Which Reminds Me

"Kings for a day" are the pledges of our various and revered fraternities and sororities at their numerous pledge dances. Which reminds me—they'll have to clean up the mess after the party's over, and go back again to housework, phone duty, and bend-overs. However, these dances do their part in bringing out the strictly feminine. What is more exclusively feminine than the wearing of hair do-dads? You shouldn't do dad, you know! (Pardon mah)

Oh, well, sobiet, as the Dodo bird says, and let's get down to the business in hand which happens to be Barbara Gwinn's pique bow. She wore it on her dress. As the evening went on, the bow was supplemented by a part of the Pjll decorations, which furnished a lovely compliment to Bud Kimes.

Flowers Match Dress
Dorothy Brown went to town (poem) with her hair done in a new and flattering way. In her hair she had two light blue flowers, the color of her dress. One flower pinned on each side of the part. Tricky, what?

Barbara Lipps took time off from listening to Bill Armstrong to look perfectly adorable. Her black dress with the silver flower at the throat was lovely, but the supreme touch was another flower of silver in her hair.

Frances Zachow's Juliet cap of pearls created quite a stir, for it is definitely new on the campus. Not all the gals could wear it as charmingly as Frances, though. Which reminds me—let's all bow our heads in a moment of silent prayer that all the girls don't try 'em.

A wreath of blue flowers across the front of her hair was Clara Young's way of being individual, and of bowing to the present flowers-in-the-hair mode. And a very nice way of killing two birds with one stone: being fashionable and—well, do you feel very dead, Roman?

Women's Intramural Sports Start Soon

Women's group houses were divided into leagues to compete in intramural sports, at a meeting of the athletic managers from the various houses and the Women's Athletic association. Intramural committee Thursday.

The swimming meets will be held November 3, 10, and 17. Each house may enter two women in each event. A woman may enter as many events as she wishes. Managers must have the names of those who will compete and the events they will enter in to Gertrude Olesen, phone 5861, by 8 p. m. Thursday.

Events in the swimming will be the 50-yard dash, free style; breast stroke, crawl, back stroke; 25 yard racing back; free style relay; and the jack knife, running front, and an optional dive.

"Moscow Ma's" Chosen by Guild

"Moscow mothers" were chosen by members of Westminster Guild, local Presbyterian organization for college women, at a tea in the church parlors Sunday. Approximately 80 were present.

Mrs. J. G. Eldridge and Mrs. H. H. Simpson poured.

A program was presented consisting of a whistling solo, Doris Franson; violin solo, Gayle Partner; and readings, Eleanor Butler and Jane Montgomery.

Gold tapers and autumn foliage decorated the tea table and the room. Corsages were presented to the mothers present.

Sigma Chi's Stomp At Barn Dance

Sigma Chi went stompin' at the Troy pavilion Friday at their annual barn dance. Dancers, cowboys, farm hands, milkmaids, rode to the pavilion in trucks.

"Josh" Gigray's band played square dances, two-steps, and swing tunes.

Patrons and patronesses were Dean Evelyn Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon-Schled, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kalbus.

Various Themes Used at Dances

Black cats stalked the walls. Jack-o-lanterns winked eerily from among stacks of corn husks. Witches flew merrily across windows covered with orange crepe paper. Orange spotlights flooded the rooms with a mysterious glow. Such was the setting of the Alpha Chi Omega pledge dance Friday.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Fulton G. Gale, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Janssen, and Mrs. John Harvey Hayes.

Music was furnished by Dick Paris's orchestra, lyrics sung by Paul Rust.

Reception Given For Housemother

Mrs. John Harvey Hayes, housemother at the Alpha Chi Omega house, was honored by a reception Sunday at the chapter house.

In the receiving line, besides Mrs. Hayes, were Mrs. Fulton G. Gale, Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford, Miss Ellen Reiersen, Miss Myrtle Rach, and Miss Barbara Lipps, chapter president.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Hall Macklin, Mrs. Allan Janssen, Miss Frances Wheeler, and Miss Helen Thornhill.

De Smet Club Elect Council Members

Vandals Lose To University Of Nevada Wolves At Reno By 7-6 Margin In Upset

Place Kick After Touchdown Provides Margin of Victory for Nevada

In a recent news release by the Idaho wildlife association, President R. G. Cole announced a statewide campaign against unlawful and unsportsmanlike actions which had come to his attention. Among the deeds he mentioned were trespassing on private property, shooting game out of season, killing turkeys, chickens, ducks, geese, and shooting horses and cattle, stealing deer out of camps, breaking into cars, leaving camp fires, and shooting at most anything.

Idaho Residents Bad Enough
Those who trespass in these manners, he said, setting a pace which will eventually force the law-abiding hunter off the farms and private lands of the state, and the fisherman off many of the sloughs and small streams on which private land borders.

Some of the violations he attributed to immigrants from the so-called "dust bowl" of the middle west who have migrated into the valley to work in the fall harvest and who, having come from a section of the country entirely depleted of game, are unable to resist the urge to take a pot shot at ducks and pheasants so numerous along the road.

"But," he said, "we cannot lay all the blame at the feet of these newcomers, because reports, in many instances, indicate that cars belonging to Idaho residents and bearing Idaho licenses, are slipping out into the country roads and onto farms and bagging a mess of birds out of season. . . . Saying that field deputies of the state fish and game department cannot possibly cover all of the area assigned to them, he asked all sportsmen's organizations in the state to check and weed out all their own circles who contributed to such conditions and to otherwise help in the campaign.

Paste This in Your Book

He listed things TO DO AND NOT TO DO:

Don't shoot from the road or highway or on the right-of-way. It is a violation of a state law.

Don't trespass on private property whether fenced or unfenced. Get a permit from the owner.

Don't trample down the farmer's crops after he has given you permission to hunt.

Don't shoot in the vicinity of or toward the house, garden or out buildings.

Do not take over the legal limit of fish or game and do not fish or shoot except during hours prescribed by law.

Report every violation to your local sportsmen's association or the Idaho wildlife federation at Boise. Give time, location, name, or license number of car. Your name will be held in confidence if you so request.

Season Soon Opens Here

Open season on deer and Chinese and Hungarian pheasants is from November 1 to 31, inclusive in this county. The pheasants can be hunted on Sundays, Wednesdays, and Fridays only.

Many students of the university are followers of the rod and gun, and as many of the trespasses mentioned by Mr. Cole prevail, may this editor ask that they all cooperate with the efforts of this new organization to make the state a better place in which to hunt and fish. Idaho is one of the foremost states in the union for abundance of wildlife. Let's keep it that way.

Idaho's Vandals were tossed to the Wolves last Saturday at Reno. They battled hard to master them, before an excited, roaring home-crowd, but failed, 7-6. Close as they came time and again, it was not enough to wipe out the telling wound inflicted by the foot of one of the Wolves—Eaton, who booted the pigskin between the goal posts for the winning point. Coach Ted Bank and his warriors had not returned yet Monday evening, but no doubt they are determined to strangle the life out of an equally determined Bulldog in Gonzaga stadium in Spokane next Saturday to atone for their loss to a team last Saturday that was doped to go down to its third defeat before the University of Idaho.

Though the Vandals were expected to win, their defeat was no great upset. The Nevadans have only lost one game this year, that to Willamette university, which has won its last 17 conference games without defeat.

Vandals Score First
The Vandals drew first blood late in the first quarter after Harold Roise, Idaho's ace punter, had been thrown on his own 30-yard line, when he caught a Nevada punt. On the next play, Clarence Devlin plowed through the center of the line and past the secondary defense to the Nevada 10-yard stripe, where he was caught from behind by Johnny Oht, sensational halfback.

Devlin lost four yards on two attempted end runs, but Roise gained them back with a dash around left end to the Nevada six-yard line. Musial, quarterback, cracked through center on the fourth down for the touchdown. Sundberg missed the placement kick. Shortly afterwards the Vandals recovered a Nevada fumble and marched it from midfield to the one-yard line, where they lost it on downs.

Immediately after they again got as close as the Wolf 24-yard line, but downs took their toll again.

Grubbs Scores
Getting the ball on their 20 after a punt had gone over the goal line on the last Idaho failure to score, the Wolves marched to a touchdown in five plays. Grubbs made 10 yards through center, Oht made 13 on a lateral pass, and two plays later the ball nestled on the Idaho 35-yard stripe when Oht shot a pass to Basta.

The touchdown came on the next play when Basta caught Oht's short pass and lateraled it to Grubbs, husky back, who shook off several tacklers and raced across the goal line. Eaton provided the victory with a placement kick that sailed over the bars for the winning point.

Fumbles Costly
The Vandals spent most of the game in Nevada territory, getting as close as the nine once again, but fumbles, and failure to gain the necessary yardage always robbed them of the ball. Penalties were inflicted on them to the extent of 75 yards, also. Idaho made 11 first downs to nine for the Nevadans. Roise, Devlin, and Ross Sunberg were the outstanding backfield performers for the Vandals.

Spaugy C Cashiel

Frosh Beaten In Night Game With Boise J. C.

The freshman football squad was defeated 2 to 0 by the Boise junior college team in a hard fought game at Boise Friday. The two points were gained by the junior college in the first quarter when, with the ball on the Idaho 15-yard line, Merle Stoddard, frosh quarterback, was downed behind his own goal line for a safety while attempting to recover a bad pass from center. In the last quarter, with Boise tiring fast, the freshmen made three goal line drives but were stopped each time within the 20-yard line by intercepted passes. Canales, halfback, launched one drive with a 30-yard run to the six-yard line where a pass was intercepted. This week the freshmen will drill on offense in preparation for Saturday's game with Lewiston normal.

MARTINS CALLED BY FATHER'S DEATH

Winifred and William Martin were called to their home in Boise when they learned of the death of their father, Paris Martin, Sr., Sunday. Paris Martin, Jr. who had been practicing with his father since graduation in law here in 1935, was in north Idaho when word of his father's death came.

Winifred, a freshman, and William, a junior, accompanied Paris, Jr., to Boise Sunday. Paris had been traveling with a group of Young Democrats on a campaign tour.

Mr. Martin, Sr., died suddenly of a heart attack. He was shaving, preparing for morning services when stricken.

Meets "Up In Air" With Ryan Gone U. of M. To Come?

This week's track meets were an uncertain affair at the press deadline Monday with Mike Ryan, track coach, out of town, and the University of Montana still unheard from in regard to a contemplated cross-country meet. With Vandal runners here next Friday. Coach Ryan left with the football team for Reno last week with plans to carry out his original three-day inter-class relay meet plans unless a letter from Montana agreeing to come here for the cross-country meet was waiting for him upon his return.

The Montana meet, if it comes to pass, will be held about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. It will consist probably of two jaunts around the regular 2-mile cross-country course—up the old Pullman road, down past the university barns, up past the Idaho club, and twice around the track.

If that meet does not materialize the relay meets will, and the only way students can find out if they are going to be held is to be on hand this afternoon at 4 o'clock to see.

If Montana Does Not
The events will be run off in this manner:

Tuesday: 440-yard relay and 2-mile relay.
Wednesday: 880-yard relay and 4-mile relay.
Thursday: 1-mile relay and medley relay.
