

Daleth Teth Gimel Follows Initiation with Formal Banquet and Initiation Dance Friday

Following initiation services held Friday afternoon at the Blue Bucket, 50 members and alumnae of Daleth Teth Gimel, university women's organization, were guests at a formal banquet. Dean Permeal J. French, Mrs. C. W. Hickman, Mildred Carson, Mary Curtis, and Jo Pierson were speakers. The 31 initiates were presented with violet corsages.

The initiation dance was held at the L. D. S. Institute. Hearts suspended from the ceiling formed the decoration, and heart-shaped programs further carried out the Valentine motif. Music was furnished by Howard Chapman's orchestra, and patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rever, and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goff.

Initiates included Neva Elisinger, Maxine and Jean Driscoll, Jo Pierson, Georgia and Virginia Barstow, Norma Mitchell, Mary Jane Brody, Miriam Kennard, Helen Abbott, Golden Robertson.

Women's Groups Begin Debate

Women's intramural debate on the question, "Resolved, That the ASU Should Maintain a Student Book Store," will begin Tuesday evening.

Affirmative teams of all women's groups will entertain the negative teams at dinner. The negative teams have for their part the arrangement for a judge, but not until after a consultation with the affirmative.

Any change in the schedule will make a forfeiture necessary for the groups concerned.

Representatives are: Alpha Chi, Marie Haasch; Alpha Phi, Billye Jane Austin; Delta Gamma, Vivian Reed; Delta Delta Delta, Frances Murtha; Gamma Phi Beta, Jean Spooner; Kappa Alpha Theta, Ruth Eggert; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Margaret Thornton; Pi Beta Phi, Fay Pettijohn; College Women's club, Margaret Quinn; Forney hall, Virginia Norris; Hays hall, Josephine Mitchell; Daleth Teth Gimel, Lois Savage.

W.A.A. Basketball Practice Features Principles of Plays and Tactics

W. A. A. basketball practices, under the direction of Miss Doris Ann Dray, instructor of women's physical education, are featuring fundamentals of basketball and will continue to do so until the end of next week.

Last week fundamentals of passing and catching and body movements, offensive individual tactics such as juggling, feints, bounce, and pivot, were stressed in practices.

This week's work will consist of defensive plays: interception or guarding, rebound plays, defenses for the offensive plays, etc.

The plan for next week includes team tactics, signals, center throwing, out-of-bound plays, free-throw plays, and held-ball plays.

Women who have had no training in the fundamentals of basketball are not advised to start turning out this late in the season, since these plays are essential to correct basketball playing. Those women who have played basketball before are urged to come out as soon as possible in order to work up speed and endurance for the basketball tournament which will start after March 6. Eight practices are set as the minimum for team eligibility, but, if possible, a greater number of practices is desirable.

Election of class managers will be held this week. Teams will be picked at the end of five weeks' practice by these managers, the basketball manager, and Miss Dray.

Sunday morning, informal pledging was held for Ada Druceh, Gretel Ware, Doris Thompson, Bertha McGrath, and Marguerite Ogle.

The Passing Parade

By Helen Madson

If you are contemplating a change in attire for the coming season, distinguish your choice by inserting some of these suggestions:

Exaggerate your shoulder line with fantastic sleeves resembling half-closed umbrellas, epaulets, or heavy padding. The football hero will have nothing over on the spring stylist this year.

Saunter forth in a finger tip cape with contrasting lining, after discarding the winter coat. And although this is leap year, be backward in buttoning it down the back rather than in front.

If you are convinced that you simply cannot wear capes, recognize the spring trends in choosing one of the "Margot" jackets which will minimize the waistline to the nth degree. Contrasting colors under the arms combine with the full sleeves in transforming you into a 1936 model of chic.

Delta Delta Delta Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter and Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Cooley.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained at a fireside Friday.

Lambda Chi Alpha entertained Kenneth Boles at dinner Sunday.

Many Colorful Dances Held at Group Houses

Delta Delta Delta entertained the Pullman chapter of Delta Delta Delta at a joint winter informal Saturday at the chapter house. The dance is held annually with the chapters entertaining alternately.

Large red sun bursts of crepe paper tubes were on the walls, one over the fireplace. Bouquets of red roses were placed about the room. Lighting came from the wall brackets which were shaded with red heart shades. The programs were of brown leather with a gold crest stamped in the corners.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, Mrs. Miriam Richie, and Mrs. H. Wiseman, Pullman. The Blue Bucket orchestra furnished the music.

Kappa Dance Upperclasswomen of Kappa Kappa Gamma and their escorts enjoyed a formal dinner dance Saturday at the chapter house. The long taper-lit table was centered with a huge bowl of red and white carnations. Place-cards were attached to white gumdrops which held tiny red candles.

The living room ceiling was concealed by twisted strips of red and white paper. The red of the decorative scheme was accentuated in the color of flowers used on small tables along the walls. White programs bore small colonial silhouettes and miniature crests on the covers.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Lenore Scott and Dean and Mrs. Pendleton Howard. A. C. Whitaker's orchestra furnished the music.

Beta Dance Underclassmen of Beta Theta Pi and their guests enjoyed the gala opening of the Wooglin Room in the Beta hotel Saturday. The lobby was set with writing desks and a registration desk where the hotel keys were distributed which contained the menus and dance program. The cover of the keys had a picture of the "hotel" on it.

The walls were attractively decorated with conventional gold dragon cut-outs.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Frederick W. Critchfield, Mr. John Beckwith, and Dr. Donald Fernholz. The Blue Devils' orchestra furnished the music.

Chi Alpha Pi Chi Alpha honored its new initiates at a semi-formal dance Saturday. Using the Valentine day theme, the house was decorated with red and white streamers which furnished an appropriate setting for cellophane hearts throughout the scheme.

The programs were black parchment paper with gold initialing on the covers. Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Stella Keys, Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Shaw, and Mr. and Mrs. John Howard.

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

For twenty-five years the research staff of The American Tobacco Company has worked steadily to produce a measurably finer cigarette—namely, a cigarette having a minimum of volatile components, with an improved richness of taste—"A LIGHT SMOKE."

Unbeaten Washington Plays Idaho Friday

Idaho's varsity basketball players are home again, making preparations for their final roundup of six more games, all of which are to be played in Moscow.

Unbeaten Washington, led by those five invincibles, Bishop, McKinstry, Egge, Wagner, and Lovrich, play here Friday and Saturday nights of this week. The Huskies defeated Idaho at Seattle last week, 50 to 30 and 40 to 29.

In both coast contests, Washington pulled away to comfortable leads only in the second stanzas, after being hard-pressed by the Vandals in the earlier stages.

Wagner, Lovrich, and Bishop were the main scorers for the Huskies, and Geraghty, Iverson, and Katsilometes for the Vandals. Geraghty has failed to come up to his usual high in earlier games this season, but it was his dead-eye looping that put Idaho in the lead at 23-22 with two minutes to go in the first half of the Friday night game at Seattle.

It was a big scare for the Huskies, who have marched thru 10 games undefeated. Coach Hec Edmundson must have laded out dynamite-packed words between halves, for the Washington team came back in the second half, playing in the style that has already earned the name of the "greatest of all Husky teams" and defeating the Vandals, 50 to 30.

Following the Washington games, Idaho plays Gonzaga, February 24; Washington State, February 29; and Oregon, March 3 and 4.

Minor Sportsmen To Meet W. S. C.

Swimmers, Wrestlers, Fencers Go into Action at Pullman Saturday

Minor sportsmen, including swimmers, wrestlers, and fencers, go into action again Saturday when they meet Washington State teams at Pullman.

University of Washington teams moved in on the Inland Empire last week, and stole the honors from both Idaho and Washington State. A check on comparative Cougars, 6 to 3, and the Idahoans, 5 to 0. In wrestling, Washington scores indicate some interesting battles when the Cougars and Vandals tangle, though Washington State holds the edge in the various events, with the possible exception of wrestling.

Washington swimmers beat Idaho, 61 to 23, and Washington State, 52 to 32. On paper, this gives the Cougars an 18-point advantage over the Vandals.

Summary of events:

SWIMMING

400-yard relay — Washington (Caddey, Carpenter, Johnson and Harvey); time, 16:00.

A tired but gritty Beta quintet finally outlasted Delta Chi 21-20 in a hard game going to two overtime periods. It was Delta Chi's first defeat of the basketball season, and the second victory of the evening for the determined Beta squad.

The regulation game ended in a tie at 18 all as Jump converted a free throw with but seconds to go, just after Price had given the Delta Chis a one point lead with a "cripple." In the first overtime Jump counted on a setup from a fast break. Jeffries retaliated with a setup because of poor checking. With the score knotted at 20 all and the second overtime period half over, Adamson laid a perfect free throw through the hoop to provide the winning margin of the thriller. Both teams fought and shot wildly in the closing minutes. Ellison led all scorers with 10 points.

Beta had already opened the evening by knocking over Chi Alpha Pi with ease in a listless game, 25-9. Gauss and Adamson led scoring with 8 and 9 points. Duvall Scores 13 Points in Half Another thriller was the Sigma Nu-T. M. A. game, decided in the last 30 seconds by "Mac" Meneely's long, which broke the 15-15 deadlock. Jensen scored seconds later to "ice" the game, 19-15. Sigma Nu led 6-4 at the half.

University club took another step toward edging the Fijis out of first place by lambasting Lambda Chi 35-21. Duvall with 13 and O. Lee, (apparently a good night for the Lees) with eight, made the win possible. Ayre made a gallant one man fight for the losers with 12 ringers.

Sigma Chi took two more on the chin, dropping a close one to the Phi Deltis 23-19, Thursday night, and another to the rugged second place Ridenbaugh squad last night, 33-11. Hudson matched Olson's 11 points in the first game, but it was not enough. In the second game, Green 6, Ladle 11, and Jensen 12, combined to make it an easy triumph for Ridenbaugh.

Hallmen Defeat S. A. E.
Lindley hall ran wild in the last half to defeat the S. A. E. 40-24, despite Louie Rich's 14 points. Nelson poured in 13 for Lindley, who led 14-11 at the half. Lindley and Ridenbaugh now meet to determine the championship of the league.

A. T. O., continuing its "newly found life" walloped L. D. S. 40-17. Wish swished in 12 points with Lee right behind with 10, to make it easy. Snow once more led the L. D. S. with 12 points. It was A. T. O. who knocked Beta out of the running for first place in this league, and had they struck this winning stride earlier, they would have been of championship calibre.

Senior hall maintained its mathematical chance for second place by edging out Kappa Sigma 29-21. They were never seriously threatened, leading 20-9 at the half. Williams hit the hoop for 14 of the 29 points. T. K. E. forfeited two games, one to Delta Tau Delta, and the other to the

Idaho Takes Six of Seven Bouts from Canadian Boxers

Winning six out of seven bouts, four by knockouts, the University of Idaho boxers completely vanquished western Canada's best mittmen in the boxing tournament here last Friday night with the Meraloma club of Vancouver, B. C. The largest crowd ever at an Idaho boxing contest turned out irrespective of a bitterly cold night.

The sensation of the evening proved to be Idaho's new light-heavyweight, Rolly Shumway, who knocked out huge Harry O'Day of the Meraloma club in the second round. Confident, both boys started strongly at the opening bell, with O'Day holding a reputed weight advantage of 10 pounds. Less than one minute of the first round had elapsed before Shumway found his opportunity and floored O'Day for a three-count with a terrific left hook. Hard and plucky, O'Day came back and fought on even terms with Shumway to the end of the round. Shumway again dropped O'Day at the beginning of the second round, but again did the Canadian regain his feet and bludgeoned the Idaho man about the ring till a final shattering left of Shumway's ended the battle.

Purcell Wins Easily
Luke Purcell, the scrappy Idaho featherweight, hardly worked up a sweat to knock out Sam Alfred, Meraloma's substitute for Julius Troll, who was unable to make the trip due to border technicalities. Alfred initiated this bout as he opened with a series of rushes, but Purcell closed it when, falling to clinch as before, he met the Vancouver boy with a deadly right for the ten-count.

Meraloma club's one win came in the 118-pound division when Idaho club, which insured the latter second place in League I. The league playoffs will start next Tuesday night to determine the first six point winners.

Jimmy Syme won a close decision from Aaron Blewitt in a bout that went the scheduled five rounds.

The heavyweight contest turned out to be more farce than fight. Russ Keiler, the 195 pound heavyweight king of the University of British Columbia, spent all his energy during the first round chasing Bill Morrow with a flicking left jab and then passed the last two rounds holding his gloves to his face while Morrow rocked him with lefts and rights until Referee Eddie Quinn finally stopped the fight.

Bill Morrow

Denton Defeats Matilda

Louis Denton applied his lightning left to advantage in defeating Bob Matilda, Meraloma club's Filipino entry, in the welterweight fight of the smoker. Taking a wide margin on points during the first three rounds besides scoring two knockdowns, Denton was pressed to his utmost in warding off a vicious final rally of the courageous Filipino.

Rugged and relentless, Glenn Craig finally represented Dan Murray, Meraloma's representative in the middleweight fight, after trailing the Canada boxer all the way. Timing long, looping up-bercuts on Craig's jaw to perfection, Murray was apparently on his way to a decision till midway in the fifth when Craig, a superior fighter, broke three of Murray's ribs with a vicious right hook.

SPORT SHOP

By Bill Pauley

"The University of Washington has the best passing and shooting team that I have ever seen," said Rich Fox of the Idaho Vandals. "Their passing is excellent and their percentage of shots made is way above the average."

That statement sums up the great 1936 Washington team. Alone, there is no man on the squad that is a great star, but as a team they are going to be hard to beat by the greatest in the world. This column predicts that the U. of W. is going to be one of the finalists in the pre-Olympic games.

As an example of the way the Washington boys shoot, Chuck Wagner made 16 points, scoring seven baskets and missing only four attempts in the first game. Lovrich made 14 points, scoring six field goals and missing but two attempts from the floor. The second night their percentage wasn't as high but it was still much better than most teams could do.

The strangest thing about the whole affair is that comparatively few set-up shots are taken. Of course there are always some cinch shots made but most of their attempts would be classed medium and long shots. Lovrich's specialty is dribbling from the side and taking a one handed push shot from about the foul line. Wagner has a funny looking "praying" shot that seldom misses.

It is a hard thing to say who was the outstanding man on the Vandal squad. Wally Geraghty was Idaho's biggest scorer, making 11 points the first night and eight the second. Norm Iverson and Bill Katsilometes were the biggest threats on the backboard play. Time and again their spectacular recoveries drew applause from the crowd. Merle Fisher draws defensive honors. He held Bob Egge, whom Mentor Hec Edmundson says is one of the greatest players he ever had, to two field goals in the two game series.

Very seldom does an official get booed for a decision against a visiting team from the home team supporters. There was a very lousy exception to this in the second game of the Idaho-Washington series. One of the officials who, by the way, sells all the award sweaters to the associated students of the University of Washington, deliberately stole a basket from the Vandals. Katsilometes had intercepted a Washington pass and was dribbling down the floor with two Idaho men accompanying him and only one Husky before him. While still five feet from the Washington man, he passed the ball to Larson, who dribbled in and made the shot. This official called it a held ball against Kats.

On almost the next play after this, Geraghty forced a Washington man out of bounds before the scorer's bench, but no whistle was blown. The Washington man continued to dribble fully a foot out of bounds and went clear in to make a basket. It was here that the whole Washington stands boomed mightily.

This basket stopped a Vandal rally that might have seen a different score. Idaho was within four points of the Washington quintet before the officiating took the basket away from Larson.

FROSH WILL TANGLE WITH NORMAL MEN

Freshmen basketball players go to Lewiston next Saturday to play the normal Pioneers. The game will be the second this season between the two teams. Idaho frosh won the contest here last Wednesday 35 to 31.
