

The Golden Fleece

Ted Bank has assured the students and businessmen that from what he has read in The Gem of the Mountains and seen in his few hours in Moscow, he knows Idaho has the fighting spirit that means so much toward a winning football team.

It sort of puts it up to the students, doesn't it? You can bet your last dollar that Bank, with the help it looks like he's going to get from the alumni, will be giving us that 50-50 chance.

There'll be plenty of good acting and exciting action in tonight's play, "Night Over Taos," but some of the scenes which call for some fast sword-play should be particularly realistic.

Franchot Tone had a leading part in "Night Over Taos" when he was playing on Broadway before entering the movies.

Guy T. Viskinski, the gent who shocked the Northwest last fall by turning the Portland Oregonian up-side down, has moved up to Spokane to start his Spokesman-Review.

Fiddlers Three on Northwest Tour

Go to Seattle With Pearce After Playing Portland

The Fiddlers Three, well known violin trio composed of Idaho graduates—Bill Ames, Wendell Olson, and Dick Edwards—have this week been appearing on the stage of Parker's Broadway theatre in Portland, Ore., with Al Pearce's Gang.

The Gang completed its series of afternoon broadcasts over NBC in San Francisco two weeks ago and is now completing its first lap of what will probably be a six week's stage tour in theaters in the Northwest.

After finishing appearances in Portland tomorrow, the Gang will go to Seattle for another week's stay. Vancouver, Tacoma, Spokane, and other northwest cities will be included in their itinerary.

Joined in July
After joining the Gang in July, 1934, the "Fiddlers" became an important part of the Al Pearce programs, at first only accompanying vocalists but later playing featured numbers.

Pep Band Members
The "Fiddlers," who were graduated last spring, were members of the Pep band for several years.

Baccalaureate Speaker To Be Dr. Pennington

President of Pacific College Is Chosen To Give Address

Is Well Known Writer On Religious and Educational Subjects

Baccalaureate speaker at the University of Idaho's fortieth annual commencement will be Dr. Levi T. Pennington, president of Pacific college, Newberg, Ore.

Dr. Pennington is widely known as a public speaker and writer on religious and educational subjects. "Who's Who" reveals that he has been a farm boy, a lumberjack, a traveling salesman, a preacher, a country school teacher, an editor, and an author.

Idaho's commencement dates are June 8, 9, and 10. Saturday is Alumni day, baccalaureate services will be Sunday and commencement exercises Monday.

Three Delegates Will Attend Convention

Dorothy Brown, Delta Delta Delta; Esther Fleener, Delta Gamma; and Marjorie Wurster, Delta Gamma, have been elected delegates from the university to attend the national Spur convention this year at Boulder, Colo.

Marjorie Wurster, national vice president, and Margaret Misselhorn of W. S. C. who is the national president of Spurs, are leaving immediately after spring vacation to get things ready for the convention.

Music Department Presents Recital

Program Will Be Given Sunday at 4 O'clock in the Auditorium

The university music department presents a group of students in a recital Sunday afternoon in the university auditorium at 4 o'clock. No admission will be charged.

The following is the program to be presented: Sonata in C Major, First Movement, Op. 53... Beethoven. Eugene Perrine, '33, piano. Pupil of Miss Clark.

musical activities. After completing his present tour, Al Pearce is planning to take his Gang to New York for a series of stage and radio appearances.

Idaho Graduate Plays With Boston Symphony

Gladys E. Gleason, who learned the fundamentals of piano playing under Miss Isabel Clark at the University of Idaho, has the distinction of playing as a guest soloist with the famous Boston symphony orchestra Thursday.

Beyond all question, Miss Gleason has been the most conspicuously successful musician to leave the Idaho campus in recent years. After her graduation in 1932 she studied two years as a scholarship student at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Won Grand Piano
Miss Gleason's nimble fingers last year won for her a $3000 concert grand piano. This prize is awarded annually to the winner of the Mason and Hamlin competition, open to the hundreds of able piano students at the New England conservatory.

This year Miss Gleason has been teaching at the Colby Junior college, New London, New Hampshire. Her home is in Jerome, Idaho.

Engineers' Ball To Be Saturday At Blue Bucket

The stage is set for the annual Engineers' ball to be held at the Blue Bucket Inn tomorrow night at 8:30. A novel scheme of decoration has been worked out by the committee to surprise the ballgoers.

According to the ticket sale, we are anticipating a record crowd for this annual occasion," stated Art Dahl.

Patrons and patronesses are Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford, Prof. and Mrs. H. F. Gauss, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Kulp, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Buchanan.

Eleven Students Make "A" Grades

Perfect Scholastic Records Earned During First Semester

Eleven students at the University of Idaho made all "A" grades for perfect 6,000 scholastic averages during the semester ending in February, reports Miss Ella Olesen, registrar.

Publications Ball Is Alphabet Soup Now

And now, boys and girls, we shall start our reading lesson. You know all the old ones like A is for apple, X marks the spot, and so forth, but we want to tell you now that a few of them have been changed.

From now on, P is for Publications Ball. U is for unusual decorations. B is for the barrel of fun you'll get, I for the insane medicine show that precedes it, C for those crestfallen people who realize too late what they've missed.

If you'll take a deep breath we can finish this in a hurry. Ready? All right, B is for our boasts about it. A for April Fool, which this is not, and the final L's for love and laughter—two things that ought to develop there.

Conference Leader

Miss Jones is regional officer of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and is attending the International Relations club conference on the Idaho campus this weekend as the official representative of the foundation.

AMY HEMINWAY JONES

Meet The Coach!

An official welcoming assembly for Idaho's new head coach, Ted Bank, and his assistant, Bob Tessier, will be held next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the auditorium.

The Pep Band will be on hand to aid the students in wishing the new coach a successful career at the university.

A. T. O. s and Kappa Sigs Lead in Bridge Tournery

Gene Kiley and Gus Pene playing for Alpha Tau Omega were high in the third round of The Argonaut bridge tournament and Jack Cummocock and Mark Robinson playing for Kappa Sigma with 36 match points were second.

The four teams with the greatest aggregate score will play with similar teams from the other division. These eight teams will in turn be cut to four teams which will be matched against picked teams from faculty and students.

Scores for last night were: A. T. O. 30 1/2, Sigma Nu 29, S. A. E. 27 1/2, Gamma Phi Beta 27, Kappa Sigma 36 1/2, Kappa Kappa Gamma 32 1/2, Beta Theta Pi 27, Delta Gamma 24 1/2.

Hazel Gentry is a member of Phi Chi Theta, a former Spur, and has held class offices. Louise Paulsen, a freshman, is a member of the Vandaleers and was secretary of the freshman class last semester.

Visiting General Inspects Cadets

Major-General Malone Inspected Entire Military Department Wednesday

Major General Paul B. Malone, commanding general of the Ninth Corps area, arrived at 12:50 Wednesday with a company of officers to inspect the military department of the university and to pay a visit to Dr. M. G. Neale, president of the university.

Maj. Gen. Malone

O'Day, professor of military science and tactics at Washington State college.

General Malone first inspected the offices and classrooms, the target ranges, the arms room, and the store rooms in the Memorial gymnasium while the cadets assembled.

After the greeting General Malone made a detailed inspection of all the units, questioning cadets as to age, training and military matters. When the inspection was over, General Malone complimented Cadet Colonel Robert Moser on the neat appearance of the regiment.

The general made an official call on President Neale where they talked of war movements and reminiscences of the late war. Dr. Neale was an officer in the 42nd "Rainbow" division next to the second division, a brigade which was under General Malone during the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Spring Vacation To Begin After Wednesday Classes

Many students will be disappointed to learn that all the rumors circulating about an extended vacation are false. Vacation will not begin Friday or Tuesday, but on Wednesday after classes as was previously announced.

Boise H.S. Choir Here Tuesday

High School Group to Sing in University Auditorium

The 50-voice a cappella choir of the Boise high school will sing here in the university auditorium Tuesday evening, April 2, announced Carleton Cummings, head of the music department, today.

Go To Spokane

This is the first time in a number of years that a Boise high school organization has made a trip this far north. Besides singing at Moscow they plan to attend the teachers' meeting in Spokane during the spring vacation and will entertain the teachers gathered there.

Coach Bank Tells Blue Key He Is Pleased With Student Spirit

"I am very much pleased with the spirit shown by the students, the alumni, and the businessmen since I have been here," said Coach Bank at a Blue Key luncheon held in his honor yesterday at the Blue Bucket.

Air Travel Available To South Idaho

Special Rates Offered To Students Going Home for Spring Vacation

The latest in transportation is available to Idaho students! Two enterprising students of the university, Orrin Lee and Frank Stevens, have secured the local agency for an air transport service of Lewiston and are offering transportation to southern Idaho by air.

"We plan to begin our air service spring vacation, offering plane transportation to points in southern Idaho," said Lee. "We have arranged with the central office to cut rates until we can offer a round trip rate to points such as Welsco, Ontario, Boise, Twin Falls, Idaho Falls, and Pocatello, at very low prices, scarcely higher than a round trip railroad ticket."

Six-Passenger Plane

The plane, powered by a 550-horse power Boeing motor, is a six-passenger Zenith biplane, with a cruising speed of 125 miles an hour. It is piloted by a licensed commercial aviator.

Owing to the short distance by air to Boise, planes will be able to make the trip from Moscow to that point in two hours," Lee added. "Students who go home spring vacation by plane will leave here at 4 o'clock on Wednesday and be home in time for dinner. Correspondingly, they will not leave to come back to school until Sunday afternoon."

About 17 times as much money is spent yearly in the United States for confections as for books.

New Constitution Voted on in May

To Be Submitted at General Election; Two Sections Offered

"The new ASUI constitution will be submitted to a vote in two sections at a special election in conjunction with the general election in May, announced the executive board after its meeting Tuesday night.

Ready Next Month
Another clause in the new constitution will make it retroactive when the new officers take office the first of the next school year. The committee expects to have the complete constitution revised by the middle of April in order to give everyone an opportunity to study it carefully before voting.

Gem Will Feature Interior Pictures Of Group Houses

"This year we will feature interior pictures of houses on the fraternity and sorority houses instead of the usual outside view," said Robert Herrick, editor of The Gem of the Mountains.

Work on the student pictures is progressing rapidly under the direction of Ruth Evans, Herrick reports. It is probable that this portion of the work will be completed this week-end. All the class panels have been mounted and sent to the engravers.

International Relations Clubs Holding Conference Here Today

Representatives of International Relations clubs in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Canada will meet here today and tomorrow under the auspices of the Idaho group. The following organizations are sending delegates: College of Puget Sound, St. Helen's college, Reed college, Gonzaga university, Victoria college, Whitman college, University of British Columbia, Washington State college, Walla Walla college, Portland unit of Albany college, and the College of Idaho at Caldwell.

Major Douglas C. Booth, and James A. Gibson will be the principal speakers. Major Booth is a member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs in London. He has traveled widely in Europe, living on the continent for many years. While in eastern Europe, he made a special study of the conditions in the Balkan states. He will deliver an address on this topic Saturday noon at a luncheon to be held at the Blue Bucket Inn. He has lectured before many of the International Relations clubs and groups in other parts of the country and is coming here at the special request of conference officials.

John E. Ostrander, Former Idaho Professor, Retires

John E. Ostrander, the only living member of the faculty of the University of Idaho present when the institution opened October 12, 1892, will retire this June as professor and head of the department of mathematics at Massachusetts State college, Amherst, Mass.

Ostrander's last visit to the University of Idaho was on October 1, 1932. He returned for the forty-first anniversary celebration. During his stay he looked up the first faculty minutes which were in his writing. Because he is so well known and beloved by the thousands of students who have passed through his classes, Prof. Ostrander will be greatly missed at the Massachusetts college.

Meteorologist
 He served as meteorologist at the Massachusetts Experiment station from 1897 to 1928. In 1900 and 1907 he was visiting professor of astronomy at Amherst college. He is a member of committee No. 6 on mathematics for the international committee on teaching mathematics, a member of the public safety commission in 1917 and is a member of the Society of Mathematics Teachers of New England, Phi Kappa Phi, Holland society of New York, American society of Civil Engineers. He contributed to Johnson's encyclopedia in 1893, Webster's dictionary in 1907 and is noted for important research on the variation of the magnetic needle.

Work Praised
 Dean William L. Machmer, professor of mathematics since 1920, writes of Professor Ostrander:

"He has made his contribution to the college as a teacher. Thousands of students were instructed by him. In several cases sons of his earlier students were among his pupils.

"His retirement this June will mark the end of an active career.

All his associates confidently hope that there may remain for Prof. Ostrander many years in which to enjoy the fruits of a richly deserved leisure."

Professor Ostrander has reached the mandatory retirement age of 70 set for state employees.

Home Economists Gather Saturday

National Officer to be Main Speaker at Division Meeting

Miss Effie Raitt, president of the American Home Economics association and the head of the home economics department at the University of Washington, will be the main speaker at the Economics association to be held here tomorrow.

Miss Marlan Hepworth, university home demonstration leader and state president of the association will preside at the meetings. She has attended both the south eastern and south western meetings at Pocatello and Boise, respectively. Miss Dorothy Janssen, Pocatello, district chairman, will be in charge of the program.

Faculty Members Speak
 Three members of the faculty of the University of Idaho home economics department will be included among the speakers on the program. Dr. Ella Woods will talk on "Some of the Newer Nutritional Facts for Everyday Living;" Miss Helen Hunter, "Interesting the High School Girl in Consumer's Education;" and Miss Marlon Featherstone, "Art Principles."

An exhibit of work done in the home economics department under the direction of Miss Ida Ingalls and Miss Featherstone will be put on display.

Hold Banquet
 A banquet will be held Saturday evening at the Hotel Moscow.

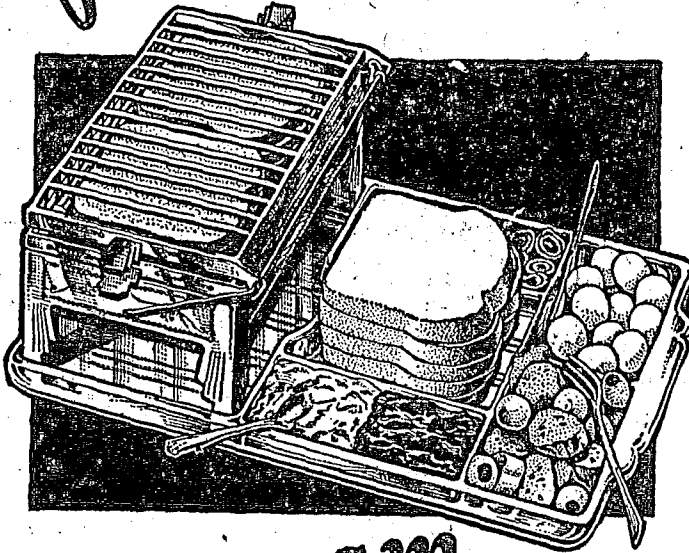

Mabel Mullikin, president of the University of Idaho Home Economics club, is in charge. Miss Hepworth will be the toastmistress; members from each class will respond. Students, faculty members, and Moscow people are invited to attend.

Cornelius Johnson, high-stepping negro high jumper, predicts that he will leap 6 ft. 11 in. before he finishes his career.

Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews Recounts Gobi Expedition

Famous Scientist Illustrates Discovery of Dinosaur Eggs and Other Fossils in Mongolian Wastes With Films and Slides

By Jack McKinney

Ten years in the Gobi desert have made Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews an independent forceful fellow who holds an audience and backs his stories up with six rolls of "movie" films, a complete story in themselves of three great expeditions to arid Mongolia. The director of the American Museum of Natural History last night illustrated the method of travel, the camp life, birds and animals, and scientific findings of the greatest modern land expeditions. From Andrews' standpoint, the biggest scientific finds made in the Gobi expeditions relate to dinosaur eggs and pre-historic mastodons. Colored films pictured the accidental findings of the 9-inch dinosaurs eggs in ledges of the sandy Flaming Cliffs. Andrews party sent huge slabs of cliff back to the American Museum, from which as many as 17 carefully preserved eggs were chiseled.

Beast Would Fill Stage

"Persons have a poor conception of the size of dinosaurs," Andrews explained. "Our findings show that these dinosaurs were about nine feet long instead of being long enough to lay a Grand piano."

From the dry Mongolian plains Andrews' party excavated fossil remains of creatures each large enough to fill the auditorium stage—as the explorer put it. Dozens of huge jaws from these ancient mastodons were excavated; these beasts seem to be the ancestor of the rhinoceros, he declared.

"Mongolia is one-half as large as the United States," declared the explorer, "yet it has less than 1,000,000 inhabitants."

Shows Nomad Life

Andrews' pictures showed the Mongol life of the wandering nomads, a hardy race herding sheep and tending camels at the age of eight years. The richer of these Mongols dress in bright colors and wear precious stones.

"Mongolians have not changed from the days of Kubla Khan 700 years ago, Andrews explained. "They even use the ancient flintlock guns. But why should they change when their only possible life is that of nomad shepherds?"

Mongols preserve an ancient religion which requires the first son of each family to be a monk. The American expedition spent a year just south of Siberia studying nomad life in an area where white men had never been before.

Gobi Once A Lake

Geologists, archaeologists, paleontologists, topographers—all made up the Andrews' expedition. Topographers mapped the country that had never been sketched before. From the discovery of lakes and huge salt beds in the Gobi, geologists concluded that Gobi was once covered with water. "Our expedition was more iso-week, to continue until April 12. This instruction, given by Mrs. Katy Rae Boyer, is for both beginners and those who wish to improve their form. Women who wish to sign up for the ladder tournament are urged to do so before spring vacation. The tournament will be played April 8 to May 1.

Indiana Archives Reveal Rule For '99 Co-eds

"No co-ed shall ride by means of horse and buggy beyond the city limits."

So reads a statement found by The Indiana Daily Student after a search in their old archives. It brings a "pathetic picture" to the mind as one imagines a happy couple jogging along without a care in the world until, just when the horse is reaching a terrifying but delightful speed, they are brought up short by a little sign "City Limits."

Apparently a co-ed could walk beyond the city limits, and no objection was made of her even bicycling past them, but the minute she got in a buggy all was different.

If she walked she was condemned to rustle along in flowing silks that tripped her at every step, and then, as if her life weren't hard enough, when she did have a chance to ride it couldn't be for far.

"No co-ed shall ride by means of horse and buggy beyond the city limits." It must have been enough to make the smile fade beneath the mustache of any gallant of '99, and in all probability the sight of a hitching post made each lady either scream or fall, swooning, to the ground.

What's New For College Men

By Homer Fisher

SHIRTINGS

With respect to shirtings, early observations indicate a demand for tan, gray, and white as three of the most important colors, particularly in striped, checked, and plain fabrics. As for model, the round collar attached and the button down collar collar attached, in Oxford, are the preferred. The medium pointed collar, to be worn pinned, will attract a great amount of attention, too. Another notable indication in shirts is the fused collar now being used on collar attached garments. The collar is constructed so that it will retain the appearance of a starched collar throughout the life of the shirt.

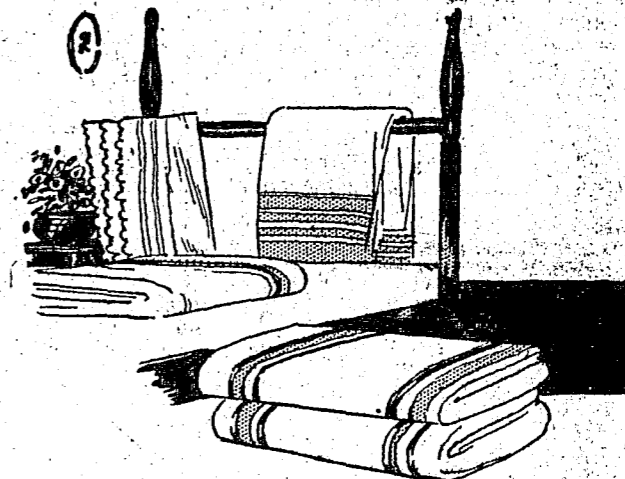

Stripes, small checks, and novelty effects achieved through the weave are very good. For ordinary daytime wear the colors and patterns should be selected with suits in mind. Patterned colors are best with monotone suitings, solid colors with patterned suitings. Among the new spring shades for spring shirts are silver gray, Capri blue, Miami tan, beige, sea green, ash rose, canary and sky-blue. These solid colors are very smart and tone in beautifully with suitings in the gray, brown or blue groups. Combinations of these colors in stripes, pin checks or subtle plaids are most effective when worn with the casual semi-sport type British day clothes.

The short, stubby points make the face look broader. All of this, of course, taken into consideration with those shirts that come with attached collars. That, too, is another thing we found out. The attached collar is becoming more and more important. They need not be soft. Many men prefer slight stiffening in their collars.

FOOTWEAR

The brown buckskin shoe and white shoes of all types are in favor with fashion leaders both here and abroad. The wing tip and plain toe models carrying crepe or leather soles and heels are especially good shoes—There will be a definite acceptance for them among fashion-minded men. They are to be worn with tweeds or any of the heavier fabrics.

Frosh Victorious In Co-ed Basketball Tournament

In the women's basketball tournament played off in the last two weeks, the frosh were victorious in the first team games, and second team "A" was champion in the second team leagues, winning three games and losing none.

On Friday the juniors, already defeated by the frosh, challenged them to another game. The score was close, but the frosh finally came out on top, 23-21, after a five-minute overtime period.

Well, here we are again, folks and the cold weather has put a crimp in the dirt-gathering for the last couple of days...

Coach Bank had just been appointed as head football coach of the Vandals. The students, alumni, faculty, and administration all had a hand in his selection to fill this position...

Bank Undaunted by Snow; Starts Spring Football Tomorrow

New Coach to Use Bierman System of Single Wingback

By Eddie Mayer

"Practice Starts Saturday, snow or no snow," was the report issued by Coach Ted Bank.

Right now he and his assistant, Bob Tessier (pronounced Tessa-ya) are about the busiest two men in the country, with George Horton, graduate manager, running them a close race. Cap has been attempting to show the new mentor the ins and outs of the "athletic plant" and to present him to the social organizations of the town and the university.

While Bank and Horton were taking a few second's rest in the graduate manager's office yesterday afternoon, The Argonaut reporter was able to ask a few questions. To the first query as to what had been the "toughest" question for him to answer thus far in the many interviews he has had in the past two days, he answered:

"A number of the questions shot at me have been difficult, but I imagine the most important to you is whether we will beat the Cougars next fall; and I won't be able to answer that question until next November 9."

Issue Suits Saturday

In discussing spring practice, Bank said that the session Saturday will be taken up largely with fitting the players with equipment and that until he is able to use the field, practice in the gym will consist mainly of the teaching of fundamentals of his system and in getting the men in condition for the real work to come later.

Weather permitting, the new coach plans to begin practice in earnest following spring vacation.

Bank stated that he will have many scrimmages and that the spring practice will be brought to a close with a game between evenly divided teams composed of the squad members, or perhaps he may send his men against a team of "has beens," as has been customary here in past seasons.

Discuss System

Both Bank and Tessier, the latter with his characteristic slurring Louisiana drawl, went over the fine points of the system which will be introduced here. Bank intends to use a duplicate of the Michigan or Bierman system, which calls for the single wingback. The doughty little German is firm in his belief that this system is best qualified to furnish power, speed, and deception. He claims that every play ran from this system can have alternatives which will furnish a constant threat for the opposition.

The chief difference between the Bierman system and the Notre Dame system is that with the single wingback, according to Bank, more weak-side plays can be developed. Tessier added in comparing the two systems, that the wide-end-sweep common of the Notre Dame system can also be used effectively from Bank's single wingback.

Six Man Line

The defense, except under certain emergencies, will call for a six-man line, with the center dropping back to a roving position. Naturally, the center will be an important spot in this defense. As an illustration, Tulane has had an all-Southern center in football for seven years. In speaking of the players who will turn out Saturday, Bank stated that he will place every man at scratch and that in this manner he may switch some of the veterans about from their customary posts.

Coach Ted Bank

Whether a man is a veteran or not, the positions will be filled by the men who show the best ability to handle the duties of the various jobs.

In speaking of the weather conditions here as compared to Louisiana, Bank said:

"This is not new to me for I lived in Michigan too long to forget what winter is like."

Vandals To Play Double Header

Will Invade Lewiston Again Saturday; 20 Men Will Go

Down to Lewiston go the Vandals once more, to play off a double header which Coach Rich Fox has arranged with the Lewiston normal baseball club.

Twenty men will make the trip, all of them to see action in one of the games.

"These games are principally to see what kind of reserves I have," said Fox. "I've a good idea how much stuff the fellows who played last year have, but those turning out this season have yet to prove their ability."

With three veterans, Bill "Sockerates" Katsilometes, Paul Anderson, and Bill Kleiner all appearing secure in their outfield berths, the big chance for new men on Rich Fox's nine this year appears to be in the infield. Corresponding with this situation, the best of the new material seems to be infield stock.

As matters stand now, players who show up well in the Lewiston game stand to see a lot of action this season. Three new basemen who have looked especially good and who are giving the veterans a run for their money are Wayne Hill, Steven Gsmmers, and Don Burnett. All three of these men turned in a nice afternoon of fielding at Lewiston last week. Their batting is still an unknown quantity, but with the two games scheduled for tomorrow, all men will have a good opportunity to show their sticking ability.

The northern division baseball schedule, announced earlier in the season, has been completely revised and will be published in an early issue of The Argonaut.

ENGINEERS WIN AGAIN

The electrical Engineers eked out a victory by a small margin over the miners, aided by several varsity men and the referee. The score of the game was not indicative of the caliber of the two teams. It was the consensus of the spectators present that the Miners showed marked superiority in every department of the game, but due to many "bad breaks" they were finally overpowered.

Idaho Boxers Win Lewiston Card

Spencer Holds Record Of Five Victories in Six Battles

Three Idaho boxers blasted their way to victory in a card at Lewiston last Tuesday night.

In the main event, Earl Spencer, 145-pound U. of I. fighter, won a close decision from Bernie Sinclair, 145-pounder from Lewiston. This bout was a battle from the first bell on, with both men throwing plenty of leather. Spencer had the edge over Sinclair and the crowd was pleased when the judges gave him the nod.

This is Spencer's first year of boxing competition and this victory brings his record up to five wins out of six fights. He lost a close match to Bill Waller, W. S. C., present P. N. A. title holder.

Rich Wins

Louis Rich, fullback on last fall's frosh football squad, won a technical knock-out over Elmo Jacks, Lewiston. Rich, a hard, bruising hitter, had the better of the entire bout and he had Jacks virtually out on his feet when the seconds threw in the towel, during the third round. These men weighed in at 175 pounds.

The preliminary bouts featured Jim Rayburn's technical knock-out in the third round over Boyd Harland, Lewiston. This is Rayburn's second competitive bout and also his second knock-out. He fights in the lightweight class and will be valuable to the University of Idaho's boxing team next year.

Iowa State College students who were given special reading improvement courses were able to increase their reading speed 35 per cent in 20 days.

Boxing Fundamentals Taught by Louie August

Organize Class to Develop New Material for Next Year's Boxing Squad

Fundamentals of boxing. No, that isn't a new course in the P. E. department, but is the special beginners' class in the finer points of fighting, instituted by Louie August, boxing coach, this winter.

"Here's the chance for green men to really learn something about boxing," said August, yesterday. "We organized the class to develop new material for next year's boxing squad, and under the direction of Elmer Johnston, the men who have been turning out are looking better every day."

Idaho To Participate In Portland Matches

Vandal Matmen Take Part In Pacific Northwest Amateur Championship

On to new fields to conquer! Five Vandal northwest inter-collegiate champions will participate in the Pacific Northwest amateur wrestling championship matches, April 3 and 4. The matches will be held under the auspices of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club of Portland.

Wrestling for Idaho will be Bob Miller, 118 pounds; Paul Jones, 135 pounds; Earl Leatham, 165 pounds; Stan Skiles, 126; and Jack Barbee, heavyweight. All men won the right to participate by defeating University of Washington and W. S. C. opponents in the Northern division matches at Pullman last week. The Portland tournament is open to all athletic clubs, high schools and college contestants who have an amateur standing.

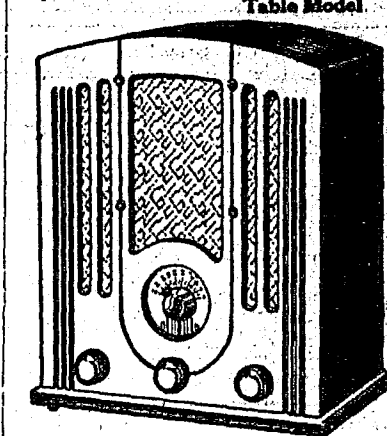

Free Trip for Winners Stan Skiles, captain of the Vandal Squad, has been bothered with an old back injury, which was aggravated by his wrestling at Washington State last Monday. Though he may not be able to wrestle at Portland, he will make the trip.

Skiles predicts tough competition for his men, but as they have already met the class of the northern division, he is optimistic concerning the outlook at Portland.

Winners of the Portland matches will be eligible to compete in the national championships, at Oklahoma City, April 11 and 12, with all expenses paid. The wrestlers will leave for Portland on Tuesday.

Coaches Bank and Tessier

Analyzed and X-Rayed;

Baseball at Lewiston;

Spring Football Practice

OUR big item in this week's diary, if we kept a diary, which we militantly do not, would be our meeting up with Coach Ted Bank and his assistant, Bob Tessier, (call it Tess-ey). Picture a man of Rich Fox's size, with snapping eyes, a determined jaw, and stocky, strong build and a knack of making one think "good egg." Visualize a tall, strong legged, blond fellow with a slim, serious face that lights up when you talk of football, and you have Bob Tessier, another "good egg."

DAVID AND GOLIATH

arrayed on the same side, ought to be able to whip all the Philistines this side of, uh, the hot spot. That'll be the setup in the football department at Idaho for the next so many years, with Bank cast as David and Tessier as Goliath. "We'll use the same idea that Huey Long and Governor O. K. Allen have worked out down in Louisiana," said Tessier in his slow, New Orleans drawl. "Coach Bank will be Huey and I'll be O. K. Allen, and everything will be O. K."

TESSIER

weighs in at 232 pounds, which is a pretty good heft for any kind of a Goliath. The "big man from the south" completely forgets to use any "I's," but not so with Coach Bank. Bank is a "little man from the north" having matriculated at Michigan. The 27-inch snows with which he was confronted on getting into the Inland Empire didn't faze Bank either, he being used to the snow-bound winters of Henry Ford's state.

COACH

Bank and President Neale pulled a whizzer on us a couple months ago. Here we were racking our brains as to who the new coach would be, and there were Coach Bank and the president in north Idaho, motoring around the countryside. Which all goes to prove the old adage, if there is one, that still waters run deep, meaning that things under the surface don't always come to the top right away, I guess.

SPEAKING

of baseball, Coach Rich Fox's club once more migrates to the grape fruit belt, with a trip to Lewiston tomorrow. The inches of snow blanketing MacLean field preclude any attempt on the part of the Vandals to get out on the home diamond, necessitating all practice on the gym floor. A full afternoon of baseball is on the ticket for tomorrow, a double header with Lewiston Normal furnishing the diversion. Handiness of the Vandal stickmen with the hickory will be the main forte of the day, as Coach Fox wishes to determine just how good a percentage his recruits can produce. Last year the Vandals had the honor of being the heaviest hitters in the northern division, and this year, with only one of the heavy hitters, Cy Geraghty, gone, the Foxmen should print that distinction even more firmly on the minds of opposing clubs.

WHILE

the Foxmen are 40 miles away upholding the university baseball honors, Coaches Bank and Tessier will be sounding out next year's varsity in the gym. Next week the football men will alternate with the baseball club for possession of the gym floor. Following spring vacation, if the sun shines once more on Idaho's fair hills and dales sufficiently to melt the snow, active spring football practice on the field will begin. In the meantime, come down to the gym Saturday and satisfy your curiosity.

— so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago —
— throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure.. so much satisfaction

Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina—

"Have a cigarette"

TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another. They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes:

"I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used."

Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Have a Chesterfield—

For one thing—they're milder.

For another thing—they taste better.

It was a matter of pride with a host in Colonial days that his guests should smoke tobacco grown on his own plantation.

SOCIETY

THIS is the last weekend before Spring vacation, and we are wondering if that is the reason for the scarcity of social functions. The only ones keeping the column alive are the engineers, with their informal at the Blue Bucket Saturday night and the Gamma Phi Betas, who are giving a dance in honor of their initiates Friday.

Perhaps the real reason, however, is "Night Over Taos," and from all reports it will be worth missing out on a little dining and dancing to see. It will be held tonight and tomorrow night in the university auditorium.

Engineers Plan Spring Informal

The Engineers Ball will be held at the Blue Bucket Saturday night. It will be an informal, and the decorations will feature early spring. The programs will be in gold and black, with corresponding colors in the decorations. Music will be furnished by the Blue Bucket orchestra. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Gauss, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Kulp.

Gamma Phi Beta will hold an initiation dance Friday. Patrons and patronesses will be Major and Mrs. A. B. O'Connell, Miss Katherine Jensen, and Miss S. Harrison Devereaux.

Delta Gamma entertained the following guests at dinner Tuesday: Miss Ida Ingals, Mrs. Verna Campbell, Julie Davis, Rophina Coster, Mrs. Lois Keane, Boise; Miss Henrietta Young, and Miss Virginia Miller, Seattle.

Alpha Chi Omega entertained Sigma Alpha Epsilon at an exchange dance Thursday.

Margaret Hahrahand, University of Oregon, was a dinner guest of Alpha Tau Omega Wednesday.

Pi Beta Phi entertained Delta Chi at a dinner exchange Wednesday. Guests were John von Bergen, Wayne Hancock, Aldon Hoffman, Wesley Crowe, Elton Leitner, Donald Holmes, Andrew Jean, Wilbur Hogue, Cromie Wilson, Owen Seitz, Ray Peters, Jack Barbee, Wilbur Schroeder.

Lester Leveth, Oregon State college, Corvallis, was a house guest of Phi Delta Theta.

Kathleen Bailey was a dinner guest of Kappa Kappa Gamma Thursday night.

BOXING FUNDAMENTALS

"This year the Idaho boxers have been rated among the best on the coast, and with the additional training received by beginners this winter, next year's squad should go even farther."

Fundamental principles of boxing, along with the practical sparring experience, is the course of training prescribed for the beginners. Kenny Fitzgerald and Kay Stoger have been outstanding in the class so far, although several other men are improving all the time.

Some Bruises

"A few bruises are passed around, but the men are having a lot of fun along with some good training," said August.

"The class meets every night from four to six," he commented further, and is open to all men who wish to get some boxing experience."

He stressed also that anyone who turned out for the class would not be obligated to join the squad unless he wished to, and that compulsory attendance is not a feature of the class.

Military Ball Will Be Held May 11 at the Blue Bucket

The annual Military ball, sponsored by advanced students in military science, will be held in the Blue Bucket, Saturday, May 11.

According to Harvie Walker, general chairman of the ball, the hall will be decorated with flags and guns to represent a dugout. Patrons and patronesses for the evening will be: Sergt. and Mrs. Frank L. Barnum, Gen. and Mrs. Edward R. Chrisman, Capt. and Mrs. Harry L. Henkle, Capt. and Mrs. William Hale, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles H. Hart, Maj. and Mrs. Augustus B. O'Connell, Sergt. and Mrs. Lonie Woods.

According to Walker, invitations as guests of honor will be sent to high officials—Gov. C. Ben Ross, Col. Frederick G. Knabenshue of Fort Wright, Spokane, and the members of the board of regents.

Committee Appointed

Walker has appointed the complete list of committees to carry out preparations. Jack Stanton, chairman, Branch Walker, Robert Ames, Herschell Swann, Bill Morrow, Jim Moore, Kenneth Robertson, and David Evans compose the decorations committee; the orchestra and entertainment committee is composed of Chairman V. E. Smith, Elburn Pierce, Herman Wagner, Frank Bevington, and Howard Scott. Financial preparations are being made by Lewis Ensign, assisted by Worth Clark, and Donald Wiseman. The publicity committee is composed of Ddwain Vincent, chairman, John Lukens, and Dick Hill; and in charge of the programs are Robert Felton, chairman, F. E. Smith, and Richard Axtell.

COLLEGE WHO'S WHO

All but one of the 12 young men selected as the outstanding young men of 1934 are college graduates or attended college at one time.

That one is Clark Gable, movie actor. This group, selected by Durward Howes, editor of "America's Young Men," includes Walt Disney, famed animated cartoonist; Charles Lindbergh, aviator; Lewis Douglas, formerly President Roosevelt's director of budget; John Hoover, director of investigation,
