

"Alibi" To Be Made March 6 and 7

Clever Crime Play by Anthony Armstrong Will Depart From Conventions

By Aline King
"Ten Minute Alibi" by Anthony Armstrong will be the next ASUI dramatic production. The performance will be given Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7.

Season before last, this murder drama met with success in London and New York. The popularity of the play is found in this: the author defies convention by having the crime committed before the eyes of the audience, and the solution is left to take place in the enactment.

This most interesting of modern detective stories contains a myriad of thrills. New York papers assert that "Ten Minute Alibi" is a murder drama so tense and exciting that it is bound to have playgoers upon the edges of their seats—a highly superior drama of murder warranted to delight all those who like their crime tricky and tense.

Grant Ambrose, in the role of Colin Derwent, establishes a unique alibi for his crime and bases it upon the important element of time. Phillip Sevilla, characterized by Glenn Starlin, is the sophisticate who is almost successful in his attempt to lure Betty Findon to go away with him.

Dorothy Dole has been cast in the role of Betty, the young attractive love of Colin Derwent's, who is captivated by Sevilla's charm. The officers, enacted by Ted Brash and Don Tracy, are high grade officers and pursue every clue. Eugene Ryan is the elderly Sir Miles Standing and an important factor in the attempt to break down the perfect alibi.

The future weather conditions are very uncertain, according to E. R. Devine, university weather observer. The weather lately has had a tendency to fail to live up to predictions, which makes it embarrassing for the weather man.

One night last week found the prediction for warmer with some precipitation but instead the night was clear with sub-zero temperature. Two nights later the order was reversed, when a prediction of cold found rising temperature and rainfall.

Records show that this has been the coldest February in the history of the university station. There have been nine days in which the temperature was below the zero mark. On February 13, the minimum reached 20 degrees below, equalling the record of Jan. 17, 1930, as the lowest mark in the history of the station.

February 22, was the first day this month that the temperature has been above normal. Precipitation has been about normal for the month, 1.9 inches having been recorded. The average over a 32 year period is 2.1.

Devine is optimistic, however, in predicting an early spring, believing that we are having our bad weather now and later we may have warm and pleasant days.

Two-year courses in traffic safety have been introduced in Milwaukee public schools in an effort to reduce the number of deaths in automobile accidents.

read them, even in the congressional record.

"However, most publicity men now offer more diversity in the choice of language than Mr. Pope, exhibited for the people of Idaho."

THE OLD GUARD on the campus will remember Olmstead as a hard-working wheel-horse in the old Alpha party machine who spent his extra-curricular hours debating on the varsity team and helping steer the ASUI "grave-trains" into the right stations until he happened on the more promising job of organizing a Young Democratic club on the campus.

This bit of activity landed him his job as Senator Pope's secretary, although the Young Democratic club's chief project—getting the university auditorium for the use of some Democratic campaign speakers—got nowhere fast, for obvious reasons.

Organized use of letter writers in political campaigns, however, is a new wrinkle, and a smart one, worked out by highly efficient modern political publicity men. They know the pro bono public letters are generally printed, and what is more, people

Idaho Frosh Drop Tilt To Lewiston Normal; Score 55 to 35

Lewiston normal's basketball team defeated the frosh yearlings 55-35 Saturday night at Lewiston. By defeating the frosh, Lewiston tied the game score of the two teams to one victory apiece for the season.

The normal kept the Vandal Babes on defense throughout the game.

McKinstry and Gaskill of the normal team were high scorers of the evening with 18 and 20 points, respectively. The Vandal frosh were unable to check these two fast moving veterans of the normal team, who practically won the game alone.

Groups Are Paired For Big Parade

Drawing Held Sunday at Sigma Nu and Alpha Chi Houses

Fate held its sway Sunday at 11:30 a. m. when the representatives of the groups on the campus met at the Sigma Nu house and the Alpha Chi Omega house to draw for their partners in making up the sections of the Junior Parade.

Of the 20 men's groups there were present at the Sigma Nu house, only representatives from 10, so that these drew for the names of the 10 houses whose representatives were missing, according to Earl Bullock, chairman of the parade committee.

The results were as follows: Phi Delta Theta was linked with the Idaho club, Sigma Chi with Delta Tau Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha with L. D. S., Beta Theta Pi with T. M. A., Phi Gamma Delta with the University club, Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Senof hall, Tau Kappa Epsilon with Lindley hall, Delta Chi with Ridgebaugh hall, Sigma Nu with Chi Alpha Pi, and Alpha Tau Omega with Kappa Sigma.

Kappa and Gamma Phi
Among the women's houses: Kappa Kappa Gamma will get together with Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Chi Omega with Delta Gamma, Pi Beta Phi with Alpha Phi, Forney hall with Daleth Teth Gimel, and Hays with Kappa Alpha Theta.

Each pair of houses is to select a faculty adviser and submit his or her name to Earl Bullock at the Sigma Nu house. "If this isn't done," warned Bullock, "the committee will have to make the selection."

The prizes are chosen and already purchased. As yet, however, they remain in Junior week's treasure chest of mysteries.

Varsity Debaters Win Seven of Contests In Tournament

Seven wins out of 12 debates was the record chalked up by two varsity debate teams which returned Sunday from the Linfield college tournament.

Orland and Lee won four out of six, and Baronett and Turnidge won three out of six. Fifty-two teams from about 15 schools were entered in the tournament. Contests were held not only in debate, but also in extemporaneous speaking and oratory.

Turnidge was defeated in the finals in extemporaneous speaking.

Carving a Niche in the Meat Supply

Carving the family turkey on Thanksgiving will be a "set-up" for Leon Nadeau, who makes his room and board while at the university by carving all the meat used in the Lindley hall kitchen. A junior forestry student, Nadeau has no trouble at all slicing off round steaks for 160 fellow students who live at the hall, though what the connection is between forestry and meat-carving is hard to understand. The hall buys four to six beves at a time—allowing Nadeau plenty of material for whittling practice.

Students Receiving Aid From NYA Fund Show High Scholastic Average

The 311 young men and women Uncle Sam is assisting through the university are serious in their determination to take advantage of the educational opportunities made available to them, it is revealed by the grades they received the first semester, reports President M. G. Neale.

The grades for the students assisted by the national youth administration, many of whom otherwise would be unable to attend college, averaged 4.611. While the average for the entire student body for this year will not be computed until the end of the college year this NYA average exceeds the all-student average for last year, 4.311.

One NYA student, Kent McQueen of Preston, enrolled in the junior college, scored a perfect average of 6.000. Several others exceeded the 5.000 level.

Graduate Average 5.036

Average grades for the 11 NYA students enrolled in the graduate division was 5.036. All of the graduate students scored averages of 5.000 or better. Average for the 90 girls on the NYA roster was 4.593 while that for the 210 boys was 4.597. To Margaret Swayne of Clearwater, a junior college student, went the honor of leading the girls with an average of 5.875. McQueen's perfect grade naturally gave him number one ranking among the boys.

The University of Idaho has an NYA allotment of approximately $4,500 a month or slightly over $40,000 for the university year.

Kenneth Platt Accepts Administrative Job In Boise

Kenneth Platt, who has been in charge of arranging the school of agriculture's radio releases, is resigning to accept a position with the administration of the Taylor Grazing Act with headquarters in Boise.

Mr. Platt, Genesee, was graduated from the school of agriculture in 1930 and held a teaching fellowship in 1931 at the University of Minnesota, taking his master's degree there.

Robert Walker, senior in the school of agriculture, has been appointed to fill Platt's present position which is the developing and arranging of agricultural news flashes which are broadcast as a daily feature over all Idaho broadcasting stations and station KFPY in Spokane.

LAST CALL ISSUED FOR REPORTERS

A meeting for all those interested in working on the campus staff of The Argonaut will be held next Wednesday in Ad. 301 at 4 o'clock p. m. Everyone who intends to work as a reporter should be there, as the list will be made from those present. If it is impossible to attend the meeting, notify the news editor before the time set. This is the last chance to get on The Argonaut staff this semester.

Behind the Scenes --

This is the second in a series of articles on the inside workings of the extra-curricular activities on the Idaho campus. The next will appear in an early issue.

Bench and Bar Elects Campbell Justice; Daly, Secretary

Bench and Bar, local law organization, met Friday to elect their new officers. Lionel Campbell was chosen chief justice and Karl Jeppesen as vice chief justice. Other officers are John Waly, secretary; John Farquhar, treasurer; and Robert Baker, sergeant-at-arms.

There was a brief discussion of recommendation to the bar association relative to the date of the bar examination, but the matter was tabled until the next meeting.

The retiring officers are: chief justice, Carl Buell; vice chief justice, Lionel Campbell; secretary, Jean Clough; treasurer, William Renfrew; sergeant-at-arms, Fred Cromwell.

"I" Men Start Hunt For Next Queen

Athletes Will Present Choice At Carnival Dance in March

Plans for the year's most hilarious occasion, the "I" club's carnival, to be held sometime in March, have been started.

"The carnival will consist of a big dance, side shows, booths, and the presentation of the "I" queen," declared Bill O'Neill, newly-elected secretary.

The "I" queen will be chosen for her personality, beauty, and poise; any girl on the campus is eligible, regardless of her class. The "I" club will invite the W. S. C. "W" club over for the carnival. The Idaho coaching staff will also be guests.

Fisher Picks Committees

The "I" club officers, besides Secretary O'Neill, who will hold office until the end of this school year, are Merle Fisher, president; Bob McCue, vice president; Cy Adkins, treasurer; and Stenko Pavkov, sergeant at arms. The carnival committees have been appointed by President Fisher.

The "I" club formal which will take place later next spring, is also being planned.

Engineers to Make Liquid Air Devise

The associated students of mechanical engineering are working to produce a machine to make liquid air. They expect to have it completed for display at the biennial Engineers' show to be held some time in April.

Work was started last year on the machine by the seniors in mechanical engineering. Because it was such a large project the work was not completed. The machine will be of value for experimental purposes and practical use.

Liquid air is extremely cold—280 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. For this reason it must be handled with care or severe "burns" will be the result. Iron dipped in liquid air becomes as brittle as ice and shatters when struck with a hammer.

The machine consists of a three-stage air compressor which compresses the air to 3,000 pounds per square inch. The air is thoroughly purified and dried, then allowed to expand through an orifice of approximately one sixty-fourth inch in diameter to atmospheric pressure. This expansion causes the air to liquefy. The complexity of the mechanism has necessitated many strenuous hours of design and labor. Students are anxious for the completion of the machine so that they can have liquid air for experimentation.

IDAHO'S CELLIST ENTERTAINS AT CONCERT IN PULLMAN

Miss Miriam Little, cellist of the music department of the university, appeared recently in a concert in Pullman. A program of chamber music was given with two members of the music faculty of Washington State college, Mr. Alfred Boyington, violinist and Mr. Robert U. Nelson, pianist. The recital was a benefit for Mu Pi Epsilon, women's national music sorority, of which Miss Little is a member.

The Cornell university (Ithaca) N. Y. polo team was forced to give a regular place on the squad to a coed because she outplayed the men.

Bohemian Violinist Will Play Here For Assembly

Jan Kubelick and Son Raphael to be Featured at Public Events Assembly Friday

The famous Bohemian violinist, Jan Kubelick, will give a recital before a student assembly sponsored by the public events committee, next Friday morning, at 10 o'clock in the university auditorium. Mr. Kubelick will be accompanied at the piano by his 20-year old son, Raphael, who has made for himself an international reputation as a conductor.

When he returned to America after a 14 years' absence, the Chicago Tribune said of him: "Mr. Kubelick, here, after his long absence is still a violinist in whom to take delight. His tone, while not large, is of lovely quality. One is inclined to think that when he plays his own Canonetta it is about as charming a tone as was ever evoked from a violin."

From the Chicago Herald and Examiner: "Mr. Kubelick's fame in his youth rested upon his phenomenal technical command of the violin. With pure and fragile tone, with inflexible fidelity to pitch, with unsurpassable agility, he projected the pyrotechnics of Paganini as no one had within the memory of anyone alive in the year 1901."

Extem. Speakers Talk Tomorrow

Men and Women To Participate for Cups in Contest Wednesday Night

Extemporaneous speaking for men and women will be held Wednesday, February 26. All contestants, both men and women, must report to Ad. 208 at 8:30. Topics will be assigned at that time, and the contest will start at 7:30.

Drawings for topics will take place at five minute intervals, so that each contestant will have exactly an hour to prepare his speech. Each contestant will draw three topics from which he may choose the one he desires to speak on. He will then have one hour to read the article in Time magazine and to prepare his speech.

The topics as previously announced will be taken from the three issues of Time magazine published before the date of the contest.

Present Cups
The cups for extemporaneous speaking have been secured by Delta Sigma Rho and will be awarded immediately after the contest. Both men and women's contests will be going on at the same time, but each will be separate.

The speeches will be five minutes minimum to eight maximum. Any one will be disqualified who does not fulfill these requirements. There are separate cups for the men's and women's divisions.

Women's Entries
Women's groups who have announced the intention to enter candidates are: Daleth Teth Gimel, Mary Curtis; Delta Gamma, Jean Baer; Gamma Phi Beta, Ruth Burns; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Jeanne Perkins; Kappa Alpha Theta, Helen Clough; College Girls' club, Margaret Swayne; Delta Delta Delta, Virginia Peters.

F. B. Robinson Solicits Aid for Institute of Christian Education

Originator of "Psychiana" Sends Appeal to 250,000 to Help Idaho Organization

Dr. Frank B. Robinson, Moscow, is soliciting his "friends and students throughout the world" for contributions to keep intact the Idaho Institute of Christian Education at the university.

His decision to ask for help was made after a conference with Dr. C. W. Tenney, director of the institute, Dr. C. M. Drury, Presbyterian church pastor here, and Wayne Smith of the school of education.

Doctor Robinson's letter to his friends and students reads: "On the campus of the University of Idaho stands the Idaho Institute of Christian Education. This institution is inter-denominational and the main object is to teach the fundamentals of religion to students who care to study them."

Must Raise Funds
"The institution has had pretty rough sailing financially since its inception and the management has been unable to secure an endowment for it. I am given to understand that its treasury is now almost depleted and unless funds can be raised immediately, this institution will, in all probability, be closed."

"Now, I have undertaken to circulate my students and friends throughout the world and lay the matter before them. As you know, there are many things connected with orthodox theology with which I do not see eye to eye, yet I have consistently supported anything which might help anyone to a happier and better life. I think the Idaho Institute of Christian Education will do just exactly that."

Send Money to Flatt
"Now, if my students care to, and if they have a few dollars they can spare, I would like them to send a check, postoffice order, or cash registered mail, to Mr. Charles Flatt, treasurer of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, Moscow, Idaho. Please do not send your checks or money orders to me."

"I am asking you at this time to cast a little bread upon the waters, because it is a law of nature, and a law of nature's God that bread so cast upon the waters invariably returns."

Doctor Drury, Doctor Tenney, and Professor Smith expressed gratification with Doctor Robinson's efforts to help keep the institution going.

Doctor Robinson said he expected to mail out 250,000 letters in connection with this move.

Capt. Hart Names Women Riflers

Teams Picked From 132 Contestants; Show Better Performance This Year

"According to pre-season performance, the women's rifle teams will be better than ever this year," said Capt. Charles H. Hart, of the military department in announcing the members of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshmen women's rifle teams. "Many fine scores have been turned in, and it is only because we are short of ammunition that we are narrowing down the squad at this time instead of further extended practice."

132 Women Out
One hundred and thirty-two women entered the competition for the 32 places on the four co-ed teams. They will practice two weeks more and will start match shooting about the middle of March. Last year the senior team took first honors with the junior, freshman, and sophomore teams finishing in the order named.

The teams shoot each week and the one with the best score is declared the winner for the week. Then at the end of the season, the team with the most wins to its credit is declared the champion team.

Teams Listed
The women on the senior team are Alma Almqvist, Helen Schoenhales, Lucille Nelson, Mary L. Idings, Patricia Espe, Ada Bauesch, Genevieve Gardner, and Jo Mitchell. On the junior team are Frances Eldridge, Twila Kinghorn, Mary Lou Jordan, Ann Ward, Dorothy Lenfest, Jo Betty Wicks, LuDeen Waldram, and Vivian Larson. The sophomore team is made up of Elizabeth Childs, Edwaine Bechtel, Helen Wallen, Ruth Runyon, Dorothy Walton, Sarah Jane Baker, Bernice Exelton, and Marjorie Glenn. The women making the freshman team are Helen Abbott, Rita York, Ida Mary Gillenwater, Eleanor Sutherland, Jean Thurston, Ann LaRue, Sarah Walker, and Loretta Smith.

Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn., gives instruction in aviation, automobile repairing, etc., and yet its student body is made up largely of girls.

Successful Marriage Is Students' Desire, Statistics Show

Proof that college students are vitally interested in making a success of marriage is found in the increasing enrollment figures of "Problems of Marriage" and "The Family," two courses given by Professor Carl E. Dent of the sociology department at W. S. C.

From a course on "The Family" offered every other year with an enrollment of from 30 to 40 students in 1928, this course has grown to two sections offered each semester with an enrollment of from 60 to 80 in each section. In addition, a course on the "Problems of Marriage" is offered as a two-hour course to take care of students interested in this subject who cannot meet the prerequisites prescribed for the other course. Approximately 130 students have enrolled in "Problems of Marriage" this semester, with 70 enrolled in "The Family."

Students Enthusiastic
In commenting on these courses, Professor Dent said: "I find the students are characterized by earnestness and sincerity and motivated by a genuine desire to learn."

Professor Dent remarked that there are several things in which the students seem to be most interested: first, learning for the first time with any degree of clarity what their problems are in this field; second, finding out why they are faced with these problems; third, learning something of the nature of the institutions of marriage and family; fourth, gaining real values peculiarly related to principles which will help them solve their problems successfully. At the same time the students gain some idea of how to judge contemporary notions and arrive at a perspective of marriage.

INVENTIVE STUDENTS VISIT WITH SICK

One major difficulty on the Idaho campus has been overcome. For a long time students in the infirmary have suffered the inconvenience of almost absolute seclusion. Now, without expense through the resourcefulness of certain students, those inside may converse freely with those outside.

On afternoons or especially in the evenings you may walk down the hill from the Science building and see in the coldest weather a number of students seated in apparent comfort beneath the window of the quarantine ward (commonly known as the pest house). It is pathetic-like the loved ones of prisoners who have been dealt with unjustly.

Stanford "L" Men Find 200 Long-Lost Books In Campus Houses

During the holidays at Stanford there was born a new order, called the "L" men. While fraternity men were on their vacations, the L-men, representing the university library, jimmied windows, sneaked through grocery chutes, and even entered the houses without ringing the doorbells. Then they searched, with the result that 200 long-lost books were returned to the shelves of the library.

The librarian and his henchmen uncovered a startling "system" of successfully operating this snatch racket. Plans for complete campus coverage were blasted when the dean of women forbade the L-men to search sorority houses or women's dormitories.

In spite of the fact that she doesn't have to pay for dates, the average Wisconsin co-ed spends $150 more every year than the average man.

Essay Papers Due First of March

Committee of Five To Judge Entrants in $1600 Economic Contest

Completed papers in the $1600 Economic Essay contest must be received by The First National Bank of Portland, Ore., sponsors, by March 1, to be eligible for prize awards. announced B. H. Kizer, Thursday. Mr. Kizer is a Spokane attorney and a member of the committee of five who have had the approval of all topics submitted in the contest, and who will begin judging the final papers on March 1. Prize winners will not be announced before June 1. Members of the judging committee acting with Mr. Kizer are: Prof. Victor P. Morris, University of Oregon; Prof. Howard Preston, University of Washington; Prof. Milton N. Nelson, Oregon State college; and Mr. Roscoe C. Nelson, Portland attorney.

Kenneth Nail, a senior in the school of business, is the only Idaho student entering the contest. To facilitate fair judging, subjects upon which contestants are writing will not be announced until after the contest.

The competition started in March last year. Entrants have been given a year in which to make necessary studies and prepare their papers and file formal application for entry. All topics for competing essays have had to be submitted to the above committee for approval.

This essay contest was originated a year ago in the hope that it would stimulate careful and persistent study of economic problems important to these northwestern states. Two classifications of the contest were arranged: an open contest in which there are no restrictions as to the age, residence, or education of the contestant, and an undergraduate division in which participation is limited to students attending institutions of higher learning in Oregon, Washington, or Idaho.

Offer Substantial Prizes
A first prize of $750 and a second prize of $250 will be awarded in the open contest. The first prize winner of the college undergraduate contest will have a choice of a $400 scholarship or $200 in cash. The second prize winner in the college undergraduate contest will have a choice of a $200 scholarship of $100 in cash.

Papers submitted in the open contest are to be mailed directly to the Economic-Essay Bureau of The National Bank of Portland. Undergraduates in each college or university, to be forwarded to the committee of judges. Three months have been allowed for the judging in order to give the committee time for careful consideration of each entry.

HORNED FROG CO-EDS PLAY T. C. U. MEN

Co-eds at Texas Christian university play basketball with the men.

But the men wear boxing gloves to even things up. The girls play according to their own rules with hair-pulling, ear-chewing, and hugging in the clinches, barred.

To assure fairness, the referees did away with the center jump, too. He threw the ball to the girls.

Despite the boxing gloves the men made nine baskets, beating the co-eds by four points.

D.T.G. to Install Group At Lewiston Normal

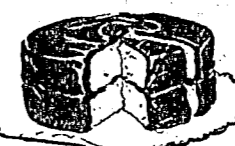

Daletth Teth Gimel, town women's organization, will install a chapter at the Lewiston State normal school the first week in March, according to Dorothy Rosevear, extension chairman.

The installation of this chapter has been the goal of the local organization for several years. It will be the fourth school to have a chapter of D. T. G. The others are at Willamette university, Salem, Oregon; Washington State college; and the mother chapter here.

Daletth Teth Gimel was founded here as an organization for women living outside the group houses and halls. A Hebrew name was chosen to permit women who belonged to national sororities, but living in town, to be members of this group also. There are about 60 members of the present local group.

A few days ago an announcement was made to the students on the McKinlock campus of Northwestern university. A voice class for amateur harmonizers was to be opened on the ninth floor of the Ward building. One day after the class began the dean in charge moved his office from the eighth to the first floor.

Miss Janette Wirt, head of the women's physical education department, coached the group.

Idaho's Clan Sponsors Reception Sunday

The university's newly organized club, Idaho's Clan, held its first reception at Hays hall, February 16. Guests included deans, administrative officials, alumnae, and all faculty members who have at least full professorship ranking.

Those in the receiving line were Dean Permeal French, Mrs. Melvin Neale, Mrs. J. A. Kostalek, Mrs. E. J. Iddings, Miss Belle Sweet, Miss Lena Shoup, and the officers of the club.

Officers are Mary Elizabeth Kostalek, president; Gordon Radford, vice president; Margaret Thornton, secretary; Leslie Fogle, treasurer; and Ellen Sampson, social chairman.

Honorary Judges Contest Papers

Judging of high school papers so far received for their annual contest was the principal business of the Saturday meeting of Theta Sigma, local honorary for women professionally interested in journalism.

March 15 is the deadline for sending in the papers, which must be printed by staffs composed entirely of girls. Two cups are offered each year, to the winners in the printed and mimeographed fields. Papers are judged on a point system for make-up, editorials, news writing, features, headlines, and advertising.

Tentative plans were made for the annual Theta Sigma issue of The Argonaut. A stunt was presented by the pledges.

Idaho Alumna Joins Mauro Bet Club

Edna Scott, Moscow, '34, who is teaching at Sandpoint, probably will use more caution in the future when she feels the betting urge. She and Max Saunders, captain of the Sandpoint basketball team, made a bet.

If Bonners ferry won, he was to don her red skirt and a few other pieces of feminine wearing apparel and walk down the high snow bank piled in the middle of the street by a snow plow.

If Sandpoint won she was to don his boots, slicker, hat, and do the same.

Well, Sandpoint won. Saturday afternoon with the prescribed apparel, a bouquet of daffodils, and an escort of teachers and students to cheer her on, she mounted the bank.

She did well until within a few feet of the end when she went "kerplunk."

There were plenty of helpers there to pick her up—and plenty of cameras to record the scene. But she paid the bet.

Spinster's Skip Proves To Be Huge Success

"Very successful," was the comment made by Ruth Farley, president, upon the Spinster Skip Saturday night, Washington's birthday dance sponsored annually by Mortar Board, national honorary for senior women.

Proceeds from the dance go into the group's treasury, to be used in presenting their annual style show. The surplus at the end of each year is sent to orphanages.

All traditions are reversed at the Skip, with the women asking the men, paying for their entertainment all evening, and even calling for them and taking them home.

For the first time 12:30 permission was granted women attending, in accordance with a rule recently made.

Columbus, Buns, and Vandals-- All These Had Their Day

By Ada Marcia Hoebel

Point Is Settled

Unexpected things do happen. Back in 1491 no one ever suspected that America would be discovered. It had succeeded in not being discovered for over 1400 years after divinity, and then Columbus came along and spoiled everything.

Music had gotten away with just being in the air, in somebody's soul, in the moonlight, or in somebody's nursery rhymes for years and years until in 1936 when someone came along and made it go round and round.

Pieces of beef succeeded in being nothing more or less than pieces of beef until some meddling capitalist came along with a lot of buns and turned them into hot dogs.

(So far, all of these mutterings are cited as examples to prove a point.)

Somebody or something is always around to throw the wrench in anybody's spokes. And now do you get what the point of this essay is?

It is this: Idaho's varsity basketball squad was the cream in somebody's coffee—or rather the mud in somebody's eye this last weekend, just like the bun hampered the piece of beef. Up until Friday, February 21, Washington's Huskies had succeeded in 10 successes (you do succeed successes, don't you?) and no defeats. But as has been previously expostulated, unexpected things do happen, and sometime something has to come along and upset the apple cart.

Well, it certainly took a long time to get that little point settled, didn't it?

What to wear, what to do, and when and where to say what, are subjects that will be discussed at the "Charm school," to be held at Purdue university.

Meetings are held primarily for freshmen, although any other coeds or faculty members may attend.

Eileen Kennedy Wins 7th in Big Contest

Journalism Senior Writes Classy Entry in Portland Oregonian's "End Sudden Death Competition;" Over 7,000 Papers Were Submitted

Eileen Kennedy, '36, Moscow, won seventh place and a prize of $5 last week in the "End Sudden Death" contest sponsored by the Portland Oregonian. The contest was conducted in an effort to get worthwhile suggestions for eliminating the wholesale murder that takes place on America's streets and highways every day, and to get people to realize the dangers of reckless automobile driving.

Entries were limited to 300 words on the subject, "If I were King."
Many Letters Submitted
According to the Oregonian, over 7,000 letters were submitted. The first of the 21 prizes offered was a 1936 Dodge sedan. The winner was an unemployed Portland resident. The second prize, a trip to Hollywood, was awarded to a Portland minister.

Contestants agreed that an educational program, through newspapers, magazines, and the radio was vitally important in lessening traffic accidents, the Oregonian stated. They advocated a strict enforcement of traffic laws, more rigid drivers' laws, mechanical inspection regularly, and reduced speed.

Here's the Essay
Miss Kennedy's prize-winning essay follows:
"As King of America, I will give my subjects a 'New Deal' in automobile safety. I shall eliminate the ghastly toll of 34,000 deaths from automobile accidents. This business of driving will return to normalcy and sanity."

The Crown Decrees
The following Acts have been decreed:
"FERA—Federal Education to Reduce Accidents. Educational curriculums shall include one period a week devoted to safe driving and safe walking for pedestrians. Adult education will include one hour every week for instruction."
"IERA—Intensive Engineering Road Act. All roads shall be surveyed and changed by expert engineers to eliminate all dangerous curves, railroad crossings, terminals, etc."

"PUA—Public Utility Act. Every automobile driver will be required to pass a rigid examination before he secures his driver's license. The test will be written after intensive research on the part of experts."
Road Fairness
"RFC—Road Fairness and Cooperation. Each driver shall feel responsible for the safety of the other driver. Speed will be limited to 60 miles per hour, until roads are re-conditioned. Cooperation between driver and pedestrian must be observed. Courtesy on the road and highway and street must be enforced."

"NRA—National Roadhog Act. This is the enforcement act to take care of the wreckless driver, the roadhog pedestrian, as well as driver. Under this act driver's licenses will be suspended, heavy fines and sentences in prison imposed. No court shall constitute this particular clause null and void."
"DONE at the Royal White House this 7th day of February, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and thirty-six."

CAMPUS CASANOVAS, QUEENS, BEWARE!

Popularity rules, as compiled by students of the University of Saskatchewan, are herewith offered that they may prove helpful to lonely hearts:

1. Never get intoxicated in the presence of a man.
2. Avoid signs of jealousy.
3. Make no mention of other girls in a conversation.
4. Learn to walk.
5. Steer clear of sentimental subjects. They have an aroma of marriage.
6. Do not dye your hair or paint your fingernails bright red.
7. Learn how to cook and don't be afraid to let men know you are handy with eggbeaters and muffin pans.

"WANT AD" RESPONSE BLESSES FROSH

The queerest of queer answers given on a questionnaire for freshmen at Utah university last week was one by Math Rees, a freshman.
In answer to the request for name, address and number of tickets he would want for the freshman play he said, "One balcony. All alone, no girl, no car, no money, but I'll take one."
Things got under way and a notice appeared in the Utah Chronicle to the effect that if the male spinster would call at the dramatics office, he would be furnished with car, girl and two free tickets to the play.
Princeton students recently voted whiskey their favorite beverage, with milk coming second.

Morrow Drops Foe And Fight, Too

Vandals Defeated in Three Out of Five Bouts on Kellogg Card

In a hard, bruising battle marked with haymakers and knockdowns, Bud Johnson, Northwest Golden Gloves light-heavyweight champion, was awarded an unpopular decision over Bill Morrow of Idaho in the smoker at Kellogg last Friday night.

Morrow was the aggressor during the first two rounds, bludgeoning the lumberjack champ about the ring almost at will. Morrow floored Johnson for a count of three in the first round, and for a nine-count in the second. Fired from his exhaustive onslaught, Morrow lost the final round on points.

Craig, Tolman, Sock 'Em
Glenn Craig, rough-and-tough Idaho middleweight, knocked out Dan Davidoff of the Kellogg YMCA in the second round.
Rex Tolman, another stugging Idaho middleweight, knocked out George Sala also in the second round.

Kay Preston, Idaho, lost a close decision to Cloris Justus, Kellogg.
Aaron Blewett, Idaho, was defeated by Bill Hauser, Kellogg "Y."

Beginner's Team
A beginners' boxing team is being developed by the Idaho boxing coach, Louie August, to scrap with the University of Washington's fighters at Seattle in the near future.
Coach August was prompted to organize the beginner team to fight the Washington mittmen when they refused his offer to meet the first Vandal squad.

"I believe this idea of a boxing team for beginners is one that should be adopted by all northern division universities," asserted the Idaho mentor, "for it gives young aspirants experience and even more competition than when they have to compete with the first stringers."
Men to Take Trips
"We hope to make several trips with our beginner squad, including a return engagement with Washington, possibly several tilts with Gonzaga. Those who show up best will probably get to enter the Inter-Mountain boxing tournament at Salt Lake City this spring."

Anyone interested in trying out for this beginners' team is encouraged to do so, Coach August said.

COACH RYAN NAMES TRACK CAPTAINS

Coach Mike Ryan has his trackmen divided into groups and has named a captain for each division. Theron Ward heads the sprinters and broad jumpers; Bill O'Neill, distance men; George Rich, hurdlers; Oscar Cable, high jumpers; Bob McCue, weight throwers; and Willie Maxson, pole vaulters.

Twenty-two students in Oklahoma university were placed on social probation by the administration there as a result of an after midnight dancing trip to Oklahoma City.

The students, 17 members of a campus fraternity and five members of a sorority, recently chartered a private bus to an Oklahoma City night club after the whistle had blown. No chaperons accompanied the students.

Poole's Sprinting Won Place In British Empire Games

Allan Poole, who was one of the track representatives from Canada in the British Empire games held in England, is a freshman in the school of mines here.

"The British Empire games," Poole said in an interview, "are the same as the Olympics within the British empire. All the possessions of Great Britain send teams to participate in the cycling, track, swimming, boxing, and wrestling competition."

About 400 athletes from all the provinces of Canada took part in the elimination held in Hamilton. Poole came in third in the 100 yard dash, and second in the 220, and so earned his trip to England.

Poole Meets King Edward VIII

"One of the outstanding experiences of the whole trip was being presented to King Edward VIII, then Prince of Wales. He is as natural and human as anyone I've met. And he had a real handshake, as if he were really to see us. He showed us through some of the rooms of the palace," Poole remarked.

Poole also did himself proud in these competitions. He got into the semi-finals of both the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the spring relay team of which he was a member came in second.

Saw Sights of London
"Because I have relatives in England, I stayed there about three weeks, and they certainly showed me the town. I saw all the usual London sights—the tower of London; Madame Tussard's; Windsor castle, summer

NOVEL INVENTION WAKES STUDENTS

When five Ohio State men could not waken themselves with two alarm clocks, an engineering student came to their rescue with a device that would even make Rube Goldberg envious. When the alarm goes off the key goes 'round and 'round, winding up a string that turns on the room light and the radio, already tuned to a popular program. The boys do not sleep through classes any more.
They should have a gadget that turns on the radiator, warming the room, as well as one that lights the fire under the coffee pot. Shucks, there are endless possibilities to a thing like this.

For the first time the exhibit will feature periodical literature, offering articles of a political nature that have been published in the leading periodicals in the field of national affairs.

Periodicals Shown
Among the periodicals on display are: The Commonwealth, Literary Digest, The Forum, The Nation, Scribner's and Current History.

Books by prominent men in the field of political science will complete the exhibit. These books include: "The Challenge to Liberty," Herbert Hoover; "The Great Game of Politics," by Frank R. Kent; "Recovery and Commonsense," by Oliver Mitchell Sprague; and a book by Idaho Graduate Ernest K. Lindley, "The Roosevelt Revolution." These books will be supplemented by many others on various phases of American politics.

Men's Groups Hold Informals

Phi Delta Theta underclassmen gave a sport dance on Friday. The various rooms carried out either a winter or a summer sport theme. One particularly attractive room was decorated as a basketball floor—very appropriate for this season of the year.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. George Luke, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lowney, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessier. The Paris Knights played during the evening.

Tau Men Aleph, town men's organization, entertained at an informal Friday at the L. D. S. Institute.

The programs were red, white, and blue with a flag on the cover. Howard Chapman's orchestra furnished the music. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jenks, and Mr. M. K. Cline.

Authorities at the College of William and Mary require students to obtain their permission before flying in an airplane.
