

A wall of smoke through the Palouse air, a chorus of goodbyes between geographically torn hand-holders, the first, yelping cheers of festivity-minded revelers, and the Southern Idaho Christmas special will pull out today. The whole shebang is scheduled to leave at 5:15, but, in the manner of all student excursions, will probably be a half hour late. That's to be expected, like snow in December, only more so.

Bidding for publicity in no uncertain manner is the Two-Can-Live-As-Cheaply-As-One-club of the University of Oregon, association of married students, here mentioned recently. Latest news-squawk put out by Tolaia is the invitation offered David Windsor, once king of Merrie England, to become a honorary member. Prexy Howard Kessler of the group stipulates that Windsor be married first—though the wily Mrs. Simpson need not necessarily be the wedding belle.

Mightily concerned in his "Round Table", front page editorial column of the Washington State Evergreen, was Newsman Rod Bankson of Pullman last Monday. Object of his concern was Saturday night's fight card between Vahdals and Cougars, with the Shumway-McKinnon, George-Doez bouts most seriously disturbing Editor Bankson's equanimity. Speaking of the Shumway fight: "Of course, the fighters can't possibly be blamed for the decision of the judges or the opinions of a news writer, but it is fun to wonder how it feels to take a knockdown in the first round and be carried to victory in the third round hung from the shoulders of the guy who gave you a boxing lesson." Of George's decisive win: "It's also fun to put oneself in Mr. George's place and imagine reading about a clean cut victory through three rounds, and then to achingly remember (split infinitive) the awful shellacking you took from start to finish." Young Mr. Bankson's comments about the "news writer" results from the story in the Spokesman-Review, which gave Shumway the first two rounds and a draw in the third. It would be nice to be nasty about Mr. Bankson's comment—but you saw the card, what do you think?

All agog over Washington's part in the Rose Bowl is the University of Washington campus. The whole affair is spread all over the University of Washington Daily, banners herald the 85,000 Rose Bowl ticket sell out, the choosing of Washington's queen, the progress of the team, the female drum major, Helen Bassett, who'll lead the Husky band. Regardless of all the hullabaloo, the fact still remains that Washington made an unpopular selection of an opponent for the annual Pasadena whoop-te-doo, Pittsburgh's Panthers. "Biggy", Goldberg notwithstanding, weren't the logical eastern players to meet the Huskies. It should have been either Alabama or Louisiana State. With the coming to the front of such attractions as the Sugar Bowl of New Orleans and the Orange Bowl of Florida, Pasadena's bowl can't stand much poor picking. It takes good stock to make good "gravy".

Letter to Santa Claus: Dear Santa—In these days of apprehension before Christmas, before 'tis made known what bawds the Gods have designed for me the coming year, before the snow falls and blots out these everlasting Palouse hills for a while, let me address you. I want another year like 1936, Santy, one with football games, only please make a few more of 'em wins.

Haphazard happenstances: My nominee for the most thrilling bit of lithography around the campus—"Custer's Last Stand"—as it hangs on the wall of Dean Janitor's Fred Skog's office. There're soldiers being scalped, dead Indians, and everything. . . . The intermediate dancing class notion seems to be getting nowhere. . . . students next year will find a vastly different setup in one important college of the university. . . . putting out the Argonaut the day before vacation starts is an imposition. . . . the adverse comment about Spvglass in the last edition of the Argonaut is perfectly justified. . . . the swing Blue Bucket contained good examples of the kind of stuff students like to read.

Coach Caddy Works and his U.C.L.A. Bruins left Moscow yesterday, full of praise for the Idaho Pep band and for the fight displayed by Coach Forrest Twogood's basketball club. I wonder what the southerners thought about the boogie and hissing indulged in by the erudite student body of the University of Idaho. If all the East Side hoodlums this side of the pond had been collected in the gym Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the grippers' chorus of, which they might have been capable would scarcely have exceeded that produced by our supposedly fair-minded sportsmen and sportswomen.

Staff Chooses Ten Biggest Flashes Of Past Year

Infirmiry, V. F. W., Paul Pendarvis, Dormitory, Stadium, Chrisman, Bulldog Victory are News

Since this is the final issue of the Argonaut for 1936, the staff, reminiscing over the year's work selects the 10 "big" news stories which have gone through The Argonaut mill. The stories are selected on a compound basis—relation of the story to student reader interest and student life on one hand and relation to the importance and progress of the university on the other. They are listed here in the order of the issues which they dominated.

Jan. 7.—Path Finally Cleared for New Infirmiry. Pres. M. G. Neale received word December 24, 1935, that the last legal hurdle in the path of the construction of a $118,000 university infirmiry had been successfully cleared.

February, 18.—U. Music Department to Assume Advisory Control of Pep Band. The Idaho pep band voted unanimously last Sunday night to go under the partial supervision of the university music department.

March 20.—Seek WPA Funds for U. Golf Course. Important support, proposed by J. Leo Hood, state supervisor of WPA—may soon lead to construction of the proposed 100-acre golf course back of the arboretum. The state official, in Moscow for a short time Wednesday afternoon, expressed his belief that WPA funds may be obtained for laying out the course.

V.F.W. Organized March 24.—Veterans of Future Wars Organized William Randolph Hearst Post. Over 75 students gathered at the Phi Gamma Delta house Sunday morning to become charter members of the Idaho Veterans of Future Wars and to hold the first meeting of the William Randolph Hearst Post. Negotiations had already been started by airmail to affiliate with a national organization.

Chenoweth Leaves For Minneapolis To Hold Forums

Philosophy Professor One of Five Speakers in Adult Education Enterprise Sponsored by Gov't

Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the department of philosophy, will leave this afternoon for Minneapolis. Professor Chenoweth is one of five speakers who will take part in an adult education enterprise in Minneapolis sponsored by the federal government.

"This educational project will take the form of public forums," Professor Chenoweth explained. "Meetings will be held at various locations throughout the city, and at each forum the leader will speak for 45 minutes. Following the speech there will be an equal length of time spent in answering questions from the other members of the forum." Mrs. Chenoweth is making the trip with Professor Chenoweth. Their daughter Maurine, librarian at the college of the City of New York, will join them in Minneapolis to spend her vacation there. Mrs. John Montgomery, a former instructor of philosophy in the university, and Dr. Virtue will instruct Professor Chenoweth's classes during his absence.

CRAWFORD LEAVES FOR WINDY CITY

Dean Ivan C. Crawford of the college of engineering left by train for Chicago Wednesday night, where he will attend the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, December 19-20. The council will discuss accreditation of colleges of engineering, in which, as chairman of the committee on engineering schools, Dean Crawford has played a prominent part.

men. It, indeed, speaks well for the culture and refinement of our university. The whole affair was stupendous, like the stentorian chant of a thousand braying jackasses.

Be Patient; Avoid Cuts

Students who attend their last class on Friday before Christmas vacation or their first class after vacation, Monday, January 4, will not have their grades subjected to the prescribed 10 per cent cut, Miss Ella L. Olson, registrar, stated Thursday.

Should a student fail to be present for his last class on Friday, he receives a 10 per cent cut in that class and every other class he has failed to attend that day. The cut will be received only in the class not attended, and not in all of a student's courses.

Infirmiry And Hall To Be Finished By February

Golf Course and Student Union Building to See No Further Advancement Until Spring

The infirmiry building and Willis Sweet hall will be completed about February 1, but the golf course and the student union building will see no further progress until spring, according to R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The contractors of the new infirmiry have had a 60-day extension on their time limit, but the building will be open for business in time for the spring flu epidemic.

"Willis Sweet hall will be ready second semester," Mr. Lind said. "This will be good news for the boys quartered in Lewis court, who have had a long and trying first semester."

The water piping has been laid for the new nine-hole golf course, and the first sign of spring will be the signal for the planting of grass on the fairway. The club house will be started in the spring and finished during the summer. Many trees have been planted along the fairways. In years to come the course should be one of the beauty spots of the campus, according to Mr. Lind.

"Hams" Will Keep Filaments Aglow During Vacation

Amateur Radio Operators to Erect Antenna, Paint, Install Phone Band if Ambition Holds Out

Radio students of the university resolved to accomplish three jobs over the vacation days at a meeting of the Rho Epsilon chapter Tuesday. They have resolved to erect a transmitting antenna, install a short wave phone band, and paint their station.

Need Improvements The radio station at the top of the engineering building annex has been in need of these improvements for some time, according to Kenneth Hungerford, secretary of Rho Epsilon. The transmitting antenna is going to be a great improvement over the one that has been standing for some time, as it will be much higher and larger.

Formerly the chapter sent its messages over the air by code, but over the holidays they plan to make a short wave phone band which will tend to make the messages clearer and more concise.

Will Use Paint To improve the interior of our station we plan to give it a thorough paint job," said Hungerford.

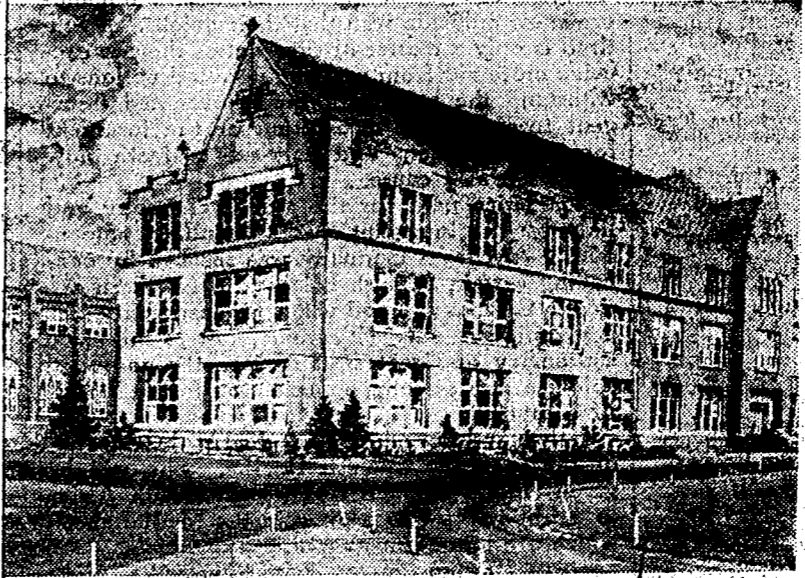

Object of Rho Epsilon is to promote interest in amateur radio and experimental short wave radio. One of the most important activities of the chapter is the exchange of press messages. Whenever important news is to be conveyed to other colleges for the school paper, Rho Epsilon gets the news to the destination as quickly as possible. Many of the members have done experimenting with their own ultra-short wave sets.

Make Wide Contacts The Idaho chapter has contacted virtually every state in the union, as well as several foreign countries—including Germany, Australia, Stratts of Magellan, Canada, Mexico.

Last year Rho Epsilon was the "University of Idaho Radio club" but through contacts with W. S. C. last summer a Gamma chapter of Rho Epsilon was installed here. There are 14 members in the chapter, of whom nine are licensed operators.

Ad Building Takes Wing

Architect's sketch shows how the new library wing of the building will look when completed. The wing will be 95 by 53 feet and joins onto the portion completed in 1906 for the library. The library will occupy the basement and first two floors. The third floor will be devoted to classrooms. A PWA grant of $49,000 has been made. The total cost will be $110,000. The addition is to be completed by July 1. Present library facilities have been inadequate for many years, with thousands of books being stored in cases in the basement because of a lack of shelf space.

Candle Lighting Program Climaxes Soph Holly Day; Assembly, Dance Precede

The annual Christmas Candlelight program, a "vacation" dance, and a student talent assembly were the outstanding features of the sophomore Holly Day program yesterday.

TACKLE UNDERGOES HEAD OPERATION

Aloysius Tabaczynski, first-string tackle on Idaho's freshman football team this season, was operated upon yesterday morning for a troublesome mastoid complaint. He played a few minutes in the Idaho-W.S.C. freshman game at Pullman November 14.

Special Takes 500 Homeward; Many Go By Bus

Hot Dog! Vacation is here! This is the implicit feeling or overt expression of most Idaho students—banishing thoughts of studies, quizzes, and sleepless night—as they go homeward to the "four corners" this afternoon in preparation for a 16-day Christmas vacation. Classes will begin again Monday, January 4. About 500 students are traveling on the Union Pacific Student special according to estimates of Union Pacific officials. This train, which is supposed to leave at 5:15 o'clock, has 15 cars, consisting of one baggage car, an observation car, two coaches, and four sleepers for men. For women there is one coach and four tourist sleepers; two diners will complete the train. The regular 7 p. m. train leaving for South Idaho will have four tourist sleepers added.

Stays Box Compass Union Pacific stages going north south, east, and west, are accommodating several hundred students this afternoon, according to officials. About 300 students are traveling on the Northern Pacific line. Four extra coaches have been added to the train going to Butte, Mont., from Spokane.

On the return trip, the Southern Idaho special will arrive in Moscow at 12:40 p. m. January 3, instead of 12:15, as previously announced. The 10 per cent cut on grades will be enforced on last class missed before and first class after vacation.

New Library Bonds Over-Subscribed At Spokane

University of Idaho Securities Sold Out Within Hour After Tender to Public Wednesday

Joint offer of a new issue of $63,000 4 per cent bonds of the Idaho state board of education and the Regents of the University of Idaho Wednesday by Murphy, Favre & Co., and Ferris & Haffgrove was oversubscribed within an hour after tender to the public, according to the former.

The funds will be used by the University along with a PWA grant of $45,000 for the addition of a library west wing to the administration building on the campus. The bonds were priced at $101 and interest.

They will mature semi-annually from 1937 to 1941 and are callable on any interest date upon 30 days' notice after January 1, 1939. The bonds are the direct obligation of the board of regents and the state board of education and are further secured by a fee levied upon each student attending the university.

Armstrong Is Elected Blue Key President To Replace Dyer

Bill Armstrong was recently elected president of Blue Key to replace Jack Dyer who has accepted a position and will not return to school after Christmas.

In school Armstrong has been active in student affairs, having held several offices including: Duke of Intercollegiate Knights, national king of Intercollegiate Knights, initiated into Blue Key in 1935, vice president of ASUI and secretary of Interfraternity council.

Jack Dyer was president of Interfraternity council last year, Junior Knight, and member of Alpha Kappa Pi. He is from Grangeville.

Journalism Majors Hear Ad Agents

Wellington and Williamson of Fenger-Hall Co., Sketch Advertising Problems

Journalism majors taking problems in newspaper publishing came face to face with national advertising representatives yesterday when David Williamson and Gilbert Wellington—employees of Fenger-Hall company, Ltd., appeared before the class.

National Advertising Mr. Williamson sketched the work done by a national advertising representative, as differentiated from an advertising agency. The problems class has been studying this phase of the advertising field.

"Acting as the go-between for the newspaper publisher and advertising agency," explained Mr. Williamson, "the ad representative studies the market in which a newspaper is located, then persuades the advertising agency to buy space in that particular paper. The big manufacturing companies hire the agencies to handle all their advertising campaigns for them."

Idaho Women Find 1936 A Busy Year

1936 has been a big year for the women of this campus—and why not? It's been Leap Year.

The first event of the new year came right after the holidays. It was the formal dinner known as Matrix table, and sponsored by Theta Sigma, journalism honorary, for outstanding upperclasswomen and town women. Theta Sigma pledges were tapped at the dinner. Two weeks later the annual Spurr sponsored the annual Jitney dance. It was the women's first opportunity to take advantage of leap year, and was well attended.

Tongs Pledge
After a nightmare known as semester examinations sorority women conducted rushing for new women on the campus, and planned tongs ribbons on 11 women. Easter vacation brought Kappa Phi from other schools to Moscow for the annual Kappa Phi convention.

But never in the whole year were the women so busy as they were on Mother's weekend. Besides entertaining mothers, the May Queen was crowned, and Spurr and Mortar Board pledges were tapped. To make the weekend complete Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary for women in music sponsored the annual song fest, when the houses presented their best songs in their best singing voices.

Then came the long rest known as summer vacation. With the opening of the new school year, sororities rushed the new women on the campus. All houses were filled with pledges.

Armistice Matinee
Armistice day the women again entertained their men friends at a matinee dance. The new dating bureau helped women who had no "one and only" to invite a man to the dance.

The Spurr Jitney dance came along early this year and helped us all to celebrate the one day Thanksgiving holiday.

And in between times, each group house was having from one to six dances; national officers were visiting fraternal groups; Spurr was lending a helping hand where ever they were needed; honoraries in every field were doing their bit for the campus by holding regular meetings, and conducting service activities. The A.W.S. elected officers, and the cabinet approved loans to worthy upperclassmen who applied for them. Senior women, who majored in music gave recitals. Religious groups carried out devotional programs and social activities.

Which Reminds Me

Christmas whirl of dances, classes, and presents is with us again. The gals and boys have been more than whooping it up—and burning the midnight oil to cram for that quiz.

Johnny Bruce certainly looked cute in her green taffeta informal as she went up to receive her present from Santa (John Cooper) Claus. The skirt of the dress is very full, gathered from the waist, and whirls beautifully when she dances. And does Jerry beam with pride?

Pink Elephants
When the A. T. O.'s saw pink elephants around Mickey Dwight at the Tin Can Dance, they were really seen't them—except the elephants were blue and were decorating her pink flannel p.j.'s. The outfit was complete—from drop seat to night cap to bedroom slippers. And Charley didn't look so bad himself.

Swagger coats are still with us as witness Helen Jean Way's green camel's hair. And milady wears it with quite the proper swing.

Thoughts while thinking deep: Walt Dell has quite the neatest looking suit on the campus—brown plaid, large patch pockets, fitted back, 'n' everything. Margaret Mattes has a Vogulish new hair do, which reminds me, Ollie Power has hair do—but not very much. (Hair do you like this column?) Patsy Duell's brown suede Hi-Boys are very handy for Moscow's silmy weather, as are Charlotte Thompson's light colored leather ones with plaid tops. Johnny Banks goes in for color—as lots of boys are doing—and wears a green snap brim hat.

My Xmas List

Dere Kids,
I sure wishe all ye gals would give as ye olde gifts, clothes to the men; and for the men to retaliate in the same fashion by giving clothes to ye fellows. So I would have clothes to write about in this colymn.

And putting his thumb to the tip of his nose—
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
Eye now,
10 per cent off if we students cut a class
99 per cent of the kids, going home will pass out!!
—Merry Christmas!—

Along Fraternity Row

Ridenbaugh Banquet
Ridenbaugh hall had a Christmas banquet Wednesday night.

Annual Party
Phi Delta Theta entertained Delta Gamma at the annual Christmas party Monday night.

Luncheon Guest
Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, was a luncheon guest of Miss Marion Featherstone at Forney hall Wednesday.

Chi Alpha Guests
Harry Witter, Donald Dewey, Stanley Hall, Robert Walker, Laverne Cobbett, Willis Brown, and Ralph Edin were dinner guests of Chi Alpha Pi Wednesday night.

Forney Hall Guest
Miss Elsie Maxwell head of home economics department, was a luncheon guest of Forney hall Tuesday.

Christmas Parties
Alpha Tau Omega had its annual Christmas party Wednesday night; Lewis hall entertained at a Christmas fireside Tuesday; College Women's club gave a yuletide fireside Wednesday night.

Parties Planned For Dec. 24, 30

The Faculty Women's club will sponsor two holiday parties at Ridenbaugh hall. The dates for these affairs are December 24 and December 30. All students remaining here during vacation are invited, including those who live in town.

The evenings will be spent dancing or playing cards and other games. Men and women may come with or without dates. The functions both begin at 8:30 p. m.

Socials Arranged For Foresters

Plans are being made for a series of recreational and social events for all forestry students remaining in Moscow over the Christmas holidays. Dean Dwight S. Jeffers of the school of forestry and Dr. Eve'yn Miller, dean of women, are in charge of the parties.

As the school of forestry attracts men from all over the United States, a considerable number are unable to go home for vacation. These parties are planned to furnish entertainment for these students.

Unless there is a change in weather, there will be sleigh rides, toboggan parties, and out-door picnic suppers.

All women students will stay in Forney hall, with Mrs. Stella Keys from the Chi Alpha Pi house as hostess. All the women are invited to come to these events; and since there will be more men than women, other women students who would be interested in coming should call the office of Dean Jeffers or call Mrs. Jeffers at 8881.

D.T.G. Makes Plans For Vacation Dance

At a luncheon meeting of Daleth Teth Gimel Wednesday noon plans were completed for an informal dance to be held December 29 in Ridenbaugh hall. Members and friends of the organization are invited to attend. In addition to the dancing, there will be games. Refreshments will be served. A charge of 10 cents per person will be collected at the door.

Letters from other chapters of D.T.G. at Pullman, Lewiston, and Salem, Oregon, were read at the meeting. About 65 members were present.

Wild Life Federation Meets at Capital In January

The annual meeting of the Idaho Wild Life Federation will be held in Boise January 10, 11, and 12. Local interest in this movement has expressed itself in the organization of the Latah county Wild Life federation of 200 Latah hunters, which was formed December 8. Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the philosophy department at the university, was the chairman of the meeting which established the local unit.

North Idaho will profit in uniting with the state federation by having a greater chance of effecting legislation to govern resident licenses and to provide food for the elk herds during the winter.

Phi U Annual Xmas Party Held Tuesday

An old-fashioned talk fest was the main feature of the Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, Christmas party, Tuesday evening, at the home of Lucille Mills.

The new members presented a stunt. A gift exchange and refreshments climaxed the evening. Members of the home economics faculty were guests at the party.

Xmas Get-Together Given By W.A.A.

A program consisting of selections by the Pi Phi trio and group singing followed the regular business meeting of the Women's Athletic association Tuesday in the lounge rooms of the Women's gymnasium.

Doris Franson played the part of Santa Claus and passed out candied apples. Frances Wakefield was in charge of the arrangements.

Christmas Gayety At Dean's Party

Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, was hostess at a Christmas party at Forney hall Tuesday evening. Besides all the members of her staff, guests included sorority housemothers and the hostesses dietitians of the dormitories.

Guests met immediately after dinner for dessert and coffee. They provided their own entertainment with original stunts. Humorous gifts, with rhymes enclosed, were on the tree for each guest present.

The group all contributed to the composing of a letter of greeting to Miss Permeal J. French, former dean of women here, wishing her a merry Christmas.

All members of the Cosmopolitan club in Moscow during vacation meet at Hotel Moscow at 5 p. m. sharp on Saturday, December 18. Bring an exchange gift. Cars will take members to a Christmas dinner and party at Mrs. Wedin's in the country.

Social Flings Of 1936 Now Fond Memories

Social slides of 1936. Here they are!

First on the pile is a picture of the Spurr Jitney dance last January 17. Remember that? It was first to break through the crust of social ice into which all-college social spirit had congealed during Christmas vacation.

Social activity became female-minded from February 3 to 7. Rush parties occupied all the spare and un-spare time.

Spinsters Skip
Oh, here's that funny picture of the Spinster's Skip. Wasn't that gay though? Remember the hatchets and cherries they had hanging all over the place cause it was Washington's birthday? Mortar Board sponsored the dance, and it was really outstanding among Spinster's Skips that really stand out. It was the first time that 12:30 permission had been granted to Idaho women, too. Doesn't that seem funny now, looking back? It was a remarkable transition for that period though. Just breaking another Idaho tradition.

Junior Week Hilarious
Triumphant Greek initiates were the motifs of a deluge of dances which poured down in February and March. These led the social whirl right into the Junior jamboree. A whole week of high-pitched hilarity, March 17 to 21. A merry mixer, a sophisticated Prom, and an almost "untenable" cabaret, as Wallis Simpson would say.

Oh, look what's coming! It's April 2 and 3, and it's that ripping Pep band show. Wasn't that hot, though?

Here is a picture of Paul Bendavis and his 18-piece orchestra! Oh yes, it's last year's Publications ball. It was held in the Memorial gym and the walls were just covered with signs and advertisements. The music was really the cream, though. "Hope the Press club does as well this year."

Homecoming Headaches
Here is the last of 1936, the fall semester this year. Of course you can recall all of its highlights with just a flicker of the gray nerve cells. There was the Homecoming mixer and the alumni dance which were huge successes, remember? You could really hear the orchestra in its new acoustically-excellent "shell".

Just a week or so ago there was that glorious Senior ball. Not bad, huh? There was that big Dad's day mixer too. Don't forget the winter sports dance that Blue Key and Cardinal Key sponsored during Thanksgiving vacation either. You won't if you were there.

Well, that is goodbye to our 1936 social slush. May 1937 hold as much in store for Idaho's social satellites!

Dancing Classes, Co-ed Proms Break Ice For Lucky People

By Phyllis Rand
Styles change, new slang phrases are appropriated, and conventions are modified! But the University of Idaho is a lap ahead this year with its definite reunion of the masculine and feminine congeniality. Accusations of co-eds taking advantage of leap year are in order, but the stronger sex hasn't shown many signs of personal disgust or rejection.

It all started many months ago when the annual frosh mixer, which was traditionally a one-sided affair, turned into an opportunity dance with dates for everyone by means of a "plucking partners from a hat" system.

Dancing Class
Proverbially speaking, once the ice is broken anything goes. He goes to dancing class, and she goes to instruct him. That is, she goes until it's made a date affair and then—who goes.

Perhaps we should include Saturday night 12:30 o'clock permission as one of the major issues in our new social improvements. If a boy is interested in a girl he has from 9 to 12:30 to convince her that he should pass his pin—or vice versa; and if she's not the kind of a girl for a boy like him, well—headaches will always be in vogue—and visa-versa.

Dating Bureau
And this brings up the Dating Bureau, which has been brought up before; so we'll skip it—but it is one of those things.

Vandals Split U.C.L.A. Series With 30-26 Victory Wednesday

Will Meet Cheney Indians at Memorial Gym Next Saturday Night

Showing lots of spunk, a do-or-die attitude, and plenty of drive, Idaho's determined casaba tossers came back strong Wednesday night to pile up an insurmountable lead over the U.C.L.A. Bruins after losing Tuesday night's battle. The scores rung up in the two battles marked by 69 personal fouls were 30-26 the last night, and 45-34 the first night.

Will Meet Cheney
They go into action again Saturday night against Cheney normal's Indians on the Memorial gymnasium court at 7:30 p. m. The game was originally scheduled to be played at Cheney on the same night.

After falling behind five points at the out-set of the Wednesday game, the Vandals rallied to tie the score at 15 at the half time. Soon after the half, Bill Bohman, co-star center with Bill Kramer, dropped in a field goal to put the Vandals in the lead which they never relinquished.

Take Big Lead
Idaho pushed into an 11-point lead, 28-17, during the first part of the second half in a rally that had had the crowd wild with excitement. Sensing that the Uclans might put on a rally during the closing minutes, the spectators urged the Vandals on to a greater lead.

Having scored on only the single goal that Reitz had made during the first 10 minutes, the Bruins took charge during the closing minutes behind Guard Lueke to narrow the Vandal lead to four points.

Bill Bohman, forward, who has been high scorer in three of the five games the Vandals have played, tied Bill Kramer for high scoring honors with six points. That was one more point than Orville Appleby of the Californians scored.

Many Fouls Remove Four
Four men were removed from the game on the 33 personal fouls called by Referees Archie Buckley and "Squinty" Hunter, Spokane. Idaho's 17 sent Don Johnson, Bill Kramer, and Keith Jacob to the bench. Johnny Ball, all-Coast center and third high scorer of the southern division conference last year was the penalized Bruin.

The first game was played in a northern division—with the center jump, while the southern division out-of-bounds duling was used the second night. The southern system made play much faster and seemed to make a hit with players and fans alike.

Winter High Scorer
Tuesday night saw the Vandals lead most of the first quarter, but gradually fall behind from then on to the final gun. At the end of the first 10 minutes they led, 12-10. Half time score was 15-20.

All-star Ball and Guard Reitz were the big guns for the Uclans, the latter dropping in three field goals and four free throws for 10 points, while the 6 foot 4 inch center tall led nine.

Rolly Winter, recruit from the football squad, was the Vandal big shot and individual high scorer. Shooting them in close, and from beyond the foul circle, the big Vandal center chalked up 11 points on four field goals and three free throws.

Cheney Strong This Year
In Saturday's battle with the Indians, the Vandals will be facing as formidable a team as they are likely to run up against in non-conference competition. The Cheney five is champion of the normal school conference, and this year has back most of its regulars, many of them stars.

The Indian center is 6 feet 8 inches tall. His name is Eustace. A teammate, West, diminutive guard, only reaches Eustace's armpits. He is 5 feet 7 inches tall, but last year he topped the conference in scoring.

Unique will be the matching of the Vandals against Larry Kearns of the Cheney team. Kearns, captain of the Indians, played on the Idaho freshmen team three years ago. He showed up remarkably well as a long shot and dribbler. Fans looked forward to his playing on the varsity the next season, but Larry disappointed them by transferring to Cheney.

Coach "Red" Reese's squad has been bowling over top-notch opponents with regularity since the preseason games began.

Idaho Faces Nine Game Schedule Next Year; To Play Marquette

One of the most strenuous football schedules in the history of the university was announced today by George E. Horton, graduate manager of athletics. Coupled with the hard schedule will be the dedication of Idaho's new stadium and playing field.

Whitman disappears as the season's opener, no game of the breather variety finding a spot on the slate. Oregon State college gets the opening date, although the place for the game is still indefinite.

Marquette has its first spot on the Vandal schedule, this being the beginning of the home and home series between the two schools. The game next fall is slated for Milwaukee, and the 1938 battle for Moscow, unless a last-minute change shifts the 1938 scene.

One conflict with Washington State is shown. Utah State is due to play in Moscow on October 18, the same day Washington meets the State college at Pullman. Horton said he was trying to iron out this difficulty, but would not be able to make any statement until later. The full schedule follows:

- September 25—Oregon State college, place indefinite.
- October 2—Washington State at Pullman.
- October 9—Utah State at Moscow.
- October 23—St. Mary's at San Francisco.
- October 30—Washington at Seattle.
- November 6—Marquette at Milwaukee.
- November 13—Gonzaga at Moscow.
- November 20—University of Montana at Moscow.

Yearlings Plan On Games With Independents

Although no definite dates have been set as yet, a number of freshmen and independent teams from the surrounding territory are on a tentative schedule for the Vandal yearling basketball squad.

A traditional round of six games will be started with the W. S. C. frosh team sometime after the holidays. A two-game series is planned with the Gonzaga first year men and the Lewiston Normal squad. The Coeur d'Alene town team and the Pullman Cougar Cottage Independents also are both tentatively scheduled for post-holiday two-game series.

About twenty men report for practice on the freshmen basketball squad. Brendan Barrett, center from Gary, Ind., is an excellent prospect for future varsity teams. Bob Sieh, Spenser, Iowa, and Roy Ramey, Kendrick, are capable forwards. At the guard positions, Bill English, Wallace, and Bob Dvorak, eattle, are outstanding.

Two Ineligible
Bob Parks, first string forward, and Don Kerby, first string reserve forward, are both ineligible for the first semester because of grades. Mike Sullivan, guard, may be shifted to the places of these men. Sullivan is fast, hard to guard, and a good shot.

Other men who are showing up well are Dale Megenity, Bob Woods, and Emery Howard, forwards, and Kerbin Neville and Curtis Jarvis, guards.

SPORT NOTICE

There are many positions to be filled on the varsity swimming team, but the turnout during the last two weeks has been very small. Everyone interested is asked to turn out after the holidays. Practice periods will be: Monday, Wednesday, and Friday—4-6 periods; Tuesday and Thursday—5-6 period.

their success against Senior hall, whom they defeated last year in a match for exactly the same standing.

The SAE's wormed their way into the finals by taking the championship of League I, undefeated, and taking in the same stride, undefeated Senior hall, champion of League II. They pushed across victory easily in a two game match, 15-4, 15-10.

In the semi-finals for fifth and sixth place and 200 points, Lindley hall was defeated by an up and coming Fiji team 9-15, 13-15 in two close games.

Sigma No Forfeits
Other games on Monday's schedule were to break up ties at the end of league schedules. To break a three-way tie in League II for last place the Chi Alpha Pils took a forfeit victory and third place from the Sigma Nu's, after defeating the other contender, T. M. A. 15-6, 15-13. Sigma Nu and Chi Alpha Pi will meet on the 4th to settle their fourth and fifth place battle.

Snapping the tie for second place in League IV, Ridenbaugh hall bowled over the U. club, 16-

Vandal Harriers Form New Club To Promote Interest In Track

Shortly after the close of the cross country season some 40 members of the running teams met and formed a Cross Country club in an effort to promote a more attractive program for those students interested in track.

Varsity and freshman runners and all those who participated in the inter-collegiate meets, as well as track managers, are eligible to become members of the club. It is the hope of the organization that a greater interest will develop in cross country at the university, and also to have some influence on high school students who are interested in track.

To Have Banquets
The club will meet three times a year. Each meeting will be in the form of a banquet and it is hoped that many outstanding speakers can be obtained to attend 14, 15-6, in one hot and one mediocre game. The U. club will represent League IV in the third place play-offs.

Completing the regular schedule Monday to wind up the round robin, the Tekes forfeited to the Lambda Chi's; the L. D. S. institute dropped two easy ones to the Phi Deltas, 15-5, 15-2; and Delta Chi's and Lewis court battled to three games. Lewis court won its first match of the season by finally edging out the last two games, 15-1, 15-9, after dropping the first, 9-15.

Three Idaho Grads Get Recognition

Trio Had Original Architectural Designs in Beaux-Arts' Bulletin

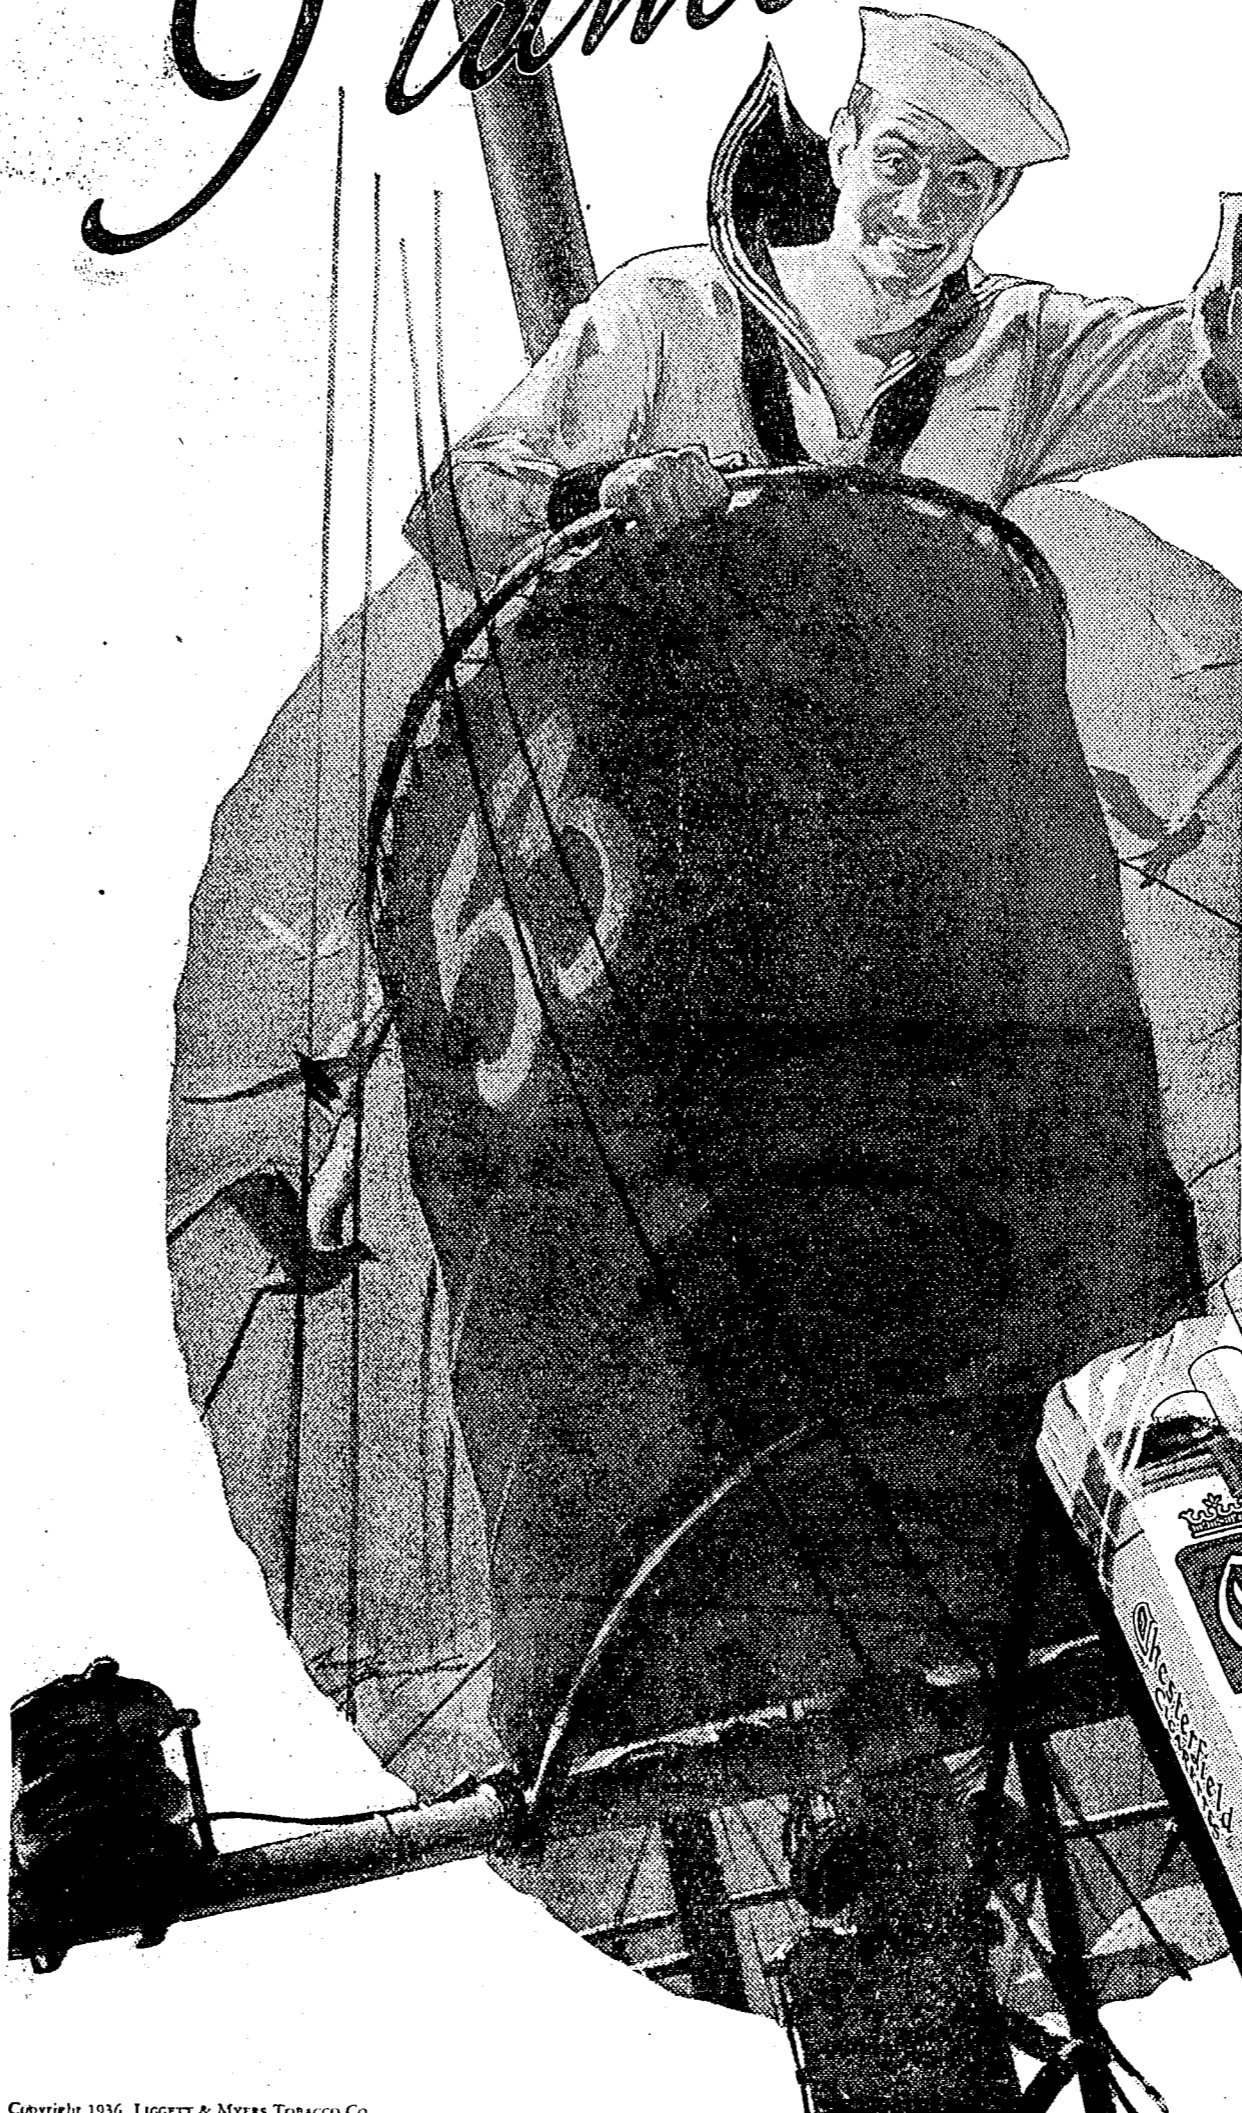

Valuable professional recognition recently came to three young Idahoans who received their undergraduate training in architecture at the University of Idaho, announces M. W. Melzian, instructor in architecture.

They are Jed Jones of Malad, Victor Baumgartner of Nampa, and Dean Elcheberger of Ashton. Jones and Elcheberger are doing graduate work in architecture at the University of Pennsylvania while Baumgartner is pursuing similar work at the University of Illinois. All three have had original designs published in recent issues of the monthly bulletin of the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design, in which leading architectural schools of the nation cooperate to encourage promising young architects.

"To have a design published in the bulletin of this institute with an analysis of the product by a member of a jury designed for the purpose is an achievement of which a student may be proud," says Mr. Melzian.

Buddy,

I can't pay a higher compliment than that.

Girl or cigarette... when I tumble that means I'm for 'em.

I'll sign up with Chesterfields
