Prominent Visitors Will Be at Annual "Little International"

Bill David and Wade Wells Are Student Managers

Horses, cattle, hogs, sheep—brushed and manured—will stand in the proper position to please the judges of the Little International stock show May 4.

Conditions point to a successful show. Since the show is later than usual, weather should be favorable.

As in past years, the show will attract many visitors, among them prominent stockmen of the Inland Empire and Northwest representatives of breeders' associations.

The first Little International was held in the spring of 1924 under the management of R. E. Everly, who is now connected with the Carnation Milk company.

'Man in the Bowler Hat' To Be at Hut Thursday

Reading and Interpretation Class Will Present Their Verse-Speaking Choir

Another of a series of one-hour Thursday evening programs will be presented next Thursday at 7:30 o'clock in the U hut by members of the classes in reading and interpretation and in play production.

A verse-speaking choir will read poems selected from the works of such well known poets as Eugene Field, Donn Byrne, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Walt Whitman, Vachel Lindsey, and others.

In sharp contrast to the preceding part of the program will be the presentation of the hilarious farce, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," into the humdrum lives of John, Lewis Orland, and his wife Mary, Betty Bandelin, is precipitated the swift action of the plot.

H. S. Students to Compete Here in Commercial Contest

Fifty high school commercial students from the second district will meet in Moscow this Friday to compete for honors in a statewide typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping contest.

Dean Ralph Farmer, head of the School of Business, is state manager, and Miss Lillie Gallagher of the university commercial department is contest manager.

Annual Junior Week Begins Tonight

State Officer To Make License Checkups

Warning—tonight Orville Crooks, state patrolman, will begin picking up student automobiles which bear out-of-state licenses and carry no non-resident permits and turning their owners over to the courts, reads an announcer from the sheriff's office here today.

Out-of-state students who drive cars bearing licenses of their home state are offered the chance to secure the non-resident permits which cost them nothing and are good for the remainder of the school year.

Non-resident permits should be secured within 48 hours of the time the car arrives in the state. Patrolmen Crooks declared that a thorough checkup of student owned cars was to be made to make sure they are properly licensed.

Investments Class Visits Spokane

Inspect Banking and Brokerage Houses; Get Knowledge First Hand

About 22 members of the class in "Investments" accompanied by Dean Ralph H. Farmer, head of the School of Business, motored to Spokane last Wednesday to visit five of Spokane's prominent business houses.

Visiting E. A. Pierce company, a branch of one of the nation's largest brokerage houses in connection with a New York film, the students saw the various operations of a brokerage house.

At the Spokane branch of the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco, the group was divided and shown through the departments by employees who explained functions of each department.

At the Standard Stock exchange, they were special guests of F. D. Ford, manager, and grandfather of one of the members of the class.

At the Ferris and Hardgrove Investment house, they were given a talk on bond business by Harper Joy, salesman.

Those who made the trip were John McManamin, Ed Metzger, Herschell Swann, John Steward, Frances McNaughton, Bob Wetherall, Eleanor Merriam, Bob Bennett, Ross Harris, Roy Sowder, Mary Ellen Brown, Dave Evans, Dave Kendrick, Jack Gray, John Delo, Rector Jaggard, John Aram, Robert Ford, Wayne Hancock, Les Brown, Bob Seymour, and Fred Richardson.

Engineers Sponsor Annual Exhibit

Automatic Door and Strength Tester on Display at Pullman Show

The Associated Engineers of Spokane, University of Idaho and Washington State college attended the annual engineering show at Pullman last Friday and Saturday.

Each department of the Washington State College of Engineering made an exhibit for the affair. The electrical engineers set up an automatic door opener which was operated by a photo-electric eye. A strength tester, which could be operated by the girls but upon which the strength of men failed had also been devised.

Three Speakers. The engineering show is given alternately on the campus of Idaho and Washington State, with an annual dinner for the three engineering groups.

Freshman Debaters Meet U. of W. Friday

Two Teams Represent Idaho in Sixth of Forensic Series; Non-decision

In two non-decision debates, Idaho freshman debate teams met two teams representing the University of Washington last Friday night in the Administration building. The question debated was: "Resolved: That the Nations of the World Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions."

The affirmative was upheld for the university by Ray Randall and Robert Mason, against Kenneth Cox and Herbert Droker of the University of Washington; Bill Reese and Kent McQueen representing the University of Idaho upheld the negative side of the question against Floyd Buchanan and Dennis Potratz of the University of Washington. Richard Watt accompanied the visiting debaters as debate manager.

The cross-questioning of debate was used in this contest. This is sixth of a series of debates in which the Idaho teams have participated.

Handbook Staff Begins Work On Fall Issue

Hazel Gentry, editor of the Idaho Handbook, and her staff have begun work on the next edition, which will be published during the summer. Cromie Wilson, one of the associate editors, has designed the cover, which will be different from any previous issue.

In order to improve the book, the staff has studied 10 or 15 handbooks from universities from all over the United States. The complete staff of the Handbook is Hazel Gentry, editor; Cromie Wilson and Doris McDermott, associate editors; Myrl Stearns, Max Kenworthy, Barbara Mockler, and Lewis Gaby, general staff.

IDAHO AND W.S.C. DEBATERS MEET

Four freshmen debaters participated in non-decision debates Friday evening with debaters from Washington State college. The question under discussion was: "Resolved: That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions."

The debates were the cross-question type. Idaho's affirmative was upheld by Robert Mason and Raymond Randall while the negative was upheld by William Reese and Kent McQueen.

Friday Is Deadline For Ordering Announcements

Graduating seniors are allowed only until Friday to place orders for the announcements of graduation and for personal cards. A senior has been named in each group house to take orders, and town students may place their orders at a desk in the main hall of the Ad building on Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday of this week.

Persons unable to meet other agents may order from any one of the four members of the announcement committee: Earl Hayes, chairman, Ridenbaugh hall; Harold Ellingson, Sigma Chi; George Klein, Tau Kappa Epsilon; and Elaine Hersey, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Announcements are of a type not previously used here. On the face of the French fold appears an etching of the Administration building tower and the embossed letters, "Idaho '35." The inner page bears the usual announcements in engraved Old English. Two envelopes are furnished with each announcement; the flap of the inner envelope bears the embossed seal of the University of Idaho.

Dr. C.W. Tenney Replaces Dr. Wells

President of Gooding College Takes Place of Institute Director

Dr. Charles W. Tenney, president of Gooding college, was elected the new director of the Idaho Institute of Christian education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Carl D. Wells who went to George Washington university as head of the department of sociology.

Dr. Tenney is especially well qualified because of his long acquaintance with the educational and religious life of Idaho to direct the work of the Institute, the directors say.

Graduate of Willamette. He is a graduate of Willamette university at Salem, Ore., and took his graduate work at George Washington university, Washington, D. C. He has served as superintendent of public schools and was high school inspector for Montana. Dr. Tenney was also president of Montana Wesleyan college, Helena, Mont., before coming to Gooding college.

Dr. and Mrs. Tenney will make their home in Moscow after the close of the college year, and he will take up his work as director of the Institute the first of September.

Pence Receives Scholarship To Rensselaer

James Pence has been awarded a scholarship in chemical engineering by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Pence is a graduate student in the department of chemistry. His undergraduate work was taken in chemical engineering.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute is the oldest school of its type in any English speaking country. It was founded in 1824 and has concerned itself with the advancement of engineering and science, having conferred the first degrees in engineering given in this country.

Bellwood Announces Plans For Frosh Glee Week

With a general committee meeting to be held the latter part of the week, plans for the annual Frosh Glee week are moving definitely forward.

"The Freshman assembly and picnic are still tentative," reported Sherman Bellwood, general chairman. "However, we have high hopes of securing authorization for both. Committee chairmen are cooperating and, with the support of the freshman class, we will make this event the most successful ever presented by a frosh class."

The Blue Bucket Inn has been secured for the dance May 17. Tickets will go on sale the first of next week.

The theme for the week has not been decided, but the decorations committee is working on an original motif for the dance which will not be revealed until May 17.

'Harlem' Assembly Starts Events; Admission Will Be 10 Cents; Mixer Arranged for Wednesday at Bucket

With a gala presentation of professionals and amateurs, the 1935 Junior week will officially get under way tonight. With the political parties both backing all functions, the spirits of all students are running high in expectation of the best Junior week of this generation.

Below is a schedule of events for this week: Junior assembly, 7:30 p. m. Tuesday. Junior mixer, 8:30 p. m. Wednesday at Blue Bucket. Junior serenade, 11 p. m. Thursday. Junior prom, 8:30 p. m. Friday at Blue Bucket. Junior cabaret, 8:30 p. m. Saturday at Blue Bucket.

Troop Inspection Held on Weekend

Federal Officer Reviews 116th Cavalry of Idaho National Guard

Troop "K." 116th cavalry, Idaho National guard, was inspected by Maj. John D. Hood, federal inspecting officer and instructor assigned to the 116th cavalry, last Saturday and Sunday. Accompanying Major Hood in the inspection were the Adjutant-General of Idaho, Brigadier-General M. G. McConnell; Maj. Bruce C. Leiser; and Maj. Frank H. Townley, commanding officer of the third cavalry squadron. Capt. Harry A. Brenn, commander of the local troop, presented the troop for inspection.

Inspect Equipment. Inspection of property, armory, horses, and other equipment was held Saturday afternoon. Starting Sunday morning the inspecting officer inspected the personnel and efficiency of the troop. Following this, Major Hood witnessed an exhibition in close order drill, by the first platoon, a dismounted combat and musketry problem by the second platoon, a demonstration of a mounted field pack and exhibition by the machine gun squad.

The final event of the day consisted of a riot problem involving the use of non-lethal gas in the dispersing of a mob. The officers of the company are Captain Harry A. Brenn, troop commander; Lieut. G. B. Hodgins, commander of the 1st platoon, and Lieut. Lee R. Brannan, commander of the 2nd platoon.

ALUMNI MAKE PLANS FOR COMMENCEMENT

A general meeting of all University of Idaho alumni has been called for this evening at the Elk's temple, at 7:30 p. m., by Laurence Huff, alumni association vice president.

The purpose of the meeting will be to prepare for commencement activities in June. An enlarged alumni scope in this year's program is planned.

The meeting, Mr. Huff said, would last only a short time.

No two people are exactly alike in any respect. A person may be identified from any number of others merely by close analysis of his motions in walking, climbing or sitting down.

Widow Points to Wetherall As Killer of Dave Smith

The trial of William Wetherall, charged with manslaughter for running into David Smith with his automobile, was thrown into momentary confusion last night as the Bench and Bar court got under way in room 311 of the Administration building, when the widow of the deceased, Olga E. Watson, dressed in black, pointed an accusing finger at the defendant and broke into sobs as she chewed gum furiously. The 200 spectators who crowded the courtroom noted, however, that she recovered her composure shortly after leaving the stand. She spent the rest of the evening visiting and smiling to friends in the room.

The prosecution presented its entire list of witnesses during the session, and adjournment came only after attempts to get a bottle of gin into evidence proved fruitless against a barrage of objections from opposition counsel.

During the entire evening, the defend Wetherall seemed to have complete control of his faculties. His behavior during the evening was one of nonchalance. He spent the first half of the session cleaning his finger nails with a burna match, but slept during most of the latter part of the session.

Jean Ricker, who testified as Betty Campus, was driven to hide behind the figurative coat tails of the judge in an effort to keep from answering embarrassing questions asked her during cross examination.

The case is being tried before a jury of 12 "good men and true" who are William Parr, Lyn Moore, Melvin LaFreinz, Bob Beverly, Bob Sables, William Bucey, Woodrow Doupe, Fred Scott, Joe Anderson, Paul Hughes, Boyd Carrows, and Paul Hughes.

The testimony is being taken down by two court reporters, Rosalea Sanderson and Edith Nancolas. Other court officials include Warren Russell, clerk, and Allen Asher, bailiff.

HAWKEYE ON DUTY

Thanks to you—you—and you; Colonel Hawkeye's statements were not publicly doubted. 'Twould have been most embarrassing for the old fire irons are temporarily under the spell of the three golden balls.

Colonel Hawkeye hunted high and low for some real dirt at the Triad, but sadly reports it to be the most sober—lifeless—dead Triad in years. We did see BILL FEATHERSTONE doing a bit of fancy diving on the Bucket hardwood that night, however.

BARBARA WALKER and "Abe" LINCOLN are going steady... SPEED GRAY and TOOTIE DOLLARD for a J. P.... DICK SCHUMACHER panting with anticipation that his Saturday night with fresh SANDERS is going to be some date.

SOCIETY
Evidently the menu at the Delta Chi formal included some sort of a love potion, for it is learned that CHICK WILSON, ANDY JEAN, AL JEFFRIES, and JACK BARBEE have passed their pins, too bad, too... some of 'em were good kids. In the line of jewelry... JULIE DAVIS is wearing a Phi Delt pin; DORA BAIRD isn't... and the campus nobility. TREVOR PAIGE, has decided that the rapid fire was too much for him, so he decided to make it permanent... (Is this too subtle for you folks?)

BRIGHT SAYINGS
Capt. (in cavalry) How many rounds of ammunition in that box? Private BEAL: Two hundred yards.
She: Are they in love? He: No, that's the fat.
HOGUE-DONNA MAE SOUTH says there are too many snakes in the arboretum—yes, two legged ones—we saw our friend the great ENSIGN up there during his visit.

READER'S SERVICE
What was, it that smelled so much like a brewery at the Bucket Saturday night? That's no brewery, that's your breath blowing back in your face.
I don't know for sure, but I've heard that this is Junior Week... so all youse guys and youse gals had better start slowin' down 'cause Colonel Hawkeye is gonna be out among 'em—ah—now, back to the Bourbon.

at the Kenworthy—With a replica of old St. Louis as a setting, a bevy of "hand-picked" screen beauties occupy a unique position in "Naughty Marietta," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular filmization of Victor Herbert's musical masterpiece, with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, coming Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

The younger feminine players of Hollywood were canvassed and each of the girls personally and specially chosen for a place in this group, which is headed by Mary Doran, noted for her many comedy roles, and Cecilia Parker, who recently played Garbo's sister in "The Painted Veil." Such players as Jean Chatburn, Pat Farley, Jane Barnes, Kay English, Linda Parker, Jane Mercer, and others are in the interesting group. Directed by W. S. Van Dyke, the picture is a gripping drama of the setting of New Orleans, into which the original Herbert music is interwoven. Its song hits include, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "I'm Falling in Love with Someone," "Italian Street Song," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," "Chansonnette," the great embarkation number, and others.

at the Vandal—Many of the exciting and human incidents in Sarah Ware Bassett's book, "Taming of Zenas Henry," are taken from real life. The picture plays Wednesday and Thursday.

Josephine Lovett, in doing the screen play, also brought into the script many interesting characters and episodes she knew and encountered during her long sojourn on Cape Cod.

The characters are real and changeless, just as they have been for more than one hundred years. James Barton plays the leading role in this production, and is supported by a cast which includes Helen Westley, Gene Lockhart, Helen Mack, Henry Travers, Nydia Westman, Lon Chaney, Jr. Douglas Walton and many others.

Our Columnists' Ears Have Been Batted Down Thoroughly.—Ed.

Don't you think that guy Hawkeye should have his ears batted down a bit? His treatment of the insane egg-throwing mania that seems to accompany ASUI elections each year as a joking matter is poor taste and not helpful to efforts that are being made to eliminate this childish and destructive practice.

CAMPUS CLIPS

By Mookler
What an Anatomy
The Texas Scopel gives us a little negro girl's answer to the question, "What is anatomy?" She wrote:

"Anatomy is a human body. It is divided into three parts, the head, the chest, and the stummick. The head holds the skull and brains if they is any, the chest holds the liver and the lites, and the stummick holds the entrails and vowels, which are a, e, i, o, and sometimes w and y."

Love Improves Grades
Five "A" students at the University of Oklahoma were quizzed recently as to how they regulated their campus activities and how they maintained relations with the professors; Most of them answered in the following manner: (1) cram for quizzes and outline the course before finals; (2) sit near the front; the professors like it, and you'll pay better attention; (3) budget your time, but not too rigidly; (4) engage in as many extra-curricular activities as you can without hurting your grades; (5) keep up with daily assignments; (6) have six love affairs or more during the year. (The first four we have always understood to be conducive to good grades; but the last two have us puzzled. We don't understand how one can be in love and study at the same time.)

Resembles This Campus
At a recent student body election at the University of Michigan, 200 more votes were cast than there were persons registered in the college. Either some politicians are getting a head start, or the place is overflowing with school spirit!

Can Youth Turn the Tide?

Internationalism has been "taking it on the chin." With European nations crawling farther within their shells of nationalism, our senate rejecting the World Court, and French medical students more recently striking in protest of the presence of foreign students in their universities, the realization of the dreams of Wilson and others of a brotherhood of nations, which would minimize the importance of artificial boundaries and settle differences by other means than blood, seems more distant than ever.

What those men envisioned was not an unattainable mirage, we believe. What makes the picture a shade brighter is the awakening of college youth to a new interest in international politics. The last few college years have been marked by a mushroom growth of clubs engaged in the study of international problems throughout the country. Nationwide organizations of students, including the National Student Federation of America and the Association of College Editors, have been unusually active in recent months in seeking to arouse American students through the college press to question the ready-made doctrines of "patriotism" preached by the mighty Hearst and others. On our own campus we find a chapter of the International Relations club, actively interested in impartial discussion and study of international affairs. They just recently concluded a Northwest conference here for this express purpose.

Perhaps the cause of internationalism is not lost. Perhaps a minority of thinking college youths will be able to turn the tide within a few years. And perhaps the United States, in spite of her economic self-sufficiency, may again recognize a responsibility in the formulation of a system which will facilitate co-operation between the nations.

Political Impartiality

With the political campaigns getting under way for the spring elections it is necessary that The Argonaut make clear to the student body and the candidates the impartiality of its stand throughout all phases. This newspaper is the official publication of the associated students and as such must represent all students and candidates equally insofar as it is possible. The editor and members of his staff are human; they will have their favorite candidates in all fields but this will in no way effect the use of the news and editorial columns of The Argonaut.

Because the integrity of the paper is at stake, no story in any way pertaining to a candidate for office will appear without complete authorization of the editor. Notices of meetings and reports of the happenings at those meetings will be carried in these columns, but if any candidate cares to have any changes made in the way in which his publicity is being handled, he should see the editor.

Members of student body will no doubt hear that the editor favors this candidate or that; they will accuse The Argonaut of being partial, but any grievances from candidates or their backers will be cheerfully invited.

When two or more candidates for the same office are mentioned in the same story, their names will be carried in alphabetical order, the same as that on the ballot.

Due to limited space the Grins and Gripes column, from this issue until the close of the campaigns and the elections on May 2, will not be open to letters to the editor of over 150 words. This rule will have to be followed strictly. Mud-slinging "gripes" and all such political propaganda which the editor feels are not constructive in nature he reserves the right to delete wholly or in part.

The staff issues as its official greeting to the candidates the trite old wheeze, "May the best man win."

EASTER affairs and Easter outfits were much in evidence on the campus last weekend. Dan Cupid was at work, too—congratulations Ada and "Chick"!

The Delta Chis held their annual Easter formal dinner dance Saturday, Sigma Alpha Epsilon had their Monte Carlo dance, and Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, and Phi Delta Theta entertained at the Miami Triad.

A number of houses had Easter breakfasts or informal firesides. Alpha Tau Omega held a sweetheart dinner.

Delta Chis Hold Easter Formal

Delta Chi held its tenth annual Easter dinner-dance Saturday in a simulated garden. Tulip beds were laid beside a rock wall which ran along the sides of the room. There were vine-covered trellises in the corners and a profusion of flowers everywhere. A blue canopy covered the ceiling. Armour's Blue Devils orchestra played for dancing. Patrons and patronesses were Dean Permeal J. French, Dean and Mrs. Pendleton Howard, and Mrs. E. C. Given.

S. A. Es Have Monte Carlo Dance

Flowers and gambling tables were the decorations at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Monte Carlo dance Saturday night. The programs were white suede with gold crests on them. Music was furnished by Chuck Collins' orchestra. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Chamberlain.

Yost—Wilson Engagement Announced Sunday

The engagement of Ada Yost, Kellogg, and Charles Wilson, Blackfoot, was announced at dinner at the Pi Beta Phi house Sunday. Rita Yost, Mullan, pinned the Delta Chi pin on her sister. The announcements came in a large football. Miss Yost graduated from Idaho at the semester last year. She is now attending school at Seattle, taking special social service work. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Wilson is a senior in education; he is a member of Delta Chi.

Fred Ensign, Boise; Robert Newhouse, Kuna; and Harold Sprague, Lewiston, were week-end guests of Beta Theta Pi.

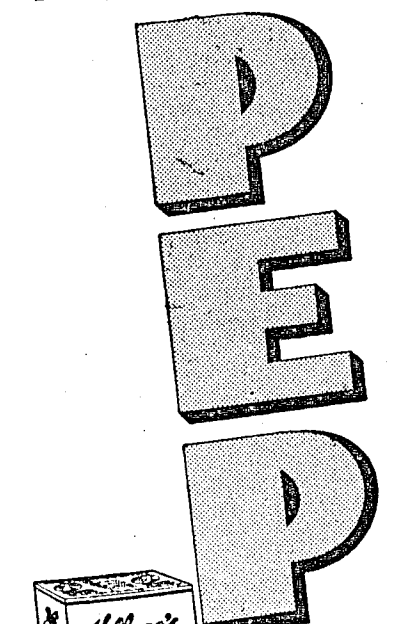

Week-end guests at the Pi Beta Phi house were Ada Yost, Seattle; Rita Yost, Mullan; and Mary La Gore, Coeur d'Alene.

Phyllis Wright was a Sunday dinner guest of Pi Beta Phi. Mrs. W. J. Stewart, Post Falls, is a guest of Pi Beta Phi.

Alpha Phi entertained at an Easter breakfast Sunday at the chapter house. Easter decorations were used. The guests were Charles Crowley, Howard Cook, Paul Berg, Thomas Furchner, Louis Kaiser, William Sanders, Richard Axtell, Charles Sanders, Earl Ritzheimer, Paul Kerr, Joseph Gauss, Egon Kroll, Jean Nicholson, Walker Rich, Robert Raymond Rhodes, Morgan Heap, Rex Painter, Ernest Smith, El-dred Stephenson, Robert Strachan; and Mr. and Mrs. J. ## Idaho and W. S. C. Spurs Will Have Convention

Two Chapters to Entertain at the 1937 Meeting of National Organization

University of Idaho and W. S. C. Spurs will be hostess chapters for the sixth biennial convention of the national Spurs in 1937. This is the first time in many years that the honor has been conferred on these western schools.

The fifth biennial convention was held April 12 to 14 at Boulder, Col. Thirteen schools were represented. California and Washington are the chapters in the West and Indiana in the East held the long distance records for traveling.

New national officers of the organization are Vern Williamson, Redlands, Calif., president; Phyllis Edwards, Los Angeles, Calif., vice president; Pamela Fergus, Missoula, Mont., secretary; Eudora Billings, Salt Lake City, Utah, treasurer; Jane Sampson, Boulder, Col., editor.

For three days the University of Colorado was hostess to 50 delegates. Marjorie Wurster, national vice president, Dorothy Brown, and Esther Flenner, delegates, attended the convention from the University of Idaho.

"College students would make good criminals," was the opinion of Kenneth Jordan, head of the San Jose Identification Bureau and a member of the San Jose State Police School faculty, expressed in the Spartan Daily, San Jose State College publication. Why? Because they're educated.

Chewing Gum Now In Vogue, Says Press Club

One-ninth of the 27,753 samples already received by the Press club for the Publications ball May 10 is chewing gum. (Can't you just see them sitting around chewing it?) Seventeen hundred packages are tempters from the American Chicle company, 900 are Beeman's and the other 600 are Wrigley's.

Next in quantity come the pencils, blotters, and pencil clips from the Royal Crystal Salt company. They number up into the thousands, as do the Hershey bars.

You may believe that precious things come in small packages but you'll change your mind after tasting Planters' peanuts or the Wheaties. They're the regular size, like Tums, Chamberlain's Lotion, "Lip Ice," Aqua Velva, and Williams shaving cream. Phillip Morris cigarettes. As pergam and Feenamint, put out by the Health Products corporation, complete the list.

University of California students, men and co-eds, no longer worry about whom they are going to take to the junior prom, senior ball, etc. Having the approval of the faculty of the university, a blind-date bureau for bashful boys and cute co-eds has been opened.

MAXINE BERGER doesn't really love the campus; she just lives here. TETE WHALEN and PRET HALE seem to have had a falling out. SADIE LEFEBRE has started to use the sign language. Delta Gams have dubbed BOB WETHERALL the campus ropp jumping champ. BOB FELTON has been wondering about that pin. PEPPY CHET RODELL was seen tossing away the hair tonic and sitting in the sun in hopes that the melon-moss would again start growing. We are all wondering why MARGARET BRINDLE was hiding out behind the Ad building yesterday morning. From many sources comes the news that there is a bounty on KING KONG KERR. HOMER FISHER has all the brothers busy knocking the love darts off with a broom. ## Date for Entry Of Photographic Exhibit Extended

The last day for entry to the second amateur photographic exhibit to be held in Moscow has been extended to May 1. This gives ample time for all interested to prepare the material.

Honors and mentions will be awarded photographs for interpretations of winter, portraits, children portraits, animals, flowers, landscapes, and still-life. This exhibit will be open to the public sometime in the middle of May, time and place to be announced later.

Professionals Barred
The exhibit is open to all except professionals. Prints on exhibit last year will not be accepted. Prizes, honors, and honorable mentions will be awarded by a jury.

Entries will be received by M. W. Melzian, department of art and architecture, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho. Entries may be delivered in person or sent by mail.

Fie on Our Chief Bucketeer

It seems that Chief Bucketeer Hogue was just about right when he judged that the last issue of his publication, The Idaho Blue Bucket, would rub a few people the wrong way, make some really mad, and otherwise cause quite a furor. Underneath what most of the U. S. party declared was primarily Campus propaganda, however, we managed to find a number of quite entertaining features which did their bit to make the "political number" a readable issue.

We were not immune, it seems, from comment on the part of the chief and his feature writers. Ordinarily such writings would not merit discussion here except that one editorial concerned a matter which is a touchy one with us and one which vitally affects the student body right now. That appeared under the heading "Derision" and commented upon an apparent lag in The Argonaut's interest in proportional representation and its passage in the coming student body elections May 2.

We are hurt that the chief of our humor magazine has apparently failed to read the columns of The Argonaut as closely as he might. We read The Blue Bucket and on the whole find it most entertaining.

Chief Hogue charged that following the printing of a Campus party resolution to back P. R. in this newspaper, December 14, we apparently took the attitude that the battle had been won and that the victory for proportional student government was but a matter of casting votes on election day. This, of course, is not the case and we agree with him in that it will necessitate the co-operation of both parties, or, we would rather say, all the student body, to put it over.

The point which bothers us is that the Bucketeer feels that we lost interest in the campaign for P. R. We direct him to the files of The Argonaut which will disclose the following comment on P. R. by your editor since the issuance of the Campus party resolution: Feb. 19, "Why Proportional Representation;" March 1, "Whither Student Government;" March 12, "Constitutional Remodeling;" March 22, "The ASUI Demands Relief;" March 29, "P. R. Aids Political Situation;" and April 16, "The New Constitution."

Students who are thoughtful for the good of student government at Idaho favor P. R., we feel. It is well worth a trial and therein lies the solution to the chaotic political condition in which our campus now finds itself. Yours for a better student government.—Ed.

These Handbills

Yesterday, while standing on the front steps of the Ad building smoking a cigarette, we glanced across the way and noticed a Junior Week handbill plastered efficiently, if not artistically, on the new fountain in the middle of the "oval." It brought to mind a grievance which has been bothering us for some time.

As a suggestion to all posters of handbills, political or otherwise, we offer this admonition: you are defacing public property. In some of the furious campaigns just past bills have been plastered on the doors and walls of the entry way to the Ad building. The marks of those still are in evidence although an honest attempt by the janitor force has been made to erase them.

Out of respect for the university and buildings of the institution we urgently request handbill posters, "Watch where you post those bills!"

COLLEGE STUDENT. "I smoke a lot because I find that Camels are just what 'done in' feelings," says Alford Archer. "And what a swell taste they have!"

MRS. LUDLOW WHITAKER STEVENS: "It's remarkable the way a Camel renews your energy."

GIRL EXPLORER. "When I'm tired," says Mrs. William LaVarre, "I stop and smoke a Camel. It wakes up my energy and does not affect my nerves."

TRANSPACIFIC FLYER. "Camels are my 'supercharger.' They give me new energy and 'go,'" says Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith.

ENGINEER. "Camels refresh me in a very few minutes," says Erwin B. Jones, staff engineer Boulder Dam.

REPORTER. "When I'm feeling 'let down,'" says Marny Nichols, "I get a 'lift' in my energy with a Camel."

RANCHER. Charley Bolden of Wyoming: "When I get to feeling tired, I smoke a Camel, and my energy perks up right away."

COLLEGE GIRL. Listen to Marguerite Osmun: "A Camel makes me feel fresher... more alert. And what a grand taste... so mild and appealing."

RADIO EXPERT. "Camels are my choice on taste," says Harry Miller, of Station WOR. "And smoking a Camel relieves fatigue."

CAMERAMAN. E. E. C. Pickwood speaking: "When I get worn out and exhausted, the way I 'turn on' my energy again is to smoke a Camel."

EXPLORER. Captain R. Stuart Murray says: "Camels give me a pick-up in energy when I need it, and I prefer Camel's flavor."

ALASKAN EXPLORER. Harold McCracken says: "Camels are mild... yet have a full, rich flavor. They refresh my energy."

HORSEWOMAN. "I don't know anything else that brings the pleasant 'lift' I get from a Camel," says Miss Helene Bradshaw. "Camels never give me jumpy nerves."

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE ENGINEER. R. G. Cone says: "When I'm worn out, a Camel relieves me of tiredness."
