Idaho Alums Will Be Phi Beta Kappa Members Two graduates of 15 Years Ago Granted Alumni Membership in Honorary Society

Two prominent Idaho graduates of 15 years ago are to be granted alumni membership this spring in Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic society.

One is a woman, Mrs. A. H. Nordale of Fairbanks, Alaska, who has earned civic distinction as vice president of the territory's board of education.

Mrs. Nordale, formerly LaDessa Hall of Moscow, taught in the Boise and Idaho Falls high schools and at the University of Alaska, Fairbanks, where between 1923 and 1926, she organized its department of business administration.

Mr. Lindley, a member of the New York Herald-Tribune staff, is the author of two of the earliest and best books on President Roosevelt and the "New Deal." Lindley hall, men's dormitory on the campus, is named in honor of his father, Dr. E. H. Lindley, Idaho's president from 1917 to 1920, and now chancellor of the University of Kansas.

Phi Beta Kappa, oldest of Greek letter fraternities, is an ardent champion of American culture. The Idaho chapter was installed in 1925.

Knights to Install Chapter at Cheney Normal

"Idaho chapter of Intercollegiate Knights will assist in the installation of a chapter at the Cheney Normal school soon," said Bill Armstrong, Duke, yesterday. The following committee from the Ball and chain chapter will take part in the installation: Roy Gray, Bert Larson, Robert Strachan and Bill Armstrong. Frank Bevington, national president, and Chet Rodell, former national vice president, will also attend.

Prom and Cabaret Top Off Jr. Wk.

Dorothy Scoggin Is Picked Queen of Promenade Dorothy Scoggin, sophomore from Lindsay, Calif., was chosen queen of the junior prom-Friday night by a fair committee selected by Bill O'Neill, junior class president.

The queen committee, which was picked at the prom, was a good "cross-cut" of the students attending. O'Neill explained. "All classes were represented, as well as the faculty by Dr. Church and Mrs. Harry L. Henkle, who also stood on the committee."

Douglas Smith was prom chairman. Ed Atwood, Ed Wood, Willie Jessen and Bernice Levy handled decorations. "From committee members worked 100 per cent," O'Neill declared. "They deserve plenty of credit."

Bucket Decorated White streamers were draped the full length of the Blue Bucket dance room, extending from the entrance end of the hall to a big moon at the farther end. A "cat" substituted for the "man in the moon." Spotlights—the moon's assistants—played on the streamers for the lighting effects.

Bob Campbell's orchestra furnished the music for the prom. Standing in the receiving line were President and Mrs. Mervin Neale, Dr. F. C. Church, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Henkle, Dave Kendrick, Bill O'Neill, Barbara Geddes, and Jane Post.

The regular dancing room of the Bucket retained the prom decorations for the cabaret. Downstairs decorating consisted of black and white streamers wound about the floor pillars.

Intermission entertainment featured Darvi Holt's tap dancing, songs by Dorothy Scoggin and a trio—Elburn Pierce, Bill Taylor, and Dean Green—and the guitar accompaniment of Don Ford. Dean Green was master of ceremonies. Tommy Arnous's Blue Devils and Chuck Collins' orchestra furnished the music.

Stim Moore, assisted by Jerry Staudacher, Floyd Claypool and Kenneth Roberts, managed the cabaret.

"Juniors want to thank all those who attended and supported the Junior week activities," said O'Neill. "They were entirely successful."

One of World's Wonders Is In Our Midst One of the seven—or is it eight—wonders of the world is right here on our campus in the form of a machine assembled by A. W. Martin and J. O. Pence for the purpose of measuring electrical resistance of very delicate solutions. The apparatus, which practically fills a room in the Science hall, consists of such things as a piece of gas pipe from Henry Ford's company, two lights from last winter's Christmas tree, a radio sending and receiving station, a sink, and an electrical motor.

One piece of mechanism would have cost about $700 had it been purchased from a manufacturing company but the two experimenters made it at a cost of $30.

Eggs Are No Help, Says Kendrick

President Lays Blame On Independent Trouble-Makers Eggs, just a few, boomed off social fraternities and sororities early Monday morning, and when the Monday morning sun came out, most houses were running miniature poultry farms.

"Fraternities have absolutely nothing to gain by starting egg throwing," declared Kendrick. "I'm sure that individuals tossed them in hopes of seeing a battle started between the fraternities, while the promoters sat back to watch the fun."

While freshmen scrubbed yokes from the white pillars on the Sigma Nu house and the Theta girls pried the whites from the window screens on the second floor of their house yesterday morning, group house presidents were already taking measures to restrain their potential egg-throwers.

Even before the Sigma Alpha Epsilon freshmen, wary of the mess confronting them, had a chance to get out of bed, Kendrick and his election committee were expressing disgust at the egg evidences. Working through the house presidents, they are attempting to cramp the style of the barbarous campaigners.

"Eggs and rocks have taught fraternities the destructiveness of such tactics, we are certainly attempting to prevent these childish methods."

While Wendell Gannon, Iona-freshman, cleaned eggs from the Alpha Tau Omega windows yesterday and the Fijis watered their young brood, Kendrick had Casady Taylor and Theron Ward, nominees give campaign speeches for this morning's assembly.

"To have the nominees give campaign speeches in assembly which would lack mud-slinging element will be a good substitute for radical campaigning in the future," Kendrick said.

Editorial

Thursday the student body will go to the polls to select its officers for the school year 1935-36. At that time also will be presented for vote a new ASUI constitution. The officers which will be selected day after tomorrow will not continue more than a year, but the constitution which will be adopted if the ASUI sees fit to do so will be a permanent and enduring basis for the operation of our student government.

Further than that, however, is the inclusion in the new constitutional voting plan of an option put squarely to the students as to whether or not they want proportional representation as a system of selection of the executive board. By scanning through the proposed constitution it will be remarked that a great number of offices are to be left to the appointment or approval of that body. Since so much will depend upon it we feel certain that no other system than P. R. will be practical or in the least satisfactory.

Presidential Aspirants Speak at First Idaho Political Assembly

In the first assembly ever opened for political campaigning purposes the two candidates for the highest office in the gift of the ASUI spoke before the student body this morning at 11 o'clock.

The assembly was presided over by Dave Kendrick, president of the student body, who introduced first Dr. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the philosophy department. He spoke briefly on the subject "Political Philosophy," Bill Wetherall, vice president of the association, then described the proposed constitution of the ASUI as a "vast improvement over the old one" and pointed out that its prime objective would be to cut the influence of politics to a minimum.

Wetherall described the method of voting on P. R. in connection with the document, showing that either one or the other method, popular vote or P. R., might be used.

Following the vice president's remarks, Ben Oppenheim, Boise, Id., was introduced and gave a humorous talk, "Eggs," in which he incorporated some serious commendations of the manner in which the campaigns for the spring elections were being carried on. He pointed out that the students were building a firm foundation upon which they might later base a better citizenship.

The assembly closed shortly before noon with Blue Key pledging, which was to have been held, if necessary omitted from the program.

Translation Made Of Book Written By Dr. F. C. Church

Educated Italians interested in their sixteenth century reformers have available a recent translation of an unlabored book on the subject written by Dr. Frederic C. Church, head of the department of European history.

Dr. Church's book, "The Italian Reformers, 1534-1564," was published in 1932 by the Columbia University Press. Its 400 pages deal with Italy's important share in the great religious reform movement in which Luther, Calvin, and Zwingle became famous. Leading churchmen, Catholic and Protestant, have praised Dr. Church for his impartial treatment of a highly controversial subject. He obtained most of his material from libraries and archives in Italy, Switzerland, and France in 1910-12, when a student at the Universities of Paris and Zurich.

The Italian translation, in two volumes instead of Dr. Church's one, was published as part of a series on historical thought by the Ente Nazionale di Cultura. The actual translating was done by Dr. Dello Cantimori of the University of Pavia.

BLUE KEY NOTICE Members of Blue Key will meet at the Sigma Nu house this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Daniel Webster is ranked next to Demosthenes as a great orator.

Taylor and Ward Run for President

Polis Open at 9 a. m. at Morrill Hall and Ad. Building ASUI elections will be held next Thursday in the Ad building and in Morrill hall. Two polls will be used because of the large number of voters anticipated.

All students in the School of Agriculture, Forestry school or the School of Mines will vote at the polls placed in the lower floor near the door of Morrill hall. All other students will vote at the regular position of the polls at the north end of the main floor in the Ad building. The polls will be open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Only one ballot will be used and will carry the names of candidates from both parties. The proposed new constitution will also be up for acceptance. Selection between proportional representation or the regular popular vote system of electing the executive board is a subdivision of this section of the ballot.

CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION

A change in the proposed new constitution as printed in the April issue of The Argonaut will appear on the ballot at the general election next Tuesday. The correct version:

The business manager shall receive as salary one dollar for each issue of the paper published during his term of office, and in addition, he shall receive fifteen per cent of all proceeds from advertising over and above the sum of one thousand dollars.

The above clause—clause 12, Section 2, Article II of the By Laws has been amended by replacing the phrase "fifteen per cent" with "twenty per cent."

Geologists Map Rich Gold Bearing Area

Historic Elk City Once Scene of Valuable Placer Mines Mining operations in Idaho's historic Elk City district now have available a detailed U. S. geological survey map of their area prepared in cooperation with the Idaho bureau of mines and geology.

Renewed gold activity around Elk City brought calls for the more adequate map, which has 100-foot contour intervals and shows location of mines and prospects, outlines of larger placer pits, and the general geology of the district. It was prepared by P. J. Shenon and John C. Reed, government geologists who surveyed the area in 1932.

Accompanying the map is a four-page geological description. Copies of the map and report may be obtained from the U. S. geological survey, Washington, D. C.

Elk City's rich "skim diggings," which were at their best in the '60's, yielded placer gold estimated in value from $10,000,000 to as high as $18,500,000. Production from quartz veins since 1902 has added between $750,000 to $1,000,000 to this total.

In their supplementary report, Shenon and Reed make the following statements: . . . Valuable placer deposits were also formed along stream channels where the gold was derived almost entirely from the disintegration of quartz veins and gold-bearing bedrock, and some unworked areas of these remain. . . . In general . . . the quartz does not occur as a single continuous body but rather as lenses. . . . The ore minerals are not evenly distributed through the quartz—but tend rather to be concentrated in shoots.

Shenon is a graduate of the Idaho School of Mines, class of 1924. His home formerly was in Salmon.

Say, have you ever noticed that DAVE KENDRICK walks in parentheses... JOHN DALY was having an awful time trying to get himself a date out at Kennedy Ford... tell us how you did it. LAVERNE HUSTEAD was an unexpected guest of Delta Tau early Sunday morning... MARK FELT says he has absolutely no use for his field glasses before ten o'clock every evening.

Who was the handsome gentleman with MARGARET BERLINGER Sunday?... the rumor is that she was entertaining nobility. "SILENT" LUKENS and MARY ELLEN BROWN were back together again at the prom.

BARBARA LIPPS and EDNA SIMPSON are proudly displaying their new jewelry.

On entering the Bucket Saturday night Colonel Hawkeye was inclined to think that the place was a morgue... however, the stiff were revived well enough so that the old

Colonel Hawkeye was able to get around a little this week and rounded up some first class dirt. As you may recall, you have all been warned—so what. So all you bottle sniffers are going to take an awful beating.

Slightly oiled, "Sissy Pants" "Ghandi" HARRIS proved himself to be a very efficient baptizer at the cabaret... BILL McCLEAR evidently is a poor undercover man because when it dropped from under his coat, broke and ran all over the floor... We noticed this time that our prize bottle sniffer, CHET RODELL, was at it again and that he was still the same old CHET saying "Oh how I get a kick out of this guy RODELL." If "PIN-KY" HAGEN, JOE GILGAN, ED RILEY, ED POTTS, WORTH CLARK, NORMAN IVERSON, and BILL ROBB could sing, the serenade would probably have been appreciated.

Again and again those two Joe Colleges, REDLINGSHAFFER and "Whattaman" JOSLYN are seen talking over the Alpha Chi house... we heard that BEULAH MOORE was caught looking in the mirror and humming "and what's more I've got arms." We are all wondering what MERLE FISHER was doing Sunday night that caused those dark circles under his eyes yesterday morning... LOUIE DENTON was seen returning home with a load of baskets... some run... eh, LOUIE?

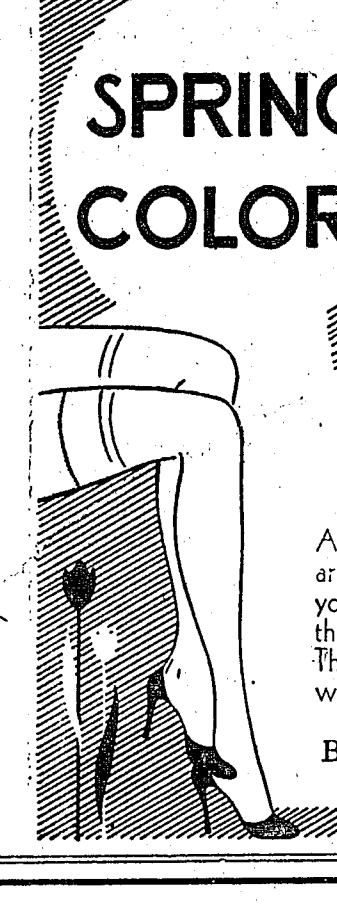

Colonel could recognize them... don't feel slighted if you didn't make the column... It's just because the old gent'm'n never saw you in that condition before and couldn't identify you. Remember this, too... there's no hangover in the Colonel's mint-juleps.

THE JUNIOR PROM and the Cabaret were the highlights of the weekend, and the end of the traditional Junior week. Although corsages were forbidden, the Prom was colorful under a false ceiling of crepe paper.

A direct contrast to the formal Prom was the informal, noisy, but entertaining Cabaret. This dance made up in gaiety what it lacked in dignity. Noise makers, horns, and comic hats added to the fun.

A number of hoaxes held initiations over the weekend for those industrious frosh who "made the grade" at the nine weeks.

Junior Prom Held Friday

The annual Junior Prom was held Friday night at the Blue Bucket. Decorations were a false ceiling of white crepe paper streamers backed with spot lights giving the lighting effect. Dorothy Scoggin was chosen Queen of the Prom. Judges were four of the students and two faculty members. Patrons and patronesses were Pres. and Mrs. M. G. Neale, Dean Permeal J. French, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Kostalek, Blue Bucket orchestra furnished the music.

Cabaret Ends Junior Week

Junior week ended with the Junior Cabaret held at the Blue Bucket Saturday. The upstairs was decorated the same as for the Prom, and the downstairs with black and white crepe paper streamers. Noise makers and banner hats added to the fun. Patrons and patronesses were Captain and Mrs. H. L. Henkle, Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Hickman, Lieut. and Mrs. Hart. Music was furnished by the Blue Devils' and Chuck Collins' orchestras.

SERENADERS NOT WANTED

Serenaders at Oklahoma university have been having a tough time of it lately. A questionnaire circulated among the long suffering women of the university disclosed the following reasons why they dislike serenaders: 1. The boys can't sing. The consensus is that they sound like a bunch of alley cats. 2. They sing "darndest times," one o'clock in the morning is the favorite time. 3. There selection of songs is rather terrible. They pass up love songs and insist on rendering "Minnie the Mocher," and "How're We Ooin'?" Why don't we try a questionnaire here?

WYNN GIVES DEFINITION

Ed Wynn, radio comic, gives the following definition of "College Bread." A chunk of dough with plenty of crumbs and crust mixed together to make a good dough.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

A professor of the University of Chicago gives us a chemical definition of women:

Woman: symbol, WO, a member of the human family.

Occurrence—can be found where men exist.

Physical properties—boils at nothing and may freeze at any moment.

Melts when properly treated.

Very bitter if not used correctly.

Chemical properties—violent action when left alone by man.

Highly explosive and likely to be dangerous in inexperienced hands.

PAWNING HELPS

About two hundred hockshops in New York have the name and address of a wealthy New York man whose hobby is collecting fraternity pins.

When the pawnshop receives a certain pin, the proprietor takes down the pawnner's name and address and then turns the information over to the collector.

After buying the pin, the collector wraps it up in a $100 bill and sends it to the man who pawned it—one of his fraternity brothers.

Co-eds Will Attempt Long Jaunt To Hills on Foot

Here's a chance for these W. A. A. members, and would-be members to prove their right to the title the "Athletic Women" of the campus.

The Women's Athletic association is sponsoring a hike next Sunday. The group will meet at the Women's gymnasium rather early, (definite time in Friday Argonaut), and hike six and one-half miles to Moscow mountain.

Those who succeed in covering that distance will eat lunch near Janssan's park, then attempt to hike back to the city. Dead and injured will be picked up on the return trip. Every one who makes a round trip will have 13 miles to add to her list for the semester.

Each girl will be charged about 20 cents for the lunch.

Idaho Educators Work Together

University Summer School Used by Teachers to Unify Programs

"Idaho probably has the most unified group of educational administrators in the United States," says Dean J. F. Messenger, director of the University of Idaho summer session.

One of the principal reasons for this healthy state of affairs, Dean Messenger believes, is the university's thriving summer school, which each year amounts to a six weeks' educational convention. Last year's record-breaking enrollment of 771 students included 35 out of 44 county superintendents and hundreds of local superintendents, principals, and teachers from all parts of the state.

Informal Discussions

With the Idaho campus as a meeting ground, the school people devote much time and study to their own problems. This has done more than anything else to unify education in Idaho, Dean Messenger states. Recent educational changes in the state follow very closely along lines which leading school teachers themselves discussed and worked out in past summer sessions. Many prominent educational leaders in Idaho consider these informal discussions and contacts so valuable that they attend year after year, long after they have completed work for advanced degrees.

Advanced work in education and public school music will be headlined at this year's session, June 11 to July 19. Five visiting educators will be on the campus, and as before, summer school authorities will encourage "shop talk" in every way possible.

The former Columbia university of Portland is to be known by that name no more. It has been agreed by the authorities of that school that its name in the future will be the University of Portland.

Spur Jitney Dance Set for May 7

National Convention Delegates Bring Back New Ideas

Dorothy Brown and Esther Flenner recounted the events of their trip to the National Spur convention held in Boulder, Col., from April 11 to 14 at informal discussion meeting of the Spurs Wednesday at the Tri-Delt house.

Another Jitney dance will be given in four of the women's group houses, on May 7, by the Spurs. Some novel idea of decoration is being planned, but will not be divulged at the present time. Catherine Bjornstad is the chairman of the dance committee.

The local group has gained many new ideas from the contact with all the chapters, and some of these schemes will be incorporated into the by-laws of the constitution, and handed down to succeeding groups according to plans made at the meeting. The local group will put more emphasis on scholarship when choosing new Spurs in the future, Pan-Hellenic grades being necessary before a freshman girl can be considered eligible for membership into the group.

Next year, the alumnae members plan to wear the regulation uniform with the alumnae emblem, and be more closely connected with the projects of the active group. The local group was complimented at the convention on its financial standing, and on its unique method of pledging new members.

W.A.A. High School Play Day Is Saturday

Annual Affair Will Take Place At Women's Gymnasium May 4; Registration at 9 a. m.

W. A. A. will hold its annual high school play-day Saturday at the Women's gymnasium. About 150 girls are expected from Potlatch, Deary, Troy, Lewiston, Kendrick, Genesee, and Moscow.

Registration will be a 9 o'clock Saturday morning, after which 12 color teams will be selected to play baseball, basketball, field events, organized games, ping pong, and horseshoes. Every team will have one or two representatives from each school since the idea of the play-day is to play together and not against each other.

A lunch, furnished by the athletic association will be served at the Women's gymnasium at 12:30. A program to be presented after lunch will consist of several numbers from Taps and Terpsichore, a tap dance by Jo Betty Wickes, and a reading by Catherine Bjornstad. Swimming and volleyball will wind up the day's activities.

Many 4-H Clubs Organized in 1934

Reardon, State Club Leader, Reports 533 Groups Started

About 533 standard 4-H clubs, embracing livestock, crops, and home economics, were organized in Idaho in 1934 with a membership of 5,212 boys and girls, reports J. H. Reardon, state club leader with the university agricultural extension division, in his annual report. The club program was carried on in 41 of the 44 counties of the state.

The 5,212 boys and girls enrolled in club work produced products with a market value of $47,789, with cost of production amounting to $32,715, leaving a net profit to the club members of $15,074, the club leader reports.

"This is a dollars and cents value only and no estimate can be made of the educational value of the work," he adds.

Enrollment Greater

"The 1934 club enrollment exceeds that of 1933 by 393 and is but slightly below the all-time high of 5,271 for 1932. The 533 local leaders who gave of their time and advice without any financial compensation, were largely responsible for the large number of club members completed their projects," said the club leader. Seventy-two per cent of the clubbers enrolling completed the year's work.

Home economics club members made 20,472 articles of clothing and canned 11,874 jars of food-stuffs. 578 club meetings were held during the year with an attendance of 26,976. Boys and girls in livestock clubs own 1,821 head of stock.

1,675 being purebred animals and 946 being grade. Dairy calf clubs lead in numbers, having 663 animals; 297 being purebred and 456 being grade animals. Sheep clubbers own 533 head; 345 purebred and 188 grade animals.

Six distinct medicines are obtained from the skin of the toad.

THE CRISIS IS ON ITS WAY

Maybe crises don't get on their way, maybe they stay in one place and we go to them, but anyway, the trip the Vandals are taking into Oregon this week is nothing short of one. Six games in seven days, coming after two tough heart-breakers with Washington State, would make any ball club yell "Uncle." The Vandal pitching only fair in the Cougar encounters, will have an even tougher assignment covering all six of the coming battles. Last year Rich's club bogged down on the trip because of the lack of proper pitching talent, the veteran Neil Speirs being unable to save every game. This year, minus the talented "Ace" and with no senior chucker, the club is in even worse straits. The fact that Oregon, whom the Vandals meet first, is cracked up to have two of the best chuckers in some years in Don McFadden and Ron Gemmill, adds nothing to Idaho hopes.

During the squabble over the baseball schedule early this spring Coach Fox did everything in his power to eliminate the "game a day" schedule outlined for the Vandals, but was overruled. The same is true for Washington State. The Cougars meet the Washington Huskies at Seattle on May 3 and 4, move down to Eugene the 6 and 7, and complete their trip at Corvallis the 8 and 9. All of which puts the two Inland Empire clubs in a hole, to the distinct advantage of the coast clubs. Last year the Vandals made a poor showing on the coast trip, but came back to the home ball grounds to win all but two games. Oregon, finally emerging as champion of the division, dropped three out of four games to the Vandals.

HATS OFF TO BARNEY
Anderson again. Barney, called Clarence in more formal circles, gets the hand embroidered silver-plated anchovy fork this time because of a repeat on his performance in the season opener last spring. Last season Barney had practically every prize offered for a first performance in the opener with Washington State. He started out by knocking a three bagger into the identical spot his Friday three-lap hit went to, thereby winning a straw hat. Then he proceeded to add one thing after another to the list, but the odds were against him. A gentle Palouse zephyr whipped a rain cloud out of the blue and splattered it all over the diamond, resulting in "Game called on account of..." you finish it.

Barney saw one prize after another go receding into the realm of "what might have been" but he did get the straw hat piece. This year, as first man at the plate for Idaho, Barney lined out another three bagger for added compensations. From Jerry's, Barney fell heir to a Yello-Bole pipe, the Moscow Barber shop kicked through with a shave and a haircut given for the first score, with the Rexall Drug store furnishing the shaving lotion for the first putout. Hank Schodde and Wally Geraghty came out even with a brace of gifts each. For the first double, Schodde got a buck to his credit at the Moscow Pharmacy, and for the first assist, a Grayco tie from Hossley's. Geraghty received a Woodbury shaving set from the Corner Drug for the first single and a pair of Manito socks from Creighton's, for the first caught fly. Bill "Socrates" Katsilometes annexed a de luxe sport belt from Penny's for the most runs batted in. Four prizes still remain, a billfold from Carter's Drug for the first homer, a box of chocolates from Wright's for the first stolen base, a tie chain from David's to the first winning pitcher and a dollar's worth of photo finishing at Sterner's for the first safe bunt.

SHOP TALK
In spite of the third inning runaway the Cougars pulled on us Friday, the Vandals outplayed them in the largest number of innings. For the next six innings the Cougars were held scoreless, while Idaho got five more runs off the Washington State chuckers. Cy Geraghty expressed himself to Coach Babe Hollingberry in no uncertain terms when the Cougar football coach commented on the playing of Wally Geraghty, Cy's kid brother. Buck Bailey kicked the bats around twice and whistled the outfield in and out in true Baileyan style. ...did you notice his peg to second base? ...Buck catches in an Amarillo, Texas, league every summer. ...Coach Jimmy Phelan, Washington football coach, has a star frosh passer answering to the name of Howard Jones. ...what's the trouble, Southern Cal? ...One might thin Phelan was playing the students until a notice in the Washington Daily tells us to watch out for a gent named Wascowitz from the middle West who is burning hot in the Husky backfield. ...an advance from the Oregon news service tells us the Oregon Webfoots are mediocre in their batting, fielding, and pitching, maybe they have a fine bat boy and play a nice game of golf.

Tennis Notice

All men interested in either varsity or frosh tennis teams will meet tonight in the coaches' office in the Memorial gym at 7:30 o'clock.

New Webfoot Mentors Named

HOWARD HOBSON, SUCCESSOR to Bill Reinhart, Oregon basketball and baseball coach, on the right, and John Warren, new freshman sport mentor, two new members of the University of Oregon coaching staff. Hobson, chosen to take over the duties of the veteran Reinhart, is now athletics director at Southern Oregon Normal school, where his "Sons" have toppled supposedly mightier opponents in all sports repeatedly. Warren, Coach at Astoria high school for the past seven years, has turned out winning teams year after year. Both men are Oregon graduates. Duties for the new coaches will begin next fall.

Fifteen runs in the third inning by Washington State college tossed a wet blanket on the conference baseball opening ceremonies here last Friday. The Cougars bunched their hits and the Vandals bunched their errors to make the inning one of the weirdest seen here in years. But for the numerous runs, the inning would have been featured by three home runs, which under the circumstances nearly went unnoticed. The final score was 20 to 10.

In the return game Saturday at Pullman the two teams settled down to some sane baseball with the Cougars registering their second win, 4 to 2. Timely hitting by Goddard, Schoening, and Robinson accounted for most of the Cougar runs.

Grahek Starts Rally
With the score knotted at five each, Grahek singled in the third inning of the first game to start the merry-go-round that broke up the contest. He advanced to second on a passed ball. Schoening got to first on Geraghty's error and McPhee repeated the procedure to fill the bases. Bishop stepped to the plate, clouted a homer and the music started. Coach Fox used three pitchers during the stanza, Shepard finally stopped the onslaught and held W. S. C. scoreless the remainder of the game.

Wally Geraghty redeemed his Friday erratic fielding by turning in the outstanding performance of the day in the second game. He collected four singles and scored twice in five trips to the plate and had a perfect day in the field.

Bill Black kept the Cougars under control at Pullman until he tired allowing four hits and three runs in the eighth before being replaced by Newton.

Vandal Nine Leaves On Coast Trip

Foxmen To Play Oregon, Oregon State, and Washington

Leaving this morning for a six-game stand on the Coast, Coach Rich Fox and his Vandal baseball club will meet Oregon, Oregon State, and Washington baseball clubs, all in seven days.

As in former years, the big question in the minds of Vandal baseball supporters will be that of the pitching staff. The press of six games in a week's playing time will force an unusual strain on the four Idaho chuckers, Glenn Naslund, Bill Black, Melvin Shepard, and Francis Newton. Judging from the work turned in last weekend, Naslund and Shepard will pitch a good share of the ball.

Meet Webfoot First
Bill Reinhart's Webfoots, last year's champions, will furnish the first opposition, Wednesday and Thursday. The Webfoots, who dropped one and won one in their two games with Oregon State's Beavers last weekend, will be endeavoring to pull out of the slump which characterized their early season play. According to advance notices from Eugene, the Ducks have shown only mediocre ability in fielding, hitting, and pitching in series with Linfield, Tillamette, and Portland, all of which were split.

Don McFadden, steady right-hander who started against Oregon State, will probably take the mound against Lefty Naslund. On Friday and Saturday, May 3 and 4, "Slats" Gill's Oregon Staters will tangle with the Vandals. Sunday, May 5, will be moving day for the Richman. They go from Corvallis to Seattle to play the Washington Huskies on Monday and Tuesday.

Four Catchers Leave
Catchers heading west with the team will be Roy Hanford, John Steward, Joe Wheeler, and Clarence Anderson. Wheeler and Anderson will perform in the outfield, as will Naslund from the pitching staff. Infielders making the trip are Leslie Albee, first base; Steve Summers and Fred Cuoo, second; Wally Geraghty, shortstop; and Henry Schodde, third. Outfielders are Bill Katsilometes and Bill Kleiner.

Varsity Netmen Defeat Frosh in First Match

The Idaho tennis season got off to a flying start last Saturday afternoon with a clean sweep of the varsity prospects over the freshmen racket wielders. Playing for the varsity were P. Martin, Hugh Eldridge, B. Martin, John Wells, Fred McCormick, and Ray Sowder. The freshman lineup included Vern Irvin, Louis Racine, Bob Morely, John Gaskill, Jim McFarland, and Gorky Smith.

Next Saturday will open the conference season for Idaho with W. S. C. as the opponents. The matches will be played on Idaho's courts. The probable return of Ray Sowder to the lineup will bolster Vandal prospects. Each man on the varsity tennis ladder will have to play two matches with men above him this week. The final ladder positions will be the ranking given to players in pairing off with W. S. C.

Bad weather has retarded both the Idaho and W. S. C. season. Both squads, however, have been taking full advantage of the infrequent days of sunshine and are fast getting into shape.

CAMPUS DAY

Campus Day will be held on Wednesday, May 8. Watch The Argonaut for further announcements.
