Squinteye Says---

HELLO EVERYBODY:
Well, the eyes have it. Not to be outdone by those lonely exponents of "yellow journalism," namely, Hawkeye and Squawkeye, we have changed our name—or did you notice. It is with a feeling of deep regret that we do this, but due to the fact that a column without an eye in it was considered too modest to appear in this collegiate publication, we have finally lowered ourselves so as to obtain the favor of the plebian element in the student body. No, not you—your roommate. Nevertheless, we will try to keep the proletarian influence from contaminating this column and to maintain our same high level of intellectualism.
The "Idaho spirit" is really present on the campus. Those few who were fortunate to attend the pep rally last night realized that after all some of us are still, should we say, so unsophisticated and juvenile as to get a kick out of yelling and singing at a pep rally. It may be juvenile and all that sort of thing, but at least it isn't as harmful as some of the other spirits we have seen on the campus. If the team goes out there with the fight that it should have and the power it does have, Idaho will win Saturday. If Oregon tries to fool itself into believing that Idaho is a pushover they are very apt to be fooled.
The "I" club still has charge of enforcing the tradition of no dates and "I" caps for men at all home football games. All "doubting Thomases" please consult Arms and Fuller at 600 University avenue. This is the last of the traditions in regards to wearing apparel on the campus, and we believe that it is the best one. It is only fair that the students co-operate and back up this tradition. If you haven't got that old Idaho spirit at least let the rest of the world think you have. You fooled lots of people during rush week, why not fool a few from 2 until 5 on Saturday afternoons?

Hawkeye On Duty

Old Hawkeye tried to find out something interesting about the Tri Delt's this week. I guess they are just not like the other gals. . . Have you noticed the S. O. S. on their chimney support? . . .
In spite of Tuesday's column, Jo Betty Wickes still thinks I'm a couple of Fijis. . . Why not have a "Hunt Down Hawkeye" week? . . .
Most of the guys and gals took my warning seriously, but Mary Sullivan should know better than to smoke cigars in public. . . Ed Riley says the mining stock is "picking up" . . . I'm ashamed of Pete Beal and Bob Williams. . . They thought I'd miss that all night session. . . Personally, I prefer mint juleps to beer for breakfast. . . Did you hear how John (Fix-It-Up) Daley shaved and then found it wasn't fixed up after all? . . . He thought the old Idaho spirit was as dead as the Interfraternity council.
At last Hawkeye has a real scoop for you guys and gals. . . Sam Rich is mooning around the S. A. E. house with all the symptoms. . . It took him just one week to get love darts from Katherine Cady. . . Something must have been coming off around here that I missed. . . Who left the bathing suit in Ad. 312?
Winter is here. . . Mildred Ash has begun tobogganing down the Ad building steps. . . And Homer David has been getting a big push. . . It saves gas. . . Helen P. Wilson has been allotting a lot of time to Ex-C. B. O. C. MacGuire. . . Alice Wynn bought a record of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" to help straighten out the Sigma Nu-Phi Delt-S. A. E. triangle. . . Except for the color of the beads, it's hard to tell which is Slugg Walker and which is the bulldog. . .
All these pledge dances are going to keep old Hawkeye pretty busy over the weekend keeping track of you kids. . . But don't think I'll miss anything. . . Goodbye now. . .

Grins and Gripes

To The Editor:
A Great Dane for a mascot, is that a laugh? What are the sponsors of that noble idea trying to do; insinuate that Idaho should be in the dog-house? If they are, they are completely on the wrong side of the fence. Idaho is headed places in the sport world (even if some of the old guard members of the student body don't think so). What is wrong with Idaho getting a mascot that will at least have some connection with the name Vandal, or else change that name and get one that will be able to have a mascot fitted to it.

The other schools of the Pacific coast conference seem to deem it necessary to get a mascot that is appropriate to the name. Washington State college has its Cougar. (And you should hear the cheering of that school when it appears on the field). Oregon State has its bronze and silver Beaver. Oregon has the large rubber Duck. The University of California has long had the Golden Bear, a fitting emblem for a great fighting name. The Stanford Indians play better with the large cardinal and white Indian upon the field.

All these schools have real mascots to serve as the symbol of school spirit. The question will be raised what can we have that will be a suitable emblem for the word Vandal? The Trojans of Southern California were confronted by the same problem a few years ago when they were rapidly rising in the sport world. The only thing that they could find that would serve them well was to construct a large wooden horse. This is the symbol of the spirit which ruled the football world for a good many seasons.

What could be more suitable to the name Vandal than a structure built in any number of forms such as: a Norse ship, a large wooden Norseman or a Viking? Or any object suitable to the name Vandal. If we can't get better than a Great Dane it would be better to steal that Cougar across the line.

To The Editor:
I am a drummer and what follows is a complaint against the actions and attitude of a dozen or so rowdies in Lindley hall towards my chosen art. As I live at Lindley, the dorm occupants there have the supreme privilege of listening to the rapt melodies from my beautiful instrument each evening before supper. Instead of considering themselves fortunate and enjoying the benefits of these evening concerts, they howl at my door, thump on the walls, and shout raucous insults when opportunity permits. Although when I am playing even pianissimo I can not hear their disturbances, I feel that something should be done about the total lack of music appreciation that these Lindleyans display. Affairs reached a climax the other night when before starting to practice I forgot to lock the door. After only five minutes' worth of inspiring music, which even a deaf man (no cracks) would think of as "the essence," the room swarmed with the aforementioned unappreciative element of the hall here. Water was cast upon my lovely drum, three pair of drum sticks were confiscated and dire threats made about what would happen next time. I will leave it to the reader to judge whether this is the proper way to treat a talented guy with music in his soul. If the fellows in Lindley can be taken as examples of the average Idaho student, then things are in a bad way on our fair campus. We must overcome this amazing lack of enjoyment for the fine art of music.

To The Editor:
We came to the University for an education, and discovered the principal college interest is giving outlet to the primitively sadistic impulses of the morons who are interested only in traditions and similar tripe.
We suggest that the Board of Regents establish an institution in the Moscow mountains, whose entrance requirement is a low I. Q. The curriculum would consist of: freshman days with all the accompanying sanguinary practices; elementary course in Homecoming features, with lectures sponsored by the House of David; advanced tradition voting; daily pep rally; honoraries and other means of larceny; and "fraternal" hacking as a stimulus to knowledge.

"Redheads on Parade" should be well attended by blondes and brunettes. Boles and Lee, (Mrs. Bing Crosby to you) head the cast. The story revolves about a fantastic movie producer and his press agent who launch a campaign to popularize red hair. Raymond Walburn puts up the money because it will boost his hair dye. As the picture proceeds merrily along there are all sorts of difficulties. Jack Haley and Herman Bing contribute their comic touch.
A very popular lady is Miss Blondell. We see her again in "Broadway Gondolier." Powell goes out his way to sing some of his songs in both English and Italian. Also in the cast are Louise Fazenda, Adolphe Menjou, Ted Fio Rito and the four Mills Brothers.

"Nell Gwynn" is a British film. Your guess about it is as good as ours. The best index to its quality is that United Artists is supposed to distribute only the better British and Dominion pictures. While we still vote for American pictures, with American music, if any, the fact is that Hollywood won't pass up a rich English market and England insists on mutual back scratching or none at all. Hence some of England's output is added to the abundance of domestic stuff.

Eugene Taylor Tells A.W.S. Group Of Five Essentials to Scholarship

Curiosity, an extensive body of learning, discriminating taste, capability of creation, and possibility for artistic expression were the five "Essentials of Scholarship" discussed by Eugene Taylor, head of the department of mathematics, in an address to the Associated Women Students last night in the university auditorium.

"If you've never tried to create something you've missed perhaps the supreme joy of scholarship," Taylor declared.

"Should Be Eager To Learn" "But to attain this we need eagerness to learn the facts, and these can be derived only if we have an organized body of learning, profound and far reaching. Then," he said, "we must have the taste to choose the things that are best, and to change the possession of mere facts into true scholarship, or should the possibility of artistic expression be overlooked."

"An enlightened society should be the ultimate goal of scholarship," Taylor feels. "Scholarship should not be forced on associates, but should rather radiate from the personality."

No Athletic Interest In Eastern Schools Says Roberta Ryan

"The most noticeable difference between eastern and western campus life is the school spirit you find out here," believes Roberta Ryan, daughter of the head trainer and track coach, whose home has always been in Maine.

"Here everyone takes a great deal of interest and pride in having beautiful buildings and campus. Eastern schools have no campus life, and lack interest in sports. I also notice Idaho's stronger fraternity feeling, and greater loyalty to political parties."

ies." Miss Ryan is also impressed with the traditional Western friendliness, and comments with some wonder that "as soon as a person gets acquainted, she is called by her first name right away. The difference in speech is very marked, too. Exchange dances are new to me, but they're certainly the best way of getting acquainted I've ever known."

"The people in the East are always in a hurry, whether they are going anywhere or not," she commented. "And if they ever get a silver dollar they save it to give as a present on Christmas or some other rare occasion."

"There are certainly fewer skyscrapers and less congestion and poverty out here," Miss Ryan believes. "The air is fresher and the scenery more rugged, but I do think that there is a superfluity of files."

First Interclass Meet To Start Wednesday Says Coach Ryan

Something else new in Idaho track!

The first fall interclass track and field meet to be held at Idaho will be contested on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week, stated Track Coach Mike Ryan, Thursday.

All students are eligible to compete said Coach Ryan. All members of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes who have been engaging in track and field practice this fall are expected to compete. All those who have drawn equipment but who have not been engaging in regular practice are also expected to do some training between now and the time of the meet and to take part in at least two events.

Coach Ryan urges each class to have a full and representative team on the field. The meet, he said, is to decide the interclass track and field championship for the year.

Points will be awarded on a basis of five for each first place winner, three for each second place winner, and one for each third, in each event. The class whose representatives score the greatest number of points will be declared "champion of the meet," said Ryan.

Entries will close with Coach Ryan next Tuesday evening.

Intramural Sports

TOUCHBALL

Tuesday's games: Tau Mem Aleph 13, Sigma Nu 12. Delta Tau Delta 13, Phi Deltas 13, (5 min. overtime). Alpha Tau Omega 14, Lindley hall 13. University club 7, L. D. S. (40 min.).

Wednesday's games: S. A. E. 14, Idaho club 2. Beta 33, Chi Alpha Pi 0. Touchball league championships were "pulled out of the fire" in close, thrilling games, all hinging on close, "could have gone either way" decisions, in three hard played games Tuesday night.

A break of the game, an umpire's decision meant the slender thread of victory in every game. The Sigma Nus fought their way into a 12-6 lead at the half, but Tau Mem Aleph finally battled back to even the score on a long pass from Kerr to Hall. Jensen's one-handed catch for extra point gave the T. M. A. a slender lead. With but four minutes to go, Sigma Nu battled down to the 10-yard line. On third down, a pass over the goal after being batted into the air by three different persons, settled in Riley's arms for what appeared to be the winning score. Larson, referee, called an offside penalty against Thompson, over-anxious end, and the game was lost as Tau Mem Aleph took the ball on the next play to stall the game out.

An equally tough decision by referee Geraghty cost Lindley hall their league championship. A. T. O. came back to tie up the score after Lindley had led 13-0. On attempting what proved to be the winning point after the second touchdown, A. T. O. threw a pass. Referee Geraghty called a pass complete as Lindley roughed the receiver. The point so-called was the winning margin, as Lindley advanced time after time to the A. T. O. goal, but never crossed.

Phi Delta Theta, after winning three straight, dropped their final game to Delta Tau Delta, in a bitterly contested battle that ran overtime into darkness. Delta Tau Delta opened scoring by intercepting Kramer's pass, and running it 40 yards for a touch-

The Idaho Vandal freshman football team is eagerly awaiting their encounter with the Cheney normal on MacLean Field at 10 a. m. Saturday morning. With an extensive signal drill and skill practice, coach Al Paddock, will ease off the final workout tonight.

"We will be handicapped," explained Paddock, "but will be in there fighting for the entire sixty minutes. This will be our first showing while Cheney has already had two wins and one defeat."

Teachers Favored The school teachers will bring a big, powerful, and deceptive eleven to Moscow. They possess a smooth-functioning attack that is a scoring threat on the ground and in the air. They whipped the Lewiston Normal 27 to 0 and downed 13 to 7, the team Idaho was favored to beat, Gonzaga. Although losing to the W.S.C. freshman 6-7, the statistics prove that Cheney gained more yardage and completed more passes than did the baby Cougars.

"The defense will take care of itself," said Paddock while running over the Idaho lineup. "We have spent our time polishing up the offense. With no bag of tricks, we will go into the fray with around a dozen plays. If the running plays fail to click, we can take to the stratosphere. With the boys in good spirits and fine physical condition, we expect to entertain the Cheney Normal with some fast football."

190 Pound Line Average weight of the line, from end to end, will be 190 pounds. Truzkowski, guard, weighing 215 pounds, is the mainstay of the forward wall. The backfield will be very light, averaging only 168 pounds.

down. A series of passes, from Kramer to Metzgar, Olson, and Hoganson netted the tying tally. In a five minute overtime period, the Phi Deltas kicked off and Delta Tau Delta pulled a triple lateral. A moment later they scored on a sneaker pass, Snow to Martin. They converted on another pass, Snow to Hill. The Phi Deltas, with three and half minutes to go, worked down with clever running and passing, scoring on a pass from Olson to Kramer on fourth down. But the "breaks" of the game turned and the pass for extra point was grounded.

Beta moved into the championship of League Four by virtue of Lindley's defeat and their own crushing victory over Chi Alpha Pi, 33-0 Wednesday evening. Nor man Sather was the star for the winners, figuring in scoring of all five touchdowns.

Playoff for fifth and sixth places starts tonight at 4:15 with Sigma Nu meeting the Phi Deltas and A. T. O. meeting the University club.

First place play off will open Monday night at 4:15 between Tau Mem Aleph-Beta and Delta Tau Delta-Ridenbaugh.

TENNIS

As the tennis tournament nears a close, interest is "perkling up," said Coach Clapp. The managers are reporting the matches and making arrangements to play off postponements. The tournament should end next week. There has been no return on the following eight matches: Sigma Chi-Chi Alpha Pi; TMA-Beta; Sigma Chi-Lambda Chi; Sigma Nu-Phi Delta Theta; Beta-Delta Tau Delta; Chi Alpha Phi-Lambda Chi; TKE-TMA; I club vs. L. D. S.

"Oregon Is Tough" Reports Clapp

Webfeet Are Good, Says Coach After Scouting Game at Portland

A very good Webfoot ball club with a strong running attack and a stout defense, is waiting for the Vandals at Eugene, Saturday. So spoke Coach Percy Clapp, who scouted the California Oregon game at Portland last week.

"Callison has a very good team," said Clapp. "He has a heavy fast-moving line which goes down under kicks exceptionally fast."

The Oregon running attack, with Frank Michak and Dale Lasselle supplying most of the power, is dangerous, and they have two good passers in Bob Braddock and Stah Rloridan, a pair of good receivers who can do everything else good ends should do."

Asked about the famed "cruncher" play which Frank Michak utilized against Idaho last season to good effect, Clapp commented: "It's a good play, and generally comes inside tackle, although it can go between guard and center also. It generally starts with the fullback making a half spin and then smashing the line."

The Webfoots do not lack in good kicking, said Clapp, stating that Stan Rloridan kicked 60 yards in the air beyond the line of scrimmage against California, Donnell, alternate full, is also a talented kicker, both he and Rloridan out-kicking California.

Sophomores Nose Out Frosh In Track and Field Meet

The sophomore track squad squeezed out a narrow 41 5-6-39 1-6 victory over the frosh Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the frosh-sophomore dual meet. Walter Kantola was high point man with two firsts, a tie for third, and a fourth. Alan Poole, Ray Pearson, and Don Johnson were runners-up, winning two first places each.

The frosh started things out with a bang by making a clean sweep of all places in the first event of the afternoon, the 100-yard dash. Captain Poole won the event cutting his previous time of last week three and one-fifth seconds. Frank Kurdy, frosh, finished second, and Bob Vervaeke placed third. Time 10 4:5 seconds.

Walter Kantola, sophomore distance runner, turned in the best performance of Wednesday by clipping around the 600 yard run in one minute, twenty-one seconds. Glenn Orton, a sophomore, was second, and Jerry Stevens, frosh, third.

Pearson First in High Jump Pearson, sophomore transfer from Southern Branch, hopped over the bamboo pole to win first in the high jump. Don Johnson sophomore, William Boole, frosh, and Alfred Fletcher, frosh, tied for second place. Cold weather hampered the jumps so no attempt was made to raise the bar after Pearson had cleared it.

Don Johnson tossed the discus 124 feet to win another first place for the sophomores. Ralph Fowler, soph, was second, F. Ellison, frosh, was third and Carl Burt fourth.

Frosh Captain Poole gained his second first of the meet by dashing off with first place honors in the 300 yard run which opened events for Thursday. Kurdy sprinted in second, and Kantola beat Bervaeke for third. Time 34 and two-fifths seconds.

Weightmen Heave The weight men did well for an early season meet; Johnson tossed the shot a distance of 45 feet and 5 1/2 inches for first place. Hokunson, sophomore, was second with a toss that lacked only a quarter of an inch of being as far as Johnson's. Ellison, frosh, was third, and Kantola, soph, was fourth.

Broad jumpers bettered the mark of the frosh trial meet by half a foot. Pearson leaped 19 feet 11 inches for first; Fletcher, frosh, second with a jump of 19 feet 10 1/4 inches; and Cable, soph, third and Peacock, sophomore, fourth.

Sophomores Pull Ahead The margin of victory for the sophomores came in the 1000-yard run when Kantola and Pat Probst pulled in first and second places. Stevens, a frosh, placed third.

In some varsity practice events, Bill O'Neill and Cy Adkins showed fine form in running the 3-mile race. O'Neill was first, Adkins, second; and Klingier placed third. Cy Adkins won the varsity high hurdles followed closely by Harold Jenkins. Jule Peacock was third, and Ray Givens, fourth.

Tierney Tips

By JOHN TIERNEY

That fans are being treated to a year of thrilling and spectacular football was again made evident last Saturday when several heavily doped favorites were upset by their supposedly weaker rivals. Inspired playing on the part of the "underdog" who has everything to gain and nothing to lose, as well as over-confidence on the part of their opponents probably had as much to do with these unlooked for tumbles as anything. The fact that a football game is won on the field and not on paper, makes football the popular sport that it is.

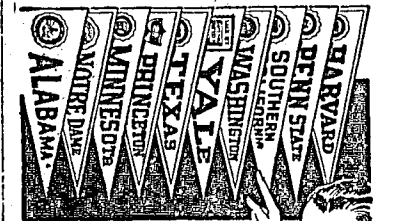

With the season only past the quarter mark, and but four undefeated, and untied teams remaining on the coast, excitement and interest is being brought to a new height. The fact that a set-up is no longer a set-up has caused more and more interest to be focused on the forthcoming games.

So, hoping to increase this column's batting average of .769 as a result of twenty hits in twenty-six attempts, I will bring forth this week's winners.

Idaho—Oregon If the Vandals play the ball they are capable of playing, they have a good chance to win. However, the dope favors Oregon by two touchdowns.

Washington—Wash. State Washington has a strong team and will without doubt enter the game as favorites, but fans may well expect Coach Hollingbery to have plenty of tricks up his sleeve to shoot at the Huskies. Munny I have talked with feet sure that the "Babe's" record of no defeats on the home grounds will be broken. Regardless of this, I pick W. S. C., but only after a hard fought game.
