Phi Delta Theta Pledges Largest Group; Houses Take Fewer Than Is Customary

Shiny pledge pins are glistening on the lapels of 182 men with two fraternities not giving out their list. Out of the thirteen fraternities all except Phi Gamma Delta and Tau Kappa Epsilon have given their list of new pledges. This number is not as large as last year even though the frosh class is as large or larger than a year ago. All fraternities were able to fill their houses to the desired number. The Phi Deltas were highest with 22 pledges with three houses tying for second place with 20 newly pledged men.

The list of the pledges of each house is as follows:

Introducing Three New Faculty Members

Special Honors Go To Three

Jeanette Wines, John Rosa, and Wayne Lee Receive Awards at Assembly

Jeanette E. Wines, Boise; John M. Rosa, Moscow; and Wayne A. Lee, Rigby were singled out for special honors at the university's opening assembly Thursday morning.

Miss Wines, a senior in the school of education, was awarded the Mary E. Forney cup, having been selected as the most outstanding woman residing in Forney hall last year. Scholarship, personality and leadership are among the qualifications considered. During her three years on the campus, Miss Wines' grades have averaged 5.500 out of a possible 6.000 for all "A" marks.

LEE TOPS IN FROSH AG
Wayne A. Lee, sophomore from Rigby, was awarded a cup by Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, for making the highest grades in the freshman class in the college of agriculture last year. His grades averaged 5.736.

John M. Rosa, a sophomore civil engineer from Moscow, received a medal awarded by Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity. This medal is awarded each fall to the man who the year before made the highest grades among freshmen in the college of engineering and school of mines. Rosa made grades last year which averaged 5.819.

Frosh Elect Rolse Class President

Other Officers Are Dick Hutchinson, Vice President; John Elder, Secretary; Beth Bothwell, Treasurer

Harold Rolse, Moscow, was elected freshman class president at a meeting held by the freshman class Wednesday afternoon in the university auditorium. Dick Hutchinson, Coeur d'Alene, was elected vice president; John Elder, Coeur d'Alene, secretary; and Elizabeth Bothwell, Twin Falls, treasurer.

Theron Ward, president of the student body, acted as chairman of the meeting while the officers of the class were being elected. Dean Permeal French, also addressed the class meeting.

An unusual incident of the meeting happened when John Elder nominated himself for secretary. He explained that for some reason the boy who had planned to nominate him for president did not give his speech. Elder received a large applause and was consequently elected to the office of secretary.

Bevington Beckons Gem Business Staff Workers

Frank Bevington, business manager of the 1936 Gem of the Mountains, has issued a call for all students interested in working on the business staff to be in Ad. 316 next Monday at 4 o'clock.

There will be 20 vacancies. Freshmen are urged to come out for this activity. Wayland Tanning will be assistant business manager this year.

Advanced sales on the annual made during registration was the largest ever—close to 300.

Freshmen football equipment will be issued at 4:30 this afternoon. First turnout will be at 2:30 Saturday.

Seymour Is Pep Band Leader

Vandaleer Tryouts Set for Tuesday

To Be Held in Auditorium At 7:30 p. m.; Need Seven Vocalists

The Vandaleers, under the direction of Prof. Archie M. Jones, the new head of the university music department, will hold their tryouts for new members in the university auditorium, Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m.

The organization plans to recruit approximately seven vocalists. Those applicants who perform on instruments are urged to demonstrate at the tryouts. If they are unable to bring their own accompanists, one will be provided.

"I propose," said Professor Jones, "to make the Vandaleers the most outstanding singing organization in the state." He went on to say that he considered the music department not only as a professional school, but as a service department for the entire university. "We wish to be of help," said Professor Jones, "not only to those in our department, but to all those who wish help of any kind."

Professor Jones is keenly interested in the development of not only one, but several distinct musical groups by the department, and stressed his wish, if enough interest were evinced, to form an a cappella choir.

Potts, Ridgeway, McFarland, Pearson, McFarlane, and Whitesel Are New Members

Bob Seymour, Tacoma, Wash., senior in the school of business administration, was elected leader of the Pep band for the coming year at the meeting Monday night to fill the vacancy left by Bob Campbell's failure to return to school.

Winston Cross was elected band manager to fill the vacancy left by Seymour's election to leadership. Tryouts for the band were held Tuesday night to fill vacancies. New members of the Pep band are: Junior Potts, Coeur d'Alene, Gerald Ridgeway, Kimberly, trumpets; James McFarland, Kellogg, trombone; Glen Whitesel, Spokane, bass drum; Ray Pearson, clarinet, Portland; James McFarlane, baritone, Sidney, Australia. Alternates are Fred Pickell, clarinet, Anaconda; Leonard Kellogg, New Jersey, trumpet; and Bill Gligray, Caldwell, drums; Charles Dismore, Lewiston, taken into the band last year, but who had to leave school soon after registration, returned this year.

The band has started rehearsals in preparation for a tentative trip to Seattle for the Washington game.

Deans Introduce New Faculty

Thirty-five, Largest Turnover Since Depression began, Officially Make Bows

Thirty-five new faculty members, the largest turnover on the university staff since the depression began, made their official bows to their colleagues and future students at the opening assembly Thursday morning.

President Neale, in fine fettle, presided, introducing first the university string quartet, a piano solo by Hall M. Macklin, new member of the music department staff, with a reference to his recent marriage thrown in for good measure. After announcing five different scholarship awards, the president set about the formidable task of introducing the new faculty members.

NEW INSTITUTE HEAD
He presented first Dean J. G. Eldridge, who introduced Dr. Charles Tenney, for many years president of Gooding college, and now director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, Dean Farmer introduced Dr. W. B. Folz, and Dean Howard a new law professor, R. E. Willard.

JEFFER PRESENTS STAFF
Dean Dwight S. Jeffers, after his presentation of Dr. Neale, introduced the new forestry faculty members: Dr. E. R. Martell, Dr. John Ehrlich, and Prof. R. J. Becraft.

Most numerous of the new faculty members were those presented by Dean J. A. Kostalek, college of letters and science. On his list were: Prof. Archie M. Jones, capt. L. S. Norman, Dr. Gordon Alcorn, Dr. J. D. Lindsey, Dr. Harry S. Owens, Prof. H. M. Macklin, Donald McGill, George Cerveny, Kenneth Hoag, Elbert Long, Donald Miller, Mr. Robinson, Dr. C. L. Virtue, Dr. A. Gerhard Wiens, Dr. Harry Wilson.

Miss L. Janette Wirt, head of the department of physical education for women, presented Miss Margaret Milne.

Frosh Mixer Is Set Tentatively for Next Week

The freshman mixer, usually a function of the freshman week program, may be held the first of next week, according to an announcement yesterday from the office of Permeal J. French, dean of women.

Although in former years the mixer has been held during the first week of school, the custom was discontinued because of a Pan-Hellenic ruling that no freshman girls may have dates during rush week.

President M. G. Neale Describes University's Actions in Solving Housing Problems At Convocation Thurs.

Prospects of obtaining federal alphabet funds for the construction of a modern hospital and other new buildings at the University of Idaho are practically nil, President M. G. Neale told 2000 Idaho students at the fall opening assembly Thursday morning.

President Neale outlined to students and faculty members, who left few vacant seats in the Memorial gymnasium, the efforts that had been made during the past two years and more to obtain federal recovery funds for needed new buildings. These efforts finally

Miller Announces English Scores

Rich Highest Among 30 Freshmen Eligible to Take Proficiency Test

Out of 648 new students who took the uniform placement test in English last Monday morning, 30 qualified to take the proficiency examination.

According to Dr. G. M. Miller, head of the English department, those students passing the test may have the choice of omitting one semester of English 1-2.

RICH IS TOPS

Outstanding among those students scoring high grades were Sam J. Rich, Blackfoot, with 338 correct answers out of a possible 390 and a percentile rank of 99 per cent; Mary Gene Braddock, Lewiston, 328 correct answers and a rank of 99 per cent; and Miriam L. Kennard, Moscow, with 328 answers and a percentile of 99.

The following students are eligible to take the proficiency examination at 1:30 p. m. next Saturday in Ad. 316:

Harold Durham, Gooding; Doris E. Franson, Boise; Walter M. Harris, Lewiston; Margaret Hesby; Peggy A. Johnson, Moscow; Miriam L. Kennard, Moscow; Bonnie M. Lange, Moscow; Bertha McGrath, Moscow; Margaret McPherson, Post Falls; Harriet Mitchell, Lewiston; Norma Mitchell, Moscow.

Iris A. Morgan, Moscow; Marguerite Ogle, Moscow; Jeanne Pertine, out of state; Anna Maria Raphael, Weiser; Sam J. Rich, Blackfoot; Mary Jean Smith, Eagle; Alfred M. Stone, Boise; June Viel, Salmon; Nellie Wallis, Nampa; and Zoe Williamson, out of state.

Yell King Announces Tryouts for Dukes Tomorrow

Yell duke tryouts are to be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Memorial gymnasium, according to Otto Power, yell king. Power urges that anyone who has had any experience in this line, either in high school or college, be present.

No one except those trying out will be present, and each person has the same chance. Those who have never had the experience, but feel that they would like to try out are more than welcome, Power said.

Out of the two dukes chosen this year one will be elected yell king for the following year. Power predicted that in the future the position of yell king will be one of the best available on the campus because of the high hopes and spirit of the student body for the future football teams.

"In the next year or two, I expect to see Idaho have one of the best rooting sections in the West. You can see and feel a new and different attitude towards school spirit on the campus already," Power said.

ALL STUDENTS FIND LIVING QUARTERS

Despite rumors to the contrary, all men enrolled in the university have found living quarters in fraternities, dormitories, and private homes in town. No new cooperative houses will be built.

The end of registration days found everyone taken care of adequately. The need for cots temporarily set up in the Memorial gymnasium for about 40 men no longer exists.

M. G. NEALE PRESIDENT U OF I REFERENCE TELEGRAM UNIVERSITY INFIRMARY DOCKET 709 SITUATION APPEARS FAVORABLE STOP INFORMED WILL BE TAKEN UP FOR CONSIDERATION NEXT BOARD MEETING.
COMPTON I. WHITE MC

When President M. G. Neale received this telegram from Congressman White this morning he said, "I hope Congressman White's optimism is justified. After two years and three months of negotiations with the Public Works Administration about the infirmary building, it takes a lot to make me hopeful."

proving futile, he explained how the university during the summer had used its own resources to relieve its acute growing pains, by providing a new frame dormitory building, four new one-story classroom and laboratory buildings, and additional faculty members.

RED TAPE DESCRIBED
Describing his explanation as a "lesson in political science" or "lack of science," Dr. Neale reviewed the history of Docket 709, the government designation for the proposed new infirmary. He told how Docket 709 had been passed from pillar to post in the maze of bureaus in Washington; how it had been considered and reconsidered; wound in endless red tape; and finally rejected.

Grounds for its untimely demise, he explained, was the fact that it ran afoul of Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins' formula for material hours. Too much money would be required for materials, and not enough for labor. This decision was made after two years and three months of baffling futurity and delay.

A new men's residence hall to help relieve the housing problem on the campus, and a proposed new library wing for the Administration building to provide imperatively needed classroom space also met the same fate, President Neale said. He also mentioned a once-hopeful application for a student union building.

TOOK EMERGENCY MEASURES
"The problem which confronted the university then was whether or not we would say to students who wished to enroll that we could not accept them because there were no rooms in which classes might be held, or whether we would make some provision for university classes. After careful consideration of the whole problem," Dr. Neale explained, "it was decided that a university should do whatever was within its power to meet the situation. Consequently, with such economies as could be effected from what was in reality a very limited financial means for running the university, the board of regents provided for the construction of four classroom buildings."

Dr. Neale then went on to describe the new buildings, and also the Idaho club, new frame residence hall for 120 men. While not expensive, they are modern in every respect, and well built, all by the department of buildings and grounds.

"There is no one connected with the university who would not have preferred permanent buildings," President Neale said. "It was impossible to secure them, and we are not ashamed of doing the best we could to take care of the students who wished to come to the university this fall."

In Defence of Wooden Buildings

SOME of the uninformed might feel sorry for the boys who will live in the new co-op, the Idaho Club, or for those who must have classes in the wooden structures built on the campus during the summer.

They can spare their sympathy if they do, for in spite of their CCC camp appearance, they afford some of the most attractive living quarters and classroom facilities on the campus.

If you will inspect them, you will be impressed with their utility and attractiveness.

All of the buildings contain an unusually large amount of window space to assure study comfort, and compared to the odoriferous Science hall and the ill-lit and ancient rooms of the Ad building, they stand out by far the most desirable.

It is unfortunate, of course, that these wooden structures had to be built when W. S. C. and other colleges are putting up beautiful permanent structures. But it was either build them or turn students away from the University: the authorities had no other choice.

Applications for building loans from the government have been waiting their fate in Washington, D. C. for months. Rest assured that the University authorities would be only too glad to see some permanent structures going up. But until the dilatory mill of the public works program finally grinds out Idaho's applications for building loans, we must put up with the wooden buildings.

In the meantime, we wish we had a class in one of those new buildings.

REGISTRATION'S OVER! Calm Yourself!
This title of the new MGM picture co-featuring Robert Young and Madge Evans as a working philosophy on the set when the film was in production at the Culver City studios. No matter what would go wrong in the press of production, or who was the agitated party, he could always be quelled by reference to the title at the cordial moment.

CALM YOURSELF, in the photo-story, is the advertising slogan of the young man who goes into the "confidential service" business—with momentous results. Betty Furness, Nat Pendleton, Ralph Morgan, and Joseph Young, Robert Young's brother, complete the cast.

AFTER the tenseness of G Men and the romance of China Seas, the weekend offers comedy relief. Joan Blondel, Glenda Farrell, and Hugh Herbert, are up to their unusual tricks again in Traveling Saleslady. This time, selling Cocktail-flavored toothpaste. Good entertainment.

THE ARIZONIAN depicts in exacting detail the early settling of the West, and the warfare that raged between outlaws and peace officers who were fighting to bring order to the towns of the American frontier. Richard Dix, heading the cast, is seen in the new production as a fighting marshal who strives to rid the country of outlawry. The climax comes when Dix is arrested on trumped-up charges by those trying to destroy him. The star fights his way from a burning jail to defeat his enemies, and brings to the picture an unusual ending. Capably supporting Dix is Margot Grahame, the English star, Preston Foster, Louis Calhern, James Bush and many others.

Wolves in Sheep's Clothing

HELLO EVERYBODY

We expect to have our ups and downs like everybody else. We expect our brain child to go down on paper, and hope it will go up in your estimation. Our motto is "Spare the rod, and spoil the fun" so heave the brickbats our way, just to prove that you can read.

Poor, poor freshmen. The days of steak dinners, free cigarettes and beer, and clean white shirts are gone forever. In another week you will be only one of a milling mob of early morning workers and late night studes. And don't forget that the beater was once a beatee himself. Keep your eyes open and your teeth clean and someday, improbable though it may seem now, you may become a college man.

Now that rush week is over for the fraternities, the boys will start speaking to each other.

There is a rumor going around that two girls from different houses are speaking to each other. We wonder what they're saying. Most likely we couldn't print it anyway. If some of the girls were as nice all year as they are this week the frosh would be paying them for the privilege of living in the same house. Not that they don't pay anyway, but you know—

Football season is here. The team is practicing every afternoon. We think that team will be good. We don't know how good, but we hope for the best. No matter what happens, we will give the team and the coaching staff all our support, not only in this column, but also at pep rallies and games. For some reason or other the pep rallies last year were unpopular. We hope that this year it will be a different story. After all, those boys do more hard work in one week than the rest of us do in a year. Our only way to show our appreciation is to give them our whole-hearted and undivided support.

Idaho is more than fortunate in possessing a campus of such beauty. This fact is hard to realize until when the trees in the arboretum at the south their campuses all cluttered up with offices and buildings. The lack of classroom space is more than made up for in the spaciousness of the surroundings. MacLean field will be especially beautiful when the tree in the arboretum at the south end of the field begin to change color.

President Neale Prescribes Intensive Study To 900 Freshmen As Homesickness Cure

New Students Told That Success Depends Upon Themselves

Immediate and intensive attention to their studies as the best remedy for homesickness was prescribed by President M. G. Neale to approximately 900 new students at the freshman assembly Wednesday morning.

President Neale spoke briefly and informally to Idaho's bumper crop of newcomers. He emphasized the fact that success in college depended largely upon themselves, there being no royal road to academic glory. He introduced Coach Ted Bank, who explained the athletic department program for men; Prof. Archie N. Jones, head of the music department; and Assistant Professor Hall M. Macklin, pianist. Prof. Eugene Taylor, in charge of freshman week, presided.

Obtain Their Help
"Don't let the phrase 'apple polisher' deter you from getting acquainted with your instructors," Dr. Neale advised. "They are interested in your welfare, and you can obtain help from them without sacrificing any of your self-respect."

President Neale also told the freshmen to beware of inferiority complexes. "Don't become disheartened because others seem to have greater abilities. Make full use of your own, and you will benefit more from your courses than the so-called brilliant students who skim through their work."

Dr. Neale then debunked the "poor grades because of having to work my way" alibi. He quoted studies showing that working students evidently waste less time and study harder, thereby making as good or better grades than their classmates who do not have jobs. In addition, President Neale counseled the freshmen to take advantage of the many opportunities available for self improvement outside of classrooms in desirable campus activities.

needed, Dr. Neale told students not to get the idea that buildings were the most important aspect of a university. "Most important for a truly great university is a hard working, ambitious student body, alert to cultural opportunities. Next is a well trained faculty, and somewhere well below these two aspects comes the physical plant, a university's grounds and buildings."

Dr. Neale concluded by urging students to cooperate, among themselves as well as with the faculty, in making the coming year a successful one for Idaho.

Would Make S. B. 4-Year College

Pledging their united support toward the movement on foot in Eastern Idaho for the establishment of a four-year university in Pocatello, the Young Democratic organization of Bannock county, through its president, George Pugmire, announced that the club would stand behind the movement.

The club members pointed out that the Southern Branch of the university is more than 700 miles from the university here at Moscow and maintain that the change would not materially effect the enrollment of the Moscow institution.

That many students from south Idaho are attending other institutions, some outside the state, due to the lack of central location of the university, was also brought out by Mr. Pugmire in his report. According to Pugmire, members of the club are basing their demands for a four-year school of the Southern Branch on the theory that such a school would be located nearer the center of population.

The Young Democrat organization of Bannock county, has been active for several years and has a membership of over 250 young men and women, the president stated.

So Mild! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT

"Let's have a Camel," says Mel Ott (right), heavy-hitting Giant outfielder, to Harold Schumacher, ace pitcher. They agree that Camels have real mildness. Mel says: "I smoke all I want, yet keep in good condition. Camels are so mild, they never get my wind or bother my nerves." And Hal adds: "To my mind, that settles it! Camel is the cigarette with real mildness. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!" In baseball, and in all the strenuous sports, leading athletes cite the fact that Camels are mild. And to this impressive evidence of Camel's mildness is added the experience of people in every walk of life who wish to smoke freely and keep fit.

Alice Bell, '35, Moscow, left recently for New York to study voice at the Julliard school of music under a scholarship awarded by the Associated Women Students. It was granted Miss Bell as the "most outstanding woman on the campus in the class of 1935."

For four years she sang with the Vandaleers, for which group she was soloist last year. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music sorority for women. She studied voice under Prof. Carleton Cummings, and is considered one of Idaho's most promising young singers.

Copies of Fight Song Prepared for ASUI Assembly Tryout

Copies of the new Idaho fight song, the music of which was written by Richard Stanton and the words by Noryal Ostroot, are being prepared for distribution to the group houses and halls. The song, "Fighting Idaho," was rejected when it was first tried in 1930. It was revised and used successfully in last year's Pep Band show. The song will be tried again in an ASUI assembly to be held soon.

All students are requested to learn it so they will be able to sing it at that time.

Malin Calls Meeting Of Gem Aspirants

Annual Far Along; Editor Engages Commercial Artist to do Part of Work

Seventy-five positions will be open to ambitious students on the editorial staff of the 1936 Gem of the Mountains. Freshmen are especially urged to take advantage of this opportunity. Every position except editor and associate editor must be filled. All students interested are asked to come to Ad. 201 at 4 o'clock next Monday.

Maurice Malin, editor-in-chief of the annual, reports that the Gem is farther along now than it has ever been at this time of year. Malin has engaged Merlin Enabnit, free-lance commercial artist of Seattle, to do the main division paintings this year. These paintings will be something different from anything ever used in the Gem before. They combine photography and art work reproduced in a four color process depicting characters which Malin enthusiastically describes as "snappy."

ENGAGES LAYOUT ARTIST
While in Seattle Malin engaged Arthur Bramson, art director of McCann-Erickson Advertising Agency, to lay out the book. Their style will offer something new in college annual composition.

Syms-York in Boise has the printing contract and Malin has sketches of the cover design submitted by the S. K. Smith Cover company of Chicago and the Kingscraft Cover company of Kingsport Tennessee, both of which companies he visited this summer on behalf of the Gem.

Wallace Rounsavel will act as associate editor this year. He was elected to this position in the ASUI election last spring.

Fredrickson-Jacoby Nuptials Held At Pocatello Friday Evening

From southern Idaho this week drifted word of wedding bells to ring at Pocatello tonight for Dorothy Fredrickson and Glen L. "Red" Jacoby, prominent Idaho graduate and former faculty members.

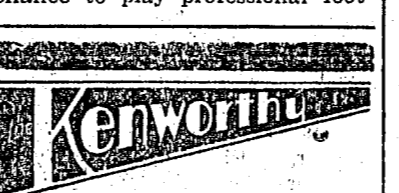

Details about the ceremony are meager, other than it will take place at 8 o'clock this evening, at an Episcopal church, with a wedding supper to be held at the Bannock hotel after the ceremony. It is assumed, and quite logically, that the couple will live in Idaho Falls, where the bridegroom is

Miss D. Fredrickson director of athletics in the city school system. Miss Fredrickson and Mr. Jacoby are among the best known graduates to leave the campus in the last decade. The bride-to-be received her degree in 1930. She was one of the most prominent members of her class, holding membership in Mortar Board, national honor society for senior women; Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity for women; and Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

WAS MUSICIAN

Music was Miss Fredrickson's major interest, both before and after her graduation. Voice, a rich contralto, is her specialty. She was an instructor in voice on the Idaho faculty from the fall of 1930 until a year ago, when she resigned. Since February she has been studying in New York.

Mr. Jacoby received his bachelor's degree in 1928, and for the following six years was a member of the athletic department staff as an assistant under Former Coaches Charlie Erb and Leo Calland. Last spring he accepted his present coaching position at Idaho Falls, turning down a chance to play professional football this year with the potent New York Glants.

A COLLEGE PROFESSOR DISCOVERED

That Often It Isn't a Student's Brain but his Pen that Runs Dry—causes Failure—in Classes and Exams!
So he invented this sacless Vacumatic, and Parker engineered it to perfection—gave it 102% more Ink Capacity—made its Ink Level VISIBLE, so it suddenly can't go empty!

YES, a scientist on the faculty of the University of Wisconsin was amazed to find how pens that run out of ink slow down classes, demoralize thinking, and bring marks that no student wants to write home about.

His observations led to the birth of the revolutionary Parker Vacumatic. This miracle pen writes 12,000 words from a single filling—shows when it's running low—tells when to refill!

Any good store selling pens will show you how the Parker Vacumatic eliminates 14 old-time parts, including the lever filler and rubber ink sac found in sac-type pens.

And due to this, it has double room for ink, without increase in size.

But don't think that sacless pens containing squirt-guns pumps or like Parker's patented Vacumatic. This new creation contains none of these. That's why it's GUARANTEED MECHANICALLY PERFECT!

Go and try writing two different ways with its Reversible Point—solid Gold combined with precious Platinum—skillfully fashioned to write on both sides—slightly turned up at the tip so it cannot scratch or drag, even under pressure!

Do this and you won't let an old pen impede your learning another day. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin.

First Game Scrimmage Shows Vandal Weak Spots

More Drive Is Aim of Coach Bank In Second Week of Practice

Combining flashes of brilliance with dull moments of fumbles and poor defense work, Coach Ted Bank's Vandals are giving out all the indications of a hard working early season club.

Preceded by a spot scrimmage Wednesday, yesterday's game scrimmage gave Bank and his assistants an opportunity to see how the squad would show up under fire.

"The boys aren't smacking away they'll have to do when we get to Seattle next Saturday."

Bob McCue, tackle, Ross Sundberg, fullback, and Willie Maxson, halfback, last of the regulars to report, have been working out all week. McCue returned from his home at South Pasadena, Calif., tipping the scales at an even 200 pounds, but expects training table diet to add another five.

SUNDBERG'S THROAT O. K.
A throat infection confined Sundberg to bed for the past week, but he is now driving into the line for gains every time he packs the ball.

Continued drill is in store for the line, which has failed to measure up to pre-season expectations. A lack of reserve strength will put a heavy strain on line lettermen Cooper, McCue, Wheeler, Rich, Iverson and Leon Green in the game with Washington.

Stanko Pavkov at guard is showing up as a mate for letterman guard John Cooper, while Carl Osterhout, Roy Gray and LaVerne Husted may shape into tackles. Walt Betts, sophomore center, will push Joe Wheeler for the starting center position next week. Norman Fehr, sophomore end, and Walker Rich, varsity reserve, are shaping up in the wing positions.

GALLOPING "SWED" SPRINTS
Plenty of backfield men, a reverse of the usual custom at Idaho, are bidding for starting positions at Seattle. "Swede" Ward, husky ASUI prey, is showing speed from a halfback position, and accounted for long gains in the scrimmage yesterday and Wednesday.

Clarence Devlin, Willie Maxson, halfbacks and Russ Itonsowetz, quarter, exhibited in fine style in yesterday's scrimmage.

INJURIES CAUSE NO LOSS

Injuries those bug-bears of early season play, have so far failed to show up seriously on the Vandal squad. Louie Rich, sophomore fullback, with a brace of bad ribs, is the most serious of the cases, although Les "Pop" Holmes, has been under wraps for a few nights with a stiff neck. Earl Ritzheimer, perennially the toothless member of the squad, suffered yesterday's major injury by getting a bridge knocked out.

The defense, weakest point to show up in yesterday's scrimmage, will get lots of attention in the next week.

"The offense will be speeded up too," said Coach Bank. "Yesterday's good showing was due mainly because of the poor defense, the whole team needs plenty of attention."

Mix Work and Play In Frosh Football

Freshman football that will be played instead of all work will be instituted at Idaho this year, says Al Paddock, yearling coach.

"When the boys report for practice Saturday we want them to feel that they're out for a lot of fun and not to be workhorses for the varsity," said Paddock yesterday. "If the squad is large enough we intend to split it into two sections, each section to report three times a week. That will leave plenty of time for study and will make it possible for men who are working to come out as well."

LOOK TO FUTURE

"We don't want to make freshman football a lot of work. We want the men to come out, everybody that wants to come out, with the idea of learning more about football without sacrificing their school work or suffering injuries."

The object will not be to play games, Paddock added, but to develop men for next year's varsity by saving them from as much wear and tear as possible. Games scheduled for this year will be played, but freshman games in future years are not contemplated.

"The freshman year is a hard one," ended Paddock. "We don't want to make it any tougher than necessary."

VANDAL ATHLETES EARN 590 MAJOR SPORT LETTERS

Winners of athletic letters for all major sports at the University number 590. First man listed in the records kept by Graduate Manager George Horton is Dr. Charles Kirtley, who played football for Idaho in 1893, 1894 and 1895, and was captain of the team during these years. Dr. Kirtley is now a physician at Challis, and his son, Jack, is a sophomore at the university.

Phelan's Huskies Doped to Win

Veteran Team at Washington; Stanford, California Strong; Southern Cal Dark Horse

To Jimmy Phelan's Washington Huskies, first team to meet the Vandals, is conceded the best chance to hold up northwest football honors in the Pacific coast conference football battle this year.

Phelan, with an almost completely veteran and fast, clever football squad, is due to lead the Huskies into the Pacific coast victories for which he was imported from Purdue, where he was so successful. For the last several years a definite threat to the football greats of California, the Husky club, their attack headed by such stars as By Haines and Elmer Logg, are scheduled for the win column.

COUGARS STRONG THIS YEAR
Washington State, with the wily Babe Hollingsbery pulling the strings, can be counted on to have a strong squad.

The versatile Ed Goddard, last year's sensational sophomore backfield star, should show even better, and additions from last year's strong freshman squad should add materially to Cougar strength. The flashy Ted Christofferson, long-striding halfback, will be in his last season at Washington State.

Oregon, famous for its "cruncher" plays, has Coach "Prink" Callison dishing up a new variation of the "cruncher" adapted especially to the charging of Frank Michel, veteran fullback. Plenty of veterans, sprinkled with a liberal supply of transfers from junior colleges, gives Callison ample material to work with.

Oregon State, minus only one star backfield man, Red Franklin, by graduation, opens its season against Linfield college tomorrow. Lon Stiner, head man of the Orange squad, introduced the "iron man" squad two years ago, but fell down to a mediocre team last year.

Montana, with a new coach, Douglas Fessenden, may jump from the bottom of the percentage column this year. A crop of promising sophomores will supplement last year's club in doughty fashion.

"TINY" BANKS ON GRAYSON
Swinging south, "Tiny" Thornhill, the giant coach of the Stanford Indians, will have nine seniors playing together and expects to take the conference for the third straight year, which would give his team a Rose Bowl bid. The great Bobby Grayson, a national star for the last two years, will be even more valuable this year. The Indians needed only a tackle and a back who could shift from quarter to half to complete their club last spring, and recruits from last fall's freshman team should yield men for those places.

Another new coach, "Stub" Allison of California, will be developing the Golden Bears for a crack at Stanford in the traditional Stanford-California clash. Biggest game in popularity and gate receipts on the coast next to the Rose Bowl classic, that battle will mark the peak for the California team. Allison is building from the bottom, sifting sophomores in among his varsity reserves and what few veterans he has to make a ball club.

SOUTHERN CAL HAS NEW SHIFT
Southern California, always at or on the top until last year's disastrous season, can be counted on to come up with a dangerous squad. A new, confusing merry-go-round shift has been devised by the canny Howard Jones for the discomfiture of opposing teams. A new star may flit through football heavens with the coming of "Davie" Davis, a pass-catching protege of Jones.

At U. C. L. A., Bill Spaulding, with a liberal assortment of veterans and sophomores can be counted upon to have a big stumbling block for championship hopes on the part of any team.

"LEAVING CHICAGO TONIGHT ARRIVE MOSCOW SATURDAY NOON."

This was one of the telegrams delivered yesterday afternoon to Dr. M. G. Neale, president of the university. The wire was from Donald McGill, associate professor of voice, a new faculty member whose absence was announced when new faculty members were introduced Wednesday.

Clapp Announces Enlarged Program for Intramural Athletics

Here's the Brother Team on the 1935 Vandal Squad

Fighting the Idaho's gridiron wars this fall, will be another brother act, George and Lewis of his passes. George, a senior, plays end, while for little brother and perhaps snatch a few Rich, of FILER. Big brother will have to blame Lewis, a sophomore, is fullback.

As a blocker, George rates top on the Vandal team. He is a two-year letterman. Though he was injured early in the season last year, and played in only three games, he earned his letter.

Lewis was the most outstanding ball packer on the 1934 freshman team. He will alternate with veteran Ross Sundberg, IDAHO FALLS, at fullback job. Coach Ted Bank considers him one of his best line plungers. In the final spring practice scrimmage last May, Lewis broke a couple of ribs, but kept the injury to himself so he could get in 45 minutes more of hard football.

COACHES INSTRUCT P. E. CLASSES

Physical education classes for underclassmen will have actual coaching this year, assured Coach Percy Clapp, physical education director, yesterday.

Classes will be conducted by the coaches themselves, and supervised play together with actual coaching will be held, with majors in physical education assisting.

In 1928 Turkish citizens were forbidden to wear the fez, under severe penalties.

Participation of More Students Is Aim of New System

A full and complete system of intramural sports, including not only competition between groups, but between classes and schools as well, is the aim of the new intramural program, announced Percy Clapp, director, yesterday.

"What we primarily want," said Clapp, "is not a skeletonized competition between representatives of a few houses and halls, but a diversified program, in some part of which every man at all interested in athletics may have some degree of skill."

EVERYBODY TO PARTICIPATE
In the past, a majority of the men on the campus have not had an opportunity to take part in a sport, either because they are not adapted to a particular sport, or because they do not belong to a group which sponsors a team. We wish to establish enough sports of varied natures to allow all men to participate.

Soft ball, volley ball, horseshoes, swimming, tennis (singles and doubles), golf, track, cross country, and touch football are all to be on the program. Handball is to be added if courts can be provided. Under the direction of the department of physical education, intramural activities will begin in October.

The point system, as has been used in previous years will be the

Vandal Boxers Start Conditioning Work For Olympics

With hopes for Pacific coast championships soaring high, Vandal boxers started conditioning work yesterday, with regular workouts to begin Monday.

This is the Olympic games boxing year, and, according to Coach Louis August, every indication points toward a successful season. Every man from last year's team is back, and the Idaho squad has new material coming up which looks promising.

Coach August urges all men interested in boxing to turn out immediately so he can know the size of the turnout. The squad will be divided into four classes, eliminating the possibilities of mismatches. Each man will be placed in the class in which he is best fitted, and will then be promoted according to his ability and the number of fights he wins.

Thetas and L.D.S. Lead in Scholarship

Winning group scholarship honors is getting to be a habit with two social group organizations on the Idaho campus, Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and L. D. S. Institute, men.

Grade averages for last year, announced at the opening assembly Thursday morning by President M. G. Neale, found Kappa Alpha Theta again on top of the entire heap of 29 student residences, with an average of 4.837 out of a possible 6.000 for all "A" grades. The L. D. S. institute headed the 18 men's groups with an average of 4.659.

Is Fourth Cup

Both groups last year won permanent possession of their respective scholarship trophies, each having won for three years. The fourth Burton L. French trophy is now up for competition among the men. Phi Gamma Delta won the first cup Mr. French donated in 1923; Tau Kappa Epsilon annexed the second trophy in 1928; and the L. D. S. Institute men the third one a year ago.

Kappa Alpha Theta last year took the Mary McClintock Upham permanently out of circulation, thereby leaving no new cup they could display on the mantle this fall. President Neale said he would speak to his wife about the matter, adding more seriously that she would follow tradition and supply a new cup for the women this fall. Elizabeth Kidder Lindley, wife of former President Lindley, started the tradition of donating the women's trophies. Her trophy, the first, has been held by Pi Beta Phi since 1925. Nine years elapsed before Kappa Alpha Theta could make an end of the second one last year, the trophy donated by the former President Upham's wife.

GRAD APPOINTED TO GOVERNMENT WORK

Appointment of Joel L. Priest, Jr., city editor of the Salt Lake Tribune, director of the national re-employment service in Utah, was announced recently by the department of labor. Priest is a graduate of the Idaho College of Law and is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

The appointment was effective September 16, according to an article in the Boise Idaho Statesman, and Priest's office will be in Salt Lake.

Priest was correspondent for the Associated Press in Boise from 1922 to 1926, from which position he resigned to become city editor of The Tribune. He was manager of the Union Pacific system news bureau in Los Angeles for two years and then returned to The Tribune in 1932.

TENNEY REPORT'S GIFT OF 50 BIBLES BY GIDDEONS

C. W. Tenney, director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education reports a gift of 50 copies of The Book from the Spokane Camp of Gideons, for the use of the student who does not bring his Bible from home.

Although this Commercial Traveller and Business Men's association of America has placed thousands of Bibles in hotels, hospitals, homes, and even prisons, both President Thorne Glimmer and Secretary Caleb Stake of the Spokane camp say this is their first donation for the use of college or university students.

The institute is sponsored by 15 denominations and is affiliated with the university which gives regular credit for the work that is done in this school of religion.

Additional Sports

Track Will Continue Whole Year According to Ryan

Track will be developed and promoted to its fullest possible extent this year, if plans of Coach Mike Ryan, new track instructor, mature.

Formerly an exclusive spring sport on the Idaho campus, track will be extended as a year-around sport, including varsity, class, and intramural divisional participation. Track will start officially next week.

"I don't know what the outlook will be at present," Ryan stated, "but I expect a turnout of two hundred men."

PROPOSE DUAL CONTESTS

Although a definite schedule has not been set, Coach Ryan proposes to have three dual contests for the varsity with northern division institutions before Thanksgiving, two indoor track meets during the winter months, and an extensive outdoor track program in the spring, including participation in the West Coast relay contest in California, and the national collegiate championships in the middlewest, and if material permits, competition in the Olympic tryouts previous to the great marathon which will be held in Berlin, Germany next summer.

The campus program includes a freshman meet which will be held in about two weeks, a freshman-sophomore meet a week later and an inter-class meet the third week. An inter-class relay, an inter-class cross-country race, and an inter-fraternity cross-country race will be held in the same manner by Thanksgiving. During the indoor season, an inter-fraternity track meet will be held, and also a novice track meet for those who cannot qualify for the regular teams, or have had no experience. The spring program will provide for an outdoor inter-fraternity meet. Trophies are being considered for the winners of each of the three seasonal championships.

NUMERAL MEET IN SPRING

A numeral meet also will be held in the spring for those upper-class track men who have trained diligently but have failed to qualify for regular letters.

"I believe that an all-school-year track season is an improvement," said Coach Ryan, "for it allows football men who do not play basketball and baseball to remain active during the indoor and spring months, and also allows the basketball and baseball players to engage in athletics during the fall."

New Lights Allow Late Practice For Vandals

"Let there be light!"

So ordered the Lord in the old days, and so ordered Ted Bank, new head Vandal football coach this summer, with the result that a complete new lighting system, adequate for night games, has been set up on MacLean field ready for evening football practice next week if necessary.

While not installed with the idea of holding night games, the system affords enough light to make them possible. Three floodlights, each one containing a 1000 watt globe, are placed atop each of the five poles on the field. The poles are so placed that they will not interfere with any activity on the field. The new system of field lights is a great improvement over the old style of lighting and will enable the football coaches to hold full time practice later in the season when daylight playing time is at a premium.

Football Periodicals Praise Idaho Gridmen And Coaching Staff

Once more the University and the state have received publicity because of their football players; and this time it consists of two writeups and pictures in two gridiron magazines, according to an article in a recent issue of the Boise, Idaho Statesman.

"Who's Who in Major League

Football, which just came out in Chicago, contains a picture of "Wee Willie" Smith, former Idaho star quarterback, who is now playing with the New York Giants professional club. The accompanying story says:

Describes Smithy

"He's one of the smallest and most elusive backfield artists in the National League, standing but 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighing 145 pounds, but all opponents of the Giants hold Willis Smith in high esteem." A brief biography is also given.
