Dramatists Set Stage For "The Drunkard"

Professor Blanchard Gives Old Fashioned Melodrama November 1 and 2; Ambrose Has Lead

The voices of Coach Ted Bank's signal callers will fade out temporarily on November 1 and 2; the fast approaching Homecoming fever at Idaho will subside for the moment; we shall all ease up in the university whirlpool as the curtain is rolled back and the lights flare up, then shine calmly down on the rural setting of Prof. Fred C. Blanchard's first big play of the year.

It's "The Drunkard." The "drunkard," Grant Ambrose, who plays the lead, is not going to take things too seriously. Professor Blanchard won't be too serious about the whole affair; he hopes the audience which perks up at the opening scene won't be too sombre. Why should the Argonaut be too serious with "The Drunkard?" It won't.

First Produced In 1844
This fall attraction of the dramatic department is an old-fashioned melodrama. Although revived frequently in recent years, "The Drunkard" was first produced in 1844. Its author, W. H. Smith, was one of those powdered-hair playwrights who portrayed all his perfect individuals or just the opposite. Blanchard's cast is half "good," half "bad."

The whirling theme of the melodrama extends through five acts wrapped around rural cottages, barrooms, forests, and the streets of Broadway.

The atmosphere of 1844 does not lift during the period between acts. Bob Harris, Dorothy Brown, and Don Tracy—labeled as Farmer Stevens, Miss Spindle, and Farmer Gates, respectively, in the play—will furnish some good entertainment and some bad musical numbers during the lulls between curtains.

Blanchard Produced Similar Play
Professor Blanchard, whose personal direction of a miner's pageant in Kellogg last summer has echoed throughout the Northwest, produced a play here five years ago called "Tom Cobb" or "Fortune's Toy."

It was along the same foolhardy lines as "The Drunkard." The audience roared at "Fortune's Toy," cheering the hero, booing the villain. Will 1935 Idaho students surrender to "The Drunkard?" It's director believes so.

Completing the cast—some wicked, others righteous—are Gwendolyn Harrigan as Mary, the sweet heroine; John Barker, as Crisbs, the fierce villain; Andy James, playing Williams; Katherine Bjornstad, portraying Agnes the maid; the landlord, in the person of Aldrich Bowler; Ken Lauritzen as Renslaw, the philanthropist who reforms the drunkard; and Ruth Ferney as Julia.

Gretel Ware, depleting Mrs. Wilson, and Ambrose, playing the lead, portrayed the same characters at Idaho's Southern Branch when the play was produced there last year. Both are transfers from "down south."

80 Are Chosen for A Cappella Choir

Group Begins Rehearsals Today; Will Sing Old Latin Liturgicals

As a result of the tryouts, conducted during the past two weeks, 80 students have been chosen for the a cappella choir: Sopranos: Billie Jane Austin, Katherine Cady, Nina Mae Jewell, Florence Lavette, Wilma Neal, Carol J. Sann, Irene Wallis, Geraldine Burris, Dorothy Brown, Lorna Jane Cornell, Jessie Keeney, Louise Paulson, Louise Tomlinson, Ida Mae Gillenwater, Jean Baer, Gladys McCauley, June Viel, Golden Robertson, Zelma McCarroll, Elvira Tulliett, Geraldine Wagner, and Doris Franson.

Altos: Helen Abbott, Talmie Erickson, Ann LaRue, Sara Mitchell, Jeanne Perkins, Helen Rogers, Helen Clough, Edean Waterman, Margaret Quist, Maxine Berfer, Gertrude Gehrke, Fay Pettijohn, Agda Walden, Thelma Niott, Margaret Brown, Helen Kienly, Ethel Gehrke, Mary Mitchell, Vold Claire Espe, and Wynifred Peterson; Tenors: Robert T. Parker, Robert G. Parker, Charles Kljansky, Eugene Ryan, Mark Dayley, Dick Paris, Wilson Bundy, Bill Boyd, Melvin Westerdahl, Clement O'Connor, Wayne Hampton, Donald Klingler, George Lyons, Robert Bollinger, Dwight Barton, Larry Robinson, Rex Tolman, Arthur Schader, Dick Maxwell, and Don Nelson.

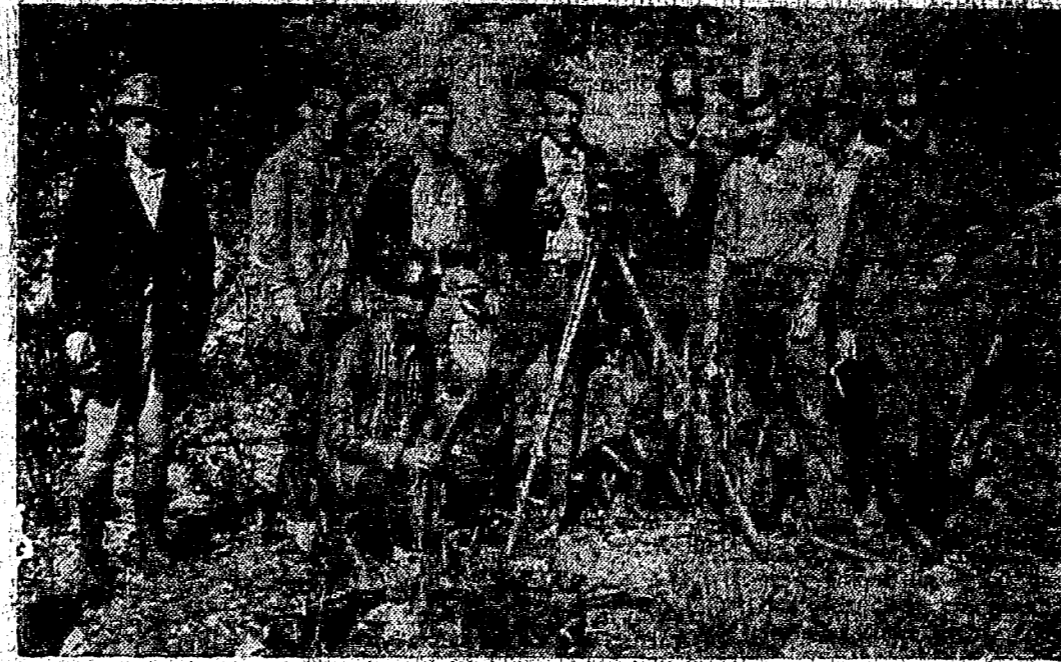

Basses: Karl Wilson, Cedric Saunders, Miro Mikulich, Kent Matney, Wendell Lawrence, William E. Jorgenson, Wallace Garetts, Lewis Polson, Charles Nelson, Elaine Crawford, Al Torelle, James Burkhardt, Robert Harris, Archie Towne, James Wright, Don Tracy, Ray Randall, and Dean Fuharty.

The choir will meet from 4 to 5 on Tuesday and Thursday in science 110, the first rehearsal being today. The group will sing old Latin liturgical music to develop tone quality. "Adoramus te Christe," "O Bone Jesu," "Bona Pastor" and selected Bach chorales will be included.

A possible activity of the organization will be broadcasting from KHQ in Spokane.

A blotter is something you look for while the ink dries.

Idaho Mining Students Gain Experience

Nine Idaho school of mines seniors have been in the Coeur d'Alenes on a week of practical training in mine surveying in the upper workings of the Sherman Lead company property, north of Burke. The boys are shown here as they prepared to enter the No. 5 tunnel of the Sherman for their first trip underground. Left to right, rear row: A. E. Nugent, Wallace, Richard Courtney, Kellogg; Robert Lang, Coeur d'Alene; Earl Leatham, Shelley; Robert L. Spence, Chicago; Austin Park, Wilmington, Del.; James Maguire, Anaconda, Mont.; and John C. Wells, Weiser. Kneeling in front is Howard Timken, Kellogg. The picture was taken by W. W. Staley, assistant professor of the school of mines, in charge of the group.

Students to Elect Class Officers

Polls Open at 9 a. m. Tomorrow; Both Parties Predict Victory

Polls will open at 9 a. m. Wednesday for the first political struggle this school year. Both the Campus party and the United Students party are confident of victory. Sophomores, junior, and senior classes will cast their ballots in the north end of the Ad building. Polls will close at 4 p. m.

UNITED STUDENTS PARTY
Seniors—George Brunzell, president; George Rich, vice president; Eleanor Eichternach, secretary; and Bill Simon, treasurer.
Juniors—Earl Bullock, president; Charles Collins, vice president; Esther Fleiner, secretary; and Fay Pettijohn, treasurer.

CAMPUS PARTY
Seniors—Earl Leatham, president; Bud Smiset, vice president; Mildred Garson, secretary; and Floyd Claypool, treasurer.
Juniors—Bill Armstrong, president; Cy Atkins, vice president; Virginia Norris, secretary; and John Cooper, treasurer.
Sophomores—Iver Longtleg, president; Kenneth Fitzgerald, vice president; Marie Haasch, secretary; and Barbara Walker, treasurer.
Ralph Sampson, original nominee for the senior treasurer on the United Students party withdrew. No other changes in the original ticket of either party has been reported.

Richard Stanton, '34 Takes Position On Statesman

Richard Stanton, '34, who majored in journalism at Idaho, has accepted a position on the business staff of the Idaho Statesman, and is leaving today for Boise to take over the work. For the last two weeks he has been employed as a reporter on the Lewiston Tribune, a morning daily.

CORNELISON GIVES RIFLE TO MUSEUM

A historic rifle has been donated to the university museum by W. H. Cornelison of Moscow. It is one of the old hand-loaded type used in the days of Indian fighting. It once belonged to Daniel Mings, Kentucky, great uncle of Allen, Boyd, and Harold Cornelison, students of the University.

U. of I. Students Rescue Spokane Physician From Burning Bed

Two University of Idaho Students, Charles Shaw and Dean Parker, are credited with saving the life of Dr. George A. Downs, 46, well-known physician, Sunday morning at a Spokane hotel, when upon investigating the source of smoke which poured into their room they found the physician's bed ablaze.

Arousing Dr. Downs, the two students extinguished the fire before the fire department arrived. Painful first and second degree burns were the only injuries sustained by the doctor who apparently fell asleep while smoking.

Rythm Kings Play Here Homecoming

Moscow Alumni Hire O'Donnell's 12-Piece Band for Dance November 9; Committees Plan Reunion

Morris O'Donnell, a former Idaho student, with his intercollegiate dance band, composed of 12 musicians and two vocalists, has been engaged by the Idaho Alumni club of Moscow as a special attraction for the traditional Homecoming dance to be held in the Memorial gymnasium the evening after the Idaho-W. S. C. game, November 9.

Blue Bucket Staff Begins Campus Canvass

The Blue Bucket business staff has started a new CCC movement, a Concentrated Campus Canvass, to get the students Blue Bucket minded.

Felton Is Appointed To Randolph Field As Flying Cadet

Robert Felton, university senior from Lewiston, received confirmation Friday of the coveted appointment as army flying cadet at Randolph field, San Antonio, Texas. After receiving the appointment from the United States army headquarters he reported to Fort George Wright, Spokane, and was furnished transportation from there to the flying field.

Mascot Needed Says Yell King

Days When Vandals Had Mascot Seemed to Bring Luck Says Power

Washington has its husky, Navy has its goat, Army has its mule, and Wash. State has its cougar. And what does Idaho have as a symbol of its fighting spirit? Nothing!

Yell King Here Homecoming

About 10 years ago, Idaho had a real mascot. A great dane named Vandal, colored to suggest the gold of the Idaho colors. At football games this huge dog was proudly led before the rooting section by some Intercollegiate Knights to bring the favors of Lady Luck to Idaho.

The coeds of 10 years ago, however, were of the timid sort, and Vandal so frightened them that he had to be sold.

Blue Bucket Staff Begins Campus Canvass

The Blue Bucket business staff has started a new CCC movement, a Concentrated Campus Canvass, to get the students Blue Bucket minded.

Former Instructor Visits University

Ralph C. Shuey, instructor in chemistry at the University in 1910 and 1911, revisited the campus yesterday. He is on a lecture tour of various northwestern universities.

First Debate Turnout Will Be Tomorrow

Manager Orland Gives Freshmen Invitation to Report; Extensive Program Includes International Match

The debate season will start Wednesday when a meeting will be held to organize the squad, according to an announcement from the offices of H. Lewis Orland, debate manager. The meeting is called for 4 o'clock in Ad. 245.

Vandal Frosh Ready For Battles

New Plays and Scrimmage With Varsity to Occupy Time

New plays, scrimmage with the varsity, and intensive workouts are in order for the Idaho Trosh eleven. With the Lewiston normal scrap only a week and four days away, the baby Vandals have plenty to occupy their limited time before October 19.

"The backs will be small," said Coach Paddock while lacing his left cleated shoe. "But the line is shaping up in great style with lots of rangy boys out there trying. Although the Tulane system is new, they are learning it fast. The system, while not entirely offensive, does tend to lean more toward the offense than defense."

Go To Los Angeles

The high point of the year comes in April when the Pacific Forensic League holds its annual meeting in Los Angeles. Idaho will send contestants to enter the extemporaneous speaking, oratory, after dinner speaking, and debate.

'27 GRAD APPOINTED TO WISCONSIN U.

Sarah Trousdale Mallory, '27, has been appointed to a position on the English faculty at the University of Wisconsin, according to an announcement from the University of Idaho placement service.

Senior Hall Players Defeat Lindley Netmen

Four intramural tennis matches were played over the weekend but results were available on only two as intramural managers failed to turn in results of matches played.

An extended debate program is contemplated this year with opportunities for participation by more persons than has been possible for many years in the past, especially on the varsity squad. Plans for the year include a tour of "Lundson" groups in northern Idaho in the latter part of November. On this tour, which will probably be made by four men, the question to be discussed will be: "Is the Constitution Outmoded?"

In December there will be triangular debates for both men and women in which Whitman, Washington State college, and the University of Idaho will take part. The men's tourney will be held at Pullman in which Idaho will enter eight men. The question to be discussed at this tournament and most of the other debates of the year will be: Resolved: that Congress should be permitted by a two-thirds vote to override a five-four majority of the Supreme Court to declare a law unconstitutional.

The women's triangular debate will be held in Walla Walla and they will discuss the question: resolved: that Mussolini has been a detriment to Italy.

The freshman tournament will be held in Spokane in January. We hope to take 20 freshmen men and women," stated Orland. The men's varsity question will probably be used. Schools represented in this tournament will include Gonzaga, Washington State college, Whitworth college, Lewiston normal, Cheney normal, Coeur d'Alene junior college, and the University of Idaho.

Tentative plans have been made for an international debate in May at Vancouver, B. C.

Orland urged all those interested in turning out for debate to do so at this first meeting in order that they may start to work on the question immediately.

Senior Hall Players Defeat Lindley Netmen

Four intramural tennis matches were played over the weekend but results were available on only two as intramural managers failed to turn in results of matches played.

As a result of the failure to turn in tennis results, Coach Clapp issued the following bulletin: "Intramural managers report results of tennis matches at the athletic office immediately upon completion of the match. This must be done directly following the match in order to receive credit for points, and avoid confusion in handling the tournament."

That Library Matter Again

There has been no appropriation for improving the facilities of the University library since 1929. At that time the university was given the basement space under the now existing library to use as a store room.

In 1929 the total enrollment in the university and the theoretical number of students using the library was 2020. Now the enrollment has gone up to around 2500. Such an increase in library users with a corresponding lack of increased space is alarming. To use a library properly and profitably there must be plenty of room to accommodate these persons. To facilitate the finding of books they desire room must be had to place the contents of the library in a convenient manner.

The arrangement of the library at present shows a definite lack of room for any library which is possessed by and part of a state university. The reading room, which contains the newspapers and the magazines, even with special narrow tables, is crowded to the point where moving about is prohibitory. When a back issue of a paper is desired, or a back issue of a magazine not in the magazine stacks is needed, the librarian in attendance must go to the basement for it. This means that she must go down stairs and the length of the library to get the desired edition.

The basement supply room is unsuited for a periodical storage space. During part of the year it is flooded. This causes the papers to mildew and mold, causing much loss of valuable and often unreplaceable editions.

In the main reading room the tables are, out of necessity, placed close together. Such an arrangement results in poor ventilation, facilitates the spread of infectious diseases such as colds, and causes much confusion to the study of students.

The university may need many other additions in the form of buildings, new teachers, and new equipment, but the need of an adequate library has been put off for years with no relief as yet. The library represents the research and the pleasure of more students than does any other need of the school.—D.D.V.

Wolves in Sheep's Clothing

HELLO EVERYBODY
 Well, well, well! My it was a nice game. Didn't everybody have the most wonderful time in the big city. We hear that they changed the name of that popular spot in the Desert to the Ground Up Room. OHHHH my feet. It will be at least two weeks before I will be able to walk again. In the meantime I am going to stay in bed and recover from my restful vacation. We heard that several hundred other students were planning the same thing. Can't say as I blame you fellows, and co-eds.

The spirit of the game was wonderful—when ever somebody made a run. Leading yells for the bunch of corpses out there would be as pleasant as trying to hold back the rip-tide in the Bay of Fundy. Why couldn't they sing the songs out there at the games like they did at the Round-Up room. The pep band sounded good. At least, it didn't sound like a dance band. It would have been nice to be able to dance to the Gonzaga Pep band. Sounded just like Lombardo.

We wonder if anybody has thought anything about this mascot yet. It would be just plenty nice to have one to dedicate at Homecoming. Maybe the yell leaders and Blue Key could get together and figure out some appropriate ceremonies for it. Think it over.

Hawkeye

On Duty

DAVENPORTS, DESSERTS, ROUNDUPS, WEEK END!! How do you upperclassmen expect to discipline your frosh when you can't act like grown-ups yourselves? Those maneuvers and capers that were displayed even made old "Hawkeye" himself turn his face in shame.

The hotels were so full of Idaho students that they even had to accommodate some of them in the jails. Who was Ralph Wilson? It has been rumored that he lives on the corner of Elm and Idaho, and his initials were the only thing that gave him away.

A wrecked car and a night in the brig is a pleasant way to spend the day, the night and father's money. Don't feel too bad about the night there—even if you don't know it—you had about 25 room mates.

Scoop—a campus snoop who wanted to be hawk-eye got his nose stepped on. He also got a hair pin in his eye. Try the Davenport, they have Yale locks.

Jack Marcy ran into a truck, the truck is doing very nicely. Alum Long Green was kept so busy keeping busy that he neglected doing anything at all—except???? maybe cleanin prices will go up. Tracy got home with a pocket full of tokens and Nellie. Several football boys missed the train Saturday night—'tis funny how they could get hotel rooms when they came back from the dash to catch the train—authentically speaking, all rooms were rented before noon. On the return special they had to keep one light on—they hung Husted, he's light.

Some one should write a letter to Hack Fisher and tell him that he came up from Weiser to see the game—others could write Steward and Wetherall. The rest of the thrill and adventure seekers that made the trip were also seen, but they were in such terrible condition that Hawkeye didn't even recognize them.

Here 'n There

Several suggestions for a new Vandal mascot have been turned in to Otto Power, yell king. They include a Vandal spear, shield, dog, or a boat to haul the Pep band around in at the games.

It seems to be the unanimous opinion of every student interviewed that an Associated Students Bookstore would be a splendid addition to the campus because the annual two or three weeks wait for text books could be almost entirely eliminated.

Our worthy yell leader, Otto Power, when asked to express his opinion of the Idaho spirit that prevailed at the game, replied, "The spirit and yelling force wasn't as good as could be expected because the crowd seemed scattered. It compared with last year; however, but we are going to try for a bigger and better yelling force."

VANDAL
 Tuesday—Wednesday—Thursday
 "DANTE'S INFERNO," featuring Spencer Tracy, Claire Trevor, Alan Dinehart, Henry B. Walthall.

An absorbing story has been incorporated into "Annapolis Farewell" which uses the daily routine life of the midshipman as a background to the central theme. Sir Guy Standing, a retired naval officer with bachelor quarters on the school's grounds, lives in the memories of the days he commanded the Congress at Manila Bay, at the same time watching with critical interest the arrival of the new plebes. Two middles, Richard Cromwell and Tom Brown find themselves roommates. The boys, exact opposites, are constantly antagonistic to each other. Rosalind Keith portrays the romantic interest, while Benny Baker and Louise Beaver are responsible for many amusing sequences. John Howard also deserves mention for his work.

Dante Alighieri, the famous Italian poet, product of the Italian Renaissance and exiled for political reasons from his native city of Florence, penned a word-picture of his descent into Hell that has endured through the centuries as one of the most vivid descriptions of the Inferno that the mind of man could conceive. "Dante's Inferno" as it now stands is a story of a modern sinner and his climb to wealth through deceit, trickery, and arch-knavery. It is when this man does penance for his crimes that the startling, colorful, and frequently awe-inspiring Inferno sequences are employed. Spencer Tracy is cast in the role of the sinner, with Alan Dinehart as his "right hand" man. Claire Trevor is the girl and Henry B. Walthall plays the part that approximates that of the poet, Virgil.

It was a field day for athletes when Fox filmed "Dante's Inferno" for more than 50 major letter men were included in the thousands of extras required for the Inferno scenes of the picture.

An enlightened mind is not hoodwinked; it is not shut up in a gloomy prison till it thinks the walls of its own dungeon the limits of the universe, and the reach of its own chain the outer verge of intelligence.—Longfellow.

"Theatrical critics are, for the most part, men without intellect, perception, sensitivity, or background; they pander to the tastes of the empty-headed, the bored, the insensitive, and the complacent."—Elmer Rice.

Die when I may, I want it said of me by those who knew me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted the flower where I thought a flower would grow.—Lincoln.

Isn't the talking screen a wonderful thing for those who love a person? It allows them to live on after they have gone.—Will Rogers.

FROM STONE TO STEEL

THOUSANDS of years ago, a skin-clad workman pounded away with a cobblesone on a slab of hard rock. In a few years, that slab might be passably square and smooth.

Today, busy machines, supervised by trained workmen, pare off crisp, curling ribbons from whirling blocks of steel; as one would unwind ribbon from a spool, shaping the metal to a thousand purposes—to an accuracy within a few ten-thousandths of an inch.

CARBOLOY—a modern tool material developed by General Electric research—has made possible this speed, this precision. It cuts materials hitherto unworkable—cuts faster and holds its edge longer than steel tools—can be run at red heat without losing its temper.

CARBOLOY is only one of the contributions made to improved industrial processes by G-E research—which has saved the public from ten to one hundred dollars for every dollar earned for General Electric.

First Play Touchdown by Gonzaga Gives Bulldogs Narrow Victory Over Fighting Vandals

Time: Saturday afternoon.
Scene: Gonzaga game.
Action: Tommy McNeese, fleet Bulldog halfback, running the initial kickoff through the entire Idaho team for a touchdown.
It should have been a play, but it wasn't. A crowd of eager fans watched in bewilderment as the action took shape before the latecomers were in their seats—as McNeese, repeating a performance he pulled off in the opening play of his first game as a freshman four years ago, caught Sundberg's kick, swerved toward the center of the field and ran 90 yards for a touchdown. Not a hand was laid upon him in the dash for the zero line. Seconds later, Ray Olsen converted and the Bulldogs won, 7 to 6.

Ward Scores
A surprised and shaken Idaho offense rallied to drive the Bulldogs back for long gains time after time, only to bog down inside the 5-yard line. Shadows were extending far over the playing field before Theron Ward socked through right guard from the 6-inch line for the only Idaho touchdown, after speeding around end for 46 and 19 yard gains. A line play, good for three yards by Ross Sundberg, had put the ball on the scoring position. Willie Maxson started the 79-yard drive with a 16-yard sprint soon after the final period began. The try for point by Wendell Dayton was blocked when Barrett Ely, agile Bulldog right end, came in fast to knock it down after it had already left Dayton's toe.

The inspired Vandal squad that put up such a determined fight against Washington a week ago Saturday was dull, almost lackadaisical, at Spokane. The drive which impressed fans at Seattle seemed lacking against the Bulldogs, with Swede Ward and Willie Maxson the most effective Idaho backs. Showing brilliance in mid-field, the Vandal defense lacked punch inside the 20-yard line, and was almost powerless to prevent Gonzaga passes from succeeding.

Both Nearly Score
Both clubs made strong scoring bids in the second quarter. Russ Hale, Gonzaga captain, intercepted a Vandal pass on the Idaho 47-yard line. A 25-yard run by McNeese, George Karamatic's 17-yard pass to Ed Justice, and several short gains advanced the ball to the Idaho three, where Karamatic's flat pass to Justice in the end zone was long and the threat failed.
Idaho made a succession of first downs to the Gonzaga 1-yard line, but failed to score as two line bucks failed to gain and a brace of short passes were incomplete. Here a 23-yard run by the speedy Swede Ward and a pass from McCue to Ward, followed by a 33-yard dash by Ward through the left side of the line as the Bulldogs expected another pass by McCue featured the drive.

Karamatic flipped a slow pass to Justice for 23 yards in the fourth quarter, to put the ball on the Idaho 21, but a fumbled lateral stopped the advance.
Idaho made 14 first downs to six for Gonzaga. Gonzaga completed two of five passes for 45 yards. Idaho completed three of 11 passes for 13 yards. Gonzaga's nine punts average 35.5-9 yards, Idaho's seven 33.5-7. Idaho totaled 321 yards from scrimmage; Gonzaga, 188.

Canadian Track Star Elected Captain Of Frosh Squad

Alvin Poole, former Canadian track man, was elected captain of the freshman track team at a meeting held last night for all freshmen. Ralph Blake, a Twin Falls boy who was nominated as a loyal worker and one who could throw the "bull" a hundred yards even though he couldn't run it, was elected manager.
Coach Ryan, who rated himself as a freshman here at Idaho, talked to the boys about track. With the cooperation of the boys, if they will back him up in numbers especially, he is sure that he will be able to build up a team that will bring Idaho to the front in track. He has an extensive program planned that will require the united effort of the boys before it will succeed. "Any man can succeed in track who has time, patience, and stick-to-itiveness," he said.

Sluggers, Jabbers, Footracers Uncovered at Boxing Preview

Several fighters of real worth stood out in the preview smoker held at the Memorial gymnasium last Friday night.
Joey August lived up to expectations in one of the main bouts of the evening, entertaining the spectators and perplexing his opponents with nimble footwork, expert dodging, and lightning punching. August, however, was apparently forced to his utmost by Earl Spencer, an exceedingly good boxer and puncher himself, who was August's opponent in the first two rounds of the four-round main event. Jim Rayburn, who fought August in the last two rounds, gave a good account of himself, and succeeded in evading August's haymakers until he took a right smash to the jaw a second or so before the final bell that apparently had him reeling.

Show Speed
Paul George, 164-pound Pacific Coast champion, and Bill Morrow, crack Idaho heavyweight, put on a bout that had the crowd alert from bell to bell. Both used their lefts to advantage and mixed it hard to the finish.

The Roy Hanford-Rex Tolman bout was the slugfest of the evening. They went after each other in no dainty manner and afforded the crowd a bang-up fight.

George Riddle and Luke Puzell, two clever Idaho boxers, furnished a fast, even match with plenty of action.

The referee of the evening was Vern Driskill. Carl Burt, frosh announcer boomed out the announcements and introductions.

MINOR I CLUB PLANS YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

The Minor I club at a meeting last night made tentative plans to sponsor a luncheon for alumni during Homecoming, and to hold a carnival and dance. The proceeds of these events will go to buy a trophy case for the Memorial gymnasium, according to Richard Axtell, president.

The club decided to initiate new members in the spring, instead of during the year as they earn their sweaters.
Another meeting will be held October 21, to make more definite arrangements concerning the activities.

mination, came back strong, winning 6-2, and 6-3.
In Monday evening's matches Bud Sanderson and Bill McCrea, playing for the Sigma Nus, defeated the Lambda Chi net representatives. Sanderson defeated Armstrong 6-0 and 6-0, while McCrea outplayed Fudge of the Lambda Chis in two straight 6-1 6-1. Lambda Chi defaulted the doubles.

The tennis schedule for the remainder of the week is Tuesday, Phi Delt vs. Chi Alpha Pi and Delta Chi vs. Delta Tau Delta; Wednesday, Idaho Club vs. Senior hall and S. A. E. vs. Ridenbaugh hall.

Track and Field Meet To Begin Wednesday

For the first time in Idaho track history, MacLean field will be the scene of a fall track and field meet. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock, this first annual freshmen meet will get under way. The gun will send the frosh digging out of their holes to vie for honors in the 100-yard dash, 800-yard run, and 120-yard low hurdles. Discus men and high jumpers are also on the program.

In addition to the events for the frosh there will be the 2-mile run open to all upperclassmen.
The meet will be continued on Thursday with the 300-yard dash, 1000-yard run, and the shotput. Spectators may see many thrills and spills as the pole vaulters hit the saw dust pit. Vaulting is open for all classes.

60 Out For Track
Much enthusiastic comment may be heard about the campus regarding Coach Mike Ryan's new track program. Probably more indicative of the interest is the 60 men or more who have turned out for the daily workouts. Work for the past week has included starts with the gun and form drills in addition to the regular routine of logging and sprinting to build up stamina.

Cross country men are still laboring hard in anticipation of the approaching meets with W.S.C. Whitman, and Oregon State. Fraternity leaders have been pricking their ears lately for tips on the cross country runs, the inter-fraternity meet being scheduled for late November.

Touchball Games Are One-sided; Lindley Wins

Lindley hall grabbed a hard fought 7-6 decision from Kappa Sigma in the feature game of the touchball tournament Monday evening. The deciding point was scored on a short pass. Wasserman to Campbell in the first half, following the touchdown scored on a long march down the field. Threatening throughout the game, Kappa Sigma finally scored near the close of the game on a pass from Taylor to Nelson. This combination proved very powerful in the full game. For Lindley, diminutive Howe played a clever running and passing game, keeping spectators on edge with his excellent work.

Other contests Monday evening were all one-sided. Senior hall falling before Tau Men Alpha 12-0, Ridenbaugh hall knocking over the University club by the same score; and Phi Delta Theta, with "Lefty" Kramer leading the attack, bowling over Sigma Chi 13-0 for its second win.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Tau fought forty minutes to a tie game Friday evening. An extra five minutes failed to alter the result. As a result of so many tie games, this being the third, Director Percy Clapp announced that each team playing a tie game would receive one-half of a victory rather than the game not counting in the standings.

Delta Chi ran up the biggest score of the tournament by trampling over the L. D. E. Institute 58-0. Sigma Nu defeated Lambda Chi 13-0 for its second victory, and completed Friday's schedule by A. T. O. defeating Chi Alpha Pi 13-0.

Coach Clapp announced that the drawings for the playoff of the touchball championship would be posted Friday. He also stated that the coaches had drawn up and diagrammed plays that work very nicely in touchball. Team managers are advised to look over the plays, which are posted on the athletic bulletin board.
Tonight's touchball schedule calls for four games: Phi vs. Sigma Nu; T. S. E. vs. L. D. E. Institute; Idaho Club vs. Delta Tau Delta; and Beta Theta Pi vs. Alpha Tau Omega.

High Ranking Graduate Gets Job at Brown

Carol Joy Campbell, highest ranking senior in Idaho's graduating class of 1934 last June, has been appointed to an assistantship in the department of economics at Brown University, Providence, R. I. Dr. J. A. Kostalek, dean of letters and science, was notified last week.

This appointment will permit her to study for a master's degree.

Miss Campbell majored in economics, elected ordinarily by men (and then only the brighter ones). During her four and one-half years on the campus, she earned 139 credits or 11 more than she needed for a B. A. degree. Her grade average was 5.950 out of a possible 6.000 for perfect on all "A" grades. Twice she fell as low as a "B," three credits of elementary play production and another three in labor problems.

No more "grind" or bookworm. Miss Campbell is the more remarkable because of her astounding record of outside activities. She sang three years with the Varsity Glee Club; earned a women's "A" sweater; made the women's rifle team as a senior; sang with the Treble Clef club; was active in the English club; was a hard-working officer in the Women's Athletic association and the A.W.S.; was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, national service honorary for senior women, Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honorary for freshman women, Cardinal Key, and Kappa Alpha Theta, social sorority.

It is reasonably safe to say that only two people have bettered Miss Campbell's scholastic record at Idaho. Mrs. J. H. Elinhouse, Moscow, was graduated in 1917 with an average of 5.989, only four hours of "B." Ten years later, J. E. Buchanan, assistant professor of civil engineering, came along to finish up four years in civil engineering with a perfect 6.000, every final grade an "A."

Phi Beta Phi entertained a group of alumnae members and patronesses at dinner Tuesday.

Chi Alpha Phi entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rhodes at dinner Saturday.

Mr. W. J. Softman, Grangeville, was a guest of Phi Beta Phi Sunday.

Blanchard To Speak At A.W.S. Assembly

"The Value of a Speaking Voice" will be the topic of an address by Fred Blanchard, dramatics instructor, to the Associated Women students at their third weekly meeting Thursday in the auditorium.

Discussion tries for last Thursday's lecture met at the homes of the faculty wives. Mrs. W. C. Banks, Mrs. Fred Blanchard, and Mrs. Erwin Stutz, application of Dean Kostalek's speech, "How to Study," was made to the practical activities of school. The study methods used in the various group houses were discussed and suggestions made for improvement.

The purpose of the discussion groups is to circulate the information and advice given in the lectures through the women's group houses.

Delta Chi Gives Dance With Prisoner Motif

Delta Chi entertained its pledges at a Prison and Prisoners dance Saturday. The programs were black and gray with a picture of a typical jailbird on the cover. The decorations of gray and black brought out the significance of the motif. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens, and Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Cromwell. Chuck Collins' orchestra furnished the music.

Miss Rosanne Roarke, Miss Ruth Stewart, and Miss Nell Irwin, were weekend guests at the Phi Beta Phi house.

Alpha Lambda Delta Plans Honorary Tea

A short business meeting of Alpha Lambda Delta will be held Monday, October 14, at 4:30 o'clock at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. Tentative plans are being made for a tea to be given at the end of the line weeks, to which all freshmen girls receiving a scholastic average of 5.0 or over will be invited.

"I might say, by way of explanation," added Miss Moore, "that Alpha Lambda Delta is a national honorary society for freshmen women, and any girl receiving an average of 5.5 for either the semester or the whole year is eligible for membership."

Kappa Phi Announces 26 Pledges

Formal pledging of Kappa Phi, national organization for Methodist women, was held in the church auditorium Sunday afternoon. Those who were pledged are: Esther Rosevear, Peggy Johnson, Ailene Trunnell, Zelma McCarroll, Clea Hudson, Lois Lipps, Helen Rogers, Frances Miller, Myrl Harris, Evangeline Carlson, Narel Aram, Evi-vine Tullet, Claire Coppock, Laura Coppock, Jean Chandler, Florence Kribs, Gladys Smith, Rachel Frevert, Irene Brevick, Ruth Karmeyer, Iva Margaret Evans, Esther Lenke, Ruth Browning, Catherine Smith, Golden Robertson, and Mrs. Dorothy Chandler.

Leaf tobacco, being sold to highest bidder

United States Treasury Building

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% — a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos. Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.
