

Yearbook To Be Out June 1, Says Editor

1935 Gem of the Mountains Utilizes Many Pictures

Illustrations Show Campus Life in Action; "Idaho", Cover Feature

Contrary to the Maiden's Moan, 1,500 Gems of the Mountains, Idaho's year book, will appear June 1, just in time to offer a little variety to the crash of semester examinations. From Robert Herrick, editor, and Maurice Malin, associate editor, comes this official report.

MAURICE MALIN

"If the Gems arrive June 3 instead of June 1, as expected," Malin drawled yesterday, "well, ... well, they'll just be late, that's all."

Malin returned from Boise Tuesday night leaving editor Herrick to finish supervising the publication.

Brimming with tales of a red and black color scheme, he declared there more than 1400 individuals' pictures, 300 more than ever before, and chattered in general about a big Idaho scheme.

Use Black "I"

"The Gem's secret in the artistic treatment of the block letter 'I', which appears on Idaho athletic sweaters," Malin explained. Malin, pinch-hitting the explanation of the Gem in the absence of Herrick, declared that the Gem's purpose has been to catch campus life in action instead of a book-full of formal pictures.

"Instead of a posing group of basketball players standing in a line," he said, "the camera has caught the teams in fast action—fast—the women's teams, as well as the men's."

Use Three-Color Process
A three-color process, recently perfected for use in annuals, has worked its way into the main divisions of the Gem, according to Malin. Each of the seven main sections in the book has four picture pages in this new feature. Each department, of course, runs its general and specific write-ups.

"The Gem's set-up is based more on photography than the art schemes of last year," Malin announced. The Gem's cover, an "Idaho" idea, has been designed by H. O. Berger company, Chicago. Engraving has been done by the Western Engraving company of Seattle; the Syms-York company, Boise, is now printing the books.

Bucket To Be Decorated as Spring Garden, Says General Chairman

Sophomores who are in the "know" are of the opinion that the annual Sophomore Frolic this week-end is going to be a "wow." "Spring flowers and little plants are practically beginning to grow in the Blue Bucket Inn already in preparation for the dance," said Fred Campbell, general chairman.

Fred Rasmussen, president of the class, said: "This dance has been a tradition with the Sophomores of the university ever since classes were organized. We think that the dance this year will be one of the best ever given."

Greek Flowers on Program
"Every loyal Greek will recognize the floral emblem of his house on the programs, for the dances have been named for the fraternity and sorority flowers," said Dorothy Rosevear, chairman of the program committee. The programs are cut in the shape of a flower, in blue and gold. They will be given out all day Friday and Saturday by the men, who sell the tickets.

LeRoy Willmore, who is chairman of the ticket committee, has appointed an outstanding sophomore man in each group house to be in charge of the ticket sale. Unaffiliated men may buy tickets at Hodgins.

Tickets Are 40 Cents
"The tickets are only 40 cents a couple," he said, "which should appeal to most of the fellows, particularly at this time of the year."

He Pulls Out of Holes

DON McFADDEN, WHOSE PITCHING ability saved the Webfoots their games with the Vandals yesterday and Wednesday. Touted as one of the best chuckers of last year's season, McFadden has been heralded as the conference's outstanding pitcher this spring, although he failed to impress Idaho critics until his ninth inning stands in both games.

SENIOR CLASSES NOT DISMISSED

Contrary to the popular idea that seniors are exempted from class attendance during the coming week, there is no written rule which so states, according to officials in the registrar's office. Whether or not they go to their classes is left up to the individual and to the instructor. Seniors, are, however, excused when a class conflicts with a scheduled senior examination.

Administration officials cautioned seniors to attend classes as much as possible, in order that they not miss important summaries and reviews of the semester's work to which many instructors will be devoting this last week.

Alice Bell Awarded A.W.S. Scholarship

Cardinal Key Pledges Six Women; President Dole Gives Report

Alice Bell, senior in music education, was presented with the A. W. S. scholarship award for 1935 at the organization's last meeting of the year last night. The scholarship is given to a university senior woman who is outstanding in her line and who shows promise to go further in her studies. This is the first year that this scholarship award has been made by the Associated Women students.

Miss Bell was chosen by the A. W. S. cabinet to receive the award and it was presented by Ethlyn O'Neale, retiring president.

The scholarship will be given each year if sufficient funds are available, to a senior woman who is capable of advanced study. The scholarship must be used for graduate study.

Pledge Six to Honorary
Miss Bell hopes to use the money to go to the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia next year. She does not definitely know as yet whether she will be able to go.

Six women were tapped for Cardinal Key, upperclasswomen's service honorary, for next year. The following were pledged: Mary Jane Pace, Eleanor Stewart, Vivian Noyer, Mildred Carson, Ellen Kennedy, and Betty Bandelin.

Dorothy Dole Reports
Officers for the coming year were also installed, and Dorothy Dole, the new president, gave a report on the national convention held at the University of Indiana in April. The new A. W. S. cabinet was introduced and Betty Bandelin was installed as big sister chairman for the coming year.

A short program consisted of songs by the Alpha Chi Omega quartet and readings by Thillie Jeppeson and Pamela Persons.

D.T.G. To Hold Picnic At Randall Flats

Maxine Hoffmann Is Chairman For Dance at Troy Pavilion After Wednesday's Picnic

"This is one picnic-dance when the treat is on the women," said Gertrude Olesen, president of Delta Teth Gimmel, speaking of the annual picnic-dance which is to be held next week.

Beginning after the afternoon classes on Wednesday the picnic will be held at Randall Flats on the Troy road. Each girl will provide the picnic supper for herself and her date, and ice cream and coffee will be furnished by the organization.

The dance will be held in the Troy Pavilion starting about 8 o'clock. Chuck Collins has promised music fitting for the picnic atmosphere.

"Come as you are," said Maxine Hoffmann, who has charge of the dance. "That is the slogan for the entire day. The only requirement is that you come prepared to have a good time, aside, of course, from the requirement that the girls present their tickets at the door."

Tickets will be on sale in the library by the following committee: Maxine Hoffmann, Laura McGrath, Dorothy Hodge, and Lois Savage. Programs will be given out upon the payment of $1.

LaRene Richards, member of the alumnae chapter, was elected at the meeting to be the alumnae representative in the active chapter for the coming year.

Earl Bopp Will Head Blue Key

New Officers Chosen at Service Honorary Meeting Thursday

Earl Bopp was elected president of Blue Key, national upperclassmen's service honorary, at a meeting held at the Blue Bucket Thursday noon. His term will extend throughout the first semester next year.

The retiring president is Carl Morfitt.

Other officers elected by the group for the coming term are Robert Campbell, vice president; William McCrea, corresponding secretary; Maurice Malin, recording secretary; Howard Cooke, alumni secretary; and Dwain Vincent, sergeant-at-arms. McCrea's office carries a term extending throughout the coming year.

The group concluded Thursday's meeting with consideration of a number of projects which it is planning for the coming year. A number of suggestions were made to the group by seniors who were attending their last meeting. Among matters discussed were contacts with the high schools throughout the state and expansion of the honorary itself.

Air-Conditioned Train Will Be Displayed Here Today

Moscow citizens will have an opportunity Friday to inspect the latest example in modern, comfortable transportation when the Northern Pacific's new, air-conditioned "North Coast Limited" will be on exhibition at the local station. The seven-car train will be here from 3 until 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, according to Robert W. Morris, local agent.

The exhibition train is made up entirely of the Northern Pacific's latest equipment, with the exception of the locomotive. It is not feasible to run the giant main-line engines over branch tracks, officials said.

New Type Cars
The train will include a baggage car, new type coach, new four-sleeper, two standard Pullmans, diner and an observation club car. All passenger cars including the coaches are air-conditioned, officials said.

The new day coaches developed by the road include a ladies' lounge, ladies' dressing room, men's smoking room and the latest revolving deep-upholstered chairs. Porter service is provided in the new coaches as well as in tourist and Pullman sleepers on the new North Coast Limited. Northern Pacific officials stated.

The first class organized in the United States to study Radio Police Communications has been formed at San Jose State College.

quizzes, long-due book reports, term papers on everything from the tariff to Henry James, and the expectation of exams, is enough to get on anyone's nerves. Even plans for next year, when one will no longer be a frosh or may enjoy senior privileges, are not sufficient to exert any noticeable effect on this sudden desire to be home again.

Alumni Sponsor Big Midnight Jamboree

Rip-Roaring Entertainment to Climax Events of June 8

Former Idaho Talent to Be Featured in Vaudeville Program

Graduating seniors and other students who will be in Moscow Saturday night, June 8, will be eligible to attend something in the line of entertainment never before staged in these parts—a rip-roaring midnight jamboree sponsored by the Idaho alumni association.

Climaxing the events of Alumni day, this jamboree will jam the Kenworthy theatre to its doors, so promoters of the event claim. Regular customers will be shooed out to prevent chiseling, and doors opened at 11:15 o'clock. It will be open to students, alumni, and townspeople, and all others who put up the required tax of 50 cents. Whether tax will be included is one of the details yet to be settled.

Program Secret
Facts about the program are not being given out for publication. This much has been gathered from sources other than the tight-mouthed committee in charge: That a two-hour show calculated to stand local citizens on their ears is in prospect; that one hour will be devoted to vaudeville featuring some of the best alumni talent graduated from Idaho since "Doc" Einhouse went east to medical school; that where alumni talent is lacking professional talent will be substituted; that there will be a tattooed lady, possibly some in tights; an orchestra composed of former Pep Band stars, and mayhap a German band thrown in for good measure; costumed singers of such sad ditties as "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage," and one hour of movie features; the best comedies, shorts, and what-not that can be obtained; and no speeches.

Word also comes from various sources that local alumni are doing a darn sight more than mere "planning" for the show. Rehearsals are said to be in progress, costumes ordered, work being done. A committee is busy with letters and long distance telegrams arranging for delegations of alumni and Vandal boosters from Lewiston, Spokane, Coeur d'Alene, and other points beyond and between.

Officially in charge of the jamboree program is Jean Collette, chairman; Abe Goff, Mrs. Walter Pierce, and Brennan Davis.

Intercollegiate Knights Complete Work at Final Meeting
The Intercollegiate Knights held their last meeting of the year Wednesday at the Beta Theta Pi house. Robert Granville, Gerald Larson, and Ivar Longteig were initiated.

Frank Bevington, duke of the Knights for the past year and national president, said in regard to this year's work: "I believe this year has been one of the most successful, not only from the local standpoint, but from the national standpoint as well. We plan to make the program next year even more extensive than it has been this year. We are pleased that the chapters at the Utah Agricultural college and at the Southern Branch have been reorganized and are becoming active."

The Ball and Chain chapter of Intercollegiate Knights has assisted in the installation of two new chapters this year, one at the College of Idaho, and the other at Cheney Normal school.

Fraternities An Asset

● A survey of 35 universities and colleges recently revealed that fraternities are considered an asset in campus life. Only one college did not believe that fraternity membership was important to college life, according to the questionnaires which were returned to the National Student Federation of America.

The statistics showed that there are 530 chapters of national fraternities and sororities and 103 local fraternities at 42 colleges. The total undergraduate enrollment at these colleges is estimated at 68,904. Of this number, 2,854 are affiliated with Greek societies.

At these institutions 447 student council members are affiliated with the secret organizations and 116 are independent. The number of fraternity members who are captains and managers is 427, while 62 are unaffiliated. Eighty-one editors, class officers, and social committee chairmen are not affiliated with fraternities. The remaining 134 on the 42 campuses are Greeks.

Of the 27 colleges reporting scholastic averages, 15 institutions stated that independent students had higher academic averages than fraternity members.

Interests other than social are carried on by fraternities at 20 out of the 42 colleges.

Japan Again

● In 1915 the Chinese Republic received a secret ultimatum from the Japanese Empire to the following effect: The President of China must accept Japanese protection of China and in return must sign over certain powers to the Emperor of Japan. These powers included control of the Chinese army, the Chinese navy, the Chinese treasury, the Chinese police, and other items of sovereignty. Finally Japan demanded that the President of China must keep all this secret, but he, trapped and desperate, had let Japan's ultimatum leak out to Frederick Moore, foreign correspondent for the Associated Press, and he sent the dispatch to the United States.

Upon receiving his dispatch Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, along with the General Manager of the Associated Press, Melville Stone, went to the Japanese Embassy, and over delicious tea, Tsuneo Chinda, Japanese ambassador, convincingly denied the reports of this ultimatum, which later came to be known as Japan's "21 demands."

It was later found out that the Japanese ambassador had lied, and the ultimatum was authentic. When questioned by Secretary Bryan, the ambassador merely replied that his instructions had been to lie about the matter.

Recently the Japanese Empire repeated these "21 demands," to a certain extent, and again the officials were instructed to deny their authenticity.

They denied that Japan is pressing fresh demands upon China's wasp-waisted Dictator, Generalissimo Chiang Kaishek. The Japanese insist that Akira Ariyoshi, Japan's minister to China, and the Japanese military attache, Lieut. General Yoshimichi Suzuki.

According to Mr. Koki Hirota, whose father wrote the "21 demands" in 1915, Japan is willing to do the following if Chiang accepts the tutelage of Tokyo: (1) Assist China to withdraw from the League of Nations; (2) Furnish with military advisers; (3) Conclude a separate pact with China nullifying the Washington Nine-Power Treaty and other treaties; (4) Assume responsibility for the Japanese defense of China; (5) Exalt China by exchanging ambassadors whereas Japan has always refused to exchange any diplomats with China.

Just as in 1915 when the "21 demands" were denied, so were these dismissed by Mr. Hirota with the remark "so fantastic that I decline to comment upon it."

Now China comes to the board and blames all its troubles on President Roosevelt's policy concerning silver, saying that "Roosevelt is driving our government into bankruptcy."—Kentucky Kernel

NO MORE HELL!

SMART CHEATERS!

Quizzes are coming soon, and New York university students have discovered a new way to carry a pony. They write notes on the glass of their spectacles with grapefruit juice. When breathed upon later, the notes become visible.

CLEVER EDITOR!

The Purdue Exponent recently found a way to deal with the problem of filling up space by printing their "dust storm" story. Under the heading "This Place Reserved for Dust Storms," they filled two columns with a line of dots. At the bottom of the first column were the words, "Dust Storm continued to next column," and at the end of the second column was the conclusion, "These dust storms are persistent as hell."

Why Can't It Happen Here?

Dr. H. M. Moore, president of Lake Forest college got the thrill of his life when he opened a letter in which was a $10,000 check. The letter, evidently from an alumnus, said he wanted to do something for his alma mater, but he did not wish to parade his generosity before the world so he was not sending his name.

"This must remain anonymous," he wrote—and it did—the check had no signature either!

GOOD STUFF!

University of Minnesota fraternity men, determined to show the public what fraternities really are and how they work with universities in the interest of the students, faculty and parents, have organized a Fraternity Public Relations bureau.

What's New for College Men

By Home Fisher

A very popular and current fashion for warm weather wear is the white linen suit, particularly in the double breasted models.

A very important feature of the white linen coat is that it can be worn with any color of trousers, regardless of pattern. And, of course, the same feature goes for the white trousers. They may be worn in good taste with almost any coat.

With reference to shirts to be worn with the white suit—the buttoned down collar attached in white oxford is the preferred. However, the highly colored shirts are not restricted.

Another fashion that made its appearance with the white suit is the black and white tie—to be worn with a white shirt. However, on the Idaho campus, the white bow tie does the trick.

As for the shoes, white is still the most popular, but gray and brown bucks can be worn and still be smart.

Emphasis should be placed upon plain white socks, although the striped white socks are very popular, especially with college men.

New York," he added, "the studios will have to close up. It's the most prolific story-source in all the world." Drama, comedy, romance, pathos—every emotion is more vitally expressed among New York's teeming millions than anywhere else on earth, Selts believes. Its people live with an intensity that is peculiarly New York-ish. It is the most dramatic city in the world.

"Times Square Lady," which was produced for M-G-M by Lucian Hubbard, is another New York story. It is a "different" tale of the city's glittering night life and brings many world-famous locations to the screen. At the Vandal—Introducing Allie MacMahon and Guy Kibbee in entirely different roles from those usually associated with them, the second of the clue club productions, "While The Patient Slept," First National's latest and most baffling murder mystery drama, is announced as the feature attraction Friday and Saturday. Based on a novel by Mignon G. Eberhart, "While The Patient Sleeps," presents Allie MacMahon as Nurse Sarah Keate, detective fiction's most amazing character, and Guy Kibbee as a small town sleuth.

Four Idaho Netmen To Participate in Conference Meet

Four Vandal netmen will participate in the northern division conference tennis meet at Pullman, tomorrow. Ray Sowder, Paul Rust, Hugh Eldridge, and John Wells are scheduled to represent Idaho in the meet, at which Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, and Washington State will also be entered. Huskies Favored

The big fight for the championship is doped to be between Washington and Oregon. Oregon State, Oregon, and Idaho will be fighting it out for third, fourth, and the cellar positions. The Huskies have their ambitions for a winning team based on Ken Clegg and Pal Rosenbergs, stellar performers on the Washington net squad. The Washington squad has been undefeated so far this season, with Clegg and Rosenberg producing most of the Husky victories, which accounts for the odds in favor of the Huskies in tomorrow's meet.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS HELD FOR "SWEDE"

Idaho fans who watched 195-pound Theron Ward take first against Oregon State Saturday in the 100-yard dash at 10 seconds flat and repeat in the 220 at :22.2, are wondering what he will do in football next fall. Ward is a two-year letterman at the fullback position, but played only in the first two games last year because of a mid-season appendix operation.

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND" ATHLETES SAY

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness.

Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'" George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for the golf stars, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you!... It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

GOOD NEWS! It's good news to hear that Camel's costlier tobaccos are so mild you can smoke all you please. Athletes say Camels never get your "wind."

KINGS OF SWAT

are Vandal stickers Bill Kleiner, Wally Geraghty, and Lefty Naslund. The three home runs lined out in yesterday's game all came off their potent bats. Naslund hit his second homer of the week, and having already turned in a game and a half of excellent pitching, played nine innings at first base—talk about your iron men, there's one for you. Thought erratic by some early in the season, "Lefty" has shown himself a steady pitcher and a brilliant hitter, combining a capacity for work with plenty of stuff on the ball.

THESE HOME RUNS

are only part of the irony of the great American game of baseball. Too often they occur when no one is on base, a circuit clout that three men on being, as rare as two royal flushes in the same game. All three of yesterday's home runs came when the bases were as empty as a mother's well-known cupboard. Most of the time the bases would be loaded before, only to have three men die an inglorious death on base. Next time, as sure as the sun in the morning, a home run would be whipped out with no one to lead the batter in. Men could go crazy playing baseball, maybe they do.

TO THE LAIR

of the Silvertip go the Vandals this week, for their last track meet before the big northern division meet next week. Always close, the Montana-Idaho track and field meet has never been lost by Idaho since Otto Anderson took over the Vandal track coaching job. Plenty of close ones decided only by fractions of a point have happened before, but never a Vandal loss to the Grizzly. This year Ott says the boys will have to take it before the relay race comes along, if they're going to win, which means it'll be closer than ever at Missoula, because formerly that relay has turned the tide to Idaho. Ap Berg, captain and weight man, is counted on to score a number of points for the Vandals in his last appearance before Montana fans.

EXIT BILL REINHART

With the ending of yesterday's game and the Idaho appearances of one of the best basketball and baseball coaches in the northwest. Called to George Washington university as basketball coach, Reinhart is leaving the northwest and the northern division conference after having served the longest term of any of the big five coaches.

In his going the northern division conference loses one of its most able mentors. Continually coming out with new ideas in both basketball and baseball, Reinhart kept alive in a most vital manner discussion of both games throughout the Pacific coast. A better field at the nation's capital beckoned him, and so—exit from the northwest Bill Reinhart, a sportsman and a gentleman.

COMPLETE WORK ON FRESHMAN DIAMOND

Final touches have been put on the new freshman baseball diamond belonging to the university on West Sixth street across from the heating plant. The corner lot of land has been graded, a backstop put up, and transformed into a regulation baseball field. According to George E. Horton, graduate manager, activities on the field will not be confined to baseball practice alone, as in the fall it will be accessible to football and other coaches.

HOW RIGHT?

Vandals Are Doped To Take Field Events; Peden, 1934 Conference Winner, Favored Over Ward

Coach Otto Anderson and 18 men will leave today for Missoula to engage the University of Montana in the last and possibly the closest dual track and field meet of this season.

The Grizzlies are comparatively strong in all events except the weights and the javelin. Peden, 1934 conference winner of the 220-yard dash, will make Theron Ward do a little better than his best so far this season if he wins either of the dash events. Another speedster of the Grizzlies is Duff, who does one trip around the track in 49.6. Taylor of Montana puts in good times in the half mile (1:59) and the mile (4:32).

Rhinehart Favored

In the last track meet, Rhinehart of Montana broad-jumped 22 feet 7 3/4 inches, which has not been equaled by any Idaho man this year. There is also a very probable first and second for the Grizzlies in the high jump. They have two men who consistently clear the bar at 5 feet 11 inches. Idaho shows marked superiority in the shot, discus, and javelin. Ap Berg should have no difficulty with the shot, and Earl Ritzheimer should out-toss Montana in the javelin and discus with Bob McCue taking seconds in both the shot and discus.

Rod Pearson will probably have it all his way in the two-mile. He is a neat runner and shows consistency and determination. If Jack Sharp is going well in the pole vault, he will make it hot for Stien of Montana who has done 12 feet 8 inches. Sharp was going nicely at W. S. C., climbing to 12 feet 6 inches when he missed the pit and hurt his leg.

Anderson Has "Ifs"

"If we win," says Coach Anderson's statement, "we'll have to do it before we get to the relay, because they've got a fine relay team. If every one performs up to standard, Idaho has a chance. If Neely wins the 440, it will ease things a lot, and the same with Brown in the half mile. But these are 'ifs'." Bill O'Neill has a good chance to win the mile. Taylor, Montana, runs it in 4:32, and O'Neill has run it in practice at 4:35 on a soft track, but it looks like a close race no matter who wins.

Eighteen To Go

Cy Adkins, who showed plenty of pluck in the Oregon State meet, will be running in the hurdles for Idaho. Those making the trip are placed pitcher Woerner with Kulkosky, who could not stop the hard-hitting Vandal tripe. Schodde stumbled, and then Naslund stepped into the second home run of the day. Summers hit to get on and scored on Anderson's hit.

The Orangemen got their lone tally in the fifth, when Greider the Oregon State first baseman, scored on Conkling's hit.

Twenty Turf-ticklers To Tangle for Title Tomorrow

OUR Idaho divot-diggers left last night for the northern division golf championship which will be decided in Eugene tomorrow with Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and Oregon State being represented. Each school will send four players, and the lowest aggregate score in the first round will win the title.

The Oregon teams have the advantage because of an additional month's practice and a home course on which to play. The Cougar link men also have a good chance of copping the cup, having won all but one tournament this year.

Jack Cumock on Top

Jack Cumock, top man for the Vandals, will be one of the key men in the tournament. So far this year, Cumock has won from Cal Gill, ace Washington State golfer, who is rated as one of the strongest in the conference. His average score for the tournament is 73, lowest of the team. If the Vandal star is on his usual consistent form Saturday, he has a large chance of carrying off individual honors.

Vic Warner, Alex Morgan, and Chet Rodell are the other members of the Idaho team.

Warner has been playing consistent golf this year and he can be counted on to make an 80. Rodell and Morgan both have been shooting around 85, but if they are on they will stand a good chance of winning this match.

Boners in the last innings of both the Wednesday and Thursday games cost the Vandals two more games. Chances to win both ball games were muffed and Coach Bill Reinhart's Webfoots came through to win the first game 11 to 9 and the second 7 to 6.

In the last half of the ninth of the first game, with the score 11 to 9 against them, the Vandals filled the bases with no men out. McFadden, Oregon pitcher, then displayed some excellent relief pitching by striking out two Idaho batsmen and then ended the game when Anderson grounded out at first.

Naslund, who pitched air tight ball against Oregon State the day before, replaced Shepard on the mound for Idaho in the third inning, with the score 4 to 0 against him. He repeated his excellent performance until the eighth, when his arm tired and he was replaced by Newton.

Gordon Gets Homer

Oregon took the lead in the first inning. Gordon clouted a home run, scoring two runs before him. The next inning McCall, hit by a pitched ball, scored.

Idaho had two good hitting periods. In the fourth, Katsilometes walked, Schodde hit a double, and Summers went to first on Koch's error, filling the bases. Wheeler popped a single, scoring Katsilometes, Schodde came in on Albee's long fly, and Summers scored as Naslund went out at first. Wheeler scored on Anderson's double.

The fifth inning rally tied the score at 9-all. Katsilometes walked, stole second, and scored on Summers' single. Summers scored on Wheeler's triple. Albee's home run, scoring Wheeler before him, tied the score.

In the eighth inning, however, the Oregon team scored the two runs that gave the margin of victory. Amato went to first on Anderson's error, stole second, went to third when Gordon went to first, and scored on Lewis' single, and then scored on Clauson's single.

Ducks Lead in Second Game

In the second game, the Webfoots again took the lead in the first counter. Amato singled, went to second, to third on Koch's single, and then scored on Gordon's double. Gordon scored on Lewis' single.

In the third inning, Idaho's heavy hitters began to clout them out. Three homers brought in but one run apiece, the bases being empty each time. Kleiner knocked a home run in the third and Naslund rounded the bases in the fourth. Geraghty did the same in the seventh.

Score Tied in Eighth

In the eighth inning, Summers singled, went to third on Naslund's double, and then came home when Albee got safely to first on McCall's error. Again Idaho had tied the score with the end of the game in sight. In the ninth, however, Gordon singled for Oregon, went to second, Lewis went to first on a pass ball, and Gordon scored when Hurney hit a single.

In Idaho's last time at bat, Kleiner singled, and Geraghty fanned. Kleiner was then touched out at first, and Katsilometes was thrown out at first after he knocked a ball to the Oregon second baseman.

Idaho completes her 1935 baseball schedule when she plays the University of Washington nine in Moscow next Wednesday and Thursday. Both games will be at 3:30.

Guy Wicks Now Head Coach at Southern Branch

Guy Wicks, former coach of the Moscow Bears and present assistant coach at the southern branch of the university at Pocatello, will succeed Felix A. Plastino as director of athletics and head coach at that institution, Associated Press reports said Wednesday night.

Plastino announced he has tendered his resignation effective June 30, after seven years at the Pocatello school. Wicks has been his chief assistant during the past four years.

Plastino won recognition as both fullback and center on University of Idaho football teams and was captain of the 1920 Idaho eleven. Following his graduation from Idaho Wicks coached Genesee high school two years, Moscow three, and North Central high of Spokane one year, before going to the Southern Branch.
