

Idaho R.O.T.C. Is Inspected By Knabenshue

Fort George Wright Commander Also Makes Awards

Theron Ward Judged Most Outstanding Cadet; Hold Mock Battle

Col. Frederick G. Knabenshue, commander of the fourth infantry at Fort George Wright, Spokane, made the annual inspection of the Idaho R. O. T. C. unit Thursday and Friday. Col. Knabenshue inspected the whole unit Thursday afternoon and made classroom inspection Friday morning. At the closing parade formation Col. Knabenshue presented the awards and medals to the outstanding cadets. To Theron Ward was presented the Sons of the American Revolution medal, awarded by Lt. Charles H. Hart and selected by a board of officers consisting of Gen. Edward R. Chrisman, Maj. A. B. O'Connell, and Capt. H. L. Henkle for the most outstanding cadet in leadership, soldierly bearing, and excellency.

Medal to Warner
Victor Warner received the medal awarded by Major A. B. O'Connell for the best company commander. Ross Sundberg received the medal awarded by Mrs. W. A. Hale in honor of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the best squad leader. Stanley Taylor selected by Lieut. Hart received an award for the outstanding cadet in the first year basic military class.

Col. Knabenshue then made the marksmanship awards. First was the Hearst trophy award for the five high men on the team winning first place in the Ninth corps area which went to Robert Moser, John Crowe, Robert Ames, and Lewis Ensign, and Merle Bowler. A large plaque was also awarded to the university for the rifle team winning third place in the nation for this match. Further marksmanship medals were awarded by the military department for the highest averages during the year. Lewis Ensign received first, John Crowe second, and Robert Ames third. Ames also received a medal for greatest increase in shooting proficiency during the year.

Review Thursday
The review opened Thursday with a personal inspection of the entire regiment. Following this was company, platoon, and squad close order drill. The field was cleared for extended order drill and a whole platoon, went charging and shooting across the field, while the boys at the other end of the field calmly put up their tents, and members of the advanced corps demonstrated the use of the trench mortar, howitzer, and 37 millimeter gun. The field review closed with the presentation of decorations ceremony.

Enemy Routed
At 4 o'clock a report was received that an enemy force had captured the cavalry barns and Companies C and D were detailed to drive them from the position. They formed a skirmish line and advanced but were held up at the railroad tracks by the enemy fire. A flanking patrol was sent around the enemies' left, but it failed to get past Captain Henkle's ice box. Another flanking patrol was sent on the enemy's right and took a position near Morrill hall and with a withering fire drove the enemy into complete rout. The results of the inspection, as it has been customary in the past, are confidential," said Major O'Connell. "All I wish to say at the present time is that the whole regiment looked very well."

Degrees Conferred At Idaho Reaching 5000 Mark

One more commencement after this year and the number of degrees conferred by Idaho will have passed the 5,000 mark. When Pres. M. G. Neale confers the university degree on the last individual in the 1935 graduating class the total will amount to 4,985. Records in the registrar's office indicate that to date the institution has conferred 4,982 degrees. At the 40th annual commencement exercises, June 10, 376 more sheepskins will be bestowed 319 of them being bachelor's degrees, and 57 master's degrees. Of the degrees conferred so far, 4,032 have been bachelor's, 53 master's, and 19 honoraries.

The first degrees conferred by the university were honorary L.L.D. degrees to Governor W. J. McConnell and Attorney-General R. Z. Johnson in 1894. The four members of the class of 1896 received the first degrees conferred for completion of four years of college work. This year's graduating class of 376 approximately equals the total of all graduating classes during the first 20 years of the university's existence.

Forests To Benefit By P.W.A. Program

Will Be No Picnic; Assembly and Dance Are Events of Week

"Lack of funds made the consideration of a Frosh picnic out of the question," reported Sherman Bellwood, general chairman of Frosh Glee week. "However, with the assembly this morning and the all-college Glee, to be held in the Blue Bucket next Friday, we feel that we are definitely re-establishing the Glee week tradition."

Ivar Longetel, chairman of the decoration committee, announced the selection of an original motif for the dance, while it would not be revealed until the time of the dance, it should more than warrant the expectations of those who will see it, he said.

Program Different
Marjorie Blaine, chairman of entertainment committee, promises a card of novel entertainers picked from group houses on the campus. "Some parts of the program," Miss Blaine pointed out, "are absolutely so different from anything thus far presented to the students it will bring the price of admission alone to see them."

Foresters Will Hold
Barbecue Wednesday
Baseball, Food, and Contests to Feature Day's Activities at Randall Flat

Beginning about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning trucks will haul over 100 foresters to Randall flat where the foresters' barbecue will be held. In the morning there will be baseball, the four classes competing. At noon there will be a soup and beans reported to be of excellent quality. In the afternoon the classes will compete in the following events: tree climbing, log-man sawing, one-man sawing, log-chopping, log-rolling, tobacco-splitting, 75-yard dash, yard relay, egg-tossing, three-legged race, hop-step and jump race, and tug o' war.

All foresters who plan to go should get their tickets now if they should not already done so, and have not arranged in Morrison should make arrangements in Morrill hall. Those having 8 o'clock classes are advised to attend them and ride to the scene of action after 9 o'clock. The Monroe doctrine was really the work of John Quincy Adams.

Another well-known educator has been added to the visiting faculty list for the University of Idaho's 1935 summer session, announces Dean J. F. Messenger, director. Dr. N. D. Showalter, state superintendent of public instruction for Washington, has accepted an invitation to give a series of lectures before the county superintendents' short course. He will also discuss educational problems in an address before the general assembly. Dr. Showalter, former president of Cheney normal school, is head of the educational division of the Pacific Northwest regional planning conference. The county superintendents' conference, held the first two weeks of the session, will stress administrative matters. The conference will be under the general supervision of J. W. Scribe's Stomp Springs Surprises

About 250 Couples Torn Between Feenamint and Peanuts

About 250 couples, chewing spearmint, juicy fruit, feenamint, or some other kind of sample gum, danced to Morey O'Donnell's 12-piece band at the Publications ball Friday night in Memorial gymnasium.

The Press club, sponsors of the ball, did their share of free advertising Friday night. No one was slighted. About 30,000 samples—free samples to the Press club, worth 40 cents per person to those attending—were dished up for the crowd. They included anything from an unsharpened "Royal Crystal Salt" pencil to a touch of William's shaving lotion big enough for one dose to the average college boy's underbrush.

Dwain Vincent, Press club president, had a crew passing out paper sacks at the entrance to the gym floor which contained enough gum and life-savers to satisfy the dancers and plenty of free souvenirs to take home. Phil Hiaring, Argonaut sports editor, pitched out a few thousand more samples from the gymnasium balconies during intermission.

Highway Effect
The Press club had the gym looking like a highway entering New York city. Great paper ads of billboard dimensions hung from the sides of the balconies, and fenced the dancers in between Florshelm shoes, Camel cigarettes, and A. C. sparkplugs. Spotlight effects illuminated the ads.

Morey O'Donnell's musicians from Washington's state custodial school at Medical Lake were the highlight of the ball. Besides O'Donnell, other former Idaho students in the band were Benny Lutz and Don Wolfe.

Orchestra Brilliantly Garbed
O'Donnell's boys were dressed in brilliant red Cossack uniforms trimmed in red lace and ornamented with gold and silver colored metal trappings. The orchestra background was constructed of flats secured from the dramatic department.

Toward the end of the ball, students rose up in arms and placed a restriction on posting of billboard signs, meeting the sure fate of all carefully laid dance hall decorations which hang within reaching distance of the dancers' heads.

Daffodils Feature Blue-Cardinal Key Formal Friday

A host of daffodils and Barney Malervich's 12-piece recording orchestra will be featured at the second annual Blue Key-Cardinal Key formal dance Friday night at the S. A. E. house. This dance, which is considered one of the most outstanding and exclusive social events of the year, will be restricted to members and a limited number of guests.

New Members Entertained
The programs will be of red and blue leather with Blue Key and Cardinal Key crests outlined on the leather. The new members of Blue Key will afford the entertainment for the dance during the intermission. The decorations will be daffodils which will cover the walls and ceiling of the formal room of the S. A. E. house.

Zipper Comments
"There is no doubt in my mind that this will be the highlight of the social season," says Carl Moffitt, Blue Key president, "and I would like to see every member of both organizations attend."

Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. George E. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Janssen, and Miss Jean Collette.

IDAHO BOYS SHIP'S BAND

Five present and former Idaho students sailed from Seattle Saturday aboard the "President Jefferson" for a 40-day trip to the Orient as ship's orchestra. The exact itinerary of their voyage has not been learned here. The five making the sailing are: Richard Stanton, 34; Jim Armour, 35; Raymond Vaught, 37; Kermit Woodward, 35; and Bill Baker, 36. They expect to return to Moscow about the end of June.

Masons Hold Statewide Meet Here

Program for Four-Day Conclave Includes Business and Social Affairs

Knights Templar Parade Thursday; National Officer Special Guest

Approximately 150 delegates, including prominent men from every large town in the state, attended the annual state convention of the Grand York Rite Bodies of Masons held in Moscow last week. The four days were crowded with business, election and installation of officers, and social activities. A large number of faculty members took part either as officers or in entertaining the visiting guests. The wives of 28 delegates accompanied them to Moscow and enjoyed a full social program.

Three groups of Masons attended the convention. Tuesday and Wednesday morning were devoted to the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, Wednesday afternoon and evening to the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters, and Thursday and Friday to the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar.

Knights Parade
In connection with the Knights Templar, a parade was held Thursday morning for which the ROTC and the Moscow high school bands played. Spokane Cataract Commandery of Knights Templar sent a drill team of 26 men who helped form an escort for the grand officers parade, exhibited a drill on Main street, and presented the ex-emplification of a full form opening Thursday.

Thursday night the Greek letter fraternities entertained groups of the delegates at dinner. The music department furnished a great part of the entertainment during the convention. A special guest during the convention was Robert A. Woods, a national officer from Indiana. The delegates attended the ROTC inspection Thursday afternoon.

Committee To Choose Annapolis Candidates

Senator Pope Requests That Faculty Members Recommend Four Students

At the requests of James P. Pope, United States senator from Idaho, President M. G. Neale has appointed a committee of three university faculty members to nominate four outstanding young men who would be interested in securing an appointment to the United States Naval academy at Annapolis. The committee consists of Gen. E. R. Chrisman, Dean Ivan C. Crawford of the College of Engineering; and Major A. B. O'Connell.

Senator Pope informed President Neale that he had been requested by the Navy department to name a principal and three alternates to Annapolis by May 29. Since there is insufficient time to hold a civil service examination or to correspond with all interested he asked that President Neale appoint a committee to make recommendations for Idaho. Senator Pope has written to various educational institutions in the state calling the matter to their attention and inviting their candidates to contact General Chrisman's committee.

Apply Immediately
"In order that Senator Pope may have the information in ample time to make his recommendations by May 29, it will be necessary for all university men interested in this appointment to file applications with the committee immediately," said President Neale today. "The committee plans to send its list to Senator Pope by May 20." The age limit on these appointments is a minimum of 16 years and a maximum of 20 years of age. All candidates must be capable of passing the Naval academy physical examination. All candidates not designated by the Idaho recommending committee will have an opportunity to participate in a competitive examination for another appointment next year, Senator Pope indicates.

Wesley Foundation Holds Annual Senior Banquet

The Wesley Foundation held its annual senior banquet at the Methodist church Friday at 6 o'clock.

Dr. J. Edgar Purdy, pastor of the Methodist church, gave the invocation after which Kenneth Hubert, toastmaster, introduced the scheme of toasts for the evening. The theme was a trial charging the seniors with leaving the Wesley Foundation. Those participating were Martha Allen, Robert Walker, Ed Davis, Peggy Johnson, Glen Craig, and Weldon Flint. Prof. J. Hugo Johnson, head of the department of electrical engineering, and Dr. W. Wayne Smith, professor of education, each spoke a few words.

Gertrude Gehrke and Wilma Mitchell presented musical selections. Mildred Carson, had charge of the program and Minnie Henderson planned the banquet. Next Sunday is to be Wesley Foundation mountain Sunday. The day is to be spent in the mountains. There will be services at six o'clock and at 2 o'clock. A picnic breakfast and a dinner will be served. While this is especially for members, others are invited to attend.

Idaho Alumna Is Author of Poetry

Sarah Trousdale Mallory Has Book Published By Caxton Printers

Dr. G. M. Miller, head of the English department, has just received an advance copy from the Caxton Printers of "Mnemonic and Other Verses" by Sarah Trousdale Mallory.

Sarah Trousdale will be remembered as a prominent English major in the university who received her B. A. degree in 1927. She showed some gift for poetry during her college days. Since she left Idaho she has taught in the schools of Ogden, Utah, and later she became an instructor in English at the University of Wyoming. She later married Prof. Louis A. Mallory of the department of speech at the University of Wyoming.

Includes Illustrations
The new volume of verse by Mrs. Mallory acknowledges as sources of the collection such periodicals as Poetry World, Poet Lore, The Salt Lake Tribune, The New York Post, and the Delineator. The make-up of the book includes symbolic illustrations at the top of each page by Miss Eugenia Smith. There are 49 poems in the book, most of them constituted of a single stanza. "Without question," Dr. Miller reports enthusiastically, "Sarah Trousdale is a poet. She has the gift of words, the gift of imagination, combined with the gift of common sense."

Sigma Xi Honors Idaho Students

National Scientific Honorary Awards Associate Memberships To Eight Undergraduates

Eleven promising young scientists were honored here this week with associate membership in the Idaho chapter of Sigma Xi, high-ranking national honorary scientific fraternity.

Few college honors mean as much as full membership in Sigma Xi, which must be earned by doing some original scientific research, as measured by publication of results in a recognized scientific journal. Associate membership is granted to outstanding technical students who give promise of future achievements along scientific lines. Seniors chosen for associate membership this year include Elwood Lee, agriculture; Edwin Fricke, physics; Harold Ellingson, bacteriology; Frank H. Peavey, civil engineering; S. Branch Walker, chemical engineering; John L. Schwendiman, agriculture; T. S. Buchanan, forestry; Arthur G. Schwartzhauer, civil engineering.

Three Graduate Students
Also included were three graduate students: D. Clyde Snyder, chemistry; J. L. McCarthy, wood chemistry; and S. A. Madarang, plant pathology.

Full membership was approved for five faculty members and Robert L. Fisher, who was graduated last year. The society's Idaho chapter, installed in 1922, now has more than 60 resident members, the majority on the faculty.

Yellow Sheet Shocks Campus With Satire

Orchids and Black Eyes Tossed Without Much Partiality

Staff Members Request Their Names to Remain Unknown

Satirizing the Idaho campus and its reputable highlights, The Maiden's Moan, Theta Sigma Argonaut, made its "startling" appearance last Friday. The literary yellow sheet has been assiduously poured over by indignant and amused members of the student body and faculty on the alert for black eyes and orchids. The identities of the staff members have been kept invariably secret in order to avoid too much approbation for these subtle and sagacious students, or maybe too many ancient egos. It all depends on how you feel about it.

Campus Outie

Perhaps the most enthusiasm was shown over the breath-taking account of the time-honored traditions of Campus day, as observed by one remarkably dumb "campus outie." The Campus day committee expresses the profound hope that the events were universally enjoyed to this extent.

The infirmary list came as a shock to the nurses and inmates of that institution as well as to the persons listed, who have been ambled about in something of a daze since election day anyway, "not quite sure as to their whereabouts." Advice to the Love-lorn was well patronized by the better known people about the campus, with rather disappointing results. The less judicious people made their usual bow in Hawk-eye, operating under the alias of Sock-Eye.

Tiddley Winks Prevail
The sports writers are being bombarded by ardent sportsmen for the entry rules into the tiddley winks tournament and the outcome of the classic wrestling match between Berg and Little. Thus far the writers have refused to talk.

But whether you were insulted by being included or your feelings hurt because you were left out, remember how history repeats, and that there will be another issue next year. There's always always hope! This year's members of Theta Sigma are Mary Kay Riley, Marjorie Druding, Mildred Carson, Marion Johnson, Virginia Merrick, Eileen Kennedy, Elva Anderson, Phyllis Peterson, and Marjorie Wurster.

Mortar Board Holds Initiation of Six Monday

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, held initiation Monday morning for the six girls who were pledged to the group on Campus Day. Initiation was held at 6 o'clock in the morning near the bench in front of the Music hall. After initiation, the old and new members held a breakfast at the Blue Bucket Inn. Ruth Farley, Dorothy Preuss, Ruth Ferny, Wilma Mitchell, Dorothy Dole, and Hazel Gentry were the women initiated into the next year's group.

Last of One-Act Plays To Be Given Tonight

U. Hut Scene of Zona Gale's Human Interest Drama "Uncle Jimmy"

The last of the series of one-act plays will be presented in the U Hut Tuesday evening at 7:30. The play which has been chosen is Zona Gale's "Uncle Jimmy," a human interest play dealing with the ambition of the leading character to travel and the outcome of his aspirations.

The cast includes John Barker, Uncle Jimmy; Dorothy Brown, Calliope; Bea Jane Fisher, Mrs. Sikes; Margaret Quist, Mrs. Toplady; Elizabeth Bodwell, Grandma; Cecil Baker, Uncle Rod; and Andrew James, Josef.

The action takes place in the early morning hours in the backyard between the homes of Mrs. Toplady and Calliope. The program will also feature a verse speaking choir, about half of the poems being those by Rupert Brooke. The plays are given Tuesday this week so as not to conflict with the senior recital of Martha Jean Rehberg on Thursday.

Brother, You Can't Spare A Dime

Turning aside all arguments with a nonchalant smile, a dime isn't much to gamble, and never stopping to figure out just how the system works...

Dr. Fountain's logic is convincing. "If there were just one chain and it was confined to Davidson county and if everyone was fair about it," he finally concluded, "everybody in the county would eventually get 15,000 dimes."

But in order to bring that about the chain would have to keep spreading until it reaches everyone 15,000 times, when each person will have to give back all the dimes he takes in.

But regardless of these and similar conclusions which could be reached by anyone, members of the "Prosperity club" continue to trust in God and human goodwill, Uncle Sam gets two or three cents every time some one gets a dime, and each chain becomes a network that assumes surprising magnitude.

Educational Meditations

A calm, dreamy meditation on school and college education leaves in the mind an impression of many courses rolling onward like waves only to recede and be forgotten in the succession of other waves which are rolling in their place.

In college the solution would seem to lie in the correlation of courses and comprehensive examinations in the various fields. Correlation is doubtless a hazy conception both as to practicability and feasibility, but in certain types of work it can be used, subject of course to cooperation between departments.

The German idea of exhaustive examinations at the end of the school career demands that a student know all his mathematics, not just the work covered in the last year. This seems a far more sane and logical method than the American one, and this country might profit by the example.

must in part account for the relaxing of admission requirements in many colleges, and the schools might well take account of this fact. American methods must certainly progress toward more unified education.

CAMPUS ENLARGED

The University of Idaho summer school for the coming season will have 42 faculty members and officers of administration, many of whom are from the present faculty, according to an announcement. The faculty has been increased this year due to the ever increasing number of summer school students. The figures for the number of students since 1932 are: 1932—536 students; 1933—537 students; and 1934—771 students.

Applying more water than the root zone is able to hold is wasteful, as the excess percolates below the root zone where it is useless. When the root zone reservoir is emptied below a certain point, crops cannot extract moisture fast enough, and therefore wilt. Between these two extremes the crop can grow normally.

The object of all irrigation, Mr. Kulp explains, is to keep moisture in the root zone at the proper level. Some crops grow best with light, frequent irrigations. Others do well with heavier and less frequent wettings. Start the crop with the ground reservoir full and try to bring it back to this point at each irrigation, advises Mr. Kulp.

Hints To Men from Style

There are an amazingly large number of different points to be considered when buying a shirt. The popularity of color in shirts is growing with each successive season. Of course, there will always be men who feel best in a white shirt just as there will always be men who feel that a starched collar is the only kind to wear.

And as for cuffs, again there are points to consider. The single cuff is very popular. A new cuff design that has appeared has a two button arrangement and is cut back so that it is quite tight fitting if desired. The snug, neat effect will have many devotees.

As for individual preference in shirt details, there are those with pleated and stiffened bosoms, others with quite definite fullness shirred under the back yoke for greater play and freedom and still others with button or pin arrangements for keeping the collar tabs down flat.

SPRING FORMALS and informals are in the air, with formal dinners in evidence this weekend. Delta Delta Delta held a formal dinner Saturday at the chapter house, Alpha Phi and Ridenbaugh held formal dances, and the annual Military ball, with all its full dress uniforms, was held Saturday at the blue Bucket Inn.

Many of the group houses entertained mothers in honor of Mother's day at dinners or fire-sides Sunday.

Ridenbaugh Formal
Held Friday
Ridenbaugh hall entertained at a spring formal Friday night. Decorations were in keeping with spring atmosphere with trellis work surrounding the dancing room. Liliacs covered an arch near the doorway, and tulips were placed about the room. Programs were of the celluloid backing with a silhouette on the front. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Poulton, and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Janssen. A. C. Whitaker's orchestra furnished the music.

Elizabeth Campus Bryn Mawr

From Vogue

This is the first of a series of impressions of the leading women's colleges in America.

Modes and Manners: The general outline of life in the bigger colleges is fairly similar. But each campus has its superstitions, its habits, its traditions. None more so than Bryn Mawr, where the Elizabethan conventions are deep-seated. May day is one of them. To quote the handbook: "At 6 o'clock on May day morning, the sophomores leave May baskets on the seniors' doors. Then the seniors, wearing cap and gown and carrying their baskets, two by two, sing 'The Hunt Is Up,' to the president's house and present her with a May basket. At 7 o'clock they sing the Magdalen College Latin hymn from the top of Rock tower. As they come down the stairs the senior president is crowned May queen by the sophomore president.

After breakfast there is dancing around the May poles on Merion Green, the president presents a necklace to the May queen. The entire college then goes to chapel to hear the announcements of the scholarships. Afterwards the seniors roll hoops down Senior Row and present them to lower classes. Following this the different classes form a quadrangle and sing their May day songs."

After dark: Girls who stay but after 10:30 have to have permission from one of the board of student self-government, whence all these rules and their enforcement issue. (Bryn Mawr was the first college to be governed intramurally by its student body.) The board is very explicit about the night-hours. A girl can stay out until 11:15 if she eats in the village, escorted; till 12:15 for movies, theatre and concerts in Philadelphia; till 2 for private parties or informal dancing at any reputable place; and till 3 (what glory) for formal dances.—R. High School Seniors Aspire to Attend University of Idaho

If the world progresses with education, the state of Idaho is going upward rapidly. Approximately 75 per cent of the high school seniors who will receive diplomas next month aspire to go on to college. It was found in a survey conducted by the University of Idaho publications department. Every spring the university conducts a statewide senior intentions survey, reports O. A. Fitzgerald, university editor. Graduating seniors are asked to indicate what institutions they desired to attend and what fields of study hold most appeal. This year data was secured on 4766 seniors, the list representing all but a few of the smaller schools of the state. Of this number 3579 desire to go to college, the big majority preferring Idaho institutions.

Survey Is Indicator
If this senior intentions survey is a barometer and it has functioned as such in the past—the University of Idaho might as well start now preparing for another increase in enrollment next fall. In this survey 1271 seniors expressed a desire to attend the university at Moscow. This number represents an increase of 133 over the number of seniors expressing University of Idaho preference in 1934, and last fall's enrollment, it will be recalled, established an all-time high. In 1933, continues Fitzgerald, the number indicating the university as their preference numbered 473.

Besides the 1271 seniors who want to come to Moscow, approximately 1500 other young men and women, a large percentage of them being residents of other states, have written to various divisions of the university requesting general information about the institution. Should all of these prospective students show up next fall the old woman who lived in the shoe would have a minor housing problem compared to that of the university officials, as the new students would number more than the total enrollment for the present year.

Business Interests Many
Perhaps sensing improved business conditions, students who indicated preference for business administration outnumber all other groups. Engineering professions rank second and teaching third. (Showing a marked increase, is the number of air-minded students who would like to take aviation. Forestry, the division of the university which showed the spectacular increase in enrollment this year, also is attracting more preferences. Here is how the 4766 seniors would be grouped on a subject preference basis: —business, 916; engineering, 672; teaching, 456; nursing, 305; forestry, 232; home economics, 200; agriculture, 197; music, 162; aviation, 135; journalism, 94; law, 86; physical education, 78; medical or dental, 73; art or architecture, 54; pharmacy, 46; miscellaneous, 43; mining, 30; no preference given, 1053.

School of Mines Can't Supply 'Nuff Graduates

Inability to supply enough trained mining men to meet recent demands is the pleasant predicament confronting A. W. Fahrenwald, dean of the School of Mines. Substantial improvements in the mining industry have been reflected in the number of calls coming to the school of mines this year for trained mining engineers, metallurgists, and geologists. Particularly this is true of gold and silver mining, Dean Fahrenwald explained, as the majority of requests for men have been from gold and silver operators in the northwest.

Seven in South America
Happier days in the mining industry are not confined to the northwest by any means, Dean Fahrenwald added. Idaho graduates have been placed in positions in other mining districts this year, seven in South America. Most of the calls specify some practical experience in addition to technical training. To meet this situation, and to better fit younger graduates for future positions, Dean Fahrenwald is loading seniors in his division with extra work of a practical nature that does not appear in their course of study. Experience plus the finest of theoretical training must be the equipment of men who fill the more responsible positions, he said.

"No Queens At Soph Frolic" Three Committeemen Faint

"There will be no queen chosen at the Sophomore frolic," said Fred Campbell, general chairman. Three committee members fainted. This is believed to be a strictly original feature, as it is probably the first "queenless" dance to be held on the campus this year.

Flowers—everything from pansies to dandelions will transform the Blue Bucket into a virtual flower garden on May 25. Birds (the feathered variety) will be encouraged to build nests in the trees, and even a cloud or two may drift in. Realizing that competition with the arboretum may be pretty strong, the committee will place tickets on sale at 40 cents a couple. Blankets and pillows must be checked at the door. Clyde Koontz is chairman of the decorations. Other committee chairmen are: Dorothy Rosevear, programs; Roy Gray, entertainments; Leroy Willmore, tickets; and Barbara Lipps, orchestra. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Janssen, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Voelker.

Educators Will Meet In South

Educators Will Gather From Outstanding Colleges of United States

Kentucky, New York, Washington, and California will have prominent educational representatives at the University of Idaho summer school faculty June 11 to July 19. Courses in school administration and supervision will be given by Dr. John Julius Oppenheimer, dean of the college of liberal arts at the University of Louisville, Kentucky. Elementary principles and teachers will take special work under Miss Rebecca Coffin, principal of the elementary division of the Lincoln school of teachers college, Columbia university, New York.

Prominent Westerners
Western representatives on the visiting quartet will be Dr. C. C. Maxey, professor of political science at Whitman college, Walla Walla, Wash., and Dr. J. W. Harris, dean of the college of education at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, Cal. Dr. Harris comes to Idaho for his fifth summer term. Advanced work in education has been featured in Idaho summer sessions for a number of years. Out of last summer's record-breaking registration of 771 students, 312 were taking graduate work, the majority working toward masters' degrees in education.

Timber Work Will Be Continued in Idaho

Northern Idaho and other timbered areas are in line for unprecedented forestry activity under the new federal public works program, believes Roy Headley, assistant to the chief of the U. S. forest service at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Headley, a former Idaho student, was called west by the death of his father. During a brief visit on the Idaho campus, he explained that rumors current in the national capital credited the forest service with a relief appropriation that would mean a program eight times the magnitude of the one handled with NIRA funds. This, he said, would be in addition to the already increased CCC program.

Await Word
Awaiting official word, the forest service is ready to start organizing for whatever program the president's relief plans designate. If the rumored appropriation materializes, the forest service will be strained to the utmost.

Idaho's share in the increased forestry activities, would include continuation of the campaign against white pine blister rust. Mr. Headley said the forest service hoped, if possible, this summer to do its share to finish the first pulling of wild currant and gooseberry bushes, secondary hosts for the blister rust spores. Fire protection work, such as building trails, telephone lines and roads, will be continued. Much has already been done along this line.

PENNEY'S

Idaho Nine Blanks Cougars, 7 to 0; Play Again Today

Bill Black's Air-Tight Pitching Largely Responsible for Victory

By Eddie Mayer

nicked for only one solid hit, the other two being scored as scratch blows.

The two teams are scheduled to meet here this afternoon in the fourth and final game of the series. The Cougars hold the edge thus far with two wins and one loss. Glen "Lefty" Naslund or Francis Newton are expected to get the call for the pitching assignment.

In yesterday's game Joe Wheeler poled a long low drive in the eighth inning which went over Kranc's head in centerfield for a home run, scoring Summers and Schodde. The drive was the most spectacular hit of the day.

Dispute Over Out

A near riot took place just previous to Wheeler's sensational clout when Umpire "Dutch" Altman found it difficult to make a decision on Kranc's catch in center field of Albee's high fly. Geraghty opened the inning by grounding out to second. Then Katsilometes singled and stole second. Albee stepped up and drove the ball over Kranc's head but he raced back, climbing the bank, to catch the ball down near his knees. The putout was made so deep in the field and was obscured by one of the other Cougar fielders who came over for the ball, making it difficult to determine whether the ball was really caught or not. Katsilometes held his base and then scored on the throw in, aided by a bobble by Tiefel, W. S. C. short stop, on the relay to the plate.

At first Altman planned to send Katsilometes back to second base but after a bitter argument, in which players of both teams took part, the run was allowed and Albee was declared out. Schodde and Summers then singled setting the stage for the game's only home run.

Singles in the sixth by Barney Anderson, Bill Katsilometes, and Bill Schodde and a double by Albee accounted for Idaho's other three tallies.

Cougars Hit in Second

The Cougars got credit for their first hit in the second inning when Grayhek grounded to second base and Summers bobbled, having started toward the bag on the hit and then having to double back in order to field the ball. Bishop got the only clean hit in the third inning when he singled to left field. In his next trip to the plate he got an infield scratch hit when his drive caromed off Black's glove.

Bill Kleiner, who had a busy day in left field for the Vandals, turned in a catch on Goddard's terrific clout in the third that rivaled Kranc's catch for the Cougars. Kleiner had to run into deep left center in order to make the putout.

All Departments Clicked

This game marked the first time this season that Idaho's pitching, fielding, and hitting have all clicked on the same day. Only two errors, one by Geraghty and one by Schodde, neither costly, were chalked against the Vandals. Nine hits were garnered off the offerings of Herrold, W. S. C. pitcher, who won over the Vandals in the season's opener here. Four of the blows came in the sixth, four in the eighth, and one in the ninth.

Clapp Appointed Bank Assistant

Lawrence College Football Coach Will Be Here Next Year

Percy Clapp, head football coach and chairman of the physical education department at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., will be a second assistant on Coach Ted Bank's athletic staff, said President M. G. Neale today. The appointment of Bob Tessier of Tulane university, who assisted Coach Bank with spring practice, was announced last week.

Clapp, whose appointment was approved by the board of regents at their meeting in Boise last week, will have the title of professor of physical education and assistant coach. His appointment is effective September.

Minnesota Grad

Well known in eastern coaching ranks, Clapp is a former University of Minnesota football star, playing guard in 1923 and 1924. Graduating in 1925, he went to Milwaukee Teachers college to become director of athletics and head football and track coach. His football team won the state championship four years and his track team three. Since 1931, he has been head football coach and has been in charge of intramural athletics and physical education courses at Lawrence college. Last fall, his football team won the state championship.

"Real Leader"
He received his M. S. degree in physical education from New York university in 1932. Jay B. Nash, chairman of the physical education department at New York university in his recommendation to President Neale, declared that Clapp "is a real leader of young men. He has the educational attitude toward athletics and will show excellent cooperation."

Lambda Chi Wins Intramural Track Meet; Shot Record Falls

Lambda Chi Alpha, scoring 34 points, won the university intramural track championship last Wednesday, leading the second place group, Alpha Tau Omega, by eight and one-seventh points. Ridenbaugh tallied third with 21 and five-sevenths, and Phi Delta Theta came in fourth with 16 and six-sevenths.

Donald Johnson, Ridenbaugh hall, capped individual performances with wins in the shot put and discus, heaving the shot 41 feet nine inches and throwing the discus 116 feet. The shot put broke the intramural record set three years ago by Ap Berg.

Kramer Stars

Bill Kramer, Phi Delta Theta, took his share of the field events with first places in the high and broad jumps, winning the high on a 5 foot 9 inch spring, and the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 9 inch, a foot farther than his nearest competitor.

Kantola, Lambda Chi, added to that house's win total with firsts in the 220 and quartermile, making the last event in the remarkably good time of :52.6. He took the 220-yard dash in :23.5.

Of the two remaining field events, Gardner, Delta Chi, won the pole vault with a 10 foot 6 inch jump, while Joe Lade, Ridenbaugh, took the javelin throw at 156 feet 5 inches.

Chatterton Wins Dash

In the sprints, Chatterton, Beta, won the 50-yard dash in :5.9 seconds. The 100-yard dash was made in :10.4 by Kenally, A. T. O.

Probst, A. T. O., added his name to the list of those who won in two events with first in both the mile and 880, making the first in 4:44.4 and the second in fast time, 2:07.7.

Clouser, Phi Gam, won the 80-yard high hurdles in :11.5 seconds, and Kenworthy took the lows for the Lambda Chis in :14.4. The relay was won by Lambda Chi in 1:37.4.

Lewiston Indians Lose Contest To Vandals

Potent bats of Barney Anderson and Bill Kleiner proved too much for the Lewiston Indians Friday, when the Vandals walked the Idaho-Washington league leaders 7 to 5 at Lewiston. Though out-hit 13 to 10, the Richmen bunched their payoffs pokes sufficiently to lead the Lewiston club to the final inning. The Indians were unable to hit at crucial moments, several of their men dying on base.

Kleiner Gets Homers

Two home runs and a double by Kleiner tallied a .750 percentage for the Vandal slugger, both circuit clouts being long smashes to left center. Barney Anderson hit safely three times out of his four trips to the plate for another .750.

Idaho Clicks

Idaho opened the scoring in the first, garnering a single run. In the second a walk, an error and a hit brought two runs for Lewiston. Tying the score in the third, the Idaho lads marched on with two markers in the fourth, one in the fifth, and two more in the seventh. Lewiston threatened in each of three final innings earning a run in each stanza, but lacked the punch for the much-needed rally.

Oregon State Takes Top Position with Win over Huskies

Huskies Defeat Idaho in Last Game of Coast Series

Mixing up two walks, two errors, and two hits for three runs in the seventh inning, the Washington Huskies beat Idaho 8 to 7 last Tuesday in the last game of the Vandal road trip.

The Huskies tallied three times in the third, but Idaho came from behind to take a 6 to 5 lead in the first of the seventh, only to have the Huskies score the winning runs in that stanza for the seventh defeat in the eight games away from home games.

Each team used three pitchers in the poorly played game. Hewson of Washington got three singles in three trips to the plate for 1.000 per cent, the only shining performance of the day.

Frosh Track Men Lose to W. S. C. Saturday

Faring little better than their varsity elders, the Vandal frosh track squad was defeated by the Washington state freshmen 14 to 25, Saturday at Pullman.

Fairly good times were turned in by the yearling trackmen, the most outstanding being the 10.1 century turned in by Ledford, W. S. C. and the 4:36.6 mile pulled down by another Cougar frosh, Scherrer.

100-yard dash—Ledford, W. S. C., first; Peddichord, W. S. C., second; Kennally, Idaho, third. Time, :10.1.

440-yard dash—Orr, W. S. C., first; Probst, Idaho, second; Crow, W. S. C., third. Time, 4:36.6.

Shot put—Johnson, Idaho, first; 44 feet 4½ inches; Sabutis, W. S. C., second, 44 feet ½ inch; Hokanson, Idaho, third, 40 feet 1 inch.

440-yard dash—Orr, W. S. C., first; Kantola, Idaho, second; Harrington, W. S. C., third. Time, :40.7.

120-yard high hurdles—Decker, W. S. C., first; A. Smith, W. S. C., second; Peacock, Idaho, third. Time, :16.3.

The O. S. C. sluggers collected 21 safe hits off Kohles and Daly of Washington. Meanwhile, Boyd Rasmussen held the Huskies to six hits, three of which were concentrated by Dawes, Erickson, and Marlowe for three runs in the ninth inning.

Pearson Wins Only Idaho First in Two-Mile Event

The W. S. C. track team romped over the Idaho Vandals at Pullman, Saturday garnering 95 points to Idaho's 36, and winning all firsts except the two-mile run.

In the two-mile, Rodney Pearson came in 125 yards ahead of the nearest Washington State man, being clocked at 10 minutes 4.2 seconds. Bill O'Neill took second in both the mile and two-mile.

Jack Sharp, Who Took Second in the Pole Vault, Was Going Strong at 12 Feet 6 Inches when He Cracked His Knee Against the Vaulting Pole and Was Unable to Get a Good Running Start.

The score didn't tell the whole story of the meet or some of the events which were closely contested. Bill O'Neill came in only a few steps behind Carraker of Washington State to be clocked at 4:27.3 which is about one second slower than the Idaho record for the mile.

Stew Brown turned in his best time this season, running the half-mile in 1:59.4, and Don Klingler showed decided improvement in stepping the same race in 2:01.8. Theron Ward, who garnered a second in the 100-yard dash, has so far failed to show as well as he did last year.

Considering the fine array of men we were up against," stated Coach Otto Anderson, "I feel the boys did very well. They put all they had into it and you can't expect any more than that from anyone. There were some mighty close events that the score doesn't indicate."

Bank Gives Boise Alums Dope on Grid Situation

Down in Louisiana they leave the bragging to Huey Long. Coach Ted Bank, late of Tulane and now skipper of a renovated Vandal gridiron ship, is not tooting his horn or making any pretty statements about what Idaho is going to do to Washington State college and such next autumn.

The little coach and his big blond assistant, Bob Tessier—laid their cards on the table Thursday evening for the benefit of 100 Boise alumni, perennial football wolves, and everybody else who wanted to know what's what in a touchdown way at Moscow. They are Louisiana bound at the end of a grueling spring football workout. Practice was wound up Wednesday afternoon with a game between two picked teams.

Bank Are Good

Two factors are paramount in the fall outlook for the coaches here the true picture. The line, they were frank to admit, is a coach's nightmare. The backfield is another story. The gentlemen who carry the ball are going great guns.

"I have never worked with a more willing bunch of boys than this squad of Idaho players," Bank said at the powwow in the Owyhee hotel. "They have plenty of the spirit that it takes. We have worked them hard. They kept at it without a grumble. If grit and determination count, there's going to be a team come out of the north this year that ought to make you proud."

The new coach learned his football at Michigan under Yost, drew a round of applause when he said he would not run his team according to the dictates of any hot-stove leaguers.

"The downtown coaching staff is going to lay off," he said. "That's the kind of co-operation we need. The coaching will be done on the field by the athletic staff."

"As for men, I have an idea there will be a couple of backfield combinations that will go places. They have been looking good this spring. If a line can be whipped up to go with them chances will look much better."

"Don't ask me if we are going to beat W.S.C. Down in Louisiana we leave all the bragging to Huey Long. Incidentally, I am glad to be
