Board of Regents Designates New Appointments

Deans Will Represent Idaho At California and Washington, D. C.; President Neale Also a Delegate

Appointments of an associate professor, an assistant, two teaching-fellowships, law librarians, a secretary to the president, and authorization of convention representatives occupied Sunday's meeting of the Idaho state board of regents. Jerome J. Day, Wallace, presided over the meeting.

Carl G. Howard, state supervisor of agricultural education for the state of Wyoming, since 1929, was appointed associate professor of agricultural education and supervisor of vocational agriculture. He will take over part of the work of Prof. H. E. Lattig, recently appointed assistant dean of the college of agriculture. A graduate of the University of Wyoming and University of Illinois, Mr. Howard has had experience in farming and agricultural education.

Two Forestry Fellows

Leslie L. Larson and Joseph L. McCarthy were appointed research fellows in forestry under special fellowship funds donated by Potlatch Forests, Inc., to study special forest problems. Larson received his B. S. Chemistry degree from Idaho in 1934. McCarthy is a University of Washington graduate in the class of 1934. Dorothy Sturgeon was named teaching fellow in the school of education.

Lionel T. Campbell and Robert M. Kerr were appointed librarians in the college of law.

Campbell, a former ASU president, has had one year of law at Idaho and two years of teaching at Midway, Idaho. Kerr has had three years at Ricks college and two years at the University of Idaho.

Miss Mabel Nye of Boise was appointed secretary to Dr. M. G. Neale, president of the University. Miss Nye, a former student of the University, succeeds Miss Constance Johnson, who recently resigned to complete her college education.

Three Assistants

Wayne W. Johnson was appointed assistant in the department of chemistry; Ora Durham, part time stenographer in the school of business administration, and Barbara Louise Schmidt, part time secretary in the college of law.

The regents authorized Dean T. S. Kerr to represent the University of Idaho at the 13th session of the Institute of World Affairs at Riverside, Calif., December 15 to 20. Dean E. J. Iddings, college of agriculture; and Dean C. W. Hungerford, graduate school, were authorized to attend the Land Grant college meeting at Washington, D. C., November 18 to 20. President Neale will attend this meeting and that of the American Association of University Presidents, November 18 to 23.

DEAN JEFFERS GOES TO BOISE FOR STATE FORESTERS MEET

Dean Dwight S. Jeffers, head of the school of forestry, left Monday for a meeting of the board of state foresters at Boise. He will be in Boise until Wednesday.

"Four years at a university does not make an educated man or woman, any more than a full set of tools makes a carpenter," says Roger Babson. "In either case it depends upon the man, not on the machinery."

Free Reserved Seats for Dads At Montana Game Next Week

Will your dad be here for the second annual Dad's day, October 26? Big plans are made for his entertainment. He will enjoy free reserved seats to the Montana football game, and free admission to the smoker on Saturday evening at the Memorial gymnasium. The smoker will feature boxing and other sport exhibitions.

Don't forget the prizes that are to be offered Dad's day. Two pictures of a vandal, painted by Merlin Enabnit, noted commercial artist from Seattle, will be given to the men's and women's group house with the largest percentage of dads coming for the day. The dad who has had the most children attend college will also receive a prize.

The group houses are welcoming the dads by putting up appropriate welcome signs. Let's see your dad, my dad, everyone's dad here!

M. G. Neale's Secretary Arrives From Boise To Assume Duties

Miss Mable Nye came from Boise Saturday to assume her duties as secretary to President M. G. Neale, filling the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Constance Johnson. Miss Nye was secretary to the principal of the Boise high school for seven years. Last year she was secretary in the modern languages department, and this summer she held a secretarial position with the state director of the national youth administration.

Major Sutherland Relieves Hale

New Instructor Assumes R. O. T. C. Duties; Hale Retired for Disabilities

Maj. Charles F. Sutherland assumed R. O. T. C. instructor duties October 1, relieving Maj. William A. Hale, retired for physical disabilities suffered as a result of injuries received during the World War. Major Hale plans to make his home in Moscow.

Major Sutherland comes to Idaho from duty with the Fourth Infantry, Fort Missoula, Montana. He is a graduate of Mississippi State college, class of 1917. After graduation he entered the army and was sent to the first training camp at Fort Logan H. Root, Little Rock, Arkansas. From there Major Sutherland was sent to El Paso, Texas, and then to France. He served in the army of occupation after the war, returning to the United States in 1920.

Served in Oklahoma

Major Sutherland served as R. O. T. C. instructor at Oklahoma A. and M. college for five years and a half, and at numerous posts in the United States. He was stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, for two years.

Major A. B. O'Connell, who has headed the military department for the past year, has orders transferring him to Fort Missoula, Montana. No word has been received as to who will be added to the University military faculty to take his place.

Great Dane May Be New Idaho Mascot, Says Otto Power

Idaho students are thinking seriously of getting a mascot of such nature that it will fill students and visitors on the gridiron with reverence and awe. A committee has been appointed with Otto Power, yell king, at its head for the purpose of selecting such a mascot.

It is the contention that Idaho ought to have another Great Dane. Idaho had one Great Dane whose disposition became obnoxious. Still they say that Idaho needs a little fierceness, and we will have a Great Dane if we have to keep it in an iron cage.

Have To Write N. Y.

Accordingly, Power reports, "We wrote to Spokane about a Great Dane, but they said that the only way to secure one was by writing to a New York kennel. We haven't written to one as yet but expect to do so soon."

The Great Dane may be a rare animal. Power says he would appreciate any suggestions. He furthermore said, "Before deciding definitely we want to wait until we're sure that the one chosen will please everyone and will be passed down as a tradition."

Tau Kappa Epsilon entertained Miss Adeline Baylon and Miss Louise White at dinner Saturday.

Budding Foresters Study Over Northwest

While students were registering last month, the above group of senior foresters were returning from a three-week field trip over the Pacific Northwest. Starting Labor day, the trip carried them through all the important forest projects of the region, to familiarize them with logging, lumbering and miscellaneous forest operations, with special emphasis placed on administration and research. The students made the trip in a specially built truck, shown above, as the outfit visited A. Wisnant (third from left), secretary of the Pacific logging congress, at Portland. Those on the trip were: Paul L. Anderson, Spokane; Richard F. Bickford, Cambridge, Mass.; Charles G. Brown, Wapato, Wash.; Kenneth Crawford, Moore, Idaho; Orlando Fore, Pocatello, Idaho; Fred W. Goenne, Davenport, Iowa; Verne A. Greas, Burley, Idaho; Harley H. Hamm, Lake View, Iowa; Donald W. McKeever, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Harvey Nelson, Racine, Wis.; Donald B. Porter, Remington, Ind.; Clinton C. Quesnel, Jerome, Idaho; Garnet A. Robertson, Gillette, Wyo.; Howard W. Shaw, Pocatello, Idaho; Vaughan Tippetts, Pocatello, Idaho; and George T. Turner, Kimberly, Idaho. Graduate students who made the trip are Leslie L. Larson, Blackfoot, Idaho, and Joseph L. McCarthy, Spokane, Wash. A. M. Sowder, assistant professor of forestry, was in charge.

University Exhibits Win at Portland

Idaho Livestock Takes Nine Championships in Pacific Coast Meet

University livestock entries continued winning at the Pacific International Livestock exposition this fall. Although the University exhibited only beef cattle and swine, nine championships, 24 firsts, and an array of seconds and third places were added to the institution's record at the Portland show. Four student judging teams matched their wits against representatives of other western colleges, winning three seconds and a fourth.

Heretofore Wins

A university heretofore steer won the championship of his breed, while other Idaho beef animals won three first places, four seconds, and two thirds, reports C. W. Hickman, head of the animal husbandry department. Professor Hickman describes the beef cattle competition as extra keen, Portland having one of the best Shorthorn shows in many years. There have been more steers entered in former years but the percentage of "good" steers was higher this fall, he says.

Take 21 Firsts

University of Idaho swine entries captured 21 firsts out of 26 classes entered and 8 out of the 13 championships. There were almost 700 hogs in the show, at least half of them Polands and Durocs (the breeds exhibited by the Idaho institution). Particularly gratifying to Professor Hickman and associates is the fact that the heavy winners, this year come as a tribute to the pioneering the institution has

RELATIONS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The first meeting of the International Relations club was held Tuesday, October 8, at which time the officers of the club were elected: Orin Lee, Rexburg, president; Erich Steinger, Genesee, vice president; Helen Madsen, Ogden, Utah, secretary; Julia Milburn, Spokane, assistant secretary; and Virginia Peters, Boise, treasurer.

The club is planning to bring many people of international repute to the campus this year, and hopes that all who are interested will attend the meetings which are to be held every second Tuesday at four o'clock in U. C. B. 104.

FRESHMAN TACKLE BREAKS ANKLE

Ray Kaczmarek, 192-pound freshman tackle from Milwaukee, Wis., will be out for the rest of the season with a double fracture of the ankle suffered in a scrimmage. Kaczmarek was a standout at his position and will be a big loss for the Idaho first-year men, who open their four game schedule at Moscow, October 19, against the strong Cheney normal eleven.

Earl Leatham Elected By Associated Miners As New President

Earl Leatham, 36, was elected president of the Associated Miners at a meeting held Thursday. Other officers elected were Austin Park, senior, vice president; and Bob Anderson, sophomore, secretary-treasurer.

The miners made plans for their smoker next Tuesday night when the initiation of frosh will take place. "This initiation should not scare any new members away, however," said President Leatham. The association is also planning a series of movies on mining subjects to take place during the year.

The faculty sponsor, William W. Staley, assistant mining professor, read a report from the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers in which $25 prizes are offered for papers on various mining subjects. Many of the mining students plan on competing.

President Entertains Board of Regents

President and Mrs. M. G. Neale entertained at a reception Sunday at Hays hall in honor of the board of regents. Present were new members of the faculty and their wives, the deans and their wives, the members of the Faculty Women's club and their husbands, and General and Mrs. E. R. Chrisman.

In the receiving line were: President and Mrs. M. G. Neale; Mr. J. J. Day, Mrs. William E. Borah, Mrs. A. A. Steel, Dean Permeal J. French, Mr. Clency St. Clair, Mr. J. W. Condie, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jenny.

Mrs. Carl Claus, president of the Faculty Women's club, and Mrs. Charles Hart poured. Women from Hays and Forney halls assisted in the dining room.

"ACCENT ON YOUTH" IS DANCE THEME

Alpha Chi Omega entertained their pledges at an informal dance, Saturday. The theme "Accent on Youth" was carried out with floor-length silhouettes of dancing figures, illuminated by indirect lighting. The programs were black and gold foil featuring the theme with a silhouette of dancing figures with a spot light playing on them.

DELTA TAU DELTA HONORS PLEDGES

Spotlights gleamed upon replicas of the pledge pins of thirteen fraternities at the Delta Tau Delta pledge dance Friday. Streamers of the fraternity colors; purple, gold, and white, covered the walls. Behind Chuck Collins' orchestra was a screen covered with clever pictures of frosh in typical poses. Programs resembled wooden paddles.

MISS LENA SHOUP RECOVERING RAPIDLY FROM OPERATION

Miss Lena Shoup, house mother for Hays hall, is reported to be progressing rapidly after her major operation of a few weeks ago.

Dr. Ehrlich Speaks At Forestry Dinner Held at Bucket

Dr. John Ehrlich of the school of forestry, gave an interesting talk on his two years' study at the Imperial Mycological Institute and the Royal Botanic Gardens at Kew, Surrey, England. George Turner gave a talk on "The Future of Forest Parasites in the United States" at the Xi Sigma Pi, national forestry honorary, banquet Wednesday, at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Raymond J. Beckett, professor in range management, was pledged into the society.

At the Foresters' bonfire a week ago Xi Sigma Pi pledged Marlin Galbraith, Virgil Gould, Lee Larson, Joe McCarthy, and Dr. Ehrlich.

Lory Will Lecture About Manchukuo

Professor Lectured at Japanese University and Traveled Through Far East

Prof. Hillis Lory, speaker and writer, will lecture on the subject "Manchukuo," Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the L. D. S. Institute. He has lectured for three years at the Hokkaido Imperial University, Tokyo, by special appointment of the Japanese government. During this time, Professor Lory has had unusual opportunity to observe conditions in the Orient.

While abroad he traveled extensively throughout the Far East, and contributed articles to the China Weekly Review and other eastern periodicals. In 1934 Professor Lory made an 8,000 mile trip through Japan, Manchukuo, and China, and had private conferences with political leaders, including the Emperor of Manchukuo, Wang Ching Wei, China's chief executive, Prime Minister Saito of Japan, and others.

Professor Lory has taught political science at Denison university, Granville, Ohio, and at Stanford university. In the summer of 1933 he was invited by the division of international law of the Carnegie endowment to participate in the summer session in international law, held at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

MILITARY HONORARY WILL PLEDGE

Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary at the University of Idaho, will hold a meeting soon to discuss prospective new members to be chosen from the junior R. O. T. C. About 10 men will be pledged, according to Theron Ward, captain. The date for the Scabbard and Blade dinner dance has not yet been arranged.

GRIDDER'S FATHERS TO GET PICTURES

Fathers of Idaho football players who attend the Dad's Day game with Montana at Moscow, October 26, are to be especially honored, according to an announcement by Graduate Manager George Horton. During the halftime they will be presented with framed pictures of the 1935 Vandal team.

"We have taken better care of the idiot than we have of the genius; we coddle the moron and neglect the intellectual."—President George Barton Cullen of Colgate.

Whiskers Worry Gem Editor; Wants Women to Help Out

Shades of Jessie James and Robert E. Lee! Goatees and sideburns are all right in their place, but what they threaten to do to the photograph section of the Gem of the Mountains!

The Old Southern Custom of Homecoming will make the Gem look like a record of a hobo convention, unless the women cooperate with the Gem staff and get their pictures taken before Homecoming. That will give the men a chance to have their pictures taken after they shave, and still make the Christmas deadline.

RAIN CAUSES POSTPONEMENT OF C. E. PICNIC

The civil engineers' picnic planned for last Saturday was again postponed due to bad weather. The date for the picnic will be announced later.

A man recently crossed Broadway, New York, by walking a rope stretched from the top of one tall building to another—the coward.

Houses to Call For Moratorium On Full Shaves

Homecoming Prizes Will Encourage Cultivation of Heavy, Tricky, and Scanty Goatees

Group house competition, that impetus which stirs up Idaho spirit, is blazing again! This time it's a contest in goatee and sideburn (don't say "sideburn") cultivation, as the "I" club, a middle wielding machine, relinquishes its right to enforce the "southern" Homecoming theme.

Fraternities and halls last night cast a favorable vote for the continuance of the beard growing orgy; but at the same time, the houses revolted against the "I" club's traditional enforcement of the Homecoming theme. So now, at the suggestion of Blue Key and the Homecoming committee, the control and allotment of the goatee crop passes into the hands of each individual house.

Many Awards Will Be Offered Prizes will be given for the house having the highest percentage of carefully groomed beards; individual prizes for the most luxuriant beard, the trickiest, and the scantiest; prizes for the house decorations carrying out the Homecoming idea.

Officials say that a committee of barbers will cut its way through the goatee undergrowth on the night before Homecoming and enter each group house. Their purpose will be to determine what band of "southern gentlemen" has the biggest percentage of noticeable beards. The prize winner will receive a football, basketball, or some such token.

Groups to Cooperate

Rumor has it that the grower of the most luxuriant beard will receive a shaving bowl; he with the "babiest" growth, a hair ribbon.

"If goatees and sideburns are in style, the Homecoming officials have my cooperation in cultivating them," each house president chimed out last night when asked for his opinion on the southern idea.

And here is the opening for Dr. F. C. Church and his crew of goatee growing faculty men:

"Faculty members are cordially invited to start the Homecoming spirit rolling and enter their 'beards' or 'graybeards' in the contest," Bill McCrea, Homecoming chairman declared yesterday. "We will appreciate any and all attempts to grow beards."

Slogan Contest Opens

Another contest starts from "scratch" today. It's for the selection of a Homecoming slogan. Anyone, whether he is from Moscow or the land of Coach Ted Bank and Tulane's Green Wave, is eligible to turn in brilliant ideas for a snappy slogan. Suggestions—which must be in by 5 p. m. Sunday, October 20—may be placed in The Argonaut box in the main hall of the Ad building or handed to any member of Blue Key. The creator of the accepted slogan will be awarded a prize.

All beard growers should be cautious of a super-Hawkeye, who will be trailing them this week to find the campus king who makes the fastest growth during the week and the poor unfortunate whose goatee is noticeably stunted during the week.

Sylvia Holte, Margaret Gridley, Marvel Torolle, Coeur d'Alene; Betty Blaine, Boise; and Dora Ames, Emmett, were house guests of Alpha Chi Omega during the weekend.

A Penitent Team

What was the matter out on MacLean field Saturday afternoon?
 It was obvious that the Idaho football players were out of condition, either physically or mentally, probably the latter. A team can't win eight games in a row from another team, the last by a score of 60 to 0, and expect a very tough engagement.

Coach Ted Bank realized this and did his best to keep his players from being over-confident. In a statement to The Argonaut two days before the game, he said: "I've seen too many teams lose ball games because they were too cocky. Whitman is good enough to upset us just as Cheney did Gonzaga."

How prophetic those words appear now.
 It was a penitent group of football players that reported to Coach Bank for practice yesterday afternoon. No one feels worse about their miserable showing against Whitman than the players themselves. They realize that they let their coach down, and they are going to do something about it. Their one idea seems to be to redeem themselves in the eyes of their supporters and coach by whaling the tar out of Oregon.

It would be like kicking a man when he's down not to help them accomplish this objective by giving the team all the wholehearted support we can muster. They may not be able to beat Oregon, but the Webfoots will have some justification for feeling that they can't, and will doubtless be a bit over-confident.

However that may be and however next Saturday's game may turn out, the Idaho football team isn't going into mourning and give up all hope of winning a game this season. They know that Coach Bank is building for next year and the year after, but they are going to start now to win some games.

Help Wanted!

A minor revolution descended on The Argonaut staff in the preparation of this issue. The bone of contention was the spelling of the word for the whiskers that are soon to adorn the cheeks of the male members of the student body. One school of thought declared that it should be spelled "sideburns" while another was equally vehement in holding out for "burnsides." For a temporary compromise, both spellings are used in this issue.

While it is true that those who don't know any better use the former term exclusively and wouldn't know what you were talking about if you used the other (this group probably includes 99 per cent of the student body) it is also true (as George Morcy Miller and any dictionary will tell you) that there is no such word as "sideburns" and that "burnsides" is the only correct term, although an American colloquialism at that.

The "sideburners" have the might on their side if they haven't got the right. They insist that "burnsides" is old-fashioned—that it was replaced a generation ago by the modern "sideburns," and that journalists who insist upon the old dictionary definition are destroying one of the greatest assets of the English language—that of mutability.

It's too late now to ask the Homecoming committee to call off this burnside-growing idea (there, that tells you how we stand on the matter), so we are asking our Argonaut readers to decide this momentous problem before it destroys the morale of the entire staff. Since we must use this word frequently in the next few weeks' news stories, it seems only proper that the whiskers should be termed in the way that suits the readers best.

Let us know through the medium of the Grins and Gripes column how you want it spelled, and let your conscience be your guide. Faculty subscribers are also invited to participate in this informal poll. And may the best "side" win.

Hawkeye

On Duty

Well, all the dirt I know is what I pick up as I sweep about the campus.

The Fijis can scrap campus traditions and defy the "I" Club, but they can't elude old Hawkeye. . . The only thing I couldn't find out was the identity of the Crowner who spoiled the pep rally. . . But I notice. . . Their champion broad-jumper, Enahiser, obviously mixing a few in secret Friday night. . . The brothers answering the call to Arms in defense of Bob Shiller and Paul Fuller, their erring

"dater" (get it?) . . . Score—"I" Club 3, Fijis 0 . . . Victims suffering Shull shock . . . J. R. (Can't Miss E'm) Woodruff knocking down an Alpha Phi with his car. . . So you thought a couple of Fijis wrote this column, Haller?

Between naps at the game I saw. . . Ruth "tenderfoot". Evans carrying pillows—W. A. A. ain't what it used to be. . . Jessie Ricks eating sweets—Hot Dawg! Paul Kerr and Bob Parker under befeathered. "I" caps. . . Kenneth Thompson signalling wildly to Harriet Aston. . . Ruth Farley enjoying her date. . .

After the game there were. . . Delano and company bridging over the suds. . . Ed Riley entertaining tables full of Kappas. . . Leon Green abusing the Bucket phone. . . Ross (Poosh—Poosh) Sundberg introducing his latest teammates. . . "King" KERR finally got wise and has his pin all to himself.

Random shots. . . Elton (Lipperty lop) Lightner landing lightly on the dance floor. . . I understood that Katie St. Clair; the caper cutting Kappa, and Clayton were to go steady if Joe pledged Phi Delt. . . why does Hazel Blake wiggle every time she bids a fellow hello? . . . Wally and Winnie bringing their lunch boxes and "bags" into the Bucket. . . Hawkeye hears that his "Bowery" gal of last week is married—it's probably just a "roomer". . . Remember, Hawkeye is effervescent—burp—I mean ever present.

Grins and Gripes To the Editor

To The Editor:
 An interested spectator at the game Saturday could have been able to tell what the boys and girls were yelling if he had been able to read lips. We have had this weekend to wonder only about the so-called Idaho spirit. Ever since the College of Idaho game last year when some of the lads booted varsity men for tackling the Coyote half-pint back we have been of the opinion that that might have been a typical example of our vaunted fighting spirit.

From the lowliest frosh to the most disgruntled alumnus we have heard nothing but condemnation for the manner in which the boys reacted to the team. We'll grant that the boys put on a very sorry show and realize that they were too overconfident for the conduct of the people in the stands. Perfidant or perhaps over trained. This is no excuse haps it was overconfidence or overtraining, the fact remains, however, that those boys still believe in Ted Bank as a coach. As players they are the most competent judges of the coach. They are well aware that if they win, everything is hunky dory, if they lose they're in the dog house. The lads certainly had this point put before them forcibly last Saturday.

We heartily agreed with the players in their opinion of Bank but disagree with the student body regarding the team. We know that the boys can play good football and will. We've heard all sorts of babble regarding Homecoming and plans for that day. Many people seem to forget that we still have a football schedule to complete. Discontinue Homecoming plans?—Hell no. We'll admit that we haven't done anything about it and we're positive that the students have done ditto.

That old dame fortune is a fickle wench all the boys know; but the old girl is as staid as a plow horse when compared with the caprices of student body support. It finally slimmers down to a fight for the coach and the rest of the squad in so far as the team is concerned. Maybe we're wrong in thinking that a little support would help win games.

If the slap in the face Whitman gave them pointed a moral, it was a game well worth losing. Isn't it great to say support the team and help them win. It's nothing but a question of sportmanship. The least we can do is to give the team and the coach a square deal. Those lads from Whitman played smart football, and on the level, they were not a gang of pushovers.

Well, that's that, except for one thing; if you can't stand the yell leaders, get some that you can. We feel sure that the gents in question have demonstrated that they will do anything to aid the team. The only question in our minds is, how in hell can they stand the student body. Personally, we are betting our last cup of coffee on the Vandals against Oregon. We'll bet that the team wins in spite of the student body.

Being a college president is easy. All he has to do is to please the board of trustees, the parents, the undergraduates, and the alumni.

Here 'n There

How is you all doin' this fine weather. It really doesn't rain like this all the time, but then some of the frosh were beginning to need a bath. We all are growin' out goatees and sideburns—those groans are the womenfolks complaining about the sandpaper chins. We are wonderin' if Blue Key mean just for the rest of the student body and not themselves. This is real fun especially if you had to raise one this summer and your face was just getting tough enough to shave comfortably again.

We think that the Mascot should be something like a lilac bush—then the Fijis could play drop the handkerchief around it while the football team gambled on the green. Tra lala, Spring is just around the corner playing tag with prosperity.

Jason fetch me the keys to the spring house and I and Colonel Hawkeye will enjoy one of those old Southern mint juleps. Ah me!

The animal husbandry department at Idaho started breeding in the direction of the medium type nearly 12 years ago and the winnings at Portland this fall indicate the success the college has had in this bit of pioneering. Idaho's swine entries received much favorable comment from livestock authorities at Portland.

 "STEAMBOAT ROUND THE BEND," starring WILL ROGERS, Irving S. Cobb, Anne Shirley, John McGuire.

It seems futile to say anything more than just—Will Rogers is starred in "Steamboat Round the Bend." This is one of the two pictures completed but not released before his death. It is fitting that Cobb, one of his oldest friends and his successor as a newspaper columnist, should appear with him.

"Steamboat Round the Bend" is the dramatic story of a man who saves a boy and a girl's love from ruin by his wisdom and self sacrifice, but the story derives much of its humor from the rivalry between Rogers and Cobb as steamboat captains. Stepin Fetchit, Eugene Pallette and Berton Churchill are featured in the supporting cast.

Idaho Spirit in Defeat Pleases Coach Bank

Whitman Defeats Idaho 7-0 After Intercepting Pass; Vandals Roll Up 273 Yards From Scrimmage to Missionaries' 14

Shades of Horatio Alger and his "rags to riches" yarns about the triumphs of numerous underdogs over even more numerous obstacles. If he could only have heard of the triumph of the Whitman Missionaries over the Idaho Vandals.

Making a total of 14 yards from scrimmages as compared to Idaho's 273, totalling only one first down, (and that as a result of two five yard penalties on the Vandals) to 17 for the Idaho club, Nig Borleske's fighting, under-rated preachers played straight "percentage" football to beat the Vandals 7 to 0 last Saturday on MacLean field.

Their score came in the first of the final quarter when Sawyer, left guard, picked Devlin's pass out of the air and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. Schneidmiller, frosh quarter, converted.

"At least one man loafed on almost every play," was Coach Ted Bank's statement on the game Monday. Once in a while every man did his job and they did something, but then somebody loafed on the next play, and there went the ball.

Cheers Please Bank

"I was particularly pleased with the spirit of the student body at large. Even late in the game, when they could see the team hadn't been playing the ball they were capable of the students kept yelling and cheering. I appreciate that and the singing of 'Here We Have Idaho' at the end of the game was especially fine."

Long hours of practice and scrimmage are in line for the Vandals this week, spot scrimmages having the center of the stage last night, with more scrimmages against an "Oregon" squad running "Prink Callison's" plays coming up.

The Vandal pass offense, terrible in Saturday's game, will be worked on all week, while regular nightly blocking practice, with dummies, is also scheduled.

The argument with Oregon at Eugene next Saturday is the main object of concern on MacLean field with all practices being centered on it.

Whitman Game Disappointing

Saturday's game was disappointing to fans, since the Missionaries stayed on the defensive entirely, kept out of the air completely, and kicked on first or second downs. They attempted only nine offensive plays. The offensive show that the Vandals might have put on failed to appear except at brief intervals. Idaho bored down to the Whitman 7 in the first quarter, but here the lackadaisical offense faltered and Whitman took the ball on downs, punting immediately.

Early in the second the Vandals found themselves on the Whitman 18, but here again the offense failed to yield a first down. An attempt to score via the air by the Vandals late in the second proved ineffective.

The third period found the "fans" continually getting deep into Missionary territory, where they promptly lost the ball on downs, and Whitacre, ace Whitman kicker, punted out of danger. Sundberg's attempted field goal from the Whitman 36 was wide, the ball landing on the 6-yard line, where the Missionaries took it for a first down.

Early in the fourth, Sawyer's interception and breath-taking run for a touchdown aroused the Vandals to a chance of defeat, and McCue shifted to the backfield to throw passes, most of which landed incomplete.

Whitacre, Missionary kicker, chalked up an average of 39.1 yards per kick to surpass the Vandal average of 32.4. The Vandals attempted 22 passes, four of which were completed, and two intercepted. Idaho lost 15 yards on penalties for offside, and the Missionaries dropped five for too many times out.

The Vandals fumbled four times but recovered all of them. Both Whitman fumbles were recovered for Idaho by George Rich, right end.

Frosh and Sophs Vie for Honors In Dual Meet

Rain or shine, the dual track contest between freshmen and sophomores will be held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and the fall track season will be in full swing.

The frosh have been training earnestly since their meet of last week with the hope that they may upset the more experienced second year men. The events will be the same as were on the frosh meet last week except for the special events for upperclassmen. There will be the 3-mile handicap run for them on Wednesday, and the 45-yard high hurdles, and pole vault on Thursday, stated Coach Mike Ryan.

Final Game Ended

THE LAST GAME is over for Walter Back, Oregon backfield star, who died from a leg infection Sunday in a Portland hospital. The infection was discovered when an operation was performed to remove a bony growth which resulted from an injury said by doctors to be at least a year old. Every man on the Oregon squad volunteered blood transfusions, but even after two had been given, Back failed to rally. His last conscious request was for his nurse to tune in on the broadcast of the Oregon-California game Saturday. Back was a letterman on the Oregon squad last year, and was counted on heavily this season until the leg injury forced him to quit playing.

Intramural Sports

Monday's Touchball Scores:
Senior hall 6, Lambda Chi 0
Ridenbaugh hall 18, Delta Chi 0
Kappa Sigma 10, Chi Alpha Pi 0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon 7, Sigma Chi 0 (forfeit)
The first casualty of intramural touchball marred last night's games. Jerry Price, Delta Chi, in attempting to snag a high pass from his teammate, received a badly wrenched back which will confine him to the infirmary for the next few days. As he was up in the air, the Ridenbaugh hall safety man, twisted into him, to intercept the pass and knocked Price to the ground. It was necessary to remove him on a stretcher. Ridenbaugh hall won the game and clinched the title to League Two undefeated.
The first forfeit in touchball also occurred last night as Sigma Chi failed to appear. A muddy field and slight downpour of rain would seem to call for a postponement, but as none was announced, Sigma Chi lost out.

Senior hall won their second successive victory, 6-0, defeating Lambda Chi in a hard-fought game. A brilliant catch by elongated "Lefty" Pearson of Kauffman's high pass produced the only score. Dewey Phillips contributed some clever running for Lambda Chi but always in midfield.

This afternoon's games will decide the championship in the other three leagues. Tau Mem Aleph and Sigma Nu, both undefeated, will meet in the feature game. The ATO-Lindley hall game will determine the championship of League Four, with Beta Theta Pi having an opportunity to grasp the title if ATO should Ryan.

Meet Important
The success of the varsity this spring will be foretold in this important dual meet according to the coach. He further added that he wanted all entries turned in by tonight, and that he hoped that there would be a large number of rooters for each class.
The frosh meet held last week and the dual meet this week have been working up to the climax of the fall track season, the interclass track and field meet. A complete field and track meet will be scheduled in which anyone attending the university will be eligible.

Nig Borleske Modest About First Win Over Vandals

A mightily pleased Nig Borleske smiled happily as your sports reporter talked with him after Saturday's game.

"I'm satisfied with the game, naturally. It's the first time my team of mine ever beat the Vandals. My boys got the breaks," he modestly added, "and they took advantage of them."

"We got the ball past the line of scrimmage and kept going when we did," was his explanation of Sawyer's interception and run for a touchdown. "We didn't have an offensive, anybody could see that, because I had just changed the offense all around, but the boys played mighty good defensive ball and waited for the chance that finally came." Ample evidence of the defensive show his club put on was shown in their determined stands against the pounds heavier Vandal club whom they held for no gain time after time.

The Missionaries paid for their victory physically, in injuries to Klavano, center, Dietz, quarter, and Sawyer, left guard, all of whom were banged up.

"When you consider that our whole team only averages about 165 pounds in weight, injuries were almost inevitable playing against a big team as Idaho," commented Coach Borleske.

The Whitman coach was more lenient than the Vandal's own coach in explaining the first Idaho loss to Whitman since 1921. Just "one of those things" was the way Borleske summed it up.

Magazines Get New Jackets

Neat and nifty new binders, with gold-lettered titles beaming from fabric backgrounds of red in two different shades, adorn the magazine racks in the periodical room of the library.

Not one of the old binders, which have served faithfully to protect magazines from unnecessary wear and tear these past 25 years, remains. Each magazine now has a binder tailored to standard measure, and lettered boldly in gilt.

More than one Idaho student has looked over the old binders, and beneath pasted labels has observed titles of magazines which long ago had stopped publication.

Coach Clapp stated that match returns were still not coming in fast enough. Sixteen matches have been played, with only eight returns. Intramural managers are again urged to turn in the results of matches that have been played, doing so as quickly as possible.

Friday's and Sunday's matches were all postponed because of rain. Intramural managers are asked to watch the athletic bulletin board for announcements giving the time these matches are to be played. The matches will probably be re-scheduled for 6:00 in the mornings.

Frosh Eleven Plays Cheney Normal Here Saturday

The frosh eleven, although showing signs of speed and power during scrimmage with the varsity this week, are plenty ragged," said Coach Al Paddock Thursday night before practice. The freshmen's first battle is with Cheney normal on next Saturday morning.

Monday evening the entire squad drilled as a complete unit. Since the divided squad scrimmage, Paddock has acquainted himself with each candidate's ability and position. There will be no squad cut this year. Every griddler will be given the opportunity to stick throughout the season and develop his skill.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO LIBRARY

Donald McGill, Baritone, and Hall Macklin, Pianist, Will Present Joint Recital Thursday

Two staff members new to the music department this fall—Donald McGill, baritone, and Hall Macklin, pianist—will be introduced professionally to Idaho students and town people in a joint recital to be held in the University auditorium Thursday evening, October 17, at 8 o'clock.

As in the past, no admission will be charged for these recitals. Students, faculty members and all others interested are welcome.

Studied in France Mr. McGill was a prominent athlete during his undergraduate days at Oberlin college in Ohio. He studied music under two scholarships, one in France and has since had wide experience in concert work, opera and teaching.

Mr. Macklin, a graduate of the University of Illinois, elected pipe organ and composition as minor subjects. He composes and arranges music as well as plays. Two of his compositions appear on the program for Thursday, one to be sung by Mr. McGill. Macklin has taught piano and directed radio programs in Chicago.

The program for the recital follows:

- Prélude and Fugue in the style of Bach, Opus 54, No. 1, Beethoven, Mr. McGill
- Sonata—Opus 54, No. 2, Beethoven, Mr. Macklin
- Air d'Agamemnon (From Iphigénie en Aulide) Gluck, Mr. McGill
- D'une Prison Remyald, Hahn, Cimarosa
- Litaneus der Fest der Allerseele, Schubert, Gretg
- Eros, Mr. McGill
- Au Corvent, Borodine
- Two Bagatelles (Number 7 and 4), Tchaikoffin, Mr. Macklin
- Prélude, Debussy, Mr. Macklin
- Three Volks Songs (Bohemian), Arr. Fleck
- The Leprechaun (Irish), Arr. Fleck
- The Bird's Courting Song (Vermont Hills), Arr. Hughes, Mr. McGill
- Rhapsody—Opus 79, Brahms

Give Concert Thursday

Donald McGill

Hall Macklin

Musical artistry interpreted through the media of voice and piano—two of their numbers composed by Mr. Macklin himself—will feature the recital Thursday evening of these new faculty members, Baritone McGill and Pianist Macklin. The first and last numbers on the program will be Mr. Macklin's compositions. Mr. McGill will sing one of them from the original manuscript. The recital, to be held in the university auditorium at 8 o'clock, will be open to the public.

'Get Acquainted' Is Cry of A.W.S.

To create a greater friendship among the women's group houses and to assist freshmen in acquiring a wider circle of acquaintances on the campus are primary purposes of the Associated Women students' discussion groups which meet every Friday night to mill over the lecture given on the preceding Thursday.

Last week, groups met at the homes of Mrs. T. S. Kerr, Mrs. H. N. Macklin, and Mrs. Dwight S. Jeffers. Junior representatives, chosen by the big sister captain in each house, were Amber Wolfe, Marguerite Manion, and Virginia Williams. Sophomore representatives, selected on a basis of merit, were Marian Jensen, Sarah Jane Baker, and Billye Jane Austin. Freshmen representatives were from the College Women's club, Hays and Forney halls, Daleth Teth Gimel, and the sorority houses.

In addition to discussing the lecture on the "Charm of a Voice" by Prof. Fred C. Blanchard, head of the dramatics department, the representatives were encouraged to bring up any subject relating to college life.

Women Athletes Choose Managers

Election of women's sports managers was held at the regular W. A. A. meeting, Tuesday in the women's gym. The following women were elected for this year: Speedball, Julia Moore; volleyball, Peg Rosebaugh; basketball, Evelyn Jenkins; baseball, Helen Williams; swimming, Betty Bancolin; rifle, Alma Alquist; leisure time, Frances Murtha; horse-shoes, Neva Eisinger; and tennis, Dorothy Hohnhorst.

Two weeks of practice in speedball remain, practices ending October 24. The first game will be played October 25. Women must attend eight practices for team eligibility.
