

Sportin' Goods

Now that another football season is nearly over and Idaho still fails to show she belongs in the Pacific Coast conference, it might be well to consider two propositions advanced within the last few weeks, one by The Boise Statesman and the other by Mike Pecarovich, head coach of Gonzaga university. Pecarovich's idea was first brought up by Coach Ted Bank of the Vandals last spring, and put forward again early last fall by L. H. Gregory of The Portland Oregonian.

Quoting Mike Pecarovich
Pecarovich in the Spokane Chronicle—"The Pacific Coast conference is resolving itself into a race between clubs with the most reserves.

"With each week-end's round of games, it is becoming increasingly apparent the present schedule is too tough. The players can't stand the pressure of a schedule framed to build big gates—and even the later haven't come up to expectations."

"I believe the present conference should be divided into two parts—a northwest circuit, and another for the southwest. This section would therefore include Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State, Idaho, Montana, Gonzaga and possibly Whitman.

"A similar set-up would be established for U.C.L.A., Southern California, California, Santa Clara, St. Mary's, and possibly one or two more.

"Naming of the Coast champion therefore would amount to a play-off of the two conferences. Further, under this setup, Washington and Washington State college could schedule games with southern schools, the results to count in the coast standings but not in their own league."

"The present round robin of grueling games is wearing the best teams down. Monday's injury lists have been longer this season than in several past... Several of the conference have teams this season as good as any they'll have for some time to come, and consequently coaches can't point to 1937 and say 'the story will be different then.'"

The Statesman's Idea
And now from the Boise Statesman (editorial)—"There is little to the argument that I'd rather be a small fish in a big pond, than a big fish in a small pond" in the case of Idaho football. There are good conferences beside the coast circuit. Utah does not hang its head with shame because it happens to belong to the Rocky Mountain conference, nor even quake with fear at mention of some of the big names in gridiron ranks.

"Idaho would do well to investigate the possibilities. The interest in Vandal football itself is suffering because of the perennial joke Idaho has been in coast competition. Idaho might frequently put out a championship contender in the Rocky Mountain conference, revive interest in the game, and avoid more insults from the coast circles. Idaho is just as well if not better, geographically located for the Rocky Mountain play than the coast circuit. Southern Idaho might also get a chance to see their state university in action, once in a while, since Utah and Colorado teams are within traveling range."

Agrees To Split
The Bank-Gregory-Pecarovich idea needs no explaining. It's something for teams now outside the conference to work for, since they have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Under the present system, no team outside the Coast conference can possibly be considered Coast champion, or possibly be named Rose Bowl representative, even should they defeat every team in the conference. Such happenings are not probable, but the theory is sound.

It is possible that the Coast teams would consent to such a division without much ado, now that they have seen how miserably some of the North-South games have drawn crowds. With the exception of the Washington State-U.C.L.A. game last Saturday, none of the crowds have come up to expectations.

University to Present Prof. George Stump In First Recital

Faculty To Give Musical Series During Year

Prof. George Stump, tenor, will be presented in recital at the auditorium by the university music department Thursday, November 19, at 8:15 p. m. This recital will be the first in a series of faculty programs to be given during the year. Mr. Stump will be accompanied by Mrs. Stump, Miss Miriam Little, cellist, and Prof. Hall Macklin, organist, will assist in one group of songs.

Mr. Stump spent last year touring the southeastern states in concert. Previously he was a member of the teaching staff in the music department of the University of Minnesota, and of Hamline university, St. Paul. He also taught in the Minneapolis college of music and in the Chicago Musical college.

Sings in Opera
Besides doing concert work and studio teaching, Mr. Stump has sung several operatic roles. He studied in New York with Proschowski, the teacher of Tite Schipa, Galli Curci, and other famous singers.

This is Mr. Stump's first concert appearance in Moscow. He has been on the staff in the music department since September and is teaching a large number of voice students. He is choir director of the First Lutheran church of Moscow.

Program Follows
Following is a program of the recital which will be given:
The first group of songs will be:
"Sweet are the Banks," from "The Water Carrier" by Cherubini; "Total Eclipse," from "Samson" by Handel; "Du bist die Ruh" taken from "Fr. Rueckert," by Schubert.

In the second group there will be:
"Alte Seelen," from "Hermann von Glinn," by Richard Strauss; "Vergangenheit," and "Der Tambour," both from "Eduard Moerike," by Hugo Wolf.

The third group includes:
"Komm, süsser Tod," from "Come Sweet Death," by Bach; "Paris Angelicus," from "Bread of Heaven" by Cesar Franck; and "Agnus Dei," from the "Lamb of God," by Bizet.

In the fourth group will be:
"By St. Lawrence Waters," by Gena Branscombe; "A Christmas Folk-Song," by Elizabeth Woodworth Reese; by William Lindsay; and "I am the Wind," from "Zoe Atkins," by Hall Macklin.

The fifth and last group of songs will be:
"The Shepherdess," from "Alice Maynell," by Dermot MacMurrough; "In the Luxembourg Gardens," from "Sketches of Paris," by Kathleen L. Manning; and "I Bring You Hearts Ease," by Gena Branscombe.

The next recital will be presented Thursday, December 3, by Phi Mu Alpha, men's music honorary.

Come On, Come All Pep Is Password For Big Rally

Every one out for the pep rally Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. It will start at the Tri-Delta Phi corner. All students will wait on their respective corners on Elm street, if their own houses are not on Elm, they are to meet with other groups.

A truck for the Pep Band will go up Elm street, to the Gamma Phi house, then turn and go past Ridenbaugh hall to the athletic stadium.

Johnny Moats, Yell King, gives this advice:
"Swipe the cook's pans, get together all old Fords, and collect any other noise making devices that you can find. We want to give the dads who will be here a rousing welcome and show them a lot of good Idaho pep and enthusiasm."

Dakota Pugilists To Battle Here On Dad's Day

Doty, New Idaho Boxer, to Meet Holiday of Sectional Championships; Shumway Faces Tough Evening

The University of North Dakota boxing team will arrive Friday morning with the North Dakota state football team, Coach Louie August of the opposing Vandal team announced today.

Saturday night against North Dakota, the Idaho team will be at its highest potential power. It will be one sensational first string against another, if publicity on the visiting team is to be considered.

Shumway to Meet Veteran
Joe Miltenberger, who will fight Idaho's slashing Rolly Shumway, is a tough, hard-hitting veteran with a record of 54 victories out of 65. He never has been knocked down.

Carlyle Loverud, 126-pounder fighting Luke Purcell, is a clever speedy boxer with 46 wins and 4 losses. He holds the Northwest Golden Gloves championship in his weight.

Sensation From Dakota
The sensation of the North Dakota team is said to be Carl Eckstrom, who holds several sectional championships and boasts a record of 34 victories of 40. He will meet Ken Doty, new Idaho boxer who likewise has an impressive score of victories including a knockout over Jud Sexton, prominent Spokane pugilist.

In the smoker held at Craigmont last Friday against W. S. C. Idaho slashed out three victories in the four bouts. Results:
Thomason, I. decisioned Dyer, W. S. C.
Blewett, I. decisioned Miller, W. S. C.
Lambert, I. decisioned Hopkins, W. S. C.
Felani, I. was decisioned by Clinger, W. S. C.

FIVE MEN PLEDGED TO AG HONORARY

Five of the outstanding men of the university's agriculture college were pledged to Alpha Zeta, national honorary agriculture fraternity at a meeting held in Morrill hall yesterday afternoon.

Those pledged were: Assistant Dean of Agriculture H. E. Lattig, Donald Benedict, Arval Erickson, Ronald Pierce, and Walter Kautola.

Alpha Zeta pledges those who have been outstanding in scholarship and personality in the college of agriculture.

Believe It Or Not Mis-sent Letter Creates Story

Too Many Donald Johnsons or Johnsons Fool Postmaster, Causing Surprise Ending For All

Many of the events taking place daily on our campus that would make good news never find their way into print, but when even the postmaster "conspires" to see that the news is printed, that's news. And if the postmaster's conspiracy pertains to what Robert Ripley of "Believe It or Not" fame will be printing in a future cartoon, that news should be set in bold face type.

When the U-hut postmaster glanced at a letter addressed to Donald Johnson, school of agriculture, he placed it in the Chi Alpha Phi box and promptly continued his work. But Donald Johnson of Plummer, who last year resided at the Chi Alpha Phi house, is not the Donald Johnson of Troy, University of Idaho's star basketball player and javelin hurler. Donald Johnson, Plummer, is not attending the university this year, but his brother, Elmer, is now living at Chi Alpha Phi.

Elmer opened what he supposed was a letter for his brother, but when he read that Robert Ripley wished to make use of his reputation as "Troy's One-man Track Team" for a future cartoon, he knew that the letter was meant for someone else. It all seems quite complicated, and it was left to a reporter to straighten out the dilemma and see that the error was corrected.

Debaters Plot Scheme For Campus Forum; Orland Travels

Members of the local chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary, yesterday selected Lewis Orland as their delegate to a convention of the organization. To be held shortly after Christmas, the convention will take place in St. Louis, will last three days.

Considered at the same meeting were plans for a campus discussion group.

"Feeling that there is a need for a forum on the campus to provide means for intelligent discussion, we propose monthly meetings to discuss campus and national questions," said Bob McCadden, president of the organization.

While plans have not been carried beyond a tentative stage, McCadden indicated that the meetings would probably be open to all students and faculty members.

Blue Bucket Out Friday at Noon, Says Schneider

Unusual Feature Articles Stressed in Thanksgiving Edition; To be Sold at Game

Unusual feature articles will be the high spots of the Thanksgiving issue of the Blue Bucket, University of Idaho humor magazine, when it goes on sale next Friday noon.

Although the Thanksgiving theme forms the basis of most of the magazine, many of the articles have little or nothing to do with the national holiday. One article entitled "Damn Disgusted" gives a girl's point of view on the attitude of the male population of the university. An interesting discussion of Esquire's artist George Petty's drawings with their effect on the younger generation is found under the caption of "Is Petty petty?"

"Surprise" Promised
Editor Marie Schneider stated, last night, that one article in the coming Blue Bucket will cause many reverberations around the campus. She would not divulge the nature of the article, but promised that it would be a real "surprise."

The words to "March On Our Idaho" will be given a special page. Words and music of this song were written last year by "Chuck" Collins, campus personality and musician extraordinary.

One page of the Blue Bucket is devoted to a welcome to the Dads. This page was donated by the Blue Bucket staff in keeping with the Dad's day celebration scheduled for November 21.

On Sale All Over
Several cuts, a "Hawkeye" that outdoes Walter Winchell, and the usual number of collegiate jokes make up the remainder of the magazine.

The Thanksgiving issue of the Blue Bucket will be on sale at the Student Union building, The Nest, Walgreen's, and Jerry's. In the group houses, copies will be sold by the Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights. Arrangements are being made to sell copies of the Bucket at the football game Saturday afternoon.

There will be an intramural athletic managers' meeting tonight at 7:30 p. m. in room 104 of Memorial gymnasium. All scorers, officials, and managers are required to attend. Important!!—Percy O. Clapp, intramural athletic director.

All-Star Program Opens Activities For Week-End

To boost enthusiasm for Dad's day next Saturday, Blue Key last night announced plans for shooting the first fireworks in an assembly in the auditorium Thursday night at 7 o'clock. The announcement marked just one more innovation in the host of ceremonies being centered on Dad's day from year to year.

Lasting about 40 minutes, the assembly will precede the music department's recital featuring George Stump, which will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Program Follows
These features will compose the program of the Dad's day assembly:

1. Music by the Idaho Pep Band, full force.
2. Idaho yells, led by Yell-King Johnny Moats and his dukes.
3. Vocal trio consisting of Phyllis Rand, Helen Parmley, and Clara Young.
4. Vocal solo by Jeanne Siers.
5. Tap dancing by Peggy Blomgren.

"We should like to see the auditorium packed with students Thursday night," declared Wayland Johnson, Blue Key chairman of Dad's day, "to listen to and participate in the features of this all-student assembly. It should be a pep generator for Dad's day."

Write to Dads
"Blue Key is also making a last-minute appeal for students to send rush letters to their fathers, persuading them to come to participate in Dad's day entertainment—dancing, football, playing, boxing."

Registration of dads may be done in advance by students. Fathers will get complimentary tickets to the Idaho-North Dakota State football game and the Idaho-University of North Dakota boxing card.

Swing time as swung by Jim McFarland and his 14-piece Pep band orchestra will float across Memorial gym Friday night—from the orchestra itself under a specially-built "shell" and through the public address system whose purpose it is to reach every nook in the big gym.

Band to Parade
Half-time entertainment for the football game Saturday will be a parade of the university military band under the direction of Robert Lyon. To be given out at half-time are the prizes to the dad who has sent the most students to Idaho and to the "pa" who came the greatest distance to see the game.

Climax for the dads, of course, will find outlet in the meet slugging between two of the greatest collegiate teams in the country—Vandals of Idaho and the Sioux boxers of University of North Dakota.

Register Dads Early To Avoid the Rush, Says 'Cap' Horton

Idaho's dads will have the best seats in the stadium for the North Dakota game, announced Graduate Manager George Horton, yesterday.

"Tickets for both the game and the fight card will be given to dads of Idaho students," Horton said. "But students must register at my office in the gym, presenting their ASUI books if they wish free tickets for their fathers."

Either the fathers of the students and fathers together must call for the tickets. None will be given to students alone. The only charge on either ticket will be the government tax.

"Students should register as early as possible," urges Horton "to avoid a rush on the game day."

Views of the Readers

The Argonaut welcomes letters from readers for publication in this column. Letters must be signed, although only initials will be used, unless permission to use the full name is given. Letters must be short; preference will be given brief letters. The right is reserved to shorten letters or to delete portions in the interests of the university and the Argonaut.

To the Editor and Dear J. M.:
Your's (J.M.'s) is the true spirit of dissatisfaction. Your caustic observations of the Idaho co-ed represents the sentiment of, perhaps, half of the university's male population.

My advise to you is this. Either sport fraternity hardware or pledge yourself to Moscow's Legion of Forgotten Men. We, of the latter, try to assume the philosophical attitude of a dog whose day is coming. We glory in our failure to mix with the fairer sex. We do not face the campus environment with your fighting spirit.

We are dreamers; we avoid the realism that is here by picturing the possibilities that might be ours in years to come. Some day we'll meet the girl of our dreams. If she is in school, we forget about it. There are others in this university that are more qualified than we—those whose qualifications seems to be plenty of money, a gift of simple gab, and fraternal backing. We know we don't have a chance. We are the quiet boys who slink unnoticed to our classes and the sloppy individuals who don't bother about women.

J.M., follow our example: get drunk once in a while and forget about it.

Signed: M.B.

Co-eds Answer

EDITOR'S NOTE: That Idaho students are not yet so dead as to allow damaging statements about the womanhood of the campus to pass unnoticed is evident... M.B.'s endorsement of J.M.'s blasting tirade of last week contrasts sharply with the caustic utterances of two co-eds, who automatically prohibited getting their letters printed by signing their initials only—not their names. They do deserve some mention, anyway.

The two women, an R.J. and B.W., were quite incensed over J.M.'s indictment of Idaho women. B.W. pointed out that she, too, was from California, was not proud of it, thinks Idaho "hello" spirit much finer than sunkist, California snobishness, pooh-poohs J.M.'s achievements as a film extra. She continues to advise J.M. that he is not a true example of California manhood (witness her Pomona-schooled brother) and says "if the halls of this university aren't big enough to accommodate your over-sized head, why not hire yourself elsewhere? It would no doubt cause satisfaction all the way around—the intellectually, shallow, stupid, snobbish, petty, gossiping group of Idaho co-eds wouldn't miss you a-tall!" She concludes on the same high plane of womanhood outraged by observing "so you say PHOOEY for the Idaho co-eds? I say THE HELL WITH YOU!", which strenuous dismissal is no doubt evidence for something or other, perhaps of freedom of speech among American women.

Intellect vs. Popularity
R. J., in subtle vein, points out that intellect has almost nothing to do with popularity, opines J.M.'s past achievements as direct results of popularity, thereby casts aspersions on J.M.'s intellect. In the remainder of the seven-point program she presented, R.J. likened her critic to a small amphibian in a large body of water, questioned his approval of Idaho men, recommended for him a huge "P" for his pajamas—not to stand for Idaho... Pressing her ideas further, she declared her unwillingness to date with J.M., and questioned his literary interests.

In still another letter, signed by the Anti-J.M. society, outraged womanhood en masse revealed doubts that 'Idaho gentlemen' are seeking women of great intellect—have outgrown their high school Casanova tactics." They went on to say that "an Idaho man expects more than intelligent conversation in payment for an evening's entertainment, more than the average girl is willing to give.... The girls of the campus would appreciate an opportunity to carry on an intelligent conversation, instead of being compelled to fight for their ideals."

In concluding, the anti-J.M.s wished "that these conceited, uncultured, mentally-stunted excuses of American manhood... would 'slow down.'" And so the battle rages—

That Typographical Error
The typographical error is a slippery thing and you can hunt till you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by.
Till the forms are off the presses, it is strange how still it keeps;
It shrinks down in a corner, and it never stirs or peeps.
That typographical error, too small for human eyes,
Till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size.
The boss, he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans;
The copy reader drops his head upon his hands and moans.
The remainder of the issue may be clean as clean can be—
But that typographical error is the only thing you see.—Selected.

Automobile Wreck Jars Students

Smash-up Results In Minor Injuries; Cars Are Demolished

An automobile accident two miles south of Moscow resulted in slight injury to three university freshmen students Saturday evening about 9 o'clock. A light coupe, driven by Robert Einhouse, Moscow, sideswiped a sedan driven by S. W. Taylor, Headquarters.

Einhouse, son of Dr. J. Harry Einhouse, university physician, was driving toward Lewiston with two student companions, when he failed to see Taylor approaching as he rounded a curve near the Ward Gano ranch home, south of town. According to Orville Crooks, state traffic officer, the cars struck on their left fenders and Taylor's car was shoved off the road. Neither car overturned.

Injuries Slight
Jack Baker, Rupert, and Woody Reed, Twin Falls, students, were treated by Dr. C. O. Armstrong, following the accident. Reed's knee was deeply cut, and Baker suffered cuts about the hands and face.

William Ricks, who was riding with Taylor, received cuts on the face and a sprained arm. Both drivers received only minor bruises and abrasions.

Band Heads South For Week's Trip

Musical Organization Will Make Three Broadcasts During Tour

According to word received from the high schools in the southern part of the state, South Idaho is anxious to hear the Pep Band, when that group makes its tour through the southern section of the state next week.

The band will leave Sunday, November 22, and return the following Saturday. Besides playing at high schools, the band will play over stations KIDO, Boise; KTFI, Twin Falls; and KSL, Salt Lake City; and at the Thanksgiving game in Ogden. The game will be broadcast.

The band's programs will feature a trumpet solo by Dick Baker, swing music, and school songs. The tour will be made in the university bus by 22 members of the organization, and Dr. J. W. Barton, its adviser.

Next, as far as geographical location is concerned, all the Colorado teams Idaho would have to play are at least as far away as the most distant city in which Idaho usually plays now, San Francisco. Few of the Coast teams we now play are that distant, while a majority of the Rocky Mountain clubs are. The Utah

Bulldozers Speed up Work on Playfield For Sweet Hall

Bulldozers were speeding up levelling work on a new playground area below the new Willis Sweet dormitory yesterday, after having completed their work on the new stadium site.

"The finishing touches in grading Idaho's new stadium bowl were made at the end of last week, and now the bulldozers are being used to level the ground for the new recreation area," commented R. W. Lind, superintendent of building and grounds for the university.

"The grounds will provide recreational facilities for the occupants of the new dormitory," said Mr. Lind.

Dr. Kendall Speaks On Public Health

Bacteriologist Discusses Basic Causes of Various Diseases and Control Methods

The parasite state is the basic cause of disease, according to Dr. Arthur I. Kendall, professor of bacteriology at Northwestern university, who spoke Friday. He told of discoveries which have led to the control of some of the worst scourges of the day—small-pox, schools are the only ones reasonably close.

Third, southern Idaho has cried to the skies for Idaho games in that section, but the crowds turning out to see the games didn't reflect much enthusiasm at the ticket booth. If they won't turn out to see the Vandals play in their own yard, will they go the "easy traveling distance" to Colorado to see them play? It seems unlikely.

Idaho would be just as well off to make a bid to enter the Northwest conference as the Rocky Mountain. Most of the teams are too small, but at least the expenses would be less, the traveling distance shorter, and the trips less harrowing to the players.

for instance, which has now become so controlled that to have it is considered disgraceful. Another absolutely unnecessary disease is diphtheria, which Dr. Kendall predicted will totally disappear within a short time. Leprosy has already run its course and is practically non-existent.

Diseases Differ
"The most acute diseases we have," quoted the bacteriologist, "seldom cause much suffering in mankind, because by destroying the host germ they come to the end of their life span, since they are incapable of breeding outside of the host. Consequently, the diseases with high mortality run out in a short time. Periodic diseases—measles, whooping cough—permit their host to live a long life and disseminate countless germs to propagate disease."

Dr. R. H. Halverson yesterday told of a former speech given by Doctor Kendall in which he told of his experiences combating yellow fever in the Panama Canal zone during 1904. Doctor Kendall, with 23 other men, was sent to Panama to help construct the canal. On Easter Sunday these men attended services at a small Catholic mission.

Tells Weird Story
The padre in charge had a photograph taken of himself and these 24 men. On his left were 21 of them and on his right were three. Within one month the men on his left had died. They had been stricken with yellow fever, which was carried by the mosquito, which they were trying so hard to get under control.

A.W.S. to Hold Talent Assembly Wednesday At 7:30

Sparkling talent from all the women's group houses on the campus will characterize the assembly given by the Associated Women students Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Everything from good old mountain music to heart-rending torch songs will emit from the auditorium stage Wednesday night. Just like family stunt night, the members of Idaho's family of Associated Women students will present their amazing talents for the benefit of what is hoped will be the largest crowd of the year.

A highlight of the evening's program will be the pledging of upperclasswomen to Cardinal Key.

Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, and Prof. Archie Jones will assist.

Along Fraternity Row

Independents Give Informal Dances

Two independent groups had informal dances this week-end.

On Friday the 13th the University club gave a superstitious dance at the L. D. S. Institute. Guests had to walk under a ladder, get on top of the dance floor, Black cut-outs of cats, horseshoes and open umbrellas covered the walls.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. William V. Halverson, Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Stauffer, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Joss. Dick Paris' orchestra provided the music.

Thanksgiving was the theme of the dance at the Idaho club Saturday night. Corn stalks, pumpkins, and pictures of turkeys were the decorations.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Woodbury.

Yo-Ho-Ho and a Bottle of Rum

Pirates forgot their bloody deeds for awhile Saturday night and capered merrily on the ship's deck at the Delta Chi house. Guests at this pirate dance climbed up a gang plank to the third floor of the chapter house, which represented the deck of a ship showing the masts and sails.

Bert Wood's orchestra was at the helm. Cannons leered through the portholes of the ship. The programs were a gory red and bore a pirate's grimacing face. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Foskett, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Corless.

Co-ed Prom Is Masquerade Ball

The annual Co-ed prom, sponsored by the Home Economics club, will be held at the Blue Bucket on December 4. The Blue Bucket orchestra will furnish the music. Any woman may attend, and this year for the first time the women will bring dates instead of other women, as has been the custom in the past. The affair will be a masquerade, without precedent on the Idaho campus.

It will be a program dance, but with everyone masked, it will be impossible to exchange dances the first half of the evening. After the program at intermission, however, masks will be removed and dances may be exchanged. There will be a limited number of tickets which will be sold to the women for 75 cents a couple.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dean and Mrs. J. A. Kostalek, Miss Marion Featherstone, Dr. Evelyn Miller, Miss Elsie Maxwell, Miss Ruth Smith, Miss Adah Lewis, and T. C. Pritchard.

Talented Cast Named For ASUI Production, "Paths of Glory"

Miss Jean Collette, director of dramatics, announces the second ASUI play as "Paths of Glory," to be presented December 11 and 12 in the auditorium. The play was adapted by Sidney Howard, one of America's leading playwrights, from the novel of the same name by Humphry Cobb. It is a tragic war play in 17 scenes.

Principles of the large cast include, Glendon Davis, George Oram, Ray Hyke, Aldrich Bowler, Andrew James, Gene Ryan, Peter Dodds, William Hedges, Fred Rasmussen, Theodore Pyzyk, Charles Marshall, and Erma Lewis.

Shrubs and trees should be transplanted in the fall, winter, and early spring.

When a young man swears undying devotion, says Dr. Calvin Stone of Stanford university, he should hold his head instead of clasping his hand over his heart. What counts, says the doctor, is the pituitary gland at the base of the skull.

Most young men, however, still clasp their hands, for they are aware that they will be holding their heads soon enough.

Committees Start Work on Winter Sports Dance

Key Groups Plan Hoe-Down Thanksgiving Weekend to Raise Funds for Winter Playground

Blue Key and Cardinal Key are keeping the home fires burning Thanksgiving week-end by sponsoring an all-college dance on Saturday, November 28, in Memorial gym. Paul Ennis' orchestra, enlarged to include nine pieces, will be featured in a huge shell in one corner of the floor which, with the addition of amplifiers imported from Lewiston, should improve the acoustics in the gym.

For Ski-Jump Fund
The primary function of the dance is to raise a fund sufficient to start immediate work on a ski-jump which will be the first step in the planned winter-sport's playground on Moscow mountain. The toboggan-slide and other projects will probably be constructed when funds are contributed by interested organizations.

Committees Listed
The following committees have been appointed to organize the dance: publicity — Phil Haring, Jack McKinney, Dorothy Brown, and Ruth Haller; finance — Elizabeth Coates, Delsa Crowley; decorations — Judson Wark, John Banks, Doug Smith; tickets — Hal Smith, Bill Armstrong, Edith Slatter, Julie Davis; service — Bill Maclear, Bob Granville, and Mark Robinson.

Tickets for 40 cents a person will be on sale beginning Thursday at the Blue Bucket inn and at Jerry's.

Hampton Will Sing At Senior Ball

Solo singer for the Senior ball is Elvin Hampton, '33, former soloist for the Vandaleers. Hampton will blend his voice with Paul Ennis' nine-piece band December 5 to hand out a brand of dance music that will be both novel and attractive, according to Winston Goss, chairman for the Senior ball.

A Genesee farmer, Hampton has not failed to keep up with his hobby. Last year he sang over station KHJ at Los Angeles in a regular program. Two years ago he traveled with the Gonzaga university glee club through southwestern Canada as a special soloist.

More Entertainment Features Subject to the Pursuit of Senior Talent Hunters, Some Half Arranged, Some Mere Dreams.

The members of all the committees assigned to the comparatively large task of putting on one of the very few formal all-college dances of the year met at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house Thursday night. Seated in a big circle, some 20 seniors started firing so many suggestions that it was decided to hold meetings of individual committees this week to get the ideas hammered down to consistency.

Co-eds Sponsor Organized Hike

The Women's Athletic association sponsored its second organized hike of the semester last Saturday. Twenty women left at 12:30 and hiked to Paradise ridge where they enjoyed a weiner roast. Points were given for this, the last organized hike of this semester.

The first engineering graduate from Idaho was Arthur Adair. He graduated in 1896 with a degree in civil engineering. He obtained his master in 1897 and then went to Cornell for a year. He is now located at Seaciff, L. I., New York.

Pledges Honored By Tau Kappas

High chairs, bibs, baby clothes, and other items of infants portrayed the "birth" theme in the decorations of the Tau Kappa Epsilon pledge dance Saturday evening at the L. D. S. Institute.

Even Mrs. Dionne would have gasped, had she seen the programs, which in the form of birth announcements, said, "Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Epsilon announce the birth of 21 little Tekes." Patrons and patronesses including Major and Mrs. Charles Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Drager, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyon, were listed as "God-Papas and God-Mamas."

Music was furnished by Dick Baker's orchestra.

Cardinal Key Plans Pledging For Wed

A discussion of new members was the reason for a special meeting of Cardinal Key, upperclasswomen's honorary, held Saturday afternoon at the Pi Beta Phi house. New members are chosen from upperclasswomen on the basis of leadership in their group, leadership in campus activities, scholarship, and personality.

Plans were also made for a joint dance with Blue Key, which will be held the week-end of Thanksgiving.

Each house will entertain six guests again Thursday at Cardinal Key exchange dinners. The schedule follows for Thursday: Hays hall with Pi Beta Phi; Lewis hall with Alpha Chi Omega; Kappa Alpha Theta with Forney hall; Delta Delta Delta with Alpha Phi; College Girls' club with Gamma Phi Beta; Kappa Kappa Gamma with Delta Gamma.

Speech Features Art and Design

Personality as expressed in art and design will be described by Miss Marion Featherstone, instructor in home economics, at the meeting of Westminster Guild, Presbyterian organization for college women, at 5:30 o'clock today in the lounge rooms of the Women's gymnasium.

Carrying out the year's theme of "Westminster Guild Links," Miss Featherstone's topic is "Links within Myself."

All members who have not yet paid their dues are asked to bring them, according to Helen Abbott, treasurer.

Dads Will Compete For Two Awards

Male parents who attend the third annual University of Idaho Dad's Day here Saturday, will compete for two trophy cup awards.

One of the silver cups will go to the father most prolific in the matter of sending students to the University of Idaho. The other will reward the father who traveled the greatest distance to attend the Dad's Day celebration.

Nelson May Win
Virtually certain of winning the first trophy is last year's winner, Adrian F. Nelson, Moscow attorney, an 1897 Idaho graduate. All eight of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson's six sons and two daughters have attended the university. Six thus far have received degrees. The youngest child is a sophomore this year.

Two headline events will feature the Dad's Day program. First is the Idaho-North Dakota State football game, last home contest on Idaho's 1936 schedule. The other is the Idaho-University of North Dakota fight card to be held Saturday evening. Also on Dad's Day dance Friday night.

Arrangements for Dad's Day are in charge of Blue Key, upperclassmen's service organization.

"Bunged-Up" Vandals Prepare For North Dakota State Bisons after Montana Defeat

The furrows were deep on Coach Ted Bank's brow Monday morning as he sized up prospects against the North Dakota State Bisons in next Saturday's Dads' Day battle. That more injuries were heaped on an already almost totally crippled squad in the Montana game Saturday, won by the Grizzlies 16-0, was the main reason for the Vandal coach's worry.

The new names added to the Idaho casualty list are those of John Cooper and Steve Belko. Cooper, the Vandal "iron man" guard, who has missed very few minutes of play in his three years of varsity play, was injured on a knee, but the Idaho mentor expects him to be ready to go by Saturday.

COOPER

Quarterbacks Hard Hit
Belko, last of better quarterbacks on the squad, was carried from the game after three Montana men had tackled him and twisted his spine. He suffered a slight brain concussion, but may be able to play against the Bisons.

Mr. Bank is worrying most over the quarterback position, because no capable reserves remain. Walter Musial was shifted to guard position a week ago to bolster the strength there after Ken Garber's injury put him out for the season. Musial will be needed more than ever with Cooper among the "doubtfuls."

Mostly Subs to Play
"It will be a team made up almost entirely of substitutes that will play against North Dakota Saturday," Mr. Bank said. This week's practice will be almost like the beginning of the season; I'll have to build up virtually a new team."

Speaking of the Montana game last Saturday, Coach Bank said, "Some of the boys couldn't play at all, others hurt old injuries over again, and those that played most of the game were so physically battered from previous games that they were unable to play anywhere near their best."

Despite injuries, however, hope is high around the Vandal camp that the boys will make a creditable showing against the Bisons, for the benefit of the many "dads" that will turn out to see them.

Fumbles Take Toll
Fumbles were responsible again for most of the scores made against them by their opponents. A field goal and a touchdown in the second quarter were both the results of fumbles near the Vandal goal line.

The first touchdown scored by the Grizzlies came within two minutes after the start of the game. On the second play after the kickoff, Jenkins of the Montanans broke through the defenders and raced from his 33-yard line to the Vandal five-yard line. Stopped on the first play, Jenkins lateraled to Popovich on the second for the score. The kick was blocked as the Montana fans cheered wildly, seeing a chance for their first victory over the Vandals in several years.

The Grizzlies added three more points in the second quarter after 12 minutes of playing with a field goal from the nine-yard line. Popovich had recovered Sundberg's fumble on an attempted punt.

Green Outstanding Passer
The last touchdown came mere moments later. An Idaho fumble on the first play after the kickoff was recovered by Montana on the Idaho 24. Marlana made a yard in scrimmage and Popovich followed it with a pass to Williams in the end zone for the points. The try-for-point was successful, Score 16-0.

Dean Green was probably the most outstanding of the new men in the Vandal line-up against the Grizzlies, especially in his passing, tossing 15 out of 32 attempts. They were directly responsible for half of the 10 first downs the Idaho players made. Montana made five, most of them at critical stages of the game.

Devlin and Knap played their usual outstanding game, bearing up well under the "60-minute" games they have played Saturday after Saturday.

Smith and Green Hurt Again
Roise On Bench
Roise, triple-threat halfback who has been a punting-boon to the Vandals all season, did not leave the bench. It is unlikely that his injured knee will permit his playing in the North Dakota game.

The line-up was:

Montana	Idaho
Swanson	LE Knap
Noves	LT Trzuskowski
Gedgoud	LG Ashenbrenner
Matosoci	C Spaugy
Spelman	RG Cooper
Pomajevich	RT Pavkov
Dolan	RE Harrell
Olson	QB Belko
Lazetich	FB Sunberg
Jenkin	LH Devlin
Popovich	RH D. Green

Runners To Meet W.S.C. Friday; Class Relay Finals Are Over

The varsity and freshman cross-country teams will meet the runners of Washington State Friday afternoon at Pullman. The run for the varsity will be over a four and a half-mile course, while the frosh will run three and a half miles.

Montana and Whitman have both fallen before the Idaho varsity in previous meets this fall, and Coach Mike Ryan is expecting his team to make a credible showing against the Cougars. The entire squad will be used in the match, according to Ryan's plans.

The race Friday will be the first competition for the freshmen, but today the freshmen and sophomores are meeting in a race which will be the final workout for the frosh before they meet Washington State.

Interclass Relay Finals Completed
The inter-class relay championship finals were completed last week and brought to an end the activities which have been in progress for the past nine weeks. The 440-yard relay was won by the seniors, with Beeman, Adkins, Smith, and Neely coming in first. Wright, Morton, Cobb, and Dalley managed to take second position away from Peacock, Dodds, Millette, and Probst, representatives of the junior class. The sophomore team of Fluharty, Lathen, Flechtner, and Vervaeke took fourth. Time: 47.2 seconds.

The 880 relay was taken by a combination team of juniors and seniors with Neely and Beeman, running for the seniors and Kantola and Dodds for the juniors. Second place went to the freshman team with Wright, Morton, Zamboni, and Cunningham running. Third was taken by Pixley, Butterfield, Lathen, and Vervaeke of the sophomores, with the frosh B team of Colette, Slade, Phinney, and Miller taking fourth place. Time: 1 minute and 40 seconds.

Seniors Win One-Mile Relay
Other results of the championships follow:
Inter-class one-mile relay: first (seniors), Beeman, Flechtner, Smith, Neely; second (Freshmen A), Morton, Wright, Slade, Cunningham; third (Sophomores-juniors), Butterfield and Vervaeke, sophomores, Peacock and Snyder, juniors; fourth (Freshmen B), Mohan, Miller, Bredon, Higgins. Time: 3 minutes, 44 seconds.

Freshmen Win
Inter-class four-mile relay: first (Freshmen) Colette, Miller, Slade and Cunningham; second (Seniors-Sophomores), Adkins and Neely, seniors, Lathen and Fluharty, sophomores; third (Juniors) Snyder, Kantola, Millette, and Probst. Time: 19 minutes, 32 seconds.

Inter-class medley relay: first (Seniors), Neely, O'Neill, Adkins, Klinger; second (Juniors), Peacock, Millette, Kantola, Snyder; third (Sophomores), Dodds, Butterfield, Lathen, Fluharty; fourth (Freshmen), Miller, Cunningham, Maguire, and Slade. Time: 11 minutes, 13 seconds.

GRADUATE FORESTER WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Dan McKeever, Idaho, '36, has been recently awarded a scholarship by the school of forestry and will soon return to the campus.

To Do Research
McKeever will be engaged in problems of the stimulation and germination of germ and shrub seeds to be used for erosion, game management, and forestry planning purposes. A special scholarship was awarded because of the importance and need at the present time for planning of this type.

The work on this scholarship collegiate championships which will be held at the Hill Military academy, Portland, November 25. The course at Portland is four miles long.

Last year the Vandals took second in the championships, beaten only by the University of Washington. Coach Ryan hopes to reverse the decision this year.

Maupin Leaves To Train For West Point

With West Point military academy his aim, Jere Maupin bid fellow members of the football team and the University of Idaho farewell today as he left for his home in Glendale, California.

Some time after January, depending on vacancies, Jere will enter West Point preparatory school in San Francisco. The preparation consists of a three-term course in mathematics, chemistry, physics, and ancient and American history.

There are 40 students in the San Francisco school, 420 in all such schools in the United States and its possessions. Students of these schools are chosen to West Point academy upon scholastic ability, mainly. A very high percentage is appointed.

Has High Average
Jere's prospects look very bright in view of the averages he has attained in his first two years at Idaho. During his freshman year he made a straight 6 average in the engineering school, playing football at the same time. His average was lower last year, but still well above a "B" average.

"I've liked it very well at Idaho," Jere said yesterday, "but naturally I'm glad to leave under the circumstances. I'm going to stop off at the school on my way home to Glendale, which is just outside of Los Angeles. I'll probably get a job in Frisco till I enter school."

Jere played football in high school under Vic Cameron, '25, a former Vandal football player. It was he that influenced Jere to come to Idaho.

Babes Lose To Cougar Kittens On Rogers Field Saturday, 13-0

An off-day with too many costly errors characterized the Vandal yearlings' 13 to 0 loss to the speedy W.S.C. freshman football squad, Saturday afternoon.

The Idaho line played a good defensive game with Emory Howard, end, being particularly outstanding. In the backfield Durham, Stoddard, and Spicuzza played good football and Otho Holmes, substitute halfback, showed up well in the second half.

W.S.C. got their first touchdown early in the second quarter when Paul Callow, fast-stepping back, broke away for a 37-yard run to the Vandal three-yard line. Callow again carried the ball in a line buck and rammed it across. Fred Brown converted for the Cougar freshmen.

Cougars Intercept Pass
Another long run of 35 yards from an intercepted pass in the fourth quarter again carried the ball to the three-yard line and resulted in a touchdown. The try for point failed.

The teams were fairly even during the first half, but the Idaho yearlings made no serious threats on the Cougar goal in the second half. In the last few minutes, Stoddard of Idaho opened up with a series of long passes which carried the Vandal team down to the Washington State's 30-yard line before the final gun sounded.

Bill Bantz, center, was outstanding on offense for the Cougar babes, and intercepted two passes for good gains. Callow, halfback, gave an outstanding performance with consistently good open-field running and good kicking.

The playing of both teams was marked by frequent fumbles and ragged passing.
