

Vandals Prepare To Open Saturday Against Whitman

Gridiron action will be the highlight this week as the Vandals are groomed for Saturday afternoon when Whitman college eleven will invade Macklean field for a tussle with Coach Bank's new machine.

"The missionaries will come to Moscow with blood in their eyes and with the hope of taking Idaho again as they did last year, but the Vandals are enthusiastically determined to revenge the defeat of last year, so it should be a hard fought struggle to start the season," said Coach Ted Bank today.

Blocking Is Poor
"Individual performances," Bank said "of some of the backfield men was worthy of praise, but the tackling and blocking is below par and will have to be improved upon if Idaho is to come through with a victory Saturday."

The fullback situation is a cause for worry for the Idaho mentor, as the two men he was depending on as reserves for the position, Harold Iverson and George Strape are ineligible, and it will be his task this week to fill that position with capable new men.

Coach Bank feels that the line is shaping up in good style, but injuries in the backfield will prevent him from using certain players. Edgar Wilson and Harold Rolse, sophomore halfbacks from last year's freshman squad, are suffering from shoulder injuries, while the veteran, Willie Maxson, is handicapped with a bad knee.

Whitman Brings Same Team
Whitman will have practically the same team that caused trouble for the Vandals last year, as only two lettermen were lost through graduation. Idaho lost 12 lettermen last June, and 10 men on whom Bank was depending failed to return to school. Eight men from the freshman squad of last year are ineligible.

Although Coach Bank has several things that would cause any mentor worry, he is pleased with the attitude of the players on the squad. He stated that the morale of the players was above the average and is confident that if all the pep and enthusiasm that his Vandals are showing comes to a fighting pitch, Saturday, Idaho will give Whitman their first setback of the season.

Ryan Issues Call For Track Men; Meets Scheduled

All freshman and varsity track men, and any new men who are interested, are requested to report to Mike Ryan, track coach, for equipment. Coach Ryan reports many new meets for this year, beginning immediately. It is urgent that men interested get in touch with Coach Ryan at once. The following meets are scheduled for this year:

- October 7 and 8, freshman meet.
- October 14 and 15, freshman vs. sophomore meet.
- October 20-22, interclass meet.
- Oct. 27, interclass championship meet.

Frosh Have Tough Schedule; Practice Starts on the 26

Candidates for the freshman football squad this fall must be prepared to hit the books as hard as the opposing line, according to Coach Al Paddock.

He explains that frosh football is offered as an extra-curricular activity and not as a college career and urges all freshmen interested in playing to turn out. Fundamentals with a limited number of plays will be stressed. Special instruction in passing, kicking, blocking, and tackling will be given by Coach Paddock with the assistance of Bob McCue, line coach, and Theron Ward, backfield coach.

Equipment Issued Soon
A new Northern division conference ruling changes freshmen turnout to a week later than previously announced and prospective frosh gridmen do not report until Saturday, September 26. Candidates for the squad will be issued equipment from the equipment room in the men's gymnasium any time during the day. Actual practice will begin Monday, September 28, at 4 p. m.

Prospects Good
Prospects show this fall's squad to be the best in several years and a large turnout is expected by the coaching staff. Five games have been planned, with three definitely scheduled. The first game, scheduled for October 10, with Cheney-normal, will probably be postponed in order to give the yearlings more time to get into shape. Saturday, October 31, the freshmen team will meet the Lewiston Normal eleven here. A game with the Gonzaga frosh is expected some time in this schedule, but neither time nor place has been decided on as yet.

Travel to Boise
The squad will journey to Boise to meet the Boise Junior college team; October 23, and a final game with the Washington State college freshmen will be held in Pullman, during the second or third week of November.

New Rules Added
Heading the list of sports for this year's intramural program are touch football and tennis, with a meeting of managers called for September 22, and a rules discussion meeting for touch football held September 29.

Two new rules have been added which will eliminate heated discussions and black eyes evident in the past. Scorers and timers will be trained at meetings in advance of the activity, and there will be a scorer appointed from each group in every sport except basketball. A complete discussion on intramural sports and the winners of last season's activities is given in this fall's frosh handbook.

BUFFINGTON BRINGS SON TO IDAHO

C. R. Buffington, Idaho '15, has returned from Iowa to the scene of his former school days to enter his son, Charles, in school here.

While at school here, Mr. Buffington and his brother were known as "Big Buff" and "Little Buff." They were active in school athletics, both members of the Idaho football team.

DR. BARTON WINS
Dr. J. W. Barton, head of the university psychology department, defeated G. T. McAlexander eight and six to win the championship tournament of the Moscow golf club tournament. Dr. Barton was the medalist winner as well as match winner in the contest. He turned in a 78 on the qualifying round.

Crozier C. Culp, '22, is an attorney with offices in the Central Bank building, Oakland, Calif.

Six Men Needed As Managers

Morris Byrns, football manager for the 1936 season, announces that there are opportunities for freshmen and sophomores to make good on the football managing team. There are vacancies for six freshmen.

"Here is an opportunity for the freshmen and sophomores to take part in an activity that is interesting and worth while," stated Byrns. "Those who do good work at it may always work into the job of senior manager."

Those who have been selected thus far for the staff are: freshmen, Bill Halbert and Miles Flannigan; sophomores, Kenneth Anderson, Paul Morcken, and Dale Lawrence; juniors, Fred Mueller and John Gaskill.

OVER 650 STUDENTS ACTIVE IN MUSIC

Six hundred and fifty-eight Idaho students were engaged in some sort of musical activity last semester, 140 of them studying applied music—taking music lessons. The latter figure represents a 28 per cent increase over the 109 for the first semester.

Students from the junior college were most numerous in the music courses.

Old Students Look Forward to Idaho's Biggest Rush Week

Rushing tactics against new women students were officially put into action yesterday morning when Delta Delta Delta was hostess at an early breakfast. A Pi Beta Phi luncheon, an Alpha Chi Omega supper, and an Alpha Phi fireside completed that day's party schedule. Today the parties of four Greek-letter sororities will bring to a close, the first two-day spree, which includes a breakfast by Kappa Alpha Theta, luncheon by Kappa Kappa Gamma, a Delta Gamma supper, and a Gamma Phi Beta fireside.

On Wednesday and Thursday another eight parties will be given, one by each house, only four of which can be selected by the prospective pledge. Rushing climax will come Friday, on which day 16 parties will be staged, two by each sorority. The rushee can attend only two of these parties. Bids to pledge go out the following morning and must be answered by Saturday noon.

Out of the approximate 200 women who attended the Pan-Hellenic tea on Sunday, nearly 100 will probably decide to become sorority members, if the percentage is the same as it has been in past years.

Fate Wields Scepter At Frosh Mixer

Old Dame Fortune played chess with Idaho's frosh last Saturday night at the Memorial gym. Several hundred freshmen were shown carefully over to the women's dormitories, only to be moved back to the gym, each in the company of a date he had probably never seen before, to an hilarious evening of dancing.

This big freshman mixer was the first of its kind to be held on the Idaho campus for several years. For that one evening the upperclassmen were completely ostracized. It was a gigantic and successful attempt at making the new students acquainted with each other early in the year—even though there was the danger of drawing a lemon!

Success in managing the crowd, unusually large because of Doctor Evelyn Miller's ghastly threat of combing the dormitories to make sure that freshmen women were forgetting homesickness and loneliness at the corking party she had planned.

Music was furnished by Dick Paris and his ten-piece orchestra.

Miss Wirt Studies in Europe To Learn P. E. Methods

Miss Janet Wirt, head of the women's physical education department, spent her summer vacation in making a three-months study tour of physical education work in Europe. The trip was under the educational direction of Dr. Elmer E. Mitchell of the University of Michigan and the business management of the People's college of New York City and Oetz in Tyrol.

The personnel of the group, composed of 65 faculty members from such widely divergent places as Smith and Oberlin colleges, Universities of Texas, Virginia, Oregon, and Michigan, was subdivided into special interest groups which determined the emphasis upon phases of study.

Visits were made to public schools and colleges of physical education, playgrounds, and recreation centers, day nurseries, orthopedic hospitals, and studies of the dance. In many cases they had demonstrations arranged for their benefit.

Women's NYA Quota Is Uncertain; List Announced Later

Until further word is received from Boise, the women's NYA committee will not know to what extent its quota is filled. At present they have been able to take care of all needy girls and, unless some change has been made in the program at Boise, they will continue to help all girls needing assistance.

At present the men's list is complete, and there is a reserve list of some 40 men. Further applications are being received and will be approved at a meeting of the committee during the present week.

First Bucket Dances Start Social Season

To the swing-time of Paul Ennis's red hot orchestra, Idaho's social whirl began last Friday night. New tunes, new faces, new spirit contributed to make this opening dance one of the best that Idaho has ever had. Its success was a favorable omen as to what the winter holds in store for the rhythm chaser.

Despite the complete lack of freshmen women, there was a great deal of concentration on the renewal of last year's romances and the flowering of new ones among the old students. A gossip monger would have clucked over some of the changes that cupid has already wrought.

The toggerly has abandoned all traces of summer holidays and is strictly, and very modishly, autumn-inclined. It is a good indication of a better-dressed, happier "Idaho" out for an amazing gay social season.

Clothing Teacher Is Montana Grad

Miss Ruth M. Smith has been appointed the new clothing and textile instructor in the home economics department. A graduate from the University of Montana with a B.A. degree, she also has an M.A. from Columbia university, and has taken graduate work at the University of Washington.

Before coming here she was acting principal in the Central school in Missoula; head of the clothing department in the Missoula city schools; and instructor of clothing, textiles, and art in the Michigan State college at East Lansing, Mich.

Attend Olympics
Enroute to Berlin, where the Olympic games were the objective of the travelers, a week's stop was made at the People's college in the Tyrolean Alps where lectures were given by a distinguished roster of European educators. In Vienna a study was made of the excellent recreational, housing, and hygienic programs started under the socialist government after the war.

In Prague they witnessed a special staged mass demonstration given for insight into the highly developed nationalistic physical education program of Czechoslovakia. The zeal with which these people are attacking the problems of undernourished and retarded youth is almost incredible, according to Miss Wirt.

Of all the countries visited, Russia provided the most challenging experiments in educational, industrial, and social procedures, said Miss Wirt. The relatively small group of eleven who made this side trip were under the personal direction of Dr. Mathiason, president of People's college in Oetz.

In vivid contrast with the tense striving of the Russians, Finland proved a delightfully happy country. There is much being done with outdoor camping activities in physical education programs, she said. Sweden still clings to much of the formal gymnastics which were taught in our schools 10 and 20 years ago.

Big Sisters Entertain New Women at Hays

New women students at the university and their big sisters gathered Thursday evening in the living room of Hays hall for the first party of the year.

The program, led by Miss Carmen Webb, big sister chairman, included group singing, led by Prof. Archie N. Jones; welcome to new students, Carmen Webb; tap dance, Jeanette Clifford; piano solo, Mary Harvey; and a vocal solo, Phyllis Rand.

Miss Webb introduced the following staff member of the women's residence halls and co-operatives: Miss Evelyn Miller, dean of women; Miss Helene Haller, social director of Hays and Forney halls; Miss Marian Featherstone, hostess in Forney hall; Miss Helen Powers, hostess at the College Girls' club; Miss Doris Dray, hostess at Lewis hall; Mrs. Marie Miller, dietitian at Hays and Forney halls; and Miss Edna Peterson, head nurse at the infirmary.

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

Miss Ruth Kehr, Boise, was a week-end guest of Alpha Chi Omega.

Delta Gamma had as its week-end guest Mrs. Jessie Little Naylor, Emmett.

Dance Referendum

Appearing in next Friday's Argonaut will be a column devoted to the reactions of students concerning the administration of student dances at the Blue Bucket. A large enough number of students to afford an accurate cross-section of student body opinion on how these dances should be held will be interviewed and their opinions set down. There is a why for all this. In an early issue of the Argonaut will appear a ballot in which you, as members of the ASUI, may vote for the plan of dance administration which you think best. These plans, of which there will be several from which to choose, will be drawn up from the answers received in Friday's questionnaire and from letters to the "Readers' Continent" column, to which you are invited to contribute.

Behind this referendum is the executive board of the ASUI. Feeling that you, as students, have the prior right to decide how 2800 fellow students can best utilize a dance floor accommodating 200 couples, the executive board is taking this means of allowing you to do so. Watch for the inquiring reporter.

"I'm Not Pledging"

Heartbreaking for a number of students are last week and this, during which fraternities and sororities choose their new members. Year after year there is a group, increasing in size as the university grows, which would like to pledge, but cannot. Some are unable or unwilling to assume the added financial responsibility. Some do not like group living. A few simply are not asked.

Whatever the reason may be, the student who is not "rushed" is too often unhappy. He is apt to exaggerate the importance of Greeks without thinking why.

Reduced to its essentials, a fraternity is like any other group residence, with the exception that members have more choice of their associates. All the other traditions of companionship, social life, culture, mutual effort for group improvement, and lasting friendships have grown up around them and are found in the halls in the same measure.

Why should they be confined to Greek letter organizations? Any group of students can acquire them. It is the student, not the group, who is essential. Many student with determination, self-confidence, and clear insight has been more successful outside a fraternity than he would have been in one. The independence of non-fraternity life is only one of its compensations.

If you are asked to join the group of your choice, go ahead. But if not, don't think that your life is ruined. A fraternity may be a step towards happiness and success, but it is only a step, and one which has been omitted by many. —R. H.

The Movie-Go-Round

Kenworthy with Fredric March and Olivia DeHavilland—Today, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Anthony Adverse, that many-couraged man without a country, comes to the Kenworthy today, and at prices lower than those levied in Spokane and Portland. In its panoramic story sweep through five countries and three continents, the magnitude of its 131 sets, the picturesqueness of its backgrounds, the gigantic scale on which it was produced and the vast number of talented players in its cast, "Anthony Adverse" surpasses any picture filmed by Warner.

Author Hervey Allen wrote for years to produce the thousand odd pages, from which the photoplay had to be shaped. Director Mervyn LeRoy worked for months with his scenario writers in an effort to cut down the vast amount of detail and to concentrate on the sharper, more vivid, facets of the many-sided book. That the finished picture, in spite of its two hours and 19 minutes duration, is well-rounded is indeed an accomplishment. It covers young Anthony's parents, his childhood, early manhood, and subsequent life adequately, including the machinations of the vicious Don Luis, the tragedy of his mother's life, Anthony's own namelessness—all the features which attracted an estimated three million readers of the book.

Nu-Art with Gary Cooper and Madeleine Carroll—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

Gary Cooper, already established as film-dom's first string portrayer of romantic adventure roles in the French Foreign Legion, the Bengal Lancers, and the Italian and American Armies, takes upon himself the role of a roving soldier of fortune in "The General Died at Dawn." Hailed as a "super-special," "The General Died at Dawn" is hardly that, according to big city reviewers, but is still good entertainment, especially for the Cooper enthusiasts. It runs all week at the Nu-Art.

As I See It

--by Jon--

Ruthless revolution continues in Spain. Government forces last Sunday fired the historic fortress of Alcazar in a futile attempt to dislodge the rebels who have withstood attack for the past few weeks. This historic old fortress dates back to the early part of the twelfth century when it was rebuilt after the fall of the Moors. Its occupation by the Moors up to this time and its eventful history after its renovation by the Spaniards have made this old fortress one of the most interesting spots in scenic Spain. This incident is only one of several desecrations on the old Spanish tradition which has occurred in this horrible modern fratricide.

On the other revolutionary fronts in Spain, both sides claim minor victories in scattered fighting.

The Far East Foment

Quite forgotten in the past few weeks is the situation in the Far East. The revolution in Spain has crowded the brief reports from China and Japan completely into the background. Japan is protesting the death of one of its nationals which occurred during one of the many anti-Japanese demonstrations in China. Japan is sending several armed landing parties to certain parts of China to protect its citizens. On the Manchurian front, Japan is rapidly securing important gains by armed penetration. Many observers are predicting a war between Japan and China at an early date.

Italians Seek Financial Favors

Another twist to the tangled international picture is evinced in a news report from Rome, Italy. The Italian government is particularly anxious to secure a large loan from the financial interests in the United States. Under the Johnson act, a nation which defaults her war debt payments to the United States is not eligible to secure new loans in the United States. To avoid the implications of this act, the Italian government is attempting to secure an adjustment of her war debt payments, scheduled on a basis other than that which the United States currently sets forth and which Mr. Duce has so consistently opposed. To further avoid this act the plan is to sell the bond issue to Italo-American individuals. The new ambassador to the United States, Fulvio Sulvich, will discuss this plan with American financiers after his arrival this fall.

Old Army Meets

The last remnants of the Grand Old Army is holding its national convention in Washington, D. C. Observers in the nation's capital say that this will probably be the last national convention of the "boys in blue and grey."

In Cleveland, Ohio, the convention city of the United States, the American Legion is holding its national convention. In face of a war torn world the American Legion is considering a resolution to restore world peace.

Clippers To Start

The department of commerce yesterday gave its approval to the Pan-American airways system to schedule regular passenger service to the Orient. The first of the regular scheduled flights will begin about October 21 from San Francisco, via Honolulu and Guam. Eastbound service will start from Manila on October 29. The airways officials said that passenger fares would be announced in the next ten days. The giant "China Clippers" will carry both freight and passengers.

Ocean-hopper-cropper Harry Richman and his pilot Dick Merrill landed in New York yesterday just one week short of the date on which they planned to arrive in that city.

Predicts Montana Win

As a special feature for today's column, we should like to do a bit of forecasting in the world of sport. During the past few seasons we have guessed accurately the result of sporting events with the amazing score of about four per cent, or about one good guess to about 25 bad ones. We offer this humble statement of our qualifications in order that your might not be misled or baffled. We present the following forecast:

At Moscow: Idaho will win from Whitman by a wide margin. A close first half will be the feature.

At Seattle: Minnesota will win from Washington by two touchdowns.

At Pullman: Montana will win from Washington State by one touchdown.

At San Francisco: St. Marys will win from Gonzaga by one touchdown.

Our last guess is that the New York Yankees will win the World series from the New York Giants. This is our first and last attempt to out-guess the stove league in the sporting world.

Here n' There

Hello again,

Well, now that you are all back here and busy to classes I thought that I would start in with my usual line of bull.

All the frat seems to be just more than overjoyed at the great abundance of rushing material this year. It would seem that all of them did right proud by themselves in this little matter of future brothers in the bond.

It is sure nice to see all the sorority girls running around with that pleasant smile on their faces. Wait another week and watch the change. Oh well, we can't expect them to be smiling all the time.

What do you think about the student Union idea? I hope that it works out all right. All that I know at present is that it saved a lot of money during rush week for the fellows.

Ho hum, these eight o'clocks are getting me down already. I wonder if we are going to have a repetition of the Whitman massacre again? We better not.—"Honest John"

Vacancies Announced on Business Staff of Yearbook

Vacancies for the business staff of the 1937 Gem are now open to aspiring yearbook students, says Dick Parls, business manager.

A meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Ad. 316. There will be 20 vacancies divided among four departments: circulation, advertising, organization, and secretarial.

Public Events Program Will be Scheduled by Committee

No public events assemblies are planned for the near future according to Dean T. S. Kerr, chairman of the public events committee.

Former Student Goes To U. of Arizona For Doctorate

Charles A. Rasor, former Idaho student, will complete his work for a doctorate degree in geology under a fellowship at the University of Arizona.

The fellowship covers the fields of geology and mineralogy, in which Rasor has had practical experience since he last left school here. Rasor received his bachelor's degree in geology in 1932 and his master's degree in 1934.

A list of good programs is being planned, and further announcements will be made when the plans are completed.
