Three members of the American Legion auxiliary and Women's club last week appeared before the Ritzville, Washington school board, charging that the students of the Ritzville public schools were being subjected to the doctrines of communism through the magazine Nation.

The school board immediately banned the magazine Nation from the library and classrooms, because of communistic tendencies. The editors of Nation responded with a written protest of the charges. Since the school subscription was the only subscription sold in Ritzville, the usual policy of a subscription ban would not be feasible.

The school board action also included an investigation of all the school's texts and periodicals to search out any materials that might even suggest communism.

American public school education claims to insure the principles of democracy because it provides a medium through which the individual student is taught to think for himself in making sound judgments, based upon a complete evaluation of all the facts.

The school board and the protesting women are not to be criticized for their desire to purge the public schools of subversive influences, but rather for their selfishness in penalizing the pupil in school because of their own lack of properly understanding the tenets of communism as a technique of government.

The League of Nations reconvened today in its temple in Geneva. During the adjournment for the Easter season, diplomatic negotiations have been made to definitely settle the Italian-Ethiopian conflict—that a peace treaty may be drawn up. The latest Italian victories on the Southern front will certainly prove a definite obstacle to secure this peace measure.

The English press is voicing loud indignation at the use of poisonous gas by the Italians. The English press has protested against every move of the "Italian colonial expedition," but nothing has been done about checking the situation, with the exception of a few ineffective economic sanctions.

The League must consider at this meeting what policies are to be followed for the settlement of the diplomatic problems resulting from the German remilitarization of the Rhine valley.

The little country of Turkey has notified the League that if Hitler is not punished for repudiation of the Locarno pacts she will repudiate Articles 13 and 14 of the 1923 Lausanne treaty, and remilitarize the Dardanelles.

Unless the career diplomats of the League can devise a new kind of diplomatic game wherein all parties will win, they should scrap the League covenants and admit that their existence as a body to settle international problems is not justified.

The Suez canal authorities have issued a report that of the 404,000 Italians who have been sent through the canal to the East African front, 43,000 sick and wounded Italians have already made the return trip through the canal to Italy.

Political observers of national politics state that Idaho's Senator Borah's presidential campaign is dependent for its success upon Borah's securing the Illinois Republican delegation in today's party primaries in Illinois.

The worries of the presidential brow were somewhat lessened last Saturday night when the scientists of the Smithsonian institution classified President Roosevelt's "mystery fish" as a "greater amberjack." There is a peculiar kind of distinction attached to the catching of a fish that no one can tell you about the one that he caught that was bigger.

We heartily endorse Idaho's Governor Ross's speech yesterday in Spokane when he stated, "I advocate a minimum wage of $100 per month, even for the street sweepers." This is a swell idea and if he could offer us a positive guarantee of this policy, even we would vote for him in preference to Borah for the berth of United States senator.

A vital fresh point of view in American periodicals came into its own last week with the debut of RINGMASTER: The World in Caricature. Editor McGuire, ex-editor of Outdoor Life, graduated with honors from the shrine of American football—Notre Dame, in 1925. The editorial policy of RINGMASTER: The World in Caricature, as stated on the inside cover of Vol. 1, No. 1, is "to present the current world through the mediums of caricature and satire."

"Petticoat Fever" Set For This Week-end

Curtain for Farce Will Go Up At 8:20

At 8:20 Friday and Saturday nights the curtains will be jerked away on the farce "Petticoat Fever." For two hours the university auditorium will be the scene of the unfolding of that uproarious theme by the university players.

The tickets went on sale yesterday at Hodgins and are reported to be going fast.

A movie going by the same name has had its run in Moscow. Its story bears some resemblance, but those who have had the opportunity to compare the two shows declare that neither one should be missed, "Petticoat Fever" as enacted by the stage cast selected and directed by Fred Blanchard is a neat contrast to the cinema, according to these judges of dramatic art.

Foolishness Predominates Added up and divided into three parts, this farce is expected to amount to a brisk and fun-filled evening for the playgoers. This gay, foolish little piece has always managed to do what all ingratiating comedies ought to do. It has managed to persuade its audiences to accept it on the terms of its own lunacy. For this reason it has been doubly welcomed. It flashes with impish wit; most of the cast play in a spirit of temperate gleefulness.

Hog Callers to Vie For Speaking Cup

Ag Club, Alpha Zeta Sponsor Contest; Seek Best Orator In Ag School

The preliminaries for the first extemporaneous public speaking contest ever to be conducted by Ags will be held next Monday, April 20. The contest is sponsored by the cooperation of the Ag club and Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity. Contestants in the preliminary contest Monday night will be divided into two divisions—one composed of freshmen and sophomores, and the others of juniors and seniors. The highest ranking individuals in each division will compete in the finals to be held the following Wednesday, April 23, at the Ag club annual banquet.

Much interest is being shown in this contest as it is a new innovation for Ags. Thirteen students have already signified their intention of entering the contest. The purpose of the contest is to acquaint students with the most important agricultural problems and be able to speak intelligently on these problems. Contestants will draw for subjects, which will be pertaining to some major problems of agriculture. They will have approximately five hours to prepare their speeches. Any person enrolled in the college of agriculture is eligible to participate. Wilbur Schroeder is general chairman of the event and Norval Wardle has charge of the arrangements.

this unusual magazine. It is in refreshing contrast to the sentimental literature of the contemporary press.

American writers have avoided the field of satire as a writing medium since the passing of the master of American satire—twisted idealist Mark Twain. RINGMASTER is destined for certain success as an unusual periodical contributing to contemporary American thought.

We should like to repeat a former statement that educational section G-man-de-luxe Dick Tracy should have gone to Florida for a vacation. The circumstances of his present murder mystery are reminiscent of the murder of gambler Arnold Rothstein. The introduction of the ice bullets is a steal from that parlor-guessing-game story of the isolated prospector who committed suicide by using an icicle for a knife. We have discontinued reading "The Gumps" because of the lousy illustrating of Cartoonist Gus Edson.

Engineers To Throw Annual Ball on Friday Night

The Engineers' ball will make its annual bright spot in the social calendar Friday, when the Associated Engineers will fall upon the Blue Bucket Inn, decorate it, fill it with music and give it to the students of Idaho for a merry evening.

The patrons for the event will be the heads of each department of the school of engineering. Admission will be $1 per couple. It will start at 8:30. There will be programs. The ball is to be a bang up for the Engineers' show which will take place May 2.

Don Haasch and Al Blair are chairmen for the occasion. "We have made arrangements for an evening full of fun that will be pricky and new," stated Haasch. Blair was equally enthusiastic.

Sophs Will Frolic April 24; Campus Invited to Join

Mark Robinson Is General Chairman; Committee Heads to Meet Wednesday at Blue Bucket

The annual sophomore frolic will be held April 24 at the Blue Bucket and the second-year students invite the campus to throw their troubles to the wind and join in the fun.

"This dance will rival any part of Junior week," promises Mark Robinson, general chairman. Committee chairmen will meet with Robinson at the Blue Bucket Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. to make definite plans.

The committee members are: orchestra—John Barker, chairman; Billye Jane Austin, Louise Paulsen; tickets—John Barik, chairman, Will Thompson, Rodney Dean; patrons—Marjory Blaine, chairman, Bill McCarley, Marjory Gibson, Margaret Berlinger, Walt Dennison.

Edwin D. Starbuck Added to Faculty For Summer

Character Education Specialist From University of Southern California to be Guest Instructor at Idaho

Dr. Edwin D. Starbuck, famed philosopher and character education specialist at the University of Southern California, will join the University of Idaho faculty for the coming summer term, June 9 to July 17, reports Dean J. F. Messenger, summer session director.

His appointment is the tenth and last of a group of notable visiting faculty members who will be on the Idaho campus for the summer session. Doctor Starbuck's work at Idaho will be primarily in character education, with one course in aesthetics.

Outstanding Educator "In Doctor Starbuck we will have the outstanding man in his field," said Dean Messenger. "He is an able scholar, and a polished gentleman who has been rated as one of the most popular professors at institutions where he has taught."

Doctor Starbuck's reputation in the new and growing field of character education dates back 10 years or so. Then on the University of Iowa faculty, he was chairman of the state committee that was awarded a $20,000 national prize for the best plan for teaching character training in public schools.

Author of Two Books He is the author of two books on the subject, "Moral Education in Public Schools" and "Guide to Literature for Character Training."

From 1923 to 1930 he was director of the Institute of Character Research, and in 1925 he was a lecturer in the Institute for Comparative Study of Human Culture at Oslo, Norway.

Doctor Starbuck holds degrees from the University of Indiana, Harvard, and Clark universities. He taught education at Stanford, was head of the department of philosophy at Iowa, and from there went to his present position at Southern California.

R.H. Farmer Speaks At Banking Meet

Dean of Business School Discusses Trends in Interest Rates at Northwest Conference in Pullman

R. H. Farmer, dean of the school of business administration, spoke on "Interest Rates and Their Trend" at the Pacific Northwest conference of banking held at Washington State college April 9, 10, and 11. Other topics of discussion were: "Recent Banking Legislation," "Inflation," "Future of Interest Rates," and "Bank Investment Policy."

An outstanding speaker of the conference was M. S. Szymczak, member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve system of Washington, D. C., who spoke on "Banking." Representatives from banks and from colleges of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, California, and Canada attended the meetings.

School of Engineering Library Given Book By G. L. Larson, '07

G. L. Larson, mechanical engineer, '07, has recently presented the college of engineering library with a copy of the Guide Book of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

Mr. Larson was the first graduate manager of the ASUE and for a time was an instructor in mechanical engineering here.

Walevitch Brings Russian Songs To Idaho Muscovites on April 21

Russian Singer to Appear Here

Russia, land of Cossacks and wide, barren steppes, will be pictured vividly for Idaho students when Savelli Walevitch, noted concert singer, appears here April 21. Poignant and genuine in his portrayals of life in his native land, Mr. Walevitch sings wholeheartedly, sacrificing nothing for mere artistic effect.

Concert Artist to Sing Folk Ballads At Assembly

Songs of Russia will come to America's Moscow when Savelli Walevitch, noted concert singer, appears under the auspices of the associated students at the university auditorium, Tuesday night, April 21.

Arrangements made for Walevitch's program here will enable the students to hear the artist at no charge and a nominal fee will be asked from townspeople, announced Graduate Manager George Horton.

The Russian soloist has given approximately 250 recitals within the last three years, making 20 major tours in the United States and Europe during that period. Tuesday night will mark his first appearance in Idaho.

Press Commends Singer Paying tribute to his recent Kansas City appearance, a critic of the Kansas City Star stated that "Walevitch sang in the Grand Temple three generous groups of Russian folk songs—songs created out of the sweat and blood and desire of peasantry without thought of artistic success."

"Each of the songs is a musical expression of a mood, a situation, or perhaps a wish. He sang the song of the passing bird in the wistful voice of the lonely lover, the convict's song in the hard brazen voice of harder and more brazen man. His voice is good, but that is very important."

Representative of Russia Walevitch figures among the first of the Russians who have introduced to America the old Russian folk songs and Gypsy ballads. He was born in Odessa. Through this city have passed the many races of Russia. The peasant artisan from the Volga, the miner from the Ural, the merchant from the Caspian sea, the nomad of Azof, the Khirghiz from the vast steppes of Mongolia, the fiery Georgian of the Caucasus, and the famous convict ships, are the source of the deep knowledge and understanding that Walevitch brings to his music.

S. A. E. National Prexy To Be Here Friday For Convention

John O. Moseley, national president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, will attend a convention of the northwestern chapters of S. A. E. Friday and Saturday, which is to be held at the Idaho chapter house. Mr. Moseley will conduct the initiation of two outstanding pledges of each of the chapters represented in addition to the pledges of the local chapter.

Over 40 representatives are expected to come to Moscow from the University of Washington, Washington State college, University of Oregon, Oregon State college, University of Montana, and Montana State college. A banquet will be held at the Blue Bucket Inn Friday evening and a formal dance will be held at the Pullman chapter house Saturday.

Student Engineers Inspect Plants

Washington Water Power And Coulee Dam Visited On Annual Trip

"I was with them during the daytime—I didn't try to keep up with them at night," jokingly remarked Prof. J. Hugo Johnson, one of the professors who went along with the senior engineers on their annual inspection trip which ended last Wednesday. Dean Crawford was in charge, and Professor Johnson and Prof. Henry F. Gauss assisted him in arranging the trip and in conducting the seniors thru the various plants they visited.

The engineers met at the Washington Water Power offices Monday morning and were divided into groups. The electricals, under Professor Johnson, paid particular attention to the electrical devices and machines in the plants that were visited, the civils examined the buildings and construction in general, and the mechanicals investigated the mechanical parts of machinery.

Peace Strikers Ask College Prexies For Support

American Student Union Head Wants No Misunderstanding About April 22nd Walkout

Citing the disorder and violence which have marked previous student anti-war strikes because of "misunderstanding" between students and college officials, the American Student Union recently sent an appeal to 500 college presidents asking them to support the 1936 strike.

In a letter sent to college and university heads in every part of the country, Joseph P. Lash, executive secretary of the union, emphasized that the strike is not intended to "bedevil" college presidents but to convey most forcefully student desire for peace. The walkout has been called for April 22 at 11 a. m.

Avoid Misunderstanding Pointing to "the serious misunderstandings that have arisen in the past between the student body and the university administration over the purpose and objectives of the student strike against war, he wrote: "We are particularly anxious to avoid misunderstandings because the present ominous situation in Europe and the Far East demands that we take counsel together on how to delay the world war that seems to be so imminent."

"The peace strike... was supported last year by approximately 175,000 students. We can reasonably anticipate that over 300,000 will come out of their classrooms next month. Is this dramatic and forceful gesture one that you should cooperate with and look upon sympathetically?"

Conceding that "one may disagree with the strategy involved in the strike," Mr. Lash urged

Here n' There

Boy am I happy? Here I was reading the Spokane Daily Chronicle last Friday night and ran across the most interesting article. It was by some mannequin back in New York who said that the only thing wrong with the Easter parade was that 80 per cent of the women walk like ducks. So, my dear Spurs, you are not alone in your idiosyncrasies.

Say now, isn't that a fine idea of Blue Key's? Here they are going to soak us all four bits to join the Vandal Boosters club. And what do they intend to do with the money, but use it for the athletic fund? That's a fine case of amateur athletics. Here we are trying so hard to keep everything nice and clean and then along come these campus leaders and try to get us to subsidize athletes. Well, maybe not out and out subsidizing, but pretty close.

Why do they print the Blue Bucket? There is never anything worth while in it. All it is is a waste of paper and money. The only reason that the advertisers advertise in it is because they are afraid of a student boycott. In fact, I think that is the only reason that the majority of merchants advertise in any of the student publications. There really isn't any need to advertise to the students in a town this size, anyway.

So long, I must return to my sister. Wonderful thing this spring weather. Wish they would move the golf course in closer to town.

KENWORTHY
Tues., Wed., Thurs.—"The Prisoner of Shark Island," starring Warner Baxter.

NU-ART
Starting Wednesday—"Sutter's Gold," starring Edward Arnold.

It's too bad for the students who don't go places during the week that these two pictures should be scheduled for that time. Such is life. However, don't regret missing "Petticoat Fever" too much. Good cast, good story, but the direction was a little bit on the weak side. Let's hope that F. Blanchard will do better by our campus Loy and Montgomery.

And now we have a page from American history, the poignant story of Samuel Mudd, a country doctor, who innocently sets the leg of John Wilkes Booth, Lincoln's assassin, and is, therefore, due to the national hysteria of the moment, railroaded to prison for life. Sentenced to America's "Devil Island." Baxter has the lead, and we can count on him for a grand performance in this unusual picture.

Edward Arnold—famous impersonator of "Diamond Jim"—again covers himself with glory in "Sutter's Gold," an epic of an era gone but not forgotten. Arnold has certainly done himself well during these last few years. He has played almost every imaginable part, and we despaired of him ever really reaching the top. But he has—in not one role—but in many. The last few shows he has made have made him. We wonder sometimes if we will ever come to think of him in the same way we do Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Beery, and some of the other old timers. He's proven himself worthy of being classed with those men.

Monday afternoon the electricals visited the railway sub-station, and then all the engineers, went to the gas plant, where they watched gas for the city mains being made by roasting coal, and by spraying steam on burning charcoal. They visited the aviation field and were told about aerial photography and were shown how to fold parachutes.

showed them the dam; and while the students were there, several men were hurt by blasting. The civils stayed longer to look at the gravel pits, and the electricals traveled to the Long Lake power plant which is famous all over the world. The dam is higher than Niagara falls and forms a lake over 22 miles long. This power plant is used to regulate the frequency of the entire north-west and develops 90,000 horse power. Wednesday morning the engineers were shown through the telephone exchange in Spokane, and that noon had luncheon with the Associated Engineers of Spokane at the Davenport hotel. Several former Idaho students were there. Before leaving, the student engineers watched a broadcast and went through the transmitting station of KHQ, and then visited the Spokesman-Review building and saw the printing and engraving processes. Some of the senior engineers on the trip did some preliminary work towards getting jobs while in Spokane, and others afterwards went to Boise for the same purpose.

STEWART'S SHOE SHOP FINE SHOE REPAIRING

but the squirrels were disgusted

TELEPHONE engineers had to find a way to stop gray squirrels gnawing holes in the lead sheath of telephone cables. Even a tiny hole may let in moisture—short circuit the wires—and put a number of telephones out of service temporarily.

Many ideas were tried, but the squirrels gnawed on. Finally the cables were painted with black asphaltum and sprinkled with sand. The gnawing stopped.

Not a major engineering problem, to be sure. But thousands of strange little problems, too, have been solved to assure you the world's most reliable telephone service.

Sophomores won the women's rifle matches, with the juniors second, seniors third, and freshmen last, according to an announcement by Charles H. Hart, Jr., who acted as coach.

Average of the winning team was 389, and of the other teams 387, 384.8, and 384, respectively. Edwardine Bechtol and Ida Mae Gillenwater had the highest individual averages, making 98.5 and 98.1.

Practice started February 3, with 130 women trying out for class teams. The squad was cut to 32 on March, and class matches began March 9.

Individual Averages
Other individual averages were: Dorothy Lenfest, 97.8; Jo Betty Wickes, 97.3; Sarah J. Baker, 97.2; Patricia Espe, 97.1; Mary Iddings, 97; Twila Kinghorn, 96.2; Helen Wallen, 96.2; Alma Almqvist, 95.8; Dorothy Walton, 95.3; Bernice Exelton, 95.2; Frances Eldridge, 95; Sarah Walker, 94.8; Elizabeth Childs, 94.7; Helen Abbott, 94.7; Ann LaRue, 94.5; Lucille Nelson, 94.4; Mary Jordan, 93.5; Rita York, 93; Genevieve Gardner, 93; Ann Ward, 91.7; Jean Thurston, 90.5; Ada Bruesch, 85.7.

Helen Schoenhals, Eleanor Sutherland, LuDeen Waldram, and Vivian Larson, fired in one or more matches, but not enough to be eligible for rifle team pins.

Flenner and Dole Go To Boulder Meeting

Ether Flenner and Dorothy Dole, next year's and present presidents of the Associated Women students, respectively, will attend a convention of A. W. S. presidents in Boulder, Colo., April 15 to 18.

A special train will be made up of delegates of Idaho, Washington, and Oregon universities.

Miss Flenner, who was elected several weeks ago, will go into office next September.

HODGINS WILL SPEAK TO A. I. E. E. DINNER

H. B. Hodgins, Spokane representative of the Westinghouse Manufacturing company and son of R. Hodgins of Hodgins drug store, will speak on his experiences with the Westinghouse company at an electrical engineers' banquet tonight at 6 p. m. at the Blue Bucket.

Hodgins was graduated from Idaho as an electrical engineer in 1923. He took the Westinghouse student course immediately after graduation and gradually worked his way up to his present position. He was representative at Coulee dam before his change to Spokane.

Brother Leo, famous savant of St. Mary's college, has taken to task modern psychologists who base their study of human beings upon the latter's resemblances to animals.

"Too many colleges and universities," he insists, "over-emphasize the resemblance of man and animals, instead of concentrating on those manifestations of mind distinctive to humanity."

He says it is disastrous to put human beings and animals on the same level.

Kappa Phi Convention Deemed Successful

Delta Kora, district convention of Kappa Phi, national Methodist organization for college women, which was held in Moscow during vacation, was a complete success, according to Mildred Carson, local president.

"I should like to thank all members of the Idaho chapter for their cooperation, and Miss Pearl French, dean of women, for her splendid address of welcome," said Miss Carson.

Mrs. Ethlyn O'Neal Whitney, '35, retiring district president, was in charge. Twelve delegates from Tacoma and Seattle chapters attended.

Model Initiation
Three second semester pledges of the Idaho chapter, Marguerite Ogle, Bertha McGrath, and Ada Bruesch, were initiated at a model ceremony Thursday evening.

The convention began with a formal opening service Thursday afternoon, at which welcome talks were given by Mrs. J. Hugo Johnson, Dr. J. Edgar Purdy, Mrs. H. W. McCleary, national representative from Tacoma, Miss Carson, and Miss French. "The Meal in the Upper Room," an Easter communion service similar to the Last Supper, followed.

Devotions, business, and program material presentation occupied the Friday sessions. Alice Grimes, Tacoma, was made Kora historian for the convention. Miss Bernice Cornelson talked to the group during the morning on her work in Peru, where she is a missionary. The Seattle chapter presented a Japanese tea during the afternoon.

Hold Formal Banquet
A formal banquet was held Friday evening. Miss Carson was toastmistress, and toasts were given by Mrs. McClary, Ida Larson, Tacoma, Mrs. Johnson, Bernice Rudolph, and Mrs. Whitney. Nina Mae Jewell and Helen Kienholz sang solos, and Wilma Mitchell, cello, and Gertrude Gehrke, piano, played during the meal. A Kappa Phi song, the words and music of which were original written by Wilma Mitchell, won first in the song contest.

The convention closed Saturday noon after lunch. Ida Larson was chosen Kora president, and Miss Doris Fickle, also of Tacoma, was elected Kora sponsor. The next Kora will be in Tacoma; in 1938, since a national convention will be held next year.

Vandal Nine to Face Whitman Here Wednesday, Thursday

BOTH GAMES START 3:30 P. M.

Coach Rich Fox's Vandal diamondmen are working diligently to develop coordination and enforce weak spots in order that they may turn tables on the Whitman Missionaries here Wednesday and Thursday in a return baseball series, following an eight-game shellacking by the Whitman boys last week in Walla Walla.

A battered and beaten—but a much wiser—Vandal baseball team returned Saturday from the Whitman massacre at Walla Walla, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Trounced eight straight games by a variety of scores, the team absorbed a lot of much needed experience and sunshine in these practice tilts.

"Katz" a Threat
Bill Katslometes, slugging center fielder, definitely branded himself a threat to future Idaho opponents by slapping a few over the fence for batting honors of the series. He also contributed a sparkling defense, as did Stephen Summers, Joe Wheeler, and Paul Anderson, all veterans of last year's club.

Whitman's most stellar performance was probably that of Larry Lemmel, a senior, who not only pitched good baseball in the first and second games Saturday, but stepped casually to the plate in the last inning, tripled, and then came in with the winning run. Both games ended in identical the same fashion.

Line-up Unsettled
Coach Fox used every man and a number of combinations in an effort to whip into shape an ag-

Daily Tennis Practice Scheduled on Courts For Team Tryouts

Daily practice schedules began yesterday for the racket-swingers who are to make up the varsity tennis team. The courts in front of the Memorial gymnasium will be reserved from 3:30 to 6 o'clock each afternoon for those interested in trying for the team.

Annual ladder tournament will be played this week for the purpose of determining the seeded players. Members of last year's varsity and several new men took advantage of the first good tennis weather to start warming up their rackets in earnest, and all new men who hope to find a position on the team should be out on the courts this week, says Coach Al Paddock.

gregation that will click in the return games with Whitman here, Wednesday and Thursday. No starting lineup has been named definitely, but it will probably include Bill Kramer, sophomore, in the third corner position. Wally Geraghty, who did not play at Walla Walla, will be back at short to complete the infield combination. Two pitchers, Clarence Hallberg and Paul Anderson, will take care of the outfield along with Katslometes. Several pitchers will be used in each game to work with Bob Baldwin, freshman star of last year, who was pushing the veteran Wheeler at the catcher's post in the Walla Walla series.

PERCY CLAPP TALKS AT SPOKANE MEET

Percy Clapp of the Idaho coaching staff was one of the speakers for the physical education division of the Inland Empire Teachers' meeting in Spokane last week.

In line with the new trends of physical education in the Northwest, Clapp spoke on "Minimum Standards for Physical Education" and "Extramural Features of the Intramural Program."

Idaho Track Squad Trains Outdoors

Coach Ryan Optimistic Over Size and Enthusiasm of Turnout

The entire Vandal track squad—full 60 strong—turned out for the first day of spring practice yesterday on MacLean field. Coach Mike Ryan appears optimistic over the size and enthusiasm of the initial outdoor turnout which marked continuance of training following a two week layoff upon completion of the indoor track program.

"It is necessary that every track candidate turn out regularly in preparation for the heavy schedule before us," stated Coach Ryan. "Our spring program will include three conference meets with W. S. C., O. S. C., and Montana, one non-conference meet with Whitman, and two intramural meets. The first of these last meets named will be the 'outdoor interclass championships' to be held next Saturday. All trackmen must take part in this, for it will decide

Two Boxers Motoring Eastward; Others Train at Home

While Idaho's boxing coach, Louie August, motors back to the National A. A. U. at Cleveland, Ohio, with the Intermountain boxing delegation—consisting of Vandals Joey August, and Rolly Shumway, and a lightweight from Salt Lake, Alvin Sweeney—the Idaho boxers at home are training under the direction of boxing managers for the W. S. C. intercollegiate smoker April 24 at Pullman.

A. A. U. Opens Wednesday
Although the Idaho team is not entirely completed, prominent contenders are Louie Rich, heavyweight, Bill Morrow, 175 pounds, Glenn Craig at 165 pounds, Aaron Blewett at 126, and Ralph Miller, 118.

Coach August was scheduled to arrive with his boxers at Cleveland yesterday. The tournament begins Wednesday and continues through Friday.

Frequent charges of campus radicalism made throughout the country are strikingly belied by the average college student's unconcern about social and economic matters, according to Dean William F. Zimmerman of Midland college, Fremont, Neb.

"The students of today are incapable of entertaining radical ideas because of their disinterest in the problems which communists and socialists do all the shouting about," said the dean.

Migosh, what kind of a place is that? One lone male is enrolled at Wellesley college.

the team to compete against Whitman early in May."

PEACE STRIKERS ASK COLLEGE PRESIDENTS FOR SUPPORT

the presidents to recognize its "praiseworthy and conscientious motivation."

"We ask," he said, "that you have at least this confidence in us—that in striking on April 22 we are acting to preserve those values that we believe another war would completely destroy."

"Our peace strike has two major purposes. It serves as an immediate and powerful pressure upon those who believe that they can cajole us into the trenches as easily as in 1917. The strike is a dress rehearsal of what the younger generation intends to do if American imperialism plunges us into another war. Secondly, because it is an interruption of normal academic routine, seriously entered upon by thousands of students, it acts as a deterrent upon those who are skyrocketing armament appropriations, extending military training, initiating, 'disaffection bills.'"

He requested that "no obstacles be placed in the way of the strike at the time denoted, that, if the local strike committee desires it, the use of the college auditorium be permitted, that classes be excused during the hour and that representatives of the administration sit on the strike committee, not in order to censor its activities but to participate on an equal basis with other members."

Request Prominent Educators

Among those presidents to whom the letter was sent, requesting comment and reply, are James Rowland Angell of Yale, Robert Sproul of the University of California, Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago, Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin, Ernest Hopkins of Dartmouth college, Frank Graham of North Carolina university, Lee Paul seig of the University of Washington, John L. Newcomb of the University of Virginia, Henry M.
