

Sororities Pledge Over 100 New Women; "Open" Rushing

Initiating a practice entirely foreign to any former rushing procedure for women on the Idaho campus, the Idaho Pan-Hellenic association endorsed a system of "open" rushing between the hours of 12:30 and 6 p. m. last Saturday afternoon for women who did not receive formal bids at nine o'clock this morning but were still desired by some sorority. This brought the total number of women pledges well over the 100 mark.

According to this plan, any member of any of the eight Greek letter sororities was permitted to call on any new woman in the dormitories after 12:30 p. m. and "rush" her. She was not sent a formal bid to pledge but was simply requested to come to the house she was asked to pledge at 6 o'clock that evening.

Most of the houses entertained their pledges at formal dinner Saturday night, after which they received their first taste of Idaho's social life at the Blue Bucket dance.

Following is a list of the women who have pledged themselves to one of the eight sororities:

Alpha Chi Omega: Juynne Sheehan, Alice Mae Robinson, Carol Hart, and Bette Burk, Spokane; Velma Davies, Georgetowne Bruner, Alfreda Bardsley, Boise; Lois Margaret Gridley, Sylvia Holte, Johnnie Bruce, Sandpoint; Coeur d'Alene; Dorothy Bennett, Mountain Home; Wanda Ricks, Rexburg; Audrey Oberg, Kellogg; Clctba Hudson, Gooding; Helen Matthews, Salmon; Mary Dillon Smith, Twin Falls.

JUDGE BUDGE SEES WHITMAN GAME

Alfred H. Budge, dean of the Idaho supreme court, attended the Idaho-Whitman game Saturday. He visited with friends and acquaintances here and returned to Boise early Sunday morning.

Judge Budge is now educating his eighth child, Belva Budge, who enrolled as a freshman at the University this year. He was accompanied by his son, Hamer Budge, '36, now an attorney at Boise.

Harry "Jake" Daubert, '31, travels the Armour & Co. territory out of Walla Walla, Wash. Jack Fick, '34, is employed by the company at Spokane.

John Forrest Mellinger, '33, is city editor of the Moscow News-Review, a daily.

Lavender Ribbons To Mark Pledges

Lavender and gold pledge ribbons of Daleth Teth Gimel will be offered at a fireside in the Women's gym, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to all women who live off-campus, according to Dorothy Rosevear, president.

Plans were made Monday evening by representatives of D. T. G. for the fireside, and for editing a monthly bulletin, to be called the Daleth Teth Gimel Diamond.

A.W.S. To Hear New Dean

Sponsored by the A.W.S., an assembly Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock will give women students, faculty women, faculty wives, housemothers, and guests an opportunity to become better acquainted with Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women. In the course of her talk on the New York theatre season Dr. Miller will discuss and review six or eight of the more recent plays which she has seen.

At the conclusion of the assembly all women interested further in this subject are invited to talk informally with the speaker. The first regular A.W.S. meeting has been scheduled for next week. Election of a secretary will be held then to fill the position left open by the absence of Marian Jensen, who did not return to school.

Wanted: Vice Queen. Aspirants Apply To Paulibus

The members of the Argonaut copy desk, those crabbid scribblers and neologians, who bi-weekly bend rheumatic backs over reams of stuffy copy, have envolved several pastimes to dispense the ennuil attendant upon their occupation.

Among these is the annual election of the copy desk queen. Ruth Eggert, last year's office holder, did not return to school, and by this fortuitous concurrence of events, a vacancy was declared last week by "Ma", copy desk chief. At the election which followed close upon the heels of this announcement, Miriam McFall was unanimously and clamorously elected to fill the position during good behavior, which, it is rumored, will not be long.

"At a time when every organization from the Amalgamated Garbage Collectors of America to Blue Key are electing queens, princesses, etc., it is both fitting and significant that the copy desk of the Argonaut choose and proclaim its sovereign," said "Ma", the venerable gray-head of the grind desk.

Also under consideration by the copy readers was the election of a vice queen, but it was thought that perhaps a co-ed of the proper qualifications might not be found on the Idaho campus. Aspirants please apply to old man Paulibus, 600 University avenue.

Paul Taylor, '33, one of the best ends Idaho has had in a long time, has been coaching at Manhattan, Mont.

Reception Held For Students

Students stepped out Friday night to attend their choice of a number of get-acquainted church receptions which were offered for their entertainment.

The Latter Day Saints' reports the largest attending crowd. Howard Chapman furnished the music for dancing and refreshments were served. The women report a splendid time because of the abundance of fellows present. A few games were played. The party was in charge of Blaine Biljenquist.

125 Are Present
Approximately 125 students attended the welcome party at the Presbyterian recreation rooms. Musical numbers, stunts, and a mock trial constituted the program of the evening. Bob Rethford presented a saw solo; Doris Franson, a whistling solo; and Gayle Partner and Dorthea Downing a violin duet. The Rev. Clifford M. Drury gave a speech of welcome. Refreshments were served.

The Methodist pastor was host to 150 students. Wafers and punch were served after a program and games. The Rev. H. S. Pemberton gave a short talk. Officers of Wesley Foundation were introduced.

Lutherans Have Joint Party
The two Lutheran churches entertained at a joint party held in the parlors of the Our Saviours Lutheran church. Around 65 students attended.

The Methodist church also reports an attendance of 65. After a program had been given, guests boarded a "ship" and games were played. Refreshments were served.

The Episcopal church reports that its reception will be held next Friday at 8 o'clock in the Guild hall.

Kappa Phi Tea Given Sunday Afternoon

Kappa Phi, national organization of Methodist women, held its annual tea Sunday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage. About 50 members and guests attended.

In the receiving line were Miss Ethel Gehrke, president; Mrs. J. Hugo Johnson, sponsor; Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Pemberton; Miss Mathe Gehrke, alumnae representative.

Mrs. A. C. Lemon and Mrs. Fred Hagedorn poured. During the afternoon allene Trunnel gave several piano selections. Golden Robertson whistled, accompanied by Gertrude Gehrke.

Ethel Gehrke, president, explained the purpose of Kappa Phi and invited all women who express a preference for the Methodist church to a garden party Thursday at 6 o'clock in Lauder's garden south of Hays hall. Guests will meet at Hays hall at 4:45 o'clock.

TEKES' PLEDGE LIST SWELLED BY DOZEN

Tau Kappa Epsilon, men's Greek letter special fraternity, announces the pledging of twelve new men since the official rush list was announced last Tuesday.

Mortar Board To Sell Mums

To approve a service program for the year, Mortar Board members met Sunday morning at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Plans were completed for the traditional chrysanthemum sale sponsored at homescoming each year by the national senior honor. Dorothy Brown is in charge. Mortar Board members will visit the group houses during the lunch hour early in the week and take orders for the white and yellow flowers which will be distributed October 10.

Included in the year's service program are the following major events: Breakfast at Homecoming for alumnae; dime drive at Christmas for orphans' home; Splinter Skip, February 22; and a fashion show in the spring.

Soccer Practice In Full Swing

Miss Doris Dray, sponsor of the Women's Athletic association, announced today that activities of the group began Monday. For the benefit of freshman who may be a bit mystified as to the "how's," "where's" and "whens," Miss Dray has announced that any woman student is eligible for sports, providing grades are satisfactory. Practice will be held every day except Friday, at the Women's gym from 4:15 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

The Women's "T" club this year consists of the following: Ruth Evans, Marian Swanson, Edith Slatter, Dorothy Rosevear, Vivian

Larsen, Gertrude Olesen, and Dorothy Hohnhorst. Miss Dray urges that all freshmen women interested in working for an "T" sweater, turn out immediately, as approximately 2½ years are required to make the necessary 1,250 points, and with competition growing more and more keen, a flying start should be made.

For making the first team of any major sport, such as volleyball, basketball, speedball or rifle, 100 points are given. Points may also be received by participating in tennis, horse shoes and hiking. Hiking, incidentally, will be organized as, quickly as possible to take advantage of the weather.

Idaho Vandals Take Whitman Missionaries 25-6 in First Game of 1936 Season

Whitman Helpless Until Near End of Game; Score on Pass

Almost the same Whitman team that bowled over Coach Ted Bank's first football team at Idaho on MacLean field a year ago was practically helpless here Saturday before the Vandal mentor's second edition of gridiron warriors, going down to a 25-6 defeat.

The Vandals, less the services of seven regulars, had things much more their own way than the score indicates. Scoring one in each quarter, the Idaho gridsters kept the Missionaries with their backs to their goal until late in the last quarter, when a recovered Idaho fumble and repeated passes brought a Missionary score from their own 20-yard line.

Scrimmage Defense Good

The Vandal machine's defense against scrimmage plays was invincible throughout the game. Keeping possession of the ball three-fourths of the time, they allowed the Missionaries only five yards in their 13 scrimmage plays. Up until the last quarter the Walla Wallas had gained only 29 yards and made one first down that on a 15-yard pass.

Through their desperate attempts to score, the last quarter, the Missionaries ran up a total of 99 yards and three first downs. The Vandals netted a total of 499 yards, 110 from passes, and 24 first downs.

Vandals Block Well

The Idaho below-par blocking which had been pointed out in pre-game dope was little in evidence throughout the afternoon. Time after time Vandal runners broke through the line behind good blocking for gains up to 20 yards or more. At least one Idaho man, Ross Sunberg, veteran fullback, showed tremendous improvement. George Willcott and even losing his over pre-game form.

Giving up starting position to preference over Brother Keith, Ross entered the game the second half to display his best performance since coming to Idaho.

Carrying the ball on almost every play the length of the field, he plowed through the Whitman line every play like a government tank. At no time during that drive to the goal and Idaho's third touchdown did he fall to gain at least three yards.

Dellinger Spectacular

Gerald Dellinger, Southern branch transfer, showed the 5,000 fans who saw the game, the most spectacular ball-packing seen since the days of "Wee-Willie" Smith, now a professional star. Though making no runs longer than a 22-yard gallop from behind his goal line through all except the Whitman safety man, he gained an average of 6.7 yards for the 12 times he carried the ball.

No matter whether carrying the ball through the line, off tackle, or around end, he sped around and through would-be tacklers for consistent gains.

Powers A "Discovery"

Among the "discoveries" of the game was Bill Powers, fleet track man of last season, whose deceptive running and speed in the open caused the Missionaries plenty of trouble. Carrying the ball only three times, Powers chalked up the last touchdown for the Vandals on a 22-yard gallop through the center of the line.

Rex Willard, starting halfback, carried the burden of Idaho's attack, gaining 81 yards in scrimmage plays and making the longest run of the day, 56 yards, on a lateral pass from Keith Sunberg.

George Willcott, starting fullback who carried the ball over for the first touchdown in the first quarter, gave a demonstration of what drive can do when the opening in the line to be navigated is small. Where Sunberg carried the line back with him, Willcott slithered his way through, shedding tacklers by the way.

Pass Defense Weak

The repeated passes of the visitors during those closing minutes in which they scored showed the pass defense of the scrambled Idaho basketfield combination then on duty to be anything but the best. Three passes by the same combination, Whitacre to Cummins, clicked without interference, though one was ruled incomplete when Cummins stepped out of bounds an instant before receiving a long heave. The two completed passes carried the ball 55 yards, from the Missionary 45-yard line where Whitman had recovered its own punt after an Idaho fumble.

REPORT BITNER WED

William Bitner, '28, was last reported selling his services as a metallurgical engineer to the Tainton Research corporation, Baltimore, Md. An apparently authentic but second-hand report early this summer has him married to Helen Wood, '26.

Lawrence B. "Larry" Quinn, '25, one of only six Idaho graduates whose names begin with "Q," is an assistant in the attorney general's office at Boise. He served several years as Boise county prosecutor at Idaho City.

Paddock Issues Football Call Monday for Freshmen Candidates

An urgent call was sounded yesterday by Al Paddock, freshman coach, for all first-year men interested in football to turn out this week. Paddock is especially interested in those men who have had high school experience, but anyone who wants to turn out and learn the game from the bottom up will have the same chance of landing a position as those men who have had experience.

Every position on the yearling team is open and every candidate that turns out will have an equal rating. There will be a shortage of linemen this year, according to Paddock, and it is hoped that a large turnout will be on the field before the end of the week battling for positions in the forward wall.

Fundamentals with a limited number of plays will be stressed, with special attention given to blocking, kicking, tackling, and passing.

Track Men Set For Whitman November 11

All varsity cross-country men are now in training, according to Coach Mike Ryan, who is looking forward to the winning of the Whitman cross-country meet, November 11, at Walla Walla.

No arrangements have been made with Washington State to have the traditional cross-country run Homecoming day, probably because of the earliness of the big day this year. Arrangements are being made, however, to have a varsity and frosh meet with the cow college at a later date.

Practice Meet

Next week, on October 8, the first-year men hold the second day of their practice meets with the 120-yard hurdles, 300-yard run, 1000-yard run, discus throw, and running high jump on the outdoor program. The same afternoon the upperclassmen compete in the running high jump.

Coach Ryan urges new men to come out and learn some of the events, especially the javelin throw and long distance running.

Five Games Scheduled

Five games have been scheduled for the first year squad. The team will journey to Cheney normal for their first game October 10. Cheney has been practicing since September 1 and will have had two games before the young Vandals meet them. This early scheduled game will give Coach Paddock and his assistants, Bob McCue and Theron Ward, only two weeks in which to whip together a satisfactory combination.

Practice sessions will not last over an hour and a half each afternoon, so those turning out for the squad will have ample time to get their studying done. Those carrying extra heavy schedules will be required to report only three times each week.

Candidates for the squad will be issued equipment from the equipment room in the gymnasium any time during the day this week.

SPORTS NOTICE

All men interested in varsity and freshmen wrestling are asked to turn out at the wrestling room, at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Idaho has started a tradition in those two events by sending two of her men to the Olympic finals, and hopes to have some men reach the final goal in the next Olympic games.

Good Arm Needed

"All that is necessary for a good javelin thrower is a good arm," explained Ryan. "Anyone who can throw a baseball can throw a javelin. As for the long distance runners, all it takes is endurance."

Coach Ryan addressed a meeting of the freshman class last night, explaining his system of training this year. At the meeting the yearlings elected a track captain and manager.

BOTANY FELLOW KNEW STUFF

Chair L. Worley Chooses Wisconsin Out of Five Good Fellowship Offers; Had Chilly Research Problem.

Five fellowships from as many different universities were offered Chair L. Worley who received his master's degree in botany in June. As all of these institutions have botany departments of recognized merit, it was only after due deliberation that he chose the fellowship tendered by the University of Wisconsin. He will begin work on his doctorate there in September.

As a teaching fellow in botany he spent a good share of his time during the past year endeavoring to learn just why the needles of yellow pine and Douglas fir usually remain alive throughout the winter. From September to April he took leaf samples at 10-day intervals from these trees and analyzed them.

The investigation revealed many points of interest to plant science. It also developed one which anyone can appreciate. Samples were collected just before dawn to avoid diurnal variations in carbohydrate quality.

Tank Prospects Favorable, Says Coach Tessier

"Prospects for this year's varsity swimming team look better than they have for years," reports Bob Tessier, swimming coach.

Last year's frosh team will be back this fall to fill in the vacancies left by graduating swim stars, making the team one of the most promising in the northwest.

Frosh Have Full Schedule

Spokane Athletic club has been scheduled in addition to the regular intercollegiate meets. Frosh water dogs carry a full load of practice meets, giving the first year men plenty of preparation for their varsity years.

Swimming at the University of Idaho is not limited to the men students alone; women students are eligible to join the Hell Divers, local swimmers club. Members are chosen by competition.

Intramural records set last year are: 50-yard dash—Hoyt, Delta Tau Delta; time .34.8. 50-yard free style—Hollinger, Senior Hall; time .27.3. 50-yard breast stroke—Hearn, Phi Gamma Delta; time .38.2. 150-yard medley—Hoyt, Woods, Sanders; Delta Tau Delta. Time 1:45.8. 200-yard relay—Trzusowski, Caparaso, Boardman, Aspray, Lindley Hall. Time :21.9.

All the above men will be eligible for the varsity this year except Hollinger, who graduated last spring.

Par is '35

The course, which is 3,205 yards long, has a par of 35. It is situated in the middle of a 100-acre field purchased by the ASUI last year.

The course will be ready for student use next fall, and probably as early as next spring if the grass takes root well enough. The draw has been tiled to insure quick drainage after the snow leaves.

Clubhouse Next Summer

The clubhouse, which will perch at the top of the hill back of the arboretum facing southwest, will be built by the university next summer. It will embody modern clubhouse designs and furnishings.

Mr. James, who is one of the foremost golf course architects in the country, has built such famous courses as the Woman's National, Long Island, N. Y., the Tavistock Country club, New Jersey; and the Jackson park municipal course,

Golf Course Nearly Completed; Only Grass Seeding Remains

Begun only five weeks ago, the new student golf course now under construction southwest of the campus has advanced to a point where the gods have control. Every green has been built and topsoiled and, along with the fairways, are ready to be seeded immediately—if the weather man permits a rain.

The nine-hole course, which lies in the draw back of the arboretum, is one of the most "natural" courses in the country, according to Frank James, Tacoma, who is building the course.

Natural Terrain

"The natural terrain along the route makes the course tough enough without putting in artificial bunkers and traps," he said. "There will be need for every variety of shot."

In laying out the course, Mr. James followed the draws and slopes to avoid steep climbs between holes. The only climb at all is on the last hole, which is a particularly fine finish hole. The fairways are wide, making room for a large number of students at one time, and the greens are exceptionally large for a small course.

Seattle. Nearby courses he has built are the Moscow golf course and the Washington state college course, which was completed two years ago.

S. Dean Arnold, '29, is practicing law at Clarkston, Wash. His brother, Winton Arnold, ex-'25, is doing the same thing at Ketchikan, Alaska.

Edward M. "Spud" Murphy, '05, is doing business at the same stand—port engineer for the Alaska Steamship company at Seattle.

Donald McClain, 1933 electrical engineer is employed by the Washington Water Power company at Spokane. He was married in June to Miss Edith Crookham, a College of Idaho graduate.
