If Washington wins, and Idaho wins, Idaho will be the sole survivor for second place, Oregon State dropping to third. If Oregon State wins both games from Washington, she will then head the conference and again Idaho will come second with no oustion. However, we don't know as yet just what the W. S. C. Cougar is doing over there at Pullman. It would be hard to lose that game.

At the season's peak, more than 1,000,000 spectators watch U. S. football every Saturday.

Vandals Worried About W.S.C.'s Victories Over The Webfoots

Vandals Cannot Be Sure of Saturday's Game at Pullman

Over to Pullman to measure the Cougars again. That's the item the Vandals have been concerned with ever since W. S. C.'s somewhat unlooked for topping of the Oregon Webfoots last Monday and Tuesday. Have the Cougars improved greatly since Idaho beat them two weeks ago? Were they just "hot" against the Webfoots, or did the Reinhardt basketeurs suffer an "away-from-home let down that was responsible for the Cougar wins?

All those questions are bothering Coach Rich Fox and the Vandals this week. Tied with Oregon State for second place in the conference, a win tomorrow night can mean a lot to Idaho. Correspondingly, a loss can put the Vandals just one notch farther away from the conference championship for which the Formen have been gunning since they split the Seattle series with Washington, conference leader so far. Speculation as to whether Norm Iverson, regular Vandal forward and backboard ball hawk, will be able to play has been an object of concern in the camp. The aggressive Iverson has been confined to the infirmary for several days during the past week with influenza, but Fox hopes to have him in shape for the Cougar encounter.

Tough Assignment

"We have a tough assignment on our hands for tomorrow night," was the main theme of the remarks made by Coach Fox after watching the rejuvenated Washington Staters trample Oregon.

"Ralph Rogers was a standout with his shooting against Oregon," said Coach Fox, "and he is going to need lots of stopping when we play the Cougars."

What makes the job so hard to do is the fact that there will be four other men besides Rogers who will require slowing up."

Fox did not say whom he intended to have shadowing Rogers, but Vic Warner did that little chore for the Vandals when the Washington Staters visited here two weeks ago.

Hooper Need Watching Hooper, Cougar sophomore substitute, who stood out in the second game against Oregon, will bear watching also. The flashy sophomore is uncanny with his long shots from the center of the floor and may get away to help the Cougars take Idaho.

Bob Houston, towering Washington State center, who was out of the Oregon games due to illness, is out of the sick bay and may play tomorrow night. The tall boy is still a little shaky on his pins according to reports, but may be in shape by tomorrow.

Boxing Coach Wants More Frosh Fighters

Fine Chance To Make Minor "I" Sweater This Year

More green men! "I want more men out for boxing," is the latest dope from Fight Coach Louis August. "There is a big opportunity for anybody who has done some boxing, or who is interested in fighting to turn out and make his minor sports letter." With this message, August opens up the avenue of boxing to all students who are interested in the sport.

"We're going to have a lot of fight cards from now on," commented August. "February 7, we go to Nez Perce for a card, with another one for the next evening at Potlatch and Lewiston and Kamiah, and plan to make two or three trips to Spokane. All that is necessary for the men who are really interested in boxing is to turn out and get in good shape. We can get the fights for them."

BOXING REQUIREMENTS ALLOW LEUWAY

The provision for a minor sports "I" in boxing are, as August pointed out, that it shall be awarded anyone who has participated in three or won one regularly scheduled match with opponents other than students of the University. "It's not necessary that the fellows who turn out have experience," said August. "The main thing is that they come out and train. We have two trainers here all the time to coach the green men and to help put them in shape for fights. But we're not going to put any men in the ring unless they are in the right physical condition for it.

"We've lost some fights already this year on that account, and we don't intend for it to happen again."

FROSH FIGHTERS WANTED BY LOUIE A special call for frosh was sent out by Coach August, who is anxious to get his men in the boxing game at the right time.

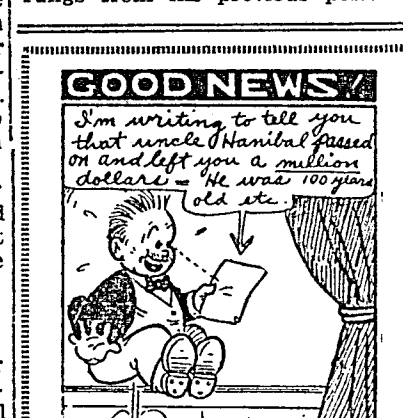

"Our next fight card here is scheduled for February 15 with Washington State. If the men will turn out right away, we may be able to arrange fights for some of them," was August's final comment.

The finals in Intramural wrestling were fought last Tuesday evening in the Memorial gymnasium. In the 118-pound class, Wright, Lambda Chi, outwitted Stearne, T. M. A. The 125-pound class was won by McElroy, A. T. O. Lambert, the versatile little Sigma Nu, defeated O'Neil, T. K.

E. Lambert had the edge all the way through the match. In the 145-pound class, Rice, T. M. A., won over Woods, Ridenbaugh hall. In the 155-pound class, Dahlke, Lindley hall, outpinted Smolinski, S. A. E. In the 165-pound class, Angell, Ridenbaugh hall, won from Ellis, Phil Dent, on default. Jarlett, A. T. O. defeated Greene Kappa Sig, in the 175-pound class. Thiessen, S. A. E., defeated Ritzheimer, Beta, in a sparkling heavyweight bout.

Again Oregon's Willie Jones is perched on the top rung of the scoring ladder. Monday's and Tuesday's games with Washington State gave the lanky Webfoot center the opportunity to climb up two more rungs from his previous position.

while the same two evenings provided the opening through which Ralph Rogers, Washington State field-goaler, hoisted himself to the second rung of the ladder. Jones has 57 points, as compared to 53 for the Cougar sharpshooter.

Idaho's Wally Geraghty, top runner the first of the week is perched on the third place with 52 points, but has the handicap of having played in two less games than have the men just above him. Bobby Galer of Washington, he whom they call "The Goose," is on the fourth step from the top with 40 points, an average of ten points per game so far this season. Our gaze shifts farther down the ladder to the fifth rung where Norm Iverson is perched with 38 points. On rung number six is "Abe" Liebowitz of Oregon, with 36 credits.
