American Surgeons Honor Dr. Scott By Invitation

Idaho Graduate Is Awarded Membership in Famed American College of Surgeons

The American College of Surgeons, nationally famed professional organization whose members have attained unusual acclaim in the pursuit of studies, has conferred an unusual honor on Dr. Russell T. Scott, Lewiston, according to word received yesterday. Dr. Scott has been invited to attend the annual clinical congress of the college at Philadelphia October 19-23, to receive the degree significant of membership, which has been granted to him. Dr. O. C. Carsow is the only other Lewiston surgeon affiliated with the organization.

According to surgical leaders approximately 1200 practitioners in the nation annually apply for recognition in the American College of Surgeons. A minimum of 100 case reports on as many major operations is required to qualify, in addition to a mass of other clinical and hospital achievements. This year, out of the 1200 striving for the honor, 500 were recommended and about 300 admitted.

Dr. Scott is a graduate of the University of Idaho and of Northwestern university. He came to Lewiston five years ago.

His mother, Mrs. Lenore Scott, is housemother at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority on the Idaho campus.

Gem of Last Year Receives Award

Gem Given Superior Rating By National Scholastic Press Association

All-American honor rating was awarded to the 1936 Gem of the Mountains by the National Scholastic Press Association according to word received by Cap. Horton, graduate manager, Friday.

Year books from universities all over the country are sent to this association where they are judged on their entire make-up and content. The annuals are classed in five rating divisions which are: all-American honor rating, superior; first class honor rating, excellent; second class honor rating, good; third class honor rating, fair; fourth class rating, no honor. Amass 815 Points
The Gem totaled 815 points out of a possible 1000. The average score for the books was 700 points. Maurice Malin was editor of last year's Gem, Frank Bevington business manager.

Marie Antoinette to Follow Famous Production of "Romeo and Juliet" for M.G.M.

Through Smith Miller of Los Angeles, Dr. G. M. Miller, head of the English department, has just learned that Talbot Jennings has finished his fifth important play—"Marie Antoinette." He went to Europe on a leave of absence from M. G. M.

At the close of summer school, Dr. Miller's summer school classes presented him with a copy of the motion picture edition of "Romeo and Juliet." It is a magnificent volume with the first folio edition by Shakespeare and the scenario edition by Talbot Jennings. It is illustrated with pictures of the chief persons concerning the production of the screen version, including an excellent picture of Mr. Jennings.

Since Hell Divers, the men's and women's swimming organizations, is the only group representing the Red Cross on the campus, Mrs. C. F. Magee, Moscow roll call chairman, yesterday said Red Cross members hoped that it would be responsible for the drive on the campus.

$1 Membership Fee

Plans for a campus drive as well as the Moscow drive are as yet tentative, Mrs. Magee said, but will be completed within a week or two.

"The membership fee is $1," Mrs. Magee remarked, "and I feel that every student on the campus should belong to the Red Cross."

On November 11, the drive will be formally launched. Idaho Red Cross chapters are attempting to enroll 26,325 members this fall. This increase in enrollment is necessary because of new Red Cross programs in highway first aid, home and farm accident prevention, and excessive demands during the past year on the Red Cross in rendering relief in 150 disasters in the United States.

The Red Cross now has 19 highway first aid stations in operation in Idaho and plans made for an additional 31 stations as soon as first aid instruction can be completed.

Lind Thanks Cops For Car Control

Grounds Superintendent Commends Volunteers for Orderly Traffic Saturday

Indebtedness of the University of Idaho to the military department, the county sheriff's office, the Moscow police department and the Idaho state highway patrol for the fine handling of traffic during Homecoming was acknowledged yesterday by R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

"Considering the large number of people who were on the campus, it is remarkable that there was no trouble of any kind," Mr. Lind said. "That traffic rolled along so smoothly was due entirely to the fine work of the four agencies which worked together to handle it. The university is deeply indebted to them."

Orderly Day

General opinion on the campus and in Moscow is that Homecoming this year was notable for its orderliness and that in spite of the fact that the crowd was the largest in the university's history. Handling the traffic problem over Homecoming were nine state highway patrolmen, six men from the county sheriff's office, six city policemen, and 75 R. O. T. C. cadets and officers. The latter were directed by regular army officers detailed to the university staff.

Engineering Student Receives Position In the East

James Miller, Coeur d'Alene Gets Distinction of Winning Place With Bell Laboratories

To James Miller, 1936 graduate in electrical engineering, goes the "plum" of last year's class, according to Prof. Hugo Johnson, head of the department. Miller recently accepted a position with the Bell Laboratories in its Industrial Application department. Of the 137 eligible applicants Miller was one of 30 accepted.

He gained early schooling at Coeur d'Alene high school before coming to Moscow to attend the university. In his freshman year he received the Sigma Tau medal, an engineering honorary for scholarship. Later he became local president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, an honorary group on the campus. One of his frequent outstanding papers was given at the National Convention of A.I.E.E. in Pasadena last summer. After graduating he went to work in Spokane with the Washington Water Power. He also had an offer from Westinghouse.

Bell laboratories is one of the biggest electrical research laboratories in the United States. It is located in New York City and employs several thousand. Shortly after the depression it quit taking men and eventually left many. Consequently, this is the first time in quite a while it has been able to select men for positions. Students and friends may remember him operating a tesla coil at the Engineering show last spring.

Bill Ames Returns; Organizing Club

Former Pep Band Leader Organizing Young People's Democratic Club

Business brought Bill Ames, '34, former Pep Band leader, to the university campus this week. Monday evening he presided at a student meeting for all students interested in organizing a Young People's Democratic club. Many students and campus leaders were present at the meeting held at the L. O. S. Institute.

Ames is executive-secretary of the State Young People's Democratic club and president of the club in Ada county. He expects to have a large University Students' Democratic club organized on the campus before his present campaign is completed. He was among the organizers of the Democratic club for the election four years ago. He believes that the membership of the new club should exceed 300 students.

Pleasure and Politics

Combining pleasure with his politics, Ames attended the Homecoming football game. He was especially interested in the music of the university Pep Band, of which he was leader for three years.

"My present work," he says, "has taken me through the entire southern part of the state, and I found university alumni wherever I went. Many of them are planning to attend the game in Ogden. They hope to see the team and Pep Band at the Utah State-Idaho game."

"There were only 1700 students when I was in school," remarked Ames. "I am very glad to see the increasing enrollment and also the strong spirit the students display. I hope this spirit continues as the enrollment increases."

HORTON DISCUSSES WINTER SPORTS

In preparation for winter sports, plans for a ski and toboggan slide to be located on Moscow mountain are under discussion. According to Cap Horton, graduate manager, the exact location has not been decided on and work will not commence on the slide until the possibility of sufficient snow is assured.

No Jumps

No ski jumps will be constructed as the slide is for the use of amateurs.

If the slide proves satisfactory a lodge with a fireplace will be built for the convenience of the students.

The construction of the rafters has been under way for about two days, and it is expected that they will be completed within 10 days.

Student Opinion Measured on Coming Presidential Race

If University of Idaho students were to select the next president of the United States, whom would he be? Does Roosevelt suit the student demand, or is Landon the popular choice? Or again, does North Dakota's Lemke appeal more than Socialist Norman Thomas or Communist Earl Browder?

Cooperating with the Daily Princetonian and other major college newspapers, The Argonaut is conducting a student poll in order to feel out campus opinion concerning the presidential candidates. A ballot will be found on the editorial page both today and next Friday, with the poll closing October 24. Students may place their ballots in the Argonaut box in the Administration building.

Results of the campus poll will be printed in next Tuesday's Argonaut.

Ballots are entirely secret, no signatures being required.

Annual Homecoming Passes, Declared Successful

Idaho's biggest Homecoming faded sleepily out of the picture Sunday afternoon at the conclusion of a reception given by the board of regents and Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Neale in honor of new faculty members.

For the first time in six years the Red Cross will conduct an extensive membership drive on the campus; this drive will be carried on independent of the drive in Moscow, whose membership quota is 800 members.

Idaho Hospitality Scores Again

Reports reaching us from the campus and downtown credit our recent homecoming celebration as being the most outstanding in years.

That being the case, credit should go where credit is due, to the student body, and all organizations and individuals whose co-operative effort made it possible.

Praise Group Houses

Particular mention should be made of the group houses for their decorative decorations, which caught the spirit of Idaho hospitality; the Homecoming rally, expertly handled by the Spurs and Knights under the direction of Yell Leader Johnny Moats; the freshman fireworks display, a

Stadium Work Proceeds
While football players ran and tackled Saturday, all the while "doodlebugs kept" busy across the old Pullman road digging the bowl that will ever gather for a Homecoming on this site—lies between 10 and 12,000.

Between halves of Saturday's game cups were presented to Phi Delta Theta and Forney hall, men's and women's groups respectively, for the construction of house decorations adjudged the best. Judges were Dr. Evelyn Miller, Dr. F. C. Church and Geoffrey Coope.

Judged on Theme

"The decorations were judged," said Sam Johnson, Blue Key Chairman of Homecoming, "on originality, cleverness, and their adaptability to the 'welcome' theme of Homecoming."

Phi Delta Theta had the laughing "world" extending "Worlds of Welcome" with outstretched arm to the Mickey Mouse family.

Forney hall's "Vandal Merry-Go-Round" had the Idaho football players riding the opponents—Cougar, Bison, Wolf, Duck, etc.

Fireworks Enjoyed

Housing accommodations for Homecoming guests were ably handled under the guidance of Harold Cornelison, secretary of the Moscow chamber of commerce.

A noisy pre-game rally Friday night was concluded by a well-timed fireworks display capable of vying with any July 4th celebration. This feature displaced the traditional, but all too expensive freshman bonfire of former years.

Maybe Next Time

"The display was well received," remarked Bert Larson, ASU prexy. "The bonfire always burned up before everyone had a chance to see it but not so with the fireworks."

The old, faithful guard of alumni all came back to this Homecoming confident that W.S.C. was to meet its Vandal Waterloo, but they returned home to wait another year for fulfillment of such hope. The Cougar victorious, alumni turned toward acquaintance renewals, Idaho songs, parties and dancing for quest of that extra something which made them say:

"The 1936 Homecoming was highly successful."

PHI ETA SIGMA CUP FOR BEST GRADES

Members of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholarship honorary, discussed plans last week for awarding a cup to the freshman who attains the highest scholastic average this year.

John Elder was appointed to investigate and to select the cup. To present the cup at next fall's convocation exercises is the plan.

A committee consisting of Jack McKinney, upperclassman adviser; Wilbur Larkin, and Eugene Heron was appointed to select the new faculty adviser.

Phi Eta Sigma has been on the Idaho campus for only three years, and has a total of 14 members, eight of whom were selected last year.

Board of Regents Authorizes Acts, Appointments

English and Botany Appointments, Budget, and Housing Problems Occupy Time of Board During Homecoming

Because the increase in enrollment has been particularly heavy in botany and English, new instructors in these departments were authorized by the board of regents at the regular Homecoming meeting.

The regents were informed that the university student body now exceeds that of last year by approximately 275. Appointments to fill vacancies, reappointments, matters in connection with the university budget for the 1937-38 biennium, problems in connection with housing Idaho's largest student body, routine institutional business, Homecoming activities, and the W. S. C. Idaho football game, occupied the regents' time on the campus.

Burns Named

Eugene Burns, a graduate of the University of Washington with his master's degree from Harvard, was named instructor in the department of English. He has had one year of advanced work in the University of Muenchen in Munich, Germany. Since 1933 he has been assistant professor of English at Albany college, Oregon. Dr. Rexford R. Daubenmire, assistant professor of botany, is the other new appointment necessitated by the increased enrollment. Doctor Daubenmire has his bachelor's degree from Butler university, his master's from the University of Colorado, and his Ph. D. from the University of Minnesota. During the past school year he was at the University of Minnesota. (Continued on Page Two)

Bullock To Attend National Conclave

Scabbar and Blade Holds Convention at Raleigh, N. C., November 19 to 21

With Capt. Earl Bullock knee deep in plans to attend the national convention at Raleigh, N. C., and with a dinner date that demands attention, that sign on the Scabbar and Blade door right now reads "Quiet Please."

Captain Bullock as representative of the local chapter, Company B of the Sixth Regiment of Scabbar and Blade, will be the only one from the state of Idaho to make the long journey back to North Carolina.

Two Weeks Lay-Off

The convention days are November 19, 20, and 21. As the convention and the long trip will take at least two weeks, Captain Bullock is planning to leave about November 14, and return about November 26. A representative from every company in the national organization of Scabbar and Blade, as well as the national officers will attend the convention, which is held biennially.

While Captain Bullock is absorbed in time tables, First Lieut. Roy Gray is directing the arrangements for the staging of a formal Scabbar and Blade dance. He has as his assistants Tom Redlingshafer, in charge of decorations; Bill Morrow, program; and Woody Sorenson, the dinner.

Each year Scabbar and Blade gives a formal dance, which is usually one of the features of the campus social season. This year it is tentatively scheduled for some time this fall at the Blue Bucket.

Last year, just prior to the close of school, the organization elected the men to be in charge of affairs. Elected at that time were Earl Bullock, captain; Roy Gray, first lieutenant; Woody Sorenson, second lieutenant; and Ray Lincoln, first sergeant.

Scabbar and Blade, whose national organization covers the entire country, is an honorary society for military cadets. Among the causes that it actively supports are those of national defense and world peace.

FORESTERS TO HOLD FREE BONFIRE PICNIC FRIDAY

Honor Examinations

Noteworthy last week was the action of Bench and Bar, all college law organization, in adopting an honor code for law examinations. Freedom to converse with each other or leave the room during examinations and absence of proctoring will be enjoyed by the students during examinations under the new code. Violators who have been accused in writing by any member of the college will be tried before an honor court of second and third year students. "The court may pronounce any sentence it sees fit," according to a statement issued by the organization. The possible nature of such penalties was not mentioned. The organization deserves credit for planning and introducing such a system. It is in keeping with recent educational trends, and its results should be observed with interest by every university student, since it may set a precedent for others of our colleges and schools.—R. The Movie-go-Round

Kenworthy
"My Man Godfrey" with Carole Lombard and William Powell—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.
When Irene (Carole Lombard) wins a scavenger hunt by successfully retrieving a "forgotten man" from the city dumps, she keeps him on as butler because Godfrey (William Powell) represents the outstanding achievement of her frivolous life. Godfrey wants to see if destitution has disciplined him for soft high life.

Crazy Rich
The script writers have people Irene's world with the most completely realistic set of rich crazy people seen on the screen for some time. Butler Godfrey shows the babbling Mrs. Bullock how to get rid of the "little men" that haunt her after parties. He solves the financial woes of Mr. Bullock, who has been looking forward to going to Sing Sing as an embezzler so that he can "get up early, and do my day's work and not bother about bills."

Nuart
"Sing, Baby, Sing" with Alice Faye and Adolph Menjou—Wednesday through Saturday.
Giving one of the best performances of his lengthy career, the dapper Adolph is seen as the Hollywood actor on a New York spree. While convalescing from a prolonged drinking bout, the befuddled Thespian is pounced upon by a young singer whose manager arranged the meeting for publicity purposes.

Story from Newspapers
From there on, "Sing, Baby, Sing" tells a story that seems to have been clipped right out of the newspapers. The actor's Romeo and Juliet romance takes on the aspects of a national comedy, and the girl's cross-country pursuit of him makes ribald reading matter for the whole world.
Spiced with such established comedians as Patsy Kelly, Ted Healy, and the word-mangling Gregory Ratoff, "Sing, Baby, Sing" gets its silliest moments from the Ritz Brothers, a knockabout trio whose dazzling debut marks them for either a lunatic asylum or great acclaim.

Views of the Readers

TO THE EDITOR

A racket has been set upon this campus. Surprisingly enough, it has been established by those arch-defenders of hoary tradition and the "good old spirit", the "I" club.

In the issue of the Argonaut for May 29, 1936, appeared a news item containing these statements: "The long-respected Idaho tradition of the Green caps will be revived next year. Seeing the Frosh trekking around in their green lids topped by pearl buttons, will revive the good old spirit, the club ("I" club) believes. Contrary to former custom, the "I" club will handle the sale of caps itself. New ways to enforce the wearing of the green will be devised by the athletes." This was the unsuspected beginnings of the racket.

Why It Is Racket

I shall explain just why this green cap tradition is a racket. Last year the "long respected Idaho tradition" of having freshmen wear green caps was dropped. The students were well pleased about the move. Therefore the matter was little thought of until at the end of the school year the "I" club manifested a sudden interest therein by stating they would revive the custom.

Now, it was not just a plain revival. There was one important innovation. The "I" club, rather than the merchants, was to sell the caps. The club, having secured a monopoly of the green cap business, through some unknown arrangements and agreements, forthwith proceeded this year to sell the green caps, not for the usual 35 or 40 cents, but for 75 cents. This procedure has all the earmarks of a racket. As the detectives say, "Let us reconstruct the crime."

Last spring the "I" club held a meeting and out of that meeting came a statement that for the sake of reviving the "good old spirit" they would revive the custom of wearing green caps and they would sell the caps. In all likelihood what was discussed at this meeting was ways and means of filling the treasury of the "I" club and little was said about school spirit. All this is remarkably evident from the fact that it was fixed so only the "I" club could sell caps and then they nearly doubled the customary price.

Sell "Protection"

The "I" club's action is comparable to the activities of a Chicago gangster who, through terrorism, creates a demand for protection, and then graciously offers to sell the protection. By merely changing our terms we may say that through threat and physical pain the "I" club is creating a demand for green caps and then graciously offering them for sale at twice what they're worth. Not only is it a racket, but since it is perpetrated with such obvious insincerity in the name of school spirit, it is a disgusting fraud.

Here is a good excuse for the "I" club to make a public explanation of their zeal for the "long respected Idaho tradition" of green caps. Here are a few leads, fellows, to get you started right. Why did you revive the silly custom? Why didn't you let the merchants sell the caps? Why, when you got a corner on the sales, did you double the price?

Yours truly
Ralph Turnidge.

...Editor's Note—Mr. Turnidge evidently is quite heated about the idea of "I" caps being sold at prices which he terms "exorbitant." It would appear that the "I" club must needs make some answer to the above letter, in order that the student body be given a complete picture of the situation.

Sophomores To Seek Revenge In Track Meet With Frosh

Freshmen trackmen will be seeking revenge for last year's two-point defeat next Wednesday and Thursday afternoons when they meet the sophomores in their annual dual track and field meet on MacLean field. The meet will begin at 4 o'clock each day.

Over 60 members of the two classes have drawn track equipment and are dressing down regularly and training under Coach Mike Ryan's supervision. These men, with a group of about 20 upperclassmen, will participate in a series of meets this fall which started with the frosh meet last week and will end with an intramural meet for all classes.

No Questions Asked

The underclassmen meet to serve as a "feeder" for the varsity track squad and are open to all boys who sign up for track and train. No questions are asked regarding former ability or experience.

Events for the underclassmen will be the same as in last week's freshman meet but the two upperclassmen events will be changed.

The events for competition are: Wednesday—100-yard dash, 600-yard run, 1½-mile run, putting 12 pound shot, running broad year he was acting assistant professor of botany at the University of Tennessee.

Dr. Roger D. Reid, a member of the bacteriology department staff at Pennsylvania State college since 1921, was named assistant professor of bacteriology and assistant experiment station bacteriologist, succeeding Dr. Glen L. Dunlap, resigned. Leona V. Curtis, graduate of South Dakota State college, was named northern district home demonstration agent, succeeding Fern Spencer, resigned. Dorothy Inez Regua, an Idaho graduate in the class of 1936, was appointed credentials clerk in the registrar's office.

Shaw and Campbell
Charles C. Shaw and Lionel T. Campbell, seniors in the college of law, were appointed librarians in the law library. Curtis Taylor, graduate student, was appointed assistant proctor of Lewis court. Sergeant Alfred C. Johnson was appointed assistant in the R. O. T. C. unit to take the place of Sergeant Lonnie Woods who retired from active duty in the U. S. Army, September 30.

The board designated President M. G. Neale, Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture, and Dean C. W. Hungerford of the graduate school to represent the University of Idaho at the annual meeting of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities to be held at Houston, Tex., November 16 - 18.

The board approved the purchase of the lot at the corner of Deakin avenue and Seventh street. This lot, being secured for the ASUI, is to the north of the three lots recently purchased for expansion of the Blue Bucket Inn into a student union building.

In order to have this building serve as a complete student union building it will be necessary eventually to build an addition to this structure beyond the one already planned and financed," explained President Neale. "This lot is essential for the possible future addition."

Lowell R. Tucker, assistant horticulturist in the department of horticulture, stationed at the Parma field station, was granted a leave of absence for part of the second semester to do graduate work at the University of Minnesota.

BIGGER AND BETTER TURBINES
The new 110,000-kilowatt turbine-generator, built by General Electric and recently placed in service in the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company, sets several new records in turbine construction.
It is the first large unit in the world to operate at 1200 pounds pressure and at 900 Fahrenheit. Although weighing approximately 2,000,000 pounds, it occupies less than a cubic foot for each kilowatt of output. Because of its extremely high efficiency, less than a pound of coal generates a kilowatt-hour.
The high-pressure turbine and generator are mounted directly above the low-pressure unit. Superheated steam enters the upper unit at 12 pounds and 900 degrees and, after producing 55,000 kilowatts, flows directly into the low-pressure unit where it produces another 55,000 kilowatts. This is the first 1200-pound turbine in which the steam enters the low-pressure stage without reheating.

ELECTRIC HEAT FOR SOILLESS GARDENS
CALIFORNIA nurserymen are growing tomatoes, strawberries, and sweet peas in chemically treated water heated by electricity. The method, developed by Dr. W. P. Gerrieke, of the University of California, has been extended to commercial installations. Tomato plants, grown in this way, produced unusually high-quality tomatoes. The yield was large, and they matured ahead of tomatoes grown in soil.
Nourishment is provided by special chemicals dissolved in the water. Because the water temperature must be accurately maintained, a controllable heat source is required, and General Electric engineers have supplied heating cable and thermostats both for the experimental installation and for commercial installations which have followed.

New Faculty Honored Sunday By Reception at Hays Hall

The board of regents of the university and president and Mrs. M. G. Neale honored new faculty members at a reception at Hays hall Sunday afternoon.

In the receiving line with President and Mrs. Neale were: Mrs. A. A. Steele, Parma, president of the board of regents; Mr. and Mrs. Clency St. Clair, Idaho Falls; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jenney, Cottonwood; Mrs. Jerome J. Day, Wallace; Asher B. Wilson, Twin Falls; John W. Condie, Boise, state superintendent of public instruction.

New Faculty Members
New faculty members and their wives were also in the line. They were: Dean Evelyn Miller, Col. and Mrs. Allan Fletcher; Prof. Elsie Maxwell; Prof. and Mrs. George Stump; Miss Helene Halter; Prof. and Mrs. Forrest Two-good; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Talbert; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mimms; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. Theron B. Hutchings; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Foskett; Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Eugene Drager; Miss Ruth Smith; Dr. Dorothy Atkinson; Miss Helen Powers; Miss Luella A. Williams; John F. Sollers; Branch Walker; Charles E. Moritz; Jefferson B. Rodgers; Dr. Rexford R. Daubendre; Dr. Roger D. Reid; and Eugene Burns.

Esther Plenner, president of A. W. S.; Bert Larson, ASUI president; Doris McDermott, Hays hall president; Virginia Norris, Forney hall president; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hays and Mrs. E. L. Tate, new campus housemothers, were also in the receiving line.

Four university women poured. They were: Mrs. Carl von Ende, Miss Marion Featherstone, hostess at Forney hall; Mrs. Virgil Cherrington, president of A. A. U. W.; and Mrs. Homer Pittner, Alpha Phi housemother.

Wives Assist
Wives of the new faculty of 1935-36 assisted in the dining-room, and deans and their wives assisted in the living-room, as did the executive board of the Faculty Women's club. Jane Baker, Katherine St. Clair, and women of Hays and Forney halls also helped entertain.

About 600 guests called during the afternoon. This group included nearly 400 faculty members and their wives, and presidents of all university groups and organizations.

An instrumental sextet, furnished music for the reception. It included Nina Kinghorn, Richard Gardner, Grace Boren, Richard Swingle, Arnold Westerlund, and Miriam Kennard.

Yellow and white roses and chrysanthemums were the only decoration.

Borah Sees Game From Bleachers

"If you really don't mind," said Senator William E. Borah last Saturday afternoon, "I would much rather sit in the student section." Upon being assured that that would be quite all right he added, "and no matter who comes after me I intend to remain there."

Idaho's senior senator was accompanied to the game by several of his fraternity brothers, the Betas, and distinguished from the students only by the lack of an "I" cap, sat on the temporary bleachers on the west side of the stadium throughout the game.

house representatives," Miss Dray announced.

The first hike will be October 17. Those who are interested should see Miss Dray to sign. The group will leave at 12:45 p. m. from the gym.

There are still two weeks left to get in speedball practices before the tournament starts October 26. Women must have eight practices to participate in the speedball tournament.

Tennis This Week
The fall horseshoe and tennis tournaments will begin this week. Women may sign up for either by calling at the gym. The first round of the tennis tourney must be played off this week. This type of tournament gives all women entered the chance to earn points for W. A. A. The winner of the tournament receives 100 points; runner-up, 75 points; those defeated in the semi-finals, 50 points; and all other participants 10 points.

Vandals Lose Homecoming Battle to Washington State Cougars, 14 to 0

"In spite of defeat the team showed 100 per cent improvement last Saturday over the game at Seattle the week before."

That statement came from Ted Bank, head coach of the Idaho Vandals, after Washington State Cougars had turned on their superior power to defeat the Vandals 14 to 0 in Idaho's annual homecoming game last Saturday on MacLean field.

"The boys have no alibi to offer," Mr. Bank said. "They were beaten by a stronger and more experienced team."

"They have put that game behind them now and are getting all primed for the Oregon game next Saturday at Portland. There are defects in our line play that must be ironed out before then. Despite the team's improvement, there is room for very much more."

Asked what he thought the Vandal chances were against the Web-foot squad, Coach Bank refused to make any prediction or comment.

Largest Crowd at MacLean Field
Playing before the largest crowd in the history of MacLean field—12,500 people—the inexperienced Vandals battled gamely, though hopelessly outclassed by a bigger and better team. It was mainly a case of too much Goddard for the Idaho men.

The Cougar quarterback made the most thrilling run of the day in the last quarter, when he dashed 77 yards for a touchdown on the only play for which he was in the game after being injured in the second quarter. It was the second Cougar touchdown and the last that any Washington State player will ever make on MacLean field. All future clashes at Moscow between these rivals of 40 years standing will be settled in the new stadium.

Goddard's touchdown came as a sort of atonement to his team for letting Boise 55-yard quick kick over his head to his own 23-yard line. He made his touchdown-jump around Idaho's left end behind perfect interference.

Scored in First Quarter
The first Cougar touchdown came at the end of the first quarter. Goddard had started the march on his own 45-yard line with a 31-yard dash around Idaho's left end. In four more plays that skirted both ends he carried the ball for a first down on the Idaho 10-yard strip. A moment later he punched through center for another first down after Fletcher had picked up seven yards inside tackle. Three plays later he handed the ball to Littlefield on a reverse that produced the first touchdown. Hal Jones converted the try-for-point.

More outstanding than Goddard's running, considering the blocking and interference he had, was the punting of Harold Roise and the fleet running of Clarence Devlin.

Roise, rushed badly on both passes and punts, managed to get off quick, but perfect, punts time after time. He averaged 46 yards with his seven kicks. The Washington State kickers averaged 36 yards with an equal number of tries.

Devlin Has Good Average
Devlin made four of Idaho's seven first downs, all of them in the second half. He gained 93 yards in the 11 times he carried the ball, to amass a better average than any other player on the field, excepting Goddard. Devlin's average was 7.5 yards per try against 10.5 yards for the Escondido Express, who gained 136 yards. The speedy Idaho halfback made two gains of well over 20 yards that brought the crowd to its feet with hope and expectancy, but always two or three Cougar backs were there to block the way.

Idaho showed no great strength on either offense or defense, whereas the experienced Cougars showed plenty in both. Idaho's outstanding weakness was the poor blocking on the part of the line on attempted passes. On not one of the 13 passes that Idaho backs attempted did the passer have a chance to choose a receiver and pass accurately.

Vandal Babes Defeated; 13-7 By Cheney Normal Squad Sat.

Lacking experience and confidence, the frosh football team took it on the chin Saturday when they were defeated by Cheney normal 13 to 7 in the first encounter of the season.

Next Saturday the Gonzaga team will furnish the competition for the frosh when they come to Moscow for a tussle on MacLean field.

The frosh made a very good showing when it is considered that the team has been out only two weeks. Coach Al Paddock said, "but the tackling and blocking will have to be polished before the game Saturday with Gonzaga."

Cheney Scores First
Cheney took the opening kickoff, and kicked off three first downs before being forced to punt. After an exchange of punts Cheney started a drive that ended in a touchdown by Cross, who took a pass from Poffenroth and scored. The try for extra point was wide.

The second Cheney score came when Harris, substitute fullback, crashed through the Idaho line from the four-yard line after a series of off-tackle plays had placed the ball in scoring position. A pass was good for the conversion.

Babes Score on Passes
Idaho's score came just before the end of the first half. Stoddard did some excellent punting and had the Savages backed in to the end zone several times. On one occasion the ball was kicked to the Cheney 30-yard line and the frosh started a passing attack that saw four completions, the last one good for 16 yards and the score.

The second half of the game was marred by many penalties with both teams losing chances to score. Idaho started a march early in the period, but the Cheney line was able to stop the charge on the 10-yard stripe.

Paddock was especially pleased with the work of Kanellvitch and Saunders in the line and Stoddard and Canales in the backfield.

Old Spirit Revived By Idaho Alumns

Two hundred thirty alumni gathered to dine at the Blue Buckle Inn Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. A buffet supper was served at small tables for six to 12 persons and everyone sat where he pleased. The alumns revived the old Idaho spirit recalling college days and singing Idaho songs.

Sing, Sing Sing
The Pep Band and Vandaleers lead "Here We Have Idaho," and entertained during the dinner with swing songs and "Twelfth Street Rag."

Two Trips Announced By Forestry School For This Week

Reports from the school of forestry tell of two trips to be taken this week. Dean Dwight S. Jeffers left Monday evening for Boise where he will attend the semi-annual meeting of the state co-operative board of forestry.

Dean Jeffers to Preside
As chairman of the state technical advisory committee on forestry, Dean Jeffers will preside at a meeting to be held Wednesday with the State Planning board to discuss a forestry legislative program.

Prix de Paris Is Contest Theme

Beginning November 1, Vogue magazine is sponsoring a second annual contest for all senior women in universities and colleges, known as the Prix de Paris.

Conducted like a course in fashions with quizzes and a final thesis, this contest is open to senior women in any accredited college or university granting a recognized B. A. degree. To women who can write, who have a flair for fashions and a knack of clear presentation, it offers preliminary training towards a career in publishing, merchandising, or advertising.

Year's Work Offered
First prize is a year's employment with pay by Vogue, at least half of the time to be spent in the Paris office with all travel expenses paid, the remainder in New York.

Second prize will be six months' employment on the editorial staff of the New York office. Other women showing ability may be selected for positions in other departments.

Idaho students interested in entering the contest may receive further information by calling at The Argonaut office.

GRADUATE SCHOOL IS SMALLER

The enrollment of the graduate school here for 1936-1937 is approximately 121 students. This total is less than last year's total of 139. However, C. W. Hungerford, dean of the graduate school, said that students were still enrolling and probably would be for the rest of this week.

During the summer session this year the enrollment of 376 students was slightly higher than the 357 total of the summer school during 1935.

NATIONAL OFFICER ARRIVES FRIDAY

Mrs. Hamilton J. Stevens of Pasadena, Calif., who is national treasurer of Mortar Board, will arrive in Moscow Friday to inspect the Moscow chapter of Mortar Board.

At 7 o'clock Friday evening, she will be entertained by local Mortar Board members and alumnae at a formal dinner in the Moscow hotel.

Mrs. Stevens will leave Saturday to inspect other chapters of the honorary.

Homecoming Visitors Are Accommodated In Various Ways

"With the aid of Pullman and Lewiston hotels and the co-operation of various group houses on the campus, we were able to take care of the Homecoming crowd without much difficulty," reported Harold Cornelson, secretary of the Moscow chamber of commerce, Monday noon. He added that the crowd attending the banquet Saturday night was one of the largest of recent years.

Few Placed Privately
"Very few people had to be placed in private homes," he said, "but a large number of alumni stayed in fraternity houses on the campus. I believe, however, that rumors which say alumni slept 'three deep' in such houses are exaggerated."

Mr. Cornelson concluded: "More important than how guests managed to find rooms, was the fact that they all seemed to have had a fine time."

Boxers Ambitious; Veterans Return In Each Division

With arrangements practically completed for a climactic clash with the famous University of North Dakota boxing team here November 21, indications point to a highly colorful season for the Vandal boxers this year.

For the first time since Coach Louie August undertook the job to build up a championship glove squad four years ago there are veterans to fill in every weight division and put Idaho on an intercollegiate basis.

Besides such last year's stars as Rolly Shumway, Paul George, Luke Purcell, Bill Morrow, and others, there are several promising freshmen and transfers. Among them are Jackie Doone, who placed second in the flyweight division in the national amateur tournament at Chicago last year, Joe Romane, Ken Doty, Wally McGill, Johnny Gessner, Julian Benoit, Joe Filani, and John Rupp.

Meeting North Dakota's flashy ringmen here on Dad's Day will be the first of a home and home exchange, the Vandals to continue the issue at North Dakota next spring. North Dakota has made a strong bid for national collegiate honors in late years. Last year Washington State's highly touted sluggers met a thorough drubbing at their hands.

Idaho Will Be Host To Ag Engineers, October 30

University of Idaho agricultural engineers will be hosts to the Pacific coast section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers when it meets October 30 and 31 on the campus. Mark R. Kulp, chairman of the section for this year, said Monday that meetings on Friday, October 30, will be held in Moscow, and that the society will journey to Pullman Saturday for meetings at Washington State college.

PEP BAND BROADCASTS AT SATURDAY'S GAME

Although few people realized it, the Pep Band played over the Columbia Broadcasting system during the half of the football game last Saturday afternoon.

That evening the alumni thoroughly enjoyed hearing the Pep Band play for their banquet at the Blue Bucket.

"It is likely," remarked Leader Jim McFarland, "that the band will be asked to play for more banquets and other affairs."

SPORTS NOTICE
The Wednesday night's open on the swimming pool schedule has been changed to Thursday night at the same time (7:30). The Hell Divers' period originally scheduled for Thursday nights, is now on Wednesday night.

A number of speakers have been announced, among them J. B. Rodgers, of the University of Idaho; Milo B. Williams of the Resettlement administration from California; J. C. Marr, Boise, and a member of the department of agriculture, T. R. Horning; Nael G. Preston; W. F. Hereth of the soil conservation service, who will give a talk on soil conservation; L. J. Smith and H. N. Colby from Washington State college. Herschel Klaas, president of the local student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, will also speak.

The speaker for the dinner to be held in Moscow on Friday night has not yet been announced.
