

THE GOLDEN FLEECE

YEARS of bad feeling between members of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary, and other cadet officers in the Idaho R. O. T. C. have been drawing to an unsavory climax during the past few days on the dispute about committee chairmanships for the annual Military ball. By last night, rumors were current that the dance itself would be boycotted unless the "Independent" group were satisfied in its demands for a larger "cut" of the committee chairmanships.

THE PRESENT squabble dates back as far as last year, when non-members of the military honorary were successful in electing their candidate over the vigorous opposition of the members of Scabbard and Blade, who were out-numbered at least two to one.

The same situation was present this year with the same outcome between the two factions predicted until Lieut.-Col. Rufus S. Bratton announced that he had appointed the committee chairman himself "in order to avoid the friction of the past years over the election of the co-chairmen."

COLONEL Bratton named his cadet field officers to the five major chairmanships and turned over to them the appointment of further committeemen and the division of the work, thus to all appearances diplomatically solving what had been a cause of friction in past years.

UNFORTUNATELY, such was not to be the case. The independent officers, who had organized sub rosa to put their own candidates into the coveted positions at the election, were left holding the sack, for four of the five field officers automatically receiving the chairmanships by the Colonel's appointment were members of Scabbard and Blade.

Thus Colonel Bratton, without knowing who were members of Scabbard and Blade and who were not, was ironically rewarded for his efforts to avoid friction with just the sort of controversy he had hoped to prevent.

A GROUP of independents who were left out in the cold feel that Scabbard and Blade was responsible in some way for what happened. These independents say they express the feelings of nearly 90 cadet officers (not members of the S. and B.) and that they think the only fair thing to do would be to have an election for the chairman of the ball as was done last year. They reason that since the ball is given for all the advance students, all the advance students should decide themselves who should spend their money and plan for the affair.

SCABBARD AND BLADE men, on the other hand, point out that there is nothing wrong with personnel of committee heads as appointed by Colonel Bratton, and that since plans are already underway for the dance, it would be foolish to change things now just for the benefit of a few who were left out when their election plans failed.

SOME SORT of compromise will undoubtedly be worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned. We certainly hope so. A fine tradition like the swanky Military ball which dates as far back as 1905 should not be sacrificed to the desires of two self-seeking factions.

The regrettable thing about the whole situation is that this petty political nonsense should be placed in Colonel Bratton's lap before he has been on our campus three weeks. It is not the kind of welcome to a new commander that is recommended to give a good impression of our institution.

FROM GRACE ELDRIDGE '33, in Albany, New York, comes this interesting comment on the play the ASUI actors will give this weekend in the auditorium. She writes:

"I was interested to see that Fred Blanchard is doing the 'Ten Minute Alibi,' a good detective play I saw in New York. You may recall my telling about its being so intense that when the star started off the stage, leaving a pair of tell-tale gloves on the table, someone in the audience shouted right out—'GET THOSE GLOVES!' That was also the play that amused me, an amateur, when the door stuck and he had to make a hurried exit through the window. Even professionals have their little problems."

WE ARE SORRY to learn that comments in this column last week concerning the A. T. O.'s lack of ASUI prexies was taken to be an aspersion on that up-and-coming group's Machiavellian prowess or its ability in producing lively ASUI presidential ma-

Oregon's Veteran and Their Dark Horse

Long exposure to the rains of Oregon produced a decidedly weatherbeaten effect on Chuck Patterson, left, termed the "Brown Bomber" of the Duck squad. The rains were considerably on Rolly Rourke, one of the few two-year lettermen on Howard Hobson's team, but he didn't darken up quite so badly. Outside of being noted for his quick temper, Patterson is considered one of the best ball handlers on the Webfoot squad and shines in action under the basket. Rourke, regular guard, is the shot-making stylist of the Webfoots and is their best pinch-hitter.

Murderer To Work Friday, Saturday

"Ten Minute Alibi" Shows Killing on Stage; Hodgins' Sells Reserves

"Ten Minute Alibi" will be presented in the university auditorium Friday and Saturday nights at 8:20 o'clock by the university players. Reserved seats are now available at Hodgins' on presentation of activity tickets. New York and London highly recommend the skillful build-up of "Ten Minute Alibi." It seems to be the unfailing rule that most mystery plays should keep the audience in doubt as to the identity of the real murderer, but in "Ten Minute Alibi" Anthony Armstrong (Grant Ambrose) defies this convention, and the crime is committed before the eyes of the playgoers and not for one second do they entertain any doubts as to the identity of the guilty person.

Suspense Runs High
The enacting of this absorbing drama furnished a steady mounting suspense and will delight those who like their crime tricky and tense. Playgoers are warranted to be on the edge of their nerves and seats.

It is, of course, badly off side to disclose anything but an inkling of the story of such a play. The murder is set to simulate a perfect alibi framed by manipulation of a clock, the dignity of crime detection upheld by having canny detectives, and the strands of a love story woven throughout.

Lovers of exciting and important theatre will regret and lament failure to see the suave and methodical "Ten Minute Alibi."

One-Acts Presented Thursday Night

Students of the elementary play production class are being presented Thursday evening in two one-act plays. The performances will be given in the university hut at 7:30.

"The Women Folks," under the student direction of Arlene Blackwell, has for its cast: Lewis Gaby, Evelyn Peterson, Ruth Eggert, Jeannette Clifford, Margaret Scott, and Mary Mitchell. Andy James is the student director of "Town Hall Tonight." The students presented in this one-act are: Edgar Renfrew, Walter Betts, Jean Nicholson, Annette Wein, Ada Marcia Hoebel, and Bess Cuddy. Members of the faculty and of the student body are cordially invited.

Transitmen Answer To Meter-Readers' Idle Chatter

To you half-watt meter readers: In the last issue of The Argonaut after beating about the bush for a half hour you finally got up enough courage to ask for a basketball game. To show that this was not just a rash statement on your part, be at the gymnasium at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and we'll teach you the fine points of the game.

THE CIVILS

Large Crowd Enjoys Famed Violinist

Jan Kubelik and Son Play For Public Events Assembly Friday

With the university auditorium filled to overflowing, Jan Kubelik, Czech virtuoso of the violin and renowned artist, played before an appreciative and enthusiastic audience at a recital at the university Friday morning.

This tour is the artist's first following an absence of 15 years from the concert stage, during which time he has been retired. In addition to being an unusual artist, Kubelik has the honor of owning the finest violin in the world. He purchased it in London about 1910 from a private collection of the instruments made by Antonio Stradivari. It had never been used in public before this time, which accounts for the wonderful state of its preservation. It is about 220 years old, he said.

Son Accompanies
Rafael Kubelik, young composer and conductor accompanied his father at the piano. He is 21 years old.

"We like Moscow very much," young Kubelik said, "the people are very kind and I think the school is lovely. We just came from Minneapolis where the weather has been much colder than it is here."

Young Kubelik has never studied piano, but has taken violin, conducting, and composing. Archie N. Jones, head of the music department at the University of Idaho, introduced the violinist and his son to the audience. The virtuoso played the following selections: "Allegro, from Concerto in A Minor," Goldmark; "Praeludium," Bach; "Abendlied," Schumann; "Havanaise," Saint-Saens; and several encore numbers which the loud and enthusiastic applause of the audience called Kubelik to give. They went to Portland from here.

Pep Band Tryouts Feature Trios

Violin Trios, Vocal Trios, and Solo Singers Make Seymour Optimistic

In response to a call for tryouts for the Pep Band show, a violin trio composed of Taimie Erickson, Winifred Peterson, and Irene Fisher; the Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta singing trios; and three solo singers, LuDean Waldrum, Anne La Rue, and Marian La Rue tried out. Due to the sickness of Charlotte Thompson, the Alpha Chi Omega trio tryout was postponed until the first of this week. The Alpha Tau Omega trio was heard a month ago.

"As yet no selections have been made," stated Bob Seymour, manager. "All the material is very good, and we will decide as we get the program formulated as to those who are most suitable."

Electricians Called To Walla Walla

Professor Beresford, Jefferson Rodgers, and Claude Hunter Represent Moscow at Conference

Three delegates from Moscow are attending the two-day Pacific Northwest Rural Electric Leaders' conference at Walla Walla which closes today.

They are Prof. Hobart Beresford, head of the department of agricultural engineering and project director for the Idaho committee on the relation of electricity to agriculture; Jefferson B. Rodgers, field engineer for the aforementioned committee; and Claude R. Hunter, manager of the local Washington Water Power company office. Mr. Rodgers is an Idaho graduate.

Show Motion Pictures
Virtually all phases of rural electrification were discussed by specialists from the three north-west states.

Motion pictures, exhibits, and demonstrations supplemented the lecture program on topics such as irrigation developments, farm refrigeration, farm-built rural electric lines, electric hotbeds, electric brooding, state wiring codes, fineness requirements for grinding of various feeds, and homemade farm electrical equipment.

It was contrary to university regulations for men and women to belong to the same secret societies at Butler, "way back in 1879, because some of the faculty suspected that part of the initiation rites was a kiss.

Catholic Organization Will Be Controlled By Council of Six

A council of six members will govern the Desmet club, university Catholic students' organization, from now on, according to a decision made at a breakfast attended by 125 at the Blue Bucket Sunday morning.

The plan was presented by Henry Atkinson, and Elleen Kennedy, Jean Denning, E. J. Lee, Henry Atkinson, Wally Geraghty, and Carroll McElroy were chosen as council members.

Dean Permeal J. French and the Rev. E. R. Cody of St. Mary's Catholic church gave short talks on the aims of the organization.

The breakfast was in charge of Jean Denning, assisted by Marcella Geraghty and Kathryn Whalen.

Concert Features Chopin Numbers

First Musical Exchange Program Includes Selections of Bach and Rachmaninoff, Also

Lovers of Bach, Chopin, and Rachmaninoff especially enjoyed the concert given by Harold Logan, professor of piano at Washington State college, in the university auditorium Sunday afternoon, according to reports from those who attended. This program was the first in a series of exchange recitals between the Idaho and W. S. C. music departments.

Professor Logan's program opened with Bach's "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue," and was followed by six Chopin selections, two by Rachmaninoff, and one each by Scriabin and Balakirew. Logan studies in Boston. Attending the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston and the Staatliche Hochschule in Berlin, Professor Logan studied with a number of famous musicians, including Louis Cornell, Frederick Converse, and George W. Chadwick in Boston, and Egon Petri, Otto Taubman, Robert Kahn, and George Schuenemann in Berlin.

SIGMA TAU PLEDGES FOUR STUDENTS

Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, pledged Ivan Crawford, Jr., Joe Gauss, Aleck Ketchum, and Frank Keyes last week, announced Larry Frisch, president. The men will be initiated March 10. Scholarship, sociability, and practicability are the quantities which govern the choice of pledges.

D.G.s and L.D.S. Lead In Scholarship Race

Argonaut Compiles Unofficial Results of First Semester Averages; Thetas and U. Club Are Runners-up; Sigs and Betas Lead Male Greeks

Delta Gamma in the women's division and the L. D. S. in the men's division led the campus groups in scholarship for the first semester, according to a survey made by The Argonaut. The Delta Gammas lead their division with an average grade of 4.85, while the Institute men made a 4.54 to lead their division.

More Irish Relics For Junior Week Being Sorted

Prom and Cabaret Tickets on Sale; Loving Cups Are the Prizes for Parade Winners

The chairman and co-chairman of the various committees for Junior Week met last night at the A. T. O. house for a general confab. They sat in a big circle smoking pipes, cigarettes, and nauseating cigars, grinning with the satisfaction that things are being done in this Junior Week that are original.

The tickets for the cabaret, March 21, will be on sale Thursday at the Blue Bucket Inn from 3 to 5 o'clock. Those for the Junior prom, March 20, will be sold beginning at about the same time by representatives in the various group houses. Tickets for the cabaret will be $1.50 while those for the prom have been reduced to $1.25. A limited number of each are available.

Engage Experts
The prom committee has enlisted the services of some talented vocal and instrumental musicians to entertain for the occasion. Mr. Theodore Prichard, university art director and Miss Marion Featherstone, expert on interior decorating, will contribute their skills to the Irish setting of the prom.

The cabaret will carry out the Irish theme in its decorations. Special entertainment numbers are being planned. Between them will be a liberal use of noise-makers, confetti, and serpentine--and that which goes with them.

To Give Cups
The committee for the Junior parade has just pulled out of the old treasury chest of Irish relics four shiny loving cups for the winners of the parade contest--two for the builders of each winning section. It is planned that a stand for the judges will be erected on the campus steps. It will be decorated with banners and green ribbons to lend pomp and dignity to the affair.

Idaho Students Put on Recital

Eight University of Idaho musicians were presented in the regular Wednesday afternoon recital in the auditorium last Wednesday. Vocal selections by Louise Paulsen, Dorothy Brown, and Donald Tracy, instrumental solos by Mabel Millay and Bette Mottern, and numbers by a string trio composed of Winifred Peterson, Jessie Keeney, and George Dawson, were included in the program.

Following is a detailed program:

- My Lover's A Fisherman, Strickland
- A Swan Grieg
- Dorothy Brown
- Juba Dance Dett
- Bette Mottern
- Vespers Howard Fischer
- Donald Tracy
- String Trio
- Winifred Peterson, Jessie Keeney, George Dawson

Runners-up in the women's groups are Kappa Alpha Theta with a 4.8 average and Pi Beta Phi with a 4.77. The University club trailed the L. D. Sers with a 4.51 rating. First among the fraternities was Sigma Chi with a 4.36, followed by Beta Theta Pi with a 4.33.

Not Official
The averages compiled by The Argonaut are not official and will doubtless vary to some extent from those of the registrar. These official averages will not be compiled until the first week in April or later, according to Miss Ella Olesen, registrar.

Discrepancies will probably arise because of the different methods of computing the averages of the various houses, failure of some groups to include the averages of students who left the university, and the different methods of computing incompletes. The averages are believed to be reasonably accurate, however.

Groups who chose not to give their averages out for publication were Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, and Ridenbaugh hall. The following are the unofficial averages for the first semester:

- Women's groups—
- Delta Gamma, 4.85.
- Kappa Alpha Theta, 4.78.
- Pi Beta Phi, 4.77.
- Delta Delta Delta, 4.75.
- Kappa Kappa Gamma 4.73.
- Alpha Phi, 4.75.
- Forney hall, 4.64.
- Gamma Phi Beta, 4.62.
- Hays hall, 4.58.

- Delta Chi, 4.26.
- Phi Delta Theta, 4.21.
- Chi Alpha Phi, 4.2.
- Sigma Nu, 4.16.
- Lambda Chi Alpha, 4.12.
- Alpha Tau Omega, 3.91.
- Kappa Sigma, 3.89.

Minor "I" Sponsors Lunch at Bucket

Oregon's Coach Howard Hobson, Will Be Guest of Honor

Coach Howard Hobson, whose University of Oregon Ducks will meet the Vandals tonight and tomorrow night in Idaho's last basketball games of the season, will speak to all sports enthusiasts at a luncheon at the Blue Bucket tomorrow noon. The Minor "I" club, which is sponsoring the event, invites members of the "I" club, Managers' club, and others interested to attend.

Coach Hobson, head basketball and baseball coach at Oregon, is a well known and well liked sports authority in the Pacific Northwest.

"The purpose of the luncheon is to stimulate a better acquaintance among all sports participants and enthusiasts on the campus," according to David Evans, who is in charge. "The charge will be 40 cents--to cover the cost of the meal," he said.

TENOR TRYOUT HELD BY VANDALEERS

The Vandaleers held a tryout Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock to fill one vacancy in the tenor section. The group is now working on the program which they will present at the various towns they expect to visit on the tour of Southern Idaho in April.

The Rambling Spotlight

By JoN

The presidential signature was signed about midnight Saturday night to the new administration-written soil conservation-subsidy bill. The new $500,000,000 plan is the New Deal's latest experiment in national economic planning. This latest experiment replaces the judicially invalidated triple-A experiment, and according to the legal experts, it will satisfy the closest constitutional scrutiny.

Ex-triple-A Administrator Davis has issued a call for several regional meetings of farmers and farm representatives early next week at which meetings the new plan will be discussed.

The new plan involves the use of state cooperation which the states must set up in the next two years. The funds are diverted to the farmers through the federally subsidized state administration boards.

The foes of the New Deal administration are spending large sums of money in making public their protest against the new bill.

The idle penthouse rich are experiencing the slight inconvenience of walking up a few score of floors due to the strike of the Building Service Employees' union. The elevator men are seeking higher wages and shorter hours. We have griped many times about walking up to the third floor Ad. Building, and we wonder how long it would take to do fifty floors in going to an office—without hitch-hiking.

Yesterday in Geneva, 18 well-tailored diplomatic representatives convened to discuss the issue which will decide the effectiveness or impotence of the League Covenant. This group of men must decide on the employment of further sanctions against aggressor-nation Italy. The sanctions committee will discuss the effectiveness of the present economic sanctions and the policy of employing oil sanctions against Italy.

The committee was well convinced to pursue the avenue of peace as suggested by the French delegate when it was suddenly panicked by a telegram from 38-year-old Captain Eden, England's foreign secretary, which said in effect that England believed that the "colonial expedition" could be brought to a close by the employment of a rigid oil sanction against Italy.

If this committee should hedge its duty, it will declare the final failure of idealistic Wilson's plan for insuring world peace.

The governmental censorship of news narrating the current cabinet crisis in Tokyo has caused the printing of many conflicting news reports. The fate of the leaders of the revolt from all reports has not yet been determined. All news agencies report an alienation of public sympathy from the rebel leaders who have not chosen the Samurai code of suicide. The formation of the new cabinet under the reported dead Premier Okada will be postponed until the rebels are punished.

According to the Lawyers, the Ags have a certain air of distinktion about them.

Angus thinks that Hawkeye's column and a couple of mud-slinging pollutants could solve the soil erosion department's problem of replacing dirt. With that kind of dirt tho, the old homestead could probably raise nothing better than a flock of rumors and false promises. But with an election year coming on, it would give one a chance to practice swallowing the stuff.

In line with the revival of an old pastime, we will take time today to present a few of our own little "Nertserly Rimes."

Here we go round the mullberry bush,
 the mullberry bush,
 Here we go round the mullberry bush,—
 And we come out here.
 Little Boy Blue come blow your horn.

 And the cow isn't in the corn.

Grins and Gripes

The Argonaut welcomes contributions from its readers concerning matters of interest to students. Letters printed here may or may not conform with the opinions of the editor, and are not to be construed as expressing the policy of this paper. Letters should be concise and of an impersonal nature. The editor reserves the right to omit any or all of a letter deemed to be too long, or to be contrary to the best interests of the university. All letters must be signed with the true name of the writer.

To the Editor:
 Truly, the life of an editor of a semi-weekly college newspaper is not so tough when, in his efforts to give his paper's readers something besides publishing stories and nonsense, he can print an assumption- or a number of them. Anyone without journalistic ability can write out an assumption.

Well, here's something The Argonaut has not been "scooped" on by any other paper. The Golden Fleece column mentioned campus politics and the "big boys" as having picked Bert "Cinch Prexy" Larson as being the next president of the ASUC-cut and dried. Well, you said it that time—"cut and dried" is right.

Your statement that A. T. O. has not had an ASUI prexy since its existence started on the Idaho campus 10 years back clearly and definitely shows that the U. S. party tactics are those representative of a "cut system." I'd suggest they "dry it up" and blow it away.

The column named the prerequisites to becoming an ASUI prexy as being a combination athlete, activity-man, and good fellow who gets around quite a bit...Watsa' matter with having a little intelligence? Is this prerequisite banned by the U. S. party?

As I see it, an activity man on the Idaho campus is not one of abilities justifying his membership in these so-called honoraries, but rather a man who belongs to a fraternity on the "inside", which fraternity draws pledges in proportion to the number of its members existing in that particular honorary. I have reference to the honoraries, which choose their members on the political scheme, namely: Blue Key, Silver Lance, Cardinal Key, Mortar Board, and last but not least, Scabbard and Blade.

For obvious reasons the Campus party has probably been in a static state these past few months, but I do bet the Campus party shows fight! You said it!

My reason for believing that the Campus party will show fight is because we dependents are not going to be over-run by a bunch of so-called "big shots" who try to dictate the fraternity system to us. We are stronger than an entire fraternity block that is 100 percent organized—come on, independents, let's go!

In discussing the prerequisites of an ASUI presidential candidate, the columnist was referring to political qualifications that help elect a candidate. He doesn't believe the U. S. party bans intelligence in choosing their candidates, but that the party takes it for granted that they possess this valuable asset.

Here n' There

Wahoo! Wahoo! Wahoo!
 Spring has sprung. Oh, boy! Just how is a person supposed to study when the birds are singing and the sun is shining and the bees are buzzing and the profs are droning away, and that's enough? I bet ol' Hawkeye is sure going to have a devil of a time choosing the slickest morsels of his putrid pickings to present to your avid search for scandal.

Dear Lieutenant-Colonel Bratton:
 I sincerely hope that you do not believe that the criticisms of your choice of cadet officers and other appointments that you have found it necessary to make have prejudiced you against the students at Idaho. I sincerely trust that during your time in the service of the United States Army you have come to the realization that some people are small enough to lose their sense of sportsmanship over the littlest trifles. It is with a sincere feeling of regret that I find myself obliged to apologize for the actions of some of the students in this school who are unable to maintain the attitude of gentlemen when it comes to petty satisfaction of spite and hurt feelings.

Wednesday night is the last game for four of Idaho's basketball players. I hope that the student body will show the appreciation for the playing of these fellows, and will in a small way attempt to show some gratitude for the time these men have given to the school. To you Geraghty, Iverson, Fisher, and Katsilometes, we want to say that you have done a darn good job. May you have more breaks than you have had, and—let's win a couple of games this week.

KENWORTHY
 Tuesday-Wednesday—"Woman Trap," with Gertrude Michael, George Murphy, Roscoe Karns.
 Thursday-Friday—"Paddy O'Day," featuring Jane Withers, Pinky Tomlin.

NU-ART
 Starting Wednesday—"The Life of Louis Pasteur," starring Paul Muni.
 "The Life of Louis Pasteur," rated as one of the best pictures last month, comes to the screen starring Paul Muni. The versatile actor turns in the most brilliant performance of his career in his characterization of the great French medical genius, F. Louis Pasteur.

Muni portrays the complex genius of science with just as much ease as he did the illiterate miner in "Black Fury." While the story deals mainly with Pasteur's life, it also gives us the background of prejudice, superstition, and faith in the medical profession of his time. Pasteur devoted his life to the teaching of cleanliness and the importance of serums in checking disease.

How many times haven't we seen those common, ordinary milk bottles with the word "pasteurized" on them? We wonder how many people have stopped to think and to realize how much suffering, grief, and feeling of despair and futility, came to Pasteur in his efforts to bring understanding to the men of his day, and of how little human nature has changed in respect to new scientific ideas in all these years since Pasteur's time?

HAWKEYE ON DUTY

Ah me... Even the LITTLE KERNEL makes mistakes... I'm sorry I couldn't be with you last Friday, but I shifted from Tom and Jerry's to mint juleps too sudden like... it didn't work...

I was kinda under the weather this weekend, but I did pick up a few odds and ends—GEORGE ORAM getting titian, ELIZABETH JENSEN to you guys... CATHERINE CLEVELAND pulling a Fairbanks over the banister to get at the KAPPA SIG punchbowl... BILL HUDSON and RUTH ANN giving JUNIOR his airing... It took a leap year to get ELDRIDGE his first date in three years...

Nearly made the mistake of taking a date into the Bucket Saturday night... I suggest a general boycott... are AMBROSE and KIMES being aloof or can't they get dates...

Almost time for pic-necking... noticed ELLEN BRADSHAW and CAROL JEAN DAVIS gazing into limpid Paradise Creek... DELTA GAMMAS skipping rope... variations and exhibitions by VIVIAN REED... HELEN MADSON trying to hail a car... PAUL BUNYAN SPRUCE LEE trying to argue the fellows out of making him take off his hob-nailed shoes before going to bed... DOC and BUTCH and the boys lagging pennies... that good old skate, JULIE DAVIS... STARLIN sleeping behind dark glasses... and could you recognize ALDRICH BOWLER behind his latest disguise?...
 SPURS trying desperately not to waddle... JARLETT courtin' AUDREY ROBINSON... whatever happened to ART JOHNSON?... at least "OC" is out of the KAPPA league... was that a KAPPA WALKER RICH was carrying around or a flask?... DOROTHY MA BROWN passing out sweets.

Didn't DICKY AXTELL know that "poppa" and "mamma" were there, too...
 FLASH! EARL "I-SLAY-EM" RITZHEIMER neglecting his kitchen duties as the result of a visit from his blond "fullback" from Pullman... PAULINE BRUSH keeping JUDD WARK in circulation... true love... DWIGHT LINCOLN taking his new steady (by the way it only took him two weeks to do it) ALEENE SHELDS on a 5 a. m. walking date, along with JIM WRIGHT and HELEN CLOUGH... or didn't they get up?...

Ah, well... if the LITTLE KERNEL gets rid of his o. o. by Thursday, he'll try to get out something hot... in the meantime... JEEVES or CHALMS warm up the picnic blankets...

Santa Claus Will Bring Many Presents To Publications Ball

It's no lie that "Santa Claus comes in the spring" because he's really going to be at the Publications ball in April, icicles or no icicles. At any rate, he's going to leave his goodies for the kiddies in the hands of the Press club to be distributed to all those who are cordially attending. (That's probably the way they'll attend, because that's the way they're being invited.)

Even though Santa Claus may turn out to be Mr. Hershey, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Gillette, Mr. Vaseline or some other big-shot manufacturer, it will be all the same to you. You'll be getting your sock filled, and probably your mouth, too.

Just because you open your eyes on a Chevrolet sign as you perambulate around the Memorial gym, don't think you're on Michigan avenue. It's just the Publications ball. You're apt to see billboards from crackers to cheese transform the gymnasium into a Ford garage, a bottle of Alka-Seltzer, and a package of chewing gum rolled into one.

Big Time Orchestra
 And what makes a snappy dance? You've guessed it—a red hot band! The Press club is waiting to set the date of the dance at a time when a good orchestra is available, possibly one of the big time radio bands.

All of this, and much more, promise to make the Publications ball the biggest dance of the year. It is sponsored by the Press club, its theme is advertising, and it pays to advertise! Last year over 300 couples attended. This year promises to be even better.

Already, many manufacturers of market products have been contacted, and have promised free samples of their goods. The Press club has already taken definite steps toward the arrangement of this dance, and another meeting will be held soon to make further plans.

Remember, the weeks will soon be slipping into April, and you don't want to miss the Publications ball.

terial. Nothing of the sort was intended. Had this been the case, it would only have been fair to include several other groups who have not been so fortunate as to have one of their number elected to the ASUI presidency within the last 10 years.

Among these would be Phi Gamma Delta, Lambda Chi, Kappa Sigma, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

JUDGING FROM such a standard, the Sigma Nu boys would seem to be the most politically astute group on the campus, having had three presidents in the last six years.

Over the entire period since the ASUI was launched as an organization in 1904, the Phi Delt's take the prize for the number of prexies with nine, followed closely by the Kappa Sig's with seven. The Phi Delt's last prexy was in 1927, however, while the Kappa Sig's haven't rated since Lynn Hersey, founder of the Idaho Pep Band, was president in 1922.

IN THE 32 YEARS of its existence, only one unattached man has ever held the office, while three Lindley hall students have been president. Delta Tau Delta, S. A. E., T. K. E., A. T. O., and Lambda Chi have yet to have a president from their groups.

It can easily be seen from this, then, that no discrimination was intended in comments last week about the A. T. O.s.

Dean Kostalek Tells of Jan Kubelik; Met Musician During Tour in 1902

Dean J. A. Kostalek of the college of letters and science is a former acquaintance of Jan Kubelik, the famous Bohemian violinist, who gave a recital before an ASUI assembly Friday morning.

Dean Kostalek met Kubelik in Milwaukee, Wis., during Kubelik's first American tour. The last time Dean Kostalek saw him was in 1902 when Kubelik looked very much as his son does now except in height. Kubelik's accompanist was the famous composer Kucolif Frijal. Kubelik made a fortune in a short time with his concerts. He then married a tiled lady with whom he retired to a castle in Austria. He remained in Austria so long that it was quite a feat for him to come back and be recognized as such an artist again.

Was Child Protege
"I was particularly interested in the fact that he was recognized a protege when only a little chap," commented Dean Kostalek. Kubelik was then famed for his technique.

"He has been in the United States many times and likes it here." He declared that opportunity and freedom are here with no threat of war.

"This is a wonderful place for musicians to develop, for in Europe music is restricted to concerts so that the artist may not always play the pieces of his choice," the violinist said.

Kubelik has seven children, two boys and five girls.

Vandal Veterans End Final Season

College basketball will be a thing of the past for these four Vandal Veterans when the final gun goes off tomorrow night. Regulars every one, all will receive their final basketball letters this year. Athletics aren't over for Katsilometes and Geraghty, though, they'll be out for baseball in a couple of weeks.

The Lewiston branch of the American Association of University Women is sponsoring an essay contest on the subject "Eliza Hart Spaulding and Narcissa Whitman, Pioneer Heroines"—and is anxious to have entries from the university. The purpose of the contest is to make students conscious of the fact that this year marks the centennial of civilization of Idaho and Washington and to familiarize them with the history of the Spaulding and Whitman expedition in 1836.

Xmas Mystery Solved; Status of Antique Long in Doubt

It isn't Christmas. In fact, it is beginning not even to look like Christmas, but only recently a holiday-mystery was cleared up to the satisfaction of all concerned.

About 9 o'clock on that eventful morning, Prof. Carl Claus, violin professor, opened his front door to behold the oddest thing he had ever seen. There lay some sort of antique with something else laying beside it, which resembled Robin Hood's bow.

Upon looking on the back he read "Confucius Stradivarius, 1493." His conclusions then were that it surely must be an ancient Chinese violin. How nice! But who could have left it? He asked everyone he saw, but no one acknowledged the inquiry.

Several months later he discovered the solution. It was a Chinese fiddle, all right, but the giver turned out to be one of the prominent citizens of Moscow. He purchased the curio at one of the Lewiston shops. The "Confucius Stradivarius, 1493" was typewritten on wrapping paper and pasted on the back.

CANADA'S CO-EDS BOO "SANDPAPER DATES"

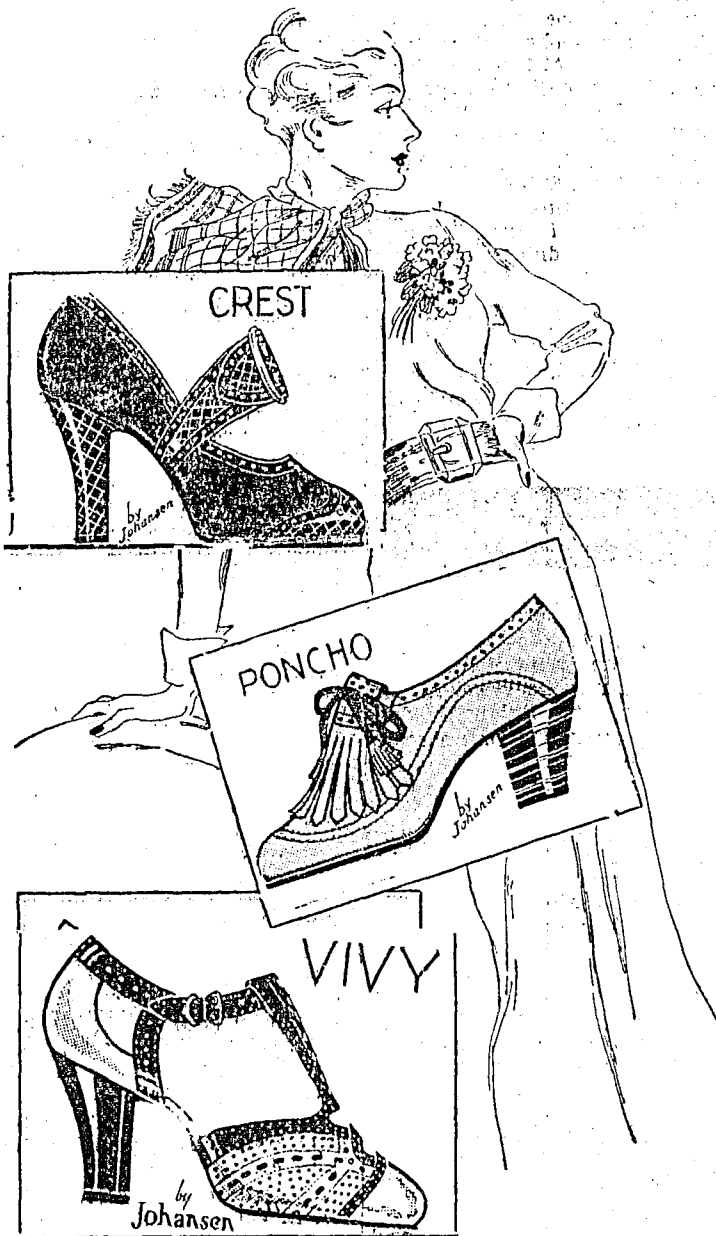

Co-eds at Montreal have compiled a few hints for their dates which are reprinted for the benefit of all collegians:

1. Loud ties are taboo.
2. The art of shaving must improve. Co-eds do not like a sissy if he shaves every day. A man is a sissy if he uses perfume, even that which is presumably masculine.
3. A man does not have to be a chronic cigarette smoker but should carry them on a date.
4. A man should never kiss a co-ed's hand as a form of salutation. Opinion in this regard was unanimous.

STANDARDIZED UNIFORMITY

The simple mechanical details of cigarette manufacture are of surprising importance. Upon them depend the physical properties of the cigarette, such as weight, size, firmness, moisture-holding properties, uniformity of fill—uniformity of product—all of which have a far-reaching effect on the character of its combustion and the constituents of its smoke.

In the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes all of these properties have been standardized with care for the perfection of A LIGHT SMOKE.

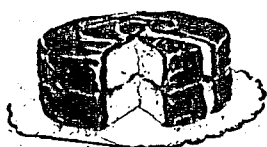

LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID!
Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Should the Vandals click tonight and tomorrow night against the lanky University of Oregon quintet and W. S. C. repeat the trick against the Ducks, Idaho would climb out of the cellar into a tie with Oregon. With the determination to do just that, the Vandals are prepared to down the Oregonites in the last two games of the season. The games will be in the Memorial gymnasium and will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Basketball fans will follow the games at Seattle this weekend with more than ordinary interest, for the results will determine the outcome of the Northern conference race. Oregon State, last year's champions, will be out to overcome the leading Huskies. If Oregon State drops either game to Washington, the Huskies will be the champs for the season, but if the Staters win both contests, Washington will be left holding an empty sack.

Four Vandals Play Last One

Four of the invading Webfeet basketesters will be playing their last games against Idaho as they are seniors, and the Vandals will have four last year men in the lineup—Wally Geraghty, Merle Fisher, Bill Katsilometes, and Norm Iverson.

The Jones boys will probably play against the Vandals in both games, for Bud Jones, two year letterman, and Willie Jones, all Northern division center last year, are important factors in the Oregon offensive machine.

"Brown Bomber" Coming

Sam Liebowitz, Webfoot guard, is probably the flashiest ball handler on the invading squad. Idaho fans will remember him from last year in his games against the Vandals. Oregon's "Brown Bomber" Patterson will be in the starting lineup against the Vandals. Patterson is the player with whom Geraghty had a "run-in" in the early season games against the Oregonians.

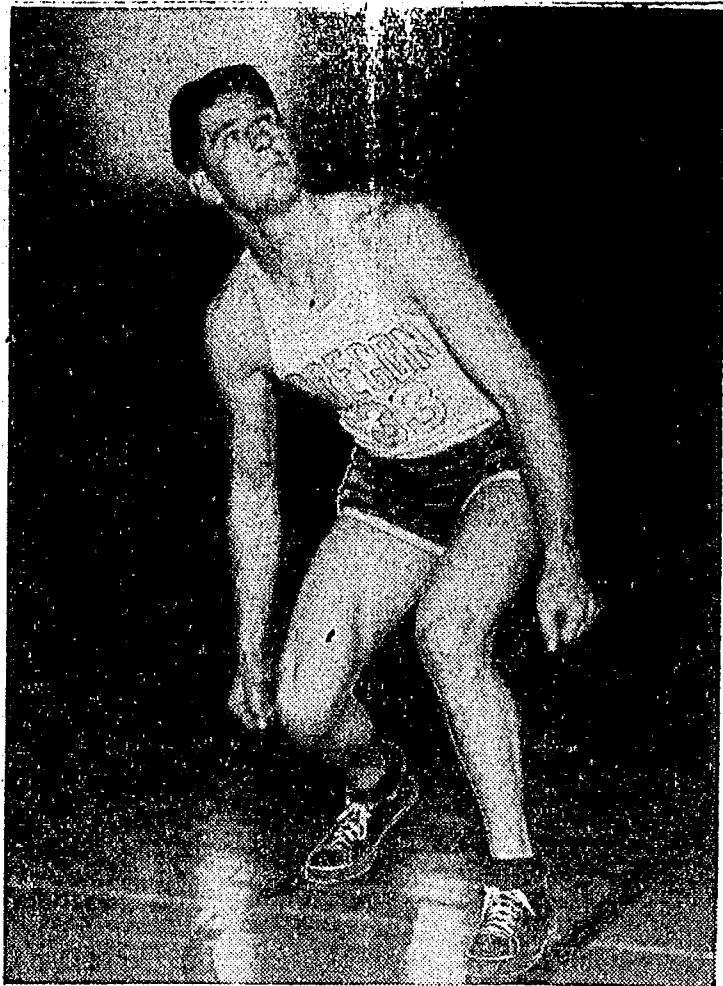

Coach Fox will start his regulars tonight unless his present plans are changed at game time. Geraghty, although off his game against W. S. C. last week, is expected to lead the Vandal attack against the invaders. Katz will start and Merle Fisher will hold his regular post. Katz was high point man for the Vandals against W. S. C.

Reserves Will See Action

Ken Robertson, Don Johnson, and Bill Kramer, reserve men who showed up as well as the varsity against the Washington State team, will get in against the Webfeet.

Oregon will be a favorite to win since they have four victories in the percentage column and have already handed the Vandals two setbacks. The Duck basketesters will have a three-inch height advantage over the Vandals.

Howell We Ever Guard Him?

Tallest of the Oregon Grenadiers is Ward Howell, 6 feet 6 inches in the proverbial stocking feet, only they are Webfeet this time. He's no stripling either—226 pounds of speed and muscle make a fair-sized chunk of a lad out of Mr. Howell. He can be used at either forward or center and is a deadly marksman under the basket.

Spring Football Squad Divides for Practice; Play Two Games

Coach Bank has divided his preliminary spring football squad into two groups, practicing on alternate days with the entire squad turning out on Friday. This arrangement was made to provide for more individual attention to the candidates in carrying out their assignments.

Football practice is proceeding rapidly as Coach Ted Bank starts his second year as Vandal head man. It was just a year ago that the students pledged themselves to support the new coach they had never seen.

"There is a possibility of having two spring football games this year," Bank stated. "If we can get outside before the end of this session, I would like to have the two groups play a regular game."

The second game will be played at the end of the regular practice session. The frosh, new men, and the '35 varsity will be divided into two groups a week before the game.

Assistant Coach Al Paddock has charge of the line candidates. Assistant Coaches Tessler and Clapp are coaching swimming and wrestling, respectively, at the present time.

Practice, at present, consists of fundamentals and the learning of plays. Passing is used as a warming-up exercise besides as a developer of passers and receivers. The narrow confines of Lewis court limit passing to a great extent as the ceiling is only about 14 feet high.

Worth His Weight in Gold

Dave Silver, as valuable as his name implies, is the six feet, four inch alternate center in the Duck outfit. A sophomore, the lanky southpaw is regarded as a fine prospect by his coaches.

"I" Club Sponsors Annual Carnival

"I" Club Queen To Be Presented at Dance Set for March 28

"The "I" club carnival will be held March 28," announces Glenn Owen, who selected the date. The main feature will be the presentation of the "I" club queen, and supporting attractions will be the dance which will be from 8 to 11:45 p. m., and the booths.

Carnival barkers will harangue you; Monte Carlo, with its roulette wheel and other forms of gambling, will tempt you; and chances to win favors at various games will fool you. Paper money can be bought for gambling.

"Greet your old friends and meet new ones at this collegiate rendezvous," says Cy Adkins. "If you think Junior Week is a hilarious affair, you will soon decide it was only a warm-up for the carnival, if you attend," states the junior class vice-president.

Patrons and patronesses will be the coaching staff and their wives. The W. S. C. "W" club is invited.

Protesting the speeding of college boys along a boulevard near the University of California, a group of near-by residents signed a petition and submitted it to the local police force. The boys were warned and on the first day of the drive none of them were arrested, but five of the petition's signers were halled into court!

Delta Tau Delta Wins Swimming Championship As Lindley Hall Takes Runner-up Honors

Championship intramural swimming honors were carried off by Delta Tau Delta last night, as nine houses and halls, dashed and dived for the possible 150 intramural points finally won by the Deltas, with 29 points in the meet.

Close behind the leader was Lindley hall, winning 125 points. The final team standings were as follows: Delta Tau Delta, 29, 150 points; Lindley hall 21, 125 points; Phi Delta Theta, 11, 100 points; T. K. E., 7, 75 points; Senior hall, 6, 50 points; Fiji, S. A. E., and Sigma Chi tied for sixth with five points each and will split the 25 points awarded for that position.

Everett Wood, Delta Tau, was high man with 10 points to take individual honors. Wood placed first in the 50-yard free style and the 100-yard free style events. Other high point men were Dwight Cable and Melvin Hollinger.

One Big Event

The 100-yard free style event was by far the most exciting of the evening. The four men who competed in the final finished almost in a dead heat, the judges having some difficulty in awarding the places.

The diving honors were captured by the Cougar fighters take in more money than do the Vandals.

The real reason that keeps the Vandal boxers from getting sweeter awards is not that any reflection is cast on their ability, nor has the treasury anything to do with it. The "I" club and others feel that since boxing is not a team sport but is individualistic, that they shouldn't get the sweeter.

BACK TO BASKETBALL for a minute—Coach Fox has intimated that there will be a spring turn-out for basketball. At least four of the hard-working veterans will be relieved of responsibility though, because they are playing their last game tomorrow evening.

WHENEVER THE FELLOWS drag out the old glove and blow the dust off it, you can be sure that spring is here. Bet there'll be plenty of sore arms during the next few weeks from tossing the ball around.

THE SPORTS STAFF will welcome any and all constructive criticism that you might offer. Nothing is barred except ancient eggs and turnips. Address your missives to the Sports Editor, Argonaut.

WATCH THE "BROWN BOMBER" in tonight's game. He is not only dangerous in basketball, but he packs a wicked left hook. Patterson is his name, and he is from "down South."

Every basketball fan should be obliged to take a course in refereeing — then, maybe there wouldn't be so many lusty bronx cheers from the balcony.

Vandal Mittmen Trade Blows With Bulldogs Wednesday

Boxing competition with Gonzaga university will make its official debut Wednesday night when Coach Louie August's mittslingers meet the Bulldog squad in the Gonzaga gym in Spokane.

Idaho's two sterling champs, Joey August and Luke Purcell, will stage a special exhibition bout since no opposition could be arranged for them.

Glenn Craig, hard-hitting Idaho middleweight, will fight Pete Higgins, Gonzaga football ace, in the scheduled main event. Higgins is a dexterous and vigorous puncher who has wide experience and is the present first-string Gonzaga quarter-back.

Bill Morrow, Idaho 190 pound heavyweight, adopts a daring complex in consenting to mix with 245-pound Cecil Kennedy who recently won a draw with Bob Sitterly, veteran Spokane heavyweight.

Idaho's new light-heavyweight, Rolly Shumway, who, in the recent meet with the Meraloma club, established himself as a very colorful tured by Cable, Lindley hall, with a total of 34.13 points. The remaining places went to Raww, Phi Delt, with 31.53. Spence, S. A. E., 28.19, and Schiller, Phi Delt, 20.17. Each man was required to make four dives, two of which were optional.

The meet was very well conducted and the times were fairly fast. Harvey Walker was in charge and Coach Bob Tessler of the swimming team acted as starter and a judge of the diving. The only regular team members who did not compete were Vernon Shook and Fremont Ogawa, divers. Shook acted as judge but Ogawa was not present.

Summary of events:

50-yard free style—Wood, Delta Tau Delta, first; Hollinger, Senior hall, second; Thompson, Sigma Nu, third; and Jensen, Fiji, fourth. Time :28.

100-yard free style—Wood, Delta Tau Delta, first; Hollinger, Senior hall, second; Cable, Lindley hall, third; and Ed Aspray, Lindley hall, fourth. Time 1:08.

50-yard back stroke—Hoyt, Delta Tau Delta, first; Spence, S. A. E., second; McGregor, Lambda Chi, third; Edwards, Lindley hall, fourth. Time :35.1.

50-yard breast stroke—Mueller, Sigma Chi, first; Hearn, Fiji, second; Sander, Delta Tau Delta, third; and Jensen, T. K. E., fourth. Time 1:47.

200-yard free style relay—Won by Phi Delta Theta, (Lawrence, Ellis, Dudley, and Hokanson); Lindley hall, second, (Cable, Caparaso, Bordman, and Aspray). Time 2:02.

150-yard medley relay—Won by Delta Tau Delta, (Hoyt, Sander, and Lang.) Time 1:47.5.

prospect, will exchange Mary Ann's with Leo Greenough, another prominent football-player-boxer.

Bantam Weights Mix

Ralph Kall, 118 pound Gonzaga protege, who staged a sensational knockout in the first round of his career, will be matched against Dick Lambert, No. 1 Vandal bantam weight.

A budding Idaho lightweight, Earl Spencer, will be forced to his best against Marvin Arthur, colorful 135-pounder of the Bulldog squad who last summer held the Spokane veteran, Judd Sexton, to a draw.

Ralph Miller, 112 pounds, is due to have his hands full fighting Alvin "Bulldog" Sloan of Spokane. Sloan last fall lost two very close decisions to Dick Lambert.

Boo Shields, former Spokane all-city quarterback, slips the gloves on to fight Jim Laing of Idaho.

Pete, Bida, new heavyweight for the Vandals, and Ralph Hawley begin their respective ring careers against each other.

Idaho Mattmen Take Cougars Lose Swimming and Fencing

Vandal minor sports stars took a set-back at the hands of Washington State men in Saturday's meet in Memorial gymnasium. Idaho wrestlers came through with a triumph, but fencers and swimmers lost to the Staters. W. S. C.'s victory makes things even, for Vandals conquered Cougars at Pullman last week.

Vandal matmen tugged and slammed their way to victory with a total of 19½ to 16½ points in the afternoon matches. Idaho won four out of eight matches; Washington State three—the other being a draw.

Matmen Tug Victory

Les Holmes, 177-pound half-back on the football squad, pinned Christensen, W. S. C., for a fall, and Bob Miller, Idaho 137-pounder put Boyd to the mat. Paul Jones, Idaho, threw Nelson of Washington State. Stoddard (decisioned Brown in the 161-pound class to complete the four Vandal victories.

Giant Versus Giant

In the battle of giants, Stonko Pavkov earned a draw with Chris Rumberg, huge Washington State blonde bone-crusher, to keep the Vandals' margin of victory.

Cougar swimmers showed superiority over the Vandals for the second time in as many weeks at Moscow Saturday afternoon. The only Vandal victory came in the 400-yard free style when Chuck Aspray finished ahead of Carroll of W. S. C. The final score was 55-28, with the visitors on the favorable end of the count.

Vandals Ragged With Cougars; Rally Too Late in Second Half

Decidedly off form, the Vandals went down to defeat before the spectacular shooting of the Washington State basketball squad Saturday night, 60-42, in a game that counted for 102 points. The defeat gave the Staters a 3-1 series victory over the Vandals.

Shooting with deadly accuracy, the Cougar quintet was not to be defeated. Shots from the center circle would find their way through the net with metronomic regularity. Even the second string Cougars were hot on the basket. Half score was 28-12 for W. S. C.

In direct contrast, the Vandals' play was ragged except for a last rally which netted 14 points while W. S. C. was held to nothing, but the Cougars had piled up too much of an advantage. The Vandals were easy on the personal fouls throughout the game, for only 11 tries were given the Staters via the gift shot route. The visitors made six free tries out of 11 while Idaho collected 14 out of 25.

Nelson, Cougar center, collected eight points in the first half and four more in the latter to total 12 for the evening before he was replaced by Kellstrom. Geraghty made 10 points for the Vandals and Bill Katsilometes made 11 to get scoring honors for the Vandals.

With less than six minutes to play, the Vandal regulars, with the exception of Don Johnson who was playing at center, started a furious comeback with Katz making six points, Iverson four, Fisher, Geraghty, and Johnson each getting two while the Cougars were held to three field goals. The rally was a good exhibition, but the 29-point lead that the Staters had amassed was too much.

Just as the gun went off, Kellstrom, reserve Cougar center, made the final basket that ran the victor's total to 60 points.

DID YOU NOTICE that in the game against W. S. C. the other night the Vandals scored more points than they have in any game this season. We knocked down 42 points but took a royal trouncing at that.

The next highest score was the 41 we made against Oregon, and we also lost that one, the quintet from Eugene collecting 45.

RATHER THAN SAY the Vandals were not guarding the Cougars last Saturday, I'd say they couldn't be guarded. When one man is hot and starts sinking them from every angle it's bad enough, but when the whole team is doing it. Well—you saw what happened.

WHEN GREEK MET GREEK. Katz, Vandal high point man for the game, had the job of covering Washington State's versatile and swarthy Damaskos. Katz did a good job of it, too.

BOXERS FROM WASHINGTON State receive major "W" sweaters when the said boxers bring home titles of some sort. And therein lies a sore spot among boxing fans at Idaho.

"Why" they say, "when the W. S. C. boxers receive the coveted award, shouldn't the Vandals get them? Besides, Idaho has a superior squad."

It is quite true that Louie August's men have proved to be the better men in at least two meetings this year. Some try to explain the reason the Vandals do not get major awards by saying

Sigma Nus, Betas, Pi Phis, Delta Chis, and Kappa Sigs Honor Initiates at House Dances

Saturday the Sigma Nus entertained their new initiates at a formal dance. Decorations were carried out in a black and white and gold color scheme, emphasizing the figurative coat-of-arms. Small crested compacts were given as favors to the ladies.

Programs were of heavy silver paper with a cord and gold crest on the covers. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Coope, and Captain and Mrs. Charles Hart were the patrons and patronesses. The Blue Bucket orchestra furnished the music.

Initiates of Beta Theta Pi were honored at an informal at the chapter house Saturday. The transition from pledgeship to membership was emphasized by the replicas of pledge pine on the walls which had pink and blue streamers leading from them to the crest over the fireplace.

The programs were pink and blue rippled paper with the crest of the fraternity upon the covers. Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Gertrude Critchfield, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Axtell, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Marshall.

A modernistic atmosphere was created by the Pi Beta Phi house at their initiation dance Friday. Effects were gained by unusual silhouettes and black and white crepe paper decorations.

Programs were black and silver with the crest on the cover. Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Harry Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Macklin, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Jones. Chuck Collins orchestra furnished the music.

Delta Chi carried out the leap year idea in its initiation dance Saturday. The walls were covered with comical silhouettes of the initiates. Red and gold streamers completely hid the orchestra. A large red heart with the Greek letters of the fraternity on it hung in front of the group of streamers. Simple white crested programs with cords of red and gold completed the colorful decorations.

Patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. Pendleton Howard, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Pierce, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Steffens. Music was furnished by Howard Chapman's orchestra.

The Kappa Sigma house was transformed into a hunting lodge for the duration of its initiation dance Saturday. Typical winter scenes were set in the long windows, and skis, skins, and guns adorned the walls in rustic fashion.

The programs were crimson, green, and white, colors of the fraternity, with their emblem on the cover.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessier, Mr. and Mrs. A. Paddock, and Captain and Mrs. Lewis S. Norman. Honored guests were General and Mrs. Edward Chrisman and Captain and Mrs. Charles Hart.

Loanda Ricks was crowned queen of the Green and Gold ball which was held at the L. D. S. Institute Friday. Miss Ricks' throne was covered entirely with huge palms. Palm trees were placed about the room to add atmosphere to the throne of the queen.

Programs were gold with a cut-out backed by green cellophane. The lovely traditional Green and Gold waltz was performed by five couples. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Stauffer, Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Shaw, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sumlson.

Pan-Hel Officers Attend Conclave

Margaret Brodrecht, president of Pan-Hellenic; Ruth Ferny, vice president; and Esther Flenner attended the district convention of the national Pan-Hellenic association in Spokane, Friday.

About 200 deans of women and sorority women from Oregon, Washington, Montana, and Idaho universities and state colleges were present at the meetings which were held in the Davenport hotel.

Round Table Discussions
Beginning at 9 o'clock Friday morning, the meetings consisted of three round table discussion groups for active sorority women, alumnae, and the deans. Mary L. Iddings, Dorothy Lennfest, Sarah Jane Baker, and Ann LaRue will captain the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman co-ed rifle teams, respectively, as the result of an election held Thursday afternoon.

The Passing Parade

By Helen Madson

The decision has been reached—there's no denying that you must have a new suit to step out in the month of March. Your choice is unlimited, ranging from a casual three-piece tailored outfit to a dressy fox-trimmed afternoon suit.

Beatrice Fisher introduces a light grey camel hair wool suit with a contrasting navy blue topcoat at the first outset of spring. Other popular three-piece combinations are achieved in combining plaids with plain materials and experimenting in virulent color combinations. Interest is found in placing light against dark, as in wearing an overcoat of rose topping a navy suit, or pollen-yellow over black.

The Chinese influence will reign supreme this season over the belligerent Russian mania of fall and winter. Vivian Noyer exhibits her flare for the Oriental in wearing a grey and red Marinette suit with a full swinging plaid jacket over a grey skirt and red blouse. Knuckle length coats are most popular in this style.

Frothy feminine frills often accompany the traditional lines of the eastern trends for jackets and waists. Femininity combines with the mannish in forming the silhouettes of early spring suits.

Vigorous Campaign For Idaho Stamp Is Being Waged

Northwest Asks for Fitting Tribute to Reverend Spalding and His Wife, Early Pioneers

Idaho has never been recognized in any way in the national publicity given through a postage stamp issue. Perhaps this is because no occasion of enough importance in the state merited this distinction. However, the time has arrived when the commemoration of a century of civilization in the commonwealth of Idaho by such a fitting tribute to those pioneers Reverend Spalding and Eliza Hart Spalding, responsible for the establishment of the first home church, first school, first grist mill, first printing press, first orchard, first family, first crops, and first education of the Indians, has come.

A vigorous campaign is being waged throughout the state to direct the attention to Postmaster General James A. Farley to the historical drama connected with the request for the stamp and a most worthy undertaking it is.

Spaldings Establish Home

The history of Idaho in retrospect contains some of the most dramatic episodes of western lore. It has been of supreme importance to the United States that the Spaldings came into the Northwest and established the first home in what is now the state of Idaho; it has been of importance that their example encouraged others to follow so that by 1861 gold had been discovered; the gold that helped save this nation's credit in the crisis of the Civil war; it is important that it was the Spalding and Whitman expedition that was directly responsible for the acquisition by the United States of that great territory now embraced in the states of Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, and Wyoming.

Tribute to Pioneer Womanhood

If no other reason exists for the stamp, except as a tribute to pioneer womanhood, it is justified. Eliza Hart Spalding and Narcissus Whitman were the first women to have the courage to cross the Rocky mountains, the stability to make homes and rear families in the great wilderness. And it is the more remarkable that these women did this because they were not the type inured to hardship. They had been reared in genteel homes and were especially well educated. Mrs. Spalding being a linguist of note. She collected a botanical exhibit of grasses and flowers of Idaho for Harvard college. She translated books of the Bible into the Indian language. By her fortitude and diplomacy she won the hearts of the savages among whom she made her home. Narcissus Whitman's lot was no less difficult and her end was martyrdom at the hands of the Indians whom she had befriended.

Idaho Purchases Site

The state of Idaho purchased the site of the Spalding mission, twelve miles from Lewiston and will dedicate it as a Memorial park on May 10.

All through the eastern country the traveler comes across shrines, restored landmarks and monuments to the honored dead and the occasions when stamps have been issued to pay tribute to outstanding characters in the history of the eastern part of the United States are numerous. The Northwest asks for this one stamp which would mean no outlay of money on the part of the government nor would it be or any monetary benefit to those who have requested it.

Joe Retains Activity After Losing Head To Mad Scientist

Joe Bluebottle, of the eminent Moscow Bluebottles, is still alive today after having been decapitated for 10 hours! He walks, flies, sleeps, and does everything else but eat and talk. Robert Forbes, purely as a scientific experiment, of course, caused the removal of Joe's head and enclosed him in a bottle to watch the results.

But there were no results! Joe defies all laws of nature and continues, alive and happy, as if the mere loss of his handsome head is only one of the many small, inconsequential incidents which occur every day in his varied life. It's true the entrails which protrude from his neck, due to an inefficient job on Mr. Forbes' part, get tangled up in Joe's front feet and bother his walking a little bit, but after all Mr. Bluebottle has six legs anyway so it doesn't make much difference.

Keep your eyes peeled for the next story on the "Headless Wonder's" progress. It will be in the next issue. How long can a fly live without his head?

"Bull sessions," are encouraged at Arizona State college at Tempe by an informal organization formed for the purpose.

NEWSHAWK LACKS NOSE FOR NEWS

The story goes that there was an enterprising young reporter on a Petaluma, Calif., daily paper. What happens but what one day when he is pecking listlessly at his typewriter, there rings over his head a bell that tells him the local fire department has just received an alarm.

So up jumps the reporter, dashes down the stairs, leaps into his flivver, and grinds down the street in an effort to catch up to the fire trucks. He picks up behind the red devil of a pump wagon as it is leaving the station and, by dint of much throttle pushing and two-wheel turning, stays right behind them until they pull up in front of a familiar-looking building, from which black clouds of smoke are pouring. He looks twice, blinks his eyes. Sure enough! It is the newspaper office and the blaze is in the press room, directly below his own desk.

If the reporter had had a nose for news, he would have smelled the smoke.

PARKING TROUBLES MONTANA CO-EDS

From Montana State comes the latest story of the trials and tribulations of couples that want a place to sit in the group house.

It seems that four couples were coming back to the campus on the bus one evening. All four men had girls from the same sorority, and all four were wont to rate davenport space at said house. The brows of the men were knit with dark schemes of how to beat the others into the domicile of the coeds. Three blocks away, one of the quartet entered into a hurried conversation with his date and took advantage of a bus stop to leap off. He gave a triumphant yell and set off on a thrilling neck and neck duel between the bus and the house. A short-cut got him there first—but the catch was that the house already had every davenport and chair filled by earlier comers.

The moral as cited by the Montana writer was "Bring your own davenport!" We'd say for our own problem, "More and better davenports!"

Cantor Essay Competition Closes; 212,000 Entries Submitted

Winners Will Be Announced Over The Comedian's Weekly Broadcast April 5

Eddie Cantor's peace essay competition, offering a $5000 scholarship to the writer of the best 500 word letter on the subject, "How Can America Stay Out of War?", closed on Washington's birthday, February 22, with more than 212,000 entries submitted from all parts of the country. The winner's name and essay will be announced April 5.

The competition, inaugurated by the comedian on his Sunday night broadcast, January 5, elicited a tremendous response, with numerous high schools, colleges and universities co-operating. The question was discussed in many classrooms. Campus publications editorially commended this effort to promote peace by stimulating a nation-wide discussion.

40 Percent High School Entries

At least 40 percent of the entries came from high school students. Undergraduates and professors in universities also entered the competition, in addition to several governmental and civic officials. The terms provide that, in the event the winner is not personally able to attend college, he or she may designate the recipient of the award.

Every section of the country was represented in the entries which started to arrive shortly after the announcement was made and have continued to come in by the thousands, with a last minute rush in the final week. All letters enport and chair filled by earlier comers.

The moral as cited by the Montana writer was "Bring your own davenport!" We'd say for our own problem, "More and better davenports!"

postmarked up to midnight, February 2, are eligible.

The essays will be judged by four noted educators, each the president of a prominent educational institution. They are Robert M. Hutchins, University of Chicago; Frederick Bertrand Robinson, College of the City of New York; Ray Lyman, Wilbur, Leland Stanford university; and Henry Noble MacCracken, Vassar college.

Their decision will be announced by the radio and screen star on his weekly broadcast over the Columbia network, Sunday evening, April 5. Cantor already has deposited $5000 in the Bank of the Manhattan Trust Company of New York City, to establish a trust fund for the specific purpose of a college career.

Fund For College Education

This fund will provide an adequate allowance for tuition and complete maintenance during the four-year course of study at any American college or university. Cantor's offer is purely a personal one. It has no commercial affiliation whatever.

Many telegrams from prominent people, commenting upon the competition, have been received, including messages from General Pershing, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Booth Tarkington. General Pershing said, in part: "Your contest on the question 'How Can America Stay Out of War?' should stimulate serious study of this important problem from the practical point of view instead of the acceptance of the impractical theory that war can be prevented by merely refusing to fight. I hope the contest will be successful."

Credit toward a degree may be obtained by Alfred university students who participate in certain extra-curricular activities.

He Teaches Ducks to Stay Out of Hot Water

Coach Howard "Hobby" Hobson hasn't put out a team of division champions his first year at the Oregon university, but he has stirred up a great deal of interest in basketball since he came back to his Alma Mater to take the place of Bill Reinhart, former Webfoot coach who went to George Washington university last year. Coach Hobson was a star basketball man in his undergraduate days.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PLANS "HELLO" DAY

Plans are being formulated at the University of California for an "hello day." Fifty beautiful coeds will be selected and each of them given numbered tickets. The girls in turn present one ticket to every man who speaks to them on the campus on "hello day." The men will write their names on the tickets and deposit them in a box provided. At a drawing prizes will be given to male holders of the lucky number, and also to the co-ed who gives the tickets.

Digest Announces Writing Contest; Offers $1000

Reader's Digest Will Give Five Prizes of $1000 for Non-Fiction Stories

In an effort to unearth new writing talent and subject matter in the non-fiction field, the March issue of the Reader's Digest announces five prizes of $1000 each for unpublished, non-fiction articles by persons who never have contributed to national periodicals. In addition to these prizes, $500 will be paid for each manuscript judged acceptable for publication.

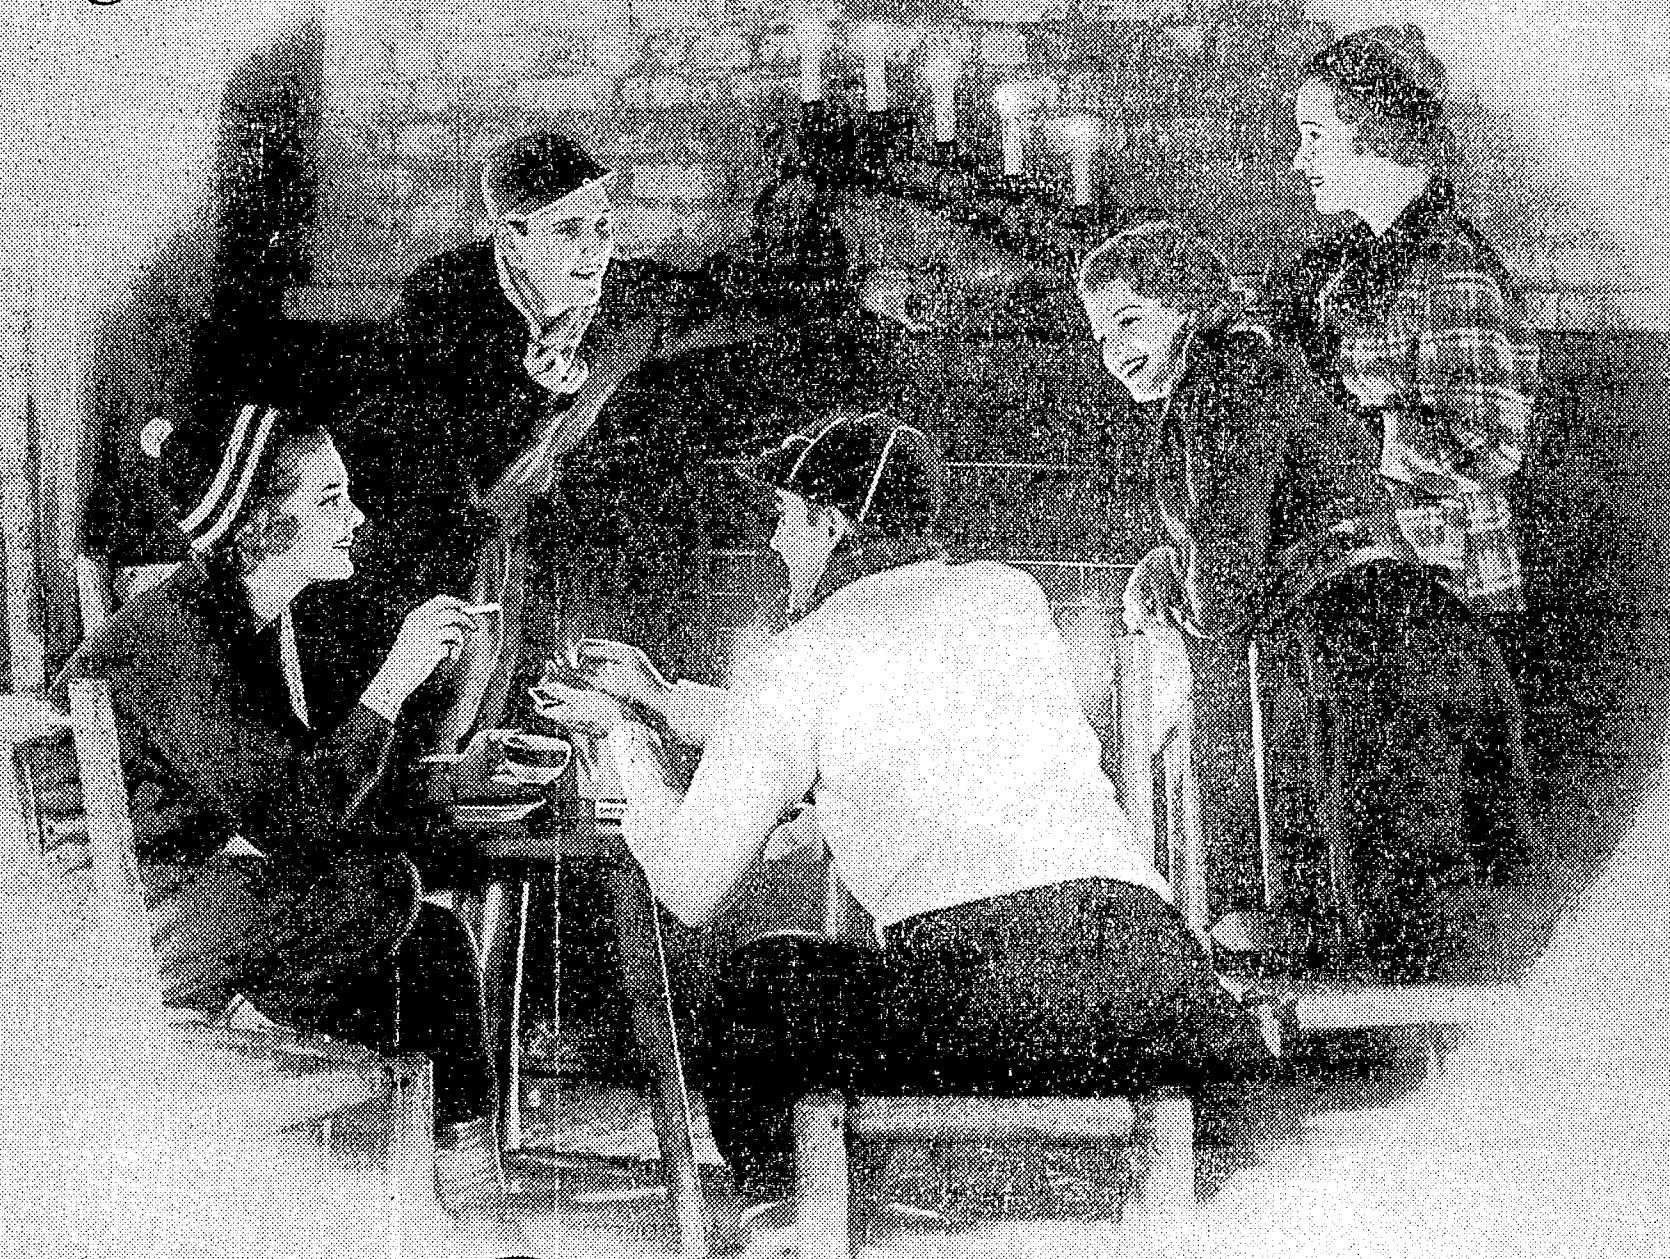

"There are people in all walks of life," according to the announcement, "who, thanks to unusual experience, observation or reflection, might well write magazine articles of lasting interest and significance, but for lack of encouragement have never done so."

Collegians Promising

College students are cited by the Digest as offering particular promise.

"An illuminating experience, a special knowledge of some phase of American life, or an unusual opportunity to observe human nature may be had by individuals in any occupational field, ranging from students, teachers, housewives or chemists, to reporters, nurses, clergymen, clerks, or engineers." In order that such new and unexploited talent may be brought to light, the only persons not eligible for competition are those who have already contributed to a national magazine of the "general interest" class. Full details of the competition are given in the March issue of Reader's Digest, or will be mailed upon request by addressing the editors at Pleasantville, New York.
