Bruno Richard Hauptmann was dramatically released from the electric chair last Tuesday night.

This investigation is now being directed by Governor Hoffman in attempting to prove his claim that Bruno's death will not solve the mystery surrounding the case.

The execution of Hauptmann is scheduled for about 5 o'clock tonight unless he secures a further reprieve from the governor's office.

Despite the claims of new evidence, or the plea of the governor that Hauptmann's death will not solve the crime, we suggest that Hauptmann will die either during the week of March 30 which includes next Sunday night, or in the very near future.

Ray Murphy, national commander of the American Legion, was quoted in yesterday's news reports that war in Europe was inevitable in the next 12 months.

The last statement is merely a stock argument and in reality means nothing as the United States can not avoid European war by adherence to the present policy of neutrality.

The munitions and arms embargo theories are good in themselves, but have no value since many loopholes allow munitions interests to dispose of their wares within the law.

We should like to repeat a statement from our last column. If the 12,000,000 young men of college age would consent to go to war only in defense of our national borders, America need not fear participation in a European war.

Bill Maclear Chosen to Head Intercollegiate Knights Next Year

Service Group Names Five Junior Men; Awards Given to Outstanding Sophomore and Freshman

Bill Maclear, Alpha Tau Omega, was elected duke of the Intercollegiate Knights, national underclassmen's service honorary, last Wednesday night.

Five sophomores were selected by the organization to the junior man positions for next year. Election for this honor is based on personality, qualities of leadership, activity within the group, and faithfulness to the organization.

The retiring junior men are Bert Larson, Bob Strachan, Roy Gray, Jack Dyer, and Clyde Koontz.

Other officers for next year selected from the freshman Knights are Dave Pace, scribe; Carl Burt, chancellor of the exchequer; and Gordon Radford, historian.

An award as the outstanding sophomore member was given to Bob Granville, and a similar award for freshman was given to Carl Burt.

The Idaho Knights installed chapters this year at Gonzaga university, Cheney normal, and Lewiston normal.

Spring Issue Flashes Gay Colors; Knights and Spurs Are Sellers

A "flash of color"—that's what makes up the cover for the spring issue of the Blue Bucket magazine, according to Jim Crawford, editor.

"The spring issue features a dash of spring colors," Crawford announced yesterday. "Another special feature is a display of spring clothes."

"Circulation of the Blue Buckets," said John Barker, business manager, "will be concentrated on the campus. The price is 10 cents a copy."

Col. R. S. Bratton Talks Before Miners At Dinner Meeting

Col. R. S. Bratton, commandant of the university cadet corps, spoke yesterday before members of the school of mines and faculty, at a dinner meeting sponsored by Sigma Gamma Epsilon at the Blue Bucket.

The speech given by Colonel Bratton was on Japan and her army. The history of the development of Japan, from the time of the opening up of countries by Commodore Perry, was discussed.

He stated that there would be a possibility of war taking place with Russia if Germany took an offensive in the near future.

Colonel Bratton was the first army officer to enter the Imperial Japanese Staff college where he was graduated in 1932.

This wedding promises to be one of the outstanding events of the current social season, according to Harvey Hollinger, chairman of the publicity committee for the carnival.

The marriage ceremony will climax a program of fancy diving exhibitions, water polo, formation swimming, exhibition swimming, and finally a bathing beauty contest.

The aquatic stunts together with the nuptial event promises to attract a large number of spectators, said Hollinger today.

Lois Russell Gives Graduate Recital

Program to Include Italian, French, German, and Modern American Songs

Sunday afternoon, April 5, at 4 o'clock in the university auditorium, the music department will present the first graduate recital of 1936. Mrs. R. D. Russell, student of Donald McGill, instructor in music, will present a program of Italian, French, German, and modern American songs.

Mrs. Russell is well known in Idaho musical circles, having sung in recitals in Moscow, Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Lewiston, and other cities. She received her bachelor of science degree in 1923. While an undergraduate she was soloist with the Glee club and University Symphony orchestra.

When in 1930, the Idaho legislature was considering "Here We Have Idaho" as the state song, Mrs. Russell accepted the invitation to sing that song into the legislative minutes.

The program includes: Care Selve, Atlanta; Haudel Voi Che Sapete, Marriage of Figaro; Ich Liebe Dich; Grieg; O Liebliche Wangen; Brahms; Il Ballo; Arditia.

In the afternoon the formal part of the initiation took place, followed that evening by a banquet. Weldon Schimke, local attorney and alumnus, gave a very interesting and amusing survey of the highlights of titles generally. Later in the evening some of the members displayed their professional aptitude.

Phi Alpha Delta, national legal honorary, held initiation at the Blue Bucket Inn last Saturday. Those initiated were: Oren Allisco, Marshall Nail, Gilbert St. Clair, Robert Mullins, Howard Adkins, Glenn Coughlan, and James Wayne.

Prof. Archie Jones Enthusiastic About Pendarvis Band

Music Department Head Says Radio Artist Represents Best in Popular Style of Music

Commenting on the prospect of having Paul Pendarvis and his company to play here at the Publications ball May 12, Professor Archie N. Jones, head of the music department, was enthusiastic.

"Paul Pendarvis represents the best style in the playing of the popular type of music, and his band is among the top in his profession," he said.

"No one has been able to legitimately criticize that type of music when used for the purpose for which it is intended—namely, the dance. It is not the music, but the way in which it has been played that has been criticized, and I am very happy to see exponents of the best current type come to Moscow."

The band has been popular not only in the West but also in the Middle West and the East, playing for some time at Minneapolis and other important points.

"I hope as many people as possible will go in order that they will demand this finer type of music here."

Nationally Famous 18-Piece Band To Play Here On May 12

Paul Pendarvis and his 18-piece N. B. C. dance orchestra will furnish the music for the third annual Publications ball on May 12, according to an announcement made last night by Bill Ash, president of the Press club, sponsor of the affair.

It will be the first time in the history that the Idaho campus will dance to a highly publicized radio band. Pendarvis is now playing at the Palace hotel in San Francisco, where he broadcasts over the N. B. C. hook-up nightly. He will be making a tour of the Northwest during May. The Press club secured the only open date on his entire schedule.

The ball will be held in the Memorial gymnasium on the Tuesday evening preceding Campus day.

Favorite with Collegians is composed of 18 talented musicians, all of whom are college men. Through the medium of the national radio hook-ups, the band has grown in popularity until it now plays in the best known spots on the Pacific coast.

The last permanent engagement that Pendarvis had was playing in a large San Francisco hotel where he became a favorite of the students of the University of California and Stanford university.

The entire Pendarvis company will be at the Publications ball this year. In order to get a band of such calibre on the Idaho campus, the Press club took advantage of the only date that was available.

Nationally advertised products are featured at the Publications ball every year, and this year promises to be better than ever, with the addition of a famous orchestra to the event, according to Bill Ash, Press club president.

"We are expecting a record crowd this year, and feel that every person in this vicinity, whether he be a college student or not, should not miss this great orchestra," he said.

Billboards advertising nationally famous products will cover the gymnasium on all sides and samples will be distributed to the guests. Among the samples arranged for this year are Armand products, Chamberlain hand lotion, Hershey's chocolate, Williams' shaving preparations, Wheaties, and many others.

Flowers, through the courtesy of the local florists, Ashlee's and Scott Brothers, will be given to the guests upon arrival.

Admission price has not been definitely set as yet, but it will be placed low enough to permit every Idaho student to hear the best in popular music. Townspeople and others will be invited to attend the Publications ball this year as its sponsors feel that such an attraction is one that should not be missed by anyone.

Bulletins Printed On Summer Term

Approximately 8,000 Copies Will Be Sent to Former University Students

Approximately 8,000 copies of the University of Idaho summer school bulletin will be mailed to former students within the next few days, according to an announcement from the publications office.

Attractions of the summer term, which will be held from June 9 to July 17, comprise most of the stories. Cuts of visiting faculty members, announcement of new courses, opinions of those who have attended former summer sessions, and pictures of last year's activities are included.

A personal greeting from Dean J. F. Messenger, director of the session, also appears.

At a meeting of the Interfraternity council, Wednesday night at the L. D. S. Institute, date cards were given out to representatives of the various men's houses. Definite plans for purchasing a scholarship cup for men were made, as the money is already available for this purpose.

Hello: Well the Pep Band put on their show last night and it was a darn good one. The only trouble was that the music was a bit weak in spots.

Hawkeye On Duty

Comes the time when all thoughts are turned to what we will do Spring vacation...the Little Kernel plans to press into work a corps of stooges to cover the various watering places from South Idaho to Spokane...

The Pep Band came out with their annual production and Hawkeye would like to give Bob Seymour his bouquet of the week...at least he likes the trumpet trio...Tootie "Aloof" Dollard had OC "Little Junior" Jarlett all in a jitter just because he had slipped up on his dates last night and had to find two tickets to the show at the last minute...

At the time that this key hole dope goes to print the Little Kernel is in the infirmary with Conjunctivitis...cure improbable...now try and find out who I am from among the 42 others...we sure do have a nice group up here these days...sailing around, or is it saline...rumor reached me that Jim "Singing-Boy" Wright is planning on going steady...

Gallop' Tintypes

KENWORTHY Friday-Saturday—"Dancing Feet", featuring Ben Lyon, Joan Marsh, Eddie Nugent.

"Here Comes Trouble", with Paul Kelley and Arline Judge. Sunday-Monday—"The Three Godfathers", with Chester Morris, Lewis Stone.

NU-ART Starting Sunday—"Song and Dance Man", featuring Claire Trevor, Paul Kelley, Michael Whalen. A very unusual title is "The Three Godfathers". It sounds as if it might be a picture of anything you wanted it to be. But it isn't. It's Peter B. Kyne's latest novel of three desperadoes who find a baby on the desert and bring it to safety at the risk of their lives and thereby save their souls.

There are those of you who will be seeing a lot of Paul Kelley this week end. And right glad to see him, we are, too. He's a fine actor, and we wish he were given the credit due him for his splendid roles. "Song and Dance Man" is a vaudeville story of a team—one good, one bad—that can't stick together.

And "Here Comes Trouble". What an appropriate title when little Miss Judge is a member of the cast. That little girl has just everything it takes to get along in this world. The story is all about a slick lady jewel thief playing third engineer Kelley for a sucker.

Grins and Gripes

The Argonaut welcomes contributions from its readers concerning matters of interest to students. Letters printed here may or may not conform with the opinions of the editor, and are not to be construed as expressing the policy of this paper.

Former Griper Clears Previous Statements; Is Satisfied With Botany Department

To the Editor: This is neither a gripe nor an apology for a gripe (contrary to what some in Botany 2, Section B, might think). Life is too good to be wasted perpetually griping about conditions which we as individuals cannot remedy overnight.

Not long ago, I used an example from a botany class to illustrate that some students cheat, that it is a rotten habit, and that we should protest against such practices. I also stated that in some cases much of this cheating could be prevented if professors were more cautious.

No criticism was intended for the botany department or anyone connected with it. It is my opinion that, for the size of the class, there is less cheating there than in any class I have attended. There is a conscious attempt to minimize dishonest work on tests and lab exercises.

No doubt there are many professors in the university who rate high according to Palmer's Ideal Teacher. The botany faculty is included in this class.

I am not polishing apples (in spite of what those in Section B have concluded). My grade will go in before this is ever read by anyone. I try to maintain an unprejudiced teacher-student attitude toward educational matters.

P. S. I would like to meet the poet (?) who wrote "Tell Me Not in Mournful Numbers" in the last issue of the Argonaut. Perhaps crib is a better word than cheat, but I am not so sure about the nerve required. It takes nerve to live up to an ideal.

Deplors Digs Against Commander; Thinks Genius Should "Out"

To the Editor: I thought T. M. H's verbal barrage upon the "future vets" and their "commander" as being quite inconsiderate and very disrespectful of the finer aspects of scholarship and ingeniousness.

Being Irish, perhaps I have always been a bit prejudiced in favor of Englishmen, and especially so where Oxford students were concerned. Surely, the very fact of being an Oxford student, or a prospective one is shibboleth enough in the right to wander from ordinary intellectual paths.

I've always believed that the "geniuses" were never good practical men; they don't need common sense to proceed easily and anfractuosity through the most "complex problems". Also, I've always believed that "philosophical theorists" do not need strong backbones, because their brains are omnipotent enough that they can easily force muscle men to shoulder the heavy.

It occurs to me the university could give more due to her scholars. Maybe we have had our attention focused on athletics too much. I hardly blame the commander of the "forgotten vets" if he yells for the Klieg lights to be refocused, nor if he shouts for a little publicity.

I had hoped the students would not laugh at the "future vets", or their commander. It is such men as "Commander" Arms who may be acclaimed twenty years from now as one who delivered the people to a brighter plane from our present travail of depression and war mania.

Just remember, "geniuses" come only once in every forty million, so the really rational thing to do is to sacrifice the more worthless intellectuals first. I move a bill before the House that will give protections to those men who are "overloaded" with brains.

Pep Band Pleases In First Performance

By Sam Bjorkman

The University of Idaho's annual Pep Band show really went over in a grand and glorious manner in the first performance given last night in the university auditorium before a packed house.

The formal concert and musical review, given in two parts, was one of the outstanding successes of the year, and the members of the Pep Band and all who took part in the performance are deserving of the praise of all the campus.

Excellent performance, novel stage arrangements, attractive scenery, good lighting effects, and variety of entertainment featured the program that was well received by all who were favored to attend the show.

Delsa Crowley Plays

The formal part of the program opened with Olyvadoti's "Hall of Fame" and was followed by the "Vision of Fuji San" by Ketelby.

"Purple Pageant", by King and "Angelus", by Massenet were followed by Sousa's "Black Man" from the suite "Dwellers of the Western World".

The second part of the program, the "Campus Parade," was featured with novelty numbers depicting various phases of campus life in song and music.

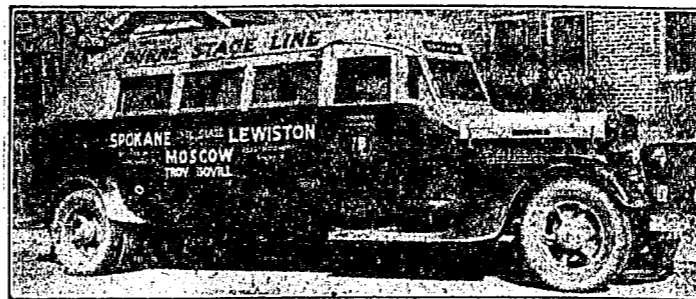

Bob Bollinger, Bill McClear, and Dick Darnell, were then presented in a farce on probation week as the orchestra played "Hell's Bells."

It costs us more to build a car like this

FORD quality goes far below the surface. It is built into every part of the car—in those things you see and those that are hidden. We say it with assurance—because it has been the experience of so many millions of drivers—that many months after your first ride you will still be saying—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

The Ford Motor Company is not content with ordinary specifications for materials. Its own standards of quality for many important parts are considerably higher than usually accepted standards.

Ford valves are an example of this extra value. They are made of a nickel-chrome alloy-steel that contains 13% chromium, 13% nickel and 2% silicon. This unusually high alloy content increases resistance to heat—insures more efficient, economical performance and longer life.

Intake valves, as well as exhaust valves, are made of this more expensive steel in the Ford V-8. It is one of several good reasons why the Ford engine is singularly free of valve troubles.

It costs us more to build a car like this—yet the price of the Ford V-8 remains low. Ford manufacturing methods save many dollars for Ford owners—and bring fine-car quality within the reach of every one who drives.

Plan for Campus Day Second Week in May; Board Is Indefinite

Plans for Campus day were discussed by the executive board at a meeting Tuesday evening. Campus day, if it is held, will be the second Wednesday in May. It will not interfere in any way with the Mothers' week end of the W. S. The board made no definite decision about holding Campus day.

A change in the amendment concerning the awarding of letters for tennis was proposed. The board decided to leave the amendment as it now stands. If there is any doubt caused by the present wording, letters will be awarded upon the recommendation of the coach.

March 15, Tolford has rapidly recovered and Wendler is entirely on the road to recovery.

The operations were performed by Dr. Carroll Smith, a graduate of the University of Idaho.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE — SMOKE CAMELS

CROWDED HOURS
—Studies, sports, intramural activities—no wonder digestion often rebels at the strain of college life. Remember: Smoking Camels promotes digestion and well-being.

Smoking Camels Assists Digestion to Proceed Normally and Promotes Well-Being and Good Feeling

We live in high gear. So much to do and so little time to do it in! All too often the rush and tension play havoc with nerves and the digestive system. How can one offset the effects of modern living—that's the problem! Here is an interesting established fact: Smoking Camels has been found a definite bene- fit in promoting natural digestive action. Camels are supremely mild—never get on the nerves or tire your taste. Enjoy Camels as much as you like...for their good cheer and "lift"...for their rare flavor! Smoke Camel's costlier tobaccos for digestion's sake. They set you right!

THE TERRACED MARINE DINING ROOM of the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago. Those who dine at leisure also appreciate Camels for their aid to digestion. "Good times and good tobacco go together," says Fred, maitre d'hotel of the Marine Dining Room. "So many of our guests smoke Camels. They are immensely popular."

"I HAVE TO EAT in 30 minutes—and a riveter can't be walking around with nervous indigestion, on narrow beams hundreds of feet in the air," says Harry Fisher, steel worker. "Smoking Camels makes my food set better and helps my digestion."

SHE FEEDS THOUSANDS DAILY. Miss Lenora Flinn, dietitian, says: "With me, it's always Camels! Smoking Camels during meals and after promotes digestion, causing increased flow of digestive fluids. Camels never jangle my nerves."

Idaho Boxers to Face Kellogg April 17; Cougars Week Later

Vandal boxers will fight in two big meets before they hang up their gloves this spring—an intercollegiate meet with Washington State on April 24 and a genuine smoker with the Kellogg "Y" April 17.

The Deeter's W. S. C. ringmen have challenged the Idaho mitt-men to this intercollegiate duel, apparently to bring to a climax the lengthy controversy as to the superiority between the teams.

Idaho Champs Ineligible
There is little question that the Cougars have a decided advantage over Idaho in competition on an intercollegiate basis. Under such a condition neither of Idaho's two inter-Mountain A. A. U. champions—Joey August and Rolly Shumway—will be eligible to compete. The entire W. S. C. varsity string will be entered on this basis, as they have fought under intercollegiate conditions throughout the year.

August is disqualified, having withdrawn from school because of sinus trouble. Shumway is ineligible for varsity meets, since he is a freshman. Dick Lambert, Idaho 118-pounder, is disqualified by the same rule. Another Vandal top-notch, Luke Purcell, will not be in action either, having turned out for varsity baseball.

Staters Have Edge
W. S. C. is undoubtedly one of the strongest boxing teams in the country, having won the Pacific Coast championship last year; they tied UCLA for first place in this year's meet. Idaho fans, however, still refuse to concede anything to W. S. C. The fact that Bill Morrow will be trained down to 175 pounds to meet light-heavyweight requirements, with Louie Rich succeeding him in the heavy-weight division will greatly strengthen the Idaho team.

Louie Denton, holder of a recent decision over Cougar Bob Bates; Glenn Craig, 160-pounder; Earl Spencer, 135; and Ralph Miller, 115-pound finalist at the Inter-Mountain tourney in Salt Lake, will present other formidable obstacles for the W. S. C. aspirants to hurdle. Aaron Blewett and Joe Middleton, leading second stringers, promise plenty of action. Coach Louie August plans to use all these men against the red and gray.

Untried Gridders To Show Ability In Opening Game

Providing that Old Man Weather smiles on the idea and permits MacLean field to dry out, a football game will be played Saturday at 3 p. m. between two picked squads of new varsity material.

Friday laboratories among the football men necessitated the change from this afternoon as was previously announced. For the past week the White and Blue teams have been putting in some concentrated work, polishing up the plays till they glisten in the balmy spring air.

The coaching staff has also been split for the occasion. Head coach Ted Bank, and Bob Tessier are grooming the White team, while across the field on the Blue bench will be coaches Percy Clapp and Al will consummate the Vandal boxers home appearance this current school year. An exciting event is promised for the main attraction, Idaho's jarring Rolly Shumway versus the fouted Bud Johnson of St. Maries, Northwest golden gloves champion of the lightweight division. Johnson recently took a disputed decision from Bill Morrow, and Shumway will be out to avenge his "stablemate".

The semi-final will bring Louie Denton and Claris Justis together in another fast scrap. These two matches are the only ones definitely arranged, but a full card will be announced in the near future.

No Fooling Here
Onlookers at practice have been convinced that the boys are really in earnest about this game by the epithets tossed back and forth between the two squads.

Roise and Wilson Are "Packers"
Outstanding backs listed above are Sundberg, Rauwe Roise, Iverson, Gregory, Luvaas, Chrape, and Wilson. Sundberg hits the line much after the fashion of a baby tank bent on going places. Rauwe kicks exceptionally well, is a good passer, and a good defensive man. Roise and Wilson are two very elusive ballpackers who are likely to gain more than their share of the yardage. Chrape and Luvaas are a couple of husky new backfield candidates who appear to be able to absorb all the punishment that will be sure to come their way. Gregory, a lanky end, has been shifted to quarter for the spring season. He and Tony Knap, his former wingmate, played reg-

Trackmen Resume Turnouts To Prepare for Whitman Meet

Coach Mike Ryan is a gentleman who believes in the old adage—"All work and no play makes trackmen dull boys." So he gave the boys a rest. But from now on, look out.

Starting next week, Coach Ryan intends to have all men turning out, regularly again in preparation for the spring track season ahead. The last two weeks have seen the men resting and taking time off for nine weeks' tests.

Weight men and men who did not compete in the interfraternity indoor meet will start training the first of next week, followed by the turning out of all men who intend to enter varsity competition later. This leaves only one week before picking the team to represent the university in a meet with Whitman college on April 25.

Team To Be Picked
The Vandals will resume their track season with an interclass meet on Saturday, April 18, a meet which will be open to regular trackmen. This meet will serve as the final trials for the selection of the team to compete against Whitman. This will be the first outdoor track competition under the new track coach, Mike Ryan, in which all track and field events will be run.

Saturday, April 25 finds the Idaho men at Walla Walla running against Whitman in their first intercollegiate competition of the season. At home the freshmen will meet with Cheney normal on the same day.

Selection of men to represent the university in conference meets will be made on May 2 in a handi-ful positions on the frosh team last fall.

cap meet here on the home track.

Varsity Meets Montana
Varsity conference meets start with the University of Montana at Moscow on May 9. The same afternoon the Washington State frosh travel here to engage the Idaho freshmen. May 16 sees the varsity squad at Corvallis vying with Oregon State college.

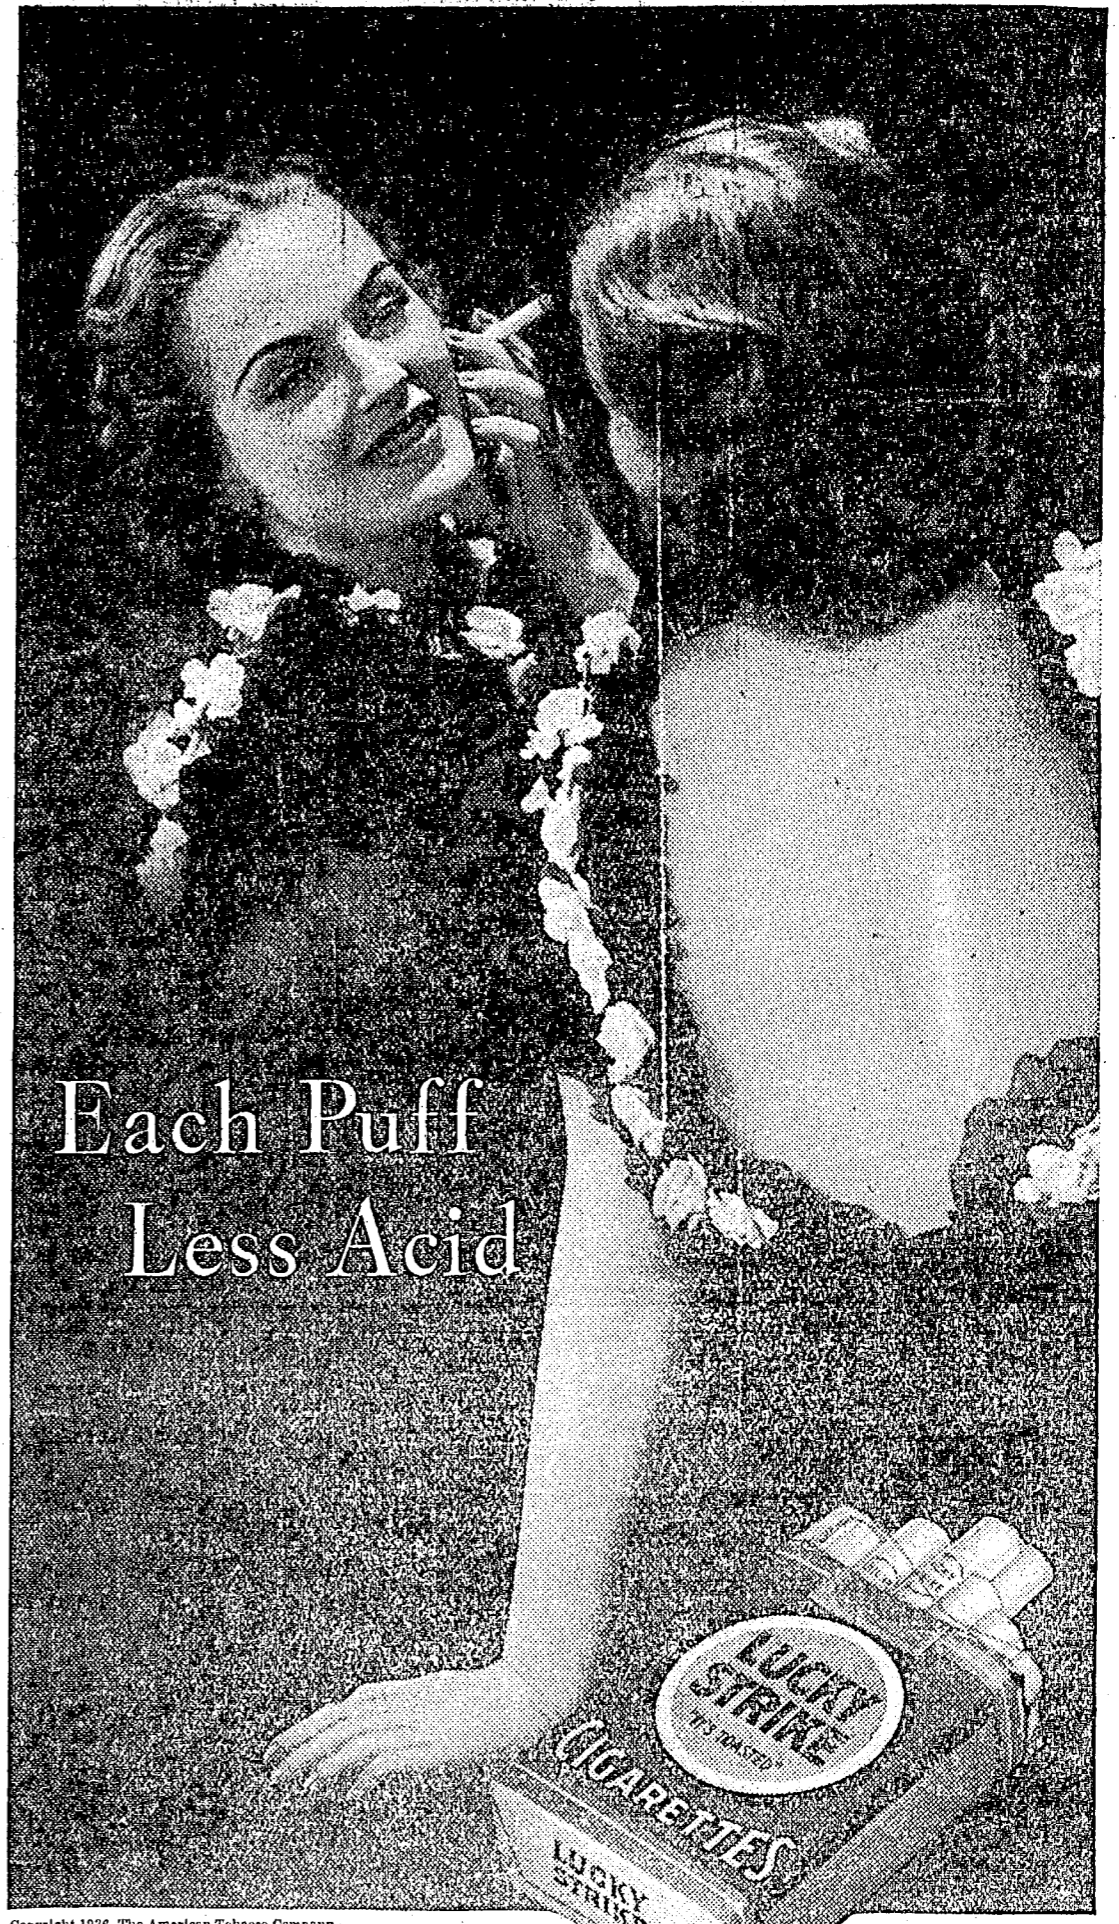

Traveling again on May 23, the Idaho regulars mix with Washington State college at Pullman, a good meet in any year to watch for.

The season winds up with the Pacific Coast conference meet at Los Angeles on May 30, with a pending match here at Moscow between the Vandal frosh and Gonzaga.

Track Meet Each Week
Having a track meet every Saturday will be on the bill for the Vandals once the season starts. Post-season tourneys for men who show above average ability take place on June 26 and 27 in the form of the semi-final Olympic trials at San Francisco. Men who have good luck there will have a chance to become members of the regular Olympic team in the final trials held in New York City on July 10 and 11.

Indiana university is conducting a novel experiment to determine the best pay-attention posture. Half of the class stands during each period. The group that has the highest scholastic results will determine the best posture.

Although the constituents of cigarette paper are, in themselves, unsurpassed in purity and wholesomeness, it may, if crudely fabricated, contribute a marked degree of irritation to cigarette smoke. Cigarette paper not only envelops the tobacco in forming a cigarette, but through its physical properties may exercise a favorable or detrimental influence upon the products of combustion.

Paper for Lucky Strike Cigarettes is made under our own supervision. Samples of each lot of cigarette paper manufactured are subjected to the most rigid analysis before it is used in making Lucky Strike Cigarettes.
