

The Golden Fleece

In the afternoon mail: "Dear Jason: The reactionary individual who last issue was guilty of slightly deprecatory imputations in regard to the mentality of 552 students at the University of Idaho is mentally a bit off keel. What he or she should have said was that if most of the people in the U. S. were as fatalistic and dispirited as he appears to be, then it is possible that we might become embroiled when and if another major conflict should arise. Such an apathetic and pathetic attitude as H. D. seeks mistakenly to condone, is an excellent example of what leads us into war.

H. O."

We imagine that H. D. and the 372 other Idaho students who think that we can't stay out of another war would rather be considered as unvarnished realists rather than "mentally off keel." You've got a point there all right, H. O., but if you think H. D. and his cohorts crazy, what do you think of the Naval academy grad we quoted in the last issue who told the Literary Digest editors that they were being "unpatriotic and indiscreet in presenting the results of their 'slacker poll'?" This guy must have pretty warped ideas about patriotism to say such a thing, for if the Peace Poll and the intramural debates on R.O.T.C. training and the war movies and such things do nothing more than keep the people in the United States thinking and talking about war, they will have accomplished their purpose of bringing us to realize that removing the causes of war is the only way to secure peace.

For an intelligent and (if H. O. will pardon our saying so) more understandable criticism of the letter that appeared in the last issue, see the "Grins and Grips" column on page 2. He uses fewer big words.

Intramural Debate Enters Final Round

L. D. S. Defeats Delta Chi and Phi Delta; Alpha Chi's Loss To Hays Hall

Intramural debate neared the finals last night when Karl Jepson and Wayne Lee debating for L. D. S. defeated Cromie Wilson and Robert Mullins of Delta Chi at the L. D. S. Institute. Paris Martin judged.

The question in all the men's intramural debates is: "Resolved: That Compulsory Military Training at the University of Idaho Should be Abolished." The L. D. S. debaters upheld the affirmative last night and Tuesday night, when they defeated the Phi Delta team of Ed Metzgar and John Kinney, W. C. Banks judging.

Delta Chi Wins
Delta Chi, upholding the affirmative, defeated the Sigma Nu negative Wednesday at the Delta Chi house. A debate was scheduled between the A. T. O. and S. A. E. teams last night, which was postponed due to the illness of one of the debaters. Cecil Greathouse, who is in charge of the intramural debates, announced that as soon as this debate has eliminated, one team the finals will be debated.

In the women's intramural debate last night, Hays hall's affirmative to the question: "Resolved: That Proportional Representation is Adaptable to the Idaho Campus," defeated Alpha Chi Omega at Hays hall. Mary Schmidt and Francis Heath composed the winning team, and Marie Haasch and Marjorie Blaine debated for Alpha Chi Omega. Vernon Michelson judged. Pi Beta Phi defaulted to Gamma Phi Beta.

A debate has been scheduled for next Tuesday night between Kappa Kappa Gamma affirmative and Kappa Alpha Theta negative which Dr. F. C. Church will judge.

CLAUS TO GIVE RECITAL

Carl Claus, violinist and music instructor will present a recital next Thursday in the university auditorium. Miss Isabel Clark, pianist, will be the assisting artist and Miss Lucille Ramstedt, accompanist. The program is free to the public.

Sentiment Poll Begun Regarding Otto Anderson

Predicted That Students Will Stand Behind Track Coach En Masse; 1000 Have Expressed Themselves

With the recent selection of Ted Bank of Tulane as varsity football coach at the University of Idaho, student interest turned to the remainder of the coaching staff yesterday. A number of university students, who desired that their names be not revealed, drew up a questionnaire which would have as its purpose the gauging of student sentiment regarding the retention of Otto K. Anderson, present Vandal track and freshman football coach.

The student opinion "feeler" was circulated Thursday in every group house, in the halls, and at the various student gathering places. Estimates on the signers late yesterday placed the number who favored Anderson at near 1,000 with many students yet to express their opinions. Some commentators went so far as to predict a 100 per cent favorable poll in the question presented.

Record Presented

The questionnaire included the statement that the signer favored the retention of Anderson as a member of the coaching staff and also presented a statement of his record since coming to Idaho in 1929.

"We feel that the majority of the students on the campus like 'Otto' and respect him as a coach," commented one of the authors of the sentiment poll. "We are sure that they want him to stay here and with that in mind we want a bit of concrete evidence of the students' feelings at hand for the information of Coach Bank when he comes here late this month and begins to organize his staff."

Phi Eta Sigma Will Pledge 11

Freshman Men Making 5.5 Last Semester Are Eligible

Plans for pledging freshmen men who made a 5.5 or over for the first semester and the election of a convention delegate occupied the local chapter meeting of the national honorary for freshmen men, Phi Eta Sigma, held Tuesday at the Beta house.

Members passed upon 17 men who have been notified that they have been accepted by the honorary. Formal pledging will be held Tuesday at 5 p. m. at the Beta house, after which the names of those to receive the black and gold pledging ribbon will be announced.

Kelly To Convention

Sherman Kelly, secretary of the local chapter, was elected to attend the national convention of the honorary at Norman, Okla., April 23, 24. Judson Wark, president, was chosen as alternate.

February's issue of Forum, the handbook of Phi Eta Sigma, dealt with five pages to the Idaho chapter. Pictures of the Administration building, "T" tank, Memorial gymnasium, and a view from the arched doorway of the Science hall are shown. A group picture of the Idaho chapter also appears. Two articles describing the growth of the local group accompanies the pictures.

Every county in the state of South Carolina is represented among the 1391 students enrolled at the University of South Carolina. Only 190 of those registered are from out of the state.

Gem To Feature Campus Snaps

Pictures Are Treated With Special "Air-Brushing" Process

Photographs and snaps of all phases of Idaho campus life will be the basis for the sub-division pages of the 1935 Gem of the Mountains. These pictures will include such things as sports, social events, campus scenes, and student activities, such as snow fights.

"The sub-division pages should appeal to all Idaho men and women," said Robert Herrick, editor. "We have designed them so as to be individually Idaho's own effort has been made to get snaps of events that could not happen anywhere except on this campus. It is to be Idaho's book for Idaho students."

"Air Brushed" Pictures

The pictures on the pages are specially treated with a process called "air-brushing." This process blends the details of the pictures to give them a phantom effect. There are approximately 30 of these sub-division pages, each with its individual pictures.

Herrick also announced that the activity blanks for upperclassmen are ready and would be issued the first of the week. All upperclassmen who wish their activities listed in the Gem must fill out one of these blanks.

Burton L. French On Miami Faculty

Idaho Grad, Former Congressman, Becomes Professor

Word was received here recently that Burton L. French, '01, of Moscow, former representative to congress from the first Idaho district, had tentatively accepted an appointment to the faculty of Miami university, Oxford, Ohio.

French, who was defeated for reelection by Compton I. White, after serving 25 years in the house, became associate professor of government in the college of liberal arts, Dr. A. H. Upham president of the university, was quoted as saying. The appointment would be effective in September.

Dr. Upham, former president of the University of Idaho, and Mr. French are close friends.

Forestry Honorary Has Initiation Banquet

Four Students and Dean Honored at Banquet Held at Moscow hotel Wednesday

Xi Sigma Pi, honorary forestry honorary, held its annual initiation banquet at the Moscow hotel Wednesday night in honor of Richard E. Mc Ardle, dean of the School of Forestry; Richard E. Bickford, Cambridge, Mass.; Charles G. Brown, Wapato, Wash.; Frederick W. Goenne, Davenport, Iowa, the new initiates.

Richard Bickford spoke on the Dutch elm disease and Frederick Goenne spoke about the plans for the shelter belt. Charles Brown spoke on the manufacture of wine and whiskey barrels, answering questions presented at the forestry office by the faculty and members of Xi Sigma Pi.

The questions were of the nature of why oak chips improve the flavor of wines, what wood is best for aging specified liquors, and the advantage of charring the inside of barrels.

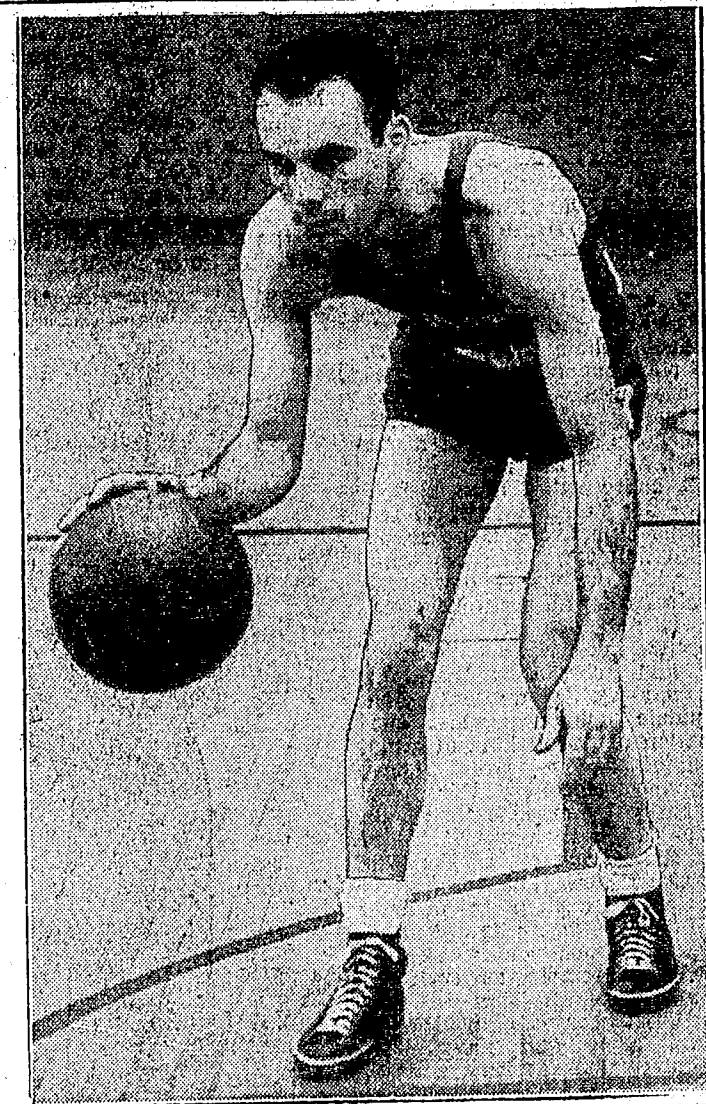

Exactly 5610 degrees have been granted by the Oklahoma A. and M. college since its founding in 1891.

Will Be No New Class Elections

Executive Board Rules To Allow Salvaged Votes as Official Count; Were 136 Ballots

It's "Finis" for Vic Tomorrow

Vic Warner gets his last crack at the Cougars tomorrow night at Pullman. He drew his basketball outfit as a freshman three years ago and ever since has been an important and dependable figure on Vandal basketball teams. He is the only three-year man on the Idaho squad this year.

Carnival To Equal Past "I" Affairs

Wheeler Optimistic; Admission To Be 40 Cents a Couple

The "I" club carnival, scheduled for March 8, an annual affair for which the "I" club has put forth extensive efforts each year for the last few years, is not going to be a less hilarious occasion than before, according to Joe Wheeler who is in charge.

In previous years the carnival has featured sports events, but this year it will feature the dance and will have many concession booths for amusements. For example, a chance to throw baseballs at an "I" man at three balls for a nickel, is to be offered in one booth.

The admission will be 40 cents a couple. Joe Wheeler suggested that if the fair lady took you to the Spinster Skip that here is a right merry way to get even. The music will be furnished by Chuck Collins and his six-piece orchestra. At intermission the "I" club queen will be presented, and there will be a short program by members of the "I" club.

Official Report

Following is an official report of the executive board proceedings Wednesday evening:

At a lengthy meeting on Wednesday evening, the ASUI executive board ruled that the recent class election should be declared legal and that the results of said election should be ascertained by a count of the ballots in the one ballot box which was not stolen by the marauders who attacked the ASUI election board.

This decision was reached after a thorough and far reaching examination into the legality of the whole affair, and after representatives of both major parties had presented their views to the executive board.

The university administration saw fit to leave the whole question to the judgment and discretion of the executive board. The board, thus, found itself in the dilemma of vehement denials from the Campus party in regard to having any official part in the presentation of the Third party, and the equally decisive denials of the United Student party of having any part in the stealing of the ballot boxes. Thus the board realized that it could of please everyone on any decision that it might make. After due deliberation, the board saw fit, under all the circumstances to base its decision on the following points, which, of necessity, must here be presented in brief:

1. That the United Student party had a valid case for appeal concerning the constitutionality of the Third party and its anonymous petition.

2. That the leaders of the U. S. party were informed and fully understood that their case could and would be presented to the non-partisan board of arbitration, as provided in the ASUI constitution, Article 7, Section 3—to the effect that "all questions of constitutionality and interpretation shall go to the Board for decision. The board shall consist of the faculty representative of the ASUI, and the president of the ASUI, and the president of the university."

3. It is a well known fact that certain members of the U. S. group selected an alternative. It was such selection that ended the balloting for the day.

4. After the inventory was made, it was found that the election committee was still in possession of one ballot box, which was full and had been set aside by the members of the committee;

5. The committee then counted the ballots left, and found the count as above listed;

With these facts before them the board determined:

1. That there was no prescribed number of votes necessary in class elections in order that the election be valid;

2. That those who did not see fit to appeal in the legal manner and resorted to physical force and unlawful acts which were so evident at 2 o'clock on election day, and could of later be heard to appeal that point, the solution of which they had taken in their own hands;

3. That the executive board should take such action as would establish a harsh and decisive precedent in the ASUI, and so prevent such highly dangerous mob action in the future, and

John Turner's Comedy Given Tonight By ASUI Players

By Nina Varian

Ways of the village of Wideleete take a decided turn toward the startling when antiquarians bob up handsome and young in "Lilies of the Field," John Hastings Turner's English comedy to be given here Friday and Saturday. Under Fred Blanchard's direction, the show has donned an air of hilarity and high humor. Clever, amusing, infectious in the mere reading, "Lilies of the Field" in production comes near the riot line for even the most fastidious funny bones.

Baker Is Vicar

It's all the vicar's fault. The Rev. John Head (Bernell Baker) is the proverbial preacher who has a penchant for posies instead of a penchant for posies instead of a wicked rod on his spoiled children, those Terrible Twins, Elizabeth (Dorothy Dole) and Catherine (Helen Wilson). Ann Head (Ethlyn O'Neal), the object of the vicar's affection after 20 years, divides her time between blushing rosy red over would be a slouch as a chaperon for even Elsie Dinsmore, and Betty bursts upon London unchecked, her crinolines flying in the face of convention—to say nothing of nearly blinding the young antiquarian Barnaby Hadon (Glen Starlin). His antics are, however, equal to hers, and all's well that ends well mated.

Bowler Adds Love Interest

Starch is added to the plot by the young Samson, Bryan Ropes (Aldrich Bowler) who, shears in hand, snips his way to romance and true love when Kitty perceives that beyond the camouflage there shines an honest face. Bryan eschews forever the somewhat doubtful pleasure of kissing the respective hands of the Lady Susan Rucker (Jean Ricker) and the Hon. Monica Flane (Rosanne Roark)—the pink of London's green-eyed ladies. Withers (Robert Parker) is the inevitable butler, and Ann Curtis and Anna Sweeley, sans the Cockney, are the downstairs representatives.

Pritchard and Featherstone Help

Theodore Pritchard, head of the art department, is technical director of the production, and Miss Marian Featherstone of the home economics department is in charge of the costuming.

A string trio composed of Katherine Kennard, cello; Arnold Westerland, violin; and Nina Kinghorn, piano; will play between the acts of the show. They are under the direction of Professor Carl Claus.

The curtain will be promptly at 8:20 for both performances.

NOTICE

Mixed chorus, 36, is now holding regular practices every Monday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p. m. in the Women's gymnasium. Those signed up for this course will please attend practices regularly.

DAVIS TO ADDRESS BUSINESS GROUP

D. L. Davis, managing director of the Spokane branch of the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco, will speak at a luncheon meeting of the Alpha Kappa Psi, national business honorary. The meeting will be held this noon at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Enrollment for the second semester of the adult education classes in pottery and drawing under the IERA, are now being accepted. Classes will begin March 4. A few additional students will be admitted to each of the two evening classes in pottery, and there is space for a number of people in the drawing classes.

No tuition of any sort is charged and the bare cost of materials and firing is the only expense to the people of these classes.

Any adult interested in this work is invited to visit any of the present classes in the U-Hut, or see Miss Nellie Best of the home economics department, concerning registration.

TO STUDENTS WHO ACTIVELY ENGAGE IN POLITICS ON THE IDAHO CAMPUS:

I am pledging my every effort toward the revision of the constitution and the making of such plans as to reassure the students on this campus that elections can be carried on without sharp practices or barbaric actions. If you will meet me halfway, it can be done.

I want to thank the students who kept their heads and used common-sense when these things took place. I think the thing to do now is to start going to classes.

Professor Atkeson Honored at Banquet

Member Of Dairy Faculty Given Farewell Dinner; Leaves For Kansas State

A banquet was held last night at the Moscow hotel in honor of Prof. F. W. Atkeson, who is leaving the dairy department at the university to assume a similar position at Kansas State college. The banquet was sponsored by the students, faculty, and members of the dairy department. Professor Atkeson has served the University of Idaho for 14 years—since 1921, and has won a nationwide reputation.

Among those present were Dean Edward J. Iddings, Dr. Charles W. Hungerford, Prof. C. W. Hickman, Mr. John Rearden, D. E. Theophilus who acted as toastmaster, and Mr. T. R. Warren. Mr. Warren after giving a short talk presented Professor Atkeson with a gift from the faculty, and Chester Arndt followed up with a short talk and presented a gift from the students.

The banquet was strictly an Idaho affair in every detail, the menu consisting entirely of Idaho products.

Stephen Wyckoff To Speak Here On Blister Rust

Stephen Wyckoff, head of the blister rust control work, Western division, will give a talk Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in Science 110. His talk, supplemented by slides, will be on the control methods used in the West to protect valuable white pine stands. Mr. Wyckoff's coming here is sponsored by the Epsilon chapter of Xi Sigma Pi, national forestry honorary.

Whither Student Government?

Now that the smoke of the scandalous class elections of a week ago has thinned sufficiently we can get our bearings. We are finding ourselves faced with an appalling situation. It is one which has for a number of years been growing rapidly worse, has just now come to a head, and now seriously threatens the future of student government on the Idaho campus. No amount of student legislation can forestall it—no amount of pleading will fend it off.

The present system of government has been in use for a long time, but only now can its failings begin to be appreciated. Until the last two years the balance of political power rested pretty largely with the old Alpha party. Then as the school grew in size and opponents of "the old order of things" began to gather strength the campus split into two almost evenly divided camps—so evenly divided in fact that the margin between the two is one of but a few votes.

Idaho's student body is relatively small and each member of the association comes into such close contact with every other member that it not hard to enlist all to support one or the other of the parties. Thus at election time the party which can muster that necessary margin to insure victory carries the campus completely and places its supporters in office.

Thus the other 49 and nine-tenths per cent of the student body constitute a "minority" whose interest in student affairs is as great as those in power and who can justly claim some right to a say in the conduct of student government. That voice, however, since it cannot be expressed through legitimate channels, must find some other way of making itself heard. Witness the outburst during the class elections.

Until the "minority" as it now exists can be given a chance to have a voice we have no hope for student government at Idaho. It is doomed just as surely as it has been at other small schools, notably the University of Colorado, where government has been taken out of the hands of the students. We urge as the first move in the revision of the constitution—the adoption of proportional representation. It isn't hard to imagine the chaos the spring elections will cause under the present system.

all class affairs, and that they prove that they are, first and last, members of the ASUI and not of a political organization.

Likes Portland Symphony Orchestra; Thanks Cummings And ASUI For Bringing It

Sir: Allow me to express my thanks to Mr. Carleton Cummings and the ASUI for making possible the appearance of the Portland symphony orchestra. The concert, so ably directed by Mr. van Hoogstraten, was excellent and was greatly enjoyed by most of the persons who attended.

As this was an experiment which proved successful, thanks to the loyal support of the students and townspeople, I recommend that an attempt be made to re-install the Artists' series which was done away with several years ago. For a very nominal sum the students and members of the faculty should be able to hear some of the really great artists of the world. The University of Oregon has found that the students respond very well to the Artists' series. If they can do it, we surely can. Let's get behind this movement.

Thinks U. S. Needs Education Against War; Students Not Dumb

Sir: H. D. asserts that the students who voted in the Literary Digest Poll their beliefs that the U. S. could stay out of another great war, are either plain dumb or they merely voted their wishes.

Well, he is certainly right about the last, but as far as the dumbness is concerned, I must object. We are not dumb enough to see that this objective can never be attained unless we do some work towards it. If we just sit down and keep aloof from all such questions, there is no hope of preserving peace. We must work. We must seek and spread information about war profits; we must create public opinion against the usurpation of the making of arms and munitions by private manufacturers (something that can most easily be cured by nationalization of that industry).

And that is not all, either: We must make sure that the U. S. keeps strong enough to defend herself against being forced into another war, or against being invaded (as remote as such a case might seem). This can be attained, not necessarily by a large standing army and navy, but by a universal or at least almost universal military training. Then also we must keep our eyes open and search for remedies for social misunderstandings. Internal national evils may bring foreign invasion on us, or cause civil war which is still worse. In conclusion: The nation must be strong and well in order, then we can keep out of another war. For the attainment of this goal we must have the wish and the will to do something for peace!

'T' Club Wants "Ott" Anderson Retained Here; Students Concur; They Point Out

Student opinion, as indicated by the petition circulated the last few days, demands that Otto K. Anderson be retained as track coach and freshman football coach at the University of Idaho. Every group on the campus that has been approached on the subject, enthusiastically and unambiguously endorsed the personality and work of Coach Anderson.

All persons who have come into contact with him have expressed their approval of his energy, sincerity and enthusiasm and the way in which he has been able to instill the same spirit into his teams. All athletes who have been coached by Mr. Anderson agree that it has been a pleasure and privilege to work with and for him.

Mr. Anderson will undoubtedly be able to cooperate and work under any system that the new regime will use. To lose a man of Mr. Anderson's ability would be a real loss to the university and the state. Idaho students demand that he be retained.

CLASS ELECTIONS

make it plain to all that controversies in student affairs would be handled in a manner befitting university students at Idaho;

5. The executive board had the decision to make, and, fully realizing their responsibility, reached a result that it honestly believes will be the best for the greatest number of students in the long run. By the adoption of such a policy, a firm stand has been taken on the important question of student elections and their orderly administration.

The executive board realizes that any difficult decision such as this one will displease some students, but it is confident that the thinking students will minimize any friction.

Minor "T" Club To Hold Dance in March

"The annual dance of the Minor 'T' club is to be held the latter part of March," said Richard Axtell, after a meeting of the club at the Beta Theta Pi house Thursday evening. In addition to a full evening of dancing, there will be fencing, boxing, wrestling, badminton, and other novelties. Definite plans will be announced later. Requirements for entrance into the Minor "T" club were also considered, details of which are to be completed at the next meeting which is to be on March 11 at the Delta Tau Delta house.

U. S. Party Adds To General Political Din; It "Explains Why"

Sir: After the events of last week, the United Students party feel that it has a responsibility to explain—why its members refused to serve on the election board to which they had been appointed, and requested its supporters to refrain from voting in what it felt was obviously an unfair election.

The party does not intend to accuse anyone of the brilliant idea of putting a third party in the running. However, it does know that its members on the election board were not consulted in the printing of the ballots, nor were they asked to check the eligibilities of the students on the third party ticket, in spite of the fact that they had been asked to check the eligibilities of the candidates on the other two tickets. Even the candidates were not informed that they were in nomination, and were not allowed to withdraw under the ruling as to ASUI elections that withdrawals must be made 48 hours before the election. Here an ASUI election rule was applied, and, according to the chairman of the election board, the whole election proceedings were to be held under the rules provided in the constitution for ASUI elections. In spite of this fact, the executive board saw fit to disregard the other ASUI rule which sets forth that one-fifth of the students must vote and that the candidates must be scholastically eligible to hold office before being placed on the ballot. To say nothing of the fact that the candidates should be in school before being so nominated, and those in school be advised that they are candidates so that they might have an opportunity to withdraw.

A group of more than 600 students, who were disgusted with the election proceedings then petitioned the executive board for a new election conducted on at least a measure of fairness. The executive board, disregarding the plea for a new election, decided to allow a large percentage of our student body no voice in the matter of who their officers shall be, on the pretext of punishing a gang of ruffians.

To us the whole proceeding seems arbitrary and obviously unfair, as was the circular distributed in the halls, with our name attached, which led hall men and women to believe that we were asking fraternities to band against them. This party will never have such an aim, and if it did, it would certainly not distribute such a circular in the halls without a single one going to a Greek letter fraternity, when the effect would be perfectly obvious. We feel that politics on the Idaho campus have certainly fallen to a low ebb when a small group in power can act in a manner so partially and refuse the students of this university any opportunity to vote fairly on who shall be the persons to make such decisions. Read your constitution and see if you feel satisfied with the cards you have been dealt.

THE UNITED STUDENTS PARTY

And Now The Campus Party; "And My Patience Is At an End."—Ed.

Sir:

A thoughtful and non-partisan ASUI executive board has just handed down its decision regarding these rather useless and meaningless class offices. It has done its job well by refusing to encourage such mob violence as took place on election day.

A year ago at this time 16 United Student party members went into the 16 class offices, primarily because a rabid "Old Grad" pamphlet of unknown origin did its work well and served to swing many Campus party voters to the United Student party ranks.

Now 16 Campus party members are stepping into the 16 class offices. The tables are merely reversed.

Let us hope that the United Student party members prove to be as good sports as the members of the Campus party were a year ago, that they participate in DANCES this weekend look interesting, with the Alpha Chi Omega Underclassmen holding a "Gingham and Cord" dance, and two other initiation dances, Delta Chi and Beta Theta Pi, planned. The Pi Beta Phi pledges entertained at a tea during the week. Dareth Teth Gimel initiated 33 and entertained them at a banquet and dance at the Blue Bucket.

This weekend there will be another ASUI play, "Lilies of the Field."

Esther Flenner Elected Spur Junior Woman

Esther Flenner, Delta Gamma, was elected next year's junior woman for Spurs, national service honorary for sophomore women, at a meeting Tuesday noon at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. She and Dorothy Brown, president, will be the chapter's official delegates to the national Spur convention, which is to be held in Boulder, Colorado, the latter part of April.

Tentative plans for a joint dance with the chapter at Pullman and arrangements for ushering at the ASUI play this week-end were also discussed.

The function of junior woman is to serve as an alumna advisor for the next year's Spurs.

Marjorie Wurster, national vice president, will accompany the other delegates to the University of Colorado campus for the convention.

Tau Kappa Epsilon announces the initiation of Bill O'Neil, Idaho Falls, Kenneth Lukens, Craigmont, and Sam Ryan, Monrovia, Calif.

WOMEN'S "I" CLUB WILL INITIATE

The Women's "I" club initiation will be held next Sunday morning, at 9:30 in the Women's gymnasium. Seven women have earned the number of W. A. A. points required for membership.

Those who have earned membership and who are asked to be at the Women's gymnasium promptly at 9:30 are Edith Miller, Josephine Mitchell, Ruth Evans, Jane Merrick, Janet Kinney, Marjetta Kalbus, and Helen Creaser.

Women's Mural Hoop Managers Are Chosen

Class managers for women's intramural basketball tournament were elected Monday. The tournament will be played between March 11 and March 22. The following managers were elected to take charge of the classes indicated: Maurina Aldecoa, seniors; Dorothy Williams, juniors; Marguerite Manion, sophomores; and Ruth Smith, freshmen.

Less than a week remains in which to complete the eight practices required for eligibility to teams, which will be picked March 7. W. A. A. points are awarded to women making the class teams, and additional points to the winning team.

Mortar Board Will Give Style Show

Mortar Board's annual style show will be given March 23 in the Memorial gymnasium. The year before last the style show was held in the Memorial gymnasium for the first time. Because of a conflict in dates, the style show was not presented last year. In years before the show was given at an afternoon tea at Hays hall.

Unusual settings are being planned for the evening. Chuck Collins' orchestra will furnish the music during the modeling and special entertainment will be presented between showings.

Models for the style show will be announced next week. One girl from each group house, several faculty women, and men students will be chosen to model.

GRADS ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Announcement of the engagement of June Eimers, Kappa Alpha Theta, to Allen Ramstedt, Tau Kappa Epsilon, was made at dinner Thursday at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Miss Eimers is a graduate of Grangeville high school and attended the University of Idaho. She is at present employed by the Moscow-Idaho Seed company. Mr. Ramstedt is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. V. N. Ramstedt of Moscow. He is in business with his father in the George Creighton company.

The wedding will take place this spring.

Publications Ball To Be Best Ever, Say Rumors

Remember the samples of candy and gum and beauty sets and shaving cream and books on handwriting and breakfast food and penny banks and cigarettes and stuff and things that the boys and girls dragged home by the arm-full after last year's Publication Ball? Remember the medicine show staged in front of the Ad building the noon before, with its hula dancers and magicians and demonstrations of all sorts of marvelous cure-alls.

Then you'll remember that it was the talk of the campus for some weeks, and according to advance rumors the whole performance will be repeated again this spring with the show goofier and the dance more fun than ever. The time and place have not been definitely set, but those in the know are getting dates for the event already, anticipating another hilarious evening.

You see, the point is that you get enough of the liberal samples distributed all through the evening to more than make up for the price of admission. The de-orations are always something original, too. And what with these and the wonderful time had by all, you've got to go. It'll be good, and that's a promise!

Miriam Virtanen was a dinner guest of Kappa Alpha Theta Monday night.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Beta Theta Pi at an exchange dance Wednesday.

Dean Permeal J. French was a dinner guest of Delta Tau Delta Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McRea, McCall, are house guests of Delta Delta.

Alpha Tau Omega entertained Hays hall at a dance exchange Thursday.

a course in making good

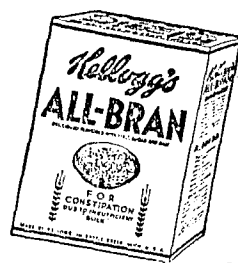

THIS business of keeping fit is a required course in every college. Your enthusiasm and your energy in daily campus life are influenced by your physical condition. Vitality has a lot to do with your college career.

It is important that you avoid constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. This condition frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. It keeps you from being at your best.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a natural laxative cereal, provides gentle "bulk" to promote proper elimination. It also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, served with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. Ask that ALL-BRAN be served at your fraternity house, eating-club or campus restaurant.

The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating-clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include Kellogg's Corn Flakes, PEP, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee — real coffee — 97% caffeine free.

"Slats" Gill Airs His Mind

On Things and Stuff; Hec

Has Respect for Scribes

Coach "Slats" Gill of the conference champion Beavers was rather conservative in his replies to a barrage of questions shot at him by several Argonaut reporters who cornered him during his sojourn here this week. But the boys managed to pick up a few answers worthy to pass on in this column.

Gill definitely stated that he did not favor eliminating the center-jump as was done this season in the southern half of the hoop conference. "Too stereotyped," said the O. S. C. mentor, "and it would do away with the suspense of the tip-off." Incidentally, the national rules will be abided by in the play-off next week at Corvallis when University of Southern California comes north—so "Slats" will not have to worry about making any changes in his offensive style.

"When both teams are at their best, the visitors must be 30 per cent better to win all four games," stated "Slats" in discussing the hazards of four-game trips away from home. And in speaking of "Billy" Reinhardt's team at Oregon, Gill said he believed it improved more during the season than any other team. It is also Gill's belief that Sam "Ikey" Liebowitz of Oregon would be one of the outstanding players in the conference if it were not for his unwieldy temperament.

"Hec" Edmondson dropped good advice to coaches when he was here with his Huskies two weeks ago. It all came about when "Hec" was relating his run-in with referee Leeding, one of the new officials this season. Washington was playing O. S. C. at Corvallis and seemed to be getting the "raw" end of the whistle tooting done by said Leeding. At one time during the contest "Chuck" Wagner, Husky sophomore guard, fired an underhand shot at the referee in protest of a decision. The ball sizzled, miles-per-hour, just over the ref's head and landed in the balcony. Of course there ensued an argument in which "Hec" took a prominent part.

Several other incidents in the game nurtured "Hec's" ire and when the final whistle blew Edmondson lit out for Leeding with his ears pinned back. When he arrived within two steps of the ref, he remembered that Leeding is sports editor of one of the Portland papers, so he halted his charge abruptly, turned and walked slowly off the floor. "When getting into an argument with a sports writer always remember that they get the last words," is how Hec summed up his sudden retreat.

Last March Harold Klumb finished the basketball season in third place in the conference free-throwing department with 33 conversions. At present with one game to play, Klumb is in third place again and has 33 conversions. He is looking forward to breaking his record Saturday night at Pullman unless the Cougars refuse to foul him.

Final for Klumb

Harold Klumb will hang up varsity athletic outfits for the last time after tomorrow night's game against W. S. C. with two years of stellar work on Vandal gridiron and maple court teams to his credit.

Saturday night at Pullman, Idaho's big, husky basketball center Harold Klumb and the slim, close-checking guard, Vic Warner, will clash for the last time with their favorite opponents, the Washington State Cougars. Both of these men have had three years of varsity competition, and the closing contest of the hoop conference will write "fnis" on their college athletic careers.

Starting out the season in high gear by upsetting the Washington Huskies at Seattle, the Idahoans hope to finish the same way by winning from the Cougars on the Washington State home floor, which is never a small feat.

Though Idaho has already won two out of three games from Washington State, the Cougars hold the edge in conference standings, being in fourth place while the Vandals are reposing in the cellar. Idaho's ambition for Saturday eve will be to draw the Cougars down to a tie with them for the bottom position.

Huskies Lose Out

Oregon State, with 12 wins and only three losses, clinched the northern division championship at the sound of the final gun last Tuesday night here in Memorial gymnasium. Washington's only hope was that of Idaho beating Oregon State at least one game. When she failed to do so, the Orangemen grabbed the championship.

Washington has finished her schedule, but Oregon State and Oregon meet in one more contest before the season closes. It can not possibly have any bearing on the present standings of the teams as each team holds its position by more than a one-game margin.

The Pacific Coast championship game will be played between University of Southern California and Oregon State. Neither district has quite finished its scheduled games, but each team is certain of its respective championship.

Some experience have a good chance of getting on this card, and another bout with Washington State is scheduled for March 23.

Idaho Swordsmen To Meet Spokane Team Saturday

The Vandal fencing team consisting of Frank Beach, Art Nelson, and Roy Werton will meet the Spokane fencing team in an exhibition of sword play in Spokane at 4:30 Saturday in the Y. M. C. A. The Spokane team has many veterans of outstanding ability, such men as Bob Hyslop, who has had 14 years of fencing and has gained several titles.

Last week Spokane beat Whitman 9-0 and the week before Idaho outpointed Whitman 5-3. Although this indicates that Spokane is the stronger team, Captain Roy Weston feels certain that the Vandals will give them a stiff battle.

Idaho's 35 to 27 Defeat Gives Championship to Beavers

In a bitterly fought game in which first one and then the other had the lead, Oregon State defeated the Vandals 35 to 27. This victory clinched the northern division championship for the Beavers.

Reversing their procedure of the last three games, the Vandals started out by taking the lead. Vic Warner, playing in his last home game, took the ball seconds after the tip-off and shot a beautiful long shot. Soon after, Bert Larson slipped one in and Warner sank a free throw for a total of five points. Lyman made a set-up for the Beavers, but Larson intercepted an O. S. C. pass and sank another. Big Harold Klumb then sank a whirl shot, giving the Vandals a 9 to 2 lead.

In the second 10 minutes, the Beavers began to hit. Baskets by Conkling, Tuttle, Hibbard, and Folen and a free throw by Conkling tied the score at 11-11. Iverson had added two points for the Vandals with a difficult twister shot from under the basket.

Wally Geraghty, sank a shot from the side and then added a free toss. Folen sank a goal just before the half making the score 14 to 13 in the Vandals' favor.

EARLY MINUTES OF LAST HALF CLOSE BALL

For the first 10 minutes of the second half the two teams battled on almost even terms. The scoring was low and furious ball rustling and close checking featured the play. Iverson and Geraghty were especially good in their floor play, time and again smashing in and forcing a held ball. The score was tied at 15, 17, 19, and 20.

Here the height of the Beavers began to tell. Coach "Slats" Gill of O. S. C. sent in 6 foot 7 inch Folen to play against 5 foot 11 inch Norm Iverson and the combination of Folen and Conkling began to score points.

ORANGE COP GAME IN SECOND PERIOD

Katsilometes sank a free throw to start the scoring in the second half but Folen and Conkling soon gave the Beavers a 17 to 15 lead. Iverson tied it up and a pet one handed shot from Wally Geraghty put the Vandals in the lead. Conkling immediately tied it up. Free throws by Iverson, Warner and Folen alternated the score and gave Idaho their last lead in the game when it was at 21 to 20.

In the next six minutes, the Staters took the lead. Baskets by Folen, Hibbard, Conkling, and Taylor were offset by baskets by Geraghty and Iverson. Tuttle then sank two goals and Conkling added another. A beautiful shot by Merle Fisher in the final seconds of play ended the scoring.
