

The Golden Fleece

"The question of war and peace is not one on which the opinion of the uninstructed should be invited." Thus spoke Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, in opposing the English peace ballot before the House of Commons.

American undergraduates, however, disagree with this narrow-minded Britisher and have responded enthusiastically to the efforts of the Literary Digest and the Associated College Editors to "take the question of war and peace to the people who must fight." The result has been a higher percentage of ballots returned in the College Peace poll than in the returns in any past Digest poll.

This fact is interesting when one considers that Digest polls have covered so controversial a subject, as national presidential elections. College men, it seems, are thinking seriously and universally about the course of current events—especially those that may concern their life and death before long.

Semi-final returns in the peace poll arrived on the campus recently. We'll get down to the business of telling you how Idaho men voted without any more preliminaries.

1. Do you believe that the U. S. could stay out of another great war?—yes, 361; no, 283. (a) If the borders of the U. S. were invaded, would you bear arms in defense of your country?—yes, 570; no, 75. (b) Did somebody say that the League for Industrial Democracy didn't have more than a handful of followers on the Idaho campus? (c) Would you bear arms in the U. S. in the invasion of the borders of another country?—yes, 142; no, 494. (Scabbard and Blades must have turned out in full force with a recruit or two apiece.)

2. Do you believe that a national policy of an American Navy and air-force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn into another great war?—yes, 290; no, 357.

3. Do you advocate government control of armament and munition industries?—yes, 617; no, 33. (The most overwhelming vote for one side on any of the seven questions. Guess our cartoon of a couple of weeks ago had some effect.)

4. In alignment with our historic procedure in drafting man-power in time of war, would you advocate the principle of universal conscription of all resources of capital and labor in order to control all profits in time of war?—yes, 543; no, 103.

5. Should the U. S. enter the League of Nations?—yes, 235; no, 405.

How the rest of the country voted might prove interesting if you've followed us through the Idaho statistics. Here are some of the highlights:

Nearly one-sixth of the undergraduates states they would not bear arms in case the United States was invaded.

On the policy of "should the U. S. enter the League of Nations?" the balloting was almost a tie—50.17 per cent voting for entry and 49.83 per cent signifying they were opposed.

Asked if they believed the United States could stay out of another great war, the student bodies responded with a more than 2 to 1 vote that the nation could avoid another major conflict.

The undergraduates balloted overwhelmingly negative on the question of bearing arms "for the U. S. in the invasion of the borders of another country." Of the 90,281 votes recorded on this section of the referendum, 17.83 per cent were marked "yes" while 82.17 per cent were tallied in the "no" column.

The students balloted 90.78 per cent advocating "Government control of armament and munitions industries."

Kappa Phi Pledges 21 Women on Sunday Afternoon

Kappa Phi, national Methodist women's organization, initiated 21 women Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church. President Wilma Mitchell presided. She was assisted by Marjorie Wilson, vice president; Alene Riley, chaplain; Ethlyn O'Neal, Murva James, and Mary Jane Pace.

Ellen Hulme and Helen Klenholz sang, accompanied by Gertrude Gehrke on the organ.

Sunday morning the girls attended church together, and Dr. J. Edgar Purdy spoke on "Open Doors," the symbol of this year's Kappa Phi theme, "Thresholds." Several of the girls ushered and participated in the service.

To Present Nominations

Nominations for next year's officers will be presented at a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Women's gymnasium. New officers will be elected earlier this year, so that they may confer with Mrs. H. M. LeSourd, grand sponsor, who will be in Moscow February 21 and 22. Martha Allen will be in charge of the program at the meeting.

New members of Kappa Phi are Ethel Gehrke, Minnie Henderson, Mary Schmitt, Margaret Scott, Virginia Johnson, Marjorie Glenn, Jean Irvn, Lucille Ogee, Martha Allen, Dorothy Read, Ruth Smith, Grace Fenton, Billye Jan Austin, Grace Gardner, Zelva Dahl, Bernice Levy, Mary Mitchell, Helen Hayes, Nine Mae Jewell, Vera Johnston, and Katherine Meneely.

Holiday Is Date For New Bucket

Fourth Issue Will Take Collegiate Traditions For Ride

The fourth issue of the Blue Bucket will be ready for distribution on February 22, Washington's birthday, according to Dock Hogue, editor.

This issue of the Blue Bucket will be decidedly different from anything which has appeared on the campus previously," says Hogue. "Our magazine is beginning to be recognized as one of the better college humor or publications, and in spite of limited finances we hope to have the Idaho Blue Bucket classed among the 10 finest in the United States by June. This is quite a task, but it can be done with the support of the student body."

The forthcoming issue will be the "All-College" number and will contain a good deal of satire directed at established college institutions and traditions. Three new features which will not be revealed until the Blue Bucket is distributed comprise the supreme element of the next issue.

Two short stories, crammed with action, have been written by Dallas Watkins and Cosmer Hall for the publication. Virginia Merrick and Dorothy Brown are editing the co-ed's page and promise to give a forecast of the spring styles which will be seen at the Spenser Skip, Dolores Kenworthy is preparing a new section for the Blue Bucket in which she will preview the better pictures that have been booked by the Knorothy and Vandal theaters for spring production.

The Blue Bucket will be placed on sale at Walgreen's, Jerry's the Nest, the Blue Bucket, and Wright's and in the Ad building. The fifth issue of the Bucket will be out April 1 and will be the political number, containing highlights on politics as found in various universities and colleges.

CALLANDS TO BE ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Leo B. Calland will be honored guests at a fireside to be given by the "I" club next Friday from 8 until 12 at Ridenbaugh hall. Dancing and cards will provide the evening's entertainment.

"I" club members will again choose an "I" queen to be introduced at their formal in the spring. She must be a representative Idaho woman, and will be judged on the following points: leadership, appearance, scholarship, activities, service to the university, character, and personal charm. She must also be a senior.

The "I" queen will also preside informally over the "I" club carnival which has been set tentatively for March.

Cheering Section To Meet Thursday

Total of 234 Students To Have Permanent Seats at Game

Large Audience Sees "Gondoliers"

Presented Friday and Saturday by Music and Dramatic Departments

"The Gondoliers," a Venetian comic opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, produced under the direction of Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the music department was presented Friday and Saturday evenings before a large audience. Professor Cummings was assisted in this production by Fred C. Blanchard, instructor in dramatics.

The gay mood of the opera began with the rise of the curtain which revealed a group of pretty Venetian maidens, all of whom had come with the hope of being selected as the wife of one of the two popular gondoliers, Marco and Giuseppe. A happy ending brought friends, relatives and sweethearts together. The colorful Venetian costumes added to the attractive scenes.

Features Dance

One of the outstanding features of the entertainment was a captivating dance by Maxine Berger and Don Tracy under the direction of Jessie Hutcheson.

The costumes were made under the direction of Miss Marion Featherstone of the university home economics department.

Rooters' section meets Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the Memorial gymnasium. Everyone be there!

College Joes Start Shelling Out

Lacy Valentines and Flowers Will Prevail

"Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I hate all women,
But least of all you."

This comes painfully close to expressing the feelings of many a college Joe of today as he sadly shells out check-ers for a box of candy, an elaborate lace paper valentine or a gorgeous bouquet of flowers.

And it's all his own fault too, because if he hadn't been such a consistently slow talker, the double standard Shakespeare's time might still prevail, and the first person to say "Good Morrow" 'tis St. Valentine's day! when two members of opposite sexes met, could do a little honest gold-digging.

Just how the comic valentine originated no one seems able to explain, but one theory is that it was an attempt at revenge. Equal doubt clouds the reason for the selection of the name of the day, although some scholars claim that St. Valentine was a Roman martyr who happened to be executed on the day that, according to universal belief, opens the mating season for birds.

Humans, in that case, would merely be imitating them when they seek their affections. But many a dejected male, for whom the pleasant jingle of metallic coins has given way to an empty pocket, wishes there were some other way of doing it, even if it were the risky and probable unsatisfactory custom of the ancient Romans, who drew the names of girls for a box, or the English, who expected to marry the first person they met on St. Valentine's morning.

Cold Spell Knocks Props From Under January's Warmth

Although January temperatures were 2.5 degrees above normal, they did not approach the record January of 1934 which brought California temperatures of 10.2 degrees above the normal of 28, according to a report today by E. R. Devine, co-operative weather observer at the university.

While the maximum temperature of 52 on the 31st was exactly the same as the high peak reached for the same month a year ago, the bottom nearly fell out of the thermometer on the 20th, when the mercury slid to 19 below. This was the second lowest point on record and brought the monthly average temperature down. The coldest in January, 1934, was 26 above.

Rainfall of 2.73 inches last month is only slightly below the normal of 2.83. Much of the moisture came in snowfall of 15.6 inches, which outdistanced by far the half inch of snow that fell in the same month last year. There were 19 cloudy days, six partly cloudy, and six clear.

SEATTLE ARTISTS TO GIVE CONCERT

The Moscow music club will present a concert in the University auditorium on Monday evening, February 18, at 8:15 o'clock.

The program, brought to the university through the courtesy of the public events committee, will be given by Susie Michael, pianist, and Maurice Friedman, baritone, Seattle, and will be open to the student body and the public free of charge.

"Idaho" To Be Feature of Gem

Sections of Yearbook Will Be Distinctly Idahoan in Title

"The word 'Idaho' will be played up in the 1935 Gem of the Mountains, particularly in the Herick, editor, in a recent interview.

"There will be an effort to name the sections for student appeal. For example, instead of a division of 'Athletics' in the book this year the division will be 'Idaho Sports,' This is Idaho's book, and we are going to make it distinctly 'Idaho' in every way."

Colored Pictures

There will be four main divisions in the yearbook, with four pages for every main division. Each division page has a colored photograph of the campus for its background. The photos are in natural colors and are produced by a special process.

There is to be a new feature on the main division pages which has never been attempted in an Idaho yearbook before, and although Herick would not disclose what it is, he said it should prove popular with Idaho students.

Greathouse and Orland To Meet Gonzaga Team

Debaters Will Discuss Munitions in Third Contest of Year

The third of a series of home varsity debates will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Ad 311, when the Idaho team will meet the Gonzaga team.

Cecil Greathouse and Lewis Orland, Idaho debaters will take the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent International Shipment of Arms and Munitions."

Prospects Good

E. A. Whitehead, debate coach, said, "This debate should be very interesting. I have a great deal of confidence in our men, and it will probably be a fairly evenly balanced match, since Smithmoore Myers and Henry Barrett, who will represent Gonzaga, are a 'crack' team. Both of them have had a great deal of experience, and plan to make a debate tour of the entire Pacific coast later in the season."

Main speeches will be 12 minutes and rebuttals seven minutes. It will be a non-decision debate.

New York city recently held a public celebration in Central park over the immunization of the one-millionth child against diphtheria, exhibiting it.

Harvard authorities are checking up on that famous Harvard accent. They are making phonograph records of freshmen's voices and then another when they graduate or leave.

Class meetings for nominations of candidates will be held in separate sessions although the voting will be carried on as was the election last fall. Booths will be erected in the hall and separate ballots will be distributed to members of the respective classes. The regular ASUI election board will conduct the election.

The classes will meet in the following places at 7:30 o'clock this evening to nominate candidates for next week's voting:
Freshmen Ad. 311
Sophomores Ad. 316
Juniors Ad. 301
Seniors Ad. 201

A revised list of members of each class will be on hand at Tuesday's election, to check off names of students as they cast their ballots.

Various phases of proportional representation as they have presented themselves to the committee investigating the matter will be presented on a questionnaire which all students are requested to fill out at the election. Various questions such as—Should the president of the ASUI be elected by the P. R.—elected board from among its number or by popular vote? Who should select the editors of our publications, an impartial board of students and administrative officials or the student body at large? Should we give P. R. a chance to prove itself or continue with the present two-party political set-up?

A complete discussion, which will be outlined by the committee which has been working on the P. R. plan for the past three months, will be printed in The Argonaut next Friday. Both sides of each question will be presented as impartially as possible. Students are urged to read these discussions carefully in order that they may vote intelligently upon the questionnaire given them at the polls Tuesday.

Military Bands To Give Concert

Robert B. Lyons Directs Varied Program; Includes Symphonic and Martial Music

Something new in band music will be introduced to the campus when the two military bands, directed by Robert B. Lyons of the music department will present a program in the university auditorium on March 14. The bands have a total personnel of about 85 students, with 50 in the first and 35 in the second.

The bands will play separately during the first part of the program, which will consist of two sections. The first part will feature symphonic music while the second part will be of a less serious nature. As a climax to the program, the two bands will be combined.

"I hope," said Mr. Lyons, "that this varied program will appeal to everyone, whether they are students or not."

Play Idaho Songs

The program will contain the following: "Go Vandals, Go," "Our Idaho," the new University of Idaho march, by Carl King; "Pomp and Circumstance, No. 1" by Elgar; three numbers from "Cockney Suite"; "At the Palais de Danse"; "Elegy"; and "A State Procession" by Edward Ketyelby; two excerpts from the symphony "Pathetique" by Tchaikowsky; "Headlines" by Cloby; and "Southern Wedding."

The "Southern Wedding" which is descriptive of a colored man's wedding, will be worked out as a mock ceremony. The part of the parson is taken by the basson, the groom, by the trombone, and the bride, by the flute.

Thomas Wedders, an 18th century Englishman, had the longest nose of history. It measured 7 1/2 inches, and Wedders made a liv-

"With Malice Toward None"

Today the nation commemorates the one hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States. Born February 12, 1809—felled by an assassin's bullet April 14, 1865. He was mourned by a war-torn country just then celebrating a victory for the North and the conclusion of a civil war. The divided nation needed his services to guide it through the problems of reconstruction, but he did leave behind him as a pattern a new meaning to the word liberty and the guiding suggestion of his principles of equality and compassion.

Essentially human in every sense of the word Abraham Lincoln conducted this nation through a major crisis. His homely philosophy and understanding of man's nature marked him as a greater leader than the most pompous and arrogant of statesmen. Considerate and sympathetic, he often attended to deeds of kindness which would not merit the notice of a man less gracious.

Perhaps there is no more famous example of the humanness of this man's character than the letter he composed to Mrs. Bisby of Boston. It was written November 21, 1864, and was as follows:

Dear Madam:

I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which would attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,
"A. Lincoln"

In closing we should like to quote from the writings of James Russell Lowell, poet, essayist, diplomatist, and scholar, who had this fine tribute to make upon the life of Abraham Lincoln and which was written just after the president's death at the hand of John Wilkes Booth.

On the day of his death, this simple Western attorney, who according to one party was a vulgar joke, and whom the doctrinaires among his own supporters accused of wanting every element of statesmanship, was the most absolute ruler in Christendom, and this solely by the hold his good-humored sagacity had laid on the hearts and understandings of his countrymen.

"Nor was this all, for it appeared that he had drawn the great majority, not only of his fellow citizens, but of mankind also, to his side. So strong and so persuasive is honest manliness without a single quality of romance or unreal sentiment to help!... Never before that startled April morning did such multitudes of men shed tears for the death of one they had never seen, as if with him a friendly presence had been taken away from their lives, leaving them colder and darker. Never was funeral panegyric so eloquent as the silent look of sympathy which strangers exchanged when they met on that day. Their common manhood had lost a kinsman.

THETA SIGMA TAKES FOUR WOMEN TODAY

Eileen Kennedy, Mildred Carlsen, Phyllis Peterson, and Marion Johnson, were pledged to Theta Sigma, local journalism honorary for women, at a luncheon today at the Blue Bucket Inn, at which they were guests.

Pledges of Theta Sigma are chosen for outstanding work in journalism and on The Argonaut. Theta Sigma has begun a new policy of pledging but once a year, at the beginning of the second semester, instead of twice a year as has been done in the past.

The Budapest university has purchased for experimentation an oak tree that is thought to be 1500 years old.

Hawkeye On Duty

Even though the team hasn't been doing so well over on the coast, why not have a good turnout to meet them at the train when they return? If we could have just about half the enthusiasm that is shown in the intramural contests, the boys would turn in some mighty fine wins for the rest of the season.

We understand that the old scourge is again invading the campus. "Impy," a rather common skin eruption, caused from close shaving, is causing dark spots to appear on the otherwise unblemished youthful countenances of a few of our students. It runs hand in hand with spring fever and is very contagious, so people, watch your step and let's keep this thing stamped out. Of course, it provides a very accurate checkup for any couple that happens to be suspicious of each other.

We notice that EILEEN KENNEDY and "RUSS" HONSWETZ are back together again. It always does our hearts—and theirs—good to have these difficulties straightened out. Wonder why MARGARET ECHTERNACH had her dates jerked this coming week-end?

Did everyone know that we have a "HAROLD TEEN" right here amongst us? Anyway, HUGH "C. B. O. C. MCGUIRE" put up quite a defense when compared to the above mentioned gentleman the other day. It seems that HUGH just couldn't think of a thing to say except the wrong thing. Maybe you had better get BOB LITTLE for a stooge. C. B. O. C.

With BOB CAMPBELL directing and BENNY LUTZ, accompanied by WINSTON WILLIAM GOSS, carrying the melody, the old Pep Band trio worked up some good numbers the other night. We also noticed EARL BOPP attempting to fool the ticket-taker at the Bucket Friday night.

And believe it or not, CHET RODELL is back on the campus for a brief visit. The GAMMA PHI frosh don't seem to be on speaking terms with anyone—don't get excited frosh, we won't tell. Of course you've noticed the old political pot boiling merrily away.

Don't try to keep things from old Hawkeye, because it just can't be done. Beware, you who think you are pulling the wool over our eyes.

at the Kenworthy—Paramount's new comedy with songs film, "Here Is My Heart," now showing, presents Bing Crosby with one of the best supporting casts he has had in a film. It includes Kitty Carlisle, first seen with Crosby in "She Loves Me Not," Allison Skipworth, Roland Young, star of the Broadway hit, "Her Master's Voice," and Reginald Owen, character actor, widely acclaimed for his portrayal in "Of Human Bondage."

The songs for the new film were written by Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin, authors of "Love in Bloom," and include "With Every Breath I Take," "June in January" and "Love Is Just Around the Corner." The story of "Here Is My Heart" concerns a millionaire crooner who is idling around the world in search of amusement and falls head over heels in love with an unattainable Russian princess when he sees her in an elevator.

Unable to meet her in any other way, the crooner buys the hotel in which she lives, disguises himself with "prop" mustache and beard as a waiter and between serving the princess, airing her dogs and attending to her parrot, finds opportunity to make ardent love to her in the only way he knows—by singing.

at the Vandal—P. T. Barnum, self-styled "Prince of Humbugs," comes back to a hearty life Wednesday to Saturday in the person of Wallace Beery, who plays the matchless showman in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Mighty Barnum," for 20th Century Pictures.

The screen play, which maintains the comedy mood best suited not alone to Barnum's extravagant exploits, but to Beery's most popular type of characterization as well, was written by Gene Fowler, famous biographer, and Bes Meredyth, one of Hollywood's ablest scenarists.

The story opens with Barnum's entrance into the showbusiness exactly a hundred years ago when, having acquired a few reptile monstrosities and an aged negro named Joice Heth, purported to be 160 years old and erstwhile nurse of the infant George Washington, he left his failing Bowery grocery, rented a livery stable and opened Barnum's American Museum.

The famous midget, General Tom Thumb and his bride Lavinia, the Cardiff Giant, the Bearded Lady, the Fiji Mermaid, the Woolly Horse and all the rest of the natural oddities" with which Barnum staggered New York a century ago are also seen. His splurge from the sponsoring of the American debut of Jenny Lind, the lovely Swedish nightingale, at Castle Garden, plays a big part in the picture, with Virginia Bruce charmingly interpreting the golden-voiced Jenny.

HELL WEEK NEWS
Probably the frosh in several houses here are ready to agree with the plan now under consideration at the University of Colorado. The college paper, deciding that "hell week" with its long record of broken bones, sleepless nights, interference with studies, and loss of time, has no place on their campus, has started an intensive drive for its complete abolition.

However, there is one student on that campus who believes in "hell week." He says that it is just a way of teaching the freshmen social balance—and clearing out the ones who have the most notable white livers. There is a similar movement on the University of Washington campus.

SOME PROBLEMS
Here's the sort of problems the professors at Ohio State assign: "If it takes one bushel of sliced potatoes to shingle a dog kennel 102 feet square, and 40 square feet of cheesecloth to make a bib for a baby elephant, how long will it take a mosquito with a wooden leg to kick a hole through a brick."

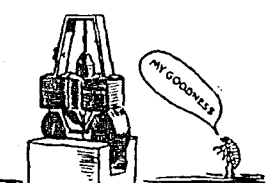

We've heard of such things right on this campus!

FLEA-POWER MOTOR

New photoelectric cells, recently developed in the General Electric Research Laboratory, furnish enough energy to operate a tiny electric motor rated at four ten-millionths of a horsepower.

These "cells" differ from photoelectric "tubes" in that the cells convert light energy into electric energy, whereas phototubes do not themselves generate electricity but instead control the amount of current permitted to flow through them according to the amount of light they receive. The cells are of the selenium type.

Four of the cells are used to operate the motor, which in direct sunlight turns at about 400 rpm. But enough light energy is converted into electricity, when a 75-watt incandescent lamp is lighted eight inches away from the cells, to turn the motor at good speed, using three ten-thousandths of an ampere. One watt of power can be obtained from about 15 square feet of cell area in direct sunlight.

Dr. C. W. Hewlett, North Carolina State, '06, Ph. D., Johns Hopkins, '12, of the Research Laboratory was in charge of investigations that led to the development of the cells and the tiny motor.

HEATING WITH COLD WATER

Reversible air-conditioning equipment, which may be adapted to either heating or cooling, depending on the season, is now in operation in a new building in Salem, N. J.

Reversing the cycle of the ordinary household refrigerator, the refrigerant absorbs heat from the water of a well which is at least 52 degrees even in coldest weather. This heat is added to that created by the work of the electrically driven compressors, and the refrigerant at 135 degrees gives up the total heat to the air of

NOW A NEW MONEY

A physics class at the University of Montana was being instructed in laws of the solar system. A pendulum hanging from the ceiling was set swinging, its path marked on a flat table. After a few hours members of the class were shown that the angle of the pendulum to the marked course was changed, indicating the turning of the earth.

"Gosh," remarked a young freshman as he left the room, "but I feel insecure."

FRATERNITY PADDLING

Paddling as a general practice in fraternities has been upheld by the University of Illinois interfraternity council in spite of recommendations from the student senate and President A. C. Willard that it be abolished. The council "passed the buck" by declaring that "evils of paddling" come from campus honoraries and not from social fraternities. Now what do you think?

Cribbing Is Curiosity
"Cribbing in an examination is more curiosity to see what is on a neighbor's paper," says Professor By of Syracuse. Statistics published by insurance companies recently reveal that the world is approximately 85 per cent honest.

Problem: To Find One Who Reads Bulletin Board

By R. H.

Was anyone ever known to read any of the announcements on the bulletin board in the main hall of the Ad building?

If you really want to know, it might be interesting to write to Life's Queerest correspondence department about it, for the casual observer, seeing the many orange, blue, and white slips fluttering in the wind every time the front doors are opened might be misled into thinking there is something really important there. There is always a crowd clustered around. But they must be counting the shiny thumb tacks or something, because after about 10 minutes of strenuous work the average seeker after truth would probably give up.

For instance, no less than 22 different places to board are advertised. All around, plastered so thickly that they form several overlapping layers, are the notices of four club meetings, three dances, several catalogs, a list of new books in the library, a list of changes in the time schedule, names of students who owe fees at the bursar's office, and a warning about absences before and after vacations.

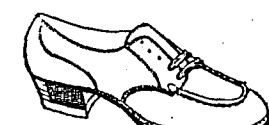

Notices that the students who took overcoats, books, or fountain pens are Absolutely known are always plentiful, and ranking next to their writers for optimism are those hopefuls with things for sale.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

SOCIETY

SATURDAY was full of social affairs, for besides three dances, it was the culmination of mid-semester rushing. Nine new women on the campus are wearing pledge books following formal dinner held at five of the sorority houses.

The dances carried out very definite themes. Spring was the motif for the Kappa Kappa Gamma upperclassmen's formal dinner dance; Kappa Alpha Theta held their annual gypsy dance; and the miners turned the Women's gym into a mine for their annual ball.

Sororities Pledge Nine Women

Formal dinners were held Saturday by Delta Delta Delta, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta in honor of the mid-semester pledges. Women pledged were Delta Delta Delta, Aileen Groome, Twin Falls, and Gladys McCauley, Post Falls; Pi Beta Phi, Margaret Barton, Spokane, and Mary Summers, Boise; Alpha Phi, Margaret Latimore, Mountain Home, Helen Turnbull, Moscow, and Martha Eggers, Coeur d'Alene; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Lorraine Smedley, Burley; Kappa Alpha Theta, Beulah Moore, Rexburg.

Kappa Upperclassmen Hold Formal Dance

A spring motif was used at the Kappa Kappa Gamma upperclassmen's formal dinner dance held at the chapter house Saturday. The long dinner table was decorated with white tapers and a centerpiece of tea roses. The dancing room was decorated with bowls of daffodils. A lighted pin hung above the mantel. Patrons and Patronesses were Mrs. Lenore Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green. Charles Collins' orchestra furnished the music.

Thetas Have Gypsy Dance

Kappa Alpha Theta held their annual gypsy dance Saturday with the house decorations and the costumes of the guests turning the chapter house into a regular carnival. The decorations featured a silhouette of a gypsy man and woman, and the mystic ability of the gypsies to tell fortunes was proclaimed by cards displayed on the walls. The Blue Devils' orchestra furnished the music. Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Gertrude Pecar, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poulton, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce.

Miners' Ball Held Saturday

A cleverly constructed mine shaft at the side door of the women's gymnasium was the entrance to the annual Miners' ball held there Saturday night. The orchestra pit represented a mine dump, and the indirect lighting used gave the effect of miners' lamps. The programs were black and white with an illustration of a mine blast exploding into the words "Miners' Ball." A. C. Whitaker's orchestra furnished the music. Patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald, Dean and Mrs. F. B. Laney, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stanley.

Kappa Sigma announces the pledging of Robert Gunther, Walla Walla, and Joseph Montell, Glendale, Calif.

Lambda Chi Alpha announces the pledging of Gerald Larsen, St. Maries, and Roy Krebs, St. Maries.

Delta Chi announces the pledging of Stephen Summers, Sandpoint, and James Alastra, Hazelton.

Saturday dinner guests of Sigma Chi were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown, Mrs. Warren Brown, McCall, and Marjorie McCall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown, McCall, were week-end guests of Delta Delta Delta.

Mary LeGore, Spokane, was a week-end guest of Pi Beta Phi. Guests of Kappa Sigma.

Sunday dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta were Miss Ida Ingalls, Miss Marion Featherstone, Miss Ada Lewis, Miss Miriam Little, and Miss Isabel Clark.

OVER 100 TURN OUT FOR RIFLE PRACTICE

Rifle practice is seeing an unusually large turn-out this year, with over 100 women turning out last week. There will be another week of practice before the number will be cut to about 50, 15 women on each team. Those elected to remain on the women's rifle squad will start practicing for the team matches which will be fired sometime in March.

TALENT OBTAINED FOR SPINSTER SKIP

"Outside talent from W. S. C. will provide the entertainment, which will remain secret until the afternoon of the Spinster Skip," said Ethlyn O'Neal, president of Mortar Board.

Music will be provided by Bob Campbell's orchestra. Tickets will be sold this week at the houses by representatives. Patronesses of the dance will be Dean Permeal French, Miss Ida Ingalls, and Mrs. G. M. Miller.

Dr. Fouke has served for the past year on Governor Ross's state liquor control commission, and will lead these discussions, which will include such topics as the liquor traffic, personal adjustment opportunities, controlling of ments, and the place of the church in society.

"This is a fine opportunity," declared the Rev. J. Edgar Purdy, pastor at the First Methodist church, Moscow, "for all interested young people to make an excellent contact with this great personality, and I am sure he will be able to assist them in solving their personal problems and to gain a new outlook on life and society."

Two women from each house will form a team for the debates which are to begin on Thursday. Affirmative teams will entertain negative teams at dinner.

The following schedule will be followed for round one, the first team named being the affirmative:

Pi Beta Phi vs. Delta Gamma, judged by A. E. Whitehead; Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Alpha Phi, judged by W. C. Banks; Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Delta Delta Delta, judged by C. J. Brosnan; Delta Theta Gimmel vs. Gamma Phi Beta, judged by F. C. Church; Forney Hall vs. Alpha Chi Omega, judged by George S. Tanner; Hays hall vs. College Women's club, C. E. Marshall judge.

By a vote of 33,870 to 58,025, they voiced opposition to the national policy that "An American Navy and air force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn into another great war."

For universal conscription, 81.98 per cent voted "yes" and 18.02 voted "no."

Perhaps the most interesting statistics of the poll concern the results of the poll on the League of Nations question. Idaho, like many other western and mid-western colleges, voted strongly against entry of the U. S. into the League. The combined negative votes were enough to counteract the overwhelmingly favorable eastern vote and make the question a virtual toss-up. The final vote may show the trend of votes swinging either way.

The Argonaut will welcome any comment on the results of the Peace Poll from any journalistically inclined students who are interested enough in the subject to scribble a line or two for the "Grin and Grudge" column. How about unlimbering your plans? JASON

Vandals Due For Win

"Little Giant" Back Home

Coach Picking Postponed

Tradition says Idaho should win tonight. For the last few years they have always finished up their road trip with a win. Even when O. S. C. with Ed Lewis had the championship tucked away two years ago, the Vandals, defeated them in their last game there. In 1933 they dropped their first game to the conference champs 46 to 26 but came back to win the last game 30 to 26. Last year after losing 40 to 14 the Vandals won the second game 34 to 22. Now Idaho has lost 25 to 18 and is due to come back.

I was talking to Willis Smith, Idaho's former "Little Giant," who is now with the New York Giants professional football team. He says there is all the difference in the world between college and pro football. Not only the pro rules, which have received so much publicity lately, but the ball players themselves make the difference. They are all finished players who are playing for what they get out of it and not for the dear old college or for the coach. Smith explained that pro ball involves individual responsibility instead of training rules, eligibility and coaches threats and pleas. If you don't produce the goods you don't stay in the game.

The Little Giant considered Ken Strong of his own team the best all round back of the many stars he watched play. In his opinion Strong does a little of everything, punting, passing, blocking, and ball-carrying, and what's more it he does it all well.

Although everyone on the campus has his coach picked and the future of Idaho athletics all settled, President Neale says the board of regents will not make their choice until after their meeting February 21. This delay will chaff at most of us who are already ready to tell the poor fellow just how to run his team.

Last Friday night U.S.C. downed Stanford by the score of 55 to 40. Not only did they win the ball game but they also broke a record set in 1928 by running up the highest score since Leo Calland's U. S. C. team beat the University of Washington Huskies by a score of 53 to 50 in that year. A curious fact about that 1928 play-off was that the score of one night was doubled the following when U.S.C. set their high scoring record.

The Vandals still seem to be able to get their shots but can't seem to connect them for scores. In the Oregon series Idaho shot 140 times to Oregon's 106. They took 34 more shots but scored two less field goals than the Ducks to give them an average of about one out of every six shots to one out of four for Oregon.

Webfoots Trample Vandals' Chances

Pair of Wins Gives Oregonians Series by Three To One

The Vandal championship hopes were blasted Friday and Saturday nights at Eugene when the University of Oregon took two hard-fought games, 31 to 29, and 42 to 35. The two wins gave the Oregonians a three to one sweep of the series, Idaho having lost 27 to 29 and won 39 to 21 in games played here.

The Liebowitz to Willie Jones combination was responsible in a large measure for the Vandal's loss the first night, after Idaho had held the advantage, 12-11, at half time, and had forged into the lead, 27-24, in the final period. "Ikey" Liebowitz whipped a pass to Jones who was in the open and

Dr. Dixon Ryan Fox, president of Union College, says the American fraternity is rapidly degenerating into a school of "deadbeats."

ENSIGN MAKES RECORD

Lewis Ensign, a junior from Boise registered in pre-law, yesterday achieved the high rifle score of 96, standing.

Captain William A. Hale, coach of the rifle team stated, "It is the highest rifle score ever made in the history of the university."

NINE BOUTS TO BE PRESENTED IN IDAHO-W. S. C. CARD FRIDAY

Plenty of action will be seen Friday night in the Memorial gymnasium as leather-handed grenades explode in the nine-bout card featuring Idaho and W. S. C. boxers.

Quoting boxing coach Louis August, "This will be absolutely the best fight card that has been or will be seen here this year. Washington State is sending over Bell, Waller, Hildebrand, Johnson, and Jones—their "suicide" crew. They have lost but one bout this year, but we are going to do our best to upset them."

Knockout Artist Ready
In the main event of the evening, Gene Brado, Idaho, representative, will tangle with Kay Bell, Washington State 200-pound football tackle. These men have been matched previously but Brado's name had to be scratched because of an injury to his hand.

Since then fans have been clamoring for a bout between these two, as Bell has been tough competition for his teammate, "Lammy" Theodoratus, and if Brado should take Bell, the Idahoan may later be matched with the mighty Greek tackle, who has been without challengers this season. Both of these men will be attempting to chalk up a third knockout this season.

Waller Fast
Paul Waller, who holds quite a reputation at Washington state for being a fast and hard-slugging boxer, will have a bundle of speed and fistic science thrown at him in the person of Joey August, Idaho's Pacific coast champion. August will be out-weighted by about five pounds.

The Roy Hanford, Idaho-Bert Johnson, W. S. C., bout should be marked by a great deal of action. Johnson defeated the last year's Pacific coast intercollegiate middle weight champion and he should be hard to stop. Hanford has won two out of three bouts this year, so with this experience he should be able to make it an A No. 1 fight, with a 50-50 chance to win.

For toe-to-toe slugging in the heavy class, the battle between Bill Morrow, Idaho, and Les Hildebrand, Washington State, looms as a thriller. The men weigh in at 175 pounds.

Footballers Matched
A couple of football backfield men will get together when the bell rings for the Louie Rich-Hal Jones fight. Rich was an outstanding halfback on the 1934 Idaho freshman eleven, and Jones is a Washington State varsity quarterback. Both men weigh 165 pounds.

The preliminary bouts will also be marked with stars. George Riddle, U. of I. Pacific coast amateur champion, is slated to meet Rex Pegg, from Coeur d'Alene, at 126 pounds. Sam Woodruff, U. of I. will fight "Pepper" Moore, Coeur d'Alene, at 135 pounds. Luke Purcell, U. of I. is fighting "Young" Rose, Coeur d'Alene, at 127, and Ralph Miller will meet "Kenny" Bro, Coeur d'Alene, at 115 pounds.

Oregon State shoved the Vandals down a notch in the conference standings last night at Corvallis when they turned back the invading Foxmen 25 to 18, in a fiery battle which was nip and tuck until the last three minutes of play. In the last half, with the score 19 to 18 for the Beavers, the two teams fought for ten minutes without a score being chalked up, and then the Oregonians found the hoop for three field goals to clinch the argument.

During this scoreless interval Idaho had three chances and O. S. C. four chances to break into the scoring column via the free throw route but all seven shots failed to drop on the right side of the bracket.

Miss Free Shots

Idaho had four more gift shots which went wry after Palmberg, O. S. C. forward, had knocked the lid off the Idaho basket with a field goal that made the count 21 to 18. In the final three minutes Palmberg repeated with another field goal and Conkling pushed in a rebound to run the Beaver total to 25.

Oregon State chalked up the first basket of the game when Lyman hit the net, but Iverson retaliated to tie the score. Lyman sent his team ahead again with a free toss. Late in the period Idaho was leading 13 to 9, but Hibbard scored twice and Lyman once in the closing minutes to give the winners a 15 to 13 lead at half time. Lyman was outstanding in this half, chalking up 11 of his team's 15 tallies.

The second half opened with Follen, tall Beaver center, looping the net and then following with another after Iverson had scored on a long dribble-in. Larson sank one and then Klumb made good a gift shot to place the Vandals within one point, 18 to 19.

Battle Waxed Hot
The crowd was treated to thrill after thrill during the remainder of the fracas as the two teams battled fiercely, at times there being several men down on the floor due to their attempt to wrest possession of the ball. Neither team was able to sink a foul shot from this point, Idaho missing seven and O. S. C. missing six. Palmberg was fouled on the shot which broke the scoreless interval, but the ball sailed true to its aim.

The two teams will meet again tonight in the second of the four-game series which will be finished here February 25 and 26.

Intramural Sports

In the season opener in intramural basketball the Fiji quintet won from the Kappa Sig five 16-24. Owen of the Fijis was the high point man for the game with 10 points all on field goals.

In the second game the Lindley hall team won a close one from the Phi Dels 22-20 in an overtime period. Metzger, Phi Delt center, made the prize shot of the evening when he put a tipoff in from the foul line.

The score was tied at 18 all when the regular period ended, and a three-minute overtime period was played.

The players were fairly ragged on their passing and shooting, but should improve as the tourney goes along.

The games tomorrow night will Tau Delta in the first game and Sigma Nu and S. A. E. in the second between Lambda Chi and Delta and game. The first game will at 7:30.

Vandal Fencers Defeat Whitman In Close Match

Idaho foilmen derw the first blood of the second semester by defeating a fast Missionary team last Friday. The final score was five matches for Idaho and four for Whitman.

Whitman, led by O'Reilly, a fast, aggressive veteran with a perfect fencer's eye, presented a well-balanced team which showed no outstanding weaknesses. Idaho won with marked superiority in all departments of the sport combined with an unusual degree of fight.

Weston Pleased
Captain Ray Weston was pleased with the showing of his men. Not only did the Idaho squad learn several valuable lessons from their opponents, but a great deal of experience was gained for the comparatively green Vandals, stated Weston.

First Men's Intramural Debate Held Monday

Phi Delta Theta, Delta Chi, and Alpha Tau Omega are Victors in First Round

In the first round of men's intramural debate Monday evening the following teams won: Phi Delta Theta, represented by Edward Metzger and John Kinney, defeated Lindley hall, represented by Carl Buell and Melvin Lafrenz; Beta Theta Pi, represented by Sherman Bellwood and Lawrence Duffin lost to Delta Chi, represented by Cromie Wilson and Bob Mullins; Alpha Tau Omega, represented by Glenn Willey and John Chestnut won from Kappa Sigma, represented by Woody Pierce and Erich Karte.

Any man who has participated in either freshman or varsity debate at the university is in eligible. Losing one debate eliminates a team. The affirmative teams were hosts to the negative teams in the first round. Any team which failed to appear in the first round automatically forfeited the debate and was consequently eliminated.

Willis Smith Completes Professional Football Year

Willis Smith, late Idaho student and stellar football player for the Vandals during the 1931-32-33 seasons, returned to the campus last week for a brief visit, after completing a successful season in the field of professional football with the New York Giants.

The "Little Giant" found considerable difference in the type of football played intercollegiately stated Smith. "The game as played by professionals," says Smith, "has a larger degree of unexpectedness and thrill. The rolling block and flying tackle are legal and one is allowed to pass anywhere behind the line of scrimmage."

The lad from Pearl, Idaho, likes it and "can he take it?" He hopes to play again next fall. In the meantime he is working with his father in some mining operations in the southern part of the state.

Coach Rich Fox To Obtain New Pitching Recruit

With the addition of another prospective pitcher, Idaho's baseball stock has taken a sharp rise. The new recruit is Bob McCue, the Vandals' long-distance football passing ace.

The 203-pound tackle, who plans to turn out for diamond practice this spring, is not entirely new to the art of baseball tossing. He pitched during prep school days long before he trotted out on the football gridiron at Moscow two years ago and threw 70-yard passes to unlimber his arm.

Since that first toss on MacLean field, he has been the artillery of the Vandals' aerial attacks in football. Among his better throws the past season were a 45-yard thrust in the California game for a touchdown and a 40-yard heave in the Creighton game for another six points. "Bullet Bob" is the name given to McCue on the gridiron and this title should spell poison in the pitcher's box.

Dr. Ralph D. Russell, professor of education, leaves for Atlantic City Friday to attend the National Education Association convention.

Dr. Russell has been asked by members of the Columbia university faculty to make four speeches. He is also chairman of the curriculum section. While enroute, Dr. Russell intends to visit his mother and sister. He will return March 4.
